Aggies Lay Plans for Annual Harvest Ball

Psychological Effect of Jazz on Farm Animals to be Tested

One of the largest social events of the year, is to take place in the near future. This is to be the Harvest or what is commonly called the "Heck" Ball. Most of the members of the three upper classes attended last year, and so know how it gets the latter name but for the benefit of the entering class a brief explanation will not be out of place.

The Harvest Ball is an annual dance held in the early fall, as near the opening of college as possible and is under the auspices of the Agricultural Club. The hall is always appropriately decorated with cornstalks, ears of corn, and pumpkins. Around the sides will be pens containing sheep and other animals, also cages of hens and ducks. In fact as soon as you enter the gym you feel as if you were back on the farm on your summer vacation.

Music will be furnished by a college Jazz Orchestra.

Tickets will soon be on sale by the members of the committee. Watch the bulletin board for further announcements.

The committee consists of Walker, Dobbins, Hawkes, Eastman and Hall.

Y. W. C. A. Girls Give Tea at Balentine Hall

On Sunday afternoon the Y. W. C. A. girls gave a delightful tea in the reception hall at Balentine. The primary purpose of the tea was to give the new girls an opportunity to become acquainted with some of the members of the faculty and the old girls. Mrs. Dean Stevens spoke a short word of welcome to the new girls in which she expressed the pleasure with which the old girls greeted the new and the need of all girls to become acquainted with the faculty. She also reminded the girls that their parents and their friends were judged by their behavior while here in school and urged them to be fair to them as well as to themselves and be of the truest type of girl.

Rhondina Armstrong and her sister, accompanied by their mother, gave a delightful cello and violin duet. Refreshments of tea and wafers were served and all joined together in an informal way to become acquainted.

Students Celebrate with Republicans in Bangor

Special cars carried hundreds of students to Bangor, Thursday evening, to take part in the celebration of the Republican victory in Maine. They were accompanied by the University of Maine band of about thirty pieces and succeeded in advertising their presence in Bangor by means of their lusty throats.

Upon their arrival in Bangor, the students proceeded to Bass Park, where they enjoyed an open air supper and were addressed by some of the most prominent men of Bangor. After supper the students took their place at the head of the parade and marched thru the elaborately decorated streets, cheering loudly and displaying torches as they passed the large crowds of spectators. The parade was headed by President Aley, Prof. Kent and other members of the U. of M. faculty.

The Contributors Club held a corn roast last Friday evening. Mr. Perrin read a humorous essay which he wrote for the occasion and Mr. Creamer read one of the poems which he has composed. The Contributors Club is an organization which was instituted last year to encourage the literary talent of the University. It is to continue this year and it bids fair to become the strongest organization of its kind on the campus.

Annual Pumpkin Meet Comes on Oct. 9

On Saturday October 9 a pumpkin meet will be held under the auspices of the Maine A. A. The entries are open to all men that have not earned their letter in any major sport in the university. All entrants should leave their names at the Physical Director's Office before Friday noon, Oct. 8, 1920. The entries consist of the 100 yard dash, 220 yard run, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, 45 yard low hurdles, 45 yard high hurdles, 1 mile run, 2 mile run, pole vault, running high jump, running broad jump, shot put, hammer throw, and standing broad jump.

This meet should attract all men that have not earned their letter and those men who have any athletic ability. Come out fellows, and show the Maine spirit. Don't be a slacker and let the next man do it.

"Heck" Club Holds First Business Session of Year

New Men are Given Cordial Reception by the Club

The "Heck" Club held its first meeting of the year Wednesday evening, Sept. 22. The meeting opened with a short business session consisting of the election of a committee and the making of a few plans for the Harvest Ball which will take place very soon.

After the transaction of the business, President Merriman extended a hearty welcome to the men who were back from last year, and to the men who were present for the first time. After this he introduced Dean Merrill who gave a talk which was very interesting and beneficial to every one present.

After the completion of the program, the refreshments, consisting of apples, peanuts and smokes were passed.

A large crowd was present, much enthusiasm was shown, and it looks as if the "Heck" Club is going to have even a more successful year than it enjoyed last year.

Phi Mu Girls Roast Hot Dogs Saturday Morning

The girls of Phi Mu fraternity gave a hot dog roast last Saturday morning. At nine o'clock a crowd of about forty-five started to hike toward Standpipe Hill. When the crowd was assembled, the dogs were roasted and the coffee was made. Everybody joined in playing games and singing songs until it was time to come home and get ready for the game.

New Men Make Excellent Showing Despite Baseball Weather. Fumbling on Both Sides Loses Ball

Scrimmages Between the Two Teams are Frequent and Lively

Last Thursday afternoon the football squad, composed of 47 members, Coaches Baldwin and Flack, Manager Cobb and Assistant Manager Hodgdon had a group picture taken on the cement grandstand, by Smith of Old Town.

The squad is composed of the following men: Capt. Ray Smith, Manager Cobb, Assistant Manager Hodgdon, Strout, Barron, Mulvaney, Zysman, Young, Wood, Thomas, Tinker, McKechie, Lord, Jordan, Hussey, Ginsberg, Dresser, Courtney, Powers, Taylor, Small, Roemer, Baldwin, Foster, Levinson, French, Merrill, March, Merrill, Melknockey, Dow, Murray, Phillips, Johnson, Rockwell, Cobb, McLeod, Badger and Bisson.

After the picture was taken a lively scrimmage followed between Teams A and B. Team A scored three touchdowns on Team B. Coach Flack handled Team B.

Suggestions to Freshman On Use of the Library

To freshmen who find it difficult to locate books in the library, the following information may be of value. The magazines and periodicals are to be found in the room on the left as you enter the library. The room on the right contains the dictionaries, encyclopedias and the volumes of literary and historical biographies. The reference books in reserve are on special shelves at the right of the librarian's desk. When a reserve book is taken from the shelves, sign your first initial and last name to the card which is inside the back cover. Leave this card at the librarian's desk. Books which are on reserve are not to be taken from the library.

Any book which is not on reserve and does not belong in either of the reading rooms will be found in the stacks. The card index will assist in locating these books and the librarians are always willing to help. It is well for the freshmen to get acquainted with the library by finding out the system with which the books are kept in the stacks.

The papers are to be found downstairs.

Round Table is to Meet Next Tuesday Afternoon

The Round Table is one of the most helpful societies on the campus. It is a get-together society for the girls of the college and the ladies of the faculty. Through this society many helpful acquaintances are made. The Round Table is always willing to aid the girls in any line of work they take up whether it be Y. W. or Student Government or any other thing that is for the good of the girls and the college.

The first meeting of the season will be held from 3 to 5 P. M. Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 5 in the reception hall of Balentine Hall. There will be a special program. All the girls and ladies of the faculty are invited to attend. It is especially hoped that all the new girls will be present.

On an afternoon better adapted to baseball than football, amid the cheers of thousands of Maine supporters, the blue warriors trotted on the field to battle with the red jerseyed men from Boston University. The game started with B. U. kicking to Maine from the south end of the field. Young received the ball and carried it fifteen yards. The B. U. team held so well that Maine punted the ball which Rogers received but was tackled almost in his tracks. On the next play Boston fumbled only to recover. They lost the ball on downs. Smith carried the ball ten yards and Young took it for seven more. Again Smith took the ball and added eleven yards but Maine was penalized five yards for offside. At this time Ginsberg, who had been doing good work, was replaced by Wood who tried for a field goal but missed only by inches. Boston then took the ball on her twenty yard line but after four successive rushes lost the ball to Maine. It was in the next play that Wood made one of the long runs of the game by carrying the ball 30 yards. The period ended with Maine on her thirty yard line.

The second period opened by an incomplete pass Wood to Barron. Then Wood punted. Rogers carried the ball nine yards in three rushes and on the next play B. U. made first down. After this they failed to gain and punted. Wood received the ball and carried it five yards. Then Wood punted the ball thirty yards and Hussey caught the Boston man in his tracks. In the next few rushes B. U. made first down and then tried for a field goal. The goal failed and Maine received the ball. Taylor gained eleven yards and the half ended.

In the second half Maine kicked to B. U. and Lyons carried the ball fifteen yards. In several rushes McKechie

Men's Glee Club Elects Officers for Ensuing Year

Many New Voices are Given Try-Outs. Prospects are Better Than They were Last Year

The election of officers for the Glee Clubs took place Sept. 16 and the following men were chosen to guide the Clubs in what promises to be the best season for many years. Carl Stevens '21, President and Leader; Lindsey March '21, Manager; George Renwick '23, Assistant Manager; Frank Bannister '23, Assistant Manager; and Thurlie Whitehouse, Leader of the Mandolin Club.

Last Tuesday and Thursday try-outs were held for new candidates. Over 35 men answered the call and the best of these, with the 30 men of last year's Clubs who have come back, will comprise one of the snappiest Clubs ever organized in the history of the University.

Already Manager March has plans well launched for the fall and spring tours. The unfortunate circumstances which made last spring's trip impossible can not occur again this year. There is a wealth of instrumental material yet unheard from. Novelty acts and specialty numbers are being planned for this year as never before.

Professor Sprague is concentrating all his efforts toward making this a banner year for the Clubs. Under his guidance this year's Club can rightfully take a place among the best college glee clubs in the country.

Editorial

The following item was clipped from a newspaper. What would such a bit of news in the Maine newspapers but headed Orono, Maine, do for the University? Just give it a moment's thought. It all goes to show that any of us cannot be too careful. In an accident like that it would take but one man to destroy all that belongs to the University of Maine.

Paralyzed as Result Of College Paddling

Emporia, Kans., Sept. 22.—Andy McCoy of Wichita, a freshman in the College of Emporia is paralyzed below the waist as a result of hazing by upper classmen. He was struck with a paddle.

Tomorrow, Thursday, Sept. 30, the student body will vote to accept or reject the new Constitution and By-laws of the A. A. as drawn up by the board. The new set does not differ greatly from the old but the changes are essential. One of the changes is in regard to the officers. They are now two seniors and one junior. The change allows for one senior, one junior, and one sophomore. Art. 5, sec. 1, a. has been changed from eight periods to six. This is because under the present football conditions only three or four men would be able to make their letter. For an example take the half-backs. The chances are that not one of them would play more than two periods in any game. In the three state games they could attain a total of six periods but under the old ruling none would be awarded a letter. Art. 6, sec. 3 is the last change. This does away with the one year ruling for former Maine men who have transferred back from other colleges provided they have not been candidates for any varsity team while at another college.

General Motor Has Fine Training School

As a result of the vastly increased uses and need for passenger and truck transportation, the automotive industry now ranks second largest in the world. The number of motor cars registered in this country has increased 400% since the war.

The position of the General Motors Corporation in this industry is unequalled—in fact it is the largest producer of a finished product of any kind—its sales for 1919 having totalled $509,000,000 while for the six months ending June 30, 1920 they were $320,000,000.

In this great organization, the Export Division is perhaps the youngest, but because of the strategic position of the United States with regard to foreign trade, has rapidly become one of the most important of the subsidiaries.

From a personnel of less than 200 in August 1919, it has expanded until it now employs more than 600 persons; but it is still anxious to secure men of the right calibre—mental, moral, and physical—to represent it abroad, in the branch offices which are being established throughout the world.

Realizing, however, that the number of men who possess the desired experience is relatively small, the General Motors Export Company has already organized a Training School in which it seeks to develop men who possess the potential qualities desired. Naturally the college graduate is a logical candidate. Although he has a valuable training and mental discipline, yet he is not immediately qualified to assume the responsibilities that come with representing so great an enterprise abroad. Therefore, at great expense, the Company gives each man a year's training, divided as follows:

Three months in which the student goes to School from 9 until 3 P. M. in the Company class room and has from 3 until 5 P. M. for study. During these three months he is given instruction in the principles of salesmanship, practical salesmanship, sales letter and report writing, cable messages, foreign trade, accounting, foreign languages, advertising, and office practice.

The next three months are spent in the Company offices at definitely assigned duties in the various departments; while the third quarter is spent in the Technical Shop with two hours per day instruction in the theory of internal combustion engines, and four hours daily in actual work on all the chassis made by the Corporation. Here each man gets a thorough training in the electrical starting and lighting equipment of the cars, as well as in the repair, tear-down and assembly of the various units.

The final three months are spent in the offices in New York City. During the nine months following the lecture and class room work, each man gets three hours per week of foreign language instruction.

Factory trips, lasting about three weeks, are worked in where the schedule permits; and at the end of the year each student who has been able to finish the course is given a position as a regular employee of the Export Company with a minimum salary of $150 monthly. Here he is employed until there is a vacancy abroad which he can fill. Upon foreign assignment, the minimum is $200 monthly with all legitimate expenses paid while traveling.

During the one year training period the salary is $100.00 monthly, and at present an emergency allowance of $25.00 monthly is made to help meet living expenses in New York City.

As can be seen from the foregoing schedule, a new group of 24 men enters the School every three months.

Treasurer Burke Gives Ideas On Philippines

Of these, 12 men will be trained for work as Field Sales Representatives, 6 for work as Field Technical Representatives, and 6 for work as Accountants.

With such an organization, and possessed of such training, the future is limited only by the capability of the individual himself.

Requests for application blanks or further information regarding the Training School should be sent to Mr. L. C. Wilsey, Superintendent, Training School, General Motors Export Company, 120 West 42nd Street, New York City.

Washington, September 15
"The Filipinos are capable of self-government," is the opinion of Hon. John Burke, Treasurer of the United States. Mr. Burke is the first member of the Congressional party visiting the Orient to reach Washington.

"The Americans in the Philippines are very much opposed to independence," said Mr. Burke. "They claim that the people are not yet fitted for self-government and that the rank and file of the people do not want it, that the matter is agitated by a few ambitious men who want to be President of a new Republic, and hence they desire to make a Republic of the Philippine Islands independent of any other country."

"From my limited observation, I believe that there is a strong sentiment among the people for independence, and the argument that a few ambitious men want independence so they might have a chance of being President does not appeal to me for there are men in the United States who want to be President of the United States."

"I was very agreeably surprised with the progress made in the Philippine Islands since American occupation. I visited the schools in Manila and never saw better order or more attention in any schools anywhere. The children were all clean, neatly dressed and certainly on their good behavior. Nearly all of the teachers are Filipinos teaching in the English language."

"The children seem to have a total lack of self-consciousness and were not a bit embarrassed in the presence of Congressmen and Senators from the United States. They went through their exercises, reciting and physical culture apparently oblivious to their visitors. Poise and lack of self-consciousness seem to be a trait of the Oriental and a good one for it prevents action under excitement and assures calm, deliberate judgment in governing oneself and others."

"They take great pride in their schools and have buildings beautiful in architecture and right up to the minute in sanitary conditions. They also have fine hospitals which are also thoroughly modern and sanitary."

"On account of a typhoon and heavy rains we were not able to see much of the Islands, but in Manila and that part of the Islands which we did see, the business seems to be largely in the hands of the Filipinos. You find them in all of the stores, banks and upon the farms. They are polite, courteous, generous hearted people and if the people throughout the Islands are like those whom I saw, met and conversed with, they are capable of self-government. In fact, they have a home rule at the present time under the Jones Act, but there is a strong national feeling among them and they want to be free and independent of any other country. This national spirit, like 'Banquo's ghost,' will not down but seems to be growing stronger and stronger. It is a spirit which must be recognized. To combat it will only strengthen and intensify it."

New York Memorial For Com. Service Men

Leading architects of the country will be asked to submit competitive drawings of the $3,000,000 clubhouse the Army and Navy Club of America is to build in New York in memory of the 3,500 officers who died in the war. The Memorial will be a national one, dedicated to the commissioned men in all branches of the service who made the supreme sacrifice.

Charles Dana Gibson, Edwin Howland Blashfield, Henry Bacon and Benjamin Morris with Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, president of the club form the committee appointed to select the design for the building.

Notable contributions have been made to American Art and architecture by members of the committee on design. Edwin Howland Blashfield decorated the great central dome of the Library of Congress. His war posters attracted international attention. His most recent important work was the design for the government's certificate of honor issued for every man who died or was wounded in service during the war.

The impressive Lincoln Memorial at Washington was designed by Henry Bacon. He formerly was a member of the firm of McKim, Mead & White. He is a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and the National Academy of Design.

Benjamin Morris was the architect for the Junius Spencer Morgan Memorial at Hartford, the Westchester County Court House at White Plains, and is the designer of the new Cunard Building at 25 Broadway, New York. He is president of the Society of Beaux Arts Architects.

Charles Dana Gibson is known throughout the world as an illustrator. He has a wide personal acquaintance among artists and architects. "Life" was recently purchased by Mr. Gibson and he is now its publisher.

The new clubhouse will be centrally located and will serve not only as a monument to the men who died, but also as a home for living officers, active or retired, in the army, navy or state militia. Civilians interested in the nation's defence are also eligible for associate membership.

The committee on design will decide the rules governing the competitive drawings the club will request of all the leading architects. Only tentative plans have been decided on, but interesting features of the new building are included in these.

The memorial feature will probably take the form of a central court or hall with bronze panelled walls where the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice will be engraved.

The present clubhouse at 18 Gramercy Park has long been unsuited for entertaining the hundreds of officers who annually come to New York. During the war members found it very inadequate. Naval officers of this and the other allied countries were entertained at the New York Yacht Club, but Army officers in New York during those trying days found hotels overcrowded and themselves without a home to which they could go for suitable accommodations.

Since the war the need has been even more emphasized. While enlisted men have canteens, huts and clubhouses, the officers have been without a place to go for meals, or lodgings, except the very expensive hotels. The moderate pay of our military leaders has made the cost of stopping at these hostleries almost prohibitive.

In the new clubhouse there will be at least 400 bedrooms. A large dormitory furnished with cots will also be provided for use on special occasions when the city is crowded with service men. There also will be a large assembly hall and small rooms for meetings of patriotic societies. Women friends of members, or women relatives of the deceased men will find a dining room and reception room for their exclusive use. Other features to be found in a modern clubhouse will be included in the plans.

The club recently broadened its scope so as to include in its membership all officers, ex-officers, and all commissioned men with the allied armies during the war, numbering approximately 200,000.

Among the men recently elected to life membership are: Henry P. Davison, who is chairman of the civilian committee; Vincent Astor, lieutenant in the navy during the war; Elmer A. Sperry, inventor of the gyroscope; J. P. Morgan, Arthur Curtis James, Charles H. Sabin, Brig. Gen. Guy E. Tripp, Brig. Gen. Samuel McRoberts and others of equal prominence.

Red Cross Asks For Support of Colleges

When America went into the war there was an immediate rush of college men to take their place on the firing line. By fall 150 institutions reported that 13,520 students were in the army or navy, and 1,650 had gone into non-military activities. Whereas the undergraduates for the most part went into active service, the alumni, or those of them who for one reason or another were unfitted for army or navy, went into the service of the relief organizations.

Hundreds of college men and women went into the Red Cross. In fact, this organization was largely made up of college personnel. They went into it because it was constructive, because it gave them a chance to apply practically those ideals which are the ideals of America, and which the training they have received in colleges and universities has taught them to honor and cherish.

And then the war ended. A good many people thought that the Red Cross would end too. But disease and suffering did not end with the war. Health, good citizenship are as important today as they were two years ago. And so the Red Cross work goes on. It still stands for the ideals of America—the ideals which it is the privilege and the duty of every university man and woman to further and cherish.

It is the duty and the privilege, therefore, of every college student to stand back of the Red Cross, to aid it in every way possible in its after-war campaign for a healthier and happier America. The Annual Red Cross Roll Call will be held November 11-25. Ten million Americans joined or renewed their memberships last year. The Red Cross counts on its college friends to join, again, this year.

Maine Clinches With B. U. In Zero Tie Football Game

nie got thru the B. U. line and tackled the runners in their tracks. B. U. was losing ground so punted. Small made nine yards around left end. Ginsberg who came back in the game at the beginning of the half carried the ball for first downs. Here a high pass by center resulted in a fumble recovered by Taylor of Maine. In the next play Maine punted to B. U. In several rushes Boston made first down. She was then penalized ten yards for tripping. After this B. U. punted to Maine and Ginsberg ran the ball back ten yards. The next few rushes were unsuccessful and Maine punted. B. U. then rushed the ball to the forty yard line and tried for a goal but the kick was blocked by Lord of Maine.

The fourth period began with the ball in Maine's possession. This period was only a series of rushes on both sides with Maine showing a little superiority. O'Brien showed up in fine style in both the offensive and defensive. And Finnegan also featured at end. The game ended with Maine on Boston's twenty yard line and going like a machine. If the game had lasted two minutes longer it looked as though O'Brien, who had been making the heaviest gains, would have carried the ball over for a touchdown.

Have you seen the freshman class
Aren't they spic and span?
Every little freshman lass
Every freshman man?
Never has a class before
Been so prepossessing
No wonder all the sophs are sore
It really is distressing.

Every little freshman lass
Every little freshman boy
Walks with pussfooty step
When a sophomore passes by;
And the reason is, I guess,
Childish manners they possess;
So, you sophs, in passing by—
Be kind: Our babies must not cry!

All new girls are hereby given an opportunity to enter into their college activities by working for this cause, by this means making new acquaintances and furthering their interest in the University.

Mrs. Clotier was calling upon her daughter, Lorette, on Sunday afternoon.

One of the earliest parties of the season in Balentine was a progressive supper, given Friday evening as a delightful celebration of the re-opening of the "Nutshell." "Jordan Almond" Strout and "Boobina McNutt" Murchie were the hostesses for the first course which consisted of nuts, cracked and otherwise. "Pistachio" Barstow and "Helen Lisbeth" Bragdon served the second course, soup and crackers, which was followed by salmon salad, coffee, and sandwiches in "Pecan" Chamberlain's and Betty Hunt's room. The party here progressed again to "Jordan Almond's" and "Boobina McNutt's" shell where the last course, apple pie and whipped cream was served. The party then broke up, the nut shell was properly cracked and everybody went home, sent on their way by a farewell ditty by "Jordan Almond," "Helen Lisbeth," and "Pecan" Chamberlain.

Next Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 P. M. the Y. W. C. A. will hold a tea in the reception room of Balentine Hall. The tea is to be given in honor of the new girls. All upper class girls, as well as freshmen and other new girls, are urged to be present. There will be an interesting short program. Come and get acquainted with one another and with the Y. W.
