UMS CHRO Search Committee

Dear colleagues,

I am delighted to announce that after an extensive and thorough search process, we have successfully selected a new Chief Human Resources Officer (CHRO) for the University of Maine System (UMS). I understand that this process has taken longer than anticipated, and I appreciate your patience and understanding as we worked diligently to find the best candidate for our system.

From a competitive pool of applicants received through a national search, we have chosen an internal candidate with a wealth of experience and a strong track record in human resources. I am pleased to announce our selection of Amie Parker, whose impressive career in human resources spans the state of Maine, including roles at the Maine Department of Labor, private industry, and both private and public higher education institutions.

Amie joined the UMS from Bates College eight years ago, initially working at the university level before transitioning to a system-wide position. Her deep understanding of our system, combined with her diverse experience and proven leadership abilities, will elevate the CHRO role.

An initial priority for her will be to work with the HR team and me to identify how best to fill the role that she has occupied and ensure all areas of concern within the HR structure are addressed. I look forward to working with her in this role and am excited about the strong human resources we have built within our organization.

Please join me in congratulating Amie on her new position with the UMS.

Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Dorsey
Acting Vice Chancellor for Strategic Initiatives
Chief of Staff to the Chancellor
