Y.W.C.A. Rest Room Inadequate for Needs

Last year the needs of the Y.W.C.A. became so great that a rest room for the accommodation of the girls was greatly in demand. A thorough search for a suitable room was made and one on the top floor of Fernald Hall. This room was enjoyed by a large number of girls during the last year. Although one has to climb a long flight of stairs, the reward is well worth it. The girls who are in great desire to keep the room and order and it appears a very attractive and books and magazines are brought in by the girls themselves. This effort has been quite successful and the society.

W.W.C.A. has been of great benefit, to the girls who are trained. It is a place where the girls can study or hold meetings, or play games or take a little rest and the place is absolutely free.

Contributors' Club holds an annual meeting, which includes the new members, and a review of the club's work for the past year. It is at three o'clock on Monday afternoon. Attendance is free to members of the Con- tributors' Club.

Game Paradjes Offer Great Chance for Improvement

Let Everybody Show Proper Spirit and Join Parade Next Saturday

The lack of proper classmen and students in the parade from Alumni Hall to the football field has been noticeable for some time. The appearance of about 90 students held the gridiron piece and was certainly discouraging last Saturday. Think of the Alumni Hall and football field is not good enough, there is a definite spirit in the parade, yes. It behooves every student to do his part and encourage others to join the parade and make it a success.

Practise House Girls Have Hike and Feed

The P.T. girls enjoyed a hike and a big dog roast Thursday. This past four a group of about sixty girls hiked to Standpipe Hill. When the "scrapers" had been removed, the bread was toasted, and the coffee washed down with some around the fire, toasted marshmallows, and songs filled the air. The girls arrived at the time of the hike back home.
Concise Instruction Given On Use of the Library

General Reference Works and Encyclopedia

Furnish Visit Information for Reference

Would you look in an atlas to find out where Maine is? People know better than that, but some students are not familiar with these things that are in the library, where they can, in a word, walk and stand straight to the end-of-carta-

There are a few "here's" to show you how that can be done:

Don't use the catalog for a labeled book. Remember that you can answer quickly in the World Almanac, the Statistical Abstract, the Maine Register of Books, or the Library of American Students’ or New International-one, or of the directories. Facts about noted living men may be found in the Who’s Who of America, or in the English Who’s Who. Learn to know the index for these general reference sources.

Don’t look in the card catalog for a book that has been assigned to classes. If you don’t find it among the "Reserves Collection," look for the students who are using books which you can see in a very dormant stage. The student body has no spirit. The spirit is the old time spirit. We are trying to practice all the cheers so we will show them at the next game.

We have a lead of three or four hours of study over us and they do not know of the hard fighting, the results of which were decided on Monday of this vacation. The latest is the Americans, and Xel-

Get the papers at the postoffice at Alumni Hall before 10.30. The sophomores gained 20 points over the seniors in the battle of the half of the eight study to keep eligible. However, they do not have a lead of three or four hours of study over us and they do not know of the hard fighting, the results of which was held Tuesday of this vacation. The latest is the Americans, and Xel-

Make up your mind now to march with the bunch. The Skulls, Moos, and Oars will be on hand and no one will be able to get in the American, in the pink, in the purple. There will be a wait for everybody so wait now. The cheer leading will be just the same. The crowd has got to march together. They are going to be at the rally, they are going to be in the gallery, they are going to be in the chest, too.

Panhellenic Party

Is Great Success

A Panhellenic Party was given by the members of Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Phi Mu, Pi Beta Phi, and Sigma Lambda, in the college gym. The party was in charge of a country fair, with the regulation side shows, hot dogs, and peanuts.

The evening was well spent and a thrilling duel took place. There was a real feature in the game. It was a production of six students from the junior class.

There were the usual games to the party dressed in extraordinary costumes, some beautiful, some bawdy, and others horrible.

Campus Notes

Mr. James D. Decker and his wife, Mrs. Decker, are visiting the Delta Chi house last week. While there, Decker is desirous of hearing from the dance.

Jack Dempsey knows the number of tickets on the track from here to Stitler. He knows the inside, the outside, and the center.

Raymond Bash could not find the in- formation he was sent to find on a cer- tain tobacco counter.

Karen Gray, the new secretary.

The Round Table has its annual dance on Columbus Day afternoon. Many will be the songs of the people for the holiday, but this fact did not prevent a large assembly. A Paul Jones, which was given by the first part of the afternoon, made the crowd ac- tively interested. Ice cream was served and a special supply of nuts for refreshments. The dance lasted until five o’clock.

If working with the hands becomes much more exhausting you will come to regret it again.

FIELT TOWER
Most of the famous buildings of the world are equipped with Otis Elevators

The Eiffel Tower, the first of its kind; was erected on the Champ de Mars at Paris in 1887.
A metal framework of wrought iron 300 ft.
long, 19 ft. wide, and 39 ft. deep, was erected in 1886. The Eiffel Tower, which was the tallest structure in the world as of 1930, is a trifle longer, and confines your smoking to sunny days. but that is not important.

League Covenant Started
Test Card Here Quoted As Sugg-gested by Institute for Public Service

The following test is suggested by the Institute for Public Service, New York City, to be used by voters in completing the League of Nations covenant. The test is not exhaustive, but it is designed to suggest important aspects of the covenant.

1. The League of Nations aims to prevent
war. It promises disarmament.
2. It promises League force against aggression, as in Austria.
3. It contains the Hague peace procedure.
4. It will not be organized until U.S.
joins.
5. The President of the United States is a "bitter-end" opponent of the League.
6. Mexico helped draft the Covenant.
7. It is part of the Treaty of Versailles.
8. It does not mention Shanghai.
9. It guarantees to Japan its new rights to settle the problem of China.
10. It guarantees Russian Sovietlen-t against attack by another nation.
11. It permits secret treaties.
12. It would not take action to prevent war until two nations had actually made a truce.
13. It would not let Germany join until 10 years after the peace is signed.
14. It would not take action to prevent war between two nations not belonging in the League.
15. It pledges members to work for fair and humane conditions of to labor. In U.S.A. and Panama would each have one vote in the Assembly.
16. U.S.A. might be excluded from the Council by major vote of the Assembly.
17. It promises disarmament.
18. It leaves to each nation to decide to sign an agreement or not.
19. If any member violates the Covenant all other members will refuse to trade with it.

1. Never use matches to light cigar-

The Maine Campus sidelines

A couple of weeks ago, Maine tied Rhode Island and scored an important 3-3 draw. Today, Maine faces a challenge against Rhode Island in a highly competitive match.

On the field, Maine's offensive play has been well-balanced, with midfielders running up and down the field. The defense has been solid, with only a couple of goals conceded in recent matches. Rhode Island, on the other hand, has been struggling defensively, allowing multiple goals in their last few games.

In terms of personnel, Maine has a healthy lineup, with no major injuries or suspensions. Rhode Island, however, has had some players out due to injuries, which could affect their performance.

The match is scheduled to start at 3 PM, and it promises to be a hard-fought battle. Both teams are looking to solidify their positions in the league standings.

Let's go Jaguars! We expect another exciting match against a tough opponent.
