Crozier Wins Campus Championship for S. A. E.

Allows but One Kappa Sigma Man
to Reach First Base

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the Inter-mural Baseball Championship Monday afternoon, by defeating Kappa Sigma 3-0 in a regular pitcher's battle. Crozier pitched airtight baseball, allowing but one hit and making nine strike-outs out of a possible fifteen. Jordan allowed five hits and struck out seven.

Three well placed bingles, one a two-base hit, netted S. A. E. their only earned run. The other two runs were in both cases due to hits, one a triple, and the men crossed the plate on wild pitches.

Review of the Year

(From the Prism)

The year which has elapsed has been remarkable in many respects. It has been the first under the leadership of the new President, Dr. Clarence Cook Little. With the beginning of the second half century of Maine's existence, her affairs have taken a new lease of life. A new and better spirit has shown itself both among the undergraduates and the alumni. From the celebration of the fiftieth commencement to the over-subscription of the student part of the Memorial Fund Drive, the year has been a success.

The last few weeks of the spring of 1922 were filled with activities in all lines. Maine's new president was inaugurated on May 10. The ceremony took place in the oval before Alumni Hall with such a setting as can be found only on the Maine Campus upon an ideal spring day. The state track meet was held at Colby on the following Saturday. The date, May 13, proved to be an unlucky one for our athletes, and Bowdoin romped away with first place honors. Meanwhile our baseball team was rapidly rounding into shape under the capable leadership of Coach "Wilkie" Clark. After making a decidedly favorable showing on its out-of-state trip the team came back and won five out of six state series games, tying Bowdoin

Bananas and Trainer to Gambol on the Seashore

Bananas IV left the campus early Tuesday morning with her trainer, G. K. Stackpole. From Orono they went to Stackpole's home at Sanford, Maine. After June 25th she will be at Hotel Atlantis, Kennebunk Beach, where her keeper is employed for the summer.

They will not be the only Maine representatives there this summer. Three other Maine men are included in the personnel of the hotel for the coming season. Geo. Webb '24 is to be front clerk, Ellsworth Emmonds '26, head waiter, and "Ginger" Fraser '26, porter.

Bananas promises to return in September full of vim after her summer at the seashore to win the football championship of the state.

Scene of the Massacre Has Real Waterloo Aspect

Rising night and the annual rope pull, which is the big event of that night, are over and the brave members of the sophomore class and a few men from the class below are now dry and happy.

In a little dark cove surrounded by trees and the river, the two opposing classes met to talk and fight things over. The territory half way between the bridge and the Phi Kappa Sigma house is neutral ground and if a few more than one-tenth of the sophomore class had been present the battle would not have been so one sided.

Previous to the battle, camp fires were built on the two opposite sides of the little stream that flows into the Still-water river. Many cheers and much noise of preparation could be heard from both sides. The dark figures moving to and fro in front of the respective camp fires, made the scene resemble a real battlefield.

Finally the big rope was brought out and a gallant Senior Skull carried one end of it to the north side of the stream. Then he announced that this side was ready and if it was agreeable to both teams, he would start things off by dropping a hat or firing a gun or something, the exact details being mixed, the excitement about this time was so high. The signal was given, the freshman started running with the rope towards Bangor. They were finally halted just before they reached the bridge by one of the judges who explained that the class of 1925 had let go of the rope and that the contest must be started over.

This time the class that let go enlisted the services of a tree, a usual proceeding, but even then the strong class walked off with the rope. The already victorious class was getting tired of this

Commencement

Commencement Week has again come to the University, bringing with it the joy of finals over, the satisfaction of tasks well done, and the gladness of home-going.

But to the Seniors Commencement brings still another sensation, that of regret at the thought of leaving their Alma Mater never again to return as students.

To these sons and daughters of Maine who compose the Class of 1923, the Campus wishes to extend its hearty best wishes. We are sorry to see you leave, and shall miss you as you have missed the classes before you. But we are sure you will meet the problems of future life in the masterful way that countless Maine men and women have done before, and that success will be yours in the end.

To the Alumni

To the Alumni of the University who return to the Campus this week to re-establish old friendships and to make new ones the Campus extends a cordial welcome on behalf of the student body.

At this time we wish to call to your attention a few facts about the Campus itself. This paper is published each week by students who are in close touch with the happenings here. It is intended to give an accurate account of everything that takes place during the college year, with editorial comment on those things that need attention.

Altho the Campus is intended primarily for the students, an attempt will be made next year to secure more alumni news, to give accounts of some of Maine's most successful graduates, and to make the whole tone of the paper interesting to the Alumni. In order to make this possible, we ask your co-operation. Whenever you learn some news concerning an Alumnus or Alumna of Maine, make a note of it and send it to the Campus.

The object of this attempt on our part is to secure more alumni subscribers. Haven't you felt that you would like to be in closer touch with the student body of your Alma Mater? Wouldn't you like to know what success Maine teams are meeting on gridiron, track and diamond? Isn't it of interest to you to learn of the activities of your fraternity, your friends, or your friends' brothers, sisters, sons or daughters? Even tho you have the Alumnus, and secure Maine news thru the daily papers, you cannot get all the smaller happenings that are so often of interest, or the student viewpoint.

So when college opens next fall send a dollar and your address to The Maine Campus in order that you may be brought in closer contact with the students, faculty, and alumni of your University.

Greet everyone with the cheery Maine Hello during Commencement Week, that the hearts of the returned Alumni may be warmed by the feeling that they are indeed "back home" among friends.

Keep on Boosting

With the close of the college year, the duty of Maine students to their Alma Mater does not end, for valuable service may be rendered by talking about the University with people who are interested in it, and by interesting boys and girls, who would make good Maine men and women, to come here in the fall.

If you are in Maine this summer, you will meet a great many people who are interested in the University as taxpayers of the State. Show these people Maine's needs, explain to them why the lowered appropriation was a handicap and a mistake, and outline to them the plans for a better State University, which only sufficient financial support can make possible.

In your dealings with prospective students, remember that Maine desires only that type of boys and girls who have the ability to make good students. Bear in mind that there are a great many young people who have none of the qualifications that students require, and would be sadly out of place among college surroundings.

With this in mind, then, go after only such prospective students as have good school records, for they are the ones that Maine needs. Find out what interests your prospect, and then show him what the University has to offer along that line. To the athlete, tell of the Maine's many athletic victories, and show him the brightness of Maine's future policy, with a new gymnasium and new coaching methods. Tell the person interested in non-athletic activities of the many fields that offer opportunity. Show them the Prism, and outline the plans for expansion of the University. Make them understand the advantages that Maine has to offer, and show them that in entering the University of Maine they will be doing something for which they will always be glad.

Bear in mind during the summer that upon your words and actions the University will be judged, for you are its representatives.

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates And Elects New Officers

Two times two is four, always." "But, mine goodness, fadder, what for are you in business? Couldn't you jew me down two?"

HISTORY OF FRATERNITIES

Sigma Nu House

Sigma Nu

Delta Nu Chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity evolved from the local fraternity of Theta Epsilon, which was organized at the University of Maine in 1904 by Ernest C. Brown, Fred V. Fifield, Arthur E. Davenport and Arthur C. Whittier of the class of 1904; Robert F. Rogers, Elmer G. Rogers and Frank O. White of the class of the class of 1905; and Frank B. Weick and Harvey H. Hoxie of the class of 1906.

For the first year of the organization's existence, meetings were held in Old Town. In the fall of 1905, the members moved into the building which is now known as North Hall. This building had been occupied by members of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and was vacated by them at the completion of their present home in that year.

Theta Epsilon was the eighth fraternity to be organized at the University, other fraternities at the time of its organization being Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

After petitioning the national convention twice, Theta Epsilon was accepted as Delta Nu Chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity, and at an initiation in April, 1913, more than 60 student and alumni members of the local society became Sigma Nu's. The initiation banquet took place in The Colonial, a Bangor hotel which has since been destroyed by fire. T. C. Higgins '13 of Bar Harbor, who was prominent in many undergraduate activities, was the commander of the fraternity at that time.

Work on the present home of Delta Nu Chapter was begun in the fall of 1915 and the building was ready for occupation the following year. Since that time the chapter has steadily strengthened and at present is classified as one of the leading fraternities on the campus.

Among the Sigma Nu alumni who won the privilege of wearing the "M" in recent years are: F. E. Baldwin '19, Newell Emery '19, Reynold "Tank" Graffam '22, R. G. Higgins '17, H. W. Jones '18, W. J. McCarthy '13, Karl "Pete" Oakes '22, H. A. Peterson '15, Ralph "Pop" Wentworth '18, John Walker '20, Reed "Jack" Harvey ex-'23, Fred "Jess" Willard '20, Harold "Fannie" Crosby '20, Lawrence "Rumi" Purington ex-'22, John Quinn ex-'22, Philip Libby '21, Herbert Tinker '21, Howard "Skin" Sewall '21, Pearl Johnson '21 and George Kirk '16.

Higgins, Jones, Oakes, Graffam, Kirk, Walker, and Sewall were members of the Senior Skulls.

Undergraduate Sigma Nu's who wear the "M" are John Jowett, Capt. Raymond Lunge of the football team, Drew Stearns, Eric O. Berg and Ebenezer King. Jowett is a member of the Senior Skulls; Lunge, Berg and King are members of the Junior Masks; and Walter J. Bunten is a member of the Sophomore Owls.

Thirty-four members of Delta Nu Chapter served the United States during the World War and four of these men, P. B. Sheridan '14, R. E. Fletcher '14, George Kirk '16 and W. C. Jones '17, gave their lives.

Sigma Nu is unusually well represented in the commissioned personnel of the R. O. T. C. Leland S. March and Theron A. Sparrow are in command of the first and second battalions, respectively; Stephen S. Kaler and Ralph A. Getchell are company commanders; Bently S. Hutchins is adjutant of the first battalion and Roger D. Mackay is a second lieutenant.

Members of the fraternity are prominent in many other undergraduate activities. Bently Hutchins is business manager of the 1924 Prism and Philip A. Harriman is assistant manager of basketball. Mr. March and Eric O. Berg serve on deputation teams of the Maine Christian Association in addition to their numerous other underakings, March being president of the Musical Clubs and Berg being the star back on the varsity basketball team. Fernald S. Stickney is president of the local branch of the A. S. M. E., a member of Tau Beta Pi and a Phi Kappa Phi elect. John Jowett is the first string pitcher on the baseball team. Lunge is the first baseman. Stearns is the third baseman and King is a fielder.

Ebenezer King is commander of the active chapter and Eric O. Berg is lieutenant commander. Lewis Reed is steward and Carl Crane is the treasurer.

The active chapter consists of the following men: Lewis H. Reed of Springfield, John Jowett of Uxbridge, Mass., Ralph A. Getchell of Portland, James L. McLeod of Bangor, Stephen S. Kaler of South Portland, Leland S. March of Old Town, Augustus P. Gregory of Fairfield, Fernald S. Stickney of Brownville, Theron A. Sparrow of Hampden Highlands, class of 1923.

Ebenezer B. King of Peabody, Mass., Eric O. Berg of Springfield, Mass., Carl H. Crane of Dover-Foxcroft, Vaughn L. Ladd of Dover-Foxcroft, Merwin K. Driscoll of Livermore, Raymond F. Lunge of Kennebunk, Drew T. Stearns of Hebron, Roger D. MacKay of Dorchester, Mass., Philip A. Harriman of Melrose, Mass., Bently S. Hutchins of Bangor, and William A. Simpson of Peabody, Mass., class of 1924.

Walter J. Bunten of Livermore, Richard C. Dawson of Claremont, N. H., Raymond H. Burton of Westbrook, Alton P. Keene of St. Johnsbury, Vt., William H. Whipple of Waterville, Egbert M. Andrews of Gray, David C. Jacobs of Rockland, Mass. and Harlan J. Emery of Bar Harbor, class of 1925.

Song for Graduation Day

I've strapped my dusty study books,
I've tossed them far away,
Now I'll tramp hte paths of summer
time
Quite free—for work or play.

And what shall you give me, sir,
To speed me on my road,
To fill the chinks of lonely hours,
To ease my heavy load?

You cannot give me Romance,
My true love I must find,
Experience I'll meet, alas!
And wealth may lag behind.

You cannot give me Life itself,
Go find a mirror, then,
Where I can see things passing strange—
The lives of other men.

And when the road's not right to tramp,
When all the world's in rain,
I'll turn from life—I'll find your gift—
Come back to books again.

Good Openings for Agricultural Grads

Quite a number of members of the graduating class from the College of Agriculture have been solicited for good salaried positions in agriculture, forestry or home economics. Nine of the seniors have already accepted attractive offices. Gerald C. Dunn of Monmouth is to be county agent in Somerset county and Clinton E. Small of South Portland assistant county agent in Aroostook. Frank M. Small of Orono has been appointed assistant state milk inspector in the Maine Department of Agriculture. Adolph L. Bisson of Skowhegan and Ronald C. Stevens of Kingfield will become connected with the Massachusetts Department of Forestry. Martha A. Sanborn of Standish has been appointed home demonstration agent for Oxford county. Iva A. Merchant has joined the staff of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station. Kenneth E. Gibbs of Livermore Falls will teach agriculture at Leavitt Institute. Turner, and Wesley F. Porter of Patten has been elected instructor in agriculture at Patten Academy.

There are seven other Maine high schools and academies that are seeking agricultural instructors and are in correspondence with members of the graduating class. Many of the agricultural course grads will work on farms this summer and some of them have in prospect good jobs as farm managers.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Beta Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity held an informal dance at the Chapter House, Tuesday evening, May 29.

The house was prettily decorated in the fraternity colors of purple, green, and gold.

An order of sixteen dances, the last two of which were confetti dances was much enjoyed. Music was furnished by Reiche's orchestra.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served at intermission. Prof. and Mrs. Pollard acted as chaperones for the occasion.

business so they made an attack. The side on the defense did noble work in warding off the attack, but they were greatly outnumbered. They fought bravely when they were headed towards the water and it usually required two or more freshmen to put one sophomore into the so-called frog pond. In time they had all tasted the water. Some of them acted as if they had been bitten by frogs, their get-away was so hasty.

After the battle was duly won, the class of 1926 ran, not from fear of the enemy, but because they wished to announce their victory by blowing two short and five long blasts of the whistle at the power house. The noise of battle and then the blast of the whistle evidently kept people in the vicinity awake a good part of the night, but as this event comes only once during the year no one should complain.

The next morning the boys gathered to talk things over and they decided that there were no hard feelings between the two classes. "The rope pull of the night of May 28, 1923 was the best one in years," "Chubby" Thomas was heard to remark.

Phi Eta Kappas Have Formal Dancing Party

An order of twenty-four dances was enjoyed by those present. During the last three, confetti and serpentine served to furnish a novelty. The dance orders were tied with suede cords, also of green. Excellent music was furnished by Barney's Society Orchestra of Boston.

Mrs. Weeks, the fraternity matron, acted as the chaperone for the party.

Football Prospects for Championship Are Good

Coach Brice will lose only three letter men by graduation and with several good prospects to fill their places he should have an easy time turning out another championship outfit. Maine is extremely fortunate in this respect, as some of the other colleges in the state are losing several of their stars who will leave college via the sheepskin route.

Henry Dyer Small of Charleston, will lead the Bears next fall. Last season he was unanimously selected by the experts for the position of all-state half-back. For the past two years he has been the mainstay of the Bears' backfield and should make an ideal leader.

The line, which did unexpectedly well due to the coaching of Cuddy Murphy, should be stronger than ever. Mackechie, right end, and Len Lord of Saco, will be lost this June, but with Newhall, Taylor and Stover, to choose from, the position should be well filled. As understudy to Len Lord last fall, Mike Gentile of Rumford developed into a clever and accurate snapper-back and will probably land a regular berth and his letter. Acheson, center on the freshman and second teams last fall, is also a good prospect.

Lunge and Fraser will be back at tackle. Lunge has in the past two seasons put up a mighty fine game and his playing has drawn a great deal of praise.

Cambell, S. Jordan, Doerr and Repsch, guards last year, should hold down the positions again.

The backfield material is plentiful and combines not only quantity but quality. Captain Small is slated for one of the half-back positions, while Blair and Foster will battle for the other halfback. Blair has played varsity football for the past two years and Foster was a varsity halfback two years ago. Both are fast and hard players. Blair excels in broken field running, while Foster's strong point is defensive work.

Gruhn and Weiner, fullback, form a pair which a rookie will have a hard time to break up. Until his injury in the Vermont game last fall, Gruhn was the offensive star of the Bears' backfield and his line plunging also aided materially to victory. Weiner, who is a freshman, replaced Gruhn and put up a whale of a game, especially on the defense.

Besides these letter men, Coach Brice and his assistant coach, "Cuddy" Murphy, will have a wealth of material to draw from in the present freshman class. Foremost among these are Ralph Jackson of Deering, Francis Ward, former Deering high school athlete, "Tubber" Littlefield of Newburyport, Mass., Clyde Stover of Brookline, Mass., "Big Bill" Plate of New York, Freddy Newhall of Lexington, Mass., Charles Emmons of Kennebunk, Kenneth Barker of Dover-Foxcroft, Frank Mishou of Houlton, Wilfred Beaudette of Worcester, Mass., and several others who have signified their intention of coming out for the team.

SIR ISAAC NEWTON

James II is Dead— NEWTON Lives

It has always been known that free bodies fall. The earth has a strange attraction. How far does it extend? No one knew before Newton, sitting in his garden, one day in 1665, began to speculate. "Why should not the attraction of gravitation reach as far as the moon?" he asked himself. "And if so, perhaps she is retained in her orbit thereby." He began the calculation, but overwhelmed by the stupendous result that he foresaw, he had to beg a friend to complete it.

In Newton's Principia were laid down his famous laws of motion—the basis of all modern engineering. The universe was proved to be a huge mechanism, the parts of which are held together in accordance with the great law of gravitation.

James II was reigning when the Principia appeared in 1687. He is remembered for the Bloody Assizes of Jeffreys, for his complete disregard of constitutional liberties, for his secret compacts with Louis XIV and the huge bribes that he took from that monarch, and for the revolution that cost him his crown; Newton is remembered because he created a new world of thought, because he enabled scientists and engineers who came after him to grapple more effectively with the forces of nature.

When, for instance, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company determine the stresses set up in a steam turbine by the enormous centrifugal forces generated as the rotor spins, they practically apply Newton's laws in reaching conclusions that are of the utmost value to the designing engineer.

for the state championship. The commencement of 1922 was the fiftieth in the history of the institution. At commencement time a pageant was staged showing various phases of college life, as they are now, and as they were in the early days of the institution. It is not exaggerating to say that the pageant was the most brilliant spectacle of its kind ever seen in this state.

Summer School followed the close of the school year, and at this 1922 session, the enrollment was record-breaking. Most of Maine's sons and daughters spent the summer in other lines of activity, and it was not until September 12 that they gathered again to take up the work of a new college year.

Everyone felt the new vigor and renewed spirit in the air. The class of '26 experienced it when the M. C. A. extended the glad hand at the freshman reception. Maine's athletes seemed to feel it keenest of all. It was a clean-up season in football and cross country. During the whole season the football team lost only two games. These hard-fought battles were with University of Vermont and Dartmouth. Connecticut Aggies, Norwich and New Hampshire State all bowed to the team coached by Fred Brice and "Cuddy" Murphy. Then came the state series. The state championship was annexed in one, two, three order. The game scores were: Bates, 19-6; Colby, 14-0; Bowdoin, 7-6.

The cross country team under Captain McKeeman and Coach Flack was not to be outdone. At the annual state meet held at Lewiston, the Blue barriers clinched the state championship with a record-breaking low score. A week later at Franklin Park in Boston the Maine runners were again victorious with a new record score of 49. They brought home for the second time in two years the cross country championship of New England.

Maine's natural setting is ideal for winter sports, and the winter carnival of this year was even more successful than that of last year. There was keen competition in all the events. The Maine snow birds were in evidence at other Carnivals through the state; at Augusta they won the Governor Baxter cup for the second time in succession.

The intra-mural athletic events have not been so prominent this year as in the past. Phi Eta Kappa easily won the track cup, and Sigma Nu the basketball cup.

The girls' basketball team, coached by Miss Theresa Huesman, played well throughout the schedule. The administration of girls' athletics has come partly under the supervision of a new organization, the Girls' Athletic Council. Another marked step was the creation of a new administrative office, that of Dean of Women. Dr. Caroline Colvin was appointed to that position.

The Maine Masque has completed a successful trip, and the University Play, presented by the Combined Masque and Domino, was a feature of the winter carnival. The "M" Club put on a minstrel show in Bangor which received the most favorable comment.

Perhaps the greatest single accomplishment of the year has been the carrying out of the Memorial Fund Drive to secure a five hundred thousand dollar gymnasium and armory to be dedicated to those forty-two sons of Maine who gave their lives in the World War. The student quota was set at $100,000. A pessimist would have said it couldn't be done, but there were not any pessimists in college, and the needed sacrifice was made. On the night of April fourth the student body went over the top with two thousand dollars to spare.

The past year has been better than most years of the past. The hope of each student is for a bigger, better

Maine, and all are working to gain that goal. As we look forward, the horizon is bright.

The two finalists will be the survivors among the following: Weiner, Chung, Davenport, Curtis, C. Smith and Alexander and Carter.

Play will be continued Saturday and the tournament will probably end Monday. The winner of the single tournament will receive the Oriental Cup donated by the Oriental Restaurant Company of Bangor and will also be presented with the Southard medal for the single championship of the University of Maine.

The doubles have progressed as follows:

Curtis and Glenn defeated Babb and Seymour 6-0, 6-1. Carter and Tamm defeated Judkins and Carter 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Morse and Smith defeated Weiner and Webber 6-4, 6-4.

Davenport and Smith defeated Burdick and Andrews 6-4, 6-3.

Second Round—Chung and Tamm won from Curtis and Glenn 8-6, 6-4. This pair has qualified for the finals.

The winner of the Morse and Smith versus Davenport and C. Smith will play Chung and Tamm for the Southard doubles championship medals.

To date the total subscriptions of the faculty of the University to the Memorial Fund have been $17,040. The spirit of the faculty appears to be of the best and on a par with that of the students.
