CRITICISES BAN ON SOCIALISTS BY ALMA MATER

DR. LITTLE URGES ADOPTION OF LIBERALITY AND TOLERANCE

Advices Scrutiny of College Customs

Speaking at junior chapel exercises at the University of Maine Friday, President Clarence C. Little, Harvard 1910, criticised the governing board of the Harvard Union for refusing to allow students to hear Socialist speakers. He urged students to adopt an attitude of liberality and tolerance.

"We are living in a period of intolerance," he said, "people say one thing and do another. We must learn to think of other people's point of view. Liberality and tolerance are the most important attitudes you can learn in college."

"Some wise, some imbecile." Don't be bound by traditions. Your class has passed through its trial period and now faces a year in which it is going to contribute something of value to the university. Consider college customs solely on the merits. Some of them are wise and some are imbecile."

"Be liberal and kind. Learn to see the imaginative quality in life. Some get sidetracked by counting too carefully the mechanical units of life. It will be a great day for colleges when all rules can be discarded. We have paid too much attention to the letter of the law. Find a weakness in yourself and in the college and leave behind next year as a gift the elimination of the weakness."

The chapel was filled with students, friends and faculty members. As is the custom, the services were in charge of the Juniors, Stanley Hyde, acting as chaplain in leading the meeting and presenting the speakers.

The program was as follows:

Overture
Invocation
Responsive Reading
Salutatory Address—George Gruhn,
President of 1925
Address to the Juniors—President
Little
Hymn

Apology from Colby Is Formally Accepted Here

The Athletic Board last Thursday evening formally accepted the apology of Colby authorities for Coach Ryan's protest of Prof. Archer Grover as an official at the state track and field meet in Lewiston on May 17. Athletic relations with Colby will be resumed in accordance with the pre-arranged schedule.

At the last meeting of the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Association Coach Ryan of Colby College protested against Professor Grover of the University of Maine acting as an official in the coming State meet. His reason in protesting, it is said, was that Professor Grover conveyed a message from Graduate Manager Bryant of the University of Maine for the benefit of a Maine athlete. Professor Grover was an official at the last meet.

The authorities of the University of Maine became indignant at the protest of the Colby Coach and broke off athletic relations with the Waterville Institution in President Little's communication to Professor J. D. Taylor last Friday. After due consideration by the Colby Athletic Council it was decided to take measures to end the matter in a just way.

The break in relations, had it continued, would have spoiled the plans for the annual State Meet which is scheduled to take place May 17.

MISSIONARIES GET COMMISSIONS HERE

University Bids God Speed To Lee and Helen Vrooman

Lee and Helen Vrooman, graduates of the University of Maine in 1918, were commissioned foreign missionaries Sunday, at an impressive service in Alumni Hall under the auspices of the American Board of Commissions for Foreign Missions. Mr. and Mrs. Vrooman will sail for Turkey this summer, where they will be connected with the International College at Smyrna.

The Rev. D. Brewer Eddy of Boston delivered the sermon and tendered the commissions and there were remarks by Mr. Vrooman, President Little and Eric O. Berg of Springfield, Mass.; the Rev. C. W. Wilson of Orono, Prof. A. L. Fitch and Prof. L. J. Pollard also participated in the ceremony.

The service was opened with music by the Instrumental Trio, consisting of Morris Robinson '27, violin; Anna Torrens '27, cello, and Jasper Brown '26, piano. The Invocation was given by Professor L. J. Pollard, followed by Responsive Reading, led by Professor A. L. Fitch. The Reverend Harry Vrooman read the Scripture Lesson, and then the hymn, "Fling Out the Banner" was sung. The splendid sermon of the Reverend D. Brewer Eddy, D.D., was based on the sixth verse of Acts I, "Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom of Israel?"

The sermon was followed by an anthem, "Lovely Appear," sung by the United Parish Church quartette. Dr. Eddy then presented the commissions which stated that Lee and Helen Vrooman were to be sent under the auspices of the American Board of Commissions for Foreign Missions to represent Maine in Turkey. In response Lee Vrooman told of Turkey's irresistible call. He told of how a year from now we might think of them as being busy, for all people in that line of work are kept busy; discouraged perhaps, for they may not make as much headway as they hope to, but at any rate, having joy and zest in working for our friend, Jesus Christ.

After the quartette had sung "Send Out Thy Light," Eric O. Berg told how.

Annual Junior Prom Has Many Novel Features

The Junior Promenade of the class of 1925 was held Friday evening, May 9, in Alumni Hall.

The decorations were green and white, the class colors. Streamers were arranged to form a canopy over the floor and around the balcony were branches with smaller streamers in the delicate shades of pink, green, and blue hanging from them. In the center of the floor a large 25 was flashed from above. Japanese lanterns were hung about adding to the effect. Around the edge of the hall and under the balcony the fraternity booths were arranged. Much credit is due to Lawrence Connor, chairman of the Prom Committee, for the attractive decorations and the success of the party.

A reception was held before the dance. Members of the reception committee were President and Mrs. Clarence C. Little, Dean and Mrs. Leon S. Merrill, Dean Caroline Colvin, Mr. James A. Gannett and Mr. George H. Gruhn, president of the class of '25.

An order of 26 dances followed the reception. Music was furnished by Hardy's Tivoli Orchestra of Worcester, Mass. The favors were black moire silk handbags with M and '25 on them in gold lettering.

During intermission, a solo by Master Wilbur Littlefield of Orono added novelty. Refreshments of ice cream, cookies and punch were served.

The patronesses for the evening were Mrs. Ella Mason, Mrs. Kate Estabrooke, Mrs. Mattie Munson, Mrs. Bertha Moulton, Mrs. Edith Chase, Mrs. Louise Ver-rill, and Mrs. Laura Nutter.

JUNIORS HAVE ANNUAL WEEK- END JUBILEE

"ICEBOUND" PROM SPORTS AND CABARET ARE FEATURES

Senior Skulls Tap 10 Juniors

Junior Week began Thursday evening with the presentation of "Icebound" by the Maine Masque in Alumni Hall and was concluded with the commissioning of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vrooman on Sunday. The time between was occupied by various social and athletic activities that were made enjoyable by the first pleasant weather of the season.

Class periods were shortened Friday morning so as to give a full hour to Junior Chapel exercises. President Little was the main speaker and in the first part of his address told of how a vision came to him in which he and the faculty were students at the University and "flunked" outrageously their major courses in athletics and modern and esthetic dancing as conducted by the present juniors. In the latter part of his address he stated that the greatest gift an individual could make to himself or

"Icebound" Presented By Masque and Domino

"Icebound," by the players of the Maine Masque and Domino, is considered one of the best dramas shown here in the past several years. The fact that the setting of the play is at Veazie, so near at hand, did not lessen the appreciation of it; instead, the mention of some well known place such as Thomaston or Old Town brought out many hearty laughs and the cast was called to the curtain twice at the finale to receive the applause of the audience.

The stage setting is very simple as the one scene in the Jordan homestead is used throughout. In a character play such as this with its distorted English there is a grave danger of missing cues and of "overacting"; however, everything went off smoothly and each member of the cast shares equally in the success. The play was directed by Mr. Bailey and Mr. Wallace of the department of public speaking.

HIGH RANKING TECH SOPHOMORES HONORED

Ten Men Announced by Per- sonnel Department for High Rank in College Of Technology

The Personnel Department of the University of Maine has just announced the ten highest ranking Sophomores in the College of Technology. These honor men are:

W. M. Barrows of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine; C. H. Bischoff of Franklin, Mass.; S. B. Coleman of Saco, Maine; J. D. Doherty of Bangor, Maine; T. Heistad of Rockport, Maine; R. R. Parkman of Hartland, Maine; D. Parsons of Portland, Maine; A. J. Staples of Washburn, Maine; E. M. Stevens of Woodfords, Maine; D. D. Uong of Fochow, China.

Mr. Barrows heads the list in point of grade as well as alphabetically. His high scholarship has already won for him the Tau Beta Pi slide-rule prize. The fact that he is a letter man in Track has won him membership in the M Club; and his general popularity has been recognized by membership in the Sophomore Owls Fraternity. He is also a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

Mr. Bischoff is the second ranking man in the list. He has been active in football and is a member of the Rifle Team of the University.

The remaining men on the list have attained very nearly the same rating and are therefore listed alphabetically.

Mr. Coleman is a member of the University Band; Mr. Stevens is a member of the Glee Club and of the track squad; Mr. Heistad is a member of the Cross Country Squad, the Rifle Team, the Orchestra, and the Glee Club; Mr. Parsons is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity and is active in journalistic work; Mr. Parkman is a member of the Track Squad and the University Band; Mr. Staples is a member of the Rifle Team and the University Band and is active in journalistic work; Mr. Uong is a pole-vaulter.

The rating which has placed these men at the head of their class is a Personnel Average and includes not only scholastic standing, but also activity in the various branches of university life outside the class room, together with an estimate of character and ability given by members of the University faculty and student associates.

WILL WITHDRAW FROM M. I. T. AND F. ASSOCIATION ATHLETIC BOARD WOULD ORGANIZE NEW COMMITTEE

Will Have No Paid Coaches

Declaring that the Maine Track and Field Association has been guilty of "gross and flagrant errors," R. H. Bryant, graduate manager of athletics at the University of Maine, on Wednesday notified officials of the association that following the state meet at Lewiston on May 17, the University will withdraw from the association.

In behalf of the Athletic Board, he invites representatives of the other three Maine colleges to meet with Maine representatives to establish a new association. It is insisted that paid track coaches will not be eligible to represent any of the members of the new association.

The resolution follows:

"Voted that because this Board does not approve the method under which the several State of Maine colleges are represented in the M. I. T. & F. A. and because it believes that gross and flagrant errors in policies, management, and control, tending to defeat the development of the best athletic interests of the member colleges, have resulted from this method of representation, and that this condition cannot be corrected under the present organization, Graduate Manager Bryant is hereby instructed to immediately transmit the vote to the President of the M. I. T. & F. A. and to notify him that at the conclusion of the state meet at Lewiston May 17th, 1924, the University of Maine will cease to participate in the affairs of the M. I. T. & F. A. except in so far as may be necessary in order to properly close its finances and accounts up to and including that date.

"Voted that Chairman Archer Grover and Graduate Manager Bryant are instructed to immediately get in touch with the proper athletic authorities of Bates, Bowdoin, and Colby, and notify

Track Club Cabaret Is Declared Huge Success

The Track Club Cabaret furnished a fitting close for a very successful Junior Week. The wonderful decorations left from the Prom furnished a suitable setting for the entertaining specialties, which could be enjoyed by everyone present because of the clever arrangement of the tables.

A piano duet by Charles Evans and Howard Reiche, and several dancing specialties by the Misses Maynard and Lynch, were the main sources of amusement during the evening.

The Track Club is to be complimented upon the very efficient manner in which the cabaret was handled. The Cabaret is always one of the most enjoyable events of the school year, and all who attended the offering Saturday night will agree that it was no exception this year.

The chaperones, who were this year designated as "Officials" were:

Prof. and Mrs. E. H. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bryant, Prof. F. M. Kanaly.

Unique names were given to the members of the cabaret committee:

"Fat" Cambell	Clerk of Course
"Bur" Burdick	Starter
"Pick" O'Connor	Referee
"Snooks" Dowd	Timer
"Charlie" Noyes	Announcer
"Hot" Ayer	Custodian of Prizes

The excellent music for the order of 12 dances was furnished by Libby's orchestra.

Much credit is due "Bob" Turner, who acted as a very efficient caterer.

Yes, "Fat" Cambell was in charge of the whole affair.

"A great part of our lives, as we all feel in our educational period, is occupied with learning how to do and to be what others have been and done before us. But presently we discover that the world is changing around us, and that the secrets of the masters and the experience of our elders do not wholly suffice to establish us effectively in our younger world. We discover within us needs, aspirations, powers, of which the generation that educated us seems unaware, or towards which it appears to be indifferent, unsympathetic, or even actively hostile. We perceive gradually or with successive shocks of surprise that many things which our fathers declared were true and satisfactory, are by no means true, for us. Then it dawns upon us, perhaps as an exhilarating opportunity, perhaps as a grave and sobering responsibility, that in a little while we ourselves shall be the elders, the responsible generation. Our salvation in the day when we take command will depend, we believe, upon our disentanglement from the lumber of heirlooms and hereditary devices, and upon the free, wise use of our faculties."

Stuart P. Sherman in
The Genius of America

Let There Be Light

In his address to the juniors last Friday, Dr. Little criticised the governing board of the Harvard Union for refusing to allow Socialist speakers to address the students. We may assume from this attitude that he would offer no objection to the appearance of Upton Sinclair, Scott Nearing, and others who have interesting ideas on modern society, before a University of Maine audience.

More than new dairies and dormitories, even more than a gymnasium-armory, the University needs intellectual stimulation. We are doubtless getting the culture we pay for in time, money and energy, but on a rainy day when recitations lag, it often seems that the main object of a collegiate education is to increase the capacity of the individual for being bored.

We should hear more speakers who have information of value to us as citizens, and fewer orators who have an axe to grind with us as students. They would stimulate intellectual curiosity, and lead us into unfamiliar lines of thought.

The plaint of the "Indigent Student," properly denounced by Dr. Eddy in the pulpit last Sunday, can be analyzed as the natural reaction of a student against an overwhelming mass of propaganda, undoubtedly justified by the facts, but hard to swallow simply because it was obviously propaganda.

We have heard this year in chapel several men and women who have dedicated their lives to Christian work, three Gubernatorial candidates, and a few visitors to the campus who were beguiled onto the platform to talk about "anything at all." Not one author or journalist, not one of the reformers who profess to have a panacea for social and political ills, have we heard this year.

The Liberal Club was founded to promote free and frank discussion of mooted topics. It cannot succeed until the student body has some definite information on these matters. Recent correspondence to the Campus anent "what the girls are reading" revealed that the average student is too much preoccupied with his studies to read newspapers and the weekly periodicals. It is obvious that they must obtain their information from speakers who know what they are talking about.

There is another important point in this connection. The student will believe and think about what he hears from a competent speaker, whereas he ordinarily thinks lightly of what he reads in the press. "Newspaper talk," as a contemptuous phrase, is familiar to all of us. It seems to be the business of some instructors to undermine the faith of young people in the printed word, and to promote a naive confidence in verbal utterances. Whether or not that is a sound educational policy is open to discussion, but it is a fact to be contended with.

Plenty of good speakers are available for college audiences. Let us hope that we hear some of them next year.

Maine vs. Colby

It is a blessing that Maine and Colby had sense enough to prevent their late altercation from becoming more than a minor exchange of verbal hostilities. After these little affairs are all over, their pettiness becomes very apparent to all concerned. Bates has had her share of such business, and will continue to have in the future, but each succeeding squabble should teach a lesson. It is a lesson taught by Aesop some years back—no doubt Greek and Roman papas taught it to their little boys. It is: "Look before you leap." But if we only would! How often we jump at conclusions, with a subsequent tearing of hair, rending of garments, gnashing of teeth, and frothing at the mouth. In the late altercation, it is stated that one gentleman from Colby jumped at a conclusion which later proved to be an unwarranted one. Colby students should take warning. Others are old enough to know better!

Bates Student.

Through an error, in the recent issue of the Mainiac, the name of Anna Kelley Stinchfield was omitted from the list of members of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Honorary Scholarship Is Awarded "Ginger" Fraser

Oren F. Fraser has been selected to receive the Honorary Society Scholarship for the coming year. This scholarship is awarded jointly by the Athletic Board and the faculty committee on Honors.

It is contributed pro rata by the individual members of the Senior Skulls, Junior Masks and Sophomore Owls. It is awarded to some deserving student, who in the opinion of the Athletic Board is the best athlete making his letter during his freshman year.

There are very few men on campus who are any more popular than "Ginger" and it is generally considered by the student body that the selection was a wise one. He made his football letter in his freshman year and was on the mythical all Maine Eleven this past season.

A. T. O. Informal

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held an informal party at their Chapter house, Saturday evening, May 10. The house was artistically decorated with blue and gold crepe paper, serpentine and balloons. During intermission sandwiches, fruit salad and coffee were served. An order of sixteen dances was enjoyed, music being furnished by Rice's orchestra. Confetti and caps added novelty to the party. The chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. Wallace.

Doris Averand, of Worcester, Mass. and Dorothy Newcomb of Presque Isle were guests at Balentine Hall over the week-end.

Freshmen Win from Hebron In 3-1 Battle Saturday

The University of Maine Freshmen baseball team won from Hebron Saturday morning in a hard fought game by a score of 3-1.

Although the morning was rather cold, the game was a hard fought one and was marked by several brilliant plays. Among these was the first triple play that has been made on Alumni Field this season. This play occurred in the first inning with a Hebron man on second and third base and none out. The Hebron batter, in trying to bunt, hit a short fly to Cassista who ran to third for the second out and threw to second base for the last out.

Johnson in the box for the Freshmen, had a good day, striking out ten of the Green batters, and was backed up by the rest of the team in good style.

Maine Wins from Bates In Thrilling 5-4 Game

Playing two extra innings, Maine won from Bates last Saturday afternoon, May 10, 5 to 4. George Gruhn with a smashing two-cushion clout to left center drove Dunham across the plate with the run that gave the Pale Blue and White a victory over the Garnet in a gruelling eleven-inning contest. It was the first State championship game of the series.

Bates was the first to tally, tucking away three runs in the fourth inning. Maine was held scoreless until the sixth, when Burke drove out a three-bagger to left field and came home on Blair's line single to right field.

The Garnet's final counter came in the seventh frame, when a three-cushion sock by Ray and an error by Perry made another tally.

This was really the lucky seventh for Maine; for in this inning the University earned three runs, thus tying the score. Pierce found Hamilton for a pretty single. The Bates twirler purposely walked Drew Stearns. Driscoll fanned, but Gruhn came through with an infield hit, advancing Pierce to third. Stearns, however, was tossed out at second. Perry then helped to win his own game with a smashing single that scored both Pierce and Gruhn. Captain King brought the stands up cheering when he lined out a double that brought Perry home and tied the score.

From then on it was airtight baseball, until in the last of the eleventh, with Dunham on second and Lunge on first, Gruhn stepped to the bat.

Perry, the University of Maine hurler, pitched an excellent game, holding the hard hitting Garnet nine to four hits in the long battle.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd of students, Junior Week guests, and local fans.

Alpha Gamma Rho

Alpha Gamma Rho held an informal dinner party and dance, Saturday, May 3 at the Nibbin Club.

After dinner an order of fourteen dances was enjoyed. Matching caps for partners added novelty to the evening. Music was furnished by Littlefield's Orchestra. The favors were silver vanity cases with the fraternity seal in them. The chaperones for the party were Professor and Mrs. Smith, Professor and Mrs. Simmons and Professor Hitchener.

Intercollegiate Tennis

The Maine Intercollegiate Tennis Meet scheduled to be played here May 14-15, has been postponed until Thursday and Friday, May 15-16, on account of wet courts.

Good tennis and keen competition are expected in the meet according to Captain Davenport of the Maine team. Eight teams are entered in both the doubles and singles. First rounds, semi-finals, and finals will be played. The finals will take place Friday afternoon if weather permits.

North Hall Entertains

The course of the Senior Home Economics includes practise teaching in Old Town Junior High School of subjects pertaining to the Home Economics Department. Last Saturday afternoon the girls of North Hall entertained their classes. The Maples, Winslow and other buildings of interest to Home Ec's were inspected and then a delightful lunch was served at the Practise House.

Whatever your "Choice of a Career," college training has increased your economic value, and whatever business or profession you enter, adequate life insurance is a proper self-appraisal of your powers in that direction.

The traditions, practices, and financial strength of the JOHN HANCOCK Mutual Life Insurance Company are such that a college man can take especial pride in having a John Hancock policy on his life. It is also a distinct asset from the start. It will pay you to buy it; and later on, should you think of joining the field corps of this company, it will also pay you to sell John Hancock policies. Our representatives will tell you just how, and assist you in selecting both your career and your insurance.

Musical Club Members To Receive Certificates

An important meeting of the musical clubs was held in Wingate Hall, Tuesday, May 6 at noon. Various business items were discussed.

It has been the custom during the years when the University of Maine could boast of a musical club, to award shingles to those who could qualify. This year a new kind of a certificate will be awarded. It has been designed by Edward Curran, the manager, and Sidney Osborne, the leader. It is of very clever design, featuring the three words "MAINE MUSICAL CLUBS." These shingles will be signed by the manager, the leader and the faculty instructor. These shingles mean a great deal to the men who will receive them, as they represent the award for a lot of hard work and rigid elimination.

The combined clubs have had a very successful season, and it is all due to the untiring efforts of Prof. A. W. Sprague.

This year the club has shown the University, that Maine can have a Glee club, and one that will rank with those of larger schools.

Grace Armstrong spent the week-end with her parents in Rockland.

Commencement and Alumni Day Are to Be Joyous Affairs

Past Years Prove Exciting and Amusing to Those to Stay to See the Events

By a Spectator

Variety, we are constantly reminded, by the widespread activities of our local campus sheiks, as well as by the various amplitudes of our scholastic assignments, due, it is alleged, to the quality of breakfast consumed by the Prof. that morning, is the spice of life.

Graduation with all its solemnity and inspiration would be incomplete without the huge enjoyment and hilarious celebration of Alumni Day. Mr. Holmes, (Oliver Wendell, not Sherlock), once remarked that the best thing about men was that they were just big boys. The actions of our alumni on the occasions of these reunions certainly seem to substantiate this statement to a remarkable extent.

As those who have seen Commencement before, know, our grown up boys the alumni arrive on the campus Friday morning in uniform. Now this sounds all very well and conventional, and the reader doubtless has visions of an orderly file of marching men with gold braided uniforms and white gloves like the Orono fire department on Memorial Day, but lo! instead of forming a line peaceably at the waiting room as they leave the car, they are seen to stream from the car windows amid the maledictions and none too gentle kicks of Conductor "Charlie" Crowell, whose register has been jammed by an inserted shingle nail and who is trying to collect the fares in his hat amid loud applause and derision. But the most remarkable characteristic of these "boys" is their manner of dress. Each class adopts some uniform which may be anything from the working garb of the pipe-fitters' union to the zebra-like hat and suit of the Sing-Sing inmates; one never knows until they arrive.

After acting all over the campus worse than the Frosh on rising night, our venerated alumni tear for the Commons where hundreds of pounds, yea, tons of grub adorn the board. Immediately after luncheon, all who have not over-eaten join the famous class frolics. Now these are truly a wonderful occasion. The country's most remarkable acrobatic talent is herewith shown. Well does one recollect this affair in 1920 when one rather stout gentleman shinned up the flagpole to do the high dive stunt. Up and up he went until, despite his corpulence he was a mere speck against the fleecy clouds with only a puny net between him and the hard world. He locks his ankles around the pole and leans outward. The audience hold their breaths—only a boy he seems—now he is ready to jump—but suddenly with a deft sure motion of his hand he reaches in his right hip pocket. What will he withdraw—a bottle or a gat? But lo! neither. His hand now holds a small doll of the "Kewpie" type. Amid roars of indignation and shouts of "fake" he drops the doll which punctures the net, is picked up mangled and broken and borne off on a stretcher. The perpetrator of this latest outrage slides down the pole and starts toward Old Town with the mob at his heels.

Next on the program is the arrest of the bearded lady as an imposter when the keen eyed police from the class of '05 discover that "she" is in reality a smooth shaven '10 man with curled hair firmly attached to chin with LePage's liquid cement. A chariot race is about to follow when the vigilant police disqualify one horse because the taxes have not been paid.

In one of the side shows the wild man who has been eating raw meat suddenly begins to feel the effects of it and turns a sickly green. The police escort him from the grounds. He howls no more and his pep is as absent as the fourth dimension.

This year the Frolic will be featured by a track meet between '09 who are out for blood and '14 who were coiners of the word "vendetta" and who carry hatchets in their belts.

This meet will feature a fifty yard "go get 'em" and a quarter mile "hang tew it." After the Frolic and ball game a banquet will be staged in Alumni Hall, followed by an informal dance in the gym.

Jimmie: "I'm sure one of my teachers is German."

Dad: "How is that?"

Jimmie: "Because his marks are so low."—Exchange.

What Industry Owes to Engineering

After many years of service as a direct-current generator, this original application in the steel industry in 1891—in the Edgar Thompson Works of the Carnegie Steel Co., Bessemer, Pa.—ended its days as a motor in the pattern shop.

First in Electrification of Industry

Where Westinghouse Blazed the Trail

Steel Industry
Textile Manufacturing
Paper Making
Rubber Industry
Material Handling
Motion Picture Industry
Meat Packing
Railroading
Ship Building
And Others

In 1891 the first electric motor was put to work in a steel mill. In 1905 the first large rolling mill motor, and in 1906, the first reversing mill motor were also installed in steel mills. These motors—all Westinghouse Motors—were history-makers in the steel industry.

Other industries too have profited by Westinghouse engineering pioneering.

—In the textile industry, individual motor drive became a reality in 1902, in the Sauguoit Silk Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

—In the rubber industry, Westinghouse ideas as originally applied in 1900, are today the standard method of application in plants throughout the world.

—In the handling of materials at the world's great shipping centers, in the manufacturing of paper, in the motion picture industry, in coal mining, in meat packing, railroading, ship building—in fact, in every branch of human activity can be found progress and profits traceable directly to the pioneering of Westinghouse Engineers.

ACHIEVEMENT & OPPORTUNITY

Freshmen Drop 12-6 Game To Westbrook Seminary

Westbrook Seminary defeated the Freshmen Friday afternoon by a score of 12-6. Kelso worked well for one inning, after which the game was loose. Wass replaced Kelso and stopped the scoring in the second inning but throughout the game the visitors out hit and out played the freshmen.

The University of Maine has been asked to cooperate with the schools, colleges, and patriotic societies of the country in contributing to the Belleau Wood endowment fund. The hundred and twenty acres of this famous battlefield, which was to be sold as an amusement park, were bought by the Belleau Wood Memorial Association incorporated by an act of Congress, March 3. An endowment fund of $100,000 is necessary for the upkeep of the park, and this amount is being made up in twenty-five cent contributions by those who are interested in a permanent memorial to the memory of all who fought in the Belleau Wood sector.

Harvard Defeats Maine In Close Diamond Battle

Maine was defeated by Harvard May 5, in a see-saw ball game that ended with the score 7-6. The lead changed several times up to the end of the sixth inning when with Maine ahead 6-5, Samborski of Harvard hit for three bases scoring two runs.

This cap stays put!

Other caps get lost but the new Williams Hinge-Cap stays where you want it. Truly, that's an improvement.

Like the cap, the shaving cream in the Williams tube is a big improvement, too. For Williams lather is heavier and faster-working. It holds the water in, so that your beard is softened sooner. And the lather lubricates. The razor fairly glides over your skin! Because of a soothing ingredient in Williams you can shave daily yet always have a smooth and well-cared-for face. Williams is pure, natural-white cream. Absolutely without coloring matter. Buy it, try it—with the new Hinge-Cap!

Why work overtime?

The student who works overtime is often the one who, for some reason, is not truly efficient. The almost imperceptible slowing-down of his thinking necessitates spending more time and labor on his work.

It is a surprising fact that much of this inefficiency is due to a slight neglect in eating. Many people do not realize that all the healthful, nutritive and laxative properties of whole wheat bran can be secured in a really tempting breakfast dish.

Post's Bran Flakes, while retaining all the natural properties of bran, have a rich, appetizing flavor that is deliciously different. Crisp, crunchy, and nut-brown, Post's Bran Flakes appeal to the most critical.

To satisfy your taste and your reason, try Post's Bran Flakes for tomorrow's breakfast. You will be treating yourself to a pleasant surprise, and storing up hours, not for "overtime," but for recreation.

American Association of University Women

A new branch of the American Association of University Women was formed here May 12 at a meeting held at the University Inn. This is to be known as the University of Maine branch, and is the second to be established in the State, the other being at Waterville.

About thirty women connected with the University were present at the meeting, including members of the Faculty and wives of professors, representing about ten other institutions besides the Maine colleges.

Miss Caroline Colvin, Dean of University of Maine women was made head of the new society. Dean Colvin recently returned from a meeting of the International Association of College Women at Washington, with which the American Association is affiliated.

At a later time, according to Miss Colvin, women of the present senior class of the University may be taken into the organization.

Maine Gets 5-3 Decision Over New Hampshire Univ.

Maine defeated New Hampshire at Durham May 6 by a score of 5-3.

While Perry allowed ten hits to the New Hampshire batters, he pitched a good game, keeping the hits well scattered and striking out ten N. H. batters.

Garvin, who started his first game of the season for New Hampshire, was certainly not at his best. Driscoll, the first man up in the fifth, singled to left and was thrown out at second when Dunham was safe at first. Garvin gave Perry a base on balls and hit the next man to bat. At this point Coach Swasey put Barnes, his speed ball pitcher, into the box. Barnes got a bad break at the outset. He forced the first batter to hit weakly to him and then made a wild throw to first base. This error allowed the three men on bases to score and the runner to make third base. New Hampshire could not make up their loss and the game ended with Maine leading by two runs.

"Be Honest," Says Greer Of Harvard University

"There is a great deal of difference between what a man honestly thinks, what he thinks he thinks, and what he wants the other fellow to think," said Mr. Greer, director of physical training at Harvard, in a talk in chapel, Monday. "This is true of religion and science in college and out, and it is likewise true of college athletics. There are differing opinions and resultant controversies, each group distrusting the other because one never knows whether the other's opinion is what he really thinks, what he has argued himself into believing he thinks because others around him think that way, or what he wants other people to believe he thinks."

Mr. Greer developed this idea and applied it to intercollegiate and international problems.

"We never can have a League of Nations," he said, "until we learn to trust the honesty of the other fellow's opinion. Neither can we have the best of intercollegiate athletics until we do."

He went on to point out that the college which has difficulties with other colleges is the one where honesty of opinion is lax and where fundamentals are sacrificed to popular and shallow ideas.

"Be honest all along the line," he said. "Don't try to make yourself think that you think something just because others think it when you know that they are wrong. Have one platform and stick to it and let others see that you are right. Honesty of opinion will do much to put college athletics on a higher and fairer basis."

an inspiration to us all. In behalf of the students of the University he wished the Vroomans God-speed. Doctor Little also wished them success. He said that when the University of Maine sends her children out, she never knows whether they will prove worthy of her and some day return home or not. He also stated that on this Mother's Day, Lee has come back and the University has taken him to her heart.

The service ended with the benediction pronounced by the Reverend C. W. Wilson.

I. T. & F. A. and suggests that the proper athletic authorities of each of the four colleges immediately appoint two representatives of the other three colleges for the purpose of meeting with representatives of the other three colleges for this purpose, it being a condition that the University of Maine does not care to participate in such meeting unless it is understood that one of the regulations of the new association will be that paid track coaches will not be eligible to represent any of the members of such new association."

Apology from Colby Is Formally Accepted Here

In a communication to Dr. Parmenter, chairman of the Athletic committee of Colby College, Coach Ryan stated that he had misconstrued a part of a conversation which took place between Graduate Manager Bryant of the University of Maine and Professor Grover just before the start of one of the races last year. Because of this, his objections were without foundation and could not be substantiated, therefore Coach Ryan withdrew them, and expressed regret that the situation had arisen.

Dr. Parmenter forwarded a communication to President Little of the State College and enclosed Coach Ryan's letter. Favorable action by the Athletic Board followed.

Juniors Have Annual Week-End Jubilee

his university on graduation was the overcoming of some weakness that had been discovered in himself or the University. After chapel exercises pledges were announced to the Senior Skulls.

Following the exercises, the following

Senior Skulls were tapped: Raymond F. Lunge of Kennebunk, Chester W. C. Campbell of Gray; George H. Gruhn of Columbus, Wis.; James T. Blair of Medford, Mass.; Wilmer A. Elliott of Montreal, John A. Lawry of Fairfield, Albert H. Repscha of Milo, Benjamin W. English of New Haven, Alden H. Turner of Topsham and Joseph Murray of Hampden.

In the afternoon the freshman baseball team was defeated by Westbrook Seminary. It was here that the young lady guests and legitimate motor cars (not "bugs") made their appearance; all in preparation for the "Prom" at 8:00 o'clock. The music furnished by Hardy's orchestra made the attractively decorated booths look very lonesome except during the intermissions.

Saturday morning the freshmen defeated Hebron Academy in baseball and in field events in the afternoon. The band and regimental review of the R. O. T. C. attracted some attention at noon. In the afternoon the Varsity defeated Bates in the fastest baseball game of the season giving Maine a good chance at winning the state championship.

The Track Club Cabaret was crowded to capacity. The unique entertainment coupled with the excellent music and service made it one of the most enjoyable functions of the week.

Special speakers and music were obtained for the commissioning exercises of Lee Vrooman and wife for their work in Turkey. As this was also Mother's Day several fraternities attended as a body.
