 AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have examined the accounts of the financial officers of the town of Monson and find them to be correct.

H. S. KNIGHT, Auditor.

Monson, Maine, February 27, 1924.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of Monson:

I submit herewith my fourth annual report as superintendent of your schools. It is not the purpose of this report to call to mind all the achievements or failures, for there are some in every walk of life, but rather to keep before you the need of educating your children and cooperating with the teachers and school officials in this work. The first concern of a community is the training of its children. They will need all the preparation that can be given them to solve the problems they will be called upon to face. It is true that the public schools of the country are taking a large proportion of the money raised by direct taxation, but our children and the civilization which they must carry on are worth all that we do for them—all that they cost us.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

There has been no change in the teaching force of the village schools since my last annual report. I consider this fact has added more to the efficiency of these schools for the present year than any other factor. The value of the work of these teachers who have been in these schools for several years cannot be compared to what we might expect to get from teachers new to the schools. One of the aims of the year has been to consider the interest of the individual pupil, especially has this been true in any instance of doubtful promotion. It is difficult at times to know and to do just what is best for pupils failing in the work for the year.

Three district schools have been maintained during the year. These schools have been under the direction of your town girls, who have had only the training given in your Academy. The work of these girls has been all that could be expected from ones without special training for teaching. Present conditions indicate that it will be advisable to discontinue the Long school this coming year and convey the scholars in the district to the village schools.

Unfortunately for the best interest of the schools and the continued progress of the pupils, the work of the schools was somewhat broken during the fall term because of considerable sickness. Even though for a time the attendance fell below normal your school officials thought it advisable to keep the schools in session. After the school had practically recovered from the effect of the run of the measles a few cases of scarlet fever were found among the pupils, and the health officer closed the village graded schools at the end of the twelfth week of the fall term of school. In order to have the thirty-six weeks in this school year it will be necessary to have thirteen weeks in this winter term and eleven in the spring term.

We, who are responsible for the conduct of the schools appreciate fully the splendid loyalty of the citizens of Monson in giving generous financial support and in according them unstinted praise, but we wish the closer acquaintance and helpful suggestions that may result from frequent visits to the schools. We are fully aware that the schools exist for the benefit of the citizens of Monson, present and future and not for the teachers and school officials.

ACADEMY

After being here four years as Principal of the Academy Mr. Haskell decided to leave us at the close of the school year last June. We all appreciated the work of Mr. Haskell did in the school, and, I think, one and all regretted to have him leave us. Mr. Ervin Stuart, who was secured to take Mr. Haskell's place as Principal of the Academy, has proved to be a very good man for us. Excellent work is being done in the Academy under the direction of the present principal and teachers, and a fine spirit of cooperation on the part of the pupils and teachers prevail. I think the work in the Academy is meeting with your approval, and I shall ask you to continue your generous support of it.

The success of a school system may be measured, at least in part, by a comparison of the per capita cost of and the results obtained by it. Figures prepared at the state department show that it costs $817 to put a child through the public schools of the State from the time he enters the primary till he graduates from high school. These figures are based on the cost for 1923. Taking the expenditures for Monson for the year ending March, 1923, I find that it costs $740 to put a child through your schools. From statements that I have here in the office I find that of the children who enter the fifth grade of the public school of the United States, sixty-three per cent of them graduate from the grammar schools and only thirteen per cent of them graduate from the high school. In order to make this story as accurate as possible for your town I have taken the average for each of these three groups for the last five years. The results show that seventy-eight per cent of them that entered the fifth grade of your schools graduated from the grammar school, and that thirty per cent graduated from the Academy. The figures given indicate that the per capita cost for putting a pupil through our schools is lower than the cost throughout the State, and, also, that a comparatively high percentage of our pupils graduate from the grammar school and from the Academy.

SCHOOL EXPENDITURES

I think your school expenditures have reached the maximum, except in that for school repairs. The amount you will have to raise depends largely on the amount of the funds received from the State. Although our state funds received this year are about $250 less than the amount received last year, we have reasons to expect that they will be no less next year. This reduction comes through the action of the last legislature in placing certain educational activities which have usually been subject to separate appropriations under the State school fund. This action of the legislature made the school fund about $100,000 less than a year ago. It is interesting to note that this action merely reduced the total of the state tax and placed it on the local units instead.

The matter of raising money for fuel and janitor services under the high school account is one for separate consideration. These estimates have been included because of the recommendations made and the action taken by the voters last year. No recommendation is made for insurance for the ensuing year as this has been taken care of this year. You have five thousand dollars on the grammar school building now. Money can be raised and this amount increased if you wish. The budget submitted for your consideration is a statement of the estimated expenditures for maintaining your schools under the present condition and up to the present standard for the ensuing year.

SCHOOL REPAIRS

In my last annual report I called your attention to the new state law requiring towns to put their school building toilets in clean and sanitary condition. Though the action of the last legislature the time for completing this work was extended to September, 1924, conditional that something be done each year. Nothing has been done on your school building toilets during the past year to meet the state requirements. This was not because of any unfavorable action taken by the voters at the last annual meeting, but for the very reason that suitable help could not be found to do the work during the summer months when the schools were not in session.

The need for new toilets at the Academy building was mentioned last year. It would seem that the needs at this building should receive your first consideration. With the idea in mind that changes would be made on this building first your school officials in conjunction with the committee for the Academy have formed definite plans for the changes to be made there. These provide for flush closets in the part of the basement under the west end of the building. In order to make these accessible from the interior of the building it will be necessary to make a general alteration in the rooms on the first floor. The plans proposed seem to offer the most satisfactory results with the cost involved. It is hoped that while this work is being done on the Academy the trustees will find it possible to make some very desirable changes in the rooms on the second floor.

The expenditures for school repairs this year should include an item for nearly sixty dollars for curtains. For some reason the Company neglected to send the bill. As a result you should reduced the amount unexpended for school repairs by that amount. In addition to any amount that is raised for repairs on the Academy there should be something raised for general repairs. This should include enough to permit your school officials to make any needed repairs on the outbuildings at the district schools.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF MONSON ACADEMY

To C. L. Sidelinger, Superintendent of Schools:

I am submitting herewith my first annual report as principal of Monson Academy.

The Academy opened in September with an enrollment of thirty-six girls and eight boys, and with a new teaching force except Miss Pullen.

The curriculum remains the same as last year except that Chemistry is being offered in place of Physics, and American History and Civics are being taught for the entire year as one subject. Miss Pullen is teaching Latin and English, Miss Crocker, Algebra and French, and the Principal Geometry, Science and History.

The attendance during the year has been very satisfactory. An average attendance of forty-one was maintained for the fall term.

The Academy prepares students for entrance to the University of Maine upon the presentation of certificate of graduation, and to the other colleges of New England by examination. Graduates have been able to do college work satisfactorily, but they have found a great difference in the system of marking used in colleges. Although several students are doing honor work and a majority are doing satisfactory work, an effort is being made to raise the scholarship to a higher standard. The students in general are doing their best and are willing to cooperate with the faculty in anything that is for the welfare of the school.

I wish to emphasize the necessity of more home study. No student can do the work required in high school without regular home study.

A students' association has been formed with the aim of promoting a better school spirit, to bring about closer relations with parents and alumni, and to control all student activities. Programs consisting of debates, readings and music have been arranged once in two weeks by the students in an effort to increase the interest of parents and friends. In this way the work of a Parent-Teachers' Association has been carried on, and the students have received helpful training in public speaking.

There are several improvements needed about the building that have become almost necessary. Space in the laboratory is so limited that classes have to be divided in order to accommodate all the members. The school library is still inadequate, but new reference books are being added each year from the funds you are furnishing for that purpose.

Many of the students who enter the Academy do not stay to complete the four years. This is especially true of boys. Although a student attends school primarily to acquire knowledge, I believe athletics offer a valuable training in leadership, self-control, and bodily development, all of which go to make strong characters. With this object in view boys' and girls' basketball teams have been formed.

In closing my report I wish to express my appreciation of the interest shown by the students, the cooperation of the teachers and parents, all of which have made the work a pleasure to me.

Respectfully submitted,
ERVIN STUART, Principal.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

To the Superintendent of Schools, Monson:

The following is a summary of the work done by me as school physician for 1923-1924.

The total number examined was 242. Of whom 83 were found defective and 78 of these were reported to their parents or guardians. This is a decrease of three per cent from that of last year. There have been 34 examinations at the office and 15 special tests.

The measles epidemic caused a marked falling off of the attendance during the early fall, and in December the Board of Health closed the schools for two weeks because of scarlet fever. No other epidemics have affected the attendance to any marked degree.

If the parents would, on receipt of the notices from the school physician, apply to him or to their regular family physician for advice at once and then follow the advice, school inspection would become one of the most valuable aids to the health, not only of the school children, but of the whole town.

F. H. KILLAM, School Physician.

FLAGS AND FLAGSTAFFS

The law requires towns to appropriate annually an amount necessary to furnish the public schools with suitable flags and flagstaffs. The appropriation for this purpose shall be separate from and additional to all other appropriations for school purposes.

Preserve This Report

A sufficient number of these reports have been printed to furnish every interested citizen with a copy. An effort has been made to get them into the hands of the voters in advance. It should be borne in mind that if copies are left at home there may not be a sufficient number at the hall to go around on town meeting day. This year or any year it is desirable for you to have a copy of the annual report as soon as issued. It is also important for you to preserve it and bring it with you town meeting day morning.
