Basketball Prospects Are Unusually Bright

Many Veteran Players Are Out for Team. Coach Flack Starts Intensive Practice

Intensive basketball practice conducted by coaches Flack and Murphy during the past week has disclosed several new men who show promise, and has shown that the last year's men are hitting their stride from the start. If the squad keeps up the good work, its proposed trip thru New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio will enable it to hang up the "Veni, Vidi, Vici" sign in commemoration of its string of victories.

Besides the letter men of last year—Newell, Berg, Horsman and Holmes, are several other veterans who are expected to make good with a bang before the season is over. They are Jowett, who is making a fine showing at center, and Cobb, Mason, Driscoll, Fayle, and Carter. These men are in fine form and expect to show the college something in the line of fast basketball.

The freshman class has contributed several good men, just as they have for football and cross country. Barrows, Albert, Taylor, and Simons are perhaps the pick of the yearlings. As their work appears now, they are capable of giving

New Annual Event from Penny Carnival Success

One of the best social events held on the campus this year was the Penny Carnival given by the Girls' Athletic Association, Friday, November 17 at Alumni Hall.

This affair was given under the direction of Miss Teresa Huesman, girls' physical director, who was aided by a general committee consisting of Elizabeth Ring '23, Beatrice Johnson '24, Ruth Crockett '25 and Katherine Hunt '26.

The Girls' Athletic Association has until recently been a part of the men's association and under their direction. It has now become a separate organization and the purpose of the Penny Carnival was to raise money to finance girls' athletics.

The responsibility of booths and stunts were assigned to each of the various girls' organizations and also to individual girls who took complete charge of their stunts.

Upon entering the chapel the voices of the "criers" attracted the people from one booth to another and the curiosity aroused proved a great help.

Athletic Association To Control Hockey

Hockey prospects at the University of Maine are unusually good this year. This sport, which has formerly been under the control of the Inter-Mural Association, has been taken over by the Athletic Association and made a regular part of the athletic activities of the college. As such, with all due respect for the efforts of the Inter-Mural, it will probably be placed on a higher plane and be more successful than formerly.

A number of good rink men are expected to appear when the call is given. Among them will be "Bill" Elliott, McKay, and Stearns, all last year's men, besides a number of "comers" from the class teams.

Work on the new rink is expected to begin this week, so that when cold weather comes and brings good ice, the squad will be ready for active practice.

The schedule is not entirely arranged as yet. A plan is under way to arrange two matches with each of the Maine colleges. If this plan materializes, Maine will have the opportunity to witness some excellent games.

Henry Small Elected To Football Captaincy

Versatile Backfield Man Given Unanimous Vote of the Team at Football Banquet

At the banquet given the football team last Friday night, Henry Dyer Small '24 of Charleston was elected captain of the football team for the 1923 season. Small prepared for Maine at the Higgins Classical Institute where he starred in the backfield for two years. In the last three years he has been unanimous choice for half-back on the all-Maine team.

HENRY SMALL, CAPTAIN-ELECT

This year he set up the unique record of playing every minute of every game on the season's schedule.

Small is a member of the Sophomore Owls, Junior Masks and is president of the Junior Class. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Alumni Plan to Build Memorial Armory and Gym

The plans of the executive council of the Alumni Association for a campaign to raise $500,000 to erect a memorial gymnasium and armory in memory of the Maine men who died in the service of our country during the world war have been announced by Secretary Towner.

Tentative plans call for the erection of an armory and gymnasium which will compare favorably with those of the leading universities in the country.

The gymnasium will be equipped with the best of apparatus and suitable offices will be provided for the personnel of the physical training department. An indoor training space will be provided for all athletic teams. The building itself is to be about 400 feet long. A cinder track with a 100 yard straight-away will obviate the poor start which Maine track teams get now during the spring flood on Alumni Field. The football team will be able to practice on the dirt floor of the armory. Signal practice and scrimmages can be held indoors on this surface when weather conditions prevent the use of the athletic field. An indoor diamond will allow the baseball team the advantage of an early start in the spring. The erection of bleachers in the immense hall will amply accommodate the great crowds at rallies and mass meetings of the student bodies. The annual Maine Night celebration will be a far greater event than now.

The armory section will contain offices for the military department. Class rooms

Maine Triumphs At New England Meet

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates Eight Junior Members

Sigma Delta Chi held the fall initiation at the Phi Eta Kappa house on Wednesday evening, November 8, eight juniors being admitted to membership: H. H. Ayer, R. M. Burns, E. C. Cutting, K. W. Chase, G. H. Cooper, B. S. Hutchins, C. E. Kennison, and J. L. Stevens. All of the initiates have been active in journalism at the University, in the publication of the Prism, Campus, or Mainiac.

Sigma Delta Chi is an honorary journalistic society, and is professional in nature. It was organized at DePauw University April 17, 1909, and at present has 38 active chapters in all parts of the country. The University of Maine chapter received its charter in 1915, and since that time has been an important factor in the promotion of college journalism. Its members are chosen from the senior and junior classes, and from sophomores during the latter half of the sophomore year, and must have given evidence of intellectual ability in the field of journalism. Honorary members are admitted.

The senior members of the society at the beginning of the fall semester were: D. F. Alexander, C. B. Beckett, W. M. Foss, J. M. Horne, D. W. Hoyt, E. L. Kneeland, B. M. Patten, H. E. Patterson, L. St. Clair, and A. E. Wilson, bringing the present undergraduate membership of the chapter to eighteen men.

Sigma Delta Chi is editing and publishing the Mainiac, the college humorous magazine, and with the aid of the newly enlisted juniors, expects to place the paper on a par with the best college comic publications.

Entertaining Program For the Arts Rally

The annual rally of the Arts and Science College will take place in the chapel Saturday night of this week, November 25. A short vaudeville program has been arranged, followed by a play given by students and faculty members of the Arts college. "Paddy" Huddleston is one of the de luxe features of the entertainment. As the champion crystal gazer of the universe, he will announce each act and prophesy concerning its nature.

One of the superfine features will be a vaudeville skit featuring Mort Whitcomb and Virginia Colbath. The act is called "Hearts and Flowers" and shows a freshman from the University of Maine calling on his home town girl during Christmas vacation. Another attractive feature will be an Oriental dance, led by Betty Armstrong.

The play is the "Knave of Hearts." The cast is as follows:

The Knave of Hearts	Mark Bailey
Yellow Hose	C. Floyd Whitcomb
Blue Hose	Rufus McCulloch
Chancellor	Howard Flewelling
Lady Violetta	Mr. Wallace
Ursula, her lady-in-waiting	Molly Perkins
Pages	Margaret Coffin
	Mardi Willey, Cora Emory

After the play, which will require not more than forty minutes, there will be probably a dance in the gymnasium. Although in former years this annual event has been confined to the Arts and Science College, this year a departure from custom is to be made, and all students of the University, regardless of their respective colleges, are cordially invited to attend. The vaudeville will begin at eight o'clock.

The University of Maine cross country team retained the title of New England college champions when they won the tenth annual N. E. intercollegiate run at Franklin Park Saturday morning with a record low score of 49 points. Bates was second with 53 while the Technology harriers, who were considered top-favorites, were completely outclassed, taking a poor third, with a total of 110. The winners captured second, sixth, seventh, twelfth, and twenty-second places.

It was an ideal day for a cross country race with just enough coolness in the air to make the runners anxious for the start. At 10.30 A. M. thirteen teams lined up for the run with Maine in about center position of the field. Hendrie of Tech took the pace from the beginning and held it practically all the way altho the other leaders closed up on his position in the last mile or so of the race. Capt. McKeeman, the leader of the blue and white started off with the first few runners and was one of the contestants for individual honors thruout the race. Hendrie was the first man to break the tape and M. I. T.'s cheers let loose but it was about the only opportunity they had to cheer during the early finishes—Capt. McKeeman and McGinley of Bates seemed to be the logical contenders for second place and about

Penobscot Valley Alumni Give Football Banquet

The members of the 1922 State Championship Football Team of the University of Maine were tendered a banquet Friday, Nov. 17 at the Memorial Parlors in Bangor by the Penobscot Valley Alumni Association. Besides the sixteen letter men assembled, there were as guests, Prexy Little, "Cuddy" Murphy and "Hamp" Bryant. Coach Brice was unable to attend owing to important business elsewhere. Prior to the banquet the members of this season's champion team had a meeting at which they elected Henry Small captain of the 1923 squad. Small has played sterling football ever since he entered college and surely deserves to pilot next year's eleven on the gridiron.

After the election the banquet opened with the Stein Song. "Pep" Towner filled in top-notch style the role as toastmaster. He introduced Capt. Lunge who said a few words concerning this year's team. "Cuddy" Murphy next spoke on matters of interest to the assembled guests receiving great applause for the hard work and confidence which

Committee Completing Winter Carnival Plans

The Intra-mural A. A., a student organization for promoting interest in athletics, is hard at work on plans for the second annual Maine winter carnival to be held from Feb. 8th to 10th inclusive. The carnival committee, consisting of Lloyd Hay, Pooch Donovan, Prexy Niles, and Steve Stevens, have arranged for a three day program which will be much better than the carnival program of last year. Excavations which will increase the distance attained and also decrease the danger, are now in progress on the ski jump. It is expected that the new jump will give a distance of about 90 feet, as against 60 feet for the jump of last year. The prospects for the Augusta carnival seem very bright, as many of the competitors who took honors last year are still in college and will undoubtedly go out for the sports again this year.

With Our Young Alumni

We are becoming more and more of the opinion that Maine Spirit is something that never dies. It is certain that once you experience its thrill, you are ready to fight for Maine and are under its spell for sometime to come. Most recent among happy incidents, bespeaking of the glory of Maine, is that shown by a recent letter from a group of our young alumni in New York City.

It seems that a little gathering was held in New York City last week made up of eleven men all of whom graduated from here in 1920 or '21. They came together to discuss their alma mater and her most recent achievements. On the spot they made plans to organize this little group into a small, but spirited cheering section to encourage our cross country runners at the National Meet at Van Cortlandt Park on November 20.

How does that sound to you, Maine men and women? Do you think these men have lost any of the enthusiasm that they acquired right here in Orono? Does it appear to be "out of sight, out of mind, with them? Ah, no, they have that spirit that will make Maine famous and that will cause you to congratulate yourself on being a Maine graduate when you are out in the world.

Here's offering congratulations and best wishes to our most recent New York alumni.

Real Men

Have you forgotten that thrill which ran up and down your spinal column when you heard the first blast of the power house whistle last Saturday? It was great, wasn't it—and then that warm, tingling sensation that pervaded your entire being? You knew they had won; your cross country team with another victory for Maine. Ah! Such are the joys of victory, especially when you know it to be well-merited. The men on that team fought for what they got; it wasn't given to them. Once more they have proven themselves real men. Let's not be too quick to forget it. Enshrine them in your temple of heroes; they deserve at least that.

Don't kick about the weather. If it's unpleasant out doors, your studies will welcome your companionship inside.

Honor to the Student

We admire the athlete, of course. Why shouldn't we? He typifies the best in our young manhood of today; he achieves; in winning honor for his school, he receives no little amount of glory himself; But there are other fields in which honors may be found. There is glory for the student who excels, as well. His is a field for logical endeavor, too.

It is rather unfortunate that there is a prevailing tendency to belittle the advantages of applied study. Many seem to think that the man who studies is wasting his time. Individuals who find themselves lacking in athletic ability are only too ready to abandon effort in any direction and to devote themselves to pursuance of the typical life of the college drone. When you consider that the really great figures in world history were people who attained what they did only through great preparatory study, you wonder if these discouraged mortals have not somewhat under-estimated their opportunities.

After all, our major purpose in college is to obtain knowledge, something that we may attain if we are willing to study.

Let's see if we can't accomplish this major purpose in spite of these numerous side-shows that would side-track us. The man who is no athlete will find in application to studies this greatest opportunity for attainment of college honors as well as the means of achieving his greatest purpose, here.

The athlete, himself, has everything to gain by real hard study. To the person who is well-developed physically, the desire for a well balanced personality should present itself. His opportunity also lies in the direction of applied mental activity. The highest type of college man does not consider success in fields of athletic endeavor as complete expression of his aim in attending an institution of higher learning.

Do not forget that a reputation for high scholarship does as much to put some colleges on the map as athletic prowess. Do your share in giving Maine the reputation for turning out men of scholastic ability. When you are out in the world you will be judged by what you know not what you could do in the past.

Don't belittle the other fellow's work. See if you can surpass it.

Remember 'Maine Men'

It has been called to our attention, in several ways, that some of the members of the R. O. T. C. that took part in the Armistice Day Celebration in Bangor behaved themselves in a manner as unbecoming gentlemen. We are not going to deliver a sermon on the strength of this incident but will say to the offenders that they were supposed to have forgotten their prep school habits when they became college students. Would remind them that last year we went on record as being proud of the opportunity to be 'Maine Men.' That didn't mean boys.

Average Ranks for The Spring Semester

The average ranks for the Spring Semester of 1922 of the college, organizations, fraternities and classes have been completed by the Registrar. The cold statistics reveal many interesting facts regarding ranks of various organizations. The average of the sororities is far above the average of the college and slightly above the average of all women of the college. Fraternities fall below the average of the University. The ranks of organizations other than Phi Kappa Phi and Tau Beta Pi show four organizations above the University average while six organizations fall below. The senior class leads in class average ranks by a good margin. Class ranks ran rather in proportion to numbers.

Alpha Chi Sigma Holds Initiation at Newport

On Saturday, November 18th, the members of Xi Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma held their fall initiation at Lake Sebasticook, Newport, Maine, at the cottage of Mr. Harold C. White of the Department of Chemistry. The pledges arrived on the 2:30 P. M. train from Bangor, and under the able direction of "Pop" Stewart, were put through a series of "stunts" which furnished not only the citizens of Newport, but the candidates as well, an hour of laughs and general good time. The initiation ceremonies took place in the evening, after which an excellent dinner was cooked and served by "Phebe" Pearsall in his famous Southern style. The speakers of the evening were H. C. White, P. A. Pearsall, and L. G. Jenness, all of the faculty, who presented some very excellent advice to those present who expect to enter industrial chemical work. The guest of honor was Mr. L. G. Jenness of Mu Chapter at New Hampshire State College, who gave an interesting talk on the activities of the chapter there. The initiates were Walter W. Purdy of the Department of Chemistry, Carl Lewis Beal '24, Henry Stanwood Boynton '24, George Hubert Cooper '24, Maurice Augustus Dolliver '24 and James Louis Hayes '24.

Two Maine Men Make Trip to New Hampshire

"Guy" Griffin and Clayton Osgood showed the old Maine fight when they started for Manchester, N. H., to see their college play New Hampshire State College, with a dollar in their pockets.

They left the Maine campus the Friday noon before the game and after giving the B. R. and E. only seven cents for their ride to Bangor they were lucky enough to get rides by autos which carried them to Durham that night. After spending the night as guests of their friends, they continued their journey to Manchester on a truck, with a total expense of 7c for the trip from Orono to Manchester, N. H.

"Guy" was well acquainted with his native town and also the ways of obtaining admission to the Textile field which are only known by few. But the minute they showed up in the Maine dressing room their work began for the manager had plenty to do for those who wished to earn a seat on the Maine bench.

At the close of the game and after getting plenty of food from home, they started back by foot but only walked two miles before they were picked up by a Portland bound auto. The night was pleasantly spent in a hay barn somewhere between Brunswick and Augusta. In the morning it was found that food was needed so after trying many farm houses they found one place which gave them their breakfast.

The rest of the journey consisted of short rides and the spending of forty cents which placed the boys in Orono Sunday.

This is the old Maine spirit and would convince any of the lod Alumni that it still exists here today.

Speakers Enliven the Forestry Club Meeting

A very successful and interesting meeting of the Forestry Club was held in Winslow Hall, Wednesday evening, November 15. A good crowd was present, and the evening started with a talk by Mr. Dressel on a trip from New York to Constantinople.

Following this, Mr. Coolidge, a professional forester, told of experiences while cruising timber in Nova Scotia. Cigarettes, peanuts, cookies and cider were served, and the rest of the evening was spent enjoyably in eating and in an informal chat with Mr. Coolidge.

If she didn't have her hair bobbed,
If she didn't daub with paint,
If she had her dresses made to reach
To where the dresses ain't,
If she didn't have that baby voice,
And spoke just as she should;
Don't you think she'd be popular?
I hardly think she would.

Dr. Foster Addresses Class in Evolution

On Thursday, November 16, Dr. Foster gave an address before the class in evolution concerning the relation between religion and science.

"No respectable scientist is a believer in God," said an atheist society in London. Dr. Foster objected to this statement as science and spiritual things are closely related. He spoke of the two kinds of science, investigational and philosophical. "Investigational science," he said, "is absolutely reliable as it is upheld by chemical and biological facts and has the authority of reality. Philosophy is the reason of experience." For every million investigators, Dr. Foster claims there are not more than twelve good philosophical investigators. A man who is a magnificent investigator may not be able to form good philosophical opinions and ideas. Darwin is an investigator but not a philosopher.

"Certain scientists seem satisfied when they can point out the processes by which a thing is done. When you have a mixture of material things, the whole living thing is infinitely bigger—process does not complete the matter. We are as far today from the origin of the species as we ever were. Some design and order in the universe has provided for the potentialities of life and biology only shows us that God is everlasting and creative." "Everything," Dr. Foster says, "depends on your conception of the bible whether it is true or not. The bible is not a book of science but a book of religion which will bring man to God." "It is inspired and infallible."

Rev. Allyn K. Foster Stirs the Student Body

The Rev. Allyn K. Foster, a noted religious leader famous for his successful work in colleges and universities scattered thruout the country, held a series of meetings at the University Nov. 14, 15 and 16. Coupled with these meetings were his talks in chapel the first four days of the week.

Rev. Mr. Foster is practically the only man speaking on religious subjects in colleges who approaches the subject from the scientific viewpoint of the student. He literally places himself in a student's position and looks at the fundamental religious questions of the day as they would.

He made an intelligible and rational appeal that has rarely been equalled here. He certainly lived up to the reputation he made in other places. The campus was stirred as it never has been for many years. It was practically the first time that a religious speaker has been invited to talk to different groups at fraternity houses and dormitories. Not only did he make an impression but the effect of it will be felt for a long time to come.

Efforts are being made to bring Mr. Foster back next year with a possible visit again in the spring of the present academic year. It is hoped that it will be possible to have for a longer period on his second visit.

Pi Beta Phi Sorority Gives Informal Dance

The annual informal dance was given by the Pi Beta Phi sorority in Old Town Saturday evening. The hall was decorated in the sorority colors, wine and blue. Festoons of crepe paper were hung across the hall and caught at each end of the room to form a fan shape. Sorority and Maine banners added to the decorations.

A Paul Jones was included in the order of dances, in which the members of the party became acquainted.

Partners for the novelty dance were chosen by matching numbers on "Snapping Mottoes." These were selected from attractively decorated baskets, the boys choosing yellow and the girls pink mottoes. In each favor was found a paper hat and a prize.

Refreshments at intermission consisted of ice cream and fancy crackers and punch was served throughout the evening.

Thirty couples enjoyed the music furnished by Libby's orchestra.

The chaperones for the evening were Mrs. Merrifield of Brewer and Mrs. Hendrickson.

Altho pledges to the M. C. A. are not due until the week of Jan. 4, they are acceptable at any previous time and would be appreciated.

Annual Football Game Is Won by Freshmen

Before a large and enthusiastic audience, the freshman team defeated the Sophomore team, 13-0, Saturday afternoon. The battle raged in the Soph territory most of the time and despite long gains by the sophomores, the fast freshman ends and backfield kept the sophomores from getting far out of their own territory. The '25 team was entirely out-punted by their junior opponents. A forward pass from Ward to Newhall was responsible for the touchdown in the first quarter. The other came in the third quarter when Clark intercepted a forward pass and thrilled his audience by juggling it.

Superior football that was shown in many cases by the teams made up in a large part by this year's varsity scrub team and others who were ineligible, shows that the team should not suffer next year for lack of material.

Pierce and Repshaw were the individual stars for the sophomores, Ward and Jackson, former Deering High players, played very well for the freshmen. Clark and Emmons playing at full and half back, made long gains, while Carroll, a Hebron star, and Newhall were on the job every minute giving them good interference and bringing down their opponents for losses.

Capt-elect Small drilled the victorious '26 men and the '25 team, Capt. Lunge's charges, showed team work, although outplayed. In the last half, the freshmen substitutes all got a chance, making nearly three whole teams which played for '26.

The freshmen kicked off and held the sophomores for downs. Ward made a pretty gain thru the line to the soph 20 yard line. An incomplete forward gave the ball to the sophomores. Forced to kick a few minutes later, the freshmen received the ball on the 32 yd. line and a pretty end run by Emmons brought the ball to the 15 yd. line. Ward took the ball for 2 yards more and then Newhall snatched a pass out of the air and crossed the line for a touchdown. Ward kicked the goal.

Receiving the kick from the frosh, '25 obtained first down when Wilkinson took the ball thru the line. A lucky recovery of a fumble and the quarter ended with the ball on the fifty yd. line.

In the second quarter, Emmons made two good end runs, bringing the ball to the middle of the field. Despite two fumbles, the sophomores managed to keep the ball, which stayed in freshman territory the rest of that quarter.

The freshmen showed their teeth again in the third quarter. Driven down the field, the '25 team obtained the ball in the shadow of their own goal and kicked out of danger just in time. A few minutes later Repshaw intercepted a forward pass giving '25 the ball on the 45 yd. line. But the tide was due to turn again. After a few small gains the sophomores tried a forward pass. Clark, a freshman, intercepted the pass, catching it after it had bounded from the hands of a teammate and crossed the line for a touchdown. The try for the goal was unsuccessful.

Pierce received the ball and carried it to the 32 yd. line. Here the '25 team was forced to kick and the freshmen with the ball on the 10 yd. line were unable to gain. The ball stayed in the middle of the field for the rest of the half, neither side being able to gain consistently.

Fraternity Histories At University of Maine

The University of Maine chapter of Beta Theta Pi owes its origin to the E. C. Society, organized Sept. 25, 1875 by William T. Haines, later Governor of Maine, and prominent in State politics after his graduation in 1876. He was not alone in the formation of the society, but was assisted by other equally enthused men. This society was organized to secure a charter from a greek letter society, and in 1878 it became the Eta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Chi. This was an eastern fraternity with five chapters, and in 1879 it united with Beta Theta Pi then a strong western fraternity, which desired to secure the eastern wing this union gave them.

The desire to acquire property showed itself at the very organization of the E. C. Society, and it very shortly purchased the hall in the Mayo Block, Mill Street, Orono. The hall burned soon after its purchase. This loss was sufficiently severe to prevent further steps in this direction for some years; but in the early eighties a chapter house fund was started and had reached several hundred dollars when the Orono Savings Bank, with which it was deposited, closed its doors. This put a stop to the accumulation of a

"The Lion and the Mouse" Rehearsals Held Weekly

Rehearsals for "The Lion and the Mouse" are being held every Tuesday and Thursday evening. The cast are attending these rehearsals regularly, learning their parts well and, all in all, putting their very best into it. There will be fine costumes for this production, as Rines Bros. have been kind enough to say that they will supply them. If the students do as well in purchasing tickets for the production as the cast are doing in the rehearsals, "The Lion and the Mouse" will be a great success.

R. O. T. C. Responsible For Damage to B. R. & E.

By H. S. Boynton '24

Those who have read the bulletin board in Alumni Hall the past week could not have failed to observe the notice posted by President Little relative to the conduct, (or rather more correctly, misconduct) of certain members of the R. O. T. C. on the cars of the B. R. & E. during their transportation to and from Bangor on Nov. 11. The notice itself needs no comment, for it is a perfectly plain and man-to-man invitation to those responsible for damaging the cars to do the only thing for men having any sense of fair play or responsibility to their Alma Mater and its president to do, i. e., "come across." But mere financial reparation is not the main thing. This kind of conduct should be stamped out.

The occurrence of Nov. 11th is by no means an innovation. It has occurred several times before and has grown to be a sort of tradition—a tradition, by the way, of which the University is ashamed, not proud. It is just such occurrences which give rise to undesirable publicity and the reflection of discredit upon the institution. The men responsible for the damage were not only students of the University of Maine, and as such were expected to conduct themselves as gentlemen, but were also wearing the uniform of the United States Army upon which their conduct reflects nothing but discredit and shame. The first and last lesson of a soldier is discipline. The first and last duty of a soldier is the protection of life and property, not their destruction.

It is to be hoped that on next Armistice Day every member of the R. O. T. C. will feel it an individual responsibility to do his part toward the prevention of any repetition of the unfortunate occurrence of this year and consider it his duty to conduct himself in a manner which may reflect credit upon his University, the uniform he is wearing, and upon himself.

have its own dining room and kitchen. And girls are to be given an opportunity to earn part of their way through college.

Plans of all these buildings have been drafted by C. Parker Crowell of Bangor and are in the president's office.

Besides these items, President Little has asked for $82,000 for absolutely necessary equipment for the three colleges. If this money is included in the running expenses of the University, these expenses will come to $375,000 annually.

President Little stated that these requests might seem large. But in view of the debt of $560,000 in the last six or seven years, he felt the above requests to be necessary.

Doctor Foster Speaks Before Chapel Audience

At chapel exercises Dr. Allyn K. Foster gave the student body several pointers about acquiring an education. He said, "No man is symmetrically educated until he has three kinds of knowledge—physical, mental and spiritual."

"You must do your own work. I do not know whether you work by proxy or not, but there stands inside of you a monitor that says that kind of thing will not develop your mind."

"In study do everything thoroughly. You will benefit by it in the end. I once heard a definition of speed which seems very appropriate. 'Speed is the process of missing as much as possible between the point of starting and the finish.'

"Don't shirk a subject because it is hard. A hard task is a challenge. My son asked me if he had to take Cicero next year. I said, 'No, you don't have to take it. It's a moral question. Either you down Cicero or Cicero will down you. Which will it be? You're a live American, and he's just a dead Dago!'"

"Remember that religion is the stream of energy which will make your life as dynamic, and well rounded as you want it to be. It is like a great river that furnishes power for the mills along its banks and still flows on as broad and deep as before."

At a meeting of the Budget Committee in Augusta last Monday, President Strickland of the Board of Trustees and President Little of this University presented the needs of the University and asked for the following sums of money.

First: $147,900 for repairs. These repairs, as President Little explained, are absolutely necessary if our buildings are to be made habitable.

Second: $50,000 to place our heating plant in a safe condition. As many of us know, under the present conditions the heating system may collapse at any time.

Third: after explaining the congested conditions at our University due to the rapid increase in the number of students he asked for money for several new buildings.

President Little asked for $40,000 for a new dairy building, to take the place of the exceedingly poor structure which has to serve the purpose at present.

He also asked for $220,000 for an Arts and Science building. This building is to contain recitation rooms, offices and conference rooms.

Finally he asked for $160,000 for three units of girls' dormitories, to house forty girls each. Each dormitory is to be made habitable.

Orono High Team Coached By University Graduate

For the second successive year, the Orono High School football team, coached by Bert Mackenzie, U. of M. '15, came through undefeated. Playing a schedule of nine games, the University town eleven easily won them all, and has proved itself one of the best High School football machines in the state.

The team has been supported this year more than ever before by the town people. Their spirit is shown by the fact that last week each member of the eleven, including Coach MacKenzie, was presented with a sweater by the Orono Chamber of Commerce. A banquet was given the gridders, at which the speakers were Dean Boardman of the College of Technology, Sidney Osborne, athletic director of the High School, Perley B. Palmer, one of the team's loyal supporters, Principal Cleveland Thurston, Mr. A. L. T. Cummings and Prof. E. F. Hitchings.

Mackenzie is especially to be congratulated on the fine work he has done this season. He gave all his time and has certainly deserved much credit. The students presented him a watch guard as appreciation for his work.

The scores of the game played are:

Beta Theta Pi Has an Informal House Party

A very enjoyable party held at the Beta House November 10, was the result of good planning on the part of the committee which consisted of "Spider" Webb, "Phil" Oak, "Bob" Hamlett. The shincy floor showed that the freshmen had also done their part.

During the supper hour the lights went out and then there was a lively time. They were fixed all in due time and dancing was enjoyed from then until a late hour, more refreshments being served at intermission.

As a party would not be complete without some chaperones, Professor and Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. Hendrickson acted in that capacity.

The invited guests were:

Ruth Spear, Rockland; Dorothy Simpson, Kennebunk; Mayre Libby, Newport; Virginia Averill, Old Town; Ruth Barstow, Calais; Rachel Maling, Bangor; Theresa M. Jackson, Waterville; Dorothy Newcomb, Presque Isle; Madeline Gillen, Bangor; Beatrice Cleaves, Farmington; Shirley Roberts, Portland; Beulah Osgood, Orono; Ruth Crowell, Bangor; Dorothy Byther, Stillwater; Doris Fife, Vinalhaven; Eloise Webb, Bangor; Irene Lurett, Hallowell; Laura Knudson, Portland; Thelma Moore, Newport; Katherine Andrews, Thomaston; Carolyn Marr, Fall River; Helen Mayo, Chebaygon, Mich.; Helen Pratt, Corning, N. Dean Boardman Receives Radio Letter Information

The following interesting announcements were received by Dean Boardman from the Radio Corporation of America.

For the first time in the history of international communication, the Radio Corporation has announced a service which enables the public to send messages to London and Germany at a rate slightly higher than postage. The rate announced is six cents per word with no minimum requirement.

The arrangement was made in view to serving the public as well as the business interests of Greater New York. For the present, the service is confined to London and to Germany.

A message may be filed any day in the week up to Saturday with the designation "Radio letter," or its abbreviation "RL" and it will be transmitted in time to reach London or Germany the following Monday morning. While registered code addresses are acceptable, the text of the message is restricted to plain language only.

A. S. M. E. Looks Forward To Successful Year

With its membership constantly swelling, the University of Maine branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is looking forward to one of the most successful seasons it has had since it was established on the campus.

Arrangements are now being made by officers of the society to have representatives of various large manufacturing concerns in here to address the members, and motion pictures sent out by headquarters and manufacturing companies will be displayed at future meetings.

At present thirty-five students of mechanical engineering are enrolled in the organization and many applications are being received from members of the sophomore class. Freshmen are not eligible for membership but all interested in mechanical engineering are welcome to attend the meetings and listen to the discussions.

A feature of some of the meetings will be the reading of original scientific papers by members of the club. Several students have already been assigned special topics to look up and are preparing to deliver talks in the near future.

At a meeting in Lord Hall on Nov. 8, Prof. W. J. Sweetser told the members about "An investigation of a Boiler Explosion on the Maine Central Railroad." He was on the committee of the Inter-State Commerce commission which investigated a recent explosion and he read the official report, explaining the cause of the explosion from an engineering standpoint.

A discussion in which members of the club participated followed and there were refreshments of cider, peanuts and cigars, procured through the energy of Stanley G. Hall, chairman of the refreshment committee.

Fernald S. Stickney '23 is president of the local branch this year, and B. A. Perkins '23, is vice-president. Other officers are: Treasurer, P. A. Anderson; secretary, Eric S. Hope; senior delegate to the executive committee, Stanley G. Hall.

Red Cross Roll Call Directed by R. O. T. C.

By Henry Doten

The annual Red Cross roll call is now under way at the University of Maine. This annual drive for membership is under the direction of the cadet officers of the R. O. T. C. They are aided in this work by the regimental, battalion and company sponsors, who are conducting the drive among the girl students.

Due to the fact that the material for conducting this campaign was late in arriving and insufficient to cover all the houses, the drive progressed rather slowly at first. This difficulty, however, has been overcome and the drive should be a very successful one.

There is no need to tell of the wonderful, constructive work that the Red Cross is doing everywhere; not only among our wounded soldiers, but in every phase of life where aid is needed. The Red Cross motto, "At the service of all mankind" is certainly an appropriate one. Every Maine student should feel it his duty to support such a worthy cause.

The drive is being carried on by assigning a solicitor to each fraternity, sorority and dormitory. A record will be kept for each group and, at the close of the drive, a membership percentage will be computed and published. In addition to this, the national chapter keeps a record for each college.

Therefore, join now. Make your group attain a 100% membership. Put Maine at the top of the college list kept by the national chapter.

Collegians Greeted with Tremendous Applause

Tremendous applause followed the selections given by The Collegians, under the direction of Carl Libby, during chapel hour on Monday, November 20th. This musical program, the second of the season given by The Collegians, was a great deviation from the regular routine of speakers and lecturers, and was greatly enjoyed by the students and faculty who were fortunate enough to hear it.

Two little worms were digging away. They were digging away in dead earnest. Poor Ernest!

The cadet corps of the University held a regimental parade on the athletic field last Saturday. Colonel Strickland and Major James were the reviewing officers. Immediately after the review the companies were closed into a mass formation in front of the reviewing officers.

Colonel Strickland made a short address and presented the following commissions:

Henry L. Doten, Colonel, Comdg. Regiment; Leland S. March, Major, Comdg. 1st Bn.; Theron A. Sparrow, Major, Comdg. 2nd Bn.; Ralph A. Getchell, Captain, Company "D"; Franz R. Dolliver, Captain, Company "G"; Stephen S. Kaler, Captain, Company "F"; Chase R. Lappin, Captain, Company "A"; Clifton M. Hamm, Captain, Company "E"; Russell S. Leighton, Captain, Company "B"; Louis P. Desjardins, Captain, Company "H"; Hillis P. Holt, Captain, Regimental Adj.; Philip A. Sargent, 1st Lieut., Company "F"; Albert E. Weymouth, 1st Lieut., Company "E"; David A. Goldberg, 1st Lieut., Company "C"; Francis G. Shepherd, 1st Lieut., Company "A"; Edward W. Thomas, 2nd Lieut., Company "G"; Phillip H. Stevens, 2nd Lieut., Company "D"; Lorenzo G. Currier, 2nd Lieut., Company "H"; Orman J. Humphrey, 2nd Lieut., Company "C"; Robert N. Haskell, 2nd Lieut., Company "F"; Leonard J. Bragdon, 2nd Lieut., Company "F"; Phillip H. Taylor, 2nd Lieut., Company "C"; Roger D. Mackay, 2nd Lieut., Company "B"; James C. Mulligan, 2nd Lieut., Company "D"; Bentley S. Hutchins, 2nd Lieut., Company "B"; Henry G. Perkins, 2nd Lieut., Company "A"; John M. Donovan Jr., 2nd Lieut., Company "E"; John A. Small, 2nd Lieut., Company "H"; George C. Hilton, 2nd Lieut., Company "G"; Charles L. Beckett, 2nd Lieut., Company "H"; Bruce H. Davenport, 2nd Lieut., Company "D".

Major James complimented the regiment on the appearance of the review stating that the first and last companies were especially good in their formation. A collection was taken to cover the cost of damages done by a few unthoughtful men in returning from the armistice day parade.

Like all real active projects the Military Circus is still growing. Last week's appeal for performers has resulted in several new artists in the field of tumblers, acrobats, clowns, etc. The personnel is not yet filled up, however, and there is still a chance to win fame in the big top. Special acts are shaping up well and new features are being added.

Work on the tents to house the concessions, side shows, and the entrance to the big top is progressing well. These tents are to be complete even to the trimmings. The wild animals are on the way and things are fast taking shape to make the 1922 circus bigger and better than last year and one to be remembered. It promises to be another feature of Maine's clean-up year. The causes to which the proceeds of the circus will go are ones which every student should be glad to support, but in addition to supporting several good causes everyone attending the circus will be assured of his money's worth. Jot down the date, Friday, December 8 and plan to make it a gala day. Plan to take in all the side shows, the big top performance, the dance and drink lots of pink lemonade.

On Wednesday, November 22, the members of the faculty, together with their families are invited to attend the Demonstration to be given by the Military Department. The object of this demonstration is to create between the military and other departments a closer friendship and to exhibit samples of the work done by students of the military classes. Among the exhibits will be articles used in field fortification, miniature trenches, tactical problems and the sand table reproduction of the campus to scale.

D. Steinmetz Speaks On Amateur Wireless

Dr. Steinmetz who is an authority on high power electrical phenomena says that there is no hazard in the amateur radio receiving stations as is generally believed. He says it involves no fire risk nor risk to life. It is merely a harmless toy, but is a great deal more than a toy. It is one of the most valuable developments of the last years, by its instructive and educational value and the recreation and pleasure which it supplies. It would therefore, be very regrettable if by a misguided public opinion obstructions were placed in the way of the fullest and freest developments of the amateur stations. With regard to the possible lightning risk from the grounded antenna, first, the lightning risk in a city is very remote in any case and, second, the grounded antenna rather acts like a lightning rod and exercises a protective action against lightning.

Dr. Little Addresses Chemical Society

At the last meeting of the Maine Section of the American Chemical Society, held November 10th at Aubert Hall, Dr. C. C. Little gave an informal talk to the members on "Productive Scholarship."

"Scholarship is free to all and not confined to a few. It is merely a desire for information and ability to understand. The attitude and philosophy of life taught at the University should be carried out into later life."

During the business part of the meeting nomination and election of officers took place. The following officers were elected for the year 1923:

During the evening Staples '21 and Jocelyn '21, who at the present time are with the telephone company in Pittsburg, Penna. called up by telephone and all the boys enjoyed a short talk with them. The football and cross country glories were discussed and several cheers were given for each. It was planned to have a dinner in the near future and more of the recent graduates are expecting to be present. Last but not least we are going to cheer the boys along the Van Cortlandt cross country course on Monday, Nov. 20.

forty or fifty yards from the tape the plucky Captain from Maine uncorked a pretty sprint and won from the Bates man who crossed the tape in an exhausted condition. Raymond followed closely by Hillman, finished in sixth and seventh positions—Raymond overcoming cramps in the early part of the race by hard work and the old fight brought himself from out of the rear up to the leading contestants. Hillman, a freshman running his first N. E. race stuck close to his running mate Raymond, finishing a fifth of a second behind him. Patten running a consistent race thru the course finished in twelfth position, having a good lead over Holt of Bates. The next few seconds were anxious ones for Maine supporters until Kneeland crossed the tape in twenty-second position. Up to the last mile Bates seemed to be leading in the scoring and when the last straightaway was reached Maine and Bates were tied. Foster and Howes of Bowdoin, MacCorkle of Tufts and Marvin of Brown were leading Kneeland by a few yards but urged on by Maine supporters he sprinted and finished well in the lead of this group of men. Ames was checked in thirty-second place and Webb in 38th, both these men being ahead of Tech's fourth and fifth men.

Bowdoin finished in fourth position and Tufts was the next team in order. New Hampshire State who had been figured to be one of the chief contenders finished in seventh position. M. I. T. and Tech furnished the big surprises for Tech had been favored to win without any real difficulty while Bates was not figured among the first few teams to finish. Ward was an added addition to the Bates team and was just nosed out by Fasse of Williams for eighth place. Plaisted of Bowdoin crossed the tape in fourth position and the Doherty brothers of Tufts added materially to her score. Maine's power to win was in her evenly balanced team and the ability to fight when the opportunity demanded it. Cross country like every other sport has its breaks and the race is not over until the last man breaks the tape.

Coach Flack and Assistant Coach Brooks deserve the greater part of the credit for the winning of the State and N. E. championships this year. These men have labored under difficulty with mediocre material to build up a team to compete for Maine. With competition keen, with a good squad of men out the results obtained above have been accomplished.

This week will be spent in preparation for the National Meet which is held at Van Cortlandt Park, Monday afternoon, November 27th. In all probability the same team with the exception of Hillman and with another additional man will be run in New York. Freshmen are not allowed to compete on Varsity teams in the National run.

A Penny Tag Day was held on Thursday and Friday and nearly everyone wore a tag before the two days had passed. These tags admitted the holder to the Carnival.

"Connie" Turner as the "wild woman with elastic curly hair" and vicious growls proved to be a great attraction.

The success of the fortune telling booths proved that most of the people were eager to know their future and the magic cards of Frankie Webster, Harriet Weatherbee and Elizabeth Armstrong told many surprising tales.

The Shooting Gallery where there was an opportunity to "Take a crack at your favorite professor" was a great drawing card and many a grudge was paid back by hitting the favorite good and hard. The idea carried out was that of the "hit the nigger" effect and there was much amusement caused by seeing a likeness of "your favorite professors" with his head through a hole in a curtain.

The attempts to blow the top off the spirometer after dipping the tube in alcohol were very numerous and several boxes of candy were won by the successful ones.

Any carnival would not be complete without its freaks and "The Chamber of Horrors" contained many weird beings. The shrieks heard from those who had entered the chamber drew many curious ones to its doors. Upon entering the chamber the victim had to walk the bridge of life which ended with a sudden drop after which one found himself in contact with Caesar's brains, Bluebeard's wives and ancestor's eyeballs.

The Witches' Forest with its huge harvest moon was an enticing place and the witches who stirred the cauldrons provided many interesting fortunes.

The detailed information given by Madeline Rhoda as Madame Defarge as to "Why girls leave home" was received very eagerly and proved valuable to many.

Among the other attractions were: the food booth conducted by the Home Economics girls, Bowling alley, Moving pictures, Bathing Beauties, Fish Pond, Gold diggers and the Live Wire.

Dancing began about 10 o'clock and at frequent intervals entertainment numbers were introduced. The first of these was the "Pie Eating Contest" which was won by Harold Howe.

One of the features of the evening was the prize "boxing match" between "Bantam" Bailey and "Bull" Shorey. Bantam proved to have the best of the fight during the first two rounds but was finally knocked out in the last round and "Bull" Shorey was hailed as victor.

Cora Clare and Marjorie Rowe gave a very pleasing Hawaiian duet.

The music for the dancing was furnished by the Girls' orchestra consisting of Florence Merritt, piano; Beatrice Johnson, drums; and Sarah Wiswell, saxophone. Miss Merritt alternated with Miss Hunt and Johnson at the piano while Elizabeth Linekin served as alternate at the drums.

Penobscot Valley Alumni Give Football Banquet

he has put into this year's squad. Captain-elect "Hank" Small briefly stated prospects for a next year's championship team.

Prexy Little then made an eloquent speech in which he not only praised this year's team but also spoke on a matter which all of our Alumni all over the country should have heard. It was about the Endowment Fund which is being raised to erect a memorial to the Maine men who gave their lives in the World War. The proposed memorial is to consist of an armory and gymnasium. We want the Alumni to get back of this project and push hard, for with this interest shown by the Alumni the State can have no excuse for bucking the amount of appropriation asked for by the University. President Little was greeted with great applause and impressed the Alumni that the "Old Maine Fight" was going stronger than ever.

Cheers were heard and music was furnished during the banquet; the occasion ended with the singing of the Stein Song.

This year's letter men are: Capt. Lunge, Capt-elect Small, Lord, Fraser, Merritt, Blair, McKechnie, Gruhn, Thomas, Elliot, Campbell, Taylor, Cutts, Savage, Weiner, Doerr, and Mgr. Hoyt.

some of the veterans a close race for honors.

At present, Maine is the only college in the state which belongs to the New England Basketball League. This is entirely to her credit and to the strong teams which U. of M. has produced in former years, for this league has no mediocre members.

The schedule is one which includes some of the strongest college teams in the sport. Fair samples of these are Syracuse, Boston College, and New Hampshire State. Close followers of the game know what these teams have to offer.
