The University of Maine

The University of Maine is the state's center of learning, discovery, and service to the public. As the flagship campus of the University of Maine System and the state's land-grant and sea-grant institution, the University of Maine has the unique responsibility for providing high-quality undergraduate and graduate education programs, public services, and basic and applied research.

Located in Orono, within close proximity to the ocean, lakes, and mountains, the University of Maine offers an inspiring learning environment. There is plenty of open space on its 1,200 acres, where students are offered the diversity and the challenge of a large university in an invigorating atmosphere of a small college. The campus is located 10 miles north of Bangor, Maine's third largest city.

The University's undergraduate and graduate educational offerings are built upon a liberal arts and sciences foundation complemented with profession-oriented education in a wide-range of disciplines, many of which are found nowhere else in the state. Because of their responsibility to teach, conduct research, and serve the public, faculty members are able to incorporate the new knowledge they uncover with classroom activities, often giving students hands-on experience in the research process.

The campus houses the expansive Raymond H. Fogler Library and a number of respected modern research facilities to give the student an excellent learning environment.

Student activities at the University create an important balance between the classroom experience and the personal life of the individual scholar. The 1,600-seat Maine Center for the Arts attracts some of the world's top performers to the University of Maine campus.

The University offers its students, faculty, and staff as well as the people of the community and the state an outstanding athletic tradition. Several Black Bear teams have excelled to regional and national prominence, including the Black Bear ice hockey team, the 1993 NCAA Division I national champions.

Included on Maine's athletic staff is a full-time academic coordinator responsible for closely monitoring the progress of each of the 600 varsity student-athletes. Coaches also monitor and advise their student-athletes, frequently holding meetings specifically to discuss academic situations. Study halls and special tutorial sessions are scheduled daily as a way to enhance the learning process. This support and close scrutiny has been a significant reason the overall grade point average of student-athletes has been higher than that of the general student body. The primary goal of the University and the Athletic Department is to see each individual reach his or her academic potential.

The Office of Recreation and Intramurals offers organized competition in a number of events throughout the year. Students can participate in a variety of intramural and club sports, while open facilities are available for informal play.

Maine's 19 Division I athletic teams entertain more than 100 intercollegiate events on campus each year attracting over 200,000 spectators.

The Department of Athletics contributes to the University goals of attracting motivated undergraduate and graduate students and producing graduates with the intellectual preparedness necessary for the personal and societal challenges of today and tomorrow.
DR. FREDERICK HUTCHINSON
President

By action of the University of Maine System Board of Trustees, Dr. Frederick E. Hutchinson became the 16th president of the University of Maine on April 1, 1992. A native of Atkinson, Maine, Hutchinson was born June 1, 1930. In 1952, he married Dione Williams, and they have two daughters, Juliana and Karen.

Hutchinson earned his bachelor's ('53) and master's degrees in agronomy at the University of Maine. He earned his doctorate in agronomy from Pennsylvania State University.

Hutchinson was praised by the campus community, the media and the citizens of the state for his handling of a strict budget cut in his first month on campus.

In addition, Hutchinson has given his support to the athletic program.

"I subscribe to the idea that athletics are a part of the University's image," said Hutchinson in an interview in MAINE, the publication of the University of Maine Alumni Association. "There are very good schools in the country that have built a tremendous image with athletic success.

"I'd like to see us maintain all of our sports, the major sports and the Olympic sports, because we need them both. What is important to me is to decide at what level we are going to compete and be sure that we are putting our athletes on the playing field with an equal chance."

Prior to returning to the University of Maine, Hutchinson was vice president for academic affairs and provost of The Ohio State University. He joined the faculty there in 1985 as director of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center. In 1986, he was named vice president for agricultural administration and dean of the College of Agriculture and later became acting provost on July 1, 1989. On Dec. 1, 1989, Hutchinson was permanently appointed to that position. In addition, he was named senior vice president for academic affairs and provost on Nov. 2, 1990.

As Ohio State's chief academic officer, Hutchinson was responsible for the academic environment on campus. Among the areas reporting to him were all instructional programs, the library system, the Office of Student Affairs, the Office of Minority Affairs, Continuing Education, the Biotechnology Center, the Graduate School, the Honors Center, ROTC, the Sea-Grant College, the SuperComputer Center, the University Press, and the Wexner Center for the Visual Arts.

The office also oversaw the promotion and tenure process for members of the faculty and initiated a revision to the undergraduate curriculum. Academic affairs also worked with various offices and groups on campus to develop an action plan for the recruitment and retention of black students and a Hispanic action plan.

Before joining Ohio State, Hutchinson was executive director of the Board of International Food and Agricultural Development of the United States Agency for International Development. Earlier, he was a faculty member and vice president for research and public services at UMaine.

Hutchinson joined the faculty at UMaine in 1957. He held the positions of chairman of the Department of Plant and Soil Sciences from 1971-72; dean of the College of Life Sciences and Agriculture and director of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station from 1972-75; vice president for research and public services from 1975-80; and acting vice president for academic affairs from 1980-81. He returned to his post as vice president for research and public services from 1981-82, before taking the federal post.

Hutchinson has authored numerous journal articles, technical bulletins, and research articles. In addition, he has presented invitational papers at numerous scientific and professional meetings and has participated in several international programs.

Hutchinson is recognized as a leader among agricultural administrators and was instrumental in building the research program at UMaine. He has a positive impact on the significant increase in federal, state and private grant support for research at UMaine.

He has served as chairman of the Maine Food and Farm Land Study Commission, the Committee on Erosion and Sediment Control, and the Advisory Committee on the Selection of Coastal Natural Areas. In addition, he served as a member of the Governor's State Energy Resources Advisory Board, the Governor's Committee on Coastal Development Conservation, and the Governor's Land and Water Resources Council.

He has also held the positions of administrative advisor to four regional and inter-regional agricultural experiment station projects; chairman of the Northeast Association of Agricultural Experiment Station Directors and the Joint Committee under the Board of International Food and Agricultural Development.

From 1986-89, he was on the Board of Directors of Agriculture for the National Association of State University and Land-Grant Colleges. In 1987, he chaired a panel of the National Academy of Sciences Board on Agriculture before accepting a one-year term as president of the Agricultural Research Institute in Washington, D.C.

Currently, he is a member of the Board of Directors for the International Center for Tropical Agriculture in Colombia.
WALTER ABBOTT
Interim Director of Athletics

Walter H. Abbott, 57, a faculty member, physical education leader, and former coach at the University of Maine, was named acting director of athletics by UMaine President Frederick E. Hutchinson on April 8.

Abbott will serve as acting director of athletics while a national search is conducted to find a replacement for Michael A. Floszek, who stepped down as director on April 15.

Hutchinson cited Abbott’s service and commitment to UMaine as factors in his appointment.

“I talked with and heard from several people about possible candidates for acting director of athletics,” said Hutchinson upon Abbott’s hiring. “Walt Abbott consistently came up as someone with the experience, competency, and respect needed to do the job. His familiarity with the University and his background as a coach, administrator, and faculty member greatly benefit the department I have asked him to lead.”

Abbott’s charge from Hutchinson included three areas of concern: compliance-related matters including office operation and support provided to students and coaches; administrative policies and procedures to ensure the appropriate and professional operation of all administrative and programmatic elements of the department; and communication both within the department and with other offices and individuals outside the department.

Abbott was willing to accept the leadership role because of his strong belief in the University as a quality institution, rich in academic and athletic tradition, his respect for the coaches and student-athletes, and his belief that quality athletic and recreation programs are a vital part of the educational experiences.

Abbott also served as interim director of athletics in the summer of 1991 when former athletics director Kevin M. White took a similar position at Tulane University.

At that time, Abbott oversaw two major, privately funded athletic development projects. The $400,000 Clarence Beckett Family Track and Field Center and the $3.9 million Alfond Sports Arena expansion projects made significant gains under Abbott’s watch.

An associate professor of physical education in the College of Education, Abbott is a specialist in the areas of the coaching profession, physical fitness, outdoor leadership, and safety and rescue. He is actively involved statewide at the high-school level, where his outreach work has established strong partnerships for the University through training sessions and clinics for students, coaches, and athletic directors. His teaching focuses on coaching principles and analysis and athletics management.

Abbott has also served as a color commentator for both the Black Bear television and radio networks.

The Rumford, Maine native received bachelor’s (’58) and master’s (’65) degrees from UMaine and started his career at his alma mater in 1960 as an instructor in physical education and assistant football coach. He served as head football coach from 1967 through 1975.

Abbott and his wife, Carol, have three children, Steven, Scott, and Sherry, a senior at UMaine. The Abbotts reside in Orono.
Academic Support Services

The University of Maine believes its student-athletes are students first, and therefore should be supported in all academic endeavors. That is why one of the most progressive academic support services programs in the East has been established.

The staff of the academic support services includes an assistant athletic director for academic services, the learning center coordinator, the office administrative assistant, and a graduate assistant.

The program includes academic counseling as well as monitoring progress toward a degree. In addition, the program offers a supervised learning center, a computer cluster, and a comprehensive plan designed to facilitate the development of learning skills.

Philosophy

The Office of Academic Support Services is committed to assisting student-athletes achieve the best possible academic and personal adjustment to UMaine, and is designed to enhance the overall experience of student-athletes in this setting.

The primary goals include supporting the efforts of every student-athlete to earn a degree; providing assistance for the student-athlete in the development of a system of values which include the qualities of leadership and personal responsibility; enhancing the interpersonal relationship and communication skills of each student-athlete; facilitating the fulfillment of career and life goals of each student-athlete; and safeguarding the academic integrity of the University of Maine by insuring compliance with all rules of the University and the NCAA.

Among the special programs provided by academic support services are the following:

- Sam Sezak Computer Cluster
  This cluster, located in the Memorial Gymnasium, is a quiet study space used by student-athletes during free time between classes or before or after practices. The cluster may also be used while fulfilling a learning center commitment.

  The cluster houses seven Macintosh computers and a laser printer. Staff members are available to assist student-athletes with general computer questions.

- Learning Centers
  Academic support services monitors a quiet study space during daytime hours in the Sam Sezak Computer Cluster. In addition, learning centers are conducted evenings at two dining halls on campus. All first-year student-athletes, and other student-athletes identified by coaches in cooperation with academic support services, attend the learning centers for two hours a night, four nights a week.

- Math/Science Tutor Consultants
  Academic support services provides a math and science tutor consultant two nights a week at one of the learning center locations.

- F.A.S.T. Mentor Program
  Academic support services provides support for many incoming student-athletes through the For Athletes in Scholastic Training program. Academic mentors meet twice per week with identified student-athletes to discuss skills and strategies which will support efforts toward academic success. The academic mentors assist student-athletes in developing the academic skills, including time management and study tips, needed to succeed in college.

- Student/Life Skills Development
  Nine one-hour workshops have been designed for first-year student-athletes. The topics discussed at these workshops range from study skills to athletes for sexual responsibility, to a program featuring upperclass student-athletes relating their first-year experiences.

- Individual Meetings
  The staff of academic support services is available to meet and assist any student-athlete with issues related to his or her academic, athletic, or personal development.

- Scholar-Athlete Awards
  Each February, the Department of Athletics recognizes those student-athletes who have earned a 3.0 or better grade point average for each of the previous spring/fall semesters or who have maintained a 3.0 accumulative g.p.a.

  The scholar-athletes are honored at a halftime ceremony at a UMaine basketball game. The award is a medallion, the color of which symbolizes the number of years a recipient has been honored.

First-year student Andre Pam earns the New England outdoor championship in the 100 meters, while junior Kim Doucette reestablishes her school mark in the 100. Andrew Oliver finishes fourth in the javelin at the Junior Nationals.

In addition to being the North Atlantic Conference's Co-player and Co-pitcher of the Year, Deb Smith, who led the softball team to UMaine's first ever NCAA Tournament appearance by a women's sport, was an Academic All-America choice.

Rudy Keeling was chosen North Atlantic Conference Coach of the Year after guiding UMaine to a school-record 20 wins and an appearance in the NAC title game.
1993–94 Athletic Highlights at UMaine

Chris Collins was recognized by Black Issues in Higher Education as a third-team selection to the Grades and Glory team.

Janet Anderson's softball team became the first UMaine women's team to compete in an NCAA tournament.

Chris Imes, who will captain UMaine this season, was one of seven former Black Bear ice hockey players to compete at the 1994 Winter Olympic Games.

John Winkin recorded his 600th win at UMaine.

Rita Sullivan: Academic All-America
Nicole Kimball: Academic All-America
Ross Fichthorn: Academic All-America

Steph Guidi, an All-NAC choice, led UMaine to the regular season title.
MEET THE BLACK BEAR COACHING STAFF

ANDERSON’S CAPSULE

- Led UMaine to the 1994 NCAA tournament - the first such appearance by a UMaine women’s team.
- Named NAC Coach of the Year in 1993.
- Coached the 1994 New England Intercollegiate Softball Coaches Association (NEISCA) All-Star game.
- Has compiled a 281-271 record over 16 years of coaching at UMaine.
- Inducted into the Converse New Agenda Northeast Women’s Hall of Fame.
- A 1962 graduate of Wayne State College and earned her master’s degree at UMaine in 1968.

Janet Anderson enters her 17th season as the head coach of the Black Bear softball program. Anderson has posted a career record of 281-271, including two Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference titles (1985, 1987) and a North Atlantic Conference title in 1994. She also led the Black Bears to their first bid into the NCAA tournament in 1994. Anderson was named the NAC Coach of the Year in 1993. In addition, she was inducted into the Converse New Agenda Northeast Women’s Hall of Fame for her outstanding accomplishments in, and contributions to the development of women’s athletics.

The veteran coach has inspired tremendous growth in the softball program at UMaine, particularly over the last several years. In 1984, Anderson instituted a two-week spring trip to Florida which has continued since that time. During this southern trip, UMaine faces some of the finest teams in the country to prepare the Black Bears for their tough New England schedule.

Anderson, who earned a bachelor’s degree in education in 1962 from Wayne State College in Wayne, Neb., and a master’s degree in education in 1968 from UMaine, was also the head volleyball coach at Maine for nine years until the program was dissolved. At that position, she recorded a career record of 218-59.

In addition to her coaching responsibilities, Anderson teaches volleyball skill and softball coaching classes at the University of Maine. She resides in Bradley.

JANET ANDERSON
Head Coach

DEB SMITH
Assistant Coach

Smith is entering her first season as a restricted earnings coach for the Black Bears following a stellar career at UMaine. Smith is a 1994 graduate of the University of Maine where she earned her degree in physical education/sports medicine. She is currently in graduate school preparing to take her ATC test for trainer certification.

Smith was a pitcher for the Black Bears from 1991-94 and holds many of the school’s pitching records. During her four years at UMaine, she captured numerous regional and conference awards. She was an All-NAC selection in 1992-94, the NAC tournament MVP in 1993-94, and the NAC co-Player of the Year and co-Pitcher of the Year in 1994. Smith’s 19-8 record in 1994 led the Black Bears to their first NCAA tournament appearance.

Smith excelled in the classroom as well being named a three-year UMaine scholar-athlete, a 1991-94 NAC scholar-athlete, and a 1994 GTE CoSIDA Academic All-American. She was also the recipient of the “M” Club’s Dean Smith Award which is awarded to the University’s top female student-athlete.

Smith’s responsibilities will revolve around the coaching of pitchers and catchers as well as general duties including recruiting, game preparation and base coaching.

“The chemistry between our first-year players and our returning players is fantastic. Everyone is focused on the ’95 season and defending our NAC championship.”

-- Head Coach Janet Anderson
The 1995 Season Outlook

The University of Maine softball team, coming off the best season in the program's history, has high expectations for the 1995 season.

The Black Bears look to build on last year's success and mix in a batch of talented incoming first-year players for a solid 1995 campaign. UMaine's goal this season is to defend its number one spot in the North Atlantic Conference and capture a second league championship.

This year's squad will be led by co-captains Kris Gorman and Cindy Harrington. Gorman, a senior shortstop, was a NAC All-Conference first-team selection last year while Harrington, a senior pitcher, garnered second-team honors.

The Pitchers:
The Black Bears enter this year without the services of, arguably, one of the best pitchers in UMaine history. 1994 North Atlantic Conference MVP Deb Smith is serving the Black Bears in a different capacity this season as she has taken over the assistant coach's role.

With the absence of Smith, UMaine will look to the arm of Harrington even more this year. She was 11-7 with a 3.26 ERA in 107 innings last season striking out 34 while giving up 28 walks.

Sophomores Kelly Harrington, Sam Hodson and Mary Persson will be called upon to provide solid contributions. Harrington will serve a dual role this season as she will see playing time at both ends of the battery, having caught last season. Persson and Hodson look to improve on their limited playing time last season. They will provide added depth and could be found in vital roles as they continue to improve.

The Catchers:
All-Conference selection Kelly Dow will again be making the calls from behind the plate for UMaine. The Black Bears look for Dow, a junior, to continue her solid play of the past two seasons. She hit .263 last season along with holding a .970 fielding percentage. Her fielding percentage was the second highest on the team while making 173 putouts.

Harrington will be the backup as well as contributing from the mound. She made an appearance in 16 games in her first year making 19 putouts.

The Infield:
The Black Bears will have a mixture of experience and youth around the infield this season. Returning are senior co-captain Kris Gorman at shortstop and sophomore Shelly Lefevre at first base.

Gorman brings three years of experience with her as she has started since her freshman year having played in 119 games. She has a career batting average of .316 and has been an all-conference selection for two years.

Gorman hit .301 last season knocking in a team high 30 runs. On the defensive end, she maintained a .905 fielding percentage.

Lefevre, beginning her second season at first base, is coming off of a spectacular rookie year. She holds the highest batting average of all returning players as she hit .324 last year. She made 337 putouts giving her an impressive .967 fielding percentage.

Lefevre was also an All-North Atlantic Conference selection and voted UMaine's Rookie of the Year.

Gone from last year's infield are second baseman Angel Gamache and third baseman Kristen Steele. Both Gamache and Steele earned all-conference honors over their four years at UMaine. The Black Bears will look to their youth and could possibly switch some players around to fill the gaps left by graduation. Newcomers Melissa Creegan, Kathryn Murphy, Michelle Puls and Mary Wells will challenge the upperclassmen for playing time at these positions.

The Outfield:
The Black Bears return two of their three starting outfielders as All-Conference selection Lisa Swain is the lone departure for UMaine.

Sophomores Nicole Bourget and Katie Gamache bring experience, quickness and solid play back to center and left field respectively. Bourget played in 38 games last season while Gamache saw action in 35 games.

Senior Sandy Smith also saw quite a bit of action last year playing in 28 games. Her speed and solid glove provide UMaine with a consistent performer and should give Smith increased playing time this season. Junior Nancy Deshane will vie for playing time as well.

As in the infield, Coach Anderson may call on some of the first-year players to contribute immediately in these outfield positions.

Senior co-captain Kris Gorman will look to lead the Black Bears to another North Atlantic Conference title.

1994—a History Making Season

The 1994 UMaine softball team etched its name in the history books as it became the first UMaine women’s team to make an NCAA tournament appearance.

UMaine began this memorable season with a successful 13-9 southern trip to Ocoee, Fla. where the Black Bears gained valuable experience for their conference schedule.

The squad opened up its conference schedule by splitting with NAC rival Boston University. The Black Bears won the first of the doubleheader, 3-0, behind a brilliant pitching performance by Deb Smith. Smith scattered five hits over seven innings with four strikeouts. UMaine dropped the second game of the twin-bill with the Terriers, 4-2.

Coach Anderson and her team built on the B.U. victory as they went undefeated throughout the rest of the regular season NAC games. UMaine swept their road games against Hartford, 3-2 and 5-3, and Vermont, 6-3 and 8-5, and then became regular season champs with two wins against Drexel at home, 5-0 and 7-3. UMaine finished the NAC regular season with a 7-1 record.

UMaine continued its dream season by winning its first ever North Atlantic Conference Championship. Coach Anderson’s squad needed to beat archival and two-time NAC champ Boston University twice to emerge as the top team in the conference. UMaine picked up a 3-2 win in the first game with two runs in the top of the seventh inning. In game two, the Black Bears tallied a run in the second and third innings and picked up a 2-0 shutout victory. The NAC Championship wins put the Black Bears record at 30-15, setting a school record for most wins in a season.

Deb Smith was named Most Valuable Player of the Tournament with a 3-1-1 performance from the mound and a five for 16 outing at the plate with two RBI and two runs scored. Smith was joined on the all-tournament team by senior second baseman Angel Gamache and shortstop Kris Gorman. Gamache went 3-9 at the plate with two crucial RBI in the championship round. Gorman, who scored the championship winning run, recorded three RBI and four runs scored off of three hits.

With the NAC championship under their belt, the Black Bears headed to an NCAA play-in series against North-east Conference champion, Robert Morris. The winner of the play-in series would receive an automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament. It was the Black Bears who were victorious, defeating the Colonials in the best-of-three series with back-to-back 2-1 victories.

When the tournament pairings were announced, it was UMaine opposing Cal-State Northridge in the double-elimination regional held at Cal-State Northridge in Northridge, California. The Matadors of Cal-State showed why they were ranked third nationally as they beat the Black Bears 8-0 in five innings due to the 8-run rule.

Coach Anderson’s squad was then put in a do-or-die situation in the double elimination tournament as it faced the University of Washington. The Huskies, who were ranked 10th nationally, put on a display of power as they went on to a 10-0 victory which ended UMaine’s most memorable season. The Black Bears finished with a 32-17 record.

Six UMaine players were named to the NAC All-Conference teams. Smith took both Co-Player and Co-Pitcher of the Year honors. Junior shortstop Kris Gorman and senior outfielder Lisa Swain were also selected to the first team while junior pitcher Cindy Harrington, freshman first baseman Shelly LeFevre and sophomore catcher Kelly Dow were second team selections.

1994 Milestones

• First NCAA Tournament appearance by any UMaine women’s program.
• Won first-ever North Atlantic Conference Championship.
• Set school record for most wins in a season with 32.
• Six players named to the NAC All-Conference teams and three named to NAC All-Tournament team.
• Senior Co-Captain Deb Smith was named to the GTE-CoSIDA Academic All-America Softball Team.
• Eleven individual records and three team records were broken.

The Black Bears stuck together through the 1994 season to become the first women's team in UMaine history to make an NCAA tournament appearance.
