Annual "M" Club Vaudeville And Dance Comes May 20

A Good Special Acts Program
Has Been Arranged

Everybody must keep next Thursday night, the twentieth, open for the great "M" Club Vaudeville and dance.

Have your fifty cents ready and be in your seat in Alumni Hall at seven o'clock sharp, or you will miss the greatest novelty vaudeville acts ever witnessed in the Pine Tree State.

First on the program will be a snappy line of the latest songs by the famous "M" Club trio. The two Greene boys, "Jack" and "Hy" will participate accompanied by a marvelous third member whose name we have been unable to obtain.

Next will be a striking "Coon dialect" and songs by the well known comedians "Jack" Harvey and "Ozzy" Osgood.

Burleigh Waterman Member of the Graduating Class

Has Been Prominent in Varsity Athletics During his Entire Course

Among the seniors to graduate this spring is Burleigh Waterman, captain of the University of Maine baseball team. "Burl" will leave a place in Maine athletics, as well as in our college life, which will be hard to duplicate. Waterman came to Maine from Deerfield High where he had won fame as a football and baseball star.

During his freshman year at Maine, he played on his class football and

Maine Wins from Colby In a Very Loose Game

Captain Waterman Scores a Spectacular Home Run

On Wednesday, May 12, Maine defeated Colby in a loose baseball game, by a score of 7 to 3. In the first three innings, neither team scored. In the fourth Buchnam and Willis scored for Colby. Maine's shortstop, Captain Waterman hit the ball over the center fielder's head and circled the bases for a home run, amid frenzied yelling from the Maine bleachers. This hit was the spectacular play of the game. Al Johnson scored the tying run in the fifth. Neither team scored in the sixth, but in our lucky seventh, Colby scored her third and last run through Klaine, and Maine pounded the pill for three runs. P. Johnson made first on a hit to left field, Al Johnson made first on a bunt, and Coady made first on the catcher's error. P. Johnson and Al Johnson scored, and Jowett knocked in Coady. Waterman and P. Johnson scored for Maine in the eighth. Jowett pitched a fine game for Maine, and pulled himself out of several bad holes. Bucknam replaced Klaine in the seventh.

Entertainment Guaranteed By Junior Week Committee

"Monte" Cross is Coaching the Vaudeville Acts

You don't want to miss the Junior Week entertainments. Get your programs now so that you can keep track of them. All Juniors are expected to buy two. It is one way you can pay your class dues. And it will avoid having a big assessment next year.

Wednesday night is the Junior Exhibition followed by the Combined Musical Clubs. If you like music and good music don't miss it. Thursday turn out to that baseball game. At seven o'clock in the evening there will be an outdoor band concert. This is entirely free and everybody is invited. At eight o'clock is the Vaudeville by the "M" Club. Monte Cross is coaching this and it sure will be good. Friday and Saturday all Juniors are excused from classes. But this does not excuse anybody from the chapel exercises. If you miss the Junior Chapel this year you will always regret it. Never again will you be able to hear any two orators like the two that will entertain you at the exercises Friday. The periods will be shortened and chapel will begin promptly at five minutes after eleven. Professor Weston will give you some good advice and a good laugh too. And "Bob" Owen will put in a bid for a home for your souls in the hereafter. Friday night—eight to two—the Junior Prom. Welch's orchestra, polished floor, pretty decorations, cool and comfortable, you can never find a better dance wherever you may go. And just think of the dance order that you are getting. If all the co-eds don't get bids, they just want to remember that it is leap year.

The Track Meet Saturday morning between the prep schools will be good. And the Battalion Parade will be well worth your time. In the afternoon is the Maine-Bates game and in the evening, the Cabaret Show. There is no need to go off the campus for a good time this week end. If that program doesn't give you a good time you will never have one.

Inter-Collegiate Track Meet the Most Hotly Contested Ever Held

Colby Proved Unexceptionally Strong in Field Events—Captain Pratt was High Point Man for Maine

Inter-Fraternity Council Is Efficiently Reorganized

Alumni and Faculty Members are Chosen under New System

The Inter-Fraternity Council has not been deemed efficient for many years. There were many serious defects in the constitution of the Council. It was not broad enough. The representatives who composed the old Council, were drawn entirely from the under-graduate body. This was an especially bad feature. Neither Alumni nor the Faculty of the University were represented, a short-coming remedied in the new Council. Many times the best men from the fraternities were not delegated as representatives to the Council.

Largely thru the untiring efforts of "Pep" Towner, Everett Brasier, and Mr. C. C. Garland '82, a new Constitution has been drawn up and to date ratified by eight of the fraternities. The constitution has been made broad enough to cover any matter brought before the Council. The fraternities are to be represented by the heads of the Houses, together with one Alumni each, of their choice. The University is to be represented by three members of the Faculty appointed by the President of the University.

The new Inter-Fraternity Council plans to secure closer co-operation between the fraternities for their mutual good and for the good of the University. One of the first material results of the new Council is to be an effort to reduce the high cost of living. The Council plans to buy thru the Purchasing Agent directly from the State Government such food supplies as the fraternities of the Council desire. This means a great reduction in the price of the food.

Prof. Toelle Talks on Individual Achievement

Prof. Toelle gave a most interesting talk on "Individual Achievement" in chapel Friday noon.

He opened with a pleasing little anecdote about the army experiences of Sambo and Rastus, illustrating the prevailing tendency to give the order "Rest!" rather than "As you were!"

In our athletics we have a typical example of American push and it is this fighting spirit which put us in the lead and gave us the football championship last fall. It is also this spirit which is fast making us the biggest national power in the world, socially as well as economically.

The needs of today are not quite the same as the needs of yesterday but in studying about present problems and problems of the future, we must not in the least under emphasize individual-

The annual Maine Intercollegiate Track Meet was held at Lewiston Saturday and resulted in a victory for Bowdoin by a narrow margin. The meet was the most closely contested ever held between the Maine colleges, contrary to the predictions of the sporting experts. Maine came out second with 31 points, 14 points behind Bowdoin. Due to her unexpected strength in the field events, Colby managed to tie Bates; each scoring 25 points.

As was predicted, Captain H. E. Pratt was high point man for Maine, taking first places in the 440 and 220 yard dashes and second in the running broad jump. Bowdoin's high point man was W. Parent, who finished first in the 220 yard hurdles, the running broad jump and took second place in the 220 yard dash.

No new records were set in any of the events, but some very fast work on the part of Maine and Bates was displayed in the half-mile, mile and two mile runs. The contestants who figured in the mile run were Goodwin of Bowdoin, Raymond Buker of Bates, and Frank Preti of Maine, who was permitted to participate by a final vote of the M. I. A. A. board. Preti, who was expected to win, took the lead at the report of the gun, and continued in the lead during the first quarter. But his indiscreet start told on his strength and R. Buker and Goodwin who had been trailing many yards behind him crept up on him slowly and passed him

"M" Club Dance Friday Was Very Well Attended

Last Friday evening the "M" Club gave a very successful informal dance in the gym. As usual, a large crowd attended; all having a very pleasant time.

Dancing was from eight to twelve, and excellent music was furnished by "Opie" Turgeon's orchestra.

During intermission ice cream was served, while the punch-bowl was frequented throughout the entire party.

The dance was for the benefit of the "M" Club, and as we all know, there could hardly be a worthier cause.

Much credit should be extended to the dance committee, "Johnny" Walker, and "Hammie" Ham, for the complete success of the entertainment.

in the second lap. Goodwin won out in the last lap by perfect sprinting, finishing fifty yards before Buker. Preti came in behind Buker, game to the very end.

The grit and fighting spirit displayed by Raymond in the two mile run was truly representative of Maine. After having held the lead for the first mile, he was passed by Goodwin and R. Buker in the first quarter of the second mile, but he regained his lead in the seventh lap, to the great delight of the Maine delegation of rooters. However, on the last lap Buker, in a last determined effort, wrestled the lead from Raymond and finished ahead of Goodwin, who had also passed the Blue runner.

The half-mile run was won by Capt. Richard Buker of Bates, who ran away from his closest competitors, Mercer of Colby and Hunt of Bowdoin.

Bowdoin's first defeat came in the 440 yard dash, when Maine's fast track men, Pratt and Castle copped first and second places, respectively.

"Burl" is a prominent member of the "M" Club and is always present in their annual minstrel shows, for he is a real comedian at any time or place. He is president of the University of Maine branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers, a member of the Sophomore Owls, Junior Masks, Senior Skulls and the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

Editorial

What the world needs most is knowledge. If the public can be educated the first step will then have been taken. But what is an education? Many think that to have read a lot of books or to have gone thru a college one has attained an education. This is not true unless the person thought his way thru the books or the college. If you eat beefsteak but do not digest it, it does you no good. It is essential that you digest what you read or what you study.

The men that are making good today are the thinking men. When they have a leisure hour instead of wasting it foolishly they spend their time reading or studying. What they actually do is to think their way thru books. They may not have an education but they have started a foundation for one and they are building daily. It matters not what they read. They could study history, psychology, geology or astronomy. It all goes into the education. Men learn what relations they hold with others, what they are, what the earth is made of, and the earth is doing.

The college student of today is in the best position to attain an education. He is where he is guided in his studies, where he receives instructions from those who already have started a foundation for their education. The public is looking to the colleges for their leaders. And the college men and women must not fail them. Do not try to make the public think you are better and bigger than you are. But get out and work, lend your services to the public, apply a little action with your thinking, help to improve the public and the public will help to improve you.

Give the baseball team a little more support. A lot of you don't even know who is on the team. Next Thursday afternoon we play Norwich and Saturday afternoon, Bates. Get out and see those games. Who is going to pitch? Who is going to catch? Who is going to play? The best way to find out is to get out and see for yourselves. Show a little spirit. Do a little cheering. Set the team up and start it off right. But listen here. When Maine is at the bat and a runner gets on base, whether or not that runner brings in a score depends on what the coaches tell him to do, and if he can not hear the coaches he is handicapped. So remember this. When a Maine man gets a hit, keep still long enough for the signals and coaching to work. If the runner can hear what the coaches tell him to do he will be more apt to bring in a run. Remember to give the visitors a square deal too.

Remember, you quarrelsome lovers, there's a clinch in every good fight.

This Year's Prism to be One of Best in History

Reservations for Copies Should Be Made at Once

Have you ordered your PRISM yet? If not, do so now while the supply lasts.

The 1921 PRISM is the best one that has ever been put out at Maine with possibly the exception of the one in 1912. This is not a brag but a plain fact.

The character of the book has been changed in many respects. New features have been added and obsolete sections and customs have been changed. The Junior section will appear in two colors, light green and lithographic black. The style of this part of the book has been completely changed and believe me, you will like it. It is to be dedicated to Dean Boardman and his picture will be shown in two colors. The two-color cut, from which his picture has been printed, was made by the Folsom Engraving Company of Boston by their new process. The cover design in two colors will easily attract your eye when you see it.

The grind section is one of the main features of the book. The grinds have been arranged in the two-column idea giving in 32 pages as much as past PRISMS could give in 50. And it is much longer and contains more jokes than any other PRISM that we know of.

Careful selection has been made in the artistic work and the drawings would do any book or magazine credit.

The PRISMS are coming from the binders in lots of from 30-50 a day and it would be well to make a reservation for them for those who make their reservation first get theirs first.

The book is four dollars a copy and a deposit of one dollar or more is required on each reservation which can be made with any of the editors or at the University Store.

Order yours now and be sure to get one.

Appointment Exams to be Given by Coast Guard

Offers a New Opportunity for Further Education with Pay

The U. S. Coast Guard announces a competitive examination, commencing July 12, 1920, for appointment of cadets and cadet engineers which is an exceptional opportunity for young men of the right caliber to complete their education and receive special training at Government expense and to become commissioned officers in the U. S. Coast Guard, one of the military services of the United States.

Age limits, for appointment as cadet, are 18 to 24 years; and for appointment as cadet engineer, 20 to 25 years.

Cadets and cadet engineers are trained to become commissioned officers of the Coast Guard at the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. Each summer the cadets are taken on extended practice cruises, which have included visits to ports in Nova Scotia, West Indies, the Canal Zone, and when conditions permitted, European ports. (The cruise this year extends to the channel ports of France and England).

Cadets receive the same pay and allowances as midshipmen in the Navy ($600 per annum and one ration per day). Cadet engineers receive $75 per month and one ration per day.

Upon graduation, after three years at the Academy, a cadet is commissioned by the President as a third lieutenant in the Coast Guard. A cadet engineer, upon graduation, after one year at the Academy, is commissioned by the President as a third lieutenant of engineers in the Coast Guard. Commissioned officers of the Coast Guard rank with officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, and receive corresponding pay.

The examination is strictly competitive; appointments are made entirely on merit and are not apportioned by states or congressional districts.

The mental examination for cadets, which will follow the physical, will consume three days, and cover the following subjects as ordinarily given in high schools: algebra, geometry, plane trigonometry, physics, spelling, composition, geography, general information and general adaptability. In addition, candidates for appointment as cadet engineer will devote an additional day and one-half to mechanics, electricity and steam engineering, as ordinarily given in colleges.

Examinations will be held at Boston, Mass., New London, Conn., New York, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., Baltimore, Md., Washington, D. C., Norfolk, Va., Savannah, Ga., Key West, Fla., Mobile, Ala., Galveston, Tex., Buffalo, N. Y., Detroit Mich., Chicago, Ill., Fort Stanton, N. Mex., San Francisco, Calif., Seattle, Wash., and perhaps a few other places.

The opportunity this year is particularly favorable because there is an unusually large number of vacancies. It is hoped that an exceptionally large number of cadets and cadet engineers will be appointed.

A circular giving full information about the examination may be obtained by writing to the COMMANDANT, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C. Any special information relative to the Academy or the Service will be furnished upon request.

By direction of the Commandant.
H. G. HAMLET,
Captain, U. S. Coast Guard.

A CORPSELESS FUNERAL

Ivy Day on the campus! What generous fairy has sent this swarm of white-clad heart-destroyers to add more joy to an already joyful occasion? From zones of infinite radii they come, with their pretty dresses packed in one small suitcase—come only to remain for a night and a day—come in order to depart with a few more hearts strung on their fast-growing Eros necklace. D. L. Auld does a rushing business during Junior Week.

But today girls and all their charms failed to amuse me. I soon lost interest in the proceedings and was walking past Coburn on my way home when some one hailed me from the steps. Bob Kenton ran down the path and fell into step. "Where away?" he asked.

"I'll see enough of this stuff next year," I replied. "Going home and play a couple of sets of singles before supper."

"I" go down and trim up up," he asserted confidently. "I was pretty good at tennis when I was here, but I haven't played a game for six years."

We turned from the walk into College Avenue, talking of prospects for a baseball championship that spring. Ivy Day came early in May that year, and the state series had but just begun.

"If we beat Bowdoin," declared the old-timer, "then I don't care a rap if Bates wins the series. I hope—My God!" he broke off suddenly. "Did you see that?"

In his excitement he had raised his hand to indicate what had so aroused him. A student and a co-ed were strolling along the walk leading to the Coop. The fellow wore a blue cap with a large white button on top, an insignia marking him as a freshman. Such sights were not unusual at that time, and I shrugged my shoulders.

"What of it?" I asked. "True love must run its course while it lasts. She isn't very handsome, is she?"

"A freshman," Bob said slowly and solemnly, "walking with a co-ed. You're a sophomore, aren't you? Do you permit such a thing as that?"

Androscoggin Alumni Takes Band to Lewiston

The University made its first concert trip to Lewiston Friday, May 14. The concert was given in the City Hall before an audience of more than 700. The concert was followed by a dance which lasted until 12:00 o'clock. The program was as follows:

1. The Star Spangled Banner
2. March, "The University of Maine March" Crosby
3. American Plantation Sketch
4. "Southern Stars" Ascher-Mahl
5. Overture "Norma" Bellini
6. An Echo of the East, "Dardanelle" Bernard-Black
7. Excerpts from the comic opera, "Pinafore" Sullivan
8. Idyl, "The Glow Worm" Lincke
9. March, "Landing of the Troops" Crosby
10. Fantasy on Old College Songs
11. "Campus Echoes" Rollinson
12. The Maine Stein Song Colcord-Fensted

Those making the trip were: C. C. Swift, Leader.

Cornets: Lineken, Covell, Fenderson, Fifield, Dennison.

Piccolo: Coolbroth

Clarinets: Woodman, Daniels, Black, Harkness, and Beeaker

Horns: Marston, English, Crane

Baritones: Murray, Currier

Trombones, Jenkins, Titcomb, Walker, Anderson

Basses: West, Kennison

Drums: Cobb, Higgins

The concert was given under the auspices of the Androscoggin Valley Alumni Association. T. D. Bonney and H. Cooper were the committee in charge.

"The anti-hazing movement of 1909 has effectively stopped all freshman discipline in public," I explained. "The fraternities keep their own freshmen in line fairly well. That fellow's a non-frat, man, so there's nothing I can do. It's to be regretted, but it can't be helped."

"I've been in lots of colleges since I graduated from Maine," said Bob. "Wherever hazing has been abolished class spirit has died too; also college spirit to a great or less degree. The two lower classes need a certain amount of fighting; but nowadays the sophomores let the freshmen walk all over them."

"The freshmen had a peach of a scrap with the sophs in '97," he continued. "It was on Ivy Day too—fifteen years ago. The exercises today made me think of it. There hadn't been a real good scrap for a week or so, and things were getting dead; so the freshmen decided to pull off something of a hostile nature."

"The sophomores were watching the juniors plant the class ivy and the exercises were in full swing, when down the road passed a remarkable procession. In front was a coffin labeled with huge numerals, carried by six pallbearers dressed in black. In funeral step behind marched the whole freshman class, everyone trying to look solemn and sad. As the procession passed Coburn Hall there was a wild commotion. The sophomores left their girls, struggled free from the crowd, and rushed the pallbearers. But with quick precision and a military manoeuvre the freshman line of march became a solid square with the coffin in the centre and hidden from view. But everyone knew what was going on by this time. 1900 was performing obsequies for 1899.

"The sophomores rushed singly, charged en masse, drew back and charged again. They might as well have charged a stone wall. The freshmen outnumbered them two to one and the ranks of the square remained unbroken. Down to the river bank they carried the deceased and consecrated an impromptu graveyard where the digging was easiest. 1899 fought on the outside of the square, struggling to prove that 1900 was trying to bury their class while life still lasted. Six spades came out of the coffin in which the class of 1899 was sleeping its last little long nap, and six sextons dug a grave—shallow but none the less a grave. Over the hole were placed two boards, and on these was laid the coffin ready to be let drop when the ceremonies were performed.

"Then Tommy Holden, the tallest man in the class and the best orator in college, got up on the coffin to deliver the funeral oration. The sophomores had quit fighting when the freshmen had shouted that the grave was dug, and were trying to make the best of a bad situation. They planned to get the freshmen one by one when the funeral let out. But no one could stand still and hear his own class preached into a nameless grave. If Tommy wanted to preserve peace he began his remarks very unfortunately. The dogs of war broke loose after his first sentence, and then occurred the noisiest funeral in history, not excepting Julius Caesar's. Mark Anthony had nothing on Tommy Holden when it came to arousing the assembled populace.

"Classmates, enemies, and visitors," he began in a loud voice. "We come to bury '99, not to praise them—NOT BY A DAM SIGHT!"

"Right here the scrap proper began. Lucky was he who had a rag to cover his nakedness when the field had been fought. No weapons were barred except firearms, and those only because no one had any. Meanwhile the orator of the day continued, and his voice refused to be drowned out by any mortal sounds. 'Praise is the product of a fulsome heart, a bringing to the surface in words an expression of our inner love and esteem which we hold

Training College Men for Business

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade, Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.

"M" CLUB VAUDEVILLE AND DANCE COMES MAY 20

Misses Small and Merrill will entertain us with a special act. We are not sure just what it will be, but we are certain that this act alone will be worth the full price of admission.

Our old friend "Monte" Cross will put over a song that will make us forget our happy homes forever.

Our real musical genius, Mr. "Squak" Renwick, will deliver a melodious exhibition of true tenor quality. We all know "Squak" will uphold his reputation and make Caruso wish he was "On the Shores of Italy."

"Captain" Whitehouse and his augmented "Unstrung Sextet" will exercise their instruments for our appreciation. This will be one of the big features, as we are all well aware of the "Captain's" exceptional failing for music, and know he and his fellow sufferers will 'deliver the goods.'

To top it all off the great "Yiddish Song and Dance Act," that was such a sensation in the famous Maine Mammoth Minstrels, will execute.

To give us all our money's worth, four or five times, a dance will be held in the gym, immediately following the program. The fifty cents admission to the vaudeville will hold good for the dance.

Proceeds are for the benefit of the "M" Club, therefore let's all be there strong and give the Club our support, because as we all should know, there is no more worthy cause.

Inter-Collegiate Track Meet the Most Hotly Contested Ever Held

Pratt came to the front once more in the 220 yard dash by beating out Parent of Bowdoin in a hairbreadth finish.

The running broad jump involved Pratt once more as he took second place behind Parent of Bowdoin, who jumped 20 feet 10 1-8 inches.

Inter-Fraternity Council is Efficiently Reorganized

One of the principal aims of the Council will be to raise the scholastic standards of all the fraternities. Much attention is to be centered on this purpose.

Thru the co-operation of the fraternities it is hoped to induce more promising prep school men to come to Maine.

The meetings have been held so far in the Administrative Office of the University. As yet no permanent meeting place has been chosen. There are to be four meetings during each college year, including an annual meeting on the second Wednesday before Commencements. Special meetings will be called by the Executive Committee when deemed necessary.

The new Inter-Fraternity Council is stronger in many respects than the old Council. The new Council has the power to regulate all inter-fraternity matters. The representatives who serve on the Council will be the strongest and best men in the fraternities. Both the Alumni and the Faculty are represented. There can be no organization of greater strength formed. Certainly no organization will be able to accomplish as much good with the hearty co-operation the new Council hopes to secure.

The officers chosen at the first official meeting were:

President, Everett H. Brasier '20; Vice-President, Mr. R. F. Cole '18 of Brewer; Secretary-Treasurer, Clarke Perry '20; Executive Committee: Dean Hart (from the Faculty), James Gannett (from the Alumni), Everett H. Brasier '20.

ism and the achievements of the individual. Gen. Pershing wired to Sec. Baker saying, "Send me the best railroad man available." W. W. Atterbury, a graduate of Yale was sent. In beginning his career as an engineer, five cents an hour was the first wage he received but he was gradually promoted until at the age of twenty-three he held a good position. He was also superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad during the Pullman Strike in 1894 and was the only man who was able to keep trains running through that critical time.

He is but one example of "success" and we cannot solve our problems without emphasis on individual achievement for most of the great men who have achieved things are from America. In illustration of the power of the individual—about seven-eighths of the national income goes to men with incomes of $5,000 and national development depends almost entirely upon the actions of financiers.

"Play up, play up, and play the game!"

Some instinctive mental telepathy must have passed between us. Without a word Gramp reached for his hat and we left the room. Still silent, we walked down the path by the Delta Gamma house, and stopped at the waiting-room just as the car for Old Town hove in sight.

"It certainly does try a girl's nerve when she braces herself to receive the shock of a proposal, and the shock fails to materialize."
