Princeton Review Ranks UMaine Among Best Colleges

July 29, 2008

ORONO -- For the fifth consecutive year, the Princeton Review lists the University of Maine as one of the nation's best choices for undergraduate education. The New York-based publisher announced the listings from its annual book, "The Best 368 Colleges," on Monday. Princeton Review rankings are based on several criteria, including the opinions of each institution's students.

Only about 15 percent of the four-year colleges in the U.S. are chosen for the list.

"The Princeton Review ranking affirms UMaine's place as a quality institution in a national context," says UMaine President Robert Kennedy. "It also shows that UMaine's students feel good about the UMaine undergraduate experience and that they are willing to tell others that UMaine provides both quality and value. I can't imagine a better recommendation than one coming from our students."

"In our opinion, each school in this book is first-rate academically," says Robert Franek, the author at the Princeton Review. "But their campus cultures and offerings differ greatly. Instead of ranking schools academically, 1 to 368, we tally ranking lists in 62 categories based on what students at the schools (their customers) report to us about them. We also compile rating scores in eight categories based on institutional data we collect. We believe college applicants need to know far more about schools than an academic ranking to identify which colleges may be best for them. It's all about the fit."

"We are excited about UMaine's current direction and its bright future, and this ranking signifies strong appreciation for the quality of the UMaine experience," Kennedy says.

1865 THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

As the flagship university of the University of Maine System and the state’s land-grant and sea-grant institution, the University of Maine has unique responsibilities for providing high-quality undergraduate and graduate education programs, public service, and basic and applied research.

Located in Orono, within close proximity to the ocean, lakes, and mountains, the University of Maine offers an inspiring learning environment. There is plenty of open space on its 1,200 acres, where students are offered the diversity and the challenge of a large university in an invigorating atmosphere of a small college. The campus is located 10 miles north of Bangor, Maine’s third largest city.

With an annual economic impact estimated at $698 million, research centers around Maine and a physical presence in each of Maine’s 16 counties, Maine is a dynamic, vital and unique statewide entity.

The University’s undergraduate and graduate educational offerings are built upon a liberal arts and sciences foundation complemented by comprehensive education in a wide range of disciplines, many of which are found nowhere else in the state. Because of their responsibility to teach, conduct research, and serve the public, faculty members are able to incorporate the new knowledge they uncover with classroom activities, often giving students hands-on experience in the research process.

Maine offers its students, faculty, and staff, as well as the people of the community and state, an outstanding athletic tradition. Maine’s 19 Division I sports entertain more than 150 intercollegiate events on campus each year attracting 200,000 spectators.

The University of Maine was established as the Maine College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts under the provisions of the Morrill Act, approved by President Abraham Lincoln in 1862. In 1897, the original name changed to the University of Maine. The institution opened Sept. 21, 1868 with 12 students and two faculty members.

By 1871, curricula had been organized in Agriculture, Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Electives. From these courses of study there gradually developed the College of Life Sciences and Agriculture (later to include the School of Forest Resources and the School of Human Development), Engineering and Science, and Arts and Sciences. The School of Education was established in 1930 and received college status in 1958. The School of Business Administration was formed in 1958 and became a college in 1965. The first women students were admitted in 1872.

The Maine Agricultural and Forest Experiment Station was founded as a division of the university in 1887. In 1912, the Maine Cooperative Extension was initiated. The first master’s degree was conferred in 1881; the first doctoral degree in 1960. Since 1933 there has been a separate graduate school. A Continuing Education Division offers evening, weekend and year-around courses in several areas of study.

In 1960, the University of Maine was given Sea Grant College status by the Federal Government under provisions of the National Sea Grant College Program Act.

PRESIDENT
Dr. Robert Kennedy

Robert A. Kennedy, Ph. D., became the president of the University of Maine on April 15, 2005. A plant biochemist with a long and distinguished scholarly career, Kennedy has held academic leadership positions at some of the nation’s most prestigious universities. He has been at Maine since July 2000, serving first as Vice President for Academic Affairs. One year after his arrival, he was promoted to the position of Executive Vice President and Provost.

At Maine, Kennedy has played a central role in developing and expanding the university’s teaching, research, and statewide public outreach missions. He has led the university’s well-received strategic planning process, which has helped to provide direction for growth and advancement in targeted critical areas.

Kennedy began his academic career on the faculty of the University of Iowa, followed by faculty appointments at Washington State University, The Ohio State University, the University of Maryland and Texas A&M University.

Immediately before coming to Maine, Kennedy served for eight years as Vice President for Research and Associate Provost for Graduate Studies at Texas A&M. Kennedy also worked in the Division of Molecular and Cellular Biosciences at the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C., for three years in the late 1980s.

A Minnesota native, Kennedy earned his undergraduate degree in plant science from the University of Minnesota in 1968, and a Ph. D. in botany from the University of California–Berkeley in 1974. Kennedy and his wife, Mary, a professor of biochemistry at Maine, have four sons.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
Blake James

Blake James was named Director of Athletics at the University of Maine on May 10, 2006, after serving as interim athletic director since July 2005. He served the previous two years at Maine as the Senior Associate Athletic Director, overseeing all external relations for the athletic department and serving as the lead administrator for several sports.

Prior to Maine, James worked in the athletic department at Providence College, where he established the "Friars Forever"

Traditions

THE STEIN SONG

Maine’s "Stein Song" is one of the most recognizable fight songs in the country. Written in 1910 by Lincoln Colcord and made popular by Rudy Vallee, University of Maine Class of 1925, it became number one on the pop charts of that day. The song was named the nation’s sixth best fight song in the 1998 book College Fight Songs: An Annotated Anthology. The song is played at a variety of events on campus, including sporting events and graduation.

BANANAS - THE BLACK BEAR

The black bear has been the mascot of the University of Maine since 1914. Jeff, a black bear cub who was found on the slopes of Mt. Katahdin in that year, was loaned to the University by Old Town police chief O.B. Fernandez, who hoped that he might bring good luck to the football team. Jeff made his debut at a rally in preparation for the Colby game, and as he entered the auditorium, the surprised crowd applauded enthusiastically. Thinking it the only proper thing to do, Jeff gratefully stood on his head; the crowd went "bananas!" Maine went on to whip Colby 31-6, and Maine has been going "bananas" for black bears ever since. At least 15 different black bears have carried on the name "Bananas" until the practice of having live mascots was banned after the death of "Cindy Banana" in 1966. In 1969, the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity began providing a "human bananas" as a service to the university, and they continue to do so today. Bananas takes part in several events on campus, including athletic events, and community activities. In the fall of 2004, a newly designed "Bananas" mascot was unveiled at the first home football game.

MAINE DAY

Since 1935, "Maine Day" has been set aside as a day in the spring for the classes to be suspended as students, faculty, staff and alumni take part in cleaning and sprucing up the campus. Several events are held throughout the day, including a wake-up parade, a lunchtime barbecue and games in the afternoon.

SCHOOL COLORS & LOGO

The University of Maine unveiled a new bear logo and school colors during the 1999 Homecoming festivities. Official University of Maine school colors are "Maine Blue" (a deep sky blue), navy blue and white.

Every year since 1986, a streak of 23-straight seasons, at least one Black Bear team or individual has competed in an NCAA Championship event. The Black Bear baseball team has made seven appearances in the College World Series: Omaha, Neb.

NCAA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Maine has celebrated two NCAA championships in school history, as the men’s ice hockey program won national titles in 1993 and 1999. Maine defeated Lake Superior State, 5-4, to capture the school’s first crown in 1993, and then knocked off New Hampshire, 3-2, to win the school’s second NCAA title in 1999.

James has also worked at the University of Nebraska. He received a bachelor’s degree in marketing in 1992 from Minnesota State–Mankato, and earned a master’s degree from St. Thomas University (Minneapolis, Fla.) in 1994.

James and his wife, Kelly, reside in Vezzie with their daughter Haley, and son, Ryan.
"The Princeton Review rates Maine among the top 20 'best bargains' among public colleges and universities in the U.S."

The Support You Need to Achieve...

The University of Maine is committed to offering a comprehensive academic support program in conjunction with other university resources which can assist student-athletes in succeeding in their studies. Athletic Academic Counselors are responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes. The staff acts as a liaison between the student-athlete, coach and the academic communities to ensure that student-athletes comply with all academic rules established by the university and the NCAA.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT MAINE SCHOLAR ATHLETES

In 2008, a total of 231 Maine student-athletes were honored as "Maine Scholar Athletes" for earning GPAs of 3.0 or better. The total represented 50 percent of the students who participate in intercollegiate athletics. In addition, numerous students have received America East, Hockey East or Colonial Athletic Association academic honors, as well as Academic All-American and coaches association accolades.

AMERICA EAST ACADEMIC CUP

Maine has been honored twice as America East Academic Cup champions. The Black Bears won their first cup in 2004 and followed in 2007 by being named co-champions. In 2004, Maine won the cup after posting the highest GPA among member schools with a 3.12 overall average. In 2007, Maine posted an overall department GPA of 3.07 to gain the cup for the second time in four years. In 2005, Maine again posted a 3.12 overall GPA, finishing second in the conference. In 2006, Maine had a 3.11 overall GPA, again good for second in the conference.

ACADEMIC PLANNING, COUNSELING AND MONITORING

Academic Counselors provide a variety of direct academic support services in addition to helping student-athletes access the numerous academic resources available through the university itself. Academic counselors monitor the student-athlete's academic progress to ensure academic success in their chosen degree program. To enhance knowledge of progress through the semester, academic progress reports are sent to course instructors twice each semester. In addition, many student-athletes will report grades regularly to their assigned team counselor and receive information regarding their status in meeting Maine and NCAA academic requirements.

ATHLETIC TUTORING

Athletic tutors meet student-athletes once or twice weekly to review course material, answer questions, and prepare for upcoming exams. Tutors also promote the development of study skills and organization. Both small group and one-on-one tutoring allows students to have a working relationship with a tutor which is consistent, regular and comprehensive.

SERVICES FOR STUDENT-ATHLETES WITH DISABILITIES

The Office of Disability Support Services facilitates the education of any Maine student with diagnosed physical or learning disabilities by providing a point of accommodation and services to enhance success. In collaboration with these services, student-athletes receive additional support from a learning disability specialist on the Academic Support staff.

SEZAK ACADEMIC CENTER

In addition to several computer clusters available to all Maine students, student-athletes have exclusive use of 17 computers in the Sam and Ethel Sezak Academic Center. Located in Memorial Gym, the computers in this facility are networked to the Fogler Library, campus intranet, and the Internet. This monitored study center is open at accommodating hours to fill the needs of student-athletes' hectic schedules. Student-athletes take advantage by utilizing the Academic Center for obtaining required study table hours. In addition, 10 new laptop computers are available to student-athletes to use when traveling to athletic competitions.

LIFE SKILLS

Life Skills Seminars: Student-athletes work with the Life Skills Coordinator and campus members to design and participate in life skills workshops covering a variety of areas: career development, team building, alcohol and drug education, and nutrition.

Multicultural Programs: The University of Maine and its athletic department have a commitment to supporting diversity within the campus community. A liaison relationship involving full-time staff members has developed between the Office of Multicultural Affairs and the Department of Athletics to promote an appreciation of diversity and to serve the athletes of different cultures.

Student-Athlete Advisory Committee: This organization is composed of members from each of the intercollegiate sports teams and meets with athletic and academic administrators regularly to help promote efficient communication between the athletic department and the student-athlete population. SAAC acknowledges the unique contribution student-athletes provide to the community, and remains committed to positive involvement and excellence in each of their endeavors.

The men's hockey team had 17 student-athletes named Maine Scholar-Athlete Award winners in 2007–08.
Sports Medicine

College athletics places extreme physical demands on the players. To meet this reality, Maine has a highly respected sports medicine staff to help its student-athletes with any health related situation.

The Maine sports medicine team includes six full-time and one graduate assistant/training athletic trainers, a team physician, an orthopedic physician, a wide variety of medical specialists and student athletic trainers. The Maine team physicians, Mike Rizzo, FNP, Dr. John West and the Center for Family Medicine at Eastern Maine Medical Center, hold a doctor's clinic on campus four days per week, and the orthopedic physician holds clinic one per week. In addition, a team podiatrist visits bi-monthly. Other specialists on the Maine athletic health care team include an optometrist, a chiropractor and a dentist.

Dr. John West, Maine's orthopedist has been working with the University of Maine the past 16 years. He covers all home games and occasionally travels.

The staff is headquartered in the Mike Kesock Sports Medicine Center, located in the Memorial Gymnasium, and houses some of the newest technology in the field of sports medicine. This facility serves all injury prevention, treatment and rehabilitation needs of the student-athlete.

The Cutler Student Health Center, located adjacent to Memorial Gym, also serves as an on-campus resource capable of handling x-rays and laboratory work for student-athletes.

Maine hockey players will be treated this season in facilities located in the Shawn Walsh Hockey Center. The sports medicine facility is divided into two areas — a hydro room and a therapy room. The focal point of the hydro room is a Hydroworx 500 series therapy pool. The pool includes jets that provide a current for resistance training along with an underwater treadmill. Also included in the hydro room are two whirlpool tubs. The therapy room includes three treatment tables, two taping stations, and standard therapeutic modalities.

Prevention of injury is a primary focus of the athletic training staff. Black Bear ice hockey players are screened for conditions which could predispose them to injury and placed on programs to prevent these injuries.

If an injury does occur, the athlete is placed on a daily injury treatment and rehabilitation program designed to return the athlete to the ice as quickly and safely as possible. Certified athletic trainers utilize the latest in treatment and rehabilitation techniques to aggressively return the athlete to competition. All Black Bear ice hockey players are supervised by a member of the sports medicine staff from the first day of rehabilitation until total recovery has occurred.

GIVING BACK TO THE COMMUNITY...

Community Involvement

The University of Maine Athletic Department receives tremendous support from the community and in turn gives back to the community. From giving over 250 swimming lessons through the Black Bear Swim School, to walking in the March of Dimes fundraiser, to speaking at local elementary schools, Black Bears are giving back. Other projects last year included the Run for Hope, Skate with the Bears, Trick or Eat, Toys for Tots, National Girls and Women in Sports Day, Habitat for Humanity and youth clinics in almost every sport. In addition, the department takes part in "Adopt a Family" at Christmas along with food drives and numerous donations to local charities.

Matt Duffy, Wingate, Travis Looby, Josh Saar, and Wes Crandle take part in the Maine Day paintball tournament.

The men's hockey team participated in the 2007 Run for Hope.
The Maine strength and conditioning program is a sophisticated blend of science, technology, nutrition, and one-on-one attention to each athlete under the direction of strength and conditioning coach Terry O'Neill. Maine ice hockey players make a year-round commitment to physically preparing to play their sport at the highest level.

That physical preparation addresses numerous components that are critical to athletic success, including strength, speed, power, agility, flexibility, metabolic conditioning, and motivation. The Maine staff tailors a strength and conditioning program that matches the student-athlete's individual needs with the sport-specific physical demands.

Maine hockey players will train this season in the Shawn Walsh Hockey Center, which opened in 2005. The 2,000 square foot weightroom contains four multi-purpose power racks, four benches, custom-made dumbbells ranging from five to 100 pounds, four Olympic platforms with weights and bars, along with several selectorized machines. For cardiovascular work, six stationary bikes are provided, along with a stairmaster. A Woodway Force treadmill is also available, which provides a challenging workout with resistance. The area also includes room for a slideboard and plyometric training.

Maine hockey players can also use the Intercollegiate Athletic Strength Center at the Latti Center, located in the Memorial Gymnasium. The physical elements of the Strength Center reflect the strength training and conditioning philosophy. The 5,000-square foot facility, next to Wallace Pool, was first dedicated on Oct. 6, 1989, and has recently been completely renovated. The facility contains more than 10,000 pounds of weight, 10 multi-purpose power racks, two Olympic platforms, eight bench press stations, dumbbells ranging from five to 130 pounds, and numerous selectorized machines. A fully equipped plyometric training area is located just off the Strength Center.

A new student recreation facility opened on campus in August 2007. The $25 million building is a focal point of campus and includes three basketball courts, a roller hockey/indoor soccer court, an indoor leisure pool with whirlpool and numerous cardiovascular machines.
There is no doubt that Alfond Arena is home to the greatest fans in college hockey. Anyone who has experienced the facility's big-game atmosphere knows how special a place Alfond Arena is. It is this passion and enthusiasm that truly gives the Black Bears a home-ice advantage.

While this building remains one of the best places to see a college hockey game, some of its amenities have been improved. The University of Maine began construction on the Shawn Walsh Hockey Center in June of 2004. Locker rooms, office spaces, strength and conditioning areas, and the athletic training room were enhanced. These changes better the student-athlete experience, assist with continuing to draw high-caliber student-athletes to Maine, and provide current Black Bears the best training areas to prepare for competition. In addition, fan-friendly improvements to concession areas, the sound system, and Bear Necessities, along with a new Hockey Hall of Fame, complete the Alfond Arena makeover.

In recognition of his accomplishments as a coach and visionary of the program, the University of Maine dedicated this project in memory of Shawn Walsh. The Shawn Walsh Hockey Center at Alfond Arena provides the program with the necessary improvements to continue to keep Black Bear hockey as one of the truly special programs in the country.

All funding for the project was privately raised. The lead donor was Harold Alfond. In total, over 40 former men's ice hockey players made contributions to the Shawn Walsh Hockey Center. While construction is complete, several naming opportunities still exist. For information on contributing, please contact the Black Bear Club at 207-581-1130.

One of the finest college hockey facilities in the country, the Harold Alfond Sports Arena has served the University community since 1977. Completed in February of that year, the building was dedicated by Mr. Alfond and officials of the University on Nov. 18 at the Maine-Acadia hockey game. Alfond Arena was originally built with the generous contributions of more than 2,000 people, headed by Mr. Alfond. In addition to being the home of the Black Bears men’s ice hockey, women’s ice hockey, men’s basketball and women’s basketball programs, the building is used by numerous hockey leagues, and for concerts and graduation ceremonies.

Thanks to the demand of sellout-after-sellout at the old capacity of 3,800 and a $2 million gift from Mr. Alfond, Alfond Arena underwent a significant expansion project prior to the 1991-92 season.

Mr. Alfond’s generous gift represented, at the time, the largest one-time (non-posthumous) cash contribution ever received by the University of Maine. Since 1968, Mr. Alfond has donated over $7 million to the University of Maine. He is the single largest benefactor of the University of Maine. The construction provided an additional 1,200 seats to each side of the Arena, to increase the capacity over 5,200 for hockey games. In 1998, additional luxury boxes were added giving the arena a capacity of 5,641. In 2006, the addition of six luxury boxes, along with changes to ADA-accessible seating resulted in a capacity of 5,445.

Included in the Arena expansion were additional concession areas and rest rooms, locker rooms, ticket offices, souvenir stands and improved media facilities. With the expansion, Alfond Arena also became the home of the Black Bear basketball teams, which had played home games at the Bangor Auditorium from 1958-91.

An addition to the south end of the Arena in 1988 houses the Black Bears’ impressive locker room facility. Included in that expansion project was an attractive lounge for use by the hockey program and the university community.

In 1990, an office addition was completed, providing the coaching and administrative staff much needed room. Entering the 1993-94 season, the Black Bears had played before standing-room-only crowds in 138 consecutive regular season games.

In 1995-96, Maine led Hockey East in total attendance for the fourth straight year. The Black Bears finished 10th in the nation in total attendance (104,176) and 11th in average attendance (5,483) in 2000-01. In 2003-04, Maine moved to 12th in overall attendance (104,599) and 11th in average attendance (5,505). Maine was third in Hockey East in attendance during the last four seasons.

Prior to the 2005 season, renovations were completed during the construction of the Shawn Walsh Hockey Center that included renovated men’s, women’s, and visitor’s locker rooms. Inside the arena, a new Hockey Hall of Fame, Bear Necessities and concessions areas were added to improve the fan experience at the Alfond.

The University of Maine and the hockey program lost a great friend when Mr. Alfond passed away on Nov. 16, 2007. His legacy will always be remembered in Orono.

This is Hockey East

Consistently labeled the strongest conference from top to bottom, the Hockey East Association, encompassing 10 established Division-I hockey programs, celebrates its 25th anniversary season in 2008-09.

Hockey East has continued a steady rise to prominence since its founding charter on July 11, 1983, when the possibility of an apparent key League departure threatened the ECAC. In response, the athletics directors from Boston College, Boston University, Northeastern and Providence unveiled a new Division I men’s ice hockey conference. Together, Bill Flynn of Boston College, John Simpson of Boston University, Andy Moontan of New Hampshire, Joe Zabelski of Northeastern and Lou Lamoriello of Providence launched Hockey East. Lamoriello assumed the role of the league’s first commissioner.

Later that summer, the Board of Directors added the University of Maine and the University of Lowell (now UMass Lowell). Official conference competition of the seven-team league began with the 1984-85 season, and expansion brought the league to nine teams with the additions of Merrimack College (1989) and the University of Massachusetts (1993). The entry of the University of Vermont for the 2005-06 season brought the conference membership to 10 teams.

Since its inception, Hockey East has set new competitive standards for college hockey success, annually compiling an impressive collective winning percentage against non-conference opponents, including a record .705 during the 2002-03 season. Over the last 16 years, Hockey East has cemented itself as the nation’s most elite league, having earned 35 of the 64 berths in the NCAA Frozen Four and boasting five NCAA title winners: the University of Maine in 1993 and 1999, Boston University in 1995 and 1997, and Boston College in 2001 and 2008. Three of the four Frozen Four participants in 1999 came from the Hockey East ranks, and in 2007, both Boston College and the University of Maine made it to the semifinal round in St. Louis, after five squads (including Boston University, Massachusetts and New Hampshire) were selected for the 16-team NCAA field. Last year, after finishing the season with a nine-game winning streak, Boston College claimed its third national championship in school history defeating Notre Dame, 4-1, at the Pepsi Center in Denver, Colorado.

Hockey East has proven to be an equally strong presence off the ice. Both in the classroom and in the community, league athletes continue to demonstrate their commitment to overall excellence. The Hockey East All-Academic Team honored 92 student-athletes for outstanding academic achievement during the 2007-08 campaign. For the first time ever, three student-athletes achieved a 4.0 GPA in 2007-08. Hockey East athletes also make a positive impact on many community service programs across the region, volunteering with youth hockey associations and community service organizations. Four Hockey East athletes have received the prestigious Hockey Humanitarian Award, two each from the men’s and women’s leagues, and seven others have been finalists for the award. Last year, Northeastern’s junior forward Missy Elumba was a finalist for the award.

However, it is the quality of its individual players as leading athletes that most sets Hockey East apart from the rest. More than 150 Hockey East were regulars in the NHL in 2007-08, to go along with 33 regulars in the America Hockey League last season. Several Hockey East alumni were able to bask in the glow of the Stanley Cup finals between the Detroit Red Wings and Pittsburgh Penguins. The Stanley Cup runners-up Penguins had four Hockey East alumni on their squad: Former Eagles Brooks Orpik and Rob Scuderi, BU’s Ryan Whitney and UNH’s Ty Conklin all enjoyed a lengthy postseason run with Pittsburgh. Four league alumni also won the AHL’s Calder Cup with the Chicago Wolves, including UMass’ Matt Anderson, Maine’s Mike Hamilton, along with fellow UMass Wildcats Darren Haydar and Jason Krog. Krog was the AHL’s MVP, while Wolves captain Haydar took home playoff MVP honors.

Former Vermont Catamount Martin St. Louis had a standout season with the Tampa Bay Lightning, posting 83 points (25g,58a) and notching his 500th career point and playing in his 600th career game. Another former Catamount, Patrick Sharp, tallied 36 goals on the year for the Chicago Blackhawks and amassed a rating of +23, good for 14th in the NHL. Tim Thomas, a Catamount from 1993-97, helped the Boston Bruins get to the playoffs for the first time since 2004 with his 2.44 GAA, which tied him for 12th in the NHL. Conklin was second in the NHL with a .923 save percentage in 33 games for the Penguins. Former Maine Black Bear Paul Kariya assisted on 49 goals this season for the St. Louis Blues.

In total, 50 current Hockey East players have been selected in the NHL Entry Draft, 11 of which come from the Boston College Eagles squad. Hockey East boasts 28 all-time first round picks in the 24-year history of the league, which includes Boston University’s sophomore forward Colin Wilson selected seventh overall by the Nashville Predators in 2008.

The reach of Hockey East continues to grow as new state-of-the-art facilities are constructed, increasing capacities and amenities for college hockey fans. And the fans have responded — over a million spectators came out to watch Hockey East teams during the 2007-08 season.

Maine won the 2004 Hockey East title in three overtime games against Massachusetts.

Head Coach Tim Whitehead

Eighth Season
Hamilton College 1985
University of Maine 1992

Head Coach Tim Whitehead enters his eighth season at the helm of the University of Maine men’s ice hockey program. With Whitehead behind the bench, the Black Bears have continued the success that has defined the program for over two decades.

In his seventh season as Head Coach, the Black Bears have advanced to the NCAA Tournament six times, played in four NCAA Frozen Fours, reached the NCAA National Championship Game twice, and won the Hockey East Tournament Championship.

Over these seven years, Maine has compiled a 167-87-29 record. In 12 seasons as a Division I Head Coach, Whitehead has a career record of 243-162-40.

A former Black Bear Assistant with Shawn Walsh in 1990-91, Tim Whitehead returned to Maine in 2001 under the most difficult and challenging circumstances. When Walsh passed away from cancer on September 24, 2001, Whitehead was named interim Head Coach. Whitehead led a team devastated by the loss of their legendary coach on an emotional run all the way into overtime of the 2002 NCAA National Championship Game in St. Paul, Minn.

Determined to do something special in honor of Coach Walsh, the Black Bears won 10-1-2 down the stretch, including wins over Boston College and Boston University in the Hockey East playoffs. In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, Maine defeated Harvard 4-3 on freshman John Ronan’s overtime goal, then beat Boston University in the East Regional Final, setting up a Frozen Four matchup with the UNH Wildcats. In St. Paul, Minn., Maine’s team scored four third period goals to rout UNH 7-2, and advance to the NCAA Championship game against host Minnesota.

Although the Black Bears did not prevail in overtime versus the Minnesota Gophers that night, the message had certainly been sent that Maine Hockey’s proud tradition of success would continue to grow. Whitehead and his staff had delivered a remarkable coaching performance, for which he earned the ACHA’s 2002 Spencer Penrose Award as Division I National Coach of the Year. Following the season, Whitehead was the stretch of the season gave the Black Bears home ice in the Hockey East playoffs for the sixth straight year. Maine advanced to the Hockey East semifinals with back to back wins over UMass Lowell, but were defeated by Boston College at the Fleet Center in double overtime 2-1. Maine qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the fifth time in school history. The Black Bears went to overtime playing Minnesota on their home ice, as Jimmy Howard made 37 saves, but lost 1-0 in OT, finishing the season at 20-13-7.

Team Defense has also been a trademark of Coach Whitehead’s teams at Maine. In fact, his 2003-04 Black Bears led the nation in both Team Defense and Winning Percentage with a 33-8-3 record. The 2003-04 season began with Maine knocking off two-time defending National Champion Minnesota in the first game of the season, and the Black Bears captured the Maverick Stampedes Tournament title the following weekend with a 6-2 win over Wisconsin. After winning the first seven games of the season, the Black Bears were ranked first in the nation.

A loss at UMass Lowell on February 27 set the stage for Maine’s amazing run in the 2004 postseason. Beginning with a 4-3 overtime win in the season finale against Boston College, the Black Bears won eight straight one-goal games. The winning streak included a triple overtime thriller against Massachusetts in the Hockey East Championship, won by the Black Bears 2-1. It was the longest game in Hockey East Championship history, with Jimmy Howard stopping 66 shots (a Hockey East record), and Ben Murphy scoring the game-winner at the net front.

In the first round of the NCAA’s, Maine rallied for a memorable 5-4 comeback win over Harvard, overcoming a three-goal deficit by scoring four goals in the third period. After a 2-1 overtime win over Wisconsin in the Regional Finals, Maine faced Hockey East rival Boston College at the Fleet Center in the Frozen Four and came away with a 2-1 win. The season ended with a heartbreaking 1-0 loss to Denver in the National Championship Game.

Maine got off to a fast start in 2005-06, and finished with a 24-10-5 record. Whitehead led Maine to the Black Bear Classic and Florida College Classic Championships, and completed the Hockey East regular season just two points out of first place. The Black Bears earned their fifth-straight NCAA Tournament berth, but once again had to face an opponent in their own rink. Maine lost a hard-fought 2-1 decision in the Western Regional at Yost Arena in Ann Arbor.

Whitehead came to Maine after serving as Head Coach of UMass Lowell for five seasons where he compiled a record of 76-93-11, including a 19-16-3 record in 2000-01 in which the River Hawks advanced to the semifinals of the Hockey East Tournament for the third time in five years, after upsetting UNH in a three-game playoff series in Durham, N.H. Following the season, Whitehead was named as a finalist for AHCA National Coach of the Year for the second time at UMass Lowell. While at Lowell, Whitehead also received the 1996 University Medal for Community Service.

Prior to running the UMass Lowell program, Whitehead spent five years as an assistant with the River Hawks under former Maine assistant Bruce Crowder, helping Crowder win the AHCA’s National Coach of the Year honors in 1996. UMass Lowell reached the NCAA final eight in 1994 and 1996. Whitehead recruited two Hockey East Rookies of the Year (Greg Bullock ’94 and Greg Koehler ’97) and landed Lowell’s only NHL 1st round draft pick ever, Ron Hainsey to quarterback his power play from 1999-2001. Hainsey currently patrols the blueline for the NHL’s Atlanta Thrashers.

Previously, Whitehead served as a
Graduate Assistant Coach at Maine in 1990-91 with Shawn Walsh. That team made it to the Hockey East Championship game and advanced to the semifinals of the NCAA Tournament. Maine finished the season with an impressive 32-9-2 mark; only four Black Bear hockey teams have won more games in a season.

Before coming to Maine, Whitehead spent two seasons as an Assistant Coach with Bill Beaney at Middlebury College from 1988-90, helping Beaney win the 1990 Division III National Coach of the Year honor. On their way to becoming ECAC Tournament Finalists, with a 21-5-1 record in 1989-90. It was Middlebury’s first winning season in 10 years. After the season, Whitehead received the William Wallace Award, given annually to “the person having the most positive impact on the Middlebury hockey program by a non-player” as voted by the players.

Throughout his coaching career at Maine, UMass Lowell, and Middlebury, Coach Whitehead has earned respect as a tireless recruiter, with an eye for hidden talent. Over the years, he has recruited and coached five Hockey East Rookies of the Year, 24 All-Americans, and one Division III National Player of the Year.

Under Whitehead’s direction, Maine has continued to earn praise from NHL GM’s and scouts as a program that consistently develops and produces pro players. Over 60 Maine players have now played in the NHL, and many more in the AHL and the elite leagues in Europe. Unfortunately, Maine’s track record for developing players has led to an increasing number of Black Bears signing NHL contracts after only one or two seasons in Orono. Teddy Purcell (LA Kings), Andrew Sweetland (Florida Panthers), and Ben Bishop (St. Louis Blues) would all be members of this year’s 2008-09 team, if the NHL had not come calling early.

Since returning to UMaine in 2001, fundraising and alumni relations have also been an important part of Coach Whitehead’s work. After Coach Walsh passed away in 2001, Whitehead became the driving force behind the fundraising and construction of the $3.5 million Shawn Walsh Hockey Center, in honor of his former colleague. In addition, Whitehead has reached out to former UMaine Coach Jack Semler (1977-84) and his players to reconnect and honor all Maine Hockey Alumni in the new Maine Hockey Hall of Fame in the Alfond Arena.

Academic integrity and success has always been a priority for Coach Whitehead, and his team’s academic progress speaks for itself. The men’s hockey team’s graduation rate and GPA have improved dramatically and consistently over the past seven years. In fact, the 2007-08 Black Bears posted a 3.11 team GPA for the academic year, the highest in the program’s history, breaking their own mark from the previous year. Maine led all Hockey East schools in 2007-08, as 16 players were named to the Hockey East All-Academic team, while junior Chris Hahn was named one of three Hockey East Top Scholars after posting a perfect 4.0 GPA. With the help of Academic Advisor Cristina Kerluke, Coach Whitehead has raised the bar of academic expectations quite high for his players.

Whitehead graduated from Hamilton College in 1985 with a bachelor’s degree in government. He also served as Assistant Captain of the varsity hockey team, and won the Sellers Award for team leadership and inspiration as voted by his teammates. Whitehead played two seasons of professional hockey in Europe before returning to start his career in coaching. Whitehead earned his master’s degree in education from the University of Maine in 1992.

Tim and his wife Dena live in Bangor and are the parents of two children, Natalie, 9, and Zachary. 7. Tim and Dena have been very active within the Bangor community. Some of the organizations and activities that they are involved with include: the 14th Street School PTO, Komen Race for the Cure, the MDA telethon, the Bangor YMCA, ATA of Bangor, Bangor Youth Hockey (BYH), and Eastern Maine Girls Hockey (EMGH).

2007–08 Season in Review

The 2007–08 men's ice hockey season was not a typical one for the University of Maine. Maine was coming off nine consecutive NCAA appearances, second only to Michigan, and was considered one of the nation's top teams. The team had a strong core of returning players and a talented class of incoming freshmen. The team's success was not without its challenges, however, as the team faced several injuries and other setbacks throughout the season.

During the season, captain Ryan was selected as an official candidate for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, while his classmate was a nominee for the Hockey Humanitarian Award. The team went on to win a University of Maine Outstanding Achievement Award for their Community Service.

In January, 17 student-athletes were named Maine Scholar-Athlete Award winners. Men's ice hockey players posted a 3.15 overall team grade point average during the fall semester, the highest program history. Ryan was honored with the M Club Dean Smith Award, presented annually to the top male and female student athlete at Maine. Ramsey becomes the sixth men's ice hockey player to win the award, joining Paul Morin (1994), Jim Logan (2000), Martin Kain (2002, 2003), Dan Stuhler (2002) and Frank Boyle (2004). Ramsey finished his career with 130 consecutive games played, and the team's Shawn Walsh (129) was named First Team All-American.

Senior left wing Tyler was named a semi-finalist for the Walter Brown Award, presented annually to the top American-born forward in New England. Tyler, who finished as the top scoring defensemen in his first four seasons, is the lone player in Maine history to accomplish that feat. Tyler's career stats read 143 games played, with 77 goals and 62 assists for 89 points.

On the ice, junior Bishop played a record-setting season. Bishop was the second goaltender in NCAA history to record 300 saves in a season, and he finished the season with a 1.88 goals-against average and a .928 save percentage. Bishop was the first Maine goaltender to earn the NCAA Frozen Four Most Outstanding Player Award.

The Black Bears showed improvement with a strong run late in the season, winning four of their last six games, two of them in overtime. Maine swept series with UMass and UMaine Lowell at home, and split a pair of games at Vermont.

At the conclusion of the season, Maine had four players sign professional contracts. Senior Ramsey signed with the Winnipeg Moose of the AHL, while Rob Bellamy inked a deal with the New York Islanders. Ryan signed with the Manchester Monarchs of the NHL, while Tyler signed with the Portland Pirates.

In May, all eight seniors: Bellamy, Nolan, Boike, Wes Clark, Kenan Hoppes, Tyler Laise, Ramsey, Ryan and Tyler graduated from the University of Maine.

The Black Bears, which did the best that they have ever done in the classroom, were rewarded for their hard work when the Hockey East Academic Honor Roll was announced. Maine led all Hockey East teams with 26 players named to the Hockey East Academic Honor Roll. Ramsey was named one of three Hockey East Top Scholar-Athletes with a 4.0 GPA. Ramsey was named a Hockey East Distinguished Scholar, for posting a 3.0 or better in each of his right seasons while playing ice hockey. In addition, Kuhn and freshman Fanhouse were named to the Hockey East Academic All-Star Team. Maine's overall GPA for the 2007–08 academic year was an impressive 3.18.

National Championships

The decade of the '90s witnessed the historic rise of Maine Hockey under the guidance of Shawn Walsh to national prominence. National championships in 1993 and 1999 further cemented the '90's as the 'Decade of the Black Bear.'

1993

The 1992–93 University of Maine hockey team stands as one of college hockey's legendary teams. The Black Bears 42–1–2 record has never been threatened in the modern era of college hockey. Only Cornell University's 27–0 record in 1970, the only NCAA Division I team to go undefeated, even approaches the mark set by Maine's first national championship team.

The Black Bears blazed through the regular season, suffering only one loss, a 7–6 overtime loss to Boston University (2/19), and two ties, a 3–3 tie with Providence College (10/24) and a 4–4 tie to Clarkson University (1/15). While freshman sensation Paul Kariya tallied a 100-point season (25–75–100) and won the 1993 Hobey Baker Award, linemates Jim Montgomery (32–63–95) and Cal Ingraham (46–39–85) chipped in on college hockey's most prolific scoring line. Montgomery would also be a Hobey Baker Award finalist.

Not to be outdone by the offensive display, future NHL standout goaltenders Garth Snow (21–0–1) and Mike Dunham (21–1–1) formed the nation's top goal tending tandem.

The national championship wouldn't come easy however, as Maine had to claw back from behind to defeat Michigan 4–3 to advance to the championship game. In the championship game, three Lake Superior State goals in the second period staked the Lakers to a 4–2 lead entering the third period. But, Montgomery and Kariya would answer, forever etching their mark in championship history. Montgomery scored three goals in a span of 4:35, all three goals set up by Kariya, to give Maine its first national title and a come-from-behind 5–4 victory.

The 1998–99 University of Maine hockey team traveled a much less direct route to its title. Unlike the '93 team, there would be no Hockey East title, regular season (finished second to New Hampshire) or tournament (Boston College would defeat Maine 3–2 in a semifinal game).

Regular season setbacks didn't deter this gritty Black Bear team however, as Maine got even with both Boston College and New Hampshire when it meant the most, in the Frozen Four. This team would also be led by a Kariya, Paul's younger brother Steve. All-Americans Kariya and defenseman David Cullen would provide the leadership for a tenacious team that just never quit. The Black Bears clawed their way to a 31–6-4 record and a second national championship.

As with the '93 title, nothing came easy in the Frozen Four. After defeating Ohio State 4–2 and Blazing Clarkson University 7–2, the Black Bears would have to face Boston College in their semifinal game. Goaltender Alfie Michaud matched Eagles' goaltender Scott Clemensen save for save, each stopped 35 shots, but shot number 37 by Bobby Stewart gave UM a 2–1 overtime win.

New Hampshire, led by Hobey Baker Award winner Jason Krog, awaited Maine in the championship game. The Black Bears couldn't protect a one-goal lead in the third period, and Maine found itself in overtime once again. In the end, Michaud simply would not let his team lose, making 46 saves to earn tournament MVP honors. Marcus Gustafsson's goal broke the deadlock 10:50 into overtime, giving the Black Bears their second national title.

The list of Maine alumni in the National Hockey League continues to grow each year. Since 1977, over 60 former Black Bears have played in the NHL, with numerous other players seeing time in the AHL, ECHL, Europe and other leagues. In addition to seeing action on the Ice, former Black Bears are also in positions off the Ice, including John Tortorella who became the first Maine player to win the Stanley Cup in 2004 as head coach of the Tampa Bay Lightning. Garth Snow GM of the NY Islanders and Dave Nonis, Senior Advisor of hockey operations with the Anaheim Ducks.
DURING THE PAST TWO DECADES, NO OTHER TEAM HAS DOMINATED THE NATIONAL PICTURE MORE THAN THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE. THE BLACK BEARS HAVE BEEN TO THE FROZEN FOUR MORE THAN ANY PROGRAM IN THE NCAA.
