STU HASKELL

Serving as Acting Director of Physical Education and Athletics for the 1982-83 college year is Stuart Haskell, Jr. Stu, who is the first UMO graduate and Maine native (Lincoln) to hold the Director's position, succeeded Harold Westerman on June 1, 1982. Stu has been a member of the UMO staff for nearly 25 years, serving as Assistant Director of Publicity between 1957 and 1965 and as Business Manager of Athletics between 1966 and the present. He served as Director of Informational Services for the public schools of Evanston, Ill. in 1965 and early 1966. Stu is a journalism graduate of Maine and was employed for three years as a sportswriter for the Bangor Daily News and one year as Editor of The Republican Journal in Belfast in the early 1950's. He and his wife, Gloria, are the parents of four children.

THE ORONO CAMPUS

The University of Maine at Orono, with its seven colleges and four schools, is the largest campus in the statewide university system. There is plenty of elbow room on its 1,100 acres, where the student is offered the diversity and challenge of a large university in the invigorating atmosphere of a small college. Close personal contact among students, and among students and faculty, is a tradition at Orono, where one knows his neighbors and his teachers.

Orono is a cosmopolitan campus in a classic New England setting. Last year students from 25 foreign countries and 45 states studied here, and fully 20 percent of the total enrollment of some 11,000 students regularly is admitted from other states and nations around the world.

There is ample opportunity for the student to enrich his university days academically and socially outside the classroom. There are seven scholastic honor societies, four non-scholastic honor societies, 22 departmental and professional honor societies, 56 associations, clubs and organizations, and six religious groups. Nineteen fraternities and 10 sororities have chapters at Orono.

The campus is located one mile from the center of Orono, an attractive town of about 10,000 population, and eight miles from Bangor, the state's third largest city. It is in the center of the state's year-round outdoor recreation area, with ski slopes, scores of ponds, lakes, streams, and the beautiful Maine coast within easy driving distance.

Interstate Route 95, a scenic four-lane highway that bisects the state north to south to the New Hampshire state line, passes within a mile of the campus. Air travelers land at Bangor International Airport, where the University of Maine has established a campus in former Dow Air Force Base facilities, Bangor Community College. BCC, in the 1974-75 academic year, became the sixth college of the University of Maine at Orono. Although the 162 acre campus, with its 58 buildings, is located in Bangor, its relationship with Orono is the same as the other six colleges.

In its role as a community college, the primary objectives of BCC are to offer two-year associate degree programs, one-year certificate, and short-term programs to meet special educational needs.

The University of Maine at Orono offers programs in physical education, inter-collegiate athletics, intramural sports, recreation and related club activities. These programs are recognized as an integral part of the educational process which the university controls and supports within the limitations of budget, staff, equipment, and facilities. These programs are to promote educational leadership, physical fitness, opportunity for recreational pursuits, and athletic excellence through instruction and competition.

In 1968 the State Legislature created a system of public higher education for Maine. This action unified the University of Maine and the five state colleges into one "cohesive structure of public education in the State of Maine."

HOCKEY AT MAINE

The history of varsity hockey at the University of Maine can be divided into two eras. The first began shortly after the end of World War I when American college campuses were flooded with returning GIs. Varsity athletics in general were just beginning to return to their pre-war level at most campuses when hockey as a college sport began its appearance.

In the fall of 1922, several UMO students formed a group to petition the Athletic Board to add varsity hockey for the 1922-23 winter season. The Board agreed and the first hockey team hit the ice in February 1923.

Conditions were very rough in those days. Maine's home rink was an outdoor facility and because of weather conditions it was very difficult to maintain a smooth ice surface for games. The weather also forced several postponements and cancellations of games.

Five games were played that first year as the Bears ended up with a 2-3 record. The wins were against Colby and Bates, which then had a varsity team. Joseph Murphy served as the coach of the 1923 squad while Drew Stearns, who also starred on the UMO baseball squad, was the team captain.

A year later, the team played 12 games, winning four and losing eight. The highlights of the season were a 4-2 win over Boston University and a 6-1 romp over Bowdoin. Stan Wallace coached the team and Wilmer Elliott, who also played on the football team, was the captain.

Following the season's end, the hockey program was re-evaluated and it was decided to discontinue the sport, primarily because of the problem of keeping a suitable ice surface. The Athletic Board recommended that as soon as an indoor facility could be built, hockey should be restored as a varsity sport.

Time passed, 52 years to be exact, before the sport of hockey could be revived at the University of Maine. This second era of college hockey at UMO began with a proposal and gift from Harold Alford, a long-time friend of the University. Alford's generous gift of $400,000 enabled the University to begin construction of an indoor hockey facility. Shortly afterward, Jack Semler, then head coach at Princeton, was hired as Maine's first-full-time hockey coach. Construction of Alford Arena proceeded as a team was selected in the fall of 1977. Maine was granted entry into the ECAC Division II league and placed in the East region.

Hockey returned to the Maine campus on the night of November 18, 1977 when the Black Bears met Acadia University. The sport returned in style with a 7-5 victory over the Canadian team. In an ironic note, Gary Conn, who later became Maine's all-time leading scorer, banged home the first goal ever scored in Alfond Arena.

The team was competitive in the league all year and with a 15-12 overall mark just missed the playoffs. A year later, Maine won the league's regular season crown and, in the process, defeated three Division I teams: RPI, Northeastern and Vermont. A disappointing 7-4 loss to Salem State in the first round of the ECAC playoffs put a small damper on an otherwise outstanding 25-8-1 season.

The 1979-80 campaign marked a turning point for the Bears. The team moved up to ECAC Division I and began competition in the league's East region. In order to increase Alfond's capacity, an upper deck was added to the far corner of the building increasing the capacity, including standees, to over 4,100. Maine started the season quickly with victories over Northeastern, Brown, Princeton, Boston College and New Hampshire. Things began to cool off somewhat after a tough 4-3 loss to Providence in front of the largest crowd (4,100) ever to see a college hockey game in the state. However, the Bears came back and won key games against Harvard (5-3), New Hampshire (6-5 OT), Boston University (8-7) and Providence (6-5) to stay in the running for the playoffs. With a week left in the season, the final playoff spot boiled down to either Maine or Cornell. The Bears travelled to Clarkson and St. Lawrence, splitting the two games. After a crushing blow against the Golden Knights (11-2), Maine came back and took the St. Lawrence game, 4-2. Maine then waited to hear what Cornell had done in their last two games. If the Big Red won both, it would qualify—anything less and the Bears would make the playoffs. Unfortunately for Maine, Cornell did win both games and capture the last playoff spot.

A year later, however, the Bears pulled everything together and posted a 23-11 overall record and a fourth place finish in the league. During the season, Jim Tortorella achieved the distinction of being the first ECAC goalie to score a goal. It happened at the RPI Tournament against Vasby, a Swedish amateur team. Both Tortorella's stick and puck are now on display at the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame.

Maine was seeded fifth in the ECAC Division I Tournament under the league's playoff rules and travelled to Cornell. The Big Red proved too tough for the Bears and Cornell won 7-4.

After that season, fifteen players were lost to graduation and Jeff Nord turned pro leaving a young and inexperienced team behind. That loss was too much to make up in one season as the Bears suffered through an 8-21 record and a last place finish in the league.

But things are looking up again as the Bears have become a respected member of the ECAC and of college hockey. In six short years, a strong, well received program has been created and maintained. Now, as the Bears move into the future, they have begun to create a proud history which will guide them into seasons to come.

HAROLD ALFOND SPORTS ARENA

Completed in February of 1977, Maine's beautiful hockey facility holds 4,000 fans. With approximately 500 standing room admissions and 3,444 seats, including 1,482 reserved seats and its balcony that seats 775 fans, Alfond Arena gives a large crowd an excellent view of the game. The arena's energy-saving features, efficient locker-rooms, and 25-seat pressbox are outstanding. More than 2,000 people, headed by Mr. Harold Alfond, contributed to this facility through the Second Century Fund.

COACHING STAFF

Head Coach
JACK SEMLER

The only coach the Black Bears have ever had since hockey was revived in 1977, Jack Semler, 36, has guided Maine from its entrance into the college hockey ranks as a Division II team to its current status as a well-respected Division I squad, all in a short five years. During that time, Semler's teams have won the ECAC Division II-East regular season title and participated in both the Division II and Division I playoffs. The squad has produced several ECAC All-Stars and All-American Andre Aubut. Overall, Semler has an 86-68-2 record at UMO.

The native of Salisbury, CT came to Maine after four years as head coach at Princeton. Prior to being named head coach of the Tigers, Semler served as freshman coach during the 1972-73 season.

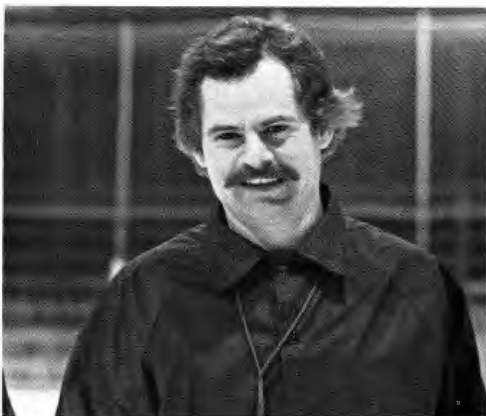

Semler graduated from the University of Vermont in 1968 after an outstanding three-year career in both hockey and soccer. A recent inductee into the UVM Sports Hall of Fame, Semler captained the 1967-68 edition of the hockey Catamounts and was also named team MVP. He is still among the top 25 leading scorers in Vermont hockey history. As a soccer player, Semler participated on three successive Yankee Conference champions.

Following graduation, Semler entered the United States Marine Corps and served from 1968 to 1971, being discharged as a captain. After his discharge, he returned to the UVM campus and served as an assistant hockey coach for the 1971-72 season before moving on to Princeton.

In addition to his coaching duties at UMO, Semler also serves as coordinator of the Harold Alfond Sports Arena and is also a lecturer in physical education. During the summer, he and assistant Gary Wright run the Black Bear Hockey Camp.

A graduate of Kent (CT) School, he enjoys the coastal life of Maine, along with sailing, swimming, golf and fishing. Jack, his wife Sarah and daughter Molly reside in Hampden.

Assistant Coach
GARY WRIGHT

Gary Wright, 30, enters his fourth year as Jack Semler's right-hand man and manager of the Alfond Arena. Besides his duties with the team and at the Arena, he also is involved with the Black Bear Hockey Camp.

A 1976 graduate of the University of Vermont, Wright came to Maine after serving as head hockey coach at Rice Memorial High School in Burlington, VT for three years.

A four-year player at Vermont, Wright had his best season as a senior when he was the recipient of the UVM Coaches Award for dedication and perseverance.

A three-sport standout at Proctor Academy in Andover, NH, where he played football, hockey and baseball, Gary is single and lives in Veazie.

1982-83 BLACK BEARS

1982-83 HOCKEY OUTLOOK

In just six short years, the University of Maine at Orono hockey program has experienced just about every up and down there is. Two years ago, the team qualified for the ECAC Division I playoffs after only two years in the league. Previous to that, Maine had qualified for the Division II East tournament in 1979 after only two years as a varsity. On the other side of the coin, after losing 15 players to graduation last year, the Black Bears slipped to an 8-21 record and a last place finish in the ECAC.

The 1982-83 edition of the hockey Bears will be looking to return to the upper level of the league. One thing Maine will have going for it is the respect from the other members of the league. Even though the Bears had an off year in 1982, the team is now looked upon as "one of the boys." No longer the "new kid on the block," Maine has shown it belongs in Division I.

The Black Bears are coming into the season in somewhat better shape than last season. While seven lettermen will be lost to graduation, 16 veterans will be returning. Overall, the team will be stressing youth, with 15 sophomores and seven freshmen among the 27 squad members.

"We have got to play over our heads from the start," says head coach Jack Semler. "Because we will be younger than we were last year, we will need to establish our confidence early on. If the team chemistry is there we can reestablish ourselves."

Maine's potential could be high with the return of a large group of veteran sophomores. The forward position seems to be the strongest with the return of 10 players. Although All-American defenseman Andre Aubut has departed, four veterans will be back to patrol the UMO back line. Goal is the weakest position as Maine gave up an average of 6.52 goals a game last year.

FORWARDS

Maine's potential strength lies in its crop of returning forwards, led by junior center Todd Bjorkstrand. The Minnesota native is the leading returning scorer with 10 goals and 21 assists for 31 points. He is one of a handful of upperclassmen on the team and should provide leadership on defense. Bjorkstrand is no stranger to pressure hockey, having participated in the 1981 National Sports Festival in Syracuse.

Also returning at center is sophomore Ron Hellen, last year's outstanding freshman. Hellen proved capable of stepping right into a starting role as a frosh and contributed 10 goals and 15 assists for 25 points. With lightning quick stick-handling, he is a deceptive player whom Jack Semler describes as being "dangerous with the puck."

Sophomore Ray Jacques was another of last year's newcomers to successfully make the transition from high school to college hockey. From his wing spot, Jacques produced six goals and 10 assists for 16 points. A former prep school All-American at Kimball Union Academy, the Peabody, MA native should have another outstanding year.

Winger Scott Boretti is a swift skater who scored nine goals and added five assists (14 points) last year. Another sophomore, he will be counted on to step into a producing role this year.

Other forwards who are returning from last year are sophomore center Pete Maher (6-6 = 12), junior wing Paul Giacalone (4-7 = 11), sophomore winger Mike Beaudry (2-4 = 6), sophomore wing Bruce Hegland (0-5 = 5), and sophomore wing Joe Jirele (1-0 = 1). Dave Hunt (3-7 = 10), a former defenseman, has been converted to a wing and should see action at that spot.

In addition to the returning forwards, Semler has recruited three freshmen to the team. Rick Bowles comes to Maine from Red Deer, Alberta where he played for Lindsay and Thurber Comprehensive HS. Another new Bear is Paul Tataryn from Winnipeg, Manitoba and Kildonan East HS. The third freshman forward is John McDonald from Brockton, MA and Brockton HS. All three will be given a chance to make the lineup and one or more could grab a starting spot.

DEFENSEMEN

As mentioned above, Maine's All-American defenseman Andre Aubut has graduated. During his stellar career in Orono, he was named to the All-ECAC team three times and the All-New England team twice. He holds 14 UMO defenseman records and finished his four years as the fifth leading all-time Maine scorer with 135 points. He is also the highest scoring defenseman in Maine history.

Stepping in to fill the large shoes created by Aubut's loss will not be easy, but five returning veterans and two freshmen will be eager to give it a try.

The top returning blueliner is captain Ken Fagnoli. The senior is the only returning upperclassman on defense so he will be expected to provide needed guidance for the other members of the unit. Fagnoli tallied one goal and nine assists, for 10 points. According to Semler, Fagnoli contributes strong skating and powerful stickhandling.

Sophomore Rene Comeault (2-6 = 8) is the only returning defenseman who played in all of Maine's 29 games last year. He has exceptional puck handling and skating ability. An offensive threat in high school, he has adapted well to UMO's defensive system and should be ready to make a major contribution.

Sophomores Mark Crowley and Jeff Kloewer were used sparingly last year (neither scored a point), but both will be given the opportunity to get a starting position. Both have the advantage of playing best under a system-oriented situation. Sophomore Joel Steensen, who did not play last year, will also get a shot at a place on the blueline.

Joining the Black Bears and vying for a spot on the team are Duncan McIntyre of Sydney, Nova Scotia and Sydney Academy and Roger Grillo of Apple Valley, MN and Apple Valley HS.

If Andre Aubut's loss can be minimized and the group performs in key situations, Maine's defense could make the difference between a winning or a losing season.

GOALIES

Goal is probably the most uncertain position as of this writing. Last year's pair of goalies, junior Duffy Loney and sophomore Pete Smith, were forced into starting positions when Jeff Nord unexpectedly turned pro. As neither had had any major experience, Maine's goaltending suffered. The pair gave up an average of 6.52 goals a game, the worst in the ECAC. However, several impressive performances by Smith culminated in his being drafted by the St. Louis Blues in the 12th round of the NHL draft.

Only Smith will return to fight for the starting nod. He played in 18 games and compiled a 6-11 mark. His goal against average was 6.65 overall and 7.53 in league play. Loney, who played in 15 games and turned in a 6.14 average overall and a 7.22 average in ECAC league play has transferred.

Two other goalies will be out to capture the top spot. One is Ray Roy of Lewiston, Maine and St. Dom's HS and the other is Jim Davins of West Haven, CT and Notre Dame HS. Roy has the interesting distinction of being the first hockey player from the State of Maine to be on UMO's Division I varsity, and only the second ever to play for Maine. The first was Mike Vigue of Waterville who played one season for the Bears when they were a Division II club.

"We know the competition is going to be real stiff in goal," Semler notes. "It's very tough to step right in, without experience, as Pete Smith and Duffy Loney did last year. It takes time to become a proven goalie. But we feel that our goalies have really good potential and that if they all try to improve as much as possible, it will give us the solid goaltending that we need."

PLAYER PROFILES

KEN FARNOLI—D, Sr., 5-11, 197 Smithfield, RI

AIR FORCE

ROTC

Gateway to a great way of life.

A FORMULA FOR YOUR FUTURE

Air Force ROTC plus your college degree adds up to a commission as an Air Force officer. While you're still in college our two-, three-, and four-year scholarships can offset the high cost of tuition, fees and books. And you can receive $100 per month for living expenses.

We're looking for young men and women who are working toward degrees in science and engineering areas. We have a very special future for you. As an Air Force officer you'll work at the forefront of technology with modern equipment and support. You'll make the most of your degree and lay the groundwork for the future.

For yourself and your future, find out more about our formula for your future. Find out more about Air Force ROTC. Contact:

ECAC HOCKEY IN 1982-83

The ECAC will once again be divided into three regions: East (New England), West (Empire) and Ivy. During the regular season, each team must play its regional opponents twice, home and home, and every other league opponent once. As in the past, tournament games between league opponents will not count unless agreed otherwise by the two teams involved and approved at the ECAC Convention last October.

The three regional champions plus the second place team with the best league record will again receive home ice in the ECAC quarter-finals. The format for the quarter-final round has been changed. Instead of a single game, each quarter-final will consist of a two-game series. A team winning both games will advance to the semi-finals. If the teams split the two games, a 10-minute mini-game will be used to decide which team advances. The mini-game will be played immediately after the conclusion of the second regulation game. If the mini-game ends in a tie, the normal sudden-death overtime procedure will be used. Also, should the two teams end in a tie on the night of the series, there will not be an overtime. The team winning the second game will automatically advance to the next round.

The semi-finals and finals will continue to be single elimination contests. For the 17th consecutive year, the Boston Garden will serve as the host site for the ECAC Championship round. The ECAC playoff teams will qualify for the NCAA playoffs which will begin one week after the ECAC Tournament concludes.

BLACK BEAR HALL OF FAME

Tom Harper '78, Director

The Black Bear Hall of Fame is an organization of alumni and friends of UMO who support the educational and athletic goals of UMO and its student athletes.

Club members provide essential assistance in the following ways. Members furnish financial assistance to men's and women's athletic programs; members encourage community support for the University's programs; members help recruit promising student athletes; members recruit new memberships for the Black Bear Hall of Fame; and members create a solid bond between UMO and its many friends nationwide.

The ultimate goal of the club is to enrich the UMO athletic program in a manner that will continue to make UMO teams, at all levels, highly competitive and entertaining for the students and fans.

The benefits are many. Gifted young men and women can gain the opportunity of a lifetime to excel in higher education while refining sports skills and meeting top competition. And you as a contributor can gain pride in your role in making their achievements possible through your generosity. Also, regional Black Bear Hall of Fame branches or "dens" will be established to help organize the efforts of Hall of Fame members.

So join the Black Bear Hall of Fame! Lend your support and help keep UMO's athletic tradition on the move.
