R.O.T.C. MOBILIZED FOR DUTY AT BANGOR'S DISASTROUS FIRE

SERVICES NOT NECESSARY HOWEVER

In response to a call from the Bangor police, Major Glover mobilized the R.O.T.C. about 12:15 A.M. Monday morning. It was thought that enough furnishings and wares from the burning stores would be saved to make a guard necessary from possible scavengers.

The dormitories and fraternity houses were quickly emptied of R.O.T.C. men. They appeared at the waiting room anxious to know what the rumpus was about. On being told, they all became highly anxious to seek fame among the flames, so to speak. Passing motorists were held up and a few men were lucky enough to get rides down to Bangor at once. The majority had to wait for a truck and a special car.

When the unit arrived on the scene of action they found that the only things saved were a few desks and chairs, also a penny weighing machine. Since their services were not needed for guarding the things saved, they wandered around the scene of the conflagration. Some, knowing something of the adventures of the R.O.T.C. during the terrible 1911 fire, were heard describing vividly to their lesser informed companions the way in which the detachment kept off throngs of hobos by means of bayonets for three days and four nights. One of the features of the morning was a bakery celebration on Cross Street. The windows had been broken in and the proprietor told the men to help themselves to cookies but not to touch cream puffs and the like for fear of glass. Good advertising, according to several of the fellows.

Several of the brave soldiers got too near a broken hose. Result, a fine spray covered them, and in a minute their garments were coated with ice.

The counter of the University Lunch was a much sought for place about 2:00 A.M. Nearly all the R.O.T.C. decided they needed refreshments.

On seeing that nothing could be done by the R.O.T.C., Major Glover spoke to the boys from the front of City Hall. He thanked them for the splendid turnout and announced that Military cuts would be excused for the day.

The unit had to walk to Otis Street to get the car back to the University and after a short delay, reached their beds at four o'clock.

JUNIOR GIRLS ARE HOSTESSES

Give Tea To Faculty Wives, Faculty Women and Matrons

On Saturday afternoon, February 12, the Junior girls gave a tea to the faculty wives, the women of the faculty, and the matrons of the fraternity houses and dormitories. The coming Valentine's Day gave the idea for the decorations which were red and white carnations, red cardboard hearts and red and white candles. Refreshments of tea, heartshaped sandwiches, fancy cookies, nuts and red mints were served. Lois Springer and Delphine Andrews poured. The ushers were Erma Stairs, Alice Lincoln, Mildred Kierns, Rebecca Friedman, and Delia Houghton.

Mary McGuire, Thelma Perkins, Clara Sawyer, and Erdene Besse received the guests.

Tickets to the S.F.A. banquet may be secured from the Skulls, the Book Store, or the Bangor House. Every social and honorary organization is expected to send two delegates, but anyone within the University may attend.

NEW ENGLAND'S TO BE AT BOWDOIN

INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK MEET TO BE HELD OUTSIDE MASS. FOR FIRST TIME

For the first time in over thirty years the New England Intercollegiate will be held outside of the Bay State. In the past this meet has been a permanent fixture at Cambridge with the exception of one year, when they were held at Worcester Tech.

The decision of changing the meet to Whittier Field this year comes in line with a new policy adopted at a special meeting of the executive committee of the New England Intercollegiate Association held in Boston. It was decided at this meeting that it would be best to change the place of the meet every year, exchanging it between the different colleges and universities competing in it. Although it has not been decided definitely as yet the meet will probably be held at Williams in Williams-town in 1928 and at Brown in their new stadium the following year.

There have been rumors that Maine might hold the New England here this spring but this cannot be now that a definite decision has been reached. However, the State Meet comes to Orono this year which will mean enough work for the track and field officials here at the University.

EDUCATION MAJORS TO GET PRACTICE

WILL FILL VACANCIES ON HIGH SCHOOL STAFFS

As a part of the program of teacher preparation the department of education has recently offered to the school superintendents of Maine the service of seniors to supply in cases of temporary vacancies in the high school teaching staffs. Such persons are selected from among the better qualified seniors who are definitely preparing to teach and who have taken a large portion of the courses required for certification in Maine. Thus the experience so secured serves as a form of practice teaching and supplements this part of the work in the Methods course. The superintendents employing students in this manner are asked to make a written report relative to the character of the work done in each case. These reports may be turned over to the appointment bureau at the university and serve as recommendations as well.

In regard to the certification of students going out to teach for temporary periods, an arrangement has been made with the State Department of Education whereby this is to be taken care of by the Department of Education of the University. This involves the necessity of the latter department's knowing all the details of such cases and approving in advance such arrangements. The State De-

DEBATE NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

George Washington University to be Opponents

The U. of M. Debating team will meet the George Washington University Debating team Monday evening at 7:30 in the chapel. The question is: Resolved, "That the Volstead Act should be modified to legalize the manufacture and sale of wine and beer."

The George Washington team has been selected by the Institute of International Education to tour the British Isles in the spring. It consists of Mr. W. A. McSwain, Mr. W. F. Williamson, and Mr. John T. Trimble.

The Maine team (supporting the negative) will be composed of Arthur J. Kelly '28, William S. Reid '28, and Robert F. Scott '28.

MAINE HOOP TEAMS CLEAN UP OPPONENTS

VARSITY AND FROSH MEN AND GIRLS VICTORIOUS IN SERIES OF GAMES

In a game that was one sided but interesting to watch, the Fifth Infantry, of Fort Williams, was defeated by the University of Maine five in the Indoor Field Friday evening, 57-21. In spite of the difference in the scores, the game was made entertaining by the display of clever basketball. "Speed" Branscom, center, and "Nate" Epstein, forward, were the high scorers of the game, Branscom contributing 24 points and Epstein 20. "Archie" Kamenkovitz, flashy left forward, exhibited his usual style of clever basketball, causing the spectators to smile at his adroitness. "Bill" Hanscom, left guard, and his teammate, "Bob" Durrell, were the same dependable pair, figuring greatly in both offensive and defensive.

The game started quickly, Hanscom scoring the first three baskets, the first of which was caged within a half-minute of play. The Maine men held their opponents down to only one foul to eighteen minutes of the first period—something not done very often in collegiate basketball. In the last two minutes of the half, the Infantry added two baskets and a foul to their lone one point, and the score stood 29-6.

In the second twenty minutes of the game, Coach Brice sent his second team on the floor, substituting them at intervals for the first team when he thought they had had enough practice. The work of Howell, diminutive Fort Williams forward, was most aggressive, and his dodging under the arms of several of the Maine men was amusing. It worked, though, Howell scoring four baskets during the game. Throughout the game the work of the Fifth Infantry was hard, that team not ceasing in their efforts until the final whistle.

This game was the last appearance of the varsity on the home floor. Consequently, Durrell, Hanscom, and Epstein are not to be seen in action again in the blue and white uniform of the Maine basketballers. The support given and the sportsmanship shown by the students was encouraging. Perhaps they had in mind the fact that that was their last time to cheer the above-mentioned players.

GIRL GETS HIGHEST SCHOLASTIC HONOR

MARION LORD ACHIEVES A GRADE OF A IN EVERY SUBJECT

MARION LORD

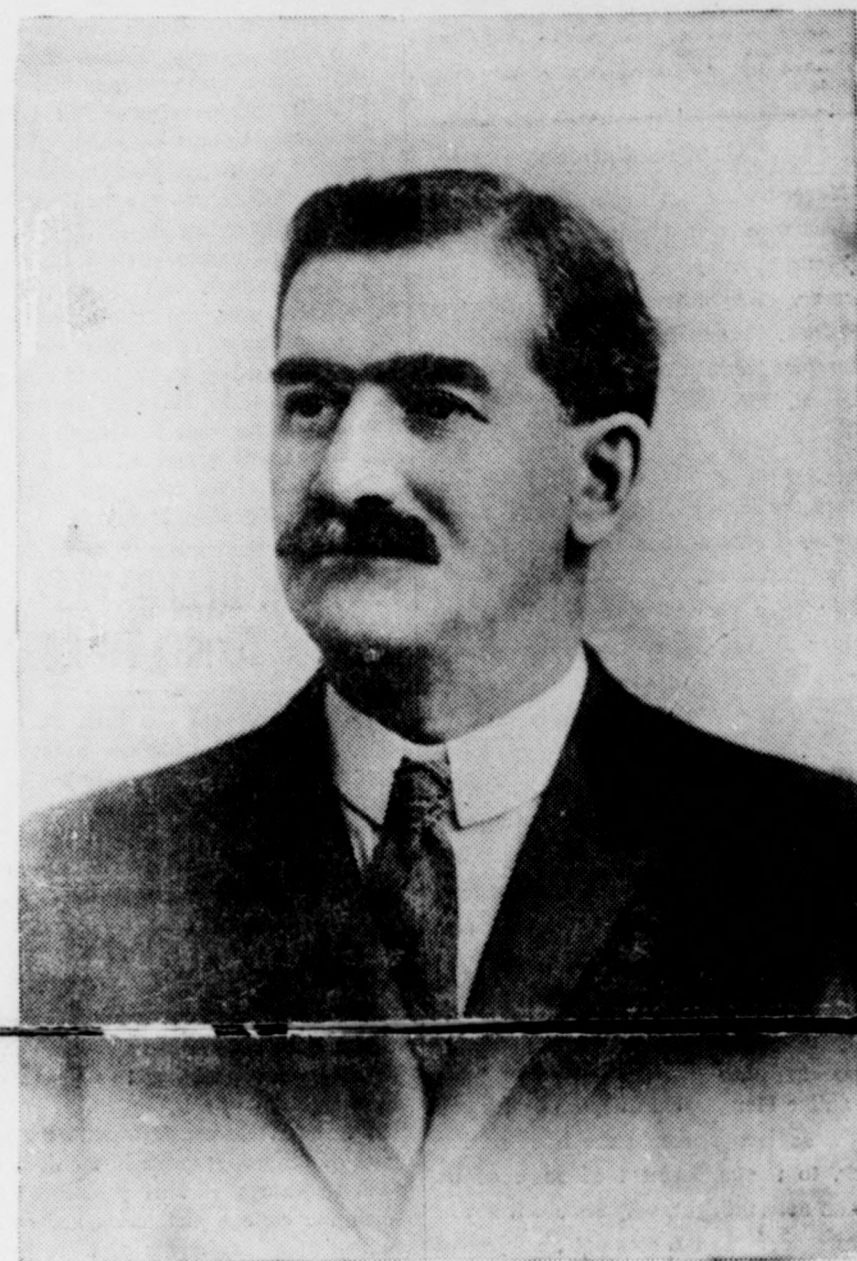

Students who attain a rank of four point are not numerous. Students who reach such a high degree of scholarship and at the same time take part in many of the college activities are even more rare, but such a record may be claimed by Marion Lord, a member of the senior class.

Marion's college grades have always been much above the average and her activities many and varied. With Education as her major subject the courses which combined to make up the four point average.

STUDENT SUICIDES NOW TOTAL NINE

VARIOUS REASONS GIVEN

With the suicide of J. Morgan Derr, Jr., twenty-year-old sophomore at the University of Rochester, the total of student suicides since January 2, reaches nine. Despondency over ill health and dissatisfaction with his marks in mid-year examinations caused Derr to end his life, according to J. Morgan Derr, Sr.

This suicide is closely linked with the first of the series, that of Rigby Wile on January 2nd, as Derr and Wile were fraternity brothers and close chums. Rigby Wile was the son of Dr. Ira S. Wile, director of the Mt. Sinai Hospital mental clinic in New York.

Various reasons have been left by the student suicides. Wile left a note declaring that he had read all the philosophies, that he "couldn't see any use in life." Another killed himself in order to report to his fraternity brother the phenomenon of the spirit world. Another, a twenty year old freshman at James Milliken University (Illinois) declared to his room-mate the night before his death, "If I flunk out, I won't care to live. I'll never be able to go back home to face my parents."

As in the Leopold and Loeb case, and other instances of aberrant undergraduate behavior, many are engaged in adorning the moral to this student suicide epidemic.

The students lacked faith in hereafter in "the present belief in God, in the dignity of life," says President Daniel D. Marsh, Boston University. "It is no wonder students commit suicide," Bernard Idings Bell, President of St. Stephen's College, commented.

"Knowledge and knowledge alone is almost certain to remove from man that

ANNUAL EVENT IS AT BANGOR HOUSE FEB. 25

The Hon. W. R. Pattangall '84, member of the supreme court of Maine, is to be the alumni speaker at the Student-Faculty-Alumni banquet which is to be held in the Bangor House, February 25, at 8:30 o'clock.

As in previous years, each social and honorary organization is expected to send two delegates but any student, faculty member, or alumnus may attend. The banquet hall, however, is limited to two hundred diners so tickets should be bought early. Tickets may be secured from the Senior Skulls, the Book Store, or the Bangor House.

Robert Clark, Alumni Secretary, is to be the toastmaster and Dean Paul Cloke is to represent the faculty. All of the speeches are to have constructive criticism as the central theme.

Everyone can look forward with pleasure to hear Pattangall speak. Although a brilliant speaker and always near at hand he has not been a frequent visitor to the campus. On reading the following record of his career it can be seen that he did not spend much of his time making social calls. He was born in Pembroke, in 1865, and graduated from Maine with a B.S. degree in 1883 and a M.S. degree in 1884. He was admitted to the bar in 1893 and practiced law in Columbia Falls, Machias, Bangor, Waterville, and Augusta. He edited and managed the Ma-

Congratulations

Never before last week was the Campus graced with such an editorial board: Dean Stevens, Professors Pollard, Ellis, and Greene, Registrar Gannett, Librarian Walkley, Executive Secretary Crossland, Director Kent, Coaches Kanaly, Brice, Kenyon, Physical Trainer Wallace, and Miss Lengyel. As Manager-Editor E. H. Kelley said in his editorial, "the issue lacked the school girl complexion," nevertheless, it was a good issue and he is to be congratulated.

We were pleased to note also in this editorial, "We have, therefore, labored nights and Sundays (and possibly during regular office hours) and this is what we have brought forth." We are glad that someone realizes that a newspaper, even though a small one, does not just grow from itself but requires hours of coaxing, and threatening to make it assume at least a bulletin like form with accounts of past events and organizations' meetings.

That Cow

Pauline Hengerveld Shepard's milk record was given space in the issue of last week, to the amusement of some of us. But on afterthought, why should it not be given space? Is the cow not a subject of study to the agriculturist as the bug is to the biologist and the bridge to the engineer, and one can dare say, much more important. We can get along without bugs and bridges but who will forego his milk, cream, and butter? With cows and farming, unfortunately, are associated cross-roads farms, kerosene lights, and slackened mental activity. Even though many of the disagreeable features of farm life have passed with the coming of low priced automobiles and radios there still hangs about farms that suggestion of rusticity. We should not, but do, smile when a cow is mentioned in the same column with literature and learning in a student newspaper.

Correspondence

Within the last few months correspondence expressing student opinion has been on the increase. This is to be encouraged for there are many phases of student life that can be commented on. Some comment is made in editorials but much remains untouched principally because the writer is reluctant to say too much lest he be ridiculed as a dictator, self elected.

Correspondence shows that these columns do not pass unnoticed and that they do provoke thought. Letters are always welcome. If they are for publication the name may be withheld at the writer's request but the original must be signed. Printing a letter does not necessarily mean that the Campus believes it.

It may be said that radical correspondence is withheld from publication because it might be pounced upon by yellow, and sensational newspapers and news services and be broadcasted as an example of college "unrest," "immorality," "indolence," or whatnot.

INTRA-MURAL RELAY SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

A drawing was held last Wednesday by the Intramural Track Committee to arrange a schedule for the intramural relay teams, varsity and freshman. The preliminaries for the races will start Monday, March 21, extending through the week. The finals will be run Saturday, March 26.

Following is the schedule:

VARSITY

Beta Theta Pi—Sigma Phi Sigma
Phi Mu Delta—Dormitory Council
Kappa Sigma—Phi Eta Kappa
Phi Gamma Delta—Phi Kappa Sigma
Sigma Nu—Phi Kappa
Alpha Tau Omega—Alpha Gamma Rho
Lambda Chi Alpha—Sigma Chi
Delta Tau Delta—Beta Kappa
Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Theta Chi

Phi Mu Delta—Beta Theta Pi
Phi Kappa—Alpha Gamma Rho
Phi Gamma Delta—Sigma Chi
Phi Eta Kappa—Delta Tau Delta
Dormitory Council—Lambda Chi Alpha
Theta Chi—Alpha Tau Omega
Sigma Phi Sigma—Kappa Sigma
Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Sigma Nu
Phi Kappa Sigma—Beta Kappa

The semi-finals will be run in four three-team races, the teams matched according to time. The three best losing teams will qualify in the semi-finals. All the races will be run one lap per man. The elimination will be arranged so that four teams will enter the finals.

The finals of the track and field events will come Thursday, March 24.

Y.W.C.A. DELEGATES TO GO TO BOSTON

Dorothy Steward has been chosen by the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet to represent Maine at the committee meeting of the Maqua Conference which will meet at Boston University February 18 and 19. The purpose of the meeting is to make plans for Camp Maqua which is held annually in June at Morton Lake, about seven miles from Poland, Maine. Dorothy was one of the delegates who attended Maqua last June and is accordingly well fitted to give suggestions and serve on the committee for planning this year's conference.

In general, Maqua deals with the principles of religion, though in the daily discussion groups various problems with which the college girl meets are considered. Expert leadership of these groups gives them added incentive and interest. Lectures are given daily by certain well known camp leaders and by college professors from various parts of the country. In short, Maqua attempts to prepare and aid the college girl to meet the problems of daily life more ably and confidently—on the college campus as well as in ordinary living.

The social side of summer camp life is not neglected, for a generous part of each day is given over to swimming, hiking, tennis and baseball. In June 1926 practically every college and normal school in New England was represented at Maqua.

SIGMA NU QUINTET WINS FROM THETA CHI

The quintet of Sigma Nu was a victor over that of Theta Chi Saturday afternoon. The Theta Chi lineup was strong with Dow, Downing, Donahue, and Elmore, all of the Freshman squad. Theta Chi scored first but were soon headed by the Sigma Nus. Furbush, of Sigma Nu, was high scorer, with five baskets to his credit. At the half the score was 16-3, Sigma Nu leading. In the second half Theta Chi scored more than their opponents, but the lead was too great to overcome. The final score was 27-15.

The yearlings took over Bridgton to the tune of 43-10 in a game which was a song from beginning to end. The freshmen took the lead early in the game and held it very successfully throughout all four stanzas. The game was, therefore, not so interesting as it might have been. However, the freshmen played a fine brand of basketball, making every shot count and showing a marked improvement in their floor work. Kent and Millington were the shining lights of the 1930 crew, while MacDonald and Hutchins played well for the losers.

The freshmen came out ahead of Westbrook High in a fast game of basketball played Saturday afternoon in the Indoor Field. The victory, however, was by no means decisive, a basket in the final minute of play by Sylvester cinching the game, 29-27. Sylvester, holding down the center position, certainly had his eye for the hoop. He accounted for 12 of the 29 points, scoring five baskets and two fouls. The work of Captain Lyman Abbott was excellent. "Lymie" was strong in the offensive as well as the defensive. Millington and Kent, forwards, played a strong game, but were not able to score so heavily as usual. Levensaller, right guard, showed his usual defensive work, and his loss in the last quarter was weakening to the team.

The girls' varsity basketball trip to Boston resulted in a defeat, 34-20, at the hands of the Posse-Nissen team. The first half of the game was slow, "Lib" Sawyer doing good work in guarding Miss Kohler. Capt. Winslow's injured knee slowed up her game, but the guards on both teams played an excellent game.

The Waterville High School defeated the freshman basketball girls 27 to 25 in the Armory at Waterville. The game was not very satisfactory to either onlookers or players. Ross and Hussy starred for Maine. Finks did good work at shooting fouls. At the end of the first half, the yearlings led with a score of 12 to 5, but ended the game one basket behind. The following sextet played for 1930, with no substitutions: Hussy and Finks, forwards; Culley and Haskell, centers; and Ross and Gould, guards.

MAINE SPRING IS OFF PRESS

The February issue of the Maine-Spring has made its appearance. For one who has little or no literary genius of his own to attempt a criticism of such a worthy contribution is perhaps unjust, not to say ridiculous. However, even fools are allowed the freedom of their own thoughts and the listener scoffs or tolerates as the case may be.

First of all, one notices perhaps that fifteen out of a possible twenty-seven pages are written by the editor—but the nature of her work is such that this monopoly of space is justified. The Greased Pole is original in choice of title, in presentation and in phraseology. Its merit lies chiefly in the author's portrayal of character, which is excellently done. The piece has admirable local color and to one well acquainted with the Shadow Harbors of the world the terms caterpillar and butterfly used to contrast class distinction are especially applicable.

Poem by Joyce Cheney Totman with its little dog Memory has an appeal of its own. The writer has heard much questioning comment concerning the identity of the author—and one hopes to read other contributions from the same source.

The Tribulations of Jonathan seems to our mind not much more than six pages of tiresome dialect conversation. After the second page one's interest has to be constantly flogged on to the conclusion which in itself left a hangover feeling of incompleteness. As a class theme to develop skill in conversation it is no doubt above the average for dialect is difficult to write—one has but to try it to realize that—but it could be made much better by the introduction of more action, which is not a pun on the character of Jonathan but the piece as a whole.

The central idea of Götterdämmerung is well summed up in the title itself and concisely expressed in a few well developed paragraphs.

Orono as presented by Helen Peabody gives one a new impression perhaps, besides being in itself rather cleverly written.

One closes the cover with a feeling that the issue, on the whole, is one rather well done and one worthy of the endeavors of the editorial staff.

CAMPUS CHAT

The highest lite of the week was the fire lite in Bangor.

Who sent in the call that mobilized the Army?

"Paul Revere" McSorley lost his horse in the rush.

Did the University Lunch lose money, make money, or break even? A goodly crowd was there.

The Pi Phi party in Bangor Saturday nite was on the wrong side of the street and on the wrong side of Sunday noon.

The fourth floor lite in Balentine is pretty hi.

A certain stude found two black hairs in his soup. Chalk up another gentleman who Prefers Blondes.

The Varsity basketball team plays basketball sometimes and other times they play some other kind of a game.

The girls are going strong in athletics, both the Varsity and the Plebes coming thru last week.

Bill Kenyon's five ring circus hung up two last week.

The Junior girls in Balentine threw a Valentine party for the fair members of the faculty Saturday afternoon. Everybody got a heart, some got two or three, they were lucky.

A stranger would never have recognized any of the co-eds at Mt. Vernon Friday nite. Some were some things and others were other things. Who swiped Polly Seavey's cat.

Speaking of Valentines, we would like to see some of the ones that were probably delivered on the campus.

The Phi Kappa Sig and Delt pledges didn't know whether the fire alarm was part of the initiation or not.

Miss Johnson, the popular nurse, says that business is rushing.

The Call of the Wild is not a sex novel.

They call her May because nobody is sure of her.

Spring is just around the corner.

Is there a co-ed on the campus that you can put your arm around several times.

Put your order in now for the new record that will be out soon, "The Mob Scene from the Bangor Fire."

They called him Duke because he was no Count.

The Sigma Nu has never been the same since he asked his Carnival guest if she liked a Rolls and she said that she didn't care for anything to eat.

Sailors may have a girl in every port, but at a house party the boys have girls on every davenport.

We like the nobby new "Joe Moscow" hats that are appearing on the campus. Especially on faculty members.

The regular monthly meeting of the Forestry Club was held in Winslow Hall, last Wednesday. The speaker was Mr. R. E. Rendall, a former graduate of the forestry school here, who is now in charge of the Bates Forest. Mr. Rendall gave a very interesting talk on his personal side of the work and also the work that was being carried on in that forest area.

On Friday evening, February 11, the members of the Sodalitas Latina were delightfully entertained by Dean and Mrs. Chase at their home. Prof. Levenson, of the Philosophy department, gave an interesting talk, and an informal discussion followed. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Chase assisted by Mrs. Levenson, served refreshments.

I want officially to express to you the gratitude that the citizens of Bangor have for your readiness and willingness to respond to call in case of emergency. The fact that it was not necessary to use your men detracts in no way from our gratitude for your preparedness. It is a considerable source of satisfaction to the citizens of this community to feel that there is such a body of men available if the occasion arises.

If there was any expense connected with your efforts to reach Bangor last night, I wish you would let me know the amount that I may see that you are reimbursed.

Say, what kind of a party was that?

Soph (holding leaky radiator): "Freshman, call me a janitor."

Frosh: "All right. You're a janitor."

Use Sanctuary in a sentence—

"Sanctuary, very much, for the buggy ride."

"Will you have pie, sir?"

"Is it customary?"

"No, it's apple."

Boss—"Here, file these papers."

Boy—"Wouldn't it be easier to cut them with a scissors?"

Am I then the only man who ever kissed you?

Why will every man ask a girl that question? Of course you are.

Frosh: Where's the aquarium? I want to see the university seal.

—Bucknell Belle Hop

Little boy: Papa, oysters must be awfully lazy.

Pop: Why, son?

L. B.: Because it says in this book that oysters are always found in beds.

She: "Do you smoke White Owls?"
He: "No, tobacco."

Girls like men with resonant voices.
That is, voices with an engagement ring on them.

They say that mothers used to keep their daughters in at night by hiding their clothes. What would a girl now-a-days care for a little thing like that.

I'm coming stag because I haven't got the doe.

"What, you say the brute just knocked her flat," exclaimed Mrs. Murphy.

"Yes, he did. He just told her that her's was the worst apartment he had ever seen."

The only failure a man ought to fear is failure in cleaving to the purpose he sees to be best.—George Eliot.

Collegiate pipes aren't all
'non campus mentis'

APPEARANCES may be against the modern college pipe; he may look 'superfish'... he may sound a bit blotto, slinging his six or seven slanguages, including the Scandinavian... But when he talks 'TOBACCO' lend him your ears. For that's one subject he's studied and knows from the ground up!

Listen to his learned lingo and you'll see why the one perfect pipe tobacco is grand old Granger Rough Cut. It's all spicy old Burley, the choicest pipe tobacco known to man... all mellowed Wellman's way... and cut, especially for pipes, in large slow-burning, cool-smoking flakes. It's breaking all collegiate records for pipe-popularity.

Of course, some collegiate pipes, who judge everything on 'price', can't afford to smoke Granger... it's too INEXPENSIVE. But notice any pipe that is sufficiently sure of himself to be himself, always; and notice also his Granger.

GRANGER ROUGH CUT

The half-pound vacuum tin is forty-five cents, the foil-pouch package, sealed in glassine, is ten cents.

Made for pipes only!

Granger Rough Cut is made by the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company

When the plutarchs start plutarching.

AT THE night sessions, when class philosophers vie with class Merry Andrews in deciding the heavy problems of the world—or burlesquing them—notice the royal guest, Prince Albert. Chiming in with the spirit of the occasion. Filling the air with the finest tobacco-aroma ever.

Do you smoke Prince Albert? It will bring you more pleasure and satisfaction than you ever thought a pipe could give. The instant you throw back the hinged lid and release that wonderful P. A. fragrance, you suspect you are in for some grand smoke-sessions.

The very first pipe-load confirms your suspicions. Cool as a gate-tender. Sweet as the week-end reprieve. Mild as the coffee in Commons—mild, yet with a full body that satisfies your smoke-taste completely. Get yourself a tidy red tin this very day.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

partment has been very generous in its attitude toward this work and stands ready to cooperate with the University in its entire program of teacher training.

Among the students who have gone out to teach for temporary periods recently are the following:

Miss Marian Cooper at Guilford; Miss Angeline Morneault and Miss Fernald at the Orono High School; Miss Eleanor Ford at Lincoln; and Miss Evelyn Farris at Blue Hill. At the present time Miss Sylvia Kurson is substituting in the high school at Milo. The time served by these persons has ranged from three days to as much as three weeks. In every case so far the students have come back with a feeling of enthusiasm and a new confidence in their ability to engage in the art of teaching. It is hoped that opportunities may develop in the future whereby many more such calls may be filled and thus our seniors who are preparing to teach may benefit from these valuable experiences in the field.

Student Suicides Now Total Nine

courage which results from ignorance without substituting anything for it. Cowardice is the besetting sin of our modern life. To be brave one must believe in something. Too much education takes away belief in love and hope, the ruling forces of the universe. Those who believe in nothing become the slaves of everything. If education is to be defined as the accommodation of man to his environment then it is more of a curse than a blessing.

A poor sense of balance resulting from lack of worldly experience is the base of most of these student suicides, is the opinion of President Mark Penney of James Milliken University. A crisis appears which distorts the vision and destroys the ability to see the relation of the present circumstances to the future. With a larger experience in life, the students would see such a failure as a mere incident."

More in consonance with the facts is the opinion of Dr. Charles A. A. Bennett, professor of Philosophy at Yale University. "I firmly believe each of the cases was an individual case," he is reported to have said, "the outcome of personal troubles or infirmities of which persons removed from the case cannot possibly be aware. I certainly do not believe there is any general attitude among young American students that would account for a number of deaths such as these."

At the present time Marion is president of the Y.W.C.A., president of the Chi Omega sorority, a member of the All Maine Women and the Maine Masque and recently was elected to Phi Kappa Phi. Previous to this she has been on the girls' athletic board, on the Student Government Council, vice-president of the Y.W.C.A., a member of the girls' track team and assistant hockey manager. With so many duties one wonders when she can find time to study—and even more how she can always make room for one more service when called upon—but she can and she does, willingly and well.

DEPUTATION TEAM TO VISIT AROOSTOOK

A deputation team representing the M. C. A. and Y.W.C.A. made a trip to Bucksport over the past week-end through the invitation of the Eastern Maine Conference Seminary and the Congregational and Methodist churches of that city. Services were held in the two churches in the morning, and a union service in the evening completed the program. The students making this trip were Henry Trask, Merrill Dooley, Nan Surface, and Virginia Smith.

The big trip of the year for the deputation teams will be taken this week-end, when a group made up of Paul Lamoreau, Clare Brown, Virginia Smith, and Arlene Robbins, visits Presque Isle, through the invitation of four churches of that place. Frank Hussey '25 was instrumental in securing this trip for the students. On Saturday morning a meeting will be held at the Aroostook State Normal School, with all four speakers taking part. In the evening the men will speak at the Father and Son gathering, and the women to the Mother and Daughter society. Sunday morning each member of the team is to occupy the pulpit in one of the churches, and on Sunday evening there will be a union service in the Perry Theatre. Another meeting will be held in the high school chapel on Monday morning, which will conclude the program.

Recent Graduate Achieves Distinction

One of the recent publications to appear from The Technical Press is the "Radio Amateur's Handbook" by F. E. Handy, U. of M. '24. Mr. Handy graduated from the Electrical Engineering course and was prominent in amateur radio work while in college. While a student he carried on communication with amateur radio operators in Europe and was heard as far away as Australia. Since graduation he has been active in the American Radio Relay League of which he is Communications Manager, and has also been doing editorial work for Q.S.T. a progressive radio journal.

Last Wednesday evening Company "D" of the Second Regiment, Scabbard and Blade, held initiation ceremonies and the following men were made members:

J. N. Bradley, Jr., A. B. Chesterton, J. P. Guilfoyle, L. F. Hescok, E. G. Kelso, M. L. Lavorgna, M. V. McLaughlin, P. E. McSorley, J. D. O'Neil, C. P. Osgood, D. A. Ulmer.

On Friday, a formal banquet in honor of the initiates was held at the Country Club, where a number of distinguished guests were present. Among the speakers of the evening were: Colonel Strickland, Major Glover, P. E. McSorley, M. V. McLaughlin, M. L. Lavorgna, and C. P. Osgood.
