University Band to Have Concert Tour

Trip Is Planned Through Aroostook County During Easter Vacation

The University Band, at present consisting of over forty pieces, is one of the student organizations which has not been given its due credit and recognition in the past. Year in and year out our athletic contests and student chapels have benefited by the enthusiasm aroused by the delightful strains emanating from our khaki-clad musicians. Those of us who have enjoyed the glory accompanying our victorious snake-dances and impressive military parade in several cities in this state realize what a valuable asset our band has been to us. Last fall, when some of us arose early in the day so as to accompany the football team to the station to give our parting cheer, little did we attribute to the group of men who, by means of their combined efforts, produced the effect which made these marches both possible and attractive. With unfailing regularity, these men attend two rehearsals each week, under the able directorship of Mr. A. W. Sprague, leader of the Bangor Band and of the Bangor Symphony Orchestra. Whenever we hear our band in concert at chapel meetings, seldom do we stop to realize how exceptionally fortunate this student body is in having such an accomplished aggregation which it can proudly call its own. Isn't it a grand consolation to learn that our band drew the largest attendance of the year at the Lewiston City Hall last spring, when it gave its first pop concert and dance?

This year there has been added a number of new pieces, and, together with the praiseworthy leadership of "Dad" Woodman, we find our band in an even more advantageous position to add to the popularity of this University than it was in last year. A manager was elected recently, and plans are now under way for a week's concert tour thru Aroostook County during the Easter recess. The program as it is now proposed by the manager would consist of the following engagements:

March 4, Concert for the "Maine-Spring" Dance

March 5, Pop Concert and Dance Bangor City Hall. (Arrangements are also on foot for similar concerts to be given in Lewiston and Portland.)

A Pop Concert and Dance is being scheduled for the concert tour in Aroostook County during the Easter vacation:

March 29, Millinocket
March 30, Houlton
March 31, Presque Isle
April 1, Caribou
April 2, Van Buren

Students residing in any of the above places, and who could accommodate one or more bandmen overnight on the dates listed opposite their respective towns or cities, should communicate at once with the band manager, "Doc" Gaudreau. Any special information and suggestion relative to promoting the success of this tour should unhesitatingly be disclosed to the manager in order to facilitate and insure the bookings.

Athletic Equipment Must Be Returned

A final warning has been issued by Professor James Baldwin of the department of Physical Education and Athletics, that all unreturned equipment will be checked off against the men to whom it was charged. The cost of all such equipment will be put on the term bills of all those holding it.

To avoid all unnecessary work and bother, equipment that has been called for should be returned this week.

The University of Maine has always been liberal in letting out equipment and it is only right to return the articles at the proper time. Let us not abuse this liberality. Return all equipment called for, this week. If it is not returned, the term bill will be somewhat increased for the man who fails to do so.

"Don" Coady Is Very Active in Athletics

The University of Maine will lose quite a few men who have made a name for themselves, when Commencement Week is over. Among them will be Donald L. Coady of football, baseball and basketball fame, who has been elected captain of basketball.

Don Coady first became known to sport followers by his work at Patten Academy. In 1915 he entered Maine and was unfortunate enough, both the first and second years, to receive injuries of a nature to keep him from showing his ability as a football man. In his first two years he played basketball, being captain of the team in 1916. In 1917 he entered the Navy and saw two years' service. He was attending the Ensign School at Pelham Bay when the war ended. On his return to college, Don became a most important factor in the New England Championship team that Coach Baldwin developed last year. Coady starred at half-back and was considered by many to be the All-Mine right half. In the following spring, Don made his letter in baseball by his work at third base. Owing to his illness this fall, he was unable to play on the football team, needless to say, his services were sorely missed.

Besides football and baseball, Coady has always been considered one of the best forwards of the basketball men in Maine. It was no surprise to find that he was elected captain of Maine's first varsity basketball team.

Don was vice-president of his class in his freshman year and on the Rising Day committee. The third year he was on the Executive Committee. He is a member of the M Club, Senior Skulls, Junior Masks, Sophomore Owls, and the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Maine Rifle Team Shoots First Match

The University of Maine rifle team shot its first match of the season with the University of Vermont, Monday, Jan. 17. The total score for the Maine team was 1800. Vermont's score is not yet known here but it is highly probable that Maine has won the match, considering the high score which the team attained. Warrant officer J. H. Kidney acted as official judge of the shooting in Lord Hall and was absolutely impartial while in this capacity.

The Maine score follows:

H. D. Cahill	195
Capt. L. T. Merriman	191
L. W. Davee	185
C. W. Steward	180
N. S. Tozier	180

Total high five	931
S. W. Robinson	180
W. S. Hastings	179
H. S. Ladd	176
L. G. Currier	173
J. T. Skolfield	161

Total	869
Total ten men	1800

Athletic Board Defends The Football Schedule

Reply Is Made to Criticism Made by the Boston Alumni

Believing that full publicity for all its acts is due the student body the Athletic Board's position on the football schedule for 1921 is here presented in the reply of Chairman Grover to a communication from the Boston Alumni Athletic Committee.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 22nd, 1920
Chairman of the Athletic Board
Orono, Maine.

Dear Sir:-

As a committee authorized and appointed by the Executive Committee of the Boston Alumni Association to care for athletic interests of the Association and to co-operate with the active Undergraduate Athletic Association, our attention has been called by many alumni to certain athletic conditions at Orono.

#1. We have heard a great deal of adverse criticism regarding the football schedule for 1921. It is felt that the present schedule does not offer games with colleges of any prominence, nor does it include a real out of state trip.

#2. Also it is evident that Brown and New Hampshire have been dropped by us. The New Hampshire affair to the Boston Association seems to resemble the Yale-B. C. controversy and it is felt here that we cannot yet adopt Yale standards. As the Brown Game, after the difficulty with which the 1920 game was arranged it seems that everything possible should be done to re-open our athletic relations with them.

#3 Word has come to us unofficially that the Athletic Board has voted to abolish all post state series games. If this is so we feel that it is unwise and series has been the goal of all Maine a backward move. Heretofore the state teams. It is now time we believe without losing sight of these series entirely, to regard it as a preparation, for larger games.

We recommend: (1) That the present schedule be rearranged immediately to include two teams such as Amherst, Williams, Tufts, Wesleyan, Holy Cross, or what is known as second class teams. (2) That if possible and expedient, our athletic relations with New Hampshire be resumed at least until the defeat of last fall is wiped out. (3) That in arranging future schedules our aim be to include colleges of our corresponding size and ability and the state series be made a secondary object.

We trust that these recommendations will be looked upon as constructive criticisms, and are made only in a spirit of good faith and loyalty to the University. We further feel that closer co-operation between the Athletic Association and the Alumni is necessary to maintain the former standards of Maine athletics.

We request an early reply on the conditions we have enumerated, how our efforts are to be regarded by the present board, and what action is to be taken on the above recommendation.

Yours for Maine.

R. B. Colbath.
Joseph A. McCusker.
Alfred B. Lingley.

January 15, 1921.

Mr. A. B. Lingley,

Malden, Mass.

Dear Mr. Lingley:

Your communication of December 22nd addressed to me as chairman of the Athletic Board in which you refer to certain athletic conditions at Orono (Continued on Page Four)

The cost of having cuts made of all members of the Junior Class for the Prism will be $2.50. This money must be paid before Sat., Jan. 22 in order to have your picture appear in the Prism. We ask for your prompt cooperation in this matter in order that the Prism will not be held up on account of insufficient funds. The money is payable to Miss Gillespie, Tuby Tyler, Hoppy Hopkins, or Tank Graffam. Signed, Prism Board.

Lieutenant Ewing to Be Assistant Commandant

A recent addition to the department of Military Science and Tactics is Lieut. J. H. Ewing who ranks as an assistant professor and assistant commandant of the R. O. T. C. here.

Lieut. Ewing is a native of Pittsburg, Pa. He attended Pittsburg Latin High School and the University of Michigan, graduating from Michigan in 1916. In 1917 he attended the first training camp for civilians at Fort Niagara, New York and received his commission in the cavalry.

During the war he was in the 3rd Army, A. E. F. Lieut. Ewing had the distinction of being a member of the only U. S. cavalry, mounted, that saw action. He took part in the fighting in the Vesle River Section where the U. S. cavalry decisively proved their superiority against the crack German troops. After the armistice he was with the army of occupation, being stationed at Coblenz.

After his return from Germany, Lieut. Ewing became connected with the Military department at the University of Wisconsin. He was transferred to Maine the 1st of January.

Lieut. Ewing was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity at the University of Michigan.

Hockey Team Has Been Organized On the Campus

A hockey team composed of University of Maine men has been organized recently and challenges for games have been sent to colleges and athletic clubs thruout the state. The men are all experienced players and several of them have competed previously in the Boston Athletic Association games. Monty Pomeroy is manager of the team and all requests for games should be addressed to him at the Sigma Chi House.

New York alumni of Holy Cross College are putting forth a movement for the addition of five buildings on the college campus. This is the result of the overflow of incoming students each year and the consequent congestion of the dormitories.

Maine won her second home game last Friday evening by defeating Bates by the score of 30 to 24. Bates opened the game with a whirlwind start, but it was not long before Maine's forwards broke up Bates' defense, and at the end of the first half Maine was in the lead by twelve points. In the first few minutes of play Bates caged two baskets one a long shot, by Gormley, from the middle of the floor. A foul was then called on Gormley (B) and Berg failed on a free try for a basket. Rice (M) then caged one right under his basket. Spratt (B) then tossed a basket from a free try. Coady (M) dribbled the ball thru Bates' defense and shot a pretty one from a difficult position. Berg (M) followed up by tossing his first basket of the evening. Spratt (B) failed on a free try for a basket. Berg (M) on a free try, tossed the ball into the basket. On a combination Berg-Coady-Rice, Rice (M) caged a basket. Berg (M) tossed four goals from fouls called on Bates men. Moulton (B) came back and caged one for his side. Spratt (B) missed two free tries from fouls. Dresser displayed some great basketball at this point of the game when he shot three successive baskets. Spratt (M) completed a basket by a long shot from the middle of the floor. This ended the first half with Maine leading by the score of 21 to 9. This half was all Maine's after the first few minutes of play. Bates showed in flashes at times, but her defense was lacking, as well as her team work.

The second half was noticeable for the fouls that were called on both teams. Maine was the greatest offender, Spratt (B) shooting five baskets from free tries. Rice (M) shot his third basket of the evening. Berg (M) shot a goal from a free try and then Spratt (B) shot his seventh goal from the foul line. Holmes was substituted for Berg who was given a good hand upon his retirement from the game. Spratt (B) was given three more chances for baskets and caged them all, following up this work by shooting a basket from the floor. Capt. Coady (M) then came across with a pretty goal from the floor, Coady (M) was called for travelling with the ball and as a result, Spratt (B) caged another free one. Rice and Dresser then completed two well shot baskets from the floor. Taylor (M) was then substituted for Dresser (M) who was given an ovation as he left the floor. Rice (M) failed twice in free tries for baskets. Maine made several substitutions at this point of (Continued on Page Three)

The Long Promised Operetta Is Coming

The Girls' Glee Club will give its annual concert Saturday night, March 5, in Alumni Hall. The concert which is a two act operetta entitled "The Egyptian Princess," will be followed by a dance in the gymnasium. Bernice Smith designed the costumes and has charge of the scenic effects.

The Club is rehearsing three times a week at present and expects to have four rehearsals a week, after mid-years are over. The cast of characters will be announced later.

The University of Minnesota co-eds, desiring more recognition have organized an association, the slogan of which is "Put the Girls on the Campus." This organization is conducting a campaign to bring into prominence the women's activities in the university.

Editorial

As there is a large percentage of engineers in this university, the following article from the "Marquette Tribune" should be of interest to the engineers especially. Thru organization of some kind similar to this it seems to us that we could accomplish a great deal for the University and engineering department. Think it over. The article is as follows:

"Our hats off to the Engineers!
The building of a score board that the building of a score board that formed of every play when Marquette meets an opponent on the home campus is the latest, but by no means the single, instance of the Engineers' energetic school spirit.

The Engineers organize thoroughly at the beginning of each school year. They manage to get goodly numbers of their students when the team departs for an out-of-town game, and when it returns victorious, as last Sunday from the Creighton battle at Omaha.

They display the Marquette spirit of getting back of every worthy effort in the University. They believe in "whooping things up," but more than that: They believe in doing things, and they do them.

In the matter of publicity, the Engineers are unexcelled. Each section of the department has a publicity manager, who sees that Engineering news is furnished in adequate amount and in proper condition to the University newspaper. That's why the Engineers get publicity.

We do not say that the Engineers are perfect examples, but they are excellent raw material for such a beatific vision. We also know that it will be for the good of the various departments, and for the good of Marquette if the other schools model their departmental activities after the manner practiced by the co-ops."

More efficient means for handling the crowd at the basket ball games should be arranged; not only as regards the seating arrangement, but also to speed up the sale of tickets. A long waiting line may promise a good attendance but it does not add to the good humor of those waiting. As for the seating facilities, even those in the front row in the "balcony" cannot see the floor without assuming an uncomfortable position well over the rail. We realize that the "balcony" is the indoor running track and that no fixed seating plan can be made use of. But if a false floor can be laid along the straight parts of the track and so fixed that it could be swung up against the wall when not in use, or even if small bleachers, easily removed, could be built, they would seat a large part of the crowd. If, however, both plans would be too costly, merely the lowering of the rail would help a great deal.

LOOKING BACK

A YEAR AGO

The Intra-Mural Athletic Association has instituted boxing at the University. Bouts are to be held each week and medals will be awarded to the champions.

For the past week the chapel exercises have been occasions of speeches on the League of Nations by students.

The athletic association has decided to form an informal hockey team at Maine, not deeming it advisable to make hockey a major sport this year.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Professor F. J. Kueny of the French department will leave for France soon, where he intends to enlist his services in the great European struggle.

Professor J. H. Huddilston's text book on New Testament Greek has been translated into German, Spanish and Chinese.

The Maine Branch of the American Society of Electrical Engineers held their first annual banquet at the Bangor House Thursday, celebrating the remarkable growth of the Electrical Engineering department.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Maine Musical Clubs returned Saturday from their Northern Maine trip after having given successful concerts in Milo, Greenville, and Milford.

Maine won first and third places in the Boston Poultry Show, held last week, beating out Cornell and Gwolph.

The second set of interclass basketball games were played Friday evening and resulted in a 47-22 victory for the seniors over the juniors and a 23-11 win for the freshmen over the sophomores.

Lecture Program to Be Planned by Physics Club

Many will be interested to learn that a Physics Club has been formed on the campus. Plans are now under way to adopt a definite arrangement for conducting lectures pertaining to the study of physics. These lectures will not be prepared expressly for students studying physics, but will be of general interest to every one. New and interesting phases of physics, which have only recently come under observation and have not yet appeared in text books will be dealt with.

Many students have come to believe that the study of physics is very difficult and that only a brilliant student can obtain high grades in it. One of the purposes of the club is to do away with this mistaken idea and to show that physics is not confined to formulae but can be most interesting.

The forming of this club is a very commendable project and a great deal of benefit is sure to be derived from the meetings. (We wish it success.)

Dean Stevens Talks To the Physics Club

Dean James S. Stevens, head of the physics department, gave an interesting lecture Wednesday evening on the recent star measurements by Professor Michelson of Chicago. Since Dean Stevens was a graduate student under Professor Michelson, he is able to lecture authoritatively on this subject.

There are three facts about the heavenly bodies of which, if we know two we can find the third, says Dean Stevens. These are: their distance, their diameter, and the angle formed by the two lines which run from the extremities of the object to the eye of the observer.

The ordinary telescope cannot be used in measuring the fixed stars because of their great distance from the earth. The larger the telescope, the smaller they seem, because their rays disappear. Professor Michelson has been able to measure the diameter of the stars by means of "interference fringes." Although the stars have no apparent size, the light from their opposite edges produce these fringes when viewed through two slits.

The beautiful star Betelgeuse has been measured by Professor Michelson and found to be 270,000,000 miles in diameter, or about three hundred times the diameter of our sun. If Betelgeuse had been blotted out long before the Revolutionary War we would not know it today, because it takes the light two hundred years to reach the earth.

Professor Michelson has received the Nobel Prize, and many other high awards. He is looked upon today as the greatest physicist that America has ever produced. His discoveries have added vastly to our knowledge of the universe, and a list of his achievements in physics would occupy considerable space.

The campus reporter was informed that the Board had authorized a game with Stevens Tech at Hoboken, N. J. for November 12 providing satisfactory financial arrangements can be made. tion for football having defeated Columbia, New York University and many other big colleges. In 1919 the opponents of Stevens Tech scored but 5 points for the season. Not a game was lost during the season. Last year's showing was equally impressive.

The large amount of conjecture as to the authorship of "The Reply from The 'Great Unwashed'?"

That even Balentine winks at the stars?

"Andy" Atkinson's incipient moustache?

That fishy taste in the water?

That Chalmers' studio is rather over-worked lately?

That snow may come and snow may go but colds go on for ever?

That just when we are beginning to think we can make both ends meet some guy comes along and moves the ends?

That the prospect of finals is hanging over like a dark cloud?

That Prof. Pollard is being troubled?

That this year's military course brings new, pleasant (?) surprises every day?

That it is a good practice to think twice before you speak and then talk to yourself?

That the Old Town City Hall has attractions for some of the co-eds?

How dry the gym was on Friday night?

That this is the time when socks serve double purpose?

That some of the girls are learning how to shoot?

First Bo—I may be poor now, but when I was young I had me own carriage.

Second Bo—Yep, and yer maw pushed it.

—Jade (Vanderbilt).

"Good day, ma'am, I am a cast-off clothing dealer."

Prof's Wife: "Good! Have you anything to fit my husband?"

—Widow (Cornell).

Do not be just a "drifter" upon the sea of life. Set a definite port, not letting the fickle winds of ease and comfort change your course.

—The Davidsonian.

"Repeat the words the defendant used," said the lawyer.

"I'd rather not. They were not fit words to tell a gentleman."

"Then," said the attorney, "Whisper them to the judge."

Dean: "What is destiny?"

Hanson: "I can't define it, but I can give an illustration."

Dean: "The illustration is good; sit down."

"I should like to write for your paper. You want the manuscript sheets blank on one side, don't you, please?"

Editor: "On both sides, if you please."

"I thank you for the flowers," she said. And then she smiled and blushed, and dropped her head.

"I'm sorry for the words I spoke last night."

Your sending the flowers proved that you were right—

Forgive me?"

He forgave

And as they walked and talked beneath the bowers,

He wondered hooineell had sent those flowers.

Bates Defeated by a Score of 30-24

the game, Spratt (B) was given four more chances to shoot baskets from the foul line before the final whistle blew. Bates nearly tied the score at the end of this period thru the numerous fouls called on the Maine team. Bates showed a few signs of a come back by substituting fresh men.

For Maine, Dresser and Capt. Coady played a hard and consistent game thru-out the two periods. Rice played a whale of a game too. For Bates, Moulton and Spratt played a very good game. The game was attended by a large crowd mostly students. The old time cheering was in order led by Jordan and O'Reagan.

The fair sex turned out in large numbers with you to the next game which bers. Keep it up, girls, only bring the will be with Boston College February 5, at Bangor City Hall. Al Johnson's orchestra furnished the music for dancing which was enjoyed until the final strains of the last waltz were played.

Track Situation at the Other Three Colleges

As the track season draws nearer, interest in the sport is becoming greater. Some of the possibilities of the other three colleges may be mentioned.

AT BRUNSWICK

Bowdoin has started to develop a team with which it hopes to repeat previous successes in the sport. Coach Johnny McGee has some good material at the Brunswick institution for a nucleus: Parent of sprinting fame, Goodwin in the mile, Turner, and Hart.

AT WATERVILLE

Coach Mike Ryan is not making much of a noise in track work but Colby expects to put up a good showing, especially in the field events. Mercer, who was second in the half-mile last spring at the state meet, is reported to have left college. Mayo who showed up well at the cross-country meet in November, is still one of Colby's assets. Conary and Perkins are expected to add points to Colby's score at the state meet.

AT LEWISTON

Coach Johnston has a large squad out that is beginning to train for this spring's track activities. The student body at Bates is extremely confident over their track team. With the two Bukers and Kane, the sensational quarter-miler from Gouverneur, N. Y., and a new man, reputed to be faster than Wiggins, Bates has high hopes for a successful season.

Maine Man Awarded Medal

During October, at a joint meeting of the American Section of the Society of Chemical Industry and the New York Section of the Société de Chimie Industrielle, in New York, a Maine man was honored by receiving the first Graveli medal. The honor was awarded to Dr. Allen Rogers for a paper describing the results of his work on Industrial Uses for the Shark and Porpoise.

This medal was established by the Grasselli Chemical Co., in 1919, to be awarded annually for the paper presented, which should, in the opinion of the Medal Committee, offer the most useful suggestions in applied chemistry.

Dr. Rogers was born in Hampden, Me., in 1876, and graduated from the University in 1897 with the degree of B. S. in chemistry. He served as instructor at Maine for three years and received the M. S. degree. He received the Ph. D. degree at Pennsylvania in 1902. After remaining at the University of Pennsylvania for two years as instructor, he entered the employ of the Oakes Mfg. Co., Long Island City, N. Y., as research chemist and was engaged on several problems connected with the leather industry. In 1905 he joined the teaching staff of Pratt Institute as professor in charge of industrial chemistry and still holds this position. His work on the Shark and Porpoise has led to their large scale commercial utilization for making fine leathers, also oils and fertilizers.

Girl's Bible Club Elects Officers for the Year

The Girls' Rifle Club of the University of Maine is now a well established organization. The officers for the coming year are: Achsa M. Bean, Pres.; Marie Hodgdon, Vice Pres.; Helena Bissonette, Secretary; Grace Hart, Treasurer; Evelyn Thomas, Executive Officer. About fifty girls have joined the Club. They are divided into groups which meet every week for practice. The rifles used are Winchester twenty-two's. Sergeant Kidney has suggested that as the Club becomes better trained a series of inter-club meets be arranged. The girls are very enthusiastic and the new organization promises to be a success.

Y. W. C. A. Makes Drive

The Y. W. C. A. is carrying on a drive for membership this week. The cabinet members in the different houses will see that the membership cards are distributed and it is hoped that the number of members will be greatly increased by this drive. The membership fee that is paid now will make a girl a member until this same time next year. The Y. W. is doing a good work in all the colleges and it is a society with which every college girl ought to ally herself.

Maine-Spring Wants Material Next Issue

Thru the columns of the Campus, which has so effectively given publicity to "The Maine-Spring" the managing board of the latter publication wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of the December number. A considerable amount of material was rejected for one of two reasons: first because of brevity and incompleteness; and second because of local subject matter. Now is the time for the general student body to help make the next number an improvement over the first. This improvement can be made only if the response to requests for material is prompt and liberal. Let us have some short stories with real life in them, real buoyancy. Let us have genuine humor. And let us not fall below the standard set in the last number for poetry.

Material for the next issue should be in the hands of the editors by February 1st. No anonymous contributions will be printed; but the author's name will be withheld from publication if desired.

Rumor has it that next semester will see us with compulsory chapel again. So the Campus has decided to dispel all doubts. The first man approached on the matter was Mr. Gannett who said that it was news to him but that in order to get official confirmation or denial, it would be best to see President Alely. President Alely also stated that he was ignorant of any such plan and then gave the reasons for having none.

The first reason was that the Trustees had given no orders to resume it. The second was that there is not enough room to accommodate the whole student body so that quite a few would have to be excused. The difficulty of excusing those whom chapel really inconvenienced the most would present itself and no one cared for the responsibility.

The President then said that he hoped that the Campus would encourage better chapel attendance. In the past it was the only thing at which practically everybody was present. It was the one common thing of interest for all of us.

The M. C. A. is planning, next semester, to promote the movie shows given here by giving more and better pictures and also giving a dance after the show. In this way it is hoped that the spirit will remain on the campus. The remaining Lyceum courses will be given and it is hoped that the remaining ones will be patronized as well as the first ones. The M. C. A. is also trying to get some noted speaker to give an address later on in the winter. There is also a committee working on the drawing up of a new M. C. A. constitution. Next semester they have made extensive plans to have bible studies conducted perhaps by some members of the faculty.

Maine has refused to play New Hampshire State in 1921 without offering any excuse. We can not help from recalling the score 47 to 7.

ALUMNI HALL 7:00 p. m.

Saturday, January 22, 1921

Valparaiso University, Indiana, has reorganized, selected a representative board of trustees, elected a new president and is out for a million dollars endowment. This marks a new epoch in a remarkable school.

and to improve which you offer three recommendations, has been exhaustively studied by the Athletic Board both in committee and at a regular meeting in the year we play Bowdoin at Orono. Under the latter arrangement a trip or two out of the state for a big college game would result in four or five games off the campus—a condition not to be desired by the student body and surely not for the best development of the team.

#3. It is true that on November 12 after careful consideration, the Board did vote upon recommendation by the football manager himself, the abolishment of all post state series games. This decision, by the way, was rescinded at the meeting January 13 in order to arrange at least one out-of-state trip. The Board based this first decision, not on the viewpoint of many of the students and alumni with respect to the ultimate goal of our football season, but upon the attitude of the football players themselves as expressed by their action in training for the game following the Bowdoin contest. Regardless of the incentive, whether it be a trip out of state or a chance to win the New England State College championship as was the case year ago, the players have shown by their actions year in and year out that the winning of the state series culminating in the Bowdoin game was the goal of the season. Following the Bowdoin game the players have lost interest, broken training in many instances, and even missed practice. Preliminary examinations usually begin during this extra week, weather conditions are usually bad, and darkness sets in much earlier. These conditions have resulted in a natural climax to the season, namely, the Bowdoin game.

Recommendation (1). The following colleges were asked for games: Amherst Williams, Tufts, Wesleyan, Boston Univ., Yale, Brown, Columbia, New York Univ., Dartmouth, Mass. Aggies, Springfield Training School, Connecticut Aggies, University of Vermont, Middlebury, Trinity, Worcester Tech., Cornell and the U. S. Naval Academy. The majority of these colleges had no open dates other than the dates upon which our state games are scheduled. Tufts, West Point, and Columbia wanted to play Maine November 12 but the Board at that time had not voted to rescind the action already taken regarding post state series games.

Recommendation (2) The New Hampshire State schedule is complete, hence it would be impossible to arrange a game for 1921.

Recommendation (3). The Board feels with one exception that the 1921 schedule has been arranged with colleges of corresponding size and ability. The Lowell Textile team in the opinion of our football coach is sufficiently strong for the sure and steady development of the team.

The state series must be the primary object of our football teams of the present. When the average Maine team can make a showing against the bigger colleges, then the time will have arrived to look for bigger fields of athletic endeavor.

In conclusion the board has welcomed your criticism and will continue to do so, and is certainly willing to establish a closer cooperation between the management of athletics and all interested alumni. The alumni members of the board particularly desire your expression of opinion on all matters concerning athletics.

Sincerely yours,

A. L. GROVER
Chairman Athletic Board
University of Maine

Don Coady Is Very Active in Athletics

of the Campus, Captain Coady expressed some of his views on the basketball situation. He believes that varsity basketball has made a creditable showing for the first year; a good nucleus will be left for next year's team. Being a new sport, the student body in general, seems to be unaware of the fact that it is a varsity sport, but he believes that the student body will gradually become interested and give proper support to the team. Capt. Coady said in part, "I regret that the Bowdoin authorities did not see fit to make basketball a varsity sport, but I think that there is no doubt, that in time, both Colby and Bowdoin will do so. Due to the fact that the winters in Maine are long, many high schools have made basketball a major sport, the time is ripe when all the colleges in Maine should follow suit."
