 ‡School still in session.

DISTRICT No. 1.

Spring term, 8 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 28 ; average No. 24. Miss Addie S. Remick, teacher.

As this was Miss Remick's first attempt in a mixed school, it seemed odd to her at first, but she soon adapted herself to the work and proved a good teacher. Wages of teacher $6.50.

Fall term, 9 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 32 ; average No. 25.

Miss M. E. Barrell had charge of this term, proving herself one of our ablest teachers. Wages of teacher $7.50.

Winter term, 12 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 34; average No 28.

Miss Remick returned to teach the winter term and met with as good success as in the spring. Wages of teacher $7.50.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Spring term, 8 weeks; Fall term, 8 weeks; Winter term, 10 weeks.—Greatest No. in attendance, 22; average No. for the year 15.

Miss Carrie L. Webster taught in this dist. during the entire year, meeting with the best of success. Wages of teacher $7.00.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Fall term, 8 weeks; Winter term, 12 weeks.—Greatest No. in attendance, 18; average No. for the year, 15½.

Miss Belle J. Webster taught both terms. Miss Webster is a smart, energetic teacher, making it a pleasure to visit her school. Wages of teacher $5.87½.

DISTRICT No. 4.

Fall term, 8 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 8; average No. 6. Miss Emma F. Marstin, teacher.

Owing to a misunderstanding, we were unable to visit this school but once, but both scholars and parents spoke well of the school. Wages of teacher $4.50.

The winter term, in session at this time, began Dec. 13, 1886, with C. W. Mountfort as teacher. We hope he will do well.

DISTRICT No. 5.

Spring term, 8 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 4; average No. 3.

Miss Gertrude Davis taught this term and accomplished as much as any one would with the same number of scholars. Wages of teacher $3.75.

Winter term, 10 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 7; average No. 6. Miss Emma F. Marstin, teacher.

Miss Marstin tried to have a good school and as far as we know gave general satisfaction. Wages of teacher $5.00

DISTRICT No. 6.

Spring term, 7 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 28; average No. 25. Miss Georgia M. Hill teacher.

Miss Hill's methods are good, but she lacks in government, without which, no school is successful. Wages of teacher $5.00.

Fall term, 9 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 27; average No. 23. Miss Julia A. Merrill, teacher.

We visited this school three times and were well pleased with its appearance both as regards order and improvement. Wages of teacher $5.00.

Winter term, 12 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 23; average No. 18. Mr. Joseph H. Merrill, teacher.

This was Mr. Merrill's first school; we hope that with experience he will make a successful teacher, as it was, we think he had more school than he knew what to do with. Wages of teacher $32.00.

DISTRICT No. 9.

Spring term, 8 weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 10; average No. 9.

Miss Flora P. Merrill taught this term of school and knowing how far advanced it was, (having taught here the previous winter) she was enabled to begin work at once and teach a successful term. Wages of teacher $4.75.

Winter term, 15, weeks.—Whole No. of scholars, 7; average No. 5.

Miss Julia Griffin taught this term and, although some of her methods were not quite up to the standard, we were well satisfied that she taught a good school. Wages of teacher $5.00.

BOOKS.

As the time for which we were bound to use the present kind of text books has nearly expired, we would strongly recommend changing some of them. Many of the books are badly worn, others are out of binding, etc. We think by judicious management these old books may be exchanged for new ones, of as good or better kind than those now in use, with but small expense to the town.

SUMMARY.

We think it of but little use to call your attention to the condition of some of our school houses, as many better men than we have done so many times before us without avail.

As a whole our schools for the past year have been successful. There have been seventeen terms of school during the year, and they have received thirty-three visits from the supervisor.

In the report we have endeavored to present each school as it appeared to us at our several visits.

We would take this opportunity to thank the teachers and agents for their assistance and courtesy shown us while performing our official duties, all of which is respectfully submitted.

CHAS. W. MOUNTFORT,

Supervisor of Schools.
