Maine Baseball Team Makes Strenuous Trip

The Maine Players Meet Defeat At Hands of Able Teams on Hard Mass. Trip.

The University of Maine Baseball Team left Monday on its Massachusetts trip, to compete with Brown, Harvard, Boston College, Norwich, Dartmouth, and the University of Vermont.

This is the first chance the Maine team has had for a real tryout. Considering the strenuousness of the trip, and the ability of the opposing teams, the showing made by the Blue team has been remarkably good.

THE BROWN GAME.

Brown defeated the University of Maine 4-1, on Tuesday, at Andrews Field, Providence. The feature of the game was the ability of Eteson, the Brown pitcher, to hold Maine to a no-hit game. Repscha pitched a good game for the Blue, holding the Brown team to only six hits. Maine's only score came about when Eteson advanced Sargent to just on balls. A slow roller by Osgood, coupled with a muff by Eteson, then enabled Sargent to reach third, and an easy hit by Repscha gave him the chance to score.

THE HARVARD GAME.

Harvard defeated Maine at Cambridge, 3-0, Wednesday. The only runs were made in the second inning. After that the Blue tightened up, and no one on either side got beyond second base during the rest of the game.

Robert Shugree pitched for Harvard, and Jack Jowett for Maine. Halloch, the Crimson outfielder, was the star of the game, when with one man on base, he sent the ball sailing for a home run, and later gained a two-base hit.

Considering the prestige Harvard holds in athletics, and the 20-0 trimming she gave Colby, Maine did exceedingly well to hold her to three scores.

BOSTON COLLEGE GAME.

The strong Boston College team succeeded in giving Maine its third defeat by the small score of 5-3, in a hard

Domino Made Its Debut By Presenting Two Plays

The Domino made their first appearance this year at Alumni Hall, Saturday April 29, when they presented "The Play Goers" and "The Will-o-the-Wisp." The Play Goers included an interesting account of the troubles that often arise among household servants. Miss Hinchings took the part of the Master and by her manly strides and deep voice filled her role as an ideal husband. The part of the Mistress was filled by Miss Ramsdell who tried to the best of

Maine Places Third In the Mile Relay

Maine Well Represented At Penn. Relays.
Dual Meet With Holy Cross Coming Saturday.

Maine relay team placed sixth in the college sprint medley championship of America at the Penn relay races on Friday. Blair was lead off man running the quarter mile, followed by Thomas and Lawrence doing 220yds. and Kneeland finishing with the half mile. Thru the remarkable running of Harry Brown Penn's half miler, the red and blue colors were the first to breast the tape fully nine yards ahead of Syracuse. The time was 3 minutes 33 1/2 seconds.

Saturday afternoon in a mile relay each man running a quarter mile, Maine placed third out of a field of seven colleges. Colgate and Brown barely nosed us out at the finish, time being 3.27 1/2. The men ran in the following order Blair, Kneeland, O'Connor, and Lawrence.

The State of Maine was well represented at the Carnival, Le Gendre of Georgetown, a Lewiston boy, again won the Pentathlon, Bates relay team their event, Colby placed third in the same event and Masters of Georgetown, a deering boy, placed well in his events.

One noticeable thing of all the events was the clean sportsmanship displayed not only on the field but in the Gym and on the grounds.

Saturday May 6 our track squad meets Holy Cross on Alumni field for a dual meet. Coach Flack is grooming his men for their special events this week and some good performances should be seen Saturday.

Extensive Plans Made For the Maine Pageant

The pageant which is to be presented June 3, at 4 P. M. is the first affair of its kind which has ever been given here. Its purpose is to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the first graduating class and the 25th anniversary of the changing of the name of the college.

There will be about 250 participants in this pageant and they will feature many scenes such as, the arrival of Dr. and Mrs. Fernald on the old railway coach, arrival of first students and first co-ed, first commencement, acquirement of Bolivar and the part that Maine played in the World War.

The Balentine Hall girls have been rehearsing several weeks for the dances which will be given to show the changing of the name of the college and other events. Elaborate costumes will be worn in these dances. The picked platoon which features at encampment this week has been asked to take part in the R. O. T. C. scene and drill.

A series of special articles are being arranged, which will be placed in the campus each week. A special bulletin board is to be placed in Alumni Hall, near the post office, on which all information concerning the pageant and rehearsals, will be placed.

A dozen or more committees, composed of Alumni, faculty members and Already the Fraternities have been chosen, which will present the special scenes, and these will be announced next week.

"Pep" Towner and Mrs. Jones, directors of pageant, are putting in some very hard work on this pageant and its Boost this affair and show the alumni, up to the students to do their part, who are supporting it financially, that the old Maine spirit is still here!

The dinner was followed by the dance which was attended by about twenty-eight couples. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Estabrooke. Music was furnished by "Cy" Dobbins orchestra from the S. A. E.

THE MAINE PAGEANT.

Of course there will be the usual business of graduation, Phi Kappa Phi initiation and banquet, meetings of various councils, Maine-Colby baseball game, and various other commencement exercises; but the feature of the entire program will be the Maine Pageant. Anyone who witnesses this pageant will need no histories to know the story of Maine. Two hundred and fifty participating

Our Compliments

April 27 marked the close of the most successful year in the history of the Maine Campus. During the year several new features have been inaugurated: Six page issues have been put out every other week; the first Scampus has been published; two dances have been run by the board. Entrance into these new fields of activity have placed the paper on a par with some of the best publications in the country of its class. Upon reviving these facts we wish to compliment the out going editorial board and assume our duties with the hope that the ground that they have won may never be lost.

Turn that spirit of spring into channels that will most help your alma mater. Work for her as you would for any bountiful mother.

Get out there and encourage those track men when they are running trials.

Our New Policy

We believe with the coming of a new regime, it is customary to announce a new policy. In our case, however, we find it to be a continuation of the old rather than the inauguration of a new policy. We are not following in the footsteps of our immediate predecessors merely because we grew up under their tutelage but because we realize that the existing policy is the one most logically suited to our paper and the conditions under which it is published.

In our editorials we shall endeavor to continue to maintain an attitude of non-partisanship, taking sides only on occasions where we are judging between right and wrong, not for political reasons. It shall be our aim to throw light on all great campus questions and to unearth the truth. In so far as possible we shall give praise when it is due and censure when it is necessary.

The policy of the paper in general will be to follow out conversation of make-up and to avoid all undue sensationalism. It goes without saying that we intend to do our level best to put out the best possible paper and to profit by the good work of those that have gone before us.

You have all heard the extensive plans laid out for our big fiftieth anniversary pageant as set forth in a recent address by Mr. Jones in chapel. Now, it is up to you to come through and make these wonderful plans into a reality. The cause is a good one, to appropriately commemorate our fifty years of eventful existence and many helping hands are required to put the thing across. You are needed for many things. Show your spirit by freely contributing your time and talents when they are asked for. Do not hesitate to take part in the festivities and above all be there with the helping push when preparations are under way.

Make plans now for the state track meet. You will want to be there and help Maine take first place.

BASEBALL

Are we going after that state championship in Baseball? The team is away on a hard trip now and is showing up in a way that makes us justly proud of it. Our players are playing a brand of ball that should make us look forward to the state series with optimism and a determination to win. We do not mean to preach over confidence, far from it, but we have a good fighting team and now is the time to thaw the old spirit out and plan to make that team win. When the boys come back welcome them with real enthusiasm and do not let your interest lag until the end of the season. Make up your mind ahead of time that you intend to support your baseball team and support it to the finish.

Hit those studies hard now and end the year right.

Alpha Zeta Fraternity Announces Seven Pledges

By C. L. Eastman

The Fraternity of Alpha Zeta, the national honorary agricultural fraternity, was founded in 1898, by Charles Cunningham of Ohio State College, at Townshend, Ohio. At the time of the beginning of the organization and previous to it, this man and his roommate at college were doing a great deal of thinking about the cause of agriculture. They were not at Ohio State to pass away the time or to prepare for any job that might turn up when they graduated. They were enthusiasts for agriculture through and through and were determined to do their bit to advance science. In those days the "Hecks" were not held in equal esteem with the other colleges of the University but were considered rather as "Hicks". These two men often discussed this matter until late at night trying to plan some way to raise the standard of the "agg" college and to show the non-believers the error of their ways.

They finally decided that the students in the college of agriculture should form an organization composed of the best men in college in respect to leadership, character, scholarship, and general ability as shown by their activities in college affairs. They selected such men as they thought would best serve the interests of the fraternity and the order was founded. At the present time there are thirty-one chapters. A national convocation is held each two years, the last being at Minneapolis, Minnesota, October 10, 11, and 12, 1921, at which the Maine chapter was represented by an active delegate from the chapter. The Maine chapter was established in 1905 and we are proud to have some of the charter members with us on the campus at the present time.

Although the fraternity is generally thought of as purely honorary, it was founded on the noblest ideal of all—SERVICE. Service to agriculture in its entirety; to the Nation, the State, the University, the College of Agriculture, and to the man himself. We realize that scholarship comes first but that a man is not much use to humanity if he is merely a bookworm. Therefore we lay great stress on character, leadership, and participation in general University activities. Not only do we select men on these qualifications, but we try to strengthen the principles in the whole college, and among the members of the fraternity. Any man known to be a course cribber is ineligible, and any member known to be cribbing must be expelled from the order. Our efforts are directed toward the encouragement and support of these ideals among all the students of agriculture and the advancement of agriculture in general.

Scandal Dance Proves An Immense Success

The Maine Campus Board made its first appearance in the social world by giving the Scandal Dance, Friday, April 28. The curiosity of everyone had been aroused at this novel idea and a large number attended.

The Gym was decorated in a very unique way in yellow and white. In the center of the ball was a large May Pole from which streamers of the two colors reached to the sides of the ball. Around the balcony copies of the Campus were placed at little distances apart. There were also a few posters showing the merits of the Scandal Sheet.

The Scandal Sheet, called The Maine Scampus, proved to be a great success and at intermission, when Patten and his force appeared everyone was anxious to get his copy. Everyone read diligently during the time in order not to miss any good material.

Music for an order of fourteen dances was furnished by six pieces of Valles orchestra.

The chaperones were: Mrs. Hendrickson, Mrs. Estabrook, Mrs. Stuart and Mr. and Mrs. Cummings.

ZETA PI INFORMAL

An informal party was held at the Niben Club at Pushaw Lake by the Zeta Pi fraternity last Saturday afternoon present, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Kidney. Everyone reported a pleasant and jolly time.

Dr. Ashley Smith Speaks Before Chapel Audience

"It is a necessity for a man first of all to believe in living if he is to have any belief in immortality, for we are living the immortal life just as much to-day as we will in the future," said Doctor Ashley Smith of Bangor in a short talk in chapel last Thursday. "And if we but remember that phrase of the Lord's Prayer 'Thy will be done on earth as it is done in Heaven,' and try to do the will of God, this old world with all its burdens, cares, treacheries and miseries will come immeasurably nearer the Kingdom of God."

Back in the old Lyceum days a lecturer was traveling in the West, and after delivering a lecture one evening he returned to the Frontier Hotel where he found the usual group of men seated about the stove arguing. He listened for a while as he was rather reticent but when he heard the remark that religion was nothing but an invention of priests and clergy, he arose and said, "If religion is an invention of priests and clergy, is not hunger an invention of my butcher and baker?"

Again a very noble clergyman of the Roman Church, Cardinal Newman, who wrote that beautiful hymn "Lead Kindly Light", was challenged through the public press to debate the question concerning the reality of life. To which the Cardinal replied, "I will accept your judgement on one condition—You may have all the time you desire to speak on the subject while I will simply play a sonata on my violin." It does not need a speaker, however eloquent, to express the reality of life. Every time there is a yearning for a nobler womanhood or manhood, it is the reality of life speaking to you. Even an orchestra or piano can express this great fact, the reality of life.

Next to his own Alma Mater Dr. Smith holds the University of Maine in the very highest light of his affections as he has always lived in Maine. In years back the University suffered under the title of the "Cow College" and was looked down upon when it entered into athletic contests with Bates and Bowdoin. But this was all changed when a few years ago the University of Maine was considered athletically speaking, out and above the class of Maine colleges, and really in an altogether higher class.

Reed Appointed Agent For Washington County

Donald W. Reed of the senior class is going directly from the campus into strenuous agricultural service as county agent in Washington county. He recently visited Machias, on invitation of the officers of the Farm Bureau of that county. They wished to interview him and size him up as to his fitness for the place about to be vacated by Bertram Tomlinson, who is to be county agent in Essex county, Mass. So pleased were they with Reed that they unanimously voted to recommend his appointment. This recommendation was approved by Dr. Leon S. Merrill, dean of the College of Agriculture and director of the extension service, and it was forwarded to Washington for endorsement of the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is expected that Reed will begin his duties May 1, with headquarters at Machias, and that he will return to the campus for commencement week.

Kruger '16 Will Address Menorah Assoc. May 7

The University of Maine Menorah Association has been fortunate in getting Mr. Lewis H. Kruger to address the members at the next meeting which is to be held on Sunday May 7 at 2.30 P. M. in No. 1 Library.

Mr. Kruger is a member of the class of '16 and is very active in alumni affairs. At the present time he is an instructor in the Agricultural Department of Fort Fairfield High School, and is also the athletic coach for the school.

University of Ohio—A modern two story journalism building will be erected at the University of Ohio in the near future, in accordance with the building plans of the school. The first floor will be for printing and binding plants, while the editorial staff of the campus publications and the journalism classes will be accommodated on the second floor.

Mrs. Huddilston Speaks Before Chapel Audience

Mrs. Huddilston, President of the Maine Federated Women's Clubs, and a well known woman in educational circles, read an interesting paper on Women and their Progress in Education and Politics, in chapel Monday. Mrs. Huddilston is candidate for Maine State Senator.

A cause for trouble arose when women demanded an education an equal basis with the advantages offered to the men of this country. Of course the men were scandalized; women had no need of any education, the Lord never intended that they should be educated, and nothing was so horrible as an educated woman.

As a logical and natural sequel to women's education came women suffrage calling forth the same old argument from the men that for women to vote would be displeasing to the Lord. But when did the men have secret conversations with the Lord to find out whether or not women were displeasing to him in asking an equal footing with them? And why should not women who have just as clever brains as men, share in a government which is of the people, by the people, and for the people?

In the West, already women have taken their part in politics, quietly and without any revolutions. Why should not Maine follow its example? Women do not want to enter politics because they think they are any better than men but because certain phases of politics appeal to women and call forth their instinctive desire to better educational and social affairs and to make of this country a safe home for "Young America." Are not humane measures as necessary in this state as water power, a public park, or lobsters?

Women are no better than men but the angle from which they view morality is decidedly different. Women legislators can right human wrong so why not give them the chance? Well might all women pattern from the platform of one woman candidate.

"First, I am a Christian, second, I am an American, and third, I am a Republican."

Women should be in politics because it is a natural outcome of suffrage and to women belongs an equal of responsibility with the men which they cannot and must not shirk. To them belongs the responsibility of making this country a Motherland as well as a Fatherland.

MT. VERNON NOTES

Miss Christine Beckett who has been visiting her sister, Edith, during the past week, returned to her home in Calais, Wednesday.

Marjorie Willey went to Bangor on Saturday.

Charlotte Crosby visited her home in Bangor over the week-end.

One of the features of the Campus parties of the week-end was the Mt. Vernon annual dinner and dance on Saturday after-noon and evening. A delicious four course dinner was served, with maypoles, the streamers of which ran to each plate.

Decorations were in delicate shades of lavender, pink, yellow, and white.

The dinner was followed by the dance which was attended by about twenty-eight couples. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Sstabrooke. Music was furnished by "Cy" Dobbins orchestra from the S. A. E.

ment never loses its charm, yet a variety of events is desirable, and a most pleasant impression is left upon the memory by such a variety. To sit with our honored Alumni at luncheon and in banquet-and listen to the tales of bygone days—is surely a rare treat. Maine movies will be shown. After witnessing a ball game, a pageant, and various other exercises, everyone will be an easy victim to the lure of "the light fantastic toe".
Consequently, besides the formal Commencement Ball, an informal Alumni Hop is to be given in the Gym.ACTION GALORESurely, with all that will take place during commencement none will find any great and intense and continuous that it will all seem too short. Everyone connected with the affair will work for action—and there will be action, action

Makes AnnouncementThe junior Week Committee has made the final announcement that the minstrel show will not be presented on the Campus by the "M" Club or Musical Club during the Junior Week festivities. This is due to the lack of space and equipment and also to the fact that an agreement was made by the "M" Club not to present the Minstrel Show on the Campus, as announced in Chapel. The evening entertainments will open Thursday, May 18th with a four act farce comedy presented by the Maine Masque.
The reception which the Masque was accorded during its trip gives ample security of a successful opening night

Members of Class of '72 To Attend Commencement

Those men who will return to their Alma Mater this June have showed the most active interest in our semi-centennial work and are giving us some valuable information on which to base our pageant. Mr. Haskell in the Lewiston Evening Journal has given us a picture of the youths who fifty-four years ago started out to get an education from a new and untried institution, the Maine State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. He said:

"It was in September, 1868, that I, with a friend, took the train at Portland about noon. We reached Bangor in the early evening and spent the night there. In the morning we inquired the way to Orono. No one seemed to know much about it, until one man told us he thought we might take a train on the Veazie road, go up to Upper Stillwater, then walk down the river about a mile. "We found the train, purchased our tickets, which cost 50 cents apiece, quite a price for a ride of seven or eight miles and started on the final stage of our journey. We told the conductor we wished to get off at upper Stillwater. Finally everyone except ourselves left the train.

"The conductor looked at us and as we made no motion to leave, he came up to ascertain the reason. When we asked if we had reached upper Stillwater he exclaimed that he had forgotten we were to get off there, and that we were at Old Town, the end of the route. He immediately ordered the train run back.

We walked down the road as instructed until we came to the college where we met for the first time, Dr. Fernald who was then Prof. Fernald.

He informed us that the examination of candidates would take place in a short time in one of the rooms of the new building. There about a dozen of us spent the day, trying to answer questions that were put to us. At night we were told that we had passed. Four of us prepared to spend the night in the building. I had a daily paper from which we took turns reading until nine o'clock when we retired.

"All this took place in White Hall which was afterwards destroyed by fire and was replaced by Wingate Hall. Each room was furnished with one double bed, or two single beds, with huck mattresses, a table, washstand, and four chairs.

This was Friday, the next day lessons were assigned, and Monday college began. We enjoyed ourselves very much, studying and working for each student was required to work 3 hours each school day at the rate of 25 cents for the entire time. We could also work all the extra hours we wished at the rate of wages paid for such work.

Hannibal Hamlin took dinner with us one day and Gov. Joshua S. Chamberlain came and had a seat on the stage at Sophomore declaration. S. L. Boardman then Editor of the "Maine Farmer" and a true friend of the institution used

Reports Are Submitted At Sophomore Meeting

A meeting of the sophomore class was held at chapel time, Friday, April 28, in Alumni Hall.

The report of the committee in charge of the Sophomore Hop was given and accepted. A deficit was reported but was made up by appropriating money from the class treasury.

The report of the treasurer was then received. It showed the class to be in excellent financial condition with an unexpended balance of $60 in the treasury.

After the reports had been accepted discussion was held concerning the Sophomore Calendar. The Committee in charge announced that the Calendars would be ready for distribution within two weeks.

In view of the fact that great plans are being made for the 50th Anniversary Celebration and as there is great need for assistance from the undergraduate body, the class unanimously passed a resolution pledging its support to the committee in every way possible.

Take It From The Air

NOT only music, but news, speeches, messages of every sort, are today being picked out of the air.

"How has this come about?" we ask.

The new impetus given to radio development may be definitely associated with the development of the high power vacuum tube, for that made broadcasting possible. And the power tube originated from a piece of purely theoretical research, which had no connection with radio.

When a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company found that electric current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum and could be varied according to fixed laws, he established the principle of the power tube and laid the foundation for the "tron" group of devices.

These devices magnify the tiny telephone currents produced by the voice and supply them to the antenna, which broadcasts the messages. At the receiving end, smaller "trons", in turn, magnify the otherwise imperceptible messages coming to them from the receiving antenna.

Great accomplishments are not picked out of the air. Generally, as in this case, they grow from one man's insatiable desire to find out the "how" of things.

Scientific research discovers the facts. Practical applications follow in good time.
