Maine Team Favored To Win 32nd State Track Meet

NILES, Dashman

Kanalymen Seem Sure of Enough Points To Take First Place; Bates Is Blue's Strongest Opponent

Third Places Will Prove Valuable, Since Firsts and Seconds Will Be Shared; Weather and Condition Of Track Will Play Important Parts

Bowdoin and Colby Aggregations Appear To Be Weaker Than Usual

Maine will enter the 32nd annual state track meet at Garcelon Field in Lewiston next Saturday rated as slight favorites to win. A conservative estimate would seem to give Maine about 48 points, a score which should give any team a margin of nearly 4 points. It seems quite certain that the meet will be won by the team which is able to get corner on the valuable third places, and work in a scattering of seconds along with its share of the first place honors. It is difficult to make any definite prediction of the outcome of the meet in the face of such indeterminate factors as the weather and the condition of the track, but the most apparent solution places Maine as the winner; Bates, second; Bowdoin, third; and Colby, fourth.

In the 100 yard dash, Mostrom of Bowdoin looks like an easy winner. His time of 9 4-5 seconds in the Brown meet last Saturday establish beyond any doubt his superiority in this event. Second and third places will be fought out between Jenkins of Bowdoin, Berenson and Stymiest of Maine, and Rowe of Bates.

First in the 220 yard dash appears to be a battle between Niles of Maine and Mostrom. Of the contestants for the remaining place, Jenkins (B), Stymiest, Berenson, and Giles (C) are the leaders.

Bates offers great strength in the quarter mile, Captain Wakeley being conceded a certain first, and Fisher, Oviatt,

Niles and Coleman being worthy of notice.

Sansone of Colby and Wakeley and Chapman of Bates are the favorites in the half mile run, while Sansone (C), Adams (Bates), and McNaughton and Lindsay (Maine) appear to be the strongest contenders for honors in the mile.

Wardwell, Bates' star distance man, seems slated for a first in the two mile run. Richardson of Maine is sure to push him to the limit and may be counted upon to finish among the first.

In the hurdle events, the supremacy appears to be between Bowdoin and Maine. Greene and Lucas of Bowdoin seem to have the edge over Jones and Chandler in experience and in past accomplishment, but they are by no means certain of outdoing the fast Maine hurdlers.

Any attempt to predict a winner in the running high jump is baffling, there being a number of men entered of apparently the same calibre. Knowlton (Ba), Seekins (C), Wood, Kephart, Greene (B) and Cuozzo and O'Connor of Maine are the men among whom the winners will be found.

Rowe of Bates is conceded first in the broad jump, and Caldwell, O'Connor, Knowlton, and Soule are the men who will probably complete the list of point winners in this event.

Beckler and Harding of Maine have unquestioned supremacy in the pole vault and can be counted on to take first and second places.

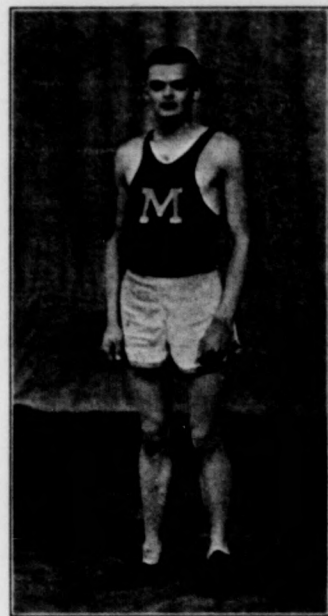

Captain S. Thompson of Maine, the New England champion in his event, is the acknowledged winner of the 16 pound shot put. Other strong men in this event are Brown (Bo), "Rip" Black, Ray (Ba), and Drummond (C).

Black is the obvious winner of the hammer event. His past work has been nothing short of sensational, and some are looking to him to establish a new record in the coming meet. Bagnall (C), Nanigian (M), and Nilson (Ba) are the leading contenders for the remaining points.

Maine has a dark horse entry in the discus, "Bill" Gowell, whose chances for victory rank well alongside those of Houle (B), Seekins (C), and Hubbard (Bates).

In the javelin the work of Anthony of Bates and of Black of Maine will be worth watching. The former got away a heave of 165 feet against New Hampshire last Saturday. Black has also been doing good work in this event and is generally conceded either a first or second in it.

It can be seen that though the mass of Maine's strength lies in the field events, the team is exceptionally well balanced and will win points in all but a few events.

Varsity Plays First Game of State Series With Bates Today

Bowdoin Game Comes Tomorrow And Colby Monday; Freshmen Win

The varsity baseball team will play its first state series games this week when it meets Bates at Lewiston on Thursday and Bowdoin at Brunswick on Friday. On Monday the Colby game which was cancelled last week will be played at Waterville.

Two strong out of state teams will invade Orono next week. Conn. Aggies are scheduled to play here Thurs., May 17, and the University of New Hampshire on Saturday, May 19. After next week, all of the remaining varsity games are scheduled to be played at home.

The Freshman baseball team started its season by an 8 to 5 victory over Notre Dame of Waterville, on Alumni Field Tuesday afternoon. The first glimpse of the frosh team in action showed a smooth working outfit. Hall, Baston, Bryant, and Springer made a snappy infield combination. Horne in right field turned in a perfect fielding performance for the afternoon. Brockway and Dunn came through with three base hits. St. Thomas of Notre Dame made the only home run of the game. Turner looked good in the box for the Waterville team and allowed the freshmen only six hits.

Kenyon used sixteen men during the afternoon and changes in the line-up may appear in the next game.

Punting Contest To Be Held Next Wednesday

A punting contest, the winner of which will be awarded a silver cup donated by Alumni, will be held on Alumni Field, Wednesday afternoon, May 16. Members of the three lower classes will be eligible to compete. Each competitor will receive a ten yard pass from center. He will be allowed two and a half seconds to kick the ball and can carry up his step only two and one-half yards. A committee will select the winner on the merits of his form, height, and distance. It is hoped that the contest will bring out some good kickers as they are needed badly for the football team next fall.

Centers, kickers, and backfield men have been working out under Coach Brice during the past week. There will be no general spring training for the whole football squad. Sometime before Commencement, Coach Brice will have a meeting of all candidates. All men wishing to be candidates for the team next fall should see Mgr. Lancaster, as a list will soon be drawn up from which the early season squad will be chosen.

Boxing and Wrestling Carnival Will Be Held Tuesday; Eight Bouts

Kenyon Will Act As Referee; Wallace and Daley Promoters

The feature bout of the boxing and wrestling carnival Tues., May 15, has been announced as "Tommie" Martin vs. Sullivan. Both of these boys weigh about 160 pounds, are clean and hard fighters, boxing for the sport. The other bouts will be Kosciulek vs. Cobb, and Ramsdell vs. Bennett. The contestants for the fourth bout have not been chosen but "Stan" Wallace has at least a dozen good men from whom to choose.

Referee Kenyon will conduct the matches in the manner in which college bouts are held customarily. The fighters are introduced by their own name without any assumed title or prefix. During the matches there is no constant uproar of cheering and yelling from the spectators, but rather an intelligent effort on their part to see which fighter is putting up the better battle.

The four wrestling bouts will each be five minutes in length. The wrestlers are all in good shape, and these matches promise real excitement. The men who have been matched are: Tracy vs. McFarland; Rand vs. McDonald; Ames vs. Anderson; Butler vs. Kilby.

All-Maine Women Will Give Second Pageant

Due to the success with which their first pageant "The Pioneer" was given last year, the All Maine Women have been asked by the Board of Administration to present another this year.

The production which promises to be of great interest and beauty is of an allegorical nature. Several virtues, namely Laughter, Joy, Dance and Song, Power, Fame, Riches and Hope vainly try to rescue a princess held captive by Sorrow. At last a prince representing Love delivers her from sinister Sorrow and gladness prevails.

The cast which will include in addition to those just named two heralds, Pan, sixteen courtiers and sixteen peasants has been picked and rehearsals have started.

Mrs. Mark Bailey will have charge of the pageant. Alice Webster and Miss Beulah Osgood will attend to the costumes, Mary McGuire is in charge of the music, Virginia Smith, Alma White and Francis Fuller are in charge of the rehearsals, while Erdine Besse will attend to the grounds and Jessie Ashworth to the programs and advertising.

Athletic Assn. Will Be Headed By Coltart

The election of George L. Coltart '29 to the presidency of the Athletic Association, in the A. A. elections, Tues. May 8, gives him the unusual honor of serving as an officer of the association for three successive years.

Charles E. O'Connor '30, varsity track man and debater, was elected to the vice-presidency. Virgil M. Lancaster '29, manager-elect of football was chosen as senior member. To Fred A. Hall '31, freshman class president and freshman baseball and football star goes the honor of being chosen secretary of the association.

Emory F. Ridlon '29 was elected head cheer leader. David R. Kingman '30 and Franklin E. Pearce '30 were elected assistant cheer leaders.

The members of the advanced class in Play Production will present a three act comedy in Alumni Hall at 7.30 on Tuesday evening May 15. The parts in this play "The Saving Grace" are taken by C. M. Getchell, Hector Lopaus, Kenneth Laughlin, Ramona Poley, Thelma Shea, Thelma Ham, Eunice Jackson.

The play is being given to raise money for the Orono Girl Scouts. Admission is $5.00 and seats may be reserved at the Book Store.

The faculties of the Colleges of Technology and Arts and Sciences have adopted the following rule concerning the dropping of a student from the University:

"It is recommended that any student who has an average mark of less than one point (or D) at the end of a semester shall be dropped from the University unless the low mark be due to convincing extenuating circumstances clearly beyond the control of the student."

All-Maine Women Will Hold Banquet May 16

The All Maine Women will hold their annual banquet May 16 at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. Following the banquet, toasts will be given and the members of this organization will announce their pledges.

This affair which is usually well attended is open to alumnae, women members of the faculty, wives of faculty members, and representatives of each Women's organization on the campus are usually invited. Other students who may desire to attend will be able to purchase tickets.

Due to the State Meet athletic stories predominate in this issue.

State Meet Records May Fall Next Saturday

The following records may be broken in the State Meet next Saturday.

100 yd. dash—9 1/2 seconds; Cloudman (B).

One mile run—4 m. 21 sec., Colbath (B).

ON TO LEWISTON!

The biggest athletic event of the spring semester will be held at Lewiston next Saturday. Teams representing the four Maine colleges will strive to win the State Championship of Track for their respective institutions. One of these shall emerge victorious. Which shall it be?

For the past few years the University of Maine has been represented by strong track teams, due to the untiring efforts of Frank Kanaly and the men he has developed. Yet no matter how strong these teams have been they have not been able to win a State Championship. Bowdoin has won repeatedly. This year a stronger team than usual has been developed here and hope of winning the long-awaited championship is greater than ever. A well-balanced team can win the State Meet, and we feel that Coach Kanaly has that team at the present time. When his boys march onto the field at Lewiston let them be able to look at the Maine section and know that the whole University is there to cheer them on to victory. Support of this kind is what they need to make them realize that there is more than personal gain in a victory—that they are working for Maine.

STUDENT LOANS

The following letter written by Treasurer Youngs of the University places before the members of the three upper classes a question which should be of interest to all.

Editor of The Campus
Dear Sir:

"Are any funds needed to help students? Do students use the funds already available for their assistance? What is your experience with loans made to students?"

These and many other questions are asked of the administration from time to time. What should be the answer to them?

These are students who are bending every effort to obtain a college education who require financial assistance. If they knew that there existed a fund which could be used by them under certain conditions, would they use it? How large should this fund be?

The administration is now trying to secure data on this subject and within a short time a questionnaire will be mailed to each student in the three upper classes to answer certain points. The data so secured will be used to assist in formulating a policy and it is hoped that the students will seriously consider the questions asked and give prompt replies.

Very truly yours,

Frederick S. Youngs
Treasurer

We recommend that the students give more than average attention to this questionnaire. The financial side of education is something which we cannot pass over lightly, and the loan funds which are at the disposal of needy students can play an important part in helping them through their four-year course.

It is probable that few people realize how much money can be used for student loans. The catalog of the University lists these funds, but a brief mention does not suffice to describe their value. In coming issues of the Campus, we will endeavor to give a thorough review of the more important loan funds. We invite discussion of the questions which Mr. Youngs has presented, in the columns of the Campus.

THE NEW DROPPING RULE

We believe that the new rule passed by the Colleges of Technology and Arts and Sciences concerning the dropping of a student from the University is one of the best pieces of legislation at Maine for several years. It will do a great deal to stop the impartial practices which have featured the present system.

We understand that there is much agitation for a new ruling which will place ineligibility upon a point basis. The present system which makes it necessary for a man on probation to obtain "C" grades in all his studies before becoming eligible is very unfair. Several cases have been brought up where students have nearly made the Dean's list and yet have been kept on probation because they had a grade lower than "C" in one course. We feel that an average of 1.5 should be fixed as the ineligibility mark. This will allow a student to know just how low he can go and still be able to engage in activities.

Eleven Members Of Junior Class Selected As 1928 Senior Skulls

Eleven members of the Junior Class were chosen Senior Skulls for next year at the tapping last Friday noon. Of this number ten are athletes or managers of athletic teams, and one is connected with the journalism of the University. The names of the men chosen and the activities in which they are engaged are as follows:

Edmund F. (Rip) Black

Football; hammer, discus, and javelin thrower, and shot-putter of track team; member of Phi Eta Kappa.

Victor B. (Vic) MacNaughton

Captain of cross country; miler of track team; vice-president of class; member of Phi Mu Delta.

James C. (Jim) Buzzell

George F. (Mac) Mahoney

Editor-in-chief of the Campus; athletics editor of 1929 Prism; non-fraternity.

George L. (Mike) Coltart

Fullback of football team; substitute catcher of baseball; former president of class; member of Kappa Sigma.

Winfield S. (Win) Niles

Captain of relay, dashman of track team; member of Lambda Chi Alpha.

William J. (Bill) Hartley

Manager of cross country; chairman Junior Week Committee; member of Phi Eta Kappa.

Roderic C. (Roddie) O'Connor

Manager of baseball; former vice-president of class; member of Beta Theta Pi.

Elmer G. (Sonny) Horton

Manager of track; member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Robert D. (Bob) Parks

Track; football; dramatics; member of Phi Gamma Delta.

John B. Lynch

Football tackle; member of Phi Kappa.

READ 'EM AND WEEP

The lady cynic says "When woman discovers that man can be a happy accident, a diverting incident, but a poor career, she is well on the way to being a person of consequence." But who wants to be important, anyhow?

After the dance we noticed that the decorations for Junior Prom were really beautiful.

Then somebody had to spoil a good sport like tennis by making it a "love" game.

"So Am I"—A One-Act Play
Dramatis Personae
Finn—Cushing
Haddie—Abbott

Scene opens on a college campus
Finn: Got a date?
Haddie: Huh?
Finn: Got a date?!!
Haddie: Yes. 7.30.
Finn: S'aright. Mine's at 10.
Haddie: Fish!
Finn: Me too! (They laugh good-naturedly and walk on).

With apologies to the Prism Board. "De gustibus non est disputandum," murmured the seasick professor to his stomach as he leaned over the rail.

We read over the Junior Prism write-ups and never before have we realized that some people are like that, if you know what we mean.

HIGHER EDUCATION AT COLBY

Only after firemen had turned a stream of hose into a group of excited Colby students, who interfered with their work, could a blaze which broke out early today in the old gymnasium at the college be controlled. Loss is estimated at $3,000 on the fifty-year old, antiquated building valued at $25,000.

Students, knowing that plans are afoot for a new building in the immediate future, were not over-zealous in trying to save the old one, it was said.

"J.B.P. will pay cash for any text or reference books you want to get rid of" thus read the advertisement so we took over an armful and—well, probably the man thought that even fifteen cents would be a help to a poor college student.

Some men we have known—"I was going to ask you out Thursday evening but I was afraid to—afraid you would refuse me," he lied with an admirable courtliness. Then with a tender, wistful expression (as if he were experiencing Blue Heaven as a reality) he half-whispered, "Would you have gone?"

"Sure," responded the sweet young thing upon whom his suave condescension was poured, "I'm not proud."

"Excuse me, Romeo," apologized the sun one morning as he raised an eye above the horizon and caught Rip Black on the Balentine tennis court.

Astronomy Professor: "Give me the name of a star with a tail?"
Freshman: "Rin-Tin-Tin."

The sage says that conversation was invented for the purpose of concealing thought. Well, there's one consolation—students of to-day have nothing to conceal!

And now comes spring and commencement and the All Maine Women are giving the co-eds another chance to do interpretations in cheese-cloth. As a former editor of the Campus remarked, "Expression is the watchword!"

Campus Notes

The need of a weekly bulletin of events has been apparent for some time and at the suggestion of Professor Buchan, President Boardman appointed a committee to investigate the situation.

The result of the investigation is a Weekly Calendar. This Calendar will publish announcements of departmental and society meetings, lectures, assemblies, and student events of interest to the faculty.

Friday, May 11

Sigma Xi meeting, 4:20 P.M., 200 Albert Hall.

Saturday, May 12

Classes suspended on Saturday morning on account of State Track Meet at Lewiston.

Spring meeting, Northeastern division of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents Association.

Final examinations, May 29-June 6.

Hebron Academy and Cony High School of Augusta were the winners in the prep and high school divisions of the 20th annual University of Maine interscholastic track meet last Saturday. Hebron led the prep schools with 54½ points while Cony scored 35½ points.

In spite of perfect weather conditions, no records were broken. Johnson of Maine Central Institute nearly made a new record in the prep school broad jump when he leaped 21 feet 5½ inches.

The following program will be presented at the Mothers' Day Services which will be held on Sunday, May 13 at Alumni Hall.

Boxing and Wrestling Carnival Will Be Held Tuesday

Messrs. Wallace and Daley are the promoters of this tournament and are sparing themselves no effort to establish boxing and wrestling as popular sports. If the interest that has been shown this year continues, it is likely that next year will see intramural boxing on the campus.

Mrs. Charles E. Eidson, national Phi Mu Delegate, has been inspecting the local chapter at the University of Maine in the past week.

Mrs. Eidson, who was National President of Phi Mu last year, held conferences with Dean Bean, members of the faculty, and dormitory matrons to try to discover what problems are peculiar to the University of Maine, especially those in relation to sorority life.

A Tea was held in North Hall Tuesday afternoon by the Phi Mu Chapter in order that Mrs. Eidson could meet the girls from the other Greek letter sororities.

Sigma Tau sorority will hold a formal dance at the Royal Arcanum Hall, Bangor Friday evening.

The annual election to determine the winners of the two watches, one for men and the other for women will be held on Monday, May 14th at Alumni Hall.

The Washington Alumni Association watch is presented to the member of the senior class who in the opinion of the faculty and students has done the most for the university during his course.

The other watch is presented to a woman student under similar conditions.

Nominations are made by the Student Senate and the Women's Student Government Association. Voting is limited to the three upper classes and at least 50% of the student body must cast ballots in order to make the election valid.

Typical of the spirit of service among telephone personnel.

Commerce, too, has its Raleighs

RALEIGH'S definition of courtesy was apparently to care for the needs of the other person. Today the same practice is observed by the telephone business; but we call it service.

To men in telephone work, service is a matter of looking ahead and preparing ahead—and when a need arises, to be ready. This point of view inspires the research engineer, the supervisor of production, the director of personnel and the executive responsible for all these activities and more.

With the increasing telephone requirements of the nation, this is a work of increasing complexity.

Through years to come Bell System men will find an even greater opportunity of service.
