Fale Hafers, Opposes American Adherence to Court Protocol

The Student World Court Committee, in connection with its activities in trying to promote international personal understanding of the United States affiliated with the World Court, sent telegrams to the two Maine Senatora. Hon. Frederick Hale and Hon. Thomas G. Davis.

During the past week, communications have been received from both of them in answer to the telegrams which were sent.

Senator Hale states his intention of voting adversely upon the question. Senator Fernald, on the other hand, expresses the conviction that the action is unjustifiable and refers to the protocol his author.

The following is the text of the two letters as follows:

There are few things more enjoyable than an evening at the movies, with thousands, all of whom are out for a good time and enjoy hugely each other’s company, as well as the show itself. However, there are a few times and conditions when things are not just as it should be.

Such is the desire of a college student to gain new and fascinating insights which he receives into the world of the drama through his participation in the college theater. To the student who has never participated in a play before, the thought of playing a part in a play is a sort of stimulus to enter into some sort of drama. But for others, the idea of playing a role in a theater production is not as appealing. The idea of being out in public, especially in front of a large audience, is often a source of discomfort and anxiety.

For to attempt to stem the tide of their interests, the managers of the Maine campus have turned to the theater to assist in getting the students involved in extracurricular activities. They have stated that there is a great deal to be gained from participation in theater, as it provides a means for students to express themselves and develop new skills.

One of the owners admitted that the numbers of students who participated in the theater were not as high as they would have liked. He said that the lack of response to the call for candidates for the various roles and positions was a concern. The theater is faced with a rather unusual situation, as they are looking for inexperienced and untrained actors and actresses to fill the vacancies.

The Senior Skulls are anticipating that the chaos of last Friday should not recur. The theater owners have borne with the antics of the students and have shown patience. They have stated that it is the request of the managers that the students should be more considerate of the theater and its employees. The management has stated that they respect the fact that the students are there to prevent the entrance of the townspeople. But there are others who deserve some of the blame. They have not made the theater a place where the students feel welcome and comfortable. The theater is a place where the students have the opportunity to express themselves and gain new experiences. It is unfortunate that the students have not taken advantage of this opportunity.

The Senior Skulls are looking forward to a successful season. They have stated that they are ready for the challenges that lie ahead and that they are committed to making the theater a success. They have stated that they are committed to providing a quality performance for the audience and that they are looking forward to working with the students to make it a success.

Dean Stevens Spoke to Clubs on Relativity

On Wednesday evening, January 20, Dean D. S. Stevens gave a talk on the philosophical side of the combined Math and Physics courses. It consisted of a resume of the recent meeting of scientists held in Kansas City, which was attended by Dean Stevens.

He spoke of the discoveries of Prof. Miller that would seem to dispense Einstein's theory. Prof. Miller is the only scientist who has obtained consistent results. He has been the Nobel prize winner in Physics for the last ten years. He has spoken of the Nobel prize that has performed experiments recently with his work and the support Einstein's theory that motion in space is relative.

The meeting was well attended and of much interest to those interested in Mathematics and Physics.

The girl's rifle team secured the second place in the Intercollegiate meet held with the University of Cincinnati on Tuesday of this week. The team is composed of the entire club and a few invited guests.
