SCHOOLBOY MEET WON BY EDWARD LITTLE AND HEBRON ACADEMY

MAJOR OF COBURN STARS IN ANNUAL INTER-SCHOLASTIC TRACK MEET

At the Interscholastic Meet last Saturday Edward Little High of Auburn carried away the High School honors while Hebron toted the honors in the prep school class. Hebron scored in all events but the broad jump, making a total of 73. Bridgton Academy got second with 46 and Coburn placed third with 20. Major scored 12 points for his team. Small was the big man for Hebron running on Hebron's winning relay team placing second in the 220 and high jump and winning the century dash. Folsom representing Corinna Union Academy won the half-mile and mile events. He was pushed hard by Silvo of Bridgton in the 880 though.

Portland and Edward Little High were about evenly matched. The discus throw, the last event, decided the winner. First and third places in this enabled the Auburnites to out-total Frank Preti's men 34 to 32. Brewer placed third with 21.

Jordan of Brewer proved to be a big sensation, winning both the half mile and mile events with a large lead, altho Miller of Brewer pushed him in the half.

Winterbottom and Hubbard were the big men for Edward Little scoring 26 out of 34 points.

Anderson from Gardiner, featuring a "Charlie" Paddock finish, beat Winterbottom in the century. The time was very good considering the strong wind blowing down the straightaway, being 10 3-5.

Charlie Major won the high jump at 5 ft., 10 5-9 inches, establishing a new Maine Interscholastic record.

Hebron pulled a surprise event when they copped the 880 yd. Relay from Bridgton. Portland won the High School Relay from Morse, just nosing her out on the last stretch.

FROSH NINE TROUNCED BIG GREEN SATURDAY

YEARLINGS DEFEATED POWERFUL ACADEMY TEAM 8-3

Jack Lyden pitching his second game this week let the highly touted Hebron outfit down for four hits last Saturday, meanwhile striking out eleven men. Rising held the Freshmen for four innings then they began to loosen up and hit his offerings. In the fifth things got started when Rising walked Teague. When three men were finally put out it was found that the Frosh had got seven hits and as many runs. Brown substituted for Rising later in the game. True and Teague did good stickwork for the Frosh while Jeremiah shone for Hebron.

NOMINATIONS MADE FOR ALUMNI WATCH

Nominations for the Washington Alumni Watch have been made by the Student Senate and the All Maine Women and the election to decide the winner of the award will be held Tuesday, May 18th.

The Washington Alumni Watch is presented each year to the member of the graduating class who, in the opinion of students and faculty, has done the most for the institution during his college career. At the student election, in which only members of the three upper classes are allowed to take part, it is necessary that at least 50 percent of the total enrollment of these classes vote. In case enough students do not participate in the poll, the award is made by the faculty, the selection being made from the high standing men and women in the student vote. Freshmen are not allowed to take part in the election on the ground that, having been at the University less than a year, they have not acquired a sufficient knowledge of the work done by the seniors from whom the choice is to be made.

The nominees for this year's award are the following:

Willis M. Barrows, Vernon C. Bryant, Ezekiel L. Chase, Harold E. Crozier, Henry B. Eaton, Wallace H. Elliott, Cora E. Emery, Oren F. Fraser, Arthur S. Hillman, Kathleen J. Hunt, Irving B. Kelley, Kenneth W. MacGregory, Fred C. Newhall, Beulah E. Osgood, Edward F. Stanton, Edith A. Perkins, Robert E. Turner.

Editors of Next Year's Maine-Spring Announced

A regular meeting of the Contributors' Club was held Thursday evening, May 6, in the Arts and Science Building. A short program of two short stories was enjoyed. "The Queen's Mate" by Pauline Aiken and "Town Meeting Day" by Mary McGuire.

The officers for the following year were announced:

Editor: Sylvia Kurson.
Editorial Board: Amy Adams, Pauline Aiken.

Business Manager: Henry Welch.
Literary Advisor: Dr. Percie Hopkins.
Faculty Advisor: Dean Stevens.

The Club is to hold a picnic on the banks of the Penobscot river in the vicinity of "the Pines" late in the afternoon of May 29. As this is the second day of final examinations it is hoped that all of the members be present to rest their tired nerves. According to senior members, such staid professors as Stevens and Ellis cut capers on these picnics along with the younger and supposedly more frivolous contributors.

I. C. A. A. A. A. MEET MAY 28

Plans for Fiftieth Annual Track and Field Cham- pionship Nearly Completed

Plans are rapidly being completed for the Fiftieth Annual I.C.A.A.A.A. Track and Field Championships to be held at Cambridge May 28th and 29th. Only two of the forty members of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America (I.C.A.A.A.A.) have found it impossible to send representatives, and after the notable indoor season this winter, a brilliant meet, with many a record in danger is promised the followers of college track this season.

Special preparations are being carried forward to insure a representative attendance at the games. The first three rows at the Harvard Stadium have been reserved, temporarily at least, for the competitor colleges of the association and graduates and undergraduates from the contestants will be assigned seats in groups provided they make application to the athletic director on their campus or directly to S. deJ. Osborne, manager of the meet. Application for seats in sections close on May 15th and to be honored must be in the hands of the manager by that date. In assigning seats, preference will be given according to the size of the groups, but in any event competing colleges will be assured seats in the first three rows at the Stadium.

Manager Osborne is making special efforts to secure a large representation of spectators from Preparatory Schools. Special prices are offered groups of school boys who should also apply in groups to their school or the track manager. Applications from Preparatory Schools also close on May 15th and the reduced cost of tickets is 50¢ per day. Seats will be assigned directly behind those held by the college rooters and preference will again be given according to the size of applying group.

Of the forty institutions who are members of the association, only the University of Cincinnati and Michigan will not

MAINE TRACK TEAM IS READY FOR BIG STATE MEET NEXT SATURDAY

COMPETITION WILL BE EXCEPTIONALLY KEEN THIS YEAR

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

CHANCES FOR MAINE VICTORY GOOD

Once again the week of the Maine Inter-Collegiate Track Meet has rolled around and the pale blue squad is rapidly rounding into shape. Coach Frank Kanaly is putting the finishing touches on a team which will put in a high bid for the State Crown Saturday on Whittier Field, in Joe Bowdoin's territory.

Competition this year promises to be exceptionally keen and plenty of action is promised to all who can find it possible to get there. Bowdoin and Bates, last years' bitter rivals, both have strong teams and Colby is expected to cut a slice out of the total point-pie. Maine, with Captain "Bump" Barrows in the lead is going to step in and take its share of markers and if the "Dopesters" have it right the difference between the final scores is going to be very small.

The Knights of the Road are again getting out their hiking boots and painted signs and all ready the campus Fords have been booked to capacity. All signs point to a noble representation from Maine and when the "Best old Band in the State" begins to play the Stein song the voices from the Maine bleachers is going to drown out the others and carry their men to a glorious victory.

Captain Barrows is slated for the premier medal in the discus throw. "Artie" Hillman and "Grunt" Taylor are going to have considerable competition in the mile and two mile runs but they are running strong and should be the ones to break the tape. It looks as if Roy Hobson is going to have his own way in the Pole Vault and if weather conditions are favorable he should raise the State record several inches. "Sam" Thompson in the shot put also looks like a sure first-place winner and Tom Dickson, who took second last year, is going to make him work for it. With Emery and Baxter in the javelin, that event is well taken care of. Bill True and Dan Torrey in the hurdles are going to make a creditable showing. Eaton and Fred Thompson in the 880 yard run are going to offer plenty of opposition to all aspirants of the crown in that event. With "Father Jawn" Caldwell in the Broad Jump, Guilfoyle and Proctor in the Pole Vault, "Doug" Donovan in the dashes and Ginger Fraser in the hammer it looks as if Maine could pile up quite a number of points.

FENCING TEAM SHOWS SKILL WITH RAPIERS

The fencing team is rapidly becoming skillful with the rapiers under Major Glover's excellent coaching. Last week the team entertained the Orono Post of the American Legion with several exhibition bouts. Since then the Bangor chapter of the National Order of the World War, a club made up of officers who served in the World War, has expressed a desire to have the team give exhibition bouts for them.

Lt. Regis of the General Staff Reserve Corps, formerly an officer in the French Army and himself an accomplished swordsman, offered criticisms and suggestions to the team during his recent visit at the University.

If interest in fencing continues next year, Major Glover hopes to develop a strong team and compete with teams in other New England colleges. It has been proposed to form a fencers' club on the campus, but nothing definite has been attempted yet. Of the twenty-two men who signed up for instruction last fall twelve are still working diligently and are to be congratulated for the interest which they have aroused both on and off the campus.

There are still a number of 1927 Prisms on hand. To dispose of these quickly so that all business affairs on the yearbook can be closed this year, Business Manager Day is offering a Prism gratis to anyone who sells five Prisms, cash or on term bills. Anyone interested should see Day at once while there is still a brisk demand for the books.

State Track Meet

At Brunswick next Saturday we will try to prove our supremacy in Track over Bates, Bowdoin and Colby. Our "dope sheet" gives us a slight margin over the other colleges. Coach Kanaly and Captain Barrows are not so optimistic, neither are they in the least discouraged with results so far. It is going to be a fight from start to finish. To miss it would be equivalent to missing a summer's vacation. Bowdoin, who has been supreme in Track for an unutterable number of years is feeling herself "slip." Maine, thanks to the indoor field, is coming up.

For the Team and for your own enjoyment, be at Brunswick next Saturday. Watch Barrows, Eaton, Hobson, Hillman, True, and S. Thompson win first places in their events.

Scholastic Honors

There has been much comment recently about the student at the University of Kansas who declined membership to Phi Beta Kappa. He was branded by some as a "radical" and by others as being an original thinker and possessed of "the new thought," whatever that is. Below is printed the gist of this student's letter in which he declines this high academic honor. We are inclined to sympathize with his particular case. You can draw your own conclusions.

Kansas Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa:

I wrote this letter with hesitating fingers, fearing that I may not make clear just how I feel when I say I am declining the honor of membership in Phi Beta Kappa. I appreciate deeply the honor that has been extended to me. My reasons for not accepting it are presented in the following paragraphs.

I do not subscribe to the ideal of the high grade which I understand is the ideal of Phi Beta Kappa. I honestly believe that in the circumstances of our state universities today, with their large classes and individualized treatment, to strive for grades is detrimental to the best interests of scholarship. To get an "A" requires a degree of docility and useless industry that is fatal to the independence, initiative, and spirit of adventure which are the very life blood, it seems to me, of the true scholar and scientist.

In short, I feel that the grade system of our schools is a false criterion of scholarship and is a dangerous foundation for intellectual idealism and achievement.

I recall, as I write, my own experience with grades, for I sadly admit that many of the "A's" came through the path of "grinding," "cramming," "doing what the 'prof' expects," and working for grades. I feel that I have sacrificed my own development for the empty honor of a grade. I feel that this is the price of our honoring of high grades. Of course if high grades, and high scholarship were synonymous there would be no point in what I say. But in our academic system where so much of the educational process is formal I do not see how it is possible for a student to be a "straight A man" without wasting much of his energies on the forms and husks which are inevitable in courses which are taught, not to individuals, but to classes of 30, 50, 100 and 150.

I do not believe that I would be honest and fair to the organization if I joined it when I have so little confidence in the efficiency of its high grade measure of scholarship (I do not agree with those who say, "Well, it is the best we can have under the circumstances"). I do not see that it would be playing square with the scholastic standards of Phi Beta Kappa if I accepted membership upon the basis of my past records and then proceeded to ignore, as I am trying to do, grades for the rest of my academic career....

Literary Honors

Another and higher honor has been declined. Sinclair Lewis last week refused the thousand dollar Pulitzer prize for his novel "Arrowsmith."

Ralph Pulitzer, editor of The World, commenting on Mr. Lewis's action said: "Without assuming to speak for the advisory board which made the award and of which I am only one member out of the total of eleven, I should say that Mr. Lewis has the right to refuse any prize awarded to him whether he does so from principle or from self exploitation."

It is doubtful that he should refuse because of "self exploitation," yet, as a popular writer, he will gain a greater prominence because of his refusal. Wider circulation is being given his refusal than would have been given his acceptance.

He asserted that because of public misconception concerning the award it was already considered of great importance, and that "it is not absurd to suggest that in another generation it may become the one thing for which an ambitious novelist will strive; and the administrators of the prize may become a supreme court, a college of cardinals, so rooted and so sacred that to challenge them will be to commit blasphemy."

Declaring that only by regularly refusing the Pulitzer prize can novelists keep such an authority from being set up over them, he asked other writers to consider whether any prize "is worth that subservience."

He reminded the Pulitzer committee that some years ago he declined for similar reasons election to the National Institute of Arts and Letters, which he classed with the Pulitzer award, amateur boards of censorship, and the "inquisition of earnest literary ladies" as being equally detrimental to the production of original and fearless writing.

Prof. and Mrs. Bailey entertained the Maine Masque at their home May 5. After dinner a business meeting was held and the following members elected to the organization. They have all been prominent in dramatic work, either as actors or rendering valuable assistance on the stage settings. They are:

Alton Foster, Oscar Birch, Linwood Betts, Edward Merrill, Robert Parks, Harold Ballou, Rose Adams, Maurice Wheeler, Herbert Preble, Oscar Turner, Kenneth Brown.

As some of the officers of the Masque for the coming year had not been filled the following elections were made.

Vice-president: Alton Foster; electrician; Herbert Preble; assistant stage managers: Oscar Turner and Kenneth Brown.

Have you heard the "kerchunks" from the Balentine frog pond?

A CORRECTION

The Campus wishes to apologize for two errors that occurred in the last issue.

The Senior Marshal for Class Day is Paul Lamoreau instead of Sherman Rounselle.

There are two sports editors on the Campus this year: Lloyd Stitham and Matthew Williams.

ORGANIZATIONS

Beta Theta Pi held its Annual Spring House Party on Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8. Friday night opened with a formal dinner and dance afterwards that lasted until 1 A.M. Saturday night there was an informal dance.

The chapter house was very beautifully decorated. Evergreens banded the front steps and verandah. Within, colored lights and clusters of various flowers lent an air of springtime and festival. The corner occupied by the Troubadours was encircled with fresh green ferns. The dance orders of dainty white ivory were shaped like the fraternity pin. Guests also received colorful sofa pillows with Maine on one side and the Beta insignia on the other.

Mr. and Mrs. William McC. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Youngs were the chaperones for the weekend.

PHILIP SPACE SAYS

Open season on sophomores begins

Thursday night, May 20, in the creek back of Phi Gam! That night the embattled freshmen sored by their oppression of the past year, will throw off their chains and leap at the throats of their tormentors. When the shouts of the conquerors and the faint groans of the conquered die away they shall arise, purged by the waters of the Stillwater of their previous condition of subservience and vassalage. Such, in brief, is Rising Night.

This is the golden opportunity so looked forward to by the first year men as the time when past wrongs are redressed and future prestige, along fistic lines, firmly established. When the rope pull was held in front of Balentine the feminine influence was more strongly felt and individual battles were more common. Now in the darkness and slime of the creek, deeds are done that would make a gangster blush. Removed from censorious eyes, too often the warrior forgets his breeding and reverts to the primeval instinct, that of getting rid of his enemy as quickly as possible, regardless of means. These Homeric struggles in the dark are oftentimes real epics, the heroes of which are too often unknown.

Dr. Wherry and Dr. Cross Lecture Here Next Week

Dr. Edgar Wherry of Washington, D. C. is to speak at Coburn hall Monday evening, May 17, on the "Flora of Mt. Desert"; and Dr. Alfred O. Cross of Bowden is to speak Friday, May 21, on "Jungle Life of Panama." These lectures are given under the auspices of Phi Sigma.

Dr. Wherry is associated with the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington. He has spent many summers at Mt. Desert, studying the flora there. In the course of his work he has gathered and made many slides with which he illustrates his lectures. The flora in this region is typical of all Maine. He is especially interested in the work of preserving the wild flowers of the country. The Outing Club of the University is cooperating with Phi Sigma in bringing Dr. Wherry here to speak to the students. His lecture will be given Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, in 30 Coburn Hall, and no admission is to be charged.

Dr. Cross is assistant professor of biology at Bowdoin College. He is giving an illustrated lecture on the "Jungle Life of Panama." He has 125 colored lantern slides, showing the birds, flowers, natives, etc. of the canal zone. He particularly shows the difference between laboratory methods there and in the United States. Much of his work was done on Barro Colorado Island in Gatun Lake in Panama. His lecture which will be especially interesting to the students, will be given at eight o'clock Friday evening in 30 Coburn Hall. No admission is to be charged at this lecture either.

On May 22, Dr. Cross is going to Bar Harbor with the members of Phi Sigma for a visit at the Maine Marine Laboratory. The party plans to make field trips thru the region around the laboratory. They will return Sunday afternoon.

In the Roman amphitheatre the defeated gladiator had at least the satisfaction of seeing the jeering crowd give the fatal "thumbs down." In this battle he smites in darkness, scarcely recognizing friend from foe, his only encouragement the shrill voice of some hardy co-ed on the outskirts of the crowd cheering the freshmen. Fickle creature, last year she cheered just as shrilly for the men she now hopes to see dragged in the mud. But this is no place for delving into the psychology of the "unfair sex"—some other time perhaps.

Rising Night should mean a rope pull and liberation but liberation is emphasized more than the former. The picked valiants of either side, like a medieval tournament, arrange themselves on opposite banks of the creek. The pulling commences but this is too tame. The spectators want action, they set the classes at each other much as too small puppies are incited to battle. The signal is given for a general rush and the impetuous swarm forward. The thoughtful ones adjust their brass knuckles comfortably, hitch up their trousers, pick an opening and start in. Perhaps one will stay on the fringe of the milling mass watching and waiting. Suddenly he dashes at a passing figure, there is a brief struggle and unless aid is forthcoming another grudge is settled.

But in spite of this picture of foul play and dark deeds no one is seriously injured and when the classes meet the next day there is no hard feeling. If one does recognize an opponent of the night before by some distinguishing mark left on the other's physiognomy nothing is said and it is forgotten. At home, however, when telling the story to admiring friends—that's different. The single enemy is magnified into three or four husky bruisers who jumped you simultaneously and you describe in detail how each was rendered hors de combat. But that's only human.

The next day sees the emancipation of the freshman from caps, suits, and other prescribed articles. The bizarre patterns in sweaters are only rivalled by the extremely futuristic designs in neckwear which have been carefully treasured for this occasion. Knickers are separated from moth-balls and golf hose darned. To complete the change from chrysalis to the social butterfly, the ex-freshman puts a pipe in his mouth, a superior expression on his face and imagines himself a full-fledged "college man," whatever that is.

Carl D. True has been elected captain of freshman baseball. Captain True is well fitted for his position having had two years of experience on the baseball team at Westbrook Seminary. Under his leadership the freshmen should have a very successful season. He is from Yarmouthville.

Dr. Culver Met With New M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. Cabinets

Tuesday evening, May 4th, the new cabinets of the M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. held a joint meeting at the M.C.A. building. After a brief business session and a few minutes spent for the benefit of the new members in getting acquainted, the evening was devoted to a discussion of college problems under the leadership of Dr. Raymond B. Culver, New England Field Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Elements destructive to the ideal college were considered, as well as constructive suggestions for a better campus life.

The chief topic for discussion was "The Ideal College Campus"—the center that would be absolutely Christian.

First of all, one would find a prevailing honor system in regard to all college matters of government and personal relationship.

One faith would be in existence, made evident by a well attended voluntary chapel. Good fellowship would permeate activities to such an extent that the many fraternities now existing would be replaced by one large fraternity with voluntary membership.

Above all the students themselves would be the right sort of individuals. They would be men and women in whom the sense of mission had become well instilled and who would go out, not into one field of activity, but into many, carrying with them the message of Christianity and service to all mankind.

Such a system, though idealistic to the highest degree, contains many elements which could be acted upon successfully toward the construction of a more perfect college life.

Are You Going Into the Bond Business?

There is a cycle of fashion not only for the hats college men wear but for the line of work into which they go.

But your job has to fit your head as well as your hat, for it has to fit your state of mind.

Like your hat also, your job needs to fit your purse.

Therefore, why not choose one that brings not only satisfaction in service but in financial return.

Selling life insurance is one of the few modern businesses that does just this.

It takes:

Intelligence, Zest and Ability

It gives:

Liberty of action, the philosophic satisfaction of selling future security and present serenity to living people, and a response, immediate and tangible, in monetary as well as mental reward.

WHEN comes the day that can come but once. And as a Senior you've reached your place at the top of the world—have a Camel!

For Camel shares of its own enchantment with life's memorable events. Camels are of such choice tobaccos that they never tire the taste or leave a cigarette after-taste. Regardless of the money you pay, there is no mellower, friendlier or better cigarette made than Camel.

So this day as you've safely passed all the hazards to life's sublimest moment—know the taste, the contentment that is the due of the world's experienced smokers.

Have a Camel!

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest—made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes is concentrated the experience and skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Entries for the meet do not close until May 20th so that it is impossible to tell at this time what champions will defend their crowns and who will challenge for the crowns resigned through the graduation of last years winners. More than one title was captured a year ago by men not seniors in their college, and these are all expected back again in the Stadium on May 28th and 29th.

Here's A Way to Make Money After Graduation In Your Own College Town

TAKE this Flower Shop at Wellesley, Mass., for example. It is located handy by, just outside the college grounds.

It wasn't so long ago that all there was to it was a plain little frame building, with some rather diminutive green-houses hitched to it.

Now the shop is a most attractive brick building, with up to date greenhouses, and this show house opening right off it.

You should see the way the college girls come here and buy flowers! Christmas and Easter week, the Western Union brings a private wire right into the shop, and has an operator on the job to take the Florist Telegraph Delivery orders that come from parents and friends, for flowers to the girls.

From one of his rose houses alone, this man took $9,000 last year. Doesn't all this start you thinking?

Man alive, where is there a business as healthy, fun-filled and profit yielding?

Just the kind that to-be-wife-of yours would like.

Had you ever stopped to think how many graduates are going into the greenhouse flower growing or shop business?

Hadn't we better start in getting acquainted so you can have the facts. Write us.

Ask us the hundred and one questions you have on your mind.

If interested write to the Manager of our Service Department, Ulmer Building, Cleveland, Ohio, who will give it his personal attention.

To mountain climbers about to cross a plateau

THIS is a thought for seniors about to set forth on the world's biggest climb—their careers.

Educators tell us that mental growth, if diagrammed, would show a succession of mountains and plateaus. Progress in industry, too, has its plateaus—the periods when you seem merely to be marking time.

But is it time lost? Older graduates, now executives in industry, say "No." They recall this as really a chance to find one's self, to get one's second wind for the next climb ahead.

And they recall the fact that this whole journey, up the mountain and across the plain, is a great adventure with each man blazing his own trail, working out his own individuality in the various technical and commercial activities of modern business.
