BASEBALL MEN RETURN FROM SOUTHERN TRIP

WON FROM RHODE ISLAND AND NEW HAMPSHIRE--LOSE TO BROWN

Maine's diamond crew returned from their New England trip all smiles, after winning two out of three of their engagements. The Bears dropped a hotly contested battle to Brown University by a 3-0 score, but took over Rhode Island and New Hampshire, which teams had already defeated Colby and Bates, by 7-5 scores.

The opening game with Brown was a tough one to lose. "Pete" Perry let the Brunonians down with two hits, one of the scratch variety, for five innings, but Danzell, the opposing moundsman, was even more of a puzzle to the Bricemen; a single by "Joe" Gay, whose hitting was one of the features of the trip, spoiled an otherwise perfect record. Maine got one man, Hamilton, around as far as third, another, Newhall, to second, and Hackett and Gay roosted for a few minutes at station number one, but all were left high and dry. Perry gave way to a pinch hitter in the sixth and then the fun began. Crozier took up the pitching burden, and a walk, a double, and an error immediately gave the enemy two runs. In the eighth, Brown scored another counter for good measure. Snappy fielding by Brown and lack of the old hitting punch may be pointed to as the cause of the downfall of Maine in the first game.

George Thompson got away to a rocky start against Rhode Island and the home team scored five times in the early innings while Maine was counting twice. The Blue twirler settled down, however, and kept the Rhody pastimers away from the platter for the remainder of the game, which ended after the sixth by agreement, while the long silent bats of the Bricemen began to make themselves heard and ten hits rattled out to all corners of the lot and were good for seven runs, enough to take the game. Hackett and Thompson got two hits apiece, one of the former's being a triple to deep right field, while Wing socked a double in the second frame and scored the first Maine run of the regular season on Newhall's single. Coach Keany of Rhode Island trotted out three twirlers in a vain attempt to stop the bombardment.

"Pete" Perry again toed the rubber in the third and last game against New Hampshire and was not this time to be denied. Again Maine came from behind, with the score 4-0 in New Hampshire's favor, and dented the platter four times to tie up the game, and then scored three more for good measure while Perry kept the slugging Durhamites at bay. Evans and Slayton, New Hampshire's touted sophomore pitchers, were meat for the Bears, who found that runs came easy

Maine Matmen Win From Bangor High

A wrestling team, representing the University, won from a similar team from Bangor High School Wednesday night, April 28, by the score of 23 to 8. This is the first meet of its kind ever held at the University. Being the first meet for each team considerable credit should be given to them.

Five points were awarded for a fall and three for a decision. Atwood and Valenti starred for Bangor while Coach Hale and Phillips did good work for the University.

Noyes, U. of M., threw Nickerson, B.H.S., in 5 min. with a half-Nelson and wrist-lock. Wiseman, U. of M., threw Bridges with half-Nelson and body hold in 3 min. Phillips, U. of M., threw Morrison with a half-Nelson and wrist-lock in 3½ min. Valenti, B.H.S., threw Manter with a head lock in 14 minutes.

Hale, U. of M. (coach), threw Atwood (Capt.) with a head scissors in 13½ min. Lovejoy, U. of M., held Bridges, B.H.S., to a decision after 15 minutes of fast wrestling, while Blake, U. of M., lost his decision to Rachlin, B.H.S.

GIRLS' ARCHERY MATCH MAY 22

Co-eds to Have Track Meets and Baseball Games This Spring

Girls' Baseball and Archery practice has moved outdoors with the warm spring weather, and the athletic field is now a lively spot. The first of the inter-house baseball games will take place next Monday. Practice in the gym has been going on all spring, and a peppy game is expected.

Robin Hood's students will participate in an archery match with Mount Holyoke May 22nd. This will be the first inter-collegiate match in which the girls have participated. The inter-class match was won by the Sophomores, Lydia Douglas being the highest scorer.

Isabel Ames is manager of track, and the athletically-minded co-eds are preparing for the field day and track meet which takes place May 21st.

Work is now going on behind Balentine on the foundations of a new tennis court. The other one is to be lengthened fifteen feet and rebuilt. This summer two more courts are to be built on the west side of the athletic field; these, together with the Mt. Vernon court, will make five courts in good condition for next fall.

Maine Yearlings Defeat H.C.I. in Thrilling Game

The Frosh baseball team defeated H.C.I. last Saturday by the score of 5-4. The game was a thriller from start to finish, but in the latter innings resolved itself into a pitchers' battle between Lyden and Daggett. Daggett pitched the whole game for H.C.I. allowing but three hits and retiring ten cubs by the breeze route. The freshmen pushed one run across in the first inning when, with two men out Stewart popped out a single, stole second, and scored on Buzzell's two base drive to left field. Nothing more happened until the fourth Canto when the cubs came back with a vengeance and scored four runs. This ended the scoring for the day, but this lead was enough to carry them through. H.C.I. scored three times in the third when Taft gave a base on balls, hit the next batsman and then both Thornton and Levenseller poled out a single. They scored again in the ninth on an error by Corbett. Lyden pitched a very good game for the Frosh, striking out seven men in four innings and allowing but one hit.

CAMPUS IS REPRESENTED AT JOURNALISTIC CONFERENCE

NINE COLLEGES SEND DELEGATES TO DURHAM

The second annual convention of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association was held on Friday and Saturday of last week at the University of New Hampshire, with delegates from nine universities and colleges in attendance. The association was formed last May at the first convention held at Boston College, and is made up of the weekly papers of the smaller New England colleges and universities.

The convention was opened on Friday afternoon by President Kirby S. Baker of Bates College. He introduced as the first speaker Mr. A. O. Morse, executive secretary of the University of New Hampshire, who welcomed the delegates to the University. After a short address by Prof. H. H. Scudder of the Department of Journalism, the convention was divided into editorial and business sessions, President Baker leading the discussion of the editorial, and Francis S. Russell of Boston College, chairman of the business committee, of the business session. A representative of each college discussed a certain phase of the work connected with college journalism, after which open discussion took place on the question under treatment. The subjects taken up by the various colleges were the following:

Editorial session:

Securing staff cooperation—Bates College

Making up the "dummy"—Boston College

Policy in head-line writing—Norwich University

Academic credit for work on the college newspaper—University of Maine

Issuing special editions—University of New Hampshire

Balancing advertising and news space—University of Vermont

Publishing an issue when news is short—Northeastern University

Business session:

Increasing Alumni subscriptions—Bates College

The Amount that should be allotted to "cuts"—Boston College

Renewing subscriptions—Norwich University

Placing the publication on a budget—University of New Hampshire

The collection of accounts—University of Vermont

Cooperating with the printer to reduce costs—Northeastern University

On Friday evening a banquet was held in the new Commons building, at which President Baker acted as toastmaster. The speakers of the evening were F. A. Williamson, head of the Associated Press Bureau in Boston; Harland R. Ratcliffe, school and college editor of the Boston Transcript; Dr. E. A. Richards, head of the English department;

Frosh Tracksters Trim Portland High 93-33

The Freshman track outfit had things their own way in the dual meet with Coach Preti's Portland High Track team last Saturday winning 93 to 33. Capt. "Rip" Black, a former Portland High athlete was the high point man of the meet. His heave of 187 feet 2 inches with the 12 pound hammer was his biggest feat. He also took first in the discus throw and 12 pound shot put and second in the javelin throw.

Lyden threw the javelin 171 feet and 11½ inches, establishing a new college record. Beckler another former Portland man won the pole vault and broad jump. Niles of the Freshman team took first in both the 220 and 440 yard dashes.

The summary:

100 Yard High Hurdles—First heat, won by Parks (M); 2nd, Stiles (P). Time 14 4-5 seconds. Second heat won

CHOSE SENIOR CLASS PARTS

1926 Votes to Establish Loan Fund

The election for parts in Commencement Exercises was held by the Seniors last week in Alumni Hall together with a vote on whether the class should establish a loan fund. The following people were chosen for Class Parts:

Valedictory: Ralph Parkman.

Chaplain: Wallace Elliott.

Historian: Fred Newhall.

Orator: Kenneth MacGregory.

Curator: Douglas Donovan.

Poet: Graffam.

Prophets: Cora Emery, Myles Standish.

Presentation of Gifts: Kathleen Hunt, Arthur Hillman.

Senior Marshal: Sherman Rounselle.

Junior Marshal: Fred Thompson.

It was also voted to establish a loan fund. The Senior Canes have arrived and are being jauntily carried by both the men and women. Definite commencement plans are to be completed within the next week.

NEW PRISM ARRIVES FOR JUNIOR WEEK

The 1927 Prism arrived on the campus on the morning of Junior Chapel as promised by the Prism Board. This was the psychological moment for them to arrive as class spirit was running high at the time as Juniors were excused from classes for the day because of Junior Week. The edition has been well received and much favorable comment passed on the attractive gymnasium design on the cover, the state and campus views, the faculty snap-shots, the ivory finish of the paper, and the arrangements of pictures and composition of drawings.

The edition is selling rapidly and those who want a copy of the volume are advised to get it at once. The charge which is five dollars can be made on term bills. Distribution of the edition is made from the window of Mr. Pierce's office in Alumni Hall. Some member of the Prism Board will be at this window on the afternoons of next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, to receive payments, and to make adjustments and sales.

The cost of producing this book has been slightly higher than usual but according to Day and Engel the class will break even and perhaps have a small surplus even though the price has remained the same. This was made possible because of a larger sale than usual.

JUNIOR WEEK IS BIG SUCCESS WITH PROM, CHAPEL, AND CABARET

DEAN STEVENS SPEAKS ON "SUNDRY VIRTUES AND THEIR CONTRARY VICES" AT CHAPEL

PROM BIG EVENT

Track Club Cabaret Finishes Week of Festivities

Those who attended Junior Chapel on Friday pronounced it one of the best of the year.

The exercises opened with an Overture played by Harold Pressey, Harold Ingalls, Alton Foster, and Trygve Heistad. This was followed by scripture readings and a prayer by the class chaplain, Fred Armes. The president of the Junior class, Thomas Dickson, gave a brief outline of the history of the class to date. Then the speaker of the morning, Dean Stevens, addressed the students on "Sundry Virtues and Their Contrary Vices." His speech contained various bits of advice which he presented in a most pleasing and entertaining manner. He listed his topic under four chief headings:

(1) Choose happiness rather than contentment. The desire to attain happiness is a virtue, in that it is a constant striving toward perfection, whereas contentment is a lazy self-satisfaction, a lack of ambition and in this sense becomes a vice.

(2) Choose culture rather than learning. A learned man is an intellectual miser and acquires knowledge merely for his own gain, while the cultured man, on the other hand, has contact with everyone in the world.

(3) Choose religion rather than piety. The pious man in the field of religion corresponds to the learned man in the field of knowledge. He too is a miser; he uses his religion for himself alone, whereas the truly religious man reaches out to aid his fellow man.

(4) Choose humor rather than vulgarity. A really successful man is one who can appreciate the humor of his profession. Humor is the spice of life but should never be allowed to overflow into the contaminating pool of vulgarity.

Dean Stevens approved class spirit and recognized class scraps as the normal outcome of such spirit, but he urged discretion.

He concluded his speech with the statement that the man who gets the most out of life is not one who thinks only in terms of the past or the future, but one who believes in the times that are.

Chapel exercises closed with the singing of the Stein Song. After Junior Chapel, according to custom, the Senior Skulls made known their pledges. They are as follows: Paul Lamoreau, Roy Hobson, Forrest Taylor, Sherman Rounselle, Edward Engel, Clare Brown, Daniel Torrey, Thomas Dickson, Cyril Cogswell and Sidney Maxwell.

A very successful Junior Week was brought to a close Saturday night by the Cabaret given by the University of Maine Track Club in the gym. The same general decorations were used as for the Prom. The booths were removed and the small tables placed under the balcony.

Refreshments were served during the entire evening. The Troubadours furnished the music for an order of fourteen dances.

The committee consisted of: "Spot" Giddings, "Hammie" Hamilton, "Andy" Small, "Bill" True, and "Doug" Donovan.

There will be a Mother's Day Vesper service next Sunday evening, May 9, on the steps of the Library building, at 6:30 o'clock. Dr. Ernest Lyman Mills of Bangor will be the speaker. Members of the Y.W.C.A. will furnish special music.

Editorial Policy

It is customary for the newly elected editorial staff to state its policy in its first editorial. The staff now assuming its duties is conservative and respects custom so according it will outline briefly its modus operandi for the ensuing year:

It is assumed that the University was created for the students; hence, everything that the University does as an organization should be, in the final analysis, for the benefit of the students. The faculty will be considered as directors and not as proctors of undergraduate thought. The editorials shall voice what is deemed general student opinion, and shall voice commendations and criticisms if these can in any way serve to perpetuate the ideal that the University was created for the students.

These editorials will be short and of general interest and expressed in student reasoning even though this reasoning might seem fallacious to the more mature mind. It is better to do this than to write editorials on classroom themes with the reworded reasoning of instructors.

Volstead Referendum

"A mountain made from a mole hill" is what aptly expresses the publicity given the recent student vote on prohibition. Bangor and Portland papers featured the story in various forms. From these papers it spread and grew more "wet" in spreading until the casual reader of newspapers now has the idea that the majority of us are a crowd of boozers madly in favor of repealing the Volstead Act. Which is not the case.

This should remind us that we are constantly in the limelight because college events are new events to the newspaper public. The head "College Student Found Drunk" receives more attention than "Young Man Found Drunk." A Real Maine man will consider the obligation that this name places upon him and watch his step.

Balloting

In view of the adverse publicity given the University because of this prohibition ballot by students and faculty the Committee on Administration has decided that there will be no balloting by either students or faculty unless it receives the official sanction of the above committee. Balloting at student elections to offices and managerships will of course be permitted without a formal sanction from the committee. This judicious action should prevent the recurrence of a similar ballot at some other time. It is the general sentiment that the ballot on the Volstead Act was in keeping with good reason but that insufficient publicity had been given it and that it was held at an inopportune time.

Vandalism

There is either a vandal or a practical joker at large in the community. The radio equipment, which was to be used in broadcasting the band concert Tuesday night, was tampered with to the extent that an electrical had to spend a day of work and a substantial sum of money to repair and replace the apparatus to its former state. The person with the distorted sense of humor pounded in nails to short circuit the wires, broke off terminals, twisted the microphone reel, and cut various wires. It is not a case of larceny because nothing was carried away. Was it a "prank" of a student or a vandalistic act of a village youngster? At any rate it was a contemptible trick.

Scoop's Farewell

The name "Scoop" for a feature column is a misnomer. A new writer takes over the column with this issue of the Campus so it is expedient to change the name at this time to "Philip Space Says."

Elect Baseball and Track Managers Tuesday, May 11

Elections of managers and assistant managers of track and baseball will be held in Alumni Hall Tuesday, May 11, from one to four-thirty in the afternoon. There was some discussion recently of dividing track into two managerships since this is the longest and most strenuous managership in the present athletic system but no details have been worked out as yet. The following are the men to be voted on:

Manager of Track: G. F. Scribner, R. W. Merrill.

Assistant Managers of Track: (two elected): H. L. Dow, R. H. Merrill, E. G. Horton.

Manager of Baseball: "Doc" Pierce, "Johnny" Walker.

Assistant Managers of Baseball: (two elected): D. W. Brockway, G. S. Cunningham, A. M. Harmon, F. R. Hinckley, Carleton Mansfield, F. B. McCormack, Robert Moulton, R. C. O'Connor, J. M. Thompson.

Varsity Tennis Team Defeated at Lewiston

The Maine Varsity Tennis Team met Bates in a match at Lewiston last Wednesday and were defeated in a fast, hard fought tilt. The Maine team suffered from lack of practice because none of the campus courts were in playing condition until last week, what practice they did get was done indoors in the old gymnasium. With the remaining schedule there is a good chance of the team making a showing, since, although unconditioned, the men showed good form and much speed.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

May 8 Freshmen vs. Varsity
May 12 Colby at Waterville
May 20, 21, 22 State Tournament at Waterville.
Match at Penobscot Valley Country Club (pending)

A number of Bangor Alumni wish to get a match with the Varsity. "Shep" Hurd '17, who was tennis captain his senior year, is the man to see regarding a suitable date.

The results by sets of the Bates match are as follows:

1ST SINGLES
Purinton vs. Brown, Capt.
(6-4) (6-4)
2ND SINGLES
Grey (Capt.) vs. Baxter
(6-4) (6-2)
3RD SINGLES
Parker vs. Doe
(6-2) (8-6)
Chong vs. Webber
(6-4) (6-8) (6-3)
1ST DOUBLES
Grey & Purinton vs. Brown & Parker
(6-4) (6-2)
2ND DOUBLES
Chong & Doe vs. Webber & Knox
(8-6) (6-4)

Dartmouth's new library will be located on the square immediately north of the campus. It will have three facades, one on the campus, one toward Tuck Drive, and the third facing the east. The site having been chosen, work is expected to be begun within a short time.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Why is it that it takes three years for the average graduate to get settled and from nine to twelve years for him to work up into a position of recognized responsibility?

Actual figures show that more than one-half of the college graduates from one school in 1922 have by now held two or more positions and a fourth of them have held three or more jobs. Why should this be?

Is it the fault of college employment agencies which bring representatives of large companies to the campus each year, or is it the fault of the training in school, or the man himself?

The Saturday Evening Post, in a recent article covering quite thoroughly all sides of the questions, does not place the blame on any one cause. Rather all causes have conspired to make such a condition possible and seemingly the usual thing. Partly it blames the scouts of the employing companies competing unwisely, impatience of the young graduate, the sudden let down from the high mental effort required in his last years in college, the disregard of chances of advancement by employers putting emphasis on loyalty, wrong kinds of teaching, and an unwise choice of first employments.

A census of a graduating class proved that 75 per cent of the men wanted experience of the right sort for the first jobs. The figures above the 50 per cent who change positions in the first four years show a wide gap between the numbers honestly desiring the right sort of a position and those apparently getting it. Why should this be?

The words of a Western state university president are quoted: "University education should not be to get men away from hard work, but to enable a man to work ten times harder." So then perhaps the men themselves are somewhat at fault as well as the education that is given them in the modern colleges.

A secretary of an employment bureau for an engineering firm said " * * * fifty per cent of the college graduates under twenty-five are looking for executive positions. They all want to tell the other fellow what to do. On the other hand, 95 per cent of the foreign-born engineers are willing to do drafting."

That the college man does not want to wait for his advancement is quite evident in reports from various large companies. A minimum of three years to work into a responsible position looks like half a life time to the average college graduate starting on the uphill climb. He wants at least a vice-presidency at once.

Apparently though it is not alone the college graduate's fault. The condition confronting him and his attitude toward it can be bettered considerably if he realizes that it takes hard work even for a college graduate to make his way. He is practically sure of advancing quicker than the man with an office boy's education.

It takes hard labor and his college degree doesn't mean a thing to his employer until the college graduate has proved his worth. If he doesn't find this out before leaving college he will soon after.—Ohio State Lantern.

William I. Nichols, former editor of the Harvard Crimson, and a Rhodes scholar at Oxford next year recently addressed the sophomore class at the institution from which he graduates this June. He threw a bombshell into the assembly when he stated that "five percent genuine aristocratic loftiness and 95 percent laziness are plain bad manners" were the ingredients of Harvard indifference. He further said that no college is more disliked than Harvard, and that no school is more misunderstood. He summed up Harvard's three outstanding features as indifference, godlessness and snobbishness.

He charged lack of courtesy to visiting preparatory school teams and to newspaper reporters, and suggested remedies.

In numerical rank California stands first with 16,294, and Columbia second with 11,727. The total enrollment of these universities, including part-time and summer school students is Columbia 29,701 and California 24,628.

Minnesota, Illinois and New York U. all boast of enrollments over 15,000. Chicago, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Pitt, Harvard, Washington, Nebraska, Cornell, So. California, Cincinnati, Texas, Iowa, Syracuse, Oklahoma and Colorado all top the 5,000 mark.

Freshmen and Kent's Hill Fight Close Game

The Frosh came through again Wednesday by defeating Kents Hill 1 to 0. This makes the fourth victory of the season. Lyden, the Maine pitcher, went strong, striking out eight men. The Hill played a rather ragged game which was probably due to being late in getting here and insufficient time to warm up.

The removal of the bureau of lost and found articles from the registrar's office to the M.C.A. building is proving a satisfactory arrangement. It is found that better facilities for handling these articles can be obtained here, and consequently a larger number of lost objects are finding their way back to their rightful owners. In case these owners are not found within a certain period of time, the article is returned to the finder, who leaves his name and address with those in charge of the "Lost and Found" service.

Permission to smoke has been re-granted to students at Vassar. Agitation for the privilege became so marked during the past year of compulsory abstinence that the college authorities at last gave in to the student will.

The five exclusively women's colleges are Smith, Wellesley, Vassar, Goucher and Mt. Holyoke, in the order named.

WHY STUDENTS FAIL
Too little sleep, too much play, not enough study, too much leisure, fast eating and diversified thinking are factors that devitalize students and are responsible for the "delinquent groups" found in every university, according to a report made public by Professor Howard of Northwestern University.

—Northeastern Bulletin

An increase of seven percent in the enrollment of students in American colleges for the year 1925-26 over the past scholastic year has been reported in a recent number of School and Society.

PHILIP SPACE SAYS

Well, Junior Week is over and again we look back on a hectic week-end of dances, sports, the play, theatre parties and what-not and try to realize that it is past. To the sophisticated, Junior Week is nothing more or less than two dances; to the imaginative it marks the passing forever of something almost sacred, the climax of three years of college life, life never to be wholly forgotten even if in the rush of a commercial existence its memory is somewhat obscured.

What a composite crowd one sees at the Prom! To an observer it is a kaleidoscopic mass of shifting color, vivid and beautiful gowns indiscriminately mixed with the black and white of formal dress. In analyzing closely a cross-section of the crowd however, one comes across peculiar outcroppings of human nature. There is the ultra-sophisticated blasé lady who often informs you that she has attended bigger and better functions.

There there is The Girl from Home. Everyone likes to see her and note the evident look of proud proprietorship on her escort's face. His roommates have seen her picture on his desk and have heard her merits extolled so much that being introduced to her has all the informality of meeting one's sister. The introduction probably goes, "Miss—, meet Mr.—. you've heard me speak of Miss—, Tom," all the while with the happy expectant look that the virtues of the incomparable Miss— will suddenly descend on poor Tom and crush him.

The sisters sometimes form a sizable contingent to a well-conducted Prom. These are imported for various reasons; financial being among the strongest. An obliging sister can be kept where one would hesitate to lodge a friend, unattached by family ties. It is a sad but undeniably true fact that considerations of the family exchequer are sometimes involved and the young lady being at the source of supply is often a weighty argument in the choosing of one's Prom partner. There are even cases on record of tickets not being bought until the above-mentioned relatives arrival. But enough of the darker side of college life.

Co-eds are necessarily included in a cross-section of a Prom as they are required to furnish needed local color. It gives one a worldly air before the Home Town Girl to point out some particularly colorful specimen and sketch some adventure, real or fancied, in which she was leading lady and you were more than stage hand. The married people, the sub-strata of respectability are the real martyrs of the occasion. Their air of "Have a good time while you're single," is truly indicative of the perils of a matrimonial plunge.

The Cabaret the next night is delightfully informal and the man who, barricaded behind a stiff shirt front the night before was unapproachable, can be himself now and "loose his line" much to the delectation of the Sweet Young Thing from the back country. The sophisticated lady, under the persuasive power of a bottle of strawberry beer, becomes both companionable and slightly verbose and the week ends in a finale of camaraderie and good feeling.

That is Junior Week, a very small part of it, it is true, but it is Junior Week to most of the undergraduates and the public. Some of it is superficial and veneered but under the gloss is feeling and a real sorrow that Time is passing and that only too soon we will be out of here and "on our own."

MAINE WINS FIRST STATE SERIES GAME

CAPTAIN CROZIER PITCHES STERLING GAME AT ORONO

By bunching hits and taking advantage of every opportunity the Maine Varsity run away with Mr. Bates' team to the tune of 9 to 2 Wednesday in the opening game of the state series. The game was not in doubt after the third inning although there was enough action to keep the interest from waning during the remainder of the game.

Captain Crozier pitched a sterling game for the blue. Only occasionally did any of the Bates men succeed in reaching first and then they failed to get around to the home sack. Chick started as moundsman for Bates but in the fifth he was replaced by Black. It was evident that the veteran Small, who is out of the game on account of injuries, was missed very much in this key position.

Maine started scoring in the first frame when Gay was handed a free pass, "Cocky" Hackett secured a single, Crozier sacrificed and Cassista came through with the necessary hit. In the third things began to happen again. Hackett whaled out a double, Crozier got a life on a scratch and a pass to Wing choked the bases. Newhall was out and the Maine rally should have been checked, but the Bates defense blew up, Cassista reaching first through errors. "Mose" Nannigan came through with the only homer of the day, moving Maine's total points up to seven. In the last inning Cassista led off with a triple, followed by Nannigan again with his third hit, scoring Cassista. Durrell hit and with three on it looked like several more runs, but the next two men popped up easy ones.

In the sixth frame "Charlie" Ray drew a pass, Palmer fanned and there were two down and one on. Karkos was hit and a drive out to right got away from Wing and rolled over to Stillwater or thereabouts and two runs came in.

Maine showed a good brand of ball and a little later in the season should be such trim to enable them to overcome the stronger resistance that they will encounter.

and Professor Scudder.

In his speech, Mr. Williamson discussed the workings of the Associated Press, of which he is the head in New England, and suggested the formation of a miniature A.P. with the college papers of the association as members for the exchange of news. Plans to put this suggestion into effect are being perfected, and it is probable that by September the member papers will be prepared to furnish each other regularly with news of common interest to all.

Mr. Ratcliffe, who is probably the only editor in the country who devotes all his time to the collection of college and school news, spoke of the field which the institutions of learning offer to the newspaper in New England. According to Mr. Ratcliffe, there are in this section 54 colleges, and over 10,000 schools, with a total enrollment of more than 2,200,000 students. The college is just beginning to be recognized as a field for news outside of athletics, Mr. Ratcliffe said, comparing the space devoted to college athletic activities in most metropolitan papers to that given to all other college news. The Transcript is endeavoring to balance the amount of athletic and non-athletic news used, according to Mr. Ratcliffe.

The final meeting of the convention was held Saturday morning. After the reports of Secretary James E. Tobin of Boston College, Harold Whitcomb of New Hampshire, chairman of the service committee, and Francis S. Russell of B. C., chairman of the business committee, it was voted to admit two new members to the association, Connecticut Aggies and Massachusetts Aggies. The election of officers then took place, with the following men being named:

President, Eugene A. Tetzlaff, managing editor of The New Hampshire.

Secretary-treasurer, Harold Hilton, associate editor of the Norwich Guidon.

Chairman of the service committee, John H. Mahoney of the Maine Campus.

Chairman of the business committee, A. Ewer, advertising manager of the Northeastern News.

The two standing committees were elected as follows:

Service committee: Mary T. Boyd, editor of the M.A.C. paper; Julian A. Mossman, managing editor of the Bates Student; Wallace S. Moreland, editor of the Connecticut A. C. Campus; and J. Benham Phelps, associate editor of the Vermont Cynic.

Business committee: Walter J. Leach, Boston College; Stoddard H. Martin, Vermont; V. P. Sanborn, New Hampshire; Martin F. Moulton, Bates.

It was decided to hold the 1927 convention at the University of Vermont, and to hold a meeting of the five officers to lay plans for the coming year early in the fall.

The colleges represented at the convention were: Bates, Boston College, Northeastern, Connecticut, Norwich, Maine, Mass. Aggies, New Hampshire, and Vermont. Springfield College has signified its intention of joining the N. E. I. N. A. since the convention.

When it's a rainy night—and with three crafty bridge players your luck is running wild—have a Camel!

WHEN the dark skies are pouring rain outside. And fickle fate deals you hands at bridge that you play with consummate skill—have a Camel!

For Camel is the silent partner that helps every deserving player win his game. Camels never hurt or tire the taste, never leave a trace of cigarette after-taste. Regardless of the gold you spend, you'll never get choicer tobaccos than those rolled into Camels.

So this evening as you ply your unerring skill, evoke then the mellowest fragrance that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Camels represent the utmost in cigarette quality. The choicest of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are blended into Camels by master blenders and the finest of French cigarette paper is made especially for them. Into this one brand is concentrated all of the knowledge, all of the skill of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

Are You Going Into the Bond Business?

There is a cycle of fashion not only for the hats college men wear but for the line of work into which they go.

But your job has to fit your head as well as your hat, for it has to fit your state of mind.

Like your hat also, your job needs to fit your purse.

Therefore, why not choose one that brings not only satisfaction in service but in financial return.

Selling life insurance is one of the few modern businesses that does just this.

It takes:

Intelligence, Zest and Ability

It gives:

Liberty of action, the philosophic satisfaction of selling future security and present serenity to living people, and a response, immediate and tangible, in monetary as well as mental reward.

Prize Awarded in First Freshman Writing

The winner of the Henry L. Griffin Prize in English Composition, competed for by seventeen freshmen last Friday afternoon, is Miss Arline F. Palmer of Bangor. Miss Mary Josephine Hartwell of Old Town receives honorable mention. The themes submitted by both were entitled "Purple and Ivory," that being one of several assigned subjects. The prize, established this year and to be awarded annually, is open to members of the freshman class taking the freshman course in English Composition and Literature. The prize of ten dollars is given in honor of the late Reverend Henry L. Griffin, a prominent Bangor pastor and for some time a member of the faculty of the Bangor Theological Seminary.

Saturday evening, May 1, Alpha Gamma Rho held an informal dance at the Country Club.

The Country Club orchestra furnished music for an order of fourteen dances.

Refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream, cake, coffee and punch were served during the evening.

Guests for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. Waring, Prof. and Mrs. Simmons, Prof. and Mrs. Demeritt, Mrs. E. B. Lovejoy and Lieutenant Richard McKee.

Crows

In a field in sunny Spain stands a stone mortar. Crows hover around it, picking up bits of grain and chaff—cawing.

Here Marcheta, in the fresh beauty of her youth, will come to pound maize. For years she will pound maize. The stone will stand up under the blows; not a dent has the muscle of three generations of women made upon it. But the crows will hurl their black gibes upon a woman aging early and bent with toil. Old Marcheta—still in her thirties.

The American woman does not pound maize. But she still beats carpet; she still pounds clothes; she still pumps water. She exhausts her strength in tasks which electricity can do better, and in half the time.

The high ideals of a community mean little where woman is still doomed to drudgery. But the miracles which electricity already has performed indicate but a fraction of the vast possibilities for better living and the tremendous opportunities which the future developments in electricity will hold for the college man and woman.

Electricity, which can release woman from her burdens, has already created a revolution in American industry. Wherever mankind labors, General Electric motors can be found carrying loads, driving machinery and saving time and labor. And there is no branch of electrical development today to which General Electric has not made important contributions.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.
