BASKETBALL MEN SHAPE UP STRONG IN PRACTICE LAST WEEK HARVARD AND DARTMOUTH ON MAINE HOOP SCHEDULE

VARSITY

Dec. 10 Norwich at Northfield
Dec. 11 Dartmouth at Hanover
Jan. 21 Rhode Island State at Orono
Jan. 29 Mass. Aggies at Orono
Feb. 5 New Hampshire at Orono
Feb. 11 Fort Williams at Orono
Feb. 18 Portland A. C. at Portland
Feb. 19 New Hampshire at Durham
Feb. 26 Harvard at Cambridge
March 3 Conn. Aggies at Storrs

FRESHMEN

The freshmen will play 10 games, with four more still pending.
Jan. 7 Jonesport High at Orono
Jan. 14 Ricker Classical at Orono
Jan. 15 Hebron at Orono
Jan. 22 Kents Hill at Orono
Jan. 29 Brewer High at Orono
Feb. 5 East Maine Conference Seminary at Orono
Feb. 11 Bridgton Academy at Orono

CAPT. "BILL" HANSCOM

Coach Brice issued the call for basketball last week, and thirty versatile men reported in uniform. Many familiar faces were amongst the group, and some new aspirants for varsity work were there.

Practices for these men were held all week. Friday came, and with it, a cut in the squad. Fourteen men were dropped. The sixteen retained are all good material and Brice finds it a hard job to pick out the five best.

Epstein, formerly of Bangor High, a teammate of "Archie" Kamenkovitz, is back in the running this year. He was ineligible all last year, and, consequently, will probably need a bit of scrimmage before being at top form.

"Les" Wass, a regular of two years ago, is back at school this year and will make the guards look to their laurels.

Raynor Fitzhugh is going hard for the center position. He is probably the best shooter on the squad. He was held down last year by "Joe" Ineligible. He is striving to avert him this year and if he does, he will, no doubt, make the team easily. If he is on the Dean's calling list, Sam Thompson, the one and only shot putter, will probably fill the berth. Sam can jump, handle himself well, and has an almost sure eye for the basket.

The two veteran centers, "Russ" Beatty and "Speed" Branscom, will be shifted to other positions if one of the aforementioned makes the grade at center.

SIGMA XI CLUB MEETS FRIDAY

Members Are Conducting Many Research Problems

At seven P. M. Friday, November 26, there is to be a dinner and meeting of Sigma Xi Club. At this time Dean Edward Ellery of Union College is to speak on the "Purpose of Sigma Xi."

Sigma Xi is an organization of scientific workers engaged in research. Although there is no chapter here, there are on the campus eighteen members of other chapters. They have formed a club which meets once a month for discussion of scientific problems of the day. The members are Dr. C. B. Crofut (Physicist), Mr. W. F. Dove (Biologist), Dr. T. Eckert (Chemist), Dr. W. F. Eyster (Geneticist), Dr. A. L. Fitch (Physicist), Dr. D. Folsom (Plant Pathologist), Dr. W. J. Morse (Director of the Experiment Station), Dr. F. V. Owen (Biologist), Dr. E. M. Patch (Entomologist), Mr. C. R. Phipps (Entomologist), Dr. K. Sax (Biologist), Dr. H. J. Sax (Biologist), Mr. Cheng Sun (Chemistry), Prof. W. J. Sweetser (Mechanical Engineer), Dr. P. W. Whiting (Cytologist), Dr. A. R. Whiting (Biologist), Dr. H. R. Willard (Mathematics), Dr. A. E. Woodward (Physiologist).

There are many kinds of problems which the members are engaged in studying. At the Experiment Station, in the Plant Pathology department under the direction of Dr. Folsom, research work is being carried on with about a dozen new diseases which cause potatoes to degenerate; with the spraying and dusting of potatoes and apples for the prevention of certain diseases of the foliage and harvested crop; with the treatment of seed potatoes for the prevention of disease; and with the development of the apple scab fungus, especially in cold storage.

In the department of Entomology, Dr. Patch is studying aphids. She has discovered the life history of many species which had caused annually hundreds of dollars loss to the farmers notably of Maine but also of all the world. These migratory aphids, or plant lice, live part of the year on one species of plant and the rest on a different species. By controlling one of the food plants, it is possible to exterminate the particular aphid. Mr. Phipps, also of the Entomology department, is working at present on the blueberry maggot, on certain cutworms and on wireworms. The method used is to collect and rear as many of the various species as possible both under field and laboratory conditions, thus getting their life-history, and thru this determining methods of control.

Dr. Sax, head of the Biology department at the Station, has been investigating various problems in sweet corn. This year he has published papers on the Genetic Interpretation of Ecological Adaptation; "Quantitative Inheritance in Phaseolus;" "Sweet Corn Breeding Experiments." Dr. Gowen, formerly connected with this department, has resigned to accept a position with the Rockefeller Institute and has been replaced by Mr. Dove of the University of Wisconsin.

GIRLS RIFLE CLUB STARTS SEASON DEC. 11

Girls' rifle practice started the first of November under the direction of Coach Kidney. As the schedule goes now, the upper classmen practice on Monday and Friday and the freshmen on Wednesday. By athletic ruling freshmen are not eligible to fire on the varsity team this year.

Three new repeating army rifles are available for the girls. The season will last from November first until March first. So far, seven matches have been arranged. The first will be shot December 11, with George Washington University. "Maine must look to her laurels" was the title George Washington University gave to their write-up about their rifle team in a daily paper a few days ago.

HONORARY ENGINEERING SOCIETIES ANNOUNCE PLEDGES AT SMOKER

"ALL TECHNOLOGY" AFFAIR IS BIG SUCCESS

There was an All-Technology Smoker held in 30 Coburn Hall, Wednesday evening, November 17. The room was well filled with both students and faculty members. Pledges to Alpha Chi Sigma, the chemical fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi, the engineering fraternity, were announced.

Each division of Technology put on an act of some kind. The biggest act of the Mechanicals seemed to be the distribution of apples, Esquimo Pies, salted peanuts, and cigars. The Chemicals gave a skit entitled, "There Ain't no Santa Claus."

The best act of the evening was that presented by the Civils. Getchell, Hartley, Ridlon and Hodgins accompanied by Ingall's ukulele, sang a number of appropriate parodies on popular songs. They also presented the Electricals with "the oldest receiving set in the world."

Professor Weston in his droll and rambling manner spoke through a haze of cigar smoke on the meaning of success. Success, he said, is doing work that you enjoy and receiving with it a fair amount of cash.

TAU BETA PI PLEDGES

Cuyler Poor, Paul Watson, Raymond Wood, Patrick Gilfoyle, Earl Webster, Selden Pierce.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA PLEDGES

Doctor C. A. Brautlecht, Harold Stuart, Reginald Adams, John Lowell, Winfield Lowell, and Charles Stover.

CIVILS' SONGS

Who plays level with the levelman's daughter,
While the levelman's busy running levels
Gee, Oh gosh Oh, gee, that's what worries me,
I know that the levelman must run his dumpy
We smoke Camels and neither does Grumpy.
So who plays—

Who said dam to the dam builder's daughter,
While the dam builder was busy damming dam,
Gee, Oh, gosh Oh, gee—
I know that the dam builder built a dam
If coeds are pretty, so's your old man.
So who said dam—

Who crabs the course to the course crabber's daughter,
While the course crabber is busy crabbing course,
Gee, Oh, gosh, Oh Gee—
I know that a course crabber has one bet,
A river's moist but he's all wet,
So who crabs course—

Who goes sliding with the slide ruler's daughter,
While the slide ruler's busy doing slide,
Gee, Oh, gosh, Oh Gee—
Some will say a rule is right,
Weston drinks coffee, and it makes him tight,
So who goes sliding—

Who plays bridge with the bridge builder's daughter,
While the bridge builders busy building bridge,
Gee, Oh, gosh, Oh Gee—
From a Lyon we will quote,
Azzume a yard and build a boat.
So who plays bridge with the bridge builder's daughter
While the bridge builder's busy building bridge.

OPENING DIRGE

We are a quintet of Engineers,
We know our business well.
We've come to build for you a Railroad,
To ride you straight to Hell.

ST. PETER VIEWS COLLEGE LIFE

Impressions of Co-Eds Rather Vague

St. Peter, the well-known caretaker of the Athletic Field, consented to give his views on college people and college life. He feels that he can't give a complete picture, however, since he has never had the interesting job of night-watchman. He hinted that perhaps that might be one of his ambitions.

St. Peter's impression of co-eds is rather vague. It seems to be to the effect that they are a general nuisance. They giggle too much. And he doesn't understand how men can study when they are hanging half-way out of a fraternity house window to talk to every co-ed who goes by. Of course this is the co-ed's fault. However, there is one point that he finds to be distinctly in their favor. They don't clutter up the athletic field very much. He is thankful for that.

He shakes his head almost doubtfully about the men. "Well, they're a pretty good bunch. But awfully dumb, some of them. They are always trotting energetically around and around that track. That wastes a lot of good time and energy. I like them, though, even if they do wear sailor trousers and loud sweaters. But say, you know some of them must be color-blind. Why? Well, have you noticed those corduroys?" He even likes those who try to raise the kind of a moustache that is doing well by its proud owner if it increases at the rate of three hairs per week. He admires optimism. He described the sad parting of the football men and their moustaches. It was sad, but you see the field was always so muddy. And while mud did make them look much more flourishing still there were disadvantages.

Once, a few years ago, St. Peter tried to do a good turn for the students by dynamiting the jam at the Orono bridge—thus making it possible for them to attend classes the next day. He heard rumours to the effect that, strangely enough, this wasn't appreciated by certain ungrateful members of the student body. Since then he has given up all work in the philanthropic line.

On the whole he thinks that the Maine campus has a pretty good bunch. "But," he says, "I think you'd better ask my friend, the night-watchman."

HOCKEY TEAM HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

After a most successful autumn, the girls' hockey season is over for another year.

For the first time interclass games have played an important part this year, giving evidence of the increasing popularity and rapid growth of this particular sport. The laurels in class games were won by the sophomore class.

The varsity played only one game on the home field, defeating Bangor High by a 3-1 score. The other three games were played in southern New England, at Medford Hillside where the Maine team conquered Jackson by an 8-0 victory; at Storrs, Conn. where the Connecticut Aggies were defeated by 4-1, and at Stamford where the Maine girls met their only defeat of the season in a loss of 4-1 to the Fairchester Hockey Club, a selected team composed, for a large part, of veteran players.

The coach, Miss Helen Lengyel, is a capable trainer who builds up her teams through hard and persistent practice. Through her efforts the team was fortunate enough to secure the services of an expert English hockey coach who spent the last week of September here coaching the girls in stick work and general hockey technique. By a coincidence Miss Campbell also refereed the Fairchester game at Stamford. Miss Lengyel hopes to have her visit Maine again next year.

The freshman team developed rapidly and contained many promising players among whom the captain, Dorothy Ross, Ellen Mullaney, Thelma Shea, Rachel

VARSITY FINISHES EIGHTH IN NATIONAL CROSS COUNTRY MEET

PENN STATE WINS SWEEPING VICTORY

COURSE RECORD BROKEN

Richardson Places Second in Freshman Meet

The Maine varsity cross-country finished in eighth place at the National Cross Country run in Van Courtlandt Park, N. Y. on Monday.

Captain "Grunt" Taylor finished in ninth place. William Cox led the Penn State harriers home with a sweeping victory, their total score being only 65. Maine was tied with Cornell with 184 points for eighth place.

Cox broke the record by 30 seconds, his time being 30.04. This record was made by Tibbetts of Harvard last year who won by a stride. The results:

1. Penn State, 2. Syracuse, 3. Yale, 4. Harvard, 5. M.I.T.

Richardson, the only Maine freshman to enter, finished in second place. Swede of Princeton led him to the tape by 50 yards. Syracuse won the race by the low score of 39.

The following Maine men made the trip: Captain Taylor, Victor McNaughton, Eugene Scribner, Andre Cushing, Leon Murray, Worth Noyes, Clyde Stinson, Freshman Captain Richardson.

A new feature this year in track circles will be started December 10. This event will be known as the Christmas Handicap. It closes the fall season of track with gusto.

The idea of this handicap originated in Powder Fields, Scotland. It became an annual fixture there for 46 years. Athletes came from all over the world to compete in this Handicap.

Coach Kanaly's men are training hard for this event because it is the climax of the fall season. After Christmas the men start training for Indoor Relay.

ARTS AND SCIENCE RALLY TO BE DEC. 3

The Arts and Science Rally this year comes on Friday evening, December 3. All of the students, and the faculty and their families, of the College of Arts and Sciences are expected to be present. The program includes members of both the faculty and the students, and presents comedy of the highest order. It is hoped that the several new innovations of this year's program will make it the best rally yet. However a rally cannot have spirit and pep without a large audience of interested spectators.

Very few of the students in the University at the present time know what an Arts and Science Rally is and means. This is because the last one was held in 1923. Before that time the rally was held some time during the fall term of each year. The custom is a good one, and needs to be established again.

In previous years Professor Kueny's punch grew to be of such renown that it alone was a sufficient drawing card to pack the chapel. The delicious beverage is going to be served again this year.

All individual Prism pictures must be in the hands of the Prism Board before the Christmas holidays. The specifications for these pictures are: (1) Carbon print on light weight glossy paper, (2) Dimensions of head—1½ inches from point of chin to top of forehead, (See sample on bulletin board). Pictures cannot be accepted by the Prism Board unless they meet these specifications. It is up to you, to see that your photographer meets these specifications and that your work is in on time.

The Journalistic Conference

A week from now, December 3 and 4, there will be a conference on the campus of high school and academy journalists. To many of them it will be their first visit and their impressions might be lasting ones. In the past, high school journalists have received less attention than high school athletes. Fraternities are eager to make the acquaintance of the athletes so that they might offer them membership at once if they register as freshmen in the fall. Out of the host of athletes that are entertained during the basketball tournament and the track meet, relatively few enroll later as freshmen in comparison to the number of journalists that enroll.

Out of the thirty-two early registrants for the conference in April 1923, the following nine people have enrolled at the University and have done creditable work: Sylvia Kurson, Robert Scott, Kenneth Field, Erdine Besse, John Mahoney, Helen Page, Zella MacKenzie, Beulah Kneeland, and Ethel Saunders ex-'28.

Furthermore, it is the duty of these high school people to tell in the columns of their newspapers what they saw and heard at the University. If their reports are favorable they might influence many good students to come to the University, and even those students who do not expect to continue their training after high school might hold the University in greater respect, because of these favorable reports.

A reprint from this column should not be amiss at this point:

"The Campus goes to every high school in the state. It is read by hundreds of potential students of the University. The events which are recorded are shaping in their minds the desirability of making Maine their Alma Mater. The Campus to them is a concrete expression of the life they may choose for their four years in college. In the hands of the members of the Campus staff there rests the responsibility of putting the spirit of Maine in their work. Of putting in black and white on the printed page the events which make Maine to us all, the symbol of loyalty and inspiration, that she is. The success of the Campus rests not only with the staff but in the hands of every student in college. The article that YOU can write next week-end may be the link in a chain that will bring another student to Maine next fall. When you feel that inspiration, that thrill, that feeling of appreciation for the opportunities that Maine is giving to you, put them on paper and let us pass it on."

If you have not time to write to the home folks, send them the Campus. One dollar will give them all of the news for the rest of the school year. Address your subscriptions to the Business Manager.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Editor:

Ever since the announcement that in the fall of 1927 a second year pledging rule would become effective, similar to plans used by several colleges at the present time, there has been much bally-hoo as to the merits and demerits of such a plan.

Let us analyse some phases of this plan insofar as they affect us:

First, the success of such a ruling in other colleges is no indication that it will be a success on this campus. Each college or university must adapt itself to its local problems and govern itself accordingly. What is applicable to Dartmouth is by no means an indication that Maine will profit to the same extent. In other words, what are the conditions on this campus which warrant such a ruling?

Maine has been called a "fraternity college" and its spirit and democracy have been broadcasted far and wide. We are, as has been said, "One big happy family." It is true that the traditions of our university have built up this reputation, and yet, it can be said, no less, that the fraternities have labored to this end, and have been responsible, in some measure, to this enviable record. Love of Alma Mater has been taught fraternity freshmen from the day of their pledge to graduation, and this teaching has had behind it, the force of personal interest and common good. There is no better substitute.

Second: the University, by its isolated position and limited means to provide unlimited housing facilities for its students, must rely to a great extent, upon the fraternities to absorb a large part of its students, and provide them with as good a substitute of homelike surroundings as it is within their means to do. This, fraternities have been doing now for over a period of thirty years. To accomplish this, many thousands of dollars have been spent and are continuing to be spent. Fundamentally, each fraternity represents a business institution, and as such, must naturally protect its resources and keep a careful watch upon its expenditures, and moreso, upon its income. It is more than obvious that the loss of just one year's income will impose upon all houses, a severe financial burden, especially on those students living in the houses at the present time. One of the most essential and exacting principles upon which fraternity life is founded, had to be, in some measure, overlooked this year, in order to build up large delegations to tide them over the next few years.

Third and last: There is no question in the minds of anyone that the first year at college is the most important. It is during this time that habits are formed that influence the remaining three years. Freshmen living in dormitories and in Orono cannot, and will not, have the individual attention and help which is obtained in fraternal surroundings. Nor should they be denied these privileges! Each man comes here to obtain the most out of his work and play as it is possible for him to do.

No doubt, there are merits, and many of them, for a second year ruling or else such a plan would not have been introduced here. It is nevertheless, a many-sided question, the solutions of which become more complex as time goes on.

The writer is, at the present time, trying to collect data from such colleges as enforce this ruling, so that its advantages and disadvantages may be more clearly recorded, and hopes to publish them sometime in the Campus.

Yours very truly,
O. A. S. '28

NEWSPAPER DEBATES

(By New Student Service)

Subscribers of student papers in Dalhousie University and the University of Alberta will compose the audience for a printed intercollegiate debate. The debaters have been selected for "combined debating ability and journalistic skill," the text of the debates appearing simultaneously in both college papers.

Alberta debaters will open this curious contest. When their "speech" reaches Dalhousie both papers will print it. Then a Dalhousie man replies, followed by a second Alberta and another Dalhousie man. Rebuttals will follow in due order. Judges in the contest will possibly be editors of Canadian publications.

The debate subject will be "Resolved: That Compulsory Attendance at University Lectures is in the Best Interests of the Student Body."

Intra-Mural Basketball Schedule Announced

The Intra-Mural basketball schedule for 1926-27 is as follows:

Northern League: Sigma Phi Sigma, Sigma Nu, Theta Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Commons Council, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

All games must be played on date scheduled unless the basketball court is occupied. In such a case the change of date shall be made and each team notified by the chairman of the Intra Mural Basketball Committee.

Failure of team to appear on date of game scheduled will cause that team to forfeit the game to its opponent. There shall absolutely be no compromise between teams. Failure to abide by this rule will result in a loss for both teams scheduled.

Officials must be obtained at least one week before the game.

Winners of each league will be notified when finals will be run off.

Intra Mural B. B. Committee
Louie Airolti, Chr.
Keith B. Lydiard
Robert L. Lane, Sec.

The Department of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering made one change in staff membership this year: Lyle C. Jenness, B.S. in Ch.E., University of New Hampshire replacing Dr. R. H. Macy. Gordon M. Juredini, a temporary instructor last year entered into technical work in Worcester, Massachusetts.

Dr. C. A. Brautlecht was elected first vice chairman of the Northeastern Division of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendent's Association at the October meeting held at Lincoln, N. H. Dr. Brautlecht served as Secy.-Treas. in 1925. V. E. Fishburn, mill manager, of the Groveton Paper Company was elected chairman.

ORGANIZATIONS

On Saturday evening, November 20, the Chi Omega sorority held an informal dance in the gymnasium in honor of their pledges.

It was a nautical dance with decorations of ships, pennants, life-savers and colored lights carrying out the effect. The dance orders were in the form of colored fish. Around the hall were small tables which gave the effect of a cabaret and during intermission a short entertainment was given by "Jo" Jackson, "Kay" Marvin, and "Izzy" Ames. For the favor dance, the couples matched numbered life-savers for partners.

The chairman of the dance committee was Annette Lane and the chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Simmons, Professor and Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Delia Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Walkley, Mr. and Mrs. Davee and Miss Inez Bowler. The Island City six piece orchestra furnished the music.

An annual custom of long standing was revived again on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23, when Phi Gamma Delta entertained Phi Kappa Sigma at their chapter house for their Tenth Annual Peanut Drunk. Fraternity songs, cards, and a "fireside session" were enjoyed by all.

The Fall banquet and initiation of Phi Sigma was held Wednesday, November 17, 1926, at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. The following members were initiated:

Faculty: Margaret Schneider, Evelyn Buchan, Theodore Ayers, Fay Hyland.

Students: Gifford B. Adams, Horace E. Bell, Marion A. Farrington, Allen W. Goodspeed, Edward D. Johnson, Elmer G. Kelso, Henry C. Waldo, Alexander F. Waldron.

Dr. Warner J. Morse, director of the Experiment Station, was elected honorary member.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Whitman H. Jordan, of Orono. Dr. Jordan was formerly director of the Experiment Station, and later director of the New York Experiment Station. At that time he was the leader in his field in the United States. His subject was "Advice to Young Biologists."

The annual initiation of the Sodalitas Latina was held at the Arts and Science building, Tuesday evening, Nov. 9. The following students were admitted to membership: Beatrice Bryenton, '29; Addie Brown, '28; Marion Butler, '29; Clare Callaghan, '29; Edna Cohen, '28; Thelma Ham, '29; Delia Houghton, '28; Mary McGuire, '28; Alice Muzzy, '28; Celia Sheriff, '29.

At the business meeting following the initiation, Mary McGuire was elected secretary-treasurer. Refreshments were served by Erdine Besse and Isabel Ames.

Professor Peterson, of the Department of Spanish and Italian, has consented to speak at the next meeting of the Club, which will be held in the Arts and Sciences building December 7, at 4:15 P.M.

Professor John H. Ashworth, professor of economics and sociology, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Veritons. The meeting was held at the Penobscot Exchange Hotel in Bangor Thursday noon. James A. Cahners, president of the organization, was the chairman of the meeting and introduced the speaker in a very interesting manner.

Prof. Ashworth spoke concerning the probable platforms and the candidates for the next presidential campaign; and briefly reviewed the so-called issues. The speaker advanced the idea that neither of the great political parties would go to the country in their campaign for either the old tariff issue or the more modern question of the Volstead act. It seems to him highly probable that the next campaign will be without issues and will be merely a battle of candidates.

Students:

Are you planning on a meeting of your organization in the M.C.A. building tonight, or perhaps next week?

If you are would it not be well to call "Bill" Wilson 183-3 and ask him if he has a room left for the particular day and at the time at which you will need it.

The rooms in the M.C.A. building have been in such demand of late that several groups have been disappointed and the only way we know that it can be helped is to make arrangements in advance.

Very truly yours,
A. L. Deering,
Sec. M.C.A. Advisory Board

COLUMN RIGHT

Laziness, not necessity, is the mother of invention. When man becomes sufficiently weary of performing a certain operation in a certain way, he sits him down to figure out some way to avoid the like-some labor, and then lo, and behold—another invention or a new method. For centuries man was content to walk upright upon his two feet, as nature obviously intended he should. But one day, probably under the annual lassitude which accompanies springtime, one particularly lazy member of the race, tired of walking hither and yon, broke a horse, and chivalry began.

So has it always been. It is the inherent desire to "pass the buck" that keeps the world progressing materially. Nations come and go, empires rise and fall because of that desire. It may clothe itself in strange garments—"efficiency," "research," "constructive" thought, yet is not the underlying wish the same, the desire to "let George do it," the desire to loiter in the fair places of the world. Don Herald had man's inherent laziness in mind when he said that "the only excuse for efficiency was that it gave us more time in which to be inefficient." All thought-processes of our minds, all the labor of mind and body have the same end in view—the Elysian fields of sheer laziness.

It is a pleasant philosophy, is that of laziness; it leads to green fields and brown sun-shadows; it is the handmaiden of youth bringing gifts of songs and flowers—the philosopher's stone which can, as Omar says "Life's leaden metal into gold transmute." Without it, existence is a grey prison of endless labor and duty; with it, life is a prismatic study in contentment.

Life holds many joys, the thrill of sharp action, the feeling of spiritual fullness upon having performed a duty well, but the highest moments of bright color and the sheer, unthinking joy of living are those of laziness. Not the acquisition of wealth, nor the acclaim of the multitude, not even the heady wine of success, can compare with the god-like pleasure of lying upon one's back in the June-green grass, allowing eternity to trickle thru the fingers of one's spirit, as a child lets fall the white sea-sand.

MAINE NIGHT AT BIJOU

It seemed Monday night that a bit of the campus of the University of Maine was transported to the Bijou Theater where members of the championship football team were guests of Manager C. J. Russell.

Throughout the entire performance the capacity audience, consisting of Maine students and royal rooters from Bangor and vicinity, enjoyed five acts of vaudeville the like of which have not graced eastern Maine for some time. Every act had an abundance of original gag lines aimed directly at the members of the Maine football squad, and as each gag was delivered by the performers, its effect produced hilarious uproars from the audience. The performers entered into the spirit of the occasion and the result was an evening's entertainment of unsurpassed delight.

Following the vaudeville which consisted of an excellent animal act, with comedy sidelights with a mule, dubbed the Colby Mule, an excellent dance team comprised of two colored boys who could step, Mlle. Pompadour a really remarkable singer, a comedy team and finally Lunn and White, two young ladies who made a tremendous hit with the boys, the Maine team was cheered and its members introduced.

Assistant Manager George Holmes appeared from the wings and put the Maine students through a bit of intensive cheering. He also called several members of the team onto the stage and though no lengthy speeches were made the audience gave each boy a warm reception. Among those making initial appearances before the footlights were Capt. Lamoreau, Captain-Elect Nanigian, Peakes, Coulter and Buzzell.—Bangor Daily News.

ONE ACT PLAYS PRESENTED BY CLASS

The M.C.A. held the first meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council, on Wednesday evening, November 10. At this meeting it was decided to hold a meeting of the freshmen every Wednesday at 6:30 P.M. in the M.C.A. building.
The Freshman Friendship Council is organized with the purpose of getting together the members of the class to discuss problems of common interest and to assist them in adjusting themselves to campus life and its activities. The group is led by an upperclassman and a member of the M.C.A. Cabinet, who will act as a chairman until officers are chosen in a few weeks.

A good number attended the first meeting, considering it was the evening before a holiday, but all the fraternities are urged to send over at least two of their freshmen who would be interested in discussing campus and life problems. The meetings are to be held hereafter on Wednesdays at 6:30 P.M.

Winners SECOND $2,000 HEADLINE CONTEST

FIRST PRIZE . . . . $1,000

Won by . . . Miss Mary Marshall, 23 Francis Ave., Greenwood, Mass.
Winning Title . . . . "Such miles of smiles this morning"

SECOND PRIZE . . . . $500

Won by . . . Miss Nellie G. Mason, Rear 40 Oak Street, Westerly, R. I.
Winning Title . . . . "Smoking, Henry, and not choking!"

His Wife said: "Such miles of Smiles this morning"

"Why the change, Henry?"

"You used to follow the early morning smoke with an early morning grouch ...with plenty of sputtering and coughing."

"'Change' is right, dearest," the husband replied.

"I changed my cigarette—and lost the throat tickle.

"I switched to OLD GOLDS."

A lot of men have made that change lately . . . and with it have made a big discovery. They found out for the first time that a real man's cigarette doesn't need to be harsh and irritating. Coarseness doesn't mean strength. A fine cigarette, like a fine full-bodied cigar, is smooth and mellow. That's OLD GOLD. The smoothest cigarette of all time! You can smoke them and enjoy them, morning, noon and night, without regret or after-effect.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STUDENT SENATE

REVISED TO APRIL 1, 1924

The constitution of the Men's Student Senate of the University of Maine revised to April 1, 1924, is as follows:

ARTICLE I—NAME

Section 1
The name of this organization shall be "The Senate of the Men's Student Government of the University of Maine."

ARTICLE II—OBJECT

Section 1
The object shall be:
(a) Discuss conditions about the University.
(b) Discuss conditions relating to Student Government.
(c) To act as coordinating body between the University Administration and the Student Body.
(d) To make recommendations to the University Administration.

ARTICLE III—MEMBERSHIP

Section 1
The Senate shall be composed of members chosen by popular vote from and by the various groups represented and one faculty member appointed by the administration. The number of members from each organization shall be determined on the percentage basis. One Senator shall be chosen from each fraternity and from each group of thirty non-fraternity men, or major fraction thereof.

Section 2
The members shall consist of representatives from:

- Each fraternity
- The Dormitory Men
- The off campus men
  - Men living in Orono and Veazie
  - Men living in Bangor and Brewer
  - Men living in Stillwater and Old Town

Section 3
All men neither belonging to a fraternity nor living in the dormitory shall be considered as off campus men.

Section 4
Any vacancy occurring shall be filled within two weeks after such vacancy shall occur and in the same manner as the office was previously filled.

ARTICLE IV—DUTIES OF MEMBERS

Section 1
It shall be the duty of each member to attend all meetings except when he is excused by the President of the Senate for a sufficient reason.

Section 2
Any member who is absent from regular meetings two consecutive times without having previously been excused by the President of the Senate shall be automatically expelled from the Senate and a new member shall be elected to fill his office.

Section 3
It shall be the duty of each member to vote on every question requiring such action.

ARTICLE V—OFFICERS

Section 1
There shall be a president, vice-president and three clerks.

Section 2
(a) The President (preferably a senior) shall be elected by secret ballot from and by the Senate.
(b) The Vice-President (preferably a junior) shall be elected in a similar manner.

(c) The three clerks shall be appointed by the President of the Senate and shall represent three different organizations and shall not be appointed from the members of the Senate.

Section 3
(a) It shall be the duty of the President to appoint all standing committees. The committees on:

- (1) Administration; (2) Athletics;
- (3) Publicity; (4) Auditing; (5) Alumni;
- (6) Honors; (7) Rules; (8) Schedule; (9) Social Affairs; (10) Secondary School Relations; (11) Student Activities (non-Athletic); (12) Health; (13) Chapel; (14) Military; (15) Joint Committee with Girls' Student Government.

(b) The clerks shall not be allowed to vote but shall merely take down the minutes of the meeting and read at each meeting the minutes of the previous meeting.

(c) The clerks shall be subject to the same regulations in regard to presence at meetings as the members of the Senate.

ARTICLE VI—MEETINGS

Section 1
The Senate shall meet twice monthly at such time and place as shall be designated by the President assisted by the advice of the members.

Section 2
The President may call a special meeting at any time necessary.

ARTICLE VII—POWERS OF SENATE

Section 1
The Senate shall have the power to investigate any question relative to the Student Body or any member thereof and to recommend to the Administration what action should be taken with respect to same.

Section 2
The Senate shall have power to summon before it any student or students for trial or testimony.

ARTICLE VIII—QUORUM

Section 1
A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE IX—AMENDMENTS

Section 1
This constitution may be amended by two thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting.

RULES AND BY-LAWS FOR THE STUDENT SENATE

THE PRESIDENT

Rule 1
The President shall take the chair at the hour set for the meeting, and shall call the members to order, and, on the appearance of a quorum shall proceed to business.

Rule 2
The President shall preserve order and decorum in the Senate and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal. He shall rise to put a question or to address the Senate, but may read sitting.

Rule 3
The President may vote on all questions.

Rule 4
When two or more members rise at once, the President shall designate which of them shall be entitled to the floor.

Rule 5
The President shall have the right to appoint a member to perform the duties of the chair, but such appointment shall not extend beyond two consecutive meetings.

Rule 6
In case neither the President nor the Vice President are present, and the vacancy of the chair has not been provided for, a chairman may be elected by the Senate.

Rule 7
The President shall appoint all committees, unless otherwise specially directed by the Senate, and the person first named shall be chairman. In all elections of committees by ballot, the person having the highest number of votes shall act as chairman.

RULES OF DEBATE

Rule 8
Every member, when he speaks, shall stand in his place and address the President.

Rule 9
No member shall speak more than once on the same question, to the prevention of any other who has not spoken and is desirous of speaking, and not more than twice without obtaining leave of the Senate.

Rule 10
No member shall interrupt another while speaking, except by rising to call to order.

Rule 11
After a question is put to vote, no member shall speak on it.

MOTIONS

Rule 12
Any motion shall be reduced to writing if the President so directs.

Rule 13
A question containing two or more propositions, capable of division, shall be divided whenever desired by any member. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible. But a motion to strike out, being lost, shall neither prevent amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

Rule 14
When a question is under debate, the President shall receive no motion, but to adjourn, to proceed to the consideration of the special assignment, to lay on the table, to close the debate at a specified time, to postpone to the next meeting, to commit, to amend, to refer to a committee, or to postpone indefinitely, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand.

Rule 15
When a motion is made to commit a subject, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order: A standing committee of the Senate, a select committee of the Senate, a joint standing committee, a joint select committee.

Rule 16
No motion or proposition of a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of an amendment.

Rule 17
When a vote has passed, it shall be in order for any member to move a reconsideration thereof in the same or the succeeding meeting; and such motion, if made in the same meeting, shall be the first proposition considered at the next meeting; but if first moved in such succeeding meeting, it shall forthwith be considered; and, when a motion for reconsideration is decided, that vote shall not be reconsidered.

Rule 18
When any measure has been finally rejected, no measure substantially the

A smoking pleasure that never fails

HERE is the outstanding fact of the entire cigarette industry: Camels never tire the taste, no matter how liberally you smoke them; never leave a cigarette after-taste.

Only the choicest tobaccos that nature produces, only the finest blending ever given a cigarette could produce a smoke that never fails to please, that always brings the utmost in smoking enjoyment. Regardless of how often you want the comfort of a smoke, of how steadily you light one after another,

Camels will never fail you, never give you any but the finest thrill of smoking pleasure.

That is why Camel sales, by far the largest in the world, keep overwhelmingly in the lead. Increasing millions are discovering the incomparable Camel quality—smoothness and mellowness.

If you want the one and only cigarette that's good to live with strenuously from morn to midnight—the cigarette that never tires the taste—Have a Camel!

same shall be introduced by any committee or member during the meeting.

Rule 19

The President shall declare all votes; but, if a member rises to doubt a vote, the President shall order a return of the number voting in the affirmative, and in the negative, without further debate.

Rule 20

Voting shall be accomplished by the members signifying their intentions by the upturned hand, unless otherwise provided by the Senate.

PROCEDURE FOR MEETINGS*Rule 21

The procedure of each meeting shall be as follows:

1. Meeting called to order by the presiding officer.
2. Roll call and examination for quorum.
3. Reading of minutes.
4. Reports of officers and committees.
5. Old business.
6. New business.
7. Appointment of special committees.
8. Announcement of next meeting.
9. Motion to adjourn.

Rule 22

Roll call shall be by names, and absences shall be checked in a suitable book kept by the clerks.

Tardiness shall constitute an absence unless excused by a majority vote of the Senate upon petition of the offender with suitable explanation. Arrival after the meeting has been called to order shall constitute a tardiness.

Rule 23

Absentees shall read their excuses at the next meeting following their absence, under the section "Reports of officers and committees." A vote shall be taken to accept or reject the excuse, under "New business."

Rule 24

Each chairman of a standing committee shall report, at each meeting, any matters under his jurisdiction.

Rule 25

The rules of Parliamentary Practice, comprised in "Cushings Manual," shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with these "Rules of the Senate" or the Constitution of the Senate.

Rule 26

These "Rules of the Senate" shall be read in the first meeting after the election of new senators, and at the first meeting of each semester.

AMENDMENTS*Rule 27

No rule shall be altered, suspended, or rescinded, except by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

Basketball Men Shape Up Strong In Practice Last Week

Captain "Bill" Hanscom, veteran guard of two years, will not be available until after the forester's camp at Grindstone closes. "Bobby" Durell is a logical candidate to fill his position.

Joe Gay, "Dick" Dolloff, "Farmer" Abbott, "Jimmy" Gallagher, "Charlie" Stone, and "Larry" Hobbs are the forwards who survived the cut of Friday.

All except "Charlie" Stone and "Larry" Hobbs are seniors. "Charlie" is a junior and "Larry" a sophomore; and both starred on their respective class teams. Dick Dolloff and Guy Thurston are the other guards who are retained.

The schedule starts with Norwich at Northfield, Vt., Dec. 10. Dec. 11, the Bears play Dartmouth at Hanover. Last year Maine won from Dartmouth 26-24 and hopes to repeat the victory this year. Norwich is a new-comer.

The basketballers meet nine teams this winter, playing ten games in all. Six of these are on foreign floors, while four are at home. New Hampshire is the only team playing a return engagement with the Bears.

Harvard and Norwich are new-comers on the schedule, while Rensselaer, Union, and Worcester Tech, schools played last year, will not be met this year.

The season opens with Norwich and Dartmouth on two successive nights.

The games with Rhode Island State, New Hampshire State, Mass. Aggies and Connecticut are for the New England Conference title.

Dr. Owen is also a new member of the department.

In the Biology department of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Whiting is working on Hymenoptera (bees, ants, wasps), on the problem of sex-determination. Prof. Bridges of Columbia in speaking of this problem says, "To me sex determination in the bee is the outstanding unsolved puzzle altho a few years ago it seemed one of the simplest of cases." The wasp has the same type of inheritance and Dr. Whiting is working on the parasitic wasp Habrobracon. He has lately published on "Hereditry of Two Variable Characters in Habrobracon," "Influence of the age of the Mother on the Appearance of Hereditary variation in Habrobracon," "Gynandromorphs and other irregular types in Habrobracon."

Dr. Eyster, head of the Botany work, is doing two major lines of research. Concerning his work on the nature of variegations in corn, Dr. Bateson, the English Geneticist, says that Dr. Eyster's work is by far the best ever done in the field. His papers on the "Effect of Environment on Patterns in Maize," and "Heritable Characters of Maize" deal with this problem. His other line of research is the physiology of various types of corn and the chloroplastid pigments in them. This is one of the major problems of the day in this field. He spoke by in-visitation at the World Congress of plant breeders on the subject "Bearing of Variations on the Nature of the Gene."

Dr. Woodward, physiologist of the Biology department, is studying the factors causing cell-division. Prior to coming to Maine she was primarily interested in cell-division in marine animals, notably sea-urchins and star-fish. At present she is studying the cell divisions that cause tumor in mice.

Dr. Fitch has recently published on "The Capacity Measurement with a Double Oscillator," "The Measurement of Impedances with the Vacuum Tube Voltmeter," "The Magnetic Variometer." At present he is studying the afflux of liquids from small orifices.

Dr. Crofutt is studying the "change of Thermal-electromotive force of thin metallic films due to photoelectric effect."

Honorary Engineering Societies Announce Pledges at Smoker

Hand me down my slide rule
Hand me down my pen
Hand me down my serious face
I'm taking a prelim at ten.

First they give us moments
Then they give us shear
Then they give us influence lines
And heave us on our ear.

As we start slipping
And the rule begins to groan
Then we start singing
Show me the way to go home.

(Tie Me To Your Apron Strings Again)
Let me take hydraulics once again,
I know there's room for me, on Alphy's knee.

Bring back all those nasty prelims, then,
I'll keep on flunking them, from year to year.

I thought that they were right, but they were wrong,
Don't wait in June for me, but pass along.
Can't derive Bernoulli's the-o-rem,
So won't you let me take hydraulics once again.

TAU BETA PI ELIGIBILITY CODE
It is the purpose of the Society to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates, or by their attainments as alumni.

Distinguished scholarship while the primary requisite for admission, must not be considered the sole criterion.

After the scholastic requirements have been fulfilled, the selection shall be based on integrity, breadth of interest both inside and outside of engineering, adaptability, and unselfish activity.

True integrity is the "sine qua non"

for membership in Tau Beta Pi, that it transcends in importance scholarship, activity, and every other qualification. Without private and public integrity no organization is worthy of existence. Under integrity, honor, and high standards of truth and justice are included.

Breadth of interest sufficient for eligibility in this Society, will enable a man to maintain his position in a community by the exercise of qualities other than engineering ability.

A true engineer must be able to adapt himself ingeniously to all circumstances and conditions, making them conform to his purpose.

The rating of a man on the degree of unselfish activity he manifests, is intended to indicate that Tau Beta Pi believes that no man can become a worthy engineer without the welfare of his associates, his organizations, and his community at heart. It is furthermore expected that he display his willingness to aid and assist in worthy causes by his actual campus record. However, the fact that a man may not have shown unselfish activity to an appreciable degree throughout his course is no infallible indication that he would not if the opportunity offered. The most conspicuous illustration of this is that of the student who is self supporting, for which due allowance must be made and due credit given. In fine, it is in this capacity for the unstinted giving of his best, without thought of remuneration, that we believe lies one of the most sensitive tests for determining a candidate's right to bear the name and wear the Bent of Tau Beta Pi.

Hockey Team Has Successful Season

and Rebecca Matthews deserve mention.

Two games on next year's schedule have already been arranged with Jackson College and the Connecticut Aggies. Both games will be played at Orono.

The varsity will lose six valuable players by the graduation in June of Elizabeth Sawyer, this year's captain, of Margaret Preble, Christine McLaughlin, Helen Peabody, Amy Adams and Lorinda Orne.

A vesper service will be held next Sunday, Nov. 28 at the M.C.A. building at 6.30. Rev. Metzner will be the speaker. There will be special music furnished by the Y.W.C.A.

Everyone is cordially invited.

There will be a sunrise service on Thanksgiving morning at 6.45 on the steps of the Library. It is hoped that there will be a big attendance. Paul Lamoreau will lead the service.

PENNY CARNIVAL COMING

The Penny Carnival will be held in Alumni Hall, Saturday night, December 11. The carnival is under the direction of the Women's Athletic Board and will be held in the chapel, with a dance in the gymnasium. Dance tickets will be fifty cents.

In the chapel there will be eight sorority booths. At one of these will be a balloon sale. At another, a cake weight guessing contest. How much cake can you eat? How much do you gain when you eat it? How heavy are the Home Ec's cakes? Try your luck! Sometime during the evening there will be a number of vaudeville acts.

Varsity Finishes Eighth in National Cross Country Meet

Medals and ribbons are to be awarded for the first three or four places. The meet is to be broadcasted from the local station.

The meet will be held at 7 o'clock and is to be followed by a dance, sponsored by the Track Club. Every standard event is to be on the program, including the weight events.

EMINENT LECTURER HERE NEXT WEEK

An item of interest to all University girls is made by Professor L. J. Pollard of the University Extension in announcing that Miss Janet McKellar, associate field secretary of the National Camp Fire Girls, will visit the campus all next week, lecturing on the work of the organization which she represents, and demonstrates the practical usefulness of its scope of social activities.

Miss McKellar is a lecturer of exceptional merit and in recent years has been traveling over the entire country giving a training course similar to that which she will give here.

Definite announcements as to the time and place of these meetings will be posted on the Alumni Hall bulletin board the latter part of this week.
