Maine College Teams to Compete in the Carnival

A team of Maine winter-sportsmen will be enabled to get some real practice this week-end when they compete in the Colby Carnival at Waterville. It seems to have become a regular custom for the Maine colleges to invite teams from the other state colleges to compete in their carnivals. Bowdoin and Colby have already accepted invitations to be represented at Orono during our carnival.

The committee has definitely decided that the Carnival Ball will be a formal, instead of a costume affair. As the general trend of opinion seemed to favor this change, it was made in order to please the majority.

All the plans are now progressing without a hitch. Carnival stamps have been sent to the Alumni, and enthusiastic responses are beginning to come in. The Girls' Athletic Association has offered to work in connection with the Intramural A. A. This shows that the girls have a high grade of spirit and want to see the Carnival a success.

Four Seniors Receive Phi Beta Kappa Honors

It was announced in Chapel on Thursday by Dean Stevens that the following Seniors had been elected to Phi Beta Kappa at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon:

David Gross, Mildred Ena Lombard, Mabel Blakeslee Peabody, Mary Crowell Perkins.

As has been previously announced, elections are made from the College of Arts and Sciences, and the grades considered are on a slightly different basis from those used in making elections to Phi Kappa Phi. The following extract from Article Four of the By-Laws of the local Chapter will be of interest, in view of the fact that more of the Seniors will be eligible for a second election, to be made sometime before Commencement:

"Members in course. Not more than ten per cent of the total number of prospective graduates of the College of Arts and Sciences shall be elected from the senior class. One-half of this number, in the order of scholarship standing, may be elected at the beginning of the second semester of the senior year. The others shall be elected before Commencement from a list comprising the upper fourth of the class according to the standing at the end of the first semester of the senior year, and the choice shall be made on the basis of scholarship, breadth of culture, and general promise.

"The grades of the freshman year shall not be considered.

"Students coming from other colleges must have earned at least three semesters' credit in this college to be eligible for a place on the list. Grades earned elsewhere shall not be considered."

Rifle Shooting As An Intercollegiate Sport

By William R. Biggs, Manager Yale University Rifle Team 1920-1922

The Great War brought many changes in the colleges of the United States yet perhaps none of them have been as striking as the sudden growth in interest in Rifle Shooting as a regularly constituted college sport.

Men who have used a rifle or shot to any great extent can testify to the great charm of the sport and thus the war by bringing more men into contact with the rifle taught them and made them feel its fascination.

Yet there is one factor which we must recognize had a large part in the growth of Rifle Shooting at the colleges. This is the novelty of the sport. At Yale when we first started our telegraphic matches there was an immense amount of interest because of the newness of the idea. Small bore shooting, and that is what I am largely referring to, is very little exercise and so the sport must appeal more for its own sake. The management of a rifle team more than perhaps any

Junior Class Plans Drive to Sell Prisms

A meeting of the junior class was held on Thursday, January 18, 1923 at Alumni Hall.

Hazen Ayer, editor in chief of the 1924 Prism announced that there was going to be an active drive for the sale of the book started soon. It is planned to distribute subscription cards, and those signing, pay one dollar down and the balance at the time the book is put out, which will be no later than May 10, 1923.

"There is plenty of room for more snap shots for the grind department," "Rat" Kennison said; and any one having good snappy pictures would be thanked upon giving them to him.

Hutchins stated that the juniors' pictures weren't coming in very fast and he asked if each member of the class would try and get the ones that haven't already done so to hand them in. He also informed the class that two and a half dollars must accompany each picture and for the members to be as quickly as possible about this for he needed money to get the book started.

The chairman of the junior week committee reported that junior week would come one week later than it came last year. This is because of college keeping a week later and that by changing it there will be a ball game here during the week.

Dramatic Players Give Second Lyceum Concert

The second Lyceum Concert of the season was presented in Alumni Hall, January 11.

The entertainers were the White Dramatic Players, who staged the comedy entitled "The Rainbow."

The scenes of the play were laid in New York and France. The story centered around a family which had been separated by a serious misunderstanding. Mrs. Sumner, wife of Neil Sumner, had accused her husband of a crime for which he was innocent.

In this way the family circle had been broken and Mrs. Sumner and daughter, Cynthia, who was very small, left New York, and made their home in France.

As Cynthia grew into womanhood, she wanted no other, than to meet her father of whom she had no remembrances. She finally induced her mother to send her to New York. On arriving in New York she found her father associated with an undesirable society set.

Mrs. Sumner who had followed Cynthia to America on seeing the conditions and environment into which her daughter had fallen, returned home with Cynthia.

Sometime after they were followed to France by Mr. Sumner, who proved his innocence and was received once more into the family.

Freshman Basketball Team Defeated by Bangor High

The freshmen met their superiors in Bangor High Saturday evening at City Hall in Bangor. The score ended 36-22, and early in the first period it was evident that Bangor was a dangerous contender.

Girls' Basketball Team To Play Lee Academy

The first varsity Girls' Basketball game will be played in the gym, Friday the 26th, at seven o'clock. The game is with Lee Academy and promises to be a peppy one. Manager Winslow wants a team of which the whole college can be proud and to make this possible the team must have the support of the boys as well as girls.

The attention of those interested in sports is called to the Girls' Basketball game with New Hampshire State Friday, Feb. 2. This is the third successive year that the girls have played this college. New Hampshire State girls always have a splendid team. There will be a dance after the game.

Sophomore Owls Initiate Six Pledge Members

On Wednesday, January 17, 1923, six more sophomores were initiated to membership of the Sophomore Owl Society. This increase in the number of Sophomore Owls is because of the fact that at present there is not enough of the old Owls who are not athletes to handle the duties of the society.

The following men were initiated: Malcolm Lake, "Rusty" Kneeland, "Larry" Connor, "Nip" Stone, "Toby" Everett, "Hoyt" Savage, and "Fat" Cambell.

"M" Club Sets Standard For Varsity Sweaters

The "M" Club and Athletic Board have recently decided to have standard sweaters for the various sports and after consideration of the scheme adopted the Dartmouth plan of sweaters which is as follows:

Football: Blue ring neck sweater with interwoven letter.

Baseball: Blue coat sweater with letter.

Track, cross country and relay: White sweaters with automobile collars or v-neck with letter.

Basketball and Hockey: Blue sweaters with automobile collar or v-neck with letter.

The color of the letter is to be the same as in previous years, the college color, light blue.

These regulations will go into effect this year as soon as the new sweaters arrive. Hosea Buck of Bangor has very generously donated sweaters to the championship football and crosscountry teams and the sweaters are to be made under the new regulations. Mr. Buck is an alumnus of the University of Maine and is at present the alumni trustee. He is actively interested in all activities of Maine and is a loyal rooter for all athletic teams. There are very few athletic games in the state that he and his family miss. He contributes much to the old Maine Spirit for he is as good a loser as a winner.

Much Rivalry Shown In Girls Class Basketball

Last Wednesday night a double-header game, the Juniors playing the Freshmen, and the Sophomores playing the Seniors, finished the Girls' Inter-class basketball series.

The game between the Freshmen and the Juniors was rather one-sided. But the Junior class showed "pep" and spirit as they have in all the games. The Freshmen have good material and good team work, and hopelessly outclassed the Juniors. The score was 21-2 in favor of the Freshmen.

The line-up:

JUNIORS	FRESHMEN
E. Percival	f K. Andrews
M. Lee	f Myers (Emery sub)
B. Johnson	sc H. Marr
B. Keyes	c K. Hunt
R. Savage	g A. Sargent
M. Rowe	g D. Newcomb

The sophomore-senior game was a stiff fight. The Sophomores were confident. So were the Seniors. But the Seniors didn't quite have the team work of the Sophomores. The Sophomores won 28-11 and so became class champions. They were class champions last year also. They have almost a varsity team.

A valuable document of great curiosity to all those interested in the future of the University of Maine has recently been discovered in the archives of the Penobscot County Registry of Deeds. This document is a deed recording the transference of the Maine State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts by the Trustees to the people of the State of Maine as a whole and though filed away many years ago is plainly legible.

The deed, dated July 28, 1870 was signed by Abner Coburn and Samuel Johnson, President and Clerk respectively of the Corporation then known as the Trustees of the Maine State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. The name of the institution was later changed to the University of Maine.

The deed provided for the transfer of "all the real estate, land and buildings thereon situated in Orono, in the county of Penobscot and now used and occupied by said corporation as their college grounds." Provision was made in case the land was ceased to be used for the purpose of said college, "then the State of Maine shall pay to the said town of Orono the sum of money heretofore expended by that town in the purchase of said premises, viz., eleven thousand dollars."

The Legislature voted its approval in an act passed on March 19, 1870 and money was voted for maintenance of the College. In expressing its approval the legislature provided that a transfer

Weather Conditions Not Helping Relay Practice

The "weather-man" has not been using any of the outdoor sports very well during the last week and relay running has not been an exception. Despite the bad weather and slippery boards, the squad has been practicing every night.

With the B. A. A. meet coming on the 3rd of February and the squad in good condition, Coach Flack has only about a week and a half to smooth up a team to go to Boston and race our ancient rival, Bowdoin.

Unfortunately, the relay squad is not very large but with the three veterans, Captain Kneeland, Ned Lawrence and Pick O'Connor to build on, Maine will have a team which will do honor to the University.

More on Societies

In last week's Campus we published in this column an editorial based on the theme that the field of the so-called honorary or professional society is one that may be so developed as to bring about undesirable results to both students and the institution which they attend.

We felt and still believe that there was need for comment on this point, but we freely admit that our remarks were ill-timed in that they encouraged misinterpretation of our actual meaning. Many individuals assumed that we were making direct reference to certain newly-founded organizations upon the campus, one in particular. They may have been justified in so thinking in that our article appeared at the time when one of the more recent of these organizations was being installed, and in that the general terms which used might easily be applied to this particular case. However we wish to state definitely here, that no direct reference was intentionally implied.

It was not our intention to throw cold water on any individual organization and certainly not on one that was national in its aspect. We did, however, fully intend to call attention to an obvious tendency to encourage extensive inferior development in that field in this University.

We have not condemned any organization. We will not condemn any organization in the future simply because it is new. But, we believe that we have so sounded local sentiment and tendencies in this respect that we have reason to fear that any type of organization denoting any special line of activity, might readily become recognized upon this Campus, almost regardless of its quality or merits.

It is not our mission to belittle real development that has taken place, nor to discourage healthy progress in the future. But we do feel it our duty to emphasize the sacredness of this field in college activity and to issue a warning against careless handling of such treasured traditions.

Lost Alumni

Under our alumni columns we are publishing in serial form, a list of alumni whose whereabouts are uncertain or unknown. Information in regard to any of these people will be very gladly received.

Finding of Deed

In the Bangor News for January 15, an article appeared which had direct bearing upon the attitude of the state government toward this institution.

It seems that there has been unearthed in the Penobscot County Registry of Deeds an old deed establishing state ownership of this University. The deed was dated July 28, 1870.

The fact was also mentioned that in 1905 the legal status of the University of Maine was recognized. At this time the state assumed all interest in the college and pledged itself to provide for upkeep in every way.

These facts will serve as ammunition for friends of Maine in case we encounter any great degree of hostility on the part of the government in the future.

Hockey Managers

Much unwarranted difficulty in securing freshman tryouts for assistant hockey managers has been evidenced. Can it be that the cold, winter weather has robbed some of our freshman brothers of their intelligence? Are we to understand that they are deaf to the call of opportunity. Let's go fellows! Here's an opportunity for some fellows to serve their college as well as to become a factor in one phase of campus life. The ones who have an interest in that line are doing themselves and their fellow-students an injustice in hanging back.

Wearing the Toque

From observation we would say that the freshmen this year are far from appreciating the significance of the class toque. We wish to impress them, if possible.

The wearing of the class hat is one of our oldest existing traditions and one most worthy of continuance. This is one of the ties that binds classmates together in that never-to-be-forgotten brotherhood. You fellows who are such super-beings that you can afford to refuse to recognize this tradition—are you ashamed of your class—or what? If that is the way you feel it is high time that your own classmates revived a bit of the old time razzooing for your special benefit.

If you are not ashamed to be one of your own class, then show your spirit and wear your hats. When they abolished razzooing in this part of the world, they didn't do it under the assumption that freshmen should have complete freedom from that time on. They did it because they believed that the modern young was capable of doing things right without being under compulsion.

New Society, Sigma Eta Founded at University

Sigma Eta, a horticultural society, was founded last spring. The purpose of the society is to promote the interest in horticulture among the students. Students majoring in horticulture, the faculty of the department of horticulture, and the faculty of the extension service and the experiment station interested in horticultural work are eligible for membership. At present the society is small but promises to be of interest and value to its members.

An initiation was held Thursday Jan. 11. The initiates were: Danitza Arangelovich, Charles L. Beckett, William D. Haskins, and George C. Hilton.

Dr. C. F. Thwing Will Lecture Here Friday

Dr. Charles Franklin Thwing, President Emeritus of Western Reserve University, well-known speaker and writer of many books on educational, sociological and religious subjects, will be here Friday evening for a public address. The occasion of his visit is the installation of the new Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, which is the oldest and best-known honorary scholarship society in the country. As has been previously announced, the College of Arts and Sciences has succeeded in getting a charter from this Society after some years of effort.

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Alumni Hall the students and faculty will have the only opportunity of hearing Dr. Thwing. The meeting will also be addressed by delegates of the other Maine chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. Seats will be reserved for members of the Chapter, delegates, and invited guests from other parts of Maine.

HISTORY OF FRATERNITIES

Phi Gamma Delta

The history of the Maine Chapter of the Q. T. V. Fraternity begins with February 28, 1874. On that date John I. Guirney, Rodney D. Hunter, George M. Shaw, Alfred M. Goodale, Edson F. Hitchings, Sidney S. Soule, and Charles F. Colesworthy were initiated as charter members. Its object was: enjoyment, sociability, and the best interest of its members thru life.

Where the society held its first meetings cannot be determined from the members to its roll. The society had now been used for several years and the ground on which it stood was desired by the trustees for other purposes. It became necessary therefore to move the building to another site. After much discussion and much consultation with the college authorities a lot was finally chosen, and the hall removed. The moving emphasized pretty sharply the needs of the society for better accommodations and on Nov. 17, minutes of its meetings, for strangely enough no reference whatever is made.

PHI GAMMA DELTA HOUSE

The quarters were evidently unsatisfactory, for it is known on March 28, 1874 a committee consisting of Walter Bentine and Samuel H. Clapp was "appointed to look up a better hall for the society." On April 18, the Committee reported that Mayo's Hall, on Main street, could be secured, and they were directed to engage it for a year. Sometime during the spring of 1876 the society began to agitate the question of owning a permanent place of abode. On March 25, a committee was appointed to wait upon the trustees of the University and confer with them in regard to securing a lot for the proposed hall. This committee reported on April 15, and the plans prepared by them were accepted and the new hall was built. The year 1877 seems to have been one of quiet prosperity. The society, now well housed, was mainly employed in adding to the furniture of its home and new 1886, a vote was taken for a new chapter house.

After long years of waiting, after most persistent effort, and great self-denial, the society found itself in a condition to enter upon the fulfillment of a long delayed hope—the building of a new house. The society moved in sometime in June 1898, in time to hold a Commencement reception.

A representative was sent to the 51st Ekkllesia of Phi Gamma Delta held in Dayton, Ohio, October 19, 20 and 21, where a charter was granted on October 21. The formal delivery of the charter and installation of the officers occurred at the Chapter House on the evening of November 24, 1899. A special initiation and banquet was held March 17, 1900, at which a considerable number of alumni were made members of Phi Gamma Delta.

Today there are sixty-four active chapters and 37 alumni chapters in Phi Gamma Delta. Phi Gamma Delta, like other fraternities, was necessary for a time confined to the East. But during the great Mid-west and Far-west expansion, it grew with the greater schools. Conservative in its selections of new chapters, it has always kept abreast of the pioneer growth.

The total number of members of the fraternity living and dead is about 20,000. About 18,000 are living at this time. The number of men initiated by the chapters every year is about 700.

The present active chapter at the University is made up of the following men:

Donald F. Alexander '23, Bangor; Ceylon R. Archer '23, Bangor; Gerald M. Bates '23, Portland; Edmund H. Bartlett '23, Orono; Wilbur R. Christo-

Deed Giving College to State Discovered

should be made by the Trustees Corporation of the college property to the State of Maine, which is to be forever owner of the institution, its buildings, equipment and real estate which had been originally deeded to the Trustees by the Inhabitants of Orono, March 26, 1866, and the deed recorded in Volume 394, page 430, Penobscot Registry of Deeds.

The name of the College was changed to the University of Maine in 1897 and recognition of the legal status was made by a joint committee of the legislature in 1905 which reported that "as this is a state institution, it is the opinion of your committee that it should be placed  on a standing equivalent similar to institutions of similar character in other states."

The committee provided further that the "just obligations of the state towards the University are to care properly for the students who are in attendance, to secure competent faculty, an adequate equipment of apparatus and buildings, with a reasonable view of the present and future."

From this it can be seen that the State not only has a moral responsibility but a legal responsibility as well in the proper and adequate maintenance of the University of Maine. As to what effect this discovery will have on the future policy of the state legislature in its relation to the University is hard to say at present but it may have a great influence not understood at the present time.

other must keep wide awake and constantly promote its sport, and try to institute new and interesting features continually. Because of the telegraphic feature of the matches one of the great incentives to going out for a sport is taken away and this must be counteracted. The feature to which I refer is the taking of trips which is one of the most important factors in getting men to come out for the minor college sports. Every manager should do his best to get his Athletic Association to finance one trip a year if possible. Arrangements could be made with another college to shoot alternately on each others home range or some neutral range upon certain prescribed conditions. This would do more than anything to keep interest in the sport alive and to get the best men out.

Another factor which helps keep interest up is the constant addition of new features in the way of shooting and in the schedule. For the last two years Yale has shot an annual match with Oxford University and this has done more than anything to arouse the interest of the undergraduate public and the sympathetic support and cooperation of the Athletic Association. Last year a new feature was added to these matches in the addition of a two-stage match one stage the regular prone slow fire and the other prone rapid fire. This stage was suggested by Oxford and was shot on targets furnished by them. Yale furnished the slow fire targets. The Yale team made a perfect score in the rapid fire stage. The new rapid fire stage aroused keen interest among the members of the squad and there was a great deal of rivalry in the tryouts for the team to shoot against Oxford. Intersectional matches are also great stimulants to interest.

There is one thing which I think should be especially encouraged and that is the official recognition of the sport by the University Athletic Associations and the awarding of the insignia to members of the team. I have had so many letters asking for the basis on which we are awarded letters by our Athletic Association that I shall try to clear the matter up here. It had been till last year the management's policy to award the rYt to all men placing in the Harvard, Princeton or Oxford matches but there were obvious injustices in this method and last year we recommended for insignia the ten men with the highest averages in the matches all during the season. This method will I think be found the fairest. Last year in addition to the ten rYt insignias the Athletic Association recognized our very good record in the prone shooting by awarding the five highest men on the team their class numerals in addition to the rYt. We are of course given a regular budget and are a fully constituted minor sport. The Athletic Association has been most sympathetic and helpful and it is difficult to see how they could have done more. Personally I am very strongly opposed to the control of the Rifle Team by the R. O. T. C. This tends to keep the Athletic Association uninterested and limits members of the team to members of the R. O. T. C. Co-operation with the R. O. T. C. is both necessary and beneficial to both. At Yale this organization has done a very great deal for us and only through the aid of its officers and commander has the existence and development of the sport been possible. The ideal arrangement is control by the Athletic Association and cooperation with the military.

For the future I think the greatest hope of development of indoor shooting lies in the standardization of conditions, the development of the off-hand, sitting, and kneeling positions to obtain greater variety; and the recognition more fully by the War Department of the immense value of Intercollegiate shooting in the preparation of the nation by sending each year a certain number of recognized college teams (not R. O. T. C. teams) to the National Matches in the summer. Congress as well as the War Department must be confronted with the amazing possibilities and eventual economics in this type of preparation and this can only be done by unceasing effort and publicity.

There are times when those who are striving to promote the sport in college will become pretty discouraged. It all takes so much time and as colleges are as a whole very conservative the results may seem so very small. Yet those who are really working for the sport will find that though the material honor from their position is not great they will obtain an immense amount of satisfaction in knowing that they are doing their country a great service in helping to prepare it for the war which we all hope may never come. If the war comes how many lives may be saved by having as a nucleus for an army a body of college men who have learned how to shoot and how to take care of a rifle. The service is all the more worthy in that it will go practically unrecognized.

Kappa Phi Kappa Holds Installation of Officers

In the Kappa Phi Kappa chapter at "Maine," there will not be anyone admitted unless he is either a major or minor in education and of good scholarship. An aim will be to select juniors and seniors of right kind of manhood, as to make this organization not only strong within the college, but also to make it beneficial outside.

Shoes. Which kind gets you there the quickest?

TWO college men were walking down the road,
When a classmate whizzed by in his car.

"Pretty soft!" sighed one.

Said the other, "I'll show him. Some day
I'll own a car that's got his stopped thirty ways."

The more some men want a thing, the harder they work to get it. And the time to start working—such men at college know—is right now.

All question of classroom honors aside, men would make college count for more if they realized this fact: You can buy a text book for two or three dollars, but you can sell it for as many thousand—once you have digested the contents.

This is worth remembering, should you be inclined to the self-pity which social comparisons sometimes cause. And anyway, these distinctions are bound to be felt, even though your college authorities bar certain luxuries as undemocratic—as perhaps they are.

The philosophy that will carry you through is this: "My day will come—and the more work I crowd into these four years, the quicker I'll make good."
