Second Team Wins From Higgins Saturday

Maine's second team won a 6-5 victory from Higgins Classical Institute in an exciting game last Saturday afternoon. Both teams played exceptionally good ball for so early in the season. Fast fielding was shown by both sides. Both teams made three runs apiece in the first inning but after that, runs were scarce until the seventh when the Maine team brought in three more runs in a battling rally. In the ninth inning the Higgins team tried hard to even up the score, but the game closed with Maine one run in the lead.

Final Arrangements Made For Military Hop

The old college custom of having the Freshman Military Hop was done away with this year when the Military Department decided to run a dance. The Freshman class and the Military Department got together and decided that it would be best for the Freshmen to run a strictly formal dance without the usual military drill, and let the military drill be given at a dance run by the Military Department. This dance which is to be formal, will be held at the gymnasium on Friday evening, May 7. The dance is preceded by an exhibition drill which will start promptly at 7:30.

On the gym floor along the sides will be booths, one for each of the six companies, one for the faculty, one for the Scabbard and Blade, and one for the Headquarters, R. O. T. C. Those not entitled to share the booths can watch the drill from the balconies which will be arranged for that purpose.

One of the features of the dance is that after the Exhibition Drill instead of having a reception line, each company's sponsor and captain will receive at their booths.

The dance is financed by popular subscription among the members of the R. O. T. C. Members of the faculty are invited and urged to be present. All ex-service men are invited. All men in military uniform will be admitted. Formal invitations are not needed.

The senior girls will give an alumnae tea on Sunday, June sixth. This tea will be given under the auspices of the girls of the Junior class. It is expected that many of the alumnae will be back to attend. The juniors are planning on making the occasion one of the most enjoyable of the week and if their plans are carried out, it will surely be a success.

Another Compliment Is Received for University

Biddeford Woman Thinks Maine Offers Many Opportunities to the Girls

Among those who had a prominent part in the meeting of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs, held on the campus last month, was Mrs. Lillian T. Burnham, one of the teachers in the Biddeford High School. That she was very favorably impressed by what she saw here is evident from the complimentary signed article she contributed to the April issue of her school paper, the Olympian. The article is headed, "Opportunities for Girls at University of Maine," and is as follows:

About ten years ago, when the appropriation for the girls' dormitory at the University of Maine was before the education committee of the Maine Senate, it became my duty to speak in its behalf and at that time I advanced the argument, that a State University ought to offer to the girls of the State, opportunities equal to those offered to the boys of the State. That year the legislature appropriated $20,000, and half of Balentine Hall was erected; the next year $20,000 more was appropriated and Balentine was completed. Therefore it gave me very great pleasure to visit the University of Maine, and to see Balentine Hall, when it was thrown open two weeks ago for the entertainment of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs.

This dormitory is most attractive, from the living-room at the entrance, to the beautiful sun-parlor at the extreme end of the building. The students'

The Intra Mural League Starts Baseball Season

The intra-mural baseball season started off in full swing Monday night. On the diamond the Sigma Nu's played a fast and exciting game with the Commons Club. A number of men from the dormitories were out rooting for their team but in spite of this support the Sigma Nu's won a 3-2 victory. On an improvised diamond laid out on the gridiron the Delta Tau's battled with the Kappa Sig's. In the first of the third inning the Kappa Sig's scored three runs. Then in the last of the third, the Delta Tau's brought in three runs. In the fourth neither team scored, but in the last of the fifth the Delta Tau's got two of their men on bases and the man at bat knocked the ball out for a two-bagger bringing in the winning run.

On the Oriole Field at Orono the Sigma Chi's were similarly engaged with the Phi Ep's. The Sigma Chi's played a loose game, due to lack of practice, and lost by a 6-1 score in favor of the Phi Ep's who showed some signs of team work.

Phi Mu's Disguise the Gym for May Day Dance

The old gym would never be recognized as it was at the Phi Mu dance on the eve of May Day. The rose and white streamers floating from the be-ribboned May-pole in the center of the floor to the galleries gave one the impression of entering a huge May-basket. The curtains hanging from the galleries were bordered with sprays of evergreen bearing rose-colored lights. Above the narrow trellised entrance, against a background of the evergreen, was a rose and white leather shield bearing the Greek letters Φ M. The patronesses and guests occupied a prettily decorated booth on the right of the hall. The refreshments were served at intermission by the freshman members of the fraternity after which the dancing continued until one-thirty.

The attractive decorations and the dainty summer frocks of the girls, together with the excellent music of Turgon's orchestra, combined to make one of the prettiest and most enjoyable dances ever held by Phi Mu.

Coach Shapes Track Team

May Put Some Men in Different Events

Coach Rider is going to have a team whipped together in the next two weeks that will well represent the University at the State Track Meet at Lewiston, May 15.

There is to be a slight cut in the squad the first of the week and a general shake-up of the remaining men. The Coach feels that several men will do better in different events from the ones they are now training for. He plans to make these shifts at once and center his attention upon those who will represent Maine at the Lewiston Meet.

The track has been too soggy for running this week. Gym work and calisthenics have been the order of training. It is hoped that for the next two weeks there will be enough sun to make the track at least fit for some practice running. The condition of the out-door track has been one of the greatest set-backs of the season's training.

In the Interclass Meet Saturday, Coach Rider gained some idea of the quality of his men. No one who saw the meet and realized the fast time made under such unfavorable conditions, could have come away with anything but high hopes for the success of the team at Lewiston. Nothing better can be said of the ability of the team to "come thru" than the speed and endurance shown Saturday under such unfavorable circumstances.

Prof. Ashworth Speaks On "Student Temptations"

The Standards of American Students are Below Par

All human beings are tempted. Students are human. Therefore students are tempted. There may be black sheep in any bunch; yet the student body represents the real cream of the young manhood and the young womanhood of the country. Regardless of this fact, there are two temptations to the student, and these temptations are due to low standards of industry and honesty. When an individual joins a group, his ideals are likely to conform to the ideals of that group.

Is it true that the standard of student life, in respect to work and honesty is below that of American society, taken as a whole? A man should do his classroom work well, for the chief purpose of an institution of learning is to cultivate the mind, and yet the average student is greatly opposed to work.

The average student is also dishonest for to plug is as dishonest as to cheat openly. Therefore, if the student standard of honesty is low, it must be raised to conform with the general ideal of honesty in American society.

Nothing is impossible to industry.

Interclass Track Meet Brings Out Good Material

New Men Make a Very Good Showing Despite Wet Track

On Saturday, May 1, our customary interclass track meet was held. The first event was the hundred yard dash. In this, Pratt came in first, Pinkham second, and Thomas third. Dunn and Bangs won first and second places, respectively, in the 120 yard hurdles. In the mile run, Herrick came in first, Pease second, and A. Wilson, third. Pratt, Castle, and Lawrence won the places in the 440, and Raymond, Laughlin and Benson placed in the two-mile run. Point winners in the 220 yard dash were Pratt, Thomas and Pinkham. Dunn and Bullard finished in the 220 yard hurdles. Preti, O'Connor and Saltmarsh placed in the half mile and Strout, Smith and Bishop won first, second and third in the shot-put. In the high jump, Wight, Ackley and Leavitt came through, while Libby, Pratt, and Ackley made the first three places in the running broad jump. Strout, Bishop and Jenkins won points in throwing the discus. In the pole-vault, Houston, and Heistad tied for first place, and Gardner held second. Strout was the only contestant for the hammer throw.

The class of '23 won the highest average in the meet with 40 points. The sophomores averaged next best with 37 points and the class of '21 made 27 points. The class of '20 had 11 points. As a whole the meet was a great success and fast time was made in the track events, considering the heavy condition of the cinder path. Pratt won 220, but points went to Thomas as Pratt had run limit of events.

Campus Elects New Board

The officers of the Campus Board for the next year were elected at a recent meeting of the present Board. They are as follows:

Henry Y. Howard, Editor-in-Chief; Frederick F. Marston, Managing Editor.

Ivan L. Craig, Athletic Editor; Martha L. Woodbury, Alumni Editor; Mary A. Coughlin, Special Editor; Mildred M. Close, Chapel Editor; Wyman E. Hawkes, Exchange Editor; Philip W. Ham, News Editor.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT
Stanton Glover, Business Manager; William M. Foss, Circulation Manager; Clarence B. Beckett and John M. Williams, Assistant Business Managers.

It will be the aim of this board: to make the "Campus" a complete story of the life and activities of the U. of M., telling of the doings of each and every organization on the campus, and describing faculty members and renowned students as they appear to the student body by setting them off in wholesome pleasantries; to uphold the customs and traditions of the U. of M., to develop Maine spirit; and to bear the college news to our friends throughout the state.

The Board, however, can not do this alone. It solicits help from every student at Maine. It desires to make the "Campus" your paper and a paper that you want. Reports of meetings, jokes, and contributions of any kind whatever that are of general interest will be gladly accepted. Help the board to make it your paper.

The "M" Club show which will be presented Thursday, May 20 will consist of high class specialty acts in place of the usual minstrel performance. A dance will follow the show as usual. Big feature acts are being worked up and details will be announced later.

Much credit should be given coach Cross and his team for the showing they made, with hardly one week's preparation.

The early spring weather in Massachusetts enables the track and baseball seasons to start about a month before the snow is off the campus here.

With a week's more practice, Maine should be on a line for the state championship.

The first game was with Boston University, on April 27. Maine defeated the fast Boston team by a score of 7 to 6. The feature of the game was a hit made by "Chief" Johnson. By the fine work of "Jack" Frost, Boston University got only two hits.

The University of Maine nine defeated Boston University, 7 to 6, yesterday afternoon, over on the Russell Field, North Cambridge diamond. The locals failed to trouble the Maine aggregation to any great extent up until the ninth inning when they stirred things up considerably and all but tied up the score.

Anything but favorable weather conditions attended the affair and the players were practically numbed with the cold regardless of the fact that Coach John Carney's team had a "Furniss" in their lineup.

The second game was to be with Harvard on April 28, but was called off on account of rain.

The third game was with Boston College on April 29. Maine held the fast Boston team to the low score of 6 to 2, in Boston's favor. The big feature of the game was a double play by Sargent to Johnson to Walker. Maine hit hard, but the jinx was against her.

The Boston College baseball team defeated University of Maine, 6 to 2, yesterday afternoon at University Heights.

TO THE MEN OF MAINE

The University has recently received much unfavorable criticism because of the custom of hazing. It has developed a situation that is critical for the future of the institution. Public confidence and esteem can be restored only by the elimination of this evil and indefensible practice. Loyalty to Maine demands the full cooperation of every student in making a complete and permanent clean-up.

The faculty ruling on hazing is simply a statement that the laws of Maine both civil and criminal are to be obeyed. Nothing is prohibited that is not already a criminal offense and for which the victim may recover damages by civil suit. Such a ruling is surely reasonable and should receive the whole-hearted support of every student. This institution is supported by the people of the State and they have the right to expect those who profit by its opportunities to be law abiding.

There are many campus customs of long standing that should be preserved. The elimination of hazing does not carry with it the abandonment of those customs that are worth preserving. The Senior Skulls, after many meetings and much discussion, have prepared a statement of college customs and they are published in this issue of The Campus. It is hoped that every student will be willing to lend his influence to the orderly compliance with these customs. The best way to boost for Maine is to make just criticism impossible in the future. I believe you will do this.

ROBERT J. ALEY

The student body is holding the wrong attitude towards chapel, and as a result the chapel exercise is becoming very unpopular. It is nearly correct to say that those that go to chapel now, go because they have used up all their cuts. And the fact that it is compulsory that they go lends an odious atmosphere to the exercises. Consequently unless the exercises are such that they keep the students right on edge the students become unattentive, noisy and restless.

There are four logical reasons to which this attitude is due. The first is that if it were not for chapel you could go home. Coming from the last class you have just met three of your friends going home. You think of it all thru chapel and wish that you were with them. The second is that you have been in classes all the morning and you feel that you have listened to lectures enough. You want a change. You crave physical exercise rather than mental exercise. The third is that only about half the seats are filled. You know that half the students are out having fun. You know that eight or nine of your own fraternity brothers were excused from chapel and you don't see why you shouldn't be. I might add right here that 276 students have been excused from chapel this semester, besides some that are automatically excused on account of lab. work. The fourth reason is that hungry feeling. How can anybody be attentive with that reminder?

What can be done to change the attitude and increase the attendance? The first and best thing is to put chapel back where it used to be, between the second and third periods. This will afford a break in the morning work. Nearly everybody will be on the campus at that time and the only thing to do will be to go to chapel. And when everybody goes to chapel everybody will want to go to chapel.

The chapel exercises, however, must be made more interesting before the hearty cooperation of the student body can be assured. Reports have it that this year's chapel exercises are a big improvement over last year's. But they aren't yet what they ought to be. They ought to be such that nobody would think of cutting them. To get this attitude the exercises should vary. Mix in a bit of mirth, have a bit of snappy music, have the band once in a while, have a small vaudeville act, have a good lecturer. The name chapel doesn't go well with the vaudeville act or with the band; so we should change it to assembly. But we should have a chapel, a solemn exercise, once or twice a week.

To make these arrangements, the student body should elect a committee consisting of two or three faculty members and five or seven students, whose duty it shall be to arrange a program of chapel exercises for a certain length of time. The members of this committee could personally interview the talented students and solicit their aid in carrying out one of the above-mentioned programs. The committee could easily find four or eight singers to furnish a few snappy songs and they could find as many more to put on a short vaudeville act for another time, or get a "bunch" to tell funny stories. Or they could get the Glee Club, or the Mandolin Club, or the Band occasionally. The faculty members could arrange for the lecturers.

The exercises should not be announced in advance. Let the students come and find out whether they are to be lectured to or addressed by students whether they come to watch a vaudeville act or listen to a Sousa's Band, or whether they have come to the solemn chapel exercise in which they all take part.

If we are going to have a chapel, we might as well have a real one.

Those interested in the Sophomore Essay and Father Harrington Prizes may get information concerning the contest from Prof. Ellis or Prof. Thompson.

Junior Prize Exhibition

One of the first exercises of the Junior Week is the Junior Prize Exhibition. The following Juniors have been elected to take part in this exhibition this spring: Mildred M. Close, Charlotte G. Cross, Rena Campbell, Helen F. Curran, Anna S. Harden, Gladys E. Maxfield, Ruth B. Sullivan, Chester J. Austin, Frank S. Beale, Albert J. Bedard, Howard A. Deering, Reginald M. Jocelyn, Evans B. Norcross, Donald C. Osborne, Robert R. Owen, Conan A. Priest, and Ernest J. Sullivan.

The rules of the exhibition are as follows: Junior Exhibition Prizes of fifteen dollars each are awarded to the members of the junior class who deliver the best orations at the junior exhibition. One prize is awarded to the man receiving the first rank in competition with the men of the junior class, and one prize awarded to the woman receiving first rank in competition with the women of the junior class. In the award of these prizes regard is given to thought, style, and delivery. Copies of these orations must be deposited with the Registrar before Feb. 1.

The senior class will present a first class concert on Monday, June 7 just before the Commencement Ball. The committee in charge has had the good fortune to secure in Ralph Simmonds of the New Old South Church of Boston. Mr. Simmonds is a tenor with a big reputation. The Bangor Symphony Orchestra of 25 pieces will be an added feature to the occasion. The concert will commence at 7.30 and will be completed in plenty of time for those attending to "take in" the Commencement Ball. Guests of the graduating class and students should avail themselves of this opportunity to enjoy a musical treat.

GIVE BUSINESS VALUE TO YOUR SUMMER VACATION—In these strenuous days when the college student is being challenged as to how the vacation period is utilized, we are pleased to call the attention of the students to the advertisement in this issue regarding the summer session at Bryant & Strattons, Boston. The superior instruction given by this institution during the past fifty-five years has given it a national reputation, and we are pleased to recommend it to all that desire training for business.

University of Maine CAMPUS CUSTOMS

(The action recently taken by the faculty of the University regarding hazing has given rise to various inquiries regarding its effect upon campus customs. The Committee on Administration has requested the members of the Senior Skull society to publish a list of customs which should appeal to all members of the University as worthy of continuation. It is the opinion both of the Administrative Committee of the faculty and the Senior Skulls that students who are unwilling to conform to these customs are undesirable members of the college community. For the present at least, the Senior Skulls are to the guardians of these customs, and they have full authority to see that they are carried out subject to the regulations regarding hazing which have been adopted by the faculty.)

1. The Maine "Hello" is an established custom which is worthy to be preserved. Each student should greet in this manner everyone on the campus whom he believes to be a fellow student and should touch his cap to everyone whom he believes to be a member of the faculty.

2. Whatever insignia are selected by the various classes should be worn with pride by each member. Freshmen should wear on the campus the distinctive cap or toque furnished by the University except on Sundays and at dances. The cap shall be worn in the fall semester until the Thanksgiving recess and in the spring semester after the spring vacation. The toque shall be worn during the rest of the year.

3. Freshmen shall not smoke on the campus. In carrying out this custom the campus shall be regarded as extending from North Hall to the Orono bridge.

4. Freshmen must not be seen in the company of young ladies except at gymnasium dances which are open to them. Freshmen are not permitted to attend the Junior Prom or the Sophomore Hop without the consent of a committee from the Senior Skulls.

5. Freshmen shall not wear kid gloves, sweaters, bow-ties, or preparatory school insignia on the campus. They should wear their coats unless at work or taking physical exercise.

6. Freshmen are expected to carry matches for the use of the upper classmen.

7. It should be a campus custom in which everyone should be concerned to see to it that the University campus is always kept at its best. All students should preserve the natural beauty of the campus by refraining from walking or standing on the grass, particularly during the wet season of the year. All students also should refrain from throwing papers or rubbish of any sort on the campus and should assist in keeping it free from rubbish so far as lies in their power. Freshmen in particular should begin this practice in order that they may have a proper pride and affection for the campus at the close of their college course. The painting of numerals on any surface which causes a disfigurement of the campus is not to be tolerated.

8. It is a campus custom that at the close of chapel exercises all students shall rise and the classes shall pass out in order of seniority. Freshmen should not congregate in front of Alumni Hall before or after chapel.

9. In the evening of the day upon which the first chapel of the fall semester occurs there shall be held a gathering of the entire freshman class. This gathering is popularly known as the "Night Shirt Parade." This event shall be in charge of the Senior Skulls, one of whose number will explain to the freshmen at the close of the first chapel what is expected of them. Unless excused on account of participation in athletics, failure to be a part of this gathering is considered a serious breach of college manners.

10. The annual "Bag Scrap" shall be held after the first football game and shall be under the direction of the Senior Skulls and Junior Masks. Any class which wins a victory shall have the privilege of celebrating on the campus. The ringing of the bell in Wingate Hall and the blowing of the college whistle is prohibited. The annual "Rope Pull" shall take place under conditions similar to those which apply to the "Bag Scrap."

11. The sophomores shall not interfere in any way with any legitimate functions held by the freshman class, nor shall the freshmen interfere with any legitimate functions held by the sophomore class.

12. This list of approved campus customs shall be printed and distributed throughout the student body. They shall be read to the members of the freshman class as early as possible in the college year. Training College Men for Business

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade, Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.

score was in the fifth inning, when singles by Coady and Walker, and a pass ball, put them on second and third. The first hit was a long fly to center field, and Coady doubled at the plate.

The Maine team used three pitchers. Leo Dugan featured at bat with three singles and a triple. A. Johnson of the Maine team rapped out a triple in the sixth, but was declared out when he failed to touch first base. The score:

The last game was with Bates at Lewiston, on May 1. Here Maine showed up well, holding Bates to a 2 to 0 score in Bates' favor. This result was due, as in the other two games, to lack of sufficient time for preparation, and it expected to reverse the score in Maine's favor, when Bates comes to Orono.

Jowett showed excellent development and proved quite a find for coach Cross.

Bates defeated Maine in a hard fought pitchers' battle. In the sixth inning, two Maine men were on the sacks. Jowett, on the other hand, was strong in the pinches, except on two occasions when long hits proved to be serious for the blue team. The Lewiston college scored first in the sixth inning when Dillon was safe on first, Donahue who was batting star of the game, proved that he could hit when hits meant runs for he tripped to deep centerfield and Dillon scored the first run of the game. Again in the eighth this combination put the game safely away for Bates. Donahue again came to the front with a double and Dillon crossed the platter for the final run in the battle. The game was featured by Cusick's remarkable pitching. Donahue's batting and Burns' fielding for Bates, while Captain Waterman starred for Maine.

Greater X-ray Service— through Research

FOR years after the discovery of X-rays it was evident that only intensive research could unfold their real possibilities.

Meanwhile, scientists of the General Electric Company developed the process of making wrought tungsten. This proved ideal as the target in X-ray tubes and its use for this purpose soon became universal.

Then further research resulted in the development of an X-ray tube of a radically new type—the Coolidge Tube—with both electrodes of wrought tungsten and containing the highest attainable vacuum.

But the complication of high-vacuum pumps made the new tube in large quantities impossible. The answer to this problem was the Langmuir Condensation Pump, utilizing mercury vapor in its operation and almost automatic.

To meet the need for simple X-ray apparatus during the war, the G-E Laboratory developed the Self-Rectifying Coolidge Tube, which made possible portable outfits at the front. The latest X-ray outfit of this type is so small it can be taken conveniently to the home or to the bedside in the hospital.

Thus the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company continues to serve, that progress in things electrical may continue for the good of humanity.

rooms each containing two beds and two closets (every girl knows the values of a separate closet) line the central corridor.

My room was the first room on the ground floor, and overlooked the beautiful campus it was gay with college banners, and was filled with college atmosphere. And yet its owners did not forget to leave a card of welcome on the table for the Federation guest. In the basement of Balentine Hall, is a gymnasium and a large dining room, with tables seating eight students, where we were most efficiently served by some of the students.

Next to Balentine Hall is the Carnegie Library, the most beautiful building on the campus, which was most artistically decorated for the meetings of the Federation. Here we listened to a splendid address by President Ale; who is one of the soundest thinkers and foremost educators of our day. It seems to me that his personality is one of the opportunities, the gift of the University to all its students; for the inspiration of a strong, sane and noble character is a greater influence in the lives of young people than the knowledge won from many books.

In my eagerness to gather information about the courses offered, I consulted not only President Ale, but also various students whom I met at Balentine Hall. One girl, a senior in the home economics course, assured me that the finest course for girls was the home economics course. There surely are great advantages for the students in this course, under the direction of Miss Freeman, and her Assistants. During the afternoon this department kept open house in its quarters, a large, colonial house which used to be the president's house. Here the senior students live, and get practical experience in household management for six months of their senior year, supplemented by six months teaching in the schools at Orono.

The house was attractively furnished in good taste, with beautiful living rooms, dining room, kitchen and store rooms on the lower floor, and with quarters for Prof. Freeman, the other teachers, and the students on the upper floor. Everything in the house was spotless; the china closet and linen closet were radiant, and the kitchen arrangements were practical and wonderful. Housekeeping seemed to be lifted from drudgery to art; and the conditions for practical instruction in home economics seemed most ideal.

The opportunities for girls in the home economics courses have been better advertised than the opportunities for collegiate work. However, these courses have been strengthened materially during the last ten years, until the academic department has grown in favor and importance.

Some of the best courses are the language courses; especially in Spanish, French and Latin; and the courses in history, which are conducted by Dr. Caroline Colvin, a woman of rare wisdom and learning, who is a power in the University and in the lives of her students. Of course, the courses in mathematics and the sciences need not be praised because the reputation of the University in these departments is well established.

A senior girl with whom I talked called my attention to the strong courses in Education and to the Normal training offered in connection with all courses, she also emphasized the systematic correlation of all subjects with the major subject, and the breadth of courses offered by the University for such correlation. The intelligent appreciation of this senior girl of the educational opportunities offered to girls made an even greater impression upon me than the words of Dr. Ale. For she had acquired knowledge and judgment, wisdom and self-reliance, at the same time that she retained an appreciation of the college good times. She even suggested that some prospective students might do well to come down and visit during junior week! This reminds me of the movies of University life which were shown in the chapel, thrilling pictures of ball games, track victories, and Commencement festivities.

On the whole, the opportunities for girls at our State University were deeply impressed upon all the visitors. In these days, when the older girls' colleges are becoming so crowded and so expensive, it is fitting that our State should provide academic education for it girls, and it is earnestly hoped that the girls will take advantage of these splendid opportunities in increasing numbers. The State University welcomes the girls as well as the boys of the State.
