TRUSTEES AUTHORIZE LEASING OF LAND FOR BIOLOGICAL RESEARCH

Plot of Five Acres Leased At Bar Harbor

Summer Camp Training Included

Projects to Be Made Entirely Self-supporting

Leasing of two separate pieces of land, one to be used for biological research, and the other for the possible establishment of a camp to train summer camp directors, and also to raise small fur-bearing animals, was authorized by the Trustees of the University of Maine at a meeting May 1.

The first plot, containing five acres of land situated at Bar Harbor, was leased from George B. Dorr, director of the Lafayette National Park. This is to be used as a summer station for instruction and research in biology, both plant and animal. Dr. C. C. Little, president of the University, who is a biologist of note, considers this to be the best chance for inland biological research east of the Rockies. This is because it borders the Lafayette Park, which is an untouched field of plant and animal life, and is remarkable in that it contains flora and animal life of three types, Canadian, temperate, and southern. Although there are several stations in the east for marine research, inland stations with the natural facilities for naturalistic research and study available in the Lafayette National Park are rare.

Dr. Little plans to spend most of his time next summer, with six or eight undergraduates of the University mapping out the region for study, and fitting out a research laboratory in a house situated on the leased land. The land has been leased under arrangements that

Schoolboys Make New Records in Meet Here

Hebron Winner with 45½ Points;
Portland Second with 39

With a perfect day and only a fair crowd, the Maine prep schools succeeded in smashing four state records in the Maine Interscholastic Track Meet which was held on Alumni Field, Saturday, May 3.

Hebron, with a team which featured in both the track and field events, won the meet with 45½ points with Portland second at 39 and Gardner third with 24 points.

Rowe, the Hebron high point man, broke the broad jump record by leaping 21.8 feet. Black of Portland High set a new hammer record at 148.5 feet, and then proceeded to boost the discus record up to 115.2 feet. Morrill of Gardner High sprinted over the hundred yard in 10½ seconds. MacDonald of Gardner High equalled the high jump record but was unable to make a new record.

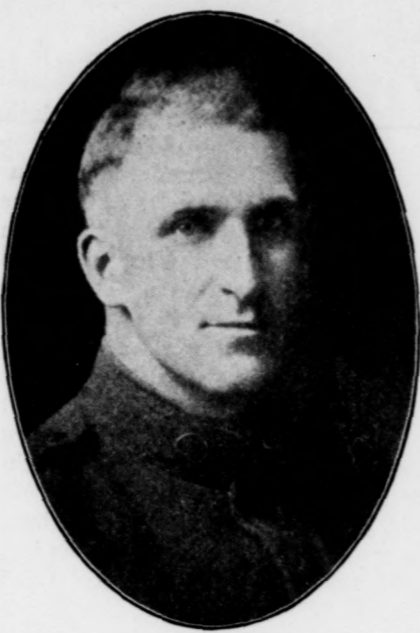

The summary:
Hebron 45½; Portland 39; Gardner 24; Thornton 7½; M.C.I. 7; Cony 7; Morse 6; Kent's Hill 6; Bangor 5; Rockland 3½; Corinna 2; Dexter 1; Washington Academy 1.

H. L. RICHARDSON
Who Will Become County Agent May 10

H. L. RICHARDSON IS COUNTY AGENT

Senior Will Begin Duties in Washington County May 10

Harrison L. Richardson, a senior at the College of Agriculture, has been appointed County Extension Agent in Washington County, to succeed Donald W. Reed who is now doing similar work in York County. The new agent will start work on May 10 with headquarters in Machias.

Mr. Richardson who is 31 years old and married, is thoroughly familiar with farm work. He lived on a farm until he was 15 years old. After leaving high school he worked as a farm hand. For one year he was employed on a farm specializing in dairy, potatoes, and orchard, belonging to H. M. Hart of Holden. During his college course he spent two summers on a dairy farm and during other vacations he was actively engaged in white diarrhoea work among the poultrymen of the state.

For two years Mr. Richardson attended Bar Harbor High School but left before the end of his course to go to work. At this time he gained much of his farm experience. When the war came he enlisted and served 18 months overseas in the 26th Division.

Upon his return from the war he entered the College of Agriculture where he majored in Poultry Husbandry. He will receive his degree in June having completed his work early so that he could get into Washington County at the earliest possible date.

Mr. Richardson was prominent in military work, debating and student government while at the University. He was Captain in the Scabbard and Blade and Captain and Regimental Adjutant of the U. of M., R.O.T.C.; secretary and treasurer of the Delta Sigma Mu; three years a member of the debating team; manager one year; president of the Debating Society; President of the House of Representatives of the men's student government. In addition he was a Mason and member of the Grange.

Phi Gam and S. A. E. Lead In Intermural League

The interfraternity baseball schedule commenced one week ago Tuesday. Thus far three games have been played, and much interest is shown in the games by the different houses.

The Phi Gamma Delta played the first game of the series against the Phi Kappa Sigma. Both teams made a good showing for their houses, even though the weather was more fit for hockey than for baseball. The final score was 7 to 4 in favor of the Phi Gam boys.

The second game was staged between the S. A. E. and the Delta Tau. The game was a complete walk-away for the S. A. E. team. The Delta Tau team could offer no resistance, and as a result they were "white-washed." The score was S. A. E., 7, D. T. D., 0.

There was also a game played between the Sigma Nu and the Theta Chi. This game was a tie, and will be played off in the near future.

SOUND LEVELRY WELL THE SEQUEL TO "M" CLUB MUSICAL

Four Fraternities Entertain Friday Evening

Kappa Sigs Had Cherry Festival

Four Parties Held Saturday Night Also

With the "M" Club Minstrel Show in the Chapel and dancing parties at Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Chi, Friday evening, May 2, was a night of revelry on the campus. The following night was not without its attractions either, as Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Phi Sigma and Alpha Gamma Rho held parties.

A Japanese Cherry Festival, at Kappa Sigma, decorations for which were planned by Mrs. Ella J. Mason, was the novelty of the evening. The exterior of the house was decorated with electric lights of scarlet, green, and white, the fraternity colors, in the shape of their pin. Within, the house was a bower of flowers. Hollyhocks, wisteria vines, cherry blossoms, and bouquets of chrysanthemums gave the effect of a Japanese garden. Panels with Japanese characters, lattice work, and lanterns added to the effect.

The guests were dressed in Japanese costumes, and during the first four dances the couples were masked. Among an order of sixteen dances, two novelties, one a ladies' choice, were enjoyed. Each dance was named appropriately. Music was furnished by George Goodie's Orchestra of Old Town.

During intermission refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and ice-cream were served in the study rooms, decorated to represent tea rooms. The favors were writing sets in several colors.

The patrons and patronesses for the evening were Mrs. Ella J. Mason, the matron of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gould, Professor and Mrs. Embert Sprague and Mrs. James Connors, and Mrs. E. C. Jones of Bangor.

Much credit is due to Mrs. Mason who planned the decorations and showed so great an interest in helping the boys to make their annual masque ball a success.

SIGMA NU CABARET

A cabaret dance from 10 to 2 at the Sigma Nu House was another feature of the evening. Festoons of crepe paper in the fraternity colors, black and old gold, entirely concealed the ceiling and over the stairs was an arch of crepe paper. Small tables, decked also in the fraternity colors, were ranged about the walls, and illuminated with colored lights. The veranda was banked with evergreen boughs. Charles Evans' orchestra played for an order of 16 dances, all but four of

Freshmen Win Easy Game from Rockland

Rising of Rockland Has Bad Day on the Mound

Rockland High School was defeated by the Freshmen to a tune of 8-0. The game drew a crowd to see Rising, the Rockland High star twirler. He only stayed on the mound two innings, having a bad arm which he got in his last game; but while he was in, four were retired being satisfied to swing at the air. Thompson substituted for Rising and performed very well.

The freshmen were air tight, letting in no runs, nor making any errors. Foster showed the high school boys what he had on the ball and was a considerable improvement over last week. The infield was clever but a bit slow at times while the outfielders were on their toes, making several good catches.

Lee Vrooman and Wife To Be Commissioned May 11

Next Sunday morning at 10:30 in the College Chapel Lee Vrooman and his wife are to be commissioned for service in the foreign field. Lee and his wife will represent Maine in Turkey, but are to be sent under the auspices of the American Board of Commissions for Foreign Missions. The service will be a formal and unique one.

Brewer Eddy, brother of Sherwood Eddy, will be the main speaker. Rev. Mr. Wilson will give the commissioning prayer. Dr. Little is also on the program, and "Olie" Berg will represent the student body and will God Speed Lee and his wife. Lee Vrooman's father is also expected to be present. The United Parish's quartette and a student male quartette is also on the program.

The service is being held in the College Chapel at the request of the M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. The United Parish is co-operating with the M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. by not holding any service in Orono, but are coming up to the commissioning. The M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. hope that the student body will attend the service 100%.

SEVER ATHLETIC RELATIONS WITH COLBY COLLEGE

Maine May Not Compete in State Meet

"Mike" Ryan is Cause of Break

Challenged Integrity of Prof.
Archer Grover

Unless Colby authorities apologize for allowing M. J. Ryan, their coach of track and field athletics, to bring what President Little believes is an unwarranted accusation against Prof. Archer L. Grover, Maine will have no more athletic relations with the Waterville college this year and will not enter the state meet at Lewiston on May 16.

Following a meeting of the Athletic Board Friday evening, May 2, when the matter was thoroughly discussed, Dr. Little sent the following letter to Acting President Taylor of Colby:

Professor J. D. Taylor,
Colby College,
Waterville, Maine,

My Dear Professor Taylor:

In the absence of President Roberts I am writing you on a matter of great disappointment to me, affecting seriously the athletic relations between Colby College and the University of Maine.

At a meeting of the Maine Inter-collegiate Track and Field Association, held at Waterville on May 1st, 1924, Mr. M. J. Ryan, coach of the Colby track team and an authorized representative of Colby College, accused Professor Archer Grover, the chairman of the University of Maine athletic board, of having communicated instructions to a competitor in the Maine intercollegiate meet at Orono last spring.

As representative of the University and of our athletic board and with the unqualified approval of that body, I hereby wish to notify you, and through you the athletic board of Colby College, that these charges are false and that until they are retracted with proper apology the athletic relations between the University of Maine and Colby College are severed by us from this date.

Very truly yours,

C. C. Little.

Orono, May 2, 1924.

Moon's Minstrel Show Pleased Friday Night

Specialties and Choral Selections
Make Big Hit

A typical Harold Moon production was successfully given by the "M" Club in the chapel Friday evening. A snappy show, featured by clever dancing and excellent singing, was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

The chorus of 75 men and women, dressed in evening clothes, was set out by a scene of Oriental magnificence and with a Mosque Minaret in the background.

The Minstrel men were led by Rufus Sewall, the dancing girls by Anna Green, while the "Grand Master of Ceremonies" was Sidney Osborne.

The New Broom

As an exercise preliminary to the serious business of writing editorials, it is customary for the incoming editor of The Campus to restate those policies which former editors have found healthy and sane, and to outline a program for the year.

The incoming editorial board, believing that the chief mission of a student newspaper is to record, in equitable perspective, all of the events which claim attention from day to day, will conduct its work with a threefold purpose: to present all of the news; to treat all individuals and organizations fairly, and to reflect in the editorial column, as accurately as possible, the general trend of student thought.

A daily newspaper is the voice of the crowd for a day. The Campus is the voice of the student body at the University of Maine for the week. Members of the editorial board are servants of the students; it is their business to hear the voice, report it accurately, and interpret it correctly.

The Campus, because of the exigencies of space, is purely local in its scope. It is concerned only with events of immediate interest to the University of Maine. When we begin to publish some of the publicity material which certain agencies persist in sending us, readers of The Campus may understand that reporters have been negligent.

Correspondence on matters of vital interest will be abstracted or published in full, whether or not it conflicts with the editorial point of view. We do not solicit unfavorable criticism of the paper, but we are willing to listen to it if it is offered in a constructive spirit by competent persons. Lincol n's counsel, "to correct errors when shown to be errors, and to adopt new views when shown to be true views," is particularly apropos for all students connected with The Campus.

We have implicit faith in the future of the University of Maine. As an institution, it lacks the rich traditions of some other New England colleges, but we are not sorry. For with a glorious record of achievement, there comes a tendency to rest on the oars and gaze fondly back at ripples evoked in the past. We are making our history now, and The Campus staff is faithfully committing it to type. In the words of Dean Stevens, "We are headed toward the rising sun."

Coaches and Diplomacy

Authorities of Colby College, acting in cooperation with what we believe is a broad minded student body, have a question to decide which is of vital interest to the University of Maine. They must determine whether or not their coach of track athletics, Mr. M. J. Ryan, had the right to challenge, without offering proof, the integrity of Prof. Archer L. Grover, who for 25 years has been a member of our faculty and for eight years has served as chairman of the athletic board. At a meeting of the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Association in Waterville on May 1, Mr. Ryan made the allegation that Prof. Grover "brought information onto the field at the state meet last year and gave it to a competitor." As Prof. Grover was a timer at the meet, such an act would have been improper and would merit his suspension as an official of the association. Mr. Ryan moved that Prof. Grover be excluded as an official from the forthcoming state meet, and Mr. John Magee of Bowdoin College, who has for years been to Mr. Ryan what Damon was to Pythias, supported him. Thus Prof. Grover was eliminated from serving as an official.

Prof. Grover denies the accusation and Mr. Ryan has made no effort to convince him and members of the association that the charge was true.

The Athletic Board of the University, accepting this action as ample evidence that "something is rotten in the state of Denmark," promptly severed athletic relations with Colby College and notified the president of the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Association that Maine's entrance into the state meet at Lewiston will be held in abeyance pending the receipt of an apology from Colby. The apology has not been received and the attitude of our Waterville friends seems to be that they intend to support their coach, without investigating his charges.

It is unfortunate that an institution has permitted a professional coach to disrupt athletic relations which have been mutually agreeable. It would be doubly unfortunate if Colby students felt that it would be inconsistent with college loyalty to repudiate his error of judgment.

The whole affair is unfortunate, and it emphasizes a fact which educators all over the country are beginning to realize: that the domination of professional coaches in colleges must cease. Professional coaches have their place; it is on the athletic field. When they intrude in the diplomatic relations between institutions, there is trouble or corruption, sometimes both.

Two professional coaches, dominating an intercollegiate council, have drawn the University into a conflict from which we cannot withdraw without an explanation or an apology. We hope that Colby will at least investigate what seem to be unwarranted charges against one of our most trusted professors.

which were novelties. "Jack" Jowett was the grand master of ceremonies and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wallace were the chaperones.

A dinner was served in the reception hall at midnight. Favors were leather belts with silver buckles engraved with the fraternity Greek letters. Dance orders were in the shape of fans.

BETA THETA PI

Beta Theta Pi fraternity held an informal party the week-end of May 2 at their chapter house.

Friday evening they took their guests to the M Club Minstrels and dance. Later they returned to the house and a Victrola party. Dancing lasted until 2.

Saturday evening there was an informal dance. Among the order of dances was a novel favor dance. The favors were silk handkerchiefs with Beta Theta Pi embroidered in Greek letters. The music was furnished by Tozier's orchestra.

Several alumni were back for the party and there were off campus guests. Mr. and Mrs. Youngs were guests for the evening. The chaperones for the entire weekend were Prof. and Mrs. Pearsall.

SIGMA PHI SIGMA

Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity held an informal dancing party Saturday evening, May 3, at their chapter house.

The house was attractively decorated in yellow and red festoons. Lattice work covering the ceilings added to the effect. The orchestra was banked with evergreens. During intermission ice cream and cookies were served. The favors were small silver vanity sets.

Among the order of sixteen dances a confetti dance was enjoyed. Music was furnished by Tebbett's Orchestra of Bangor.

Guests of the evening were Sergeant and Mrs. Mark Ashley, and Mrs. Shepard of Gloucester, Mass. Chaperones for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace.

SIGMA CHI

Sigma Chi fraternity held their spring formal party the week-end of May 2, at the chapter house. The exterior of the house was decorated with electric lights of many colors tastefully arranged.

Within, evergreens, streamers and wisteria gave the effect of spring. The piazza covered with evergreen and hung with Japanese lanterns made a cozy corner which was greatly appreciated.

Friday evening they held a reception at which representatives from the different fraternities were present. Following the reception a formal dance of 22 numbers was enjoyed, music furnished by Libby's orchestra. The favors were sweetheart lockets and during intermission refreshments of fruit salad, ice cream and cake were served.

Saturday evening an informal dance followed a dinner party. Serpentine and confetti furnished novelty to the dances. The chaperones for the week-end were Prof. and Mrs. Pollard, Prof. and Mrs. Huddilston, and Prof. and Mrs. Sweetser.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

On Saturday afternoon and evening, May 3, the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity held a banquet and dance at the Nibben Club. After a splendid banquet, the remainder of the evening was enjoyed by dancing, excellent music being furnished by the Red and White Orchestra. Chaperones for the party were Prof. and Mrs. George E. Simmons, Prof. and Mrs. Harry W. Smith, and Prof. Hitchner. Guests present were Mrs. Marie Wilson, the Misses Edith Andrews, Ethel Andrews, Pauline Atwater, Muriel Babcock, Marion Beaulieu, Effie Bradeen, Barbara Dunn, Ruth Dunn, Pearle Grafam, Sylvia Kurson, Mary Larkin, and Emily Pendleton.

"Icebound"

Everything is in readiness for the production of "Icebound" at the chapel on Thursday evening of this week. This is the opening event of Junior Week. Coach Prof. Bailey has been putting the polish on the show these last few rehearsals and we can expect a finished product when the curtains are drawn at 8:00 P.M. on Thursday night.

This play won the Pulitzer prize for the best amateur play written in 1923. "Icebound" had a long run this winter with the Somerville Players of Boston. It has been met with decided success wherever it has been produced.

Tickets are now on sale at the College Book Store. The price has been set at 50¢, thus enabling all to attend.

Don't forget the Maine "Hello."

CORRESPONDENCE

On the night of the "M" Club show an old alumnus was heard to say, "What is the matter with the present student body? They do not support the social functions on the campus, as we did in the old days. I came up here to-night fearing that I would not be able to get a seat to the show."

One of the few students who was at the show ventured forth with the question, "Possibly the price was a little steep."

"No, that is no excuse," the alumnus replied, "for, I hear, that it was the same when the Bangor Symphony Orchestra gave their concert and when Sherwood Eddy gave his first lecture. There isn't the old pride in the activities of the University that used to exist. The theatre in Orono is packed, and if the show had been put on in Bangor, as it was last year, there wouldn't have been standing room on the cars. The show was brought here with great difficulty, for the benefit of the students. There may be one hundred students here to-night, but the rest of the spectators are alumni, faculty and outsiders. The University rests upon the shoulders of the undergraduate body—not us."

The spirit shown in the show certainly was a disgrace to the present student body. Let's not let the alumni see such an exhibition again. Things put on, on the campus, are put on for you, undergraduates. Let's go next time in full strength.

K. S. Field

Do you want a championship cross-country team next fall? If so, attend the meeting for Cross Country candidates at Alumni Field, May 13, at 4:30 P.M. If you are not a runner, encourage those whom you know can run to attend this meeting as Coach Kanaly will give instruction for advanced training.

This training is very important to the future of the team and its accomplishments, therefore everyone should be out and show your spirit.

Clyde Patten

Girls' Hockey

When you see an admiring crowd three deep, surrounding the lawn between the library and Coburn Hall, you may feel sure that the hockey girls are out for spring practice. Here, three times a week, twenty-two co-eds chase the ball around and crack each other on the shins with pretty sticks, and on Saturday mornings they decorate the athletic field.

Although no games are as yet scheduled for this spring, many games have been arranged for next fall, both at home and at other schools.

The girls are showing unusual interest in this sport, as is shown by the large number deriving physical development through it.

The captain is Beatrice Johnson and Alma Perkins makes a very efficient manager.

The team is rapidly developing under the coaching of Dr. Little, Mr. Sethi and Coach Wallace.

The team showed up pretty well last fall, and with this additional practice and with the promising material in the freshman class, some fast games should be enjoyed next fall.

WANTED—Cheer Leaders

In the fall of 1921, the "M" Club voted to standardize their cheer leading. A member of the "M" Club was appointed head cheer leader. He had three assistants work out under him for the position of head cheer leader. These men were from the Junior Class. In the spring of 1923, one of the three was elected head cheer leader and he now holds that position.

The head cheer leader's letter is a standard sized M within a circle. This is a very distinctive letter, there being only one on the campus. It is a major letter and the wearer is entitled to membership in the "M" Club.

The duties of the head cheer leader are, to lead cheers at all athletic contests and rallies. He has charge of all assistant cheer leaders. The assistants lead cheers under the direction of the head cheer leader, assist in directing the crowd, and other similar duties.

Sophomores and Juniors are wanted at once for the coming baseball and football seasons. All men who think that they have ability along this line, report to the head cheer leader.

Moon's Minstrel Show Pleases Friday Night

Mr. Earl Twombly's mouth organ specialty was a decided hit. The work of Frank Burke with the Indian clubs was interesting to all. As usual John Stevens received much applause for his efforts in the line of a mixture of comedy stunts.

One of the most impressive parts of the performance, was a reading by Mr. Edward Curran.

The 20th Century Trio composed of Kenneth MacGregory, Balfour Tyndall and Howard Gardner, all soloists in the show, was favorably received by the audience.

From an artistic point of view, the most impressive moment in the show was during the finale, when "the Wonderful One," Miss Alice Keene, made her unexpected entrance.

The "M" Club is to be complimented for such a wonderful achievement, as everyone agreed that the show was a success. It was the result of hard work on the part of the cast, and much careful preparation and directing by Harold F. Moon. Mr. Philip Taylor was the manager of the show.

Hanson's orchestra furnished music for the dancing which followed the entertainment.

Spring Football

Spring football practice, under the direction of Coach Brice, commences May 12, and will be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday nights from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

There will be no scrimmage, the time being devoted principally to such things as punting, formations, and perfecting a strong passing game. To take the places of Gentile and Small, who will be lost by graduation, much attention will be given to the development of a new center and a kicker. All football men and especially the freshmen are requested to report for every practice.

HENRY CAVENDISH
1731-1810

English chemist and physicist, of whom Biot said, "He was the richest of the learned and the most learned of the rich."
His last great achievement was his famous experiment to determine the density of the earth.

He first made water from gases

Henry Cavendish, an eccentric millionaire recluse, who devoted his life to research, was the discoverer of the H and the O in $H_2O$ . In fact he first told the Royal Society of the existence of hydrogen.

He found what water was by making it himself, and so became one of the first of the synthetic chemists.

Cavendish concluded that the atmosphere contained elements then unknown. His conclusion has been verified by the discovery of argon and other gases.

The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have found a use for argon in developing lamps hundreds of times brighter than the guttering candles which lighted Cavendish's laboratory.

In this age of electricity
the General Electric Company has blazed
the trail of electrical progress. You will find its monogram on the giant generators used by lighting companies;
and even on the lamps
and little motors that mean so much in the home. It is a symbol of useful service.

Trustees Authorize Leasing of Land for Biological Research

will make it unnecessary to draw on the present funds of the University.

The other piece of land which was leased by the Trustees' action is half of Tinkers Island in Bluehill Bay, and contains about 220 acres of land. It is leased from Wm. Underwood Co., packers and canners, at terms very advantageous to the University. The island is to be looked over this summer to determine the possibilities of two ventures. The first is that of raising small furbearing animals under the direction of the University of Maine College of Agriculture, which is a field that appears to be proving profitable.

The other plan which Dr. Little hopes will be possible is the establishment of a camp to train Maine people for executives of Maine summer camps, and thereby keep the money from this source within the State. This camp would be under the direction of the University of Maine Department of Education, and the first students would probably be University of Maine undergraduates, who would receive academic credit for their work.

The University will not undertake either of these ventures unless it can be made entirely self-supporting, which Dr. Little believes will be entirely possible.
