PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Classed under this head are Pleasant Street Primary, Elm Street Primary and the mixed school on Pigeon Hill.

The Spring Term of Pleasant Street Primary was taught by Miss Mary C. Jones, of Oxford, who maintained her reputation as a model primary school teacher.

The Fall and Winter Terms were conducted by Miss Effie E. Saunders, of this town. This was Miss Saunders' first effort in the school-room as teacher. She began her work with a determined spirit to succeed, and we are pleased to report that she exceeded our expectations. She possesses two excellent requisites—energy and a strong desire to succeed in her calling. Such young teachers only need a chance.

Miss Effie M. Wayne has had charge of Elm Street Primary during the year. Miss Wayne is a young teacher of promise and is doing good work in this department. A new Language Chart, furnished this school, proved to be very helpful.

The Spring Term of Pigeon Hill school was taught by Miss Josia B. Farris, of this town, with her usual success.

The Fall and Winter Terms were placed in charge of Minnie M. C. Jumper, of Lewiston. Miss Jumper is a teacher of experience and her services were entirely satisfactory to parents and the School Board. There are some good scholars in this district who would receive additional benefit by attending our graded schools.

SECOND INTERMEDIATE.

Miss Belle J. Nash, of Alfred, conducted the Spring Term, and Miss Jones, from Pleasant Street Primary, the Fall and Winter Terms. We regretted very much to lose Miss Nash, who resigned for a better paying position.

In number work, the classes take high rank. The principles of the four fundamental processes were developed almost wholly by use of original problems. In Language the classes were given daily practice in the use of capitals and punctuation. The introduction of Potter's New Geography proved to be a move in the right direction. The matter is new and interesting. White's New Course in drawing was introduced during the Fall term. The teacher and pupils seem to have taken special interest in this branch of school work. It is sufficient to say that this division of our school is in excellent condition.

FIRST INTERMEDIATE.

Miss Alice J. Swain who conducted this department so acceptably last year, was secured to take the management the present year. She taught the Spring term with her usual ability, but on account of sickness was unable to return at the beginning of Fall term.

Miss Mildred J. Hill, of Buxton, has had charge of the school since that time. At the beginning of the Fall term a class from the Second Intermediate was added to this department, previously contemplated in the Course of Study, making now two classes as intended. No teacher employed during the year has worked with greater zeal and devotion to place her school on a high plane of excellence than has Miss Hill. This is the most difficult department of our schools to manage, and there is need of a more earnest, hearty cooperation on the part of parents whose children attend this division, to assist in raising its standard. Parents do your duty, and you will see this school advance in the scale of improvement.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Spring Term.

Miss Edith M. Maxwell was elected Principal of this department and Miss Nannie M. Bucknam, assistant. It was expected Miss Maxwell would have charge of the school during the year, but on account of the ill health of a near relative, she was obliged to resign at end of Spring term. Miss Maxwell is a successful teacher. The school made excellent progress during the term.

Fall and Winter Terms.

The Fall and Winter terms have been under the management of Miss Gertrude L. McDonald a graduate of Westbrook Seminary, assisted by Miss Bucknam. I think it safe to make the assertion that Mechanic Falls' Grammar School was never in better condition than at the present time. During the year an endeavor has been made to promote an interest in reading only the best literature. The pupils have taken such great interest in this branch of their school work that, during the latter part of the Winter term, in cooperation with the teachers they secured by a popular subscription plan one of the 30 volume libraries offered by the Educational Publishing Co. Much credit is due the pupils for this effort on their part. If time permitted, I would have been pleased to give in this report the amount of work done by the scholars during the year. We could not get along without Miss Bucknam in the assistant's room. She is thoroughly adapted to the position she has thus far so well filled.

HIGH SCHOOL.

FRANK E. BRIGGS, Principal.

MISS KATHERINE E. ABBOTT, Assistant.

The Spring Term began with forty-three students in atttendance, of whom seven dropped out before the end of the term. The work was done as near as possible in accordance with the requirements for the Spring term of the first, second and fourth years, in the English and Classical Courses, as laid down in the Course of Study, One scholar pursued the study of Greek, and one class in Arithmetic was formed out of the regular order. The subjects taught by Mr. Briggs were Astronomy, Greek, Geometry, Civil Government, Latin Lessons, Physics and Physical Geography. Miss Abbott conducted the recitations in Algebra, Arithmetic, Lessons in English, French, Cæsar, Cicero and General History. All the work allotted for the term was completed except Physical Geography.

GRADUATION.

Benediction.

The Fall Term, began Sept. 9th with twenty-seven scholars registered. Four of these dropped out during the term. There being so few pupils, it was not deemed necessary to employ an assistant. The studies and the number of scholars pursuing each were as follows: Latin, beginners, 7; French, 9; Algebra, 3; Greek, 2; Geometry, 15; Cæsar, 7; Chemistry, 8; Zoology, 12; Cicero, 4; Physical Geography and Physics, 14; Book-keeping, 9;

The Winter Term, now in session, opened with twenty-four scholars. The small number of scholars attending the High School is accounted for in part from the fact that no class was promoted this year from the Grammar Department. Next Fall there will be a large class to enter the High school.

Mr. Briggs has labored earnestly to raise the standard of the school to a higher plane of excellence. He is a thorough scholar himself, and is unsatisfied to let his pupils pass with a rank less than 75 per cent. of standard. He believes that it would be for the interest of the school to have some changes made in the Course of Study. I am inclined to believe he is correct in his opinion and would recommend a revision.

Respectfully submitted,

F. H. McDonald,

Superintendent.
