President Little Consents to Secret Ballot. Urges Everyone to Come to Consider the Merits of the Council

Best Rally of Year Before Bates Game

The best rally of the year for the class was held in Colburn Hall last Friday night, Oct. 21. To start things right a procession by the President of the Athletic Association, Club Thomas, and the forty piece University band made a tour of the campus rounding up the delinquents in the fraternity houses and dorms, who were anxiously watching the ballgame and the targets were all filled. The ball game itself was far from being a disappoint- ment. For one, the football team was just as well suited for the field as ever and the targets were knocked out with great ease. The other against Bates was in charge of each department and was stationed facing their captain and led his men, who in turn directed the sections allotted them.

Dartmouth Professor Is Speaker in Chapel

At the chapel exercises on Thursday, October 27th, the students of the University were treated to an interesting lecture by Professor Arthur D. Wright of the Department of Education of Dartmouth College.

"There perhaps the whole college people are most interested in today is what they will be doing in the 'selective process of admission.'

Dartmouth has room for two thousand men, though only a little over a thousand are destined to go, except those the college provides. A few years ago a student was very likely to stick after being accepted. That was no more. The college needs a large supply of lieutenants to put into the army and the students were the best in the country with a great many of them filling the jump on Bates Saturday, and beat him.

Maine Spirit Conquers in a Clean Hard Fought Game Bates Jinx Buried by a Score of 19-6

Maine Wins First State Series Game

Showing the old fight during every game of the season, the University of Maine machine trounced the Bates team of Lewiston Saturday, and buried the Bates jinx. The score was as follows. Maine, 19; Bates, 6. Both teams played to the bitter end, but Maine proved too powerful for her opponents. The Maine players may have been the better team, but Bates were fighting men and did all in their power to make the contest a little easier for the Red and Blue.

"V'Y Worker Speaks in Behalf of Student Fund

Miss Ferril Het who spoke to the student body in Coburn Hall Thursday evening on "The Conditions Among Students" at the colleges of New England, was the guest speaker of Sigma Delta Chi, the honorary journalistic society, was held on Thursday evening, Oct. 27th. She is a member of the University Band and is employed by the College. She spoke on the conditions of the students at the colleges of New England in the interest of Sigma Delta Chi. Pledge Announced By Sigma Delta Chi

A meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, the honorary journalistic society, was held in Atlantic Ballroom at the University on Thursday evening, Oct. 27th. The following pledges were announced for the society: Ramsey Ayer, Cornwell Kenyon, John Brown, George Cooper, William Smith, Thomas Wilkins, and Russell Thurman.

Men are chosen for membership in this society from among those who have shown the greatest interest and done the most work in the various college publications.
Dr. Baker Speaks in Chapel on Religion

On Wednesday, October 16th, Dr. John H. Baker, Jr., President of the Educational Board of the Northern Baptist Home Mission Board, gave an interesting address in chapel.

"Everybody needs religion for a living. We need religion in the home to influence our daily living—many fine Christians have never been out of the home and have never known what religion is about. We need religion in the school to influence our intellectual training—many fine men and women have never been out of school and have never known what religion is about. We need religion in the church to influence our social life—many fine Christians have never been out of the church and have never known what religion is about. We need religion in the community to influence the public life of our communities—many fine communities have never been out of the public life and have never known what religion is about. We need religion in the world to influence the world's future—many fine men and women have never been out of the world and have never known what religion is about." Dr. Baker ended his address by urging students to make it a practice to attend chapel regularly. He said, "I wish I could talk to all of you in chapel this morning, but I am not able to do so."

Mr. Walpole Interests

To the Editor of the Campus:

Will you kindly publish the following communication? I have just returned after several weeks spent in France, and at other years gone by, then fathers have held at such times, and with such frequency as to be financed. The Social Science Committee of the Faculty believes such events to be socially successful.

Some fundraising dances were held on dates specified last year. If any organization feels that it has brought the same with some number of the committee, make the notice up with some. Also, it is still true that there is a school situation with a view to publication of a calendar for each year. For example, last year:

Last year:

Mr. 10: Hecke Club
Mr. 2: Campaign Board
Mr. 10: Maine Mask
Mr. 15: Basketball Dance
Mr. 25: Basketball Dance
Mr. 27: Sophomore Opts
Mr. 1: Political Science Matter Hour
Mr. 18: Sophomore Hop
Mr. 3: "C" Club party Hall
Mr. 20: The Dominion Club
Mr. 27: Sophomore Opts
Mr. 27: Sophomore Opts
Mr. 27: Sophomore Opts

Mr. 10: Joe class
Mr. 2: Junior Prom

Mr. 9: J. T. Odell
Chairman of the Committee
Office on 10 Coburn

Bible Study Groups are Arranged for the Year

A second meeting of the Interfraternity Council took place Thursday evening, October 17th, at the Sigma Nu House, to arrange for the coming year, serving an excellent supper.

The purpose of the meeting was to set the plan for Bible Study, the "first love" group, and to select faculty members for leading. Dr. Mark B. Elliott, U. S. Army, was introduced by Mr. George C. Leland, 5th Field Artillery, and Mr. Allen P. White and Mr. Edward D. Hill, both of whom were represented by several of their members. Dr. Mark B. Elliott, Secretary of the Vermont Union House, was elected as President of the group.

Dr. George R. Baker of the Baptist Home Mission Board spoke on the subject of Bible study. Dr. Baker while at the meeting, preached a most successful sermon on the importance of Bible study. The president is most anxious to attract more football vocal and an earnest man in the group.

The Bible study groups this year are to be conducted in all of the houses, dormitories and in one of the large rooms, which will only last twelve weeks and is open to all students.

Junior Masks Hold Their Initiation at Banger

The annual initiation of the Junior Masks was held at Banger Thursday evening, October 12th. This Junior Honorary Society does much for the University. It not only urges the maintenance of college standards which promote the general well being of the University but it also encourages athletics.

The boys are not saying much about the initiation, but one can feel that the new men saw, and perhaps felt, the goal. After the initiation the boys, they ran to Bangor and had a fine banquet at the University Hotel. Speeches were made by "Pull" Hodgdon and "Jim" Johnson which is that enough said. These few members are: "Olie" Berg, "Hank" Small, "Shirley" Huntington, "Kirk" Jetson, "Ralph" Cushman, "Steve" Foster, "Ted" Monroe, "Leone" Hasson, "Jim" Carroll, "Beau" Body, and "Bill" Higgins, with "Bill" Hodgdon inordinately good jobs.

The winter class also gave a dance in the gymnasium Friday evening to reduce their last hangover and large to the small sale of the Junior Home Party.

There was a very small crowd in at the relaying of the Little League at the Little League Club.

"For we are the Scholars and We are the Works acted as a cheerleader in the dance, and all of the participants in the game were able to play without a hitch. Each team will play such a game every week and the booth will be approximately 1600.

Maine Rifle Club to Improve Rifle Range

The second regular meeting of the Maine Rifle Club was held Friday, October 19th, at the Arsenal in Augusta, including many men from the freshmen as well as the faculty and students. Only guests from the York University were allowed to come in from which to pick a team and for practice.

Plains have already been made for improving the lighting system of the arsenal and the work is fast progressing on the installation of new targets. Practice was set to begin Tuesday next. The improvements made at the Maine Rifle Range are open to all members of the University rectangular in the room. The plan of the image is now put into condition.

The rifle club is open to all members of the University rectangular in the room. The plan of the image is now put into condition.

Don't forget the Maine "Hello!"

The Comeback to the North

The Comeback to the North is the name of the second game of the rifle series, and it is over today. We are ready for anything.

Mae Doye for Freshmen

We talk to you each week for your benefit, but this week we must begin a new chapter. We must and we tell what we must do because we tell what we must do. So let's talk to you and let's talk about the Maine men and all that.

Be Gentlemen

There is one thing that students must avoid in the steel of that society, and that is being a gentleman. It is one thing to show your spirit and another thing to show it to the others. We should not start our college careers as freshmen. Freshmen are the most important people in the class and they should be friends with your classmates, make your friends, and do your best to get on with them. Then we should try to be better men, especially if they should be. But this does not mean that we should not be gentlemen. The cure of indiscipline has hardhanded us and we must be taken in our own hands and do our best to get on with them. We must try to be gentlemen because we are gentlemen.

The last Saturday's Game: a fact which did not go to the fans and made the game a success and the arrangement was a success.

Let's fix our cheering to encourage our own.

Saturday's Game

Next week, October 13th, we have the second game of the rifle series, and it is over today. We are ready for anything.

ENGINEERING FOR THE BUYER

It is not enough that electrical apparatus should be carefully conceived, skillfully designed, and exactly manufactured.

Engineering, to fulfill all its functions, must go beyond these necessary steps and do a still more enlightened service. It must apply the apparatus to its uses, so that not only in design and construction but in service, as well, all the conditions that it must be reckoned with are fully satisfied.

This function of Westinghouse application engineering covers many fields, and changes itself with many responsibilities. It is engineering that converts it in such a way as to benefit every aspect of business, central station, transportation, industrial, municipal and naval control, etc. It has the buyer's interest constantly at heart.

Westinghouse Application Engineering works with salesmen, with buyers, with consulting engineers, with contractors. It secures full cooperation in new development; it finds and investigates new fields; it checks the behavior of apparatus, old and new; it is a bridge over which information passes freely in both directions between Westinghouse and its thousands of clients and friends.

Be glad that you are to live and work in times when the spirit of service dominates commercial operations. The greatest change that has occurred in business is that the seller's obligation reaches beyond the completion of the sale; and that it is both wise and right that every reasonable effort be made to give the buyer full value in both product and satisfaction. The practice of this policy requires engineering of the highest type in research, design, manufacturing and every other phase of Westinghouse operations, but nowhere to a greater degree than in the field of application engineering, which is essentially beneficial for the buyer.
