Memorial Fund Student Committee Sets $25,000 As Minimum Goal For Big Campaign To Be Held Next Week

Mass Meeting Monday Will Start Drive For Money To Complete Building; Elaborate Plans Are Made To Arouse Interest of Student Body

One Hundred Men and Women Will Act As Solicitors

"Let's set a goal and secure an amount of which we shall not be ashamed" was the sentiment of the Memorial Fund Student Committee as a result of which a minimum quota of $25,000 was adopted. By vote of the Board of Trustees of the University the subscriptions will be placed up to the 9 yard line.

In the student campaign of 1923 about $100,000 was pledged or an average of about $100 for each student. Even the goal set is less than one eighth of the cost of the gym. The committee has suggested minimum subscriptions of $20 each for every student—men and women. It is felt that many can and will give more, since it is to be the only request for subscriptions to the building. Five dollars a year for each of the four years is small.

In order to make the payment of subscriptions easier, the committee requested the Board of Trustees to permit the University officials to place half of the amount subscribed on the fall and half on the spring semester term bills. This request was granted and collection will be made in that manner.

The opening gun of the Memorial Gymnasium $25,000 campaign will be fired at the special mass meeting which is to be held next Monday morning, October 29 in the old gymnasium. From then until Friday night is to be a busy time. Nearly one hundred students have indicated their willingness to serve on "teams". The announcement of the final total will be made at Maine Night.

Arthur L. Deering '12, chairman of the Memorial Fund Committee, will preside. "Bob" Parks, chairman of the Student Committee, will be the first speaker. He will be followed by President Boardman. Raymond Fellows '08, attorney general of the state, is to be the alumni speaker. Following the conclusion of this meeting, solicitation will begin.

Every one who subscribes will receive a pin or button on which will be printed—"I have subscribed, Have you?" These pins are to be worn during the remainder of the week.

It is possible that each subscriber will also be given a certificate or "bond" to place in the "M" book as evidence of holding a share in the building. This is being considered by the committee. Each day the team captains will report to Alumni Office and the total amount subscribed will be posted in Alumni Hall.

Special or regular editions of the Campus will be published daily showing the progress of the campaign by teams and by fraternities. 100 per cent groups will be featured.

Texas Cow Punchers Will Debate At Maine

Cowboy Debaters from West Texas are coming! They travel and debate in ward Stern, manager of debate and Bricker are rapidly developing the team.

Some of the leading institutions—will be on this schedule. The Cowboy Debaters journeying from West Texas represent the most distant institution, Howard Payne College. This team will be brought to the University of Maine at a heavy expense—but it is felt that with the support of the student body it will be possible to make the visit of this most unique forensic squad in the country a complete success. The unusual dress, the pleasing western manner, the delightful West Texas drawl, and the exceptional debating ability of this group make them an attraction without rival in the field of inter-collegiate forensic activity.

Bates President Would Cut Down Examinations

"What is it all about?" was the subject of the talk given by Dr. Gray, president of Bates College, at the regular Monday morning chapel. "Why are we here? What are we going to do with what we get here and how are we going to get it are the questions which every college student asks himself", Dr. Gray stated. "Someone has said that all a college institution is nowadays is a football stadium with a classroom attached and all that education consists of is the copying down of notes given by a teacher into a notebook by means of a fountain pen without either the teacher or the student knowing what it is all about."

"If I had my way all exams would be done away with", went on Dr. Gray. "I doubt very much if college presidents could pass the entrance requirements of the college for which they are presidents and there would be few exams of any kind they could pass without a great deal of cramming. I know I couldn't. Education does not consist of pumping knowledge at the empty think tanks in front. We must think of it in a more quantitative fashion. The designers of the American college curriculum have made a sausage machine of it, cutting up the whole body into an equal number of parts known as units, and the student must get so many of these units so that the bell on the registrar's cash register will ring up the total amount necessary for getting a degree."

In Dr. Gray's opinion this mincing of the various courses in order to gain an end is the wrong idea. One gains nothing

Hoover and Smith Find More Willing Supporters

Hoover supporters among the members of the faculty of the University continue to increase. The choice of Hoover by many of those who have been approached is based largely on his experience as an engineer and his excellent administrative record. Few, however, have taken issue with the relative capabilities of Gov. Smith. The majority of the statements this week are restricted either to the mere indication of the choice for the presidency or the exposition of Mr. Hoover's qualities without special reference to the ability or lack of ability of Gov. Smith.

Dr. Drummond
I shall vote for Mr. Hoover. I believe him to be an able executive. His efficient record as an engineer and administrator lend to his executive ability.

Prof. French
I intend to vote for Mr. Hoover. I believe him to be the best qualified man. From a point of view of international

Dr. Rice
I shall vote for Mr. Hoover on the basis of the scope of his attainments and his proved efficiency.

Prof. Fitch
There are many reasons why I expect to vote for Hoover and none of them is the old one that it is because my father voted for Republicans all his life and what was good enough for him is good enough for me. I voted for Wilson for president because I thought he was the best man. Hoover has the broadest experience to fit him for the position of president of any man in recent years. His work in Europe gained for him personally the admiration of European peoples. This attitude will react whenever questions of an interna-

Course Crabbers Are Hit By Professors

Even you may be classed as a "course crabber," when a poor, meek, innocent member of the Junior class could be branded as such by one member of the faculty who happened to notice this upperclassman studying a book during a meeting of the Campus board. The professor was making his way through the crowd which had assembled at an outdoor meeting of the editors on the steps of the M.C.A. Building, when he was asked what constituted a "course crabber." He looked the thing over carefully, and pointing to the third year man said, "There sits a 'course crabber.' Anyone who will consciously study during a Campus meeting is such a person." With that off his chest, he trudged on to his duties.

Now, here was a young man, serious in his own mind, trying to study a little and at the same time do his duty to his paper, thereby sacrificing his studies only to be classed a course crabber. What Professor N. R. Bryan of the Mathematics department in giving his views on the matter made the following statement. "A course crabber is a student who prepares and forces upon the attention of the instructor more than the maximum amount of work required or expected in the course."

"By virtue of academic conditions in general and in mathematics in particular, (Continued on Page Four)

Student Senate Asks For Thanksgiving Recess

The Student Senate held its second meeting of the year last Tuesday evening.

Three faculty members have been given the sum of money donated for the maintenance of the bear.

Two important committees were formulated, one to consider and remodel if necessary the present regulations for the election of class officers and the second to formulate and present a plan to the Board of Administration wherein the Thanksgiving recess will be extended.

The Senate is desirous of receiving student opinion on both the issues of class elections and the holiday extension, and will appreciate the suggestions of interested members of the student body. This policy is in keeping with the policy of the Senate—the analysis and constructive projection of student opinion.

Records Fall In Pumpkin Meet; Juniors Ahead

With only two more events, the hammer and the javelin, to be run off, the Juniors seem to have the Pumpkin Meet all sewed up. They are leading the Freshmen by seven points, 58 to 51. The Sophomores have collected 17 points, while the Seniors are bringing up in the rear with 10 points.

Two indoor field records were broken. "Bud" Lindsay was clocked in 9:44 for the two mile run, while "Charlie" O'Connor jumped 5 ft. 11 in. in the running high jump.

The Maine Bears upset all the pet forecasts of the wise dopsters last Saturday by outplaying New Hampshire at Durham but the Maine boys were weak on the scoring ability, nosing out the Wildcats 7 to 0. Rip Black was the sensation of the day when, with two minutes to play, he took a short pass from one of the most thrilling contests Maine has played for a number of years.

The Bears played around the Wildcat goal all afternoon but could not make the grade when it came to scoring. Maine made a total of thirteen first downs to New Hampshire's three and the ball was advanced into Maine territory just twice for any considerable amount.

Captain Buzzell played the hardest game of his life—on the bench imploring Coach Brice to send him in but Brice wisely kept him out where his injured shoulder was free from further bruising. George Noddin played a great game at left half in Buzzell's place. He punted, passed and ran with the ball in the true Buzzell fashion. Mike Coltart ran the team perfectly and backed the line up better than he ever did before, which is saying a whole lot. Louie Airoldi put up a strong game at fullback and defensive quarter. Louie ran back punts as though he had been doing nothing else all his life and his slashing line plunges were the features of the game. Jack Moran's left handed passes to Black and his shifty runs through the line were all anyone could ask. Warren Blocklinger, who replaced Noddin in the last few minutes of play made a brilliant showing. His passes were the most accurate of the game and he slid through the line for plenty of yardage.

The Maine line put up a stubborn fighting game as the number of Wildcat first downs shows. The much tooted New Hampshire oftackle thrusts and center plunges were smeared time and again for a loss or only a small gain. Time and again the line would spill the Wildcat interference and Coltart would nail the man with the ball right at the line of scrimmage. Every man in the line played hard football and deserves much credit for the victory. Paul Hickson played his first real game of football at right end and was in there fighting the whole distance. It was some team for a crippled outfit. Coach Brice deserves a world of credit for developing this thundering herd in just four days, as one might say.

Maine elected to receive the opening kick off and with Vail, Davis and Zakarian tearing holes through the line, Noddin and Airoldi crashed through for consistent gains. These rushes together with Moran's deft port side passes accounted for five first downs in the initial period but costly fumbles kept Maine from scoring. New Hampshire did not make a first down in this quarter. Their star back, Stewart was carried from the field after the first play of the game.

THOSE FOOTBALL SENDOFFS

Three weeks ago Maine played Yale. Notices were posted that the student body was to gather at the waiting room on the day the football team left to give the fellows a sendoff when they boarded the noon car for Bangor. Approximately one hundred and fifty students appeared to give a few cheers for the team. Six members of the famous Maine band were on hand to play the Stein Song. What an expression of the "good luck" sentiments of the University of Maine!

Last Friday the team departed for Durham on the same car. In order to get a large crowd at the rally a spirited student secured official permission to blow the whistle. Everybody knew that there was to be a sendoff for the team, yet only about one student in twenty stopped to do his share of the cheering. If the Yale sendoff was bad the New Hampshire sendoff cannot be described. A few cheers were given in a half-hearted manner; not one hand instrument was in sight; the Stein Song was an absolute failure; in short, the whole thing was terrible.

Next Saturday the State Series opens—the biggest events of the fall athletic season begin. Maine is again the leading contender for the championship, but if the student body doesn't show more interest in the team than it has in these sendoffs can we expect the boys to fight?

When Maine lines up against Bates Saturday afternoon let's have every student of the University in the cheering section singing and yelling for all he is worth. Then watch our team!

THE STUDENT CAMPAIGN

In a few more days the University will be in the midst of one of the biggest financial campaigns which it has ever known. Everybody appears to be anxious to do his bit to help the construction of the Memorial Gym along and everybody is waiting for the opening gun to be fired Monday.

There seems to be very little opposition to the drive among the students. We can't see why. The drive is for a new gymnasium, a building which will give the students a place to play and study. It is a building which will give the students a place to play and study. It is a building which will give the students a place to play and study.

In our correspondence columns we are publishing a letter from a student who feels that there are several other things which are needed on the campus more than the new gymnasium. We agree with him in the point that they are all needed, but we do not believe that anything is needed more than the gymnasium at the present time. We feel that the various needed improvements which he mentions are not problems for students and alumni, but rather for the administration. The state is supposed to provide dormitories, law schools, etc. They are not memorials. The Gymnasium Armory is a memorial to Maine's dead soldiers. It is the gift of Maine men and women and not of the state. It should be regarded as an honor to be able to contribute to the completion of the building. We believe that the Gymnasium-Armory will do more to help Maine grow than anything which can be erected. Let's go!

THE STUDENT SENATE

We strongly favor the attitude taken by the Student Senate on the questions of hazing, holidays at Thanksgiving, and elections. These three topics are receiving much discussion by the students of the University and are of interest to all.

Hazing has been a practically unknown form of showing "class spirit" at Maine during the past few years. The case which was reported to the administration last week was the outcome of two weeks of continuous class fight in the dormitory. The stand that the Senate has taken is that the responsibility for future hazing cases shall rest in the Sophomore Owls society. Hazing is a serious offense and someone should be held responsible for its occurrence. Since the Owls are supposed to promote the spirit between the two lower classes they are the most logical men to be held liable for proper conduct in the corrective punishment of freshmen.

The Senate has appointed a committee to investigate the Thanksgiving holiday situation and to make an attempt to bring about a satisfactory understanding between the students and the administration concerning the holiday. It is hoped that a change can be made in the calendar which will allow the students to have the week-end after Thanksgiving Day off, instead of the legal holiday alone. Movements for this change have been made every year but none have succeeded. However, we believe that an arrangement can be made which will allow the extra days at Thanksgiving time and take away some of the other holidays, making it more pleasant for both students and faculty. The present plan is not at all satisfactory, and any change which can be made to improve the situation will meet with the approval of all.

The third problem which the Senate hopes to solve is that of class elections. The elections held last year will go down in Maine history as disgraceful exhibitions of petty grievances and so-called "fraternity politics." We have been informed that plans have already been completed to stage another Northern-Southern league fight for offices. We sincerely hope that the Senate or the Committee on Eligibility will take the necessary steps to prevent the execution of these plans and will endeavor to make the student body realize that the University is not a political laboratory. However, if "Tammany stalks again" it will find little favor with the Maine students who think for themselves, because these men and women were disgusted with the result of last year's foolishness.

If any of our would-be campus politicians are interested in becoming student leaders, we suggest that they try out for the position of cheer leaders—soon.

Correspondence

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

It is indeed gratifying to the Athletic Board to hear through the Campus of the renewed interest in the completion of the gymnasium Armory and to learn that this interest has brought action from the Student body. The Board gives its hearty approval to the proposed drive for funds to build the gym and is glad to support the campaign in any way possible.

We are very proud of the Indoor Field made possible by the very generous contributions of the alumni, faculty and friends of Maine. We hope, however, that in the near future we will be spared the necessity of making excuses and explanations to visitors and friends concerning the missing portions of the building as planned originally.

To those in charge of the proposed drive we extend our best wishes and hope that the quota set will be spontaneously oversubscribed.

Cordially yours,

L. S. Corbett

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

While the students and the Alumni are in a money raising spirit to secure a new gymnasium, would it not be an appropriate time to consider a few other improvements? In the next few weeks it is hoped that $200,000 will be raised. Could not the University spend that $200,000 on improvements that are needed more than a new gym?

Would not a law school be of greater importance than new showers and lockers? The men and women of the State of Maine are forced to go out of state to prepare for the bar.

Our Chapel is a disgrace to the University. Religious reverence can not be secured in a hall which on various occasions is used for plays, lectures, football rallies, debates, and as a cloak room for dances. As an Auditorium it is a complete failure. Beyond the fifth row few can see the stage, rostrum or pulpit as the case may be. Beyond the fifteenth none can hear. Most of the city high schools have better halls than ours.

The $200,000 could construct new dormitories for men and women. When students are forced to commute from Stillwater, Orono and Bangor and many are turned away from the University for lack of accommodations, it is time steps were taken to remedy the situation.

The drive for the new gym is a worthy one but personally I believe that the men in whose memory it is to be erected, would much rather have the money spent in financing some of the more necessary improvements. The drive is on. It is up to all of us to see that the $200,000 is raised. Maine Alumni and students have never failed to make the grade. May next fall see the new gym under construction. But I hope that Maine will never be known as an Athletic building with a University attached.

Respectfully,

Arthur B. Conner

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Editor,

I like your paper. I like the size, and the make-up and the contents. The correspondence is a fine idea. Read 'em and Weep is almost always worth reading. Of course there are some things about the material—! For instance, it doesn't seem possible that Haynes Manchester Wheeler '27, '28, '29 can suppose that anyone would believe he wrote that letter, or any letter. But now that Hoover has been elected President (by the faculty) let's not deal in any more personalities.

There is one thing tho' that Professor Piston should know. A Hog is the one animal that will stop cramming himself this side nausea, and it has never been known in all agricultural history for a hog to want to "make a brilliant display of his own knowledge and to insinuate himself into anyone's good graces. However—!

When the M.C.A. drive is won and over, and the Memorial Gym fund drive is realized, will you give me space to boom a concrete walk diagonally across the ten acre ploughed lot in front of our library? At present the library is the most isolated building on the campus, and besides, it is neither edifying nor efficient to have to go two miles around a cornfield when one might as well be allowed to go a quarter mile across it.

Sincerely yours,

Annie Laurie
(real name withheld)

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

There have been a number of articles in the Campus and a greater number of discussions outside in regard to the noticeable poor spirit of the student body. Are the students really to blame for this lack of spirit? When have the new students had a chance to get into the feel of a college spirit? Did any of the upper-classmen go rushing out to ring the bell and blow the whistle after Maine's first victory? No, the University choked all attempts to show spirit in this respect by removing the whistle.

Our cheer leaders have requested the faculty manager that the student body march into the games. The answer was, "No," and the excuses similar to this: That the WHOLE student body would not march. That as the parade approaches the bleachers, some of the wise ones make a mad rush for a seat, thus spoiling the effect. He was perfectly right in both cases, there are a few who will not loer themselves enough to become real Maine men and women for a couple of hours, but he is not right in thinking that this is the feeling of the majority. Even if only half of the students march, it is a fine old college custom that should not be abolished. There two student organizations who are responsible for such matters as controlling the march of the student body. If the University is afraid to put a little responsibility on the shoulders of the Senior Skulls and Sophomore Owls, why not abolish them and hire some more policemen?

The reason that millions attend football games each year is not merely to see eleven men kick, fight and push each other all over the field. They attend because they love to see and feel the spirit of the student body and the team coordinated and working as one, to see thousands rise to their feet, silent as death, as a long pass is thrown, the tense expressions on their faces as they hold their breath and wait, the low swelling moan, if the pass is grounded or the shrieks and yells if the play is a success. Hundreds of Maine graduates come back each year just to play the game in spirit with the team, as they did in their own college days. Why should we fail them?

Let's show some colors at the next game, buy a small pennant, get some tin horns. Thirty men from Connecticut put us all to shame the other day. The coach and the team are there with the spirit, they have accomplished the impossible with a broken team. But they can't stand alone all thru the coming series. We must show them that we know who the State Champions for 1928 are going to be, and that we know if Bates gets the ball near the goal posts Saturday, there will have to be a strong wind.

Give the crowd the most colorful, spirit-filled parade the duplication of what we saw at every Maine game.

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

Alfred E. Smith is my choice for the presidency because I believe in his views on the main issues of the campaign, which are prohibition and farm relief.

After eight long years one must confess that the present prohibition enforcement is ineffective. All that Mr. Hoover says about the situation amounts to the fact that he proposes to continue this ineffectiveness under the cover of a promise to rigidly enforce the law. Mr. Smith, on the other hand, takes a definite stand on the question with a plan to better the condition, namely, modification with state control. He goes further to say that should his plan fail by referendum, he will honestly enforce prohibition as he would any important executive duty.

On the question of farm relief, Hoover is practically silent. Here Mr. Smith again comes out with a definite program. He proposes to form a committee of farm experts to investigate conditions so that definite plans for relief may be formed. He also favors the national marketing of all farm produce, which alone is better than no plan at all.

Thus is my choice based on a man with plans which will benefit the country.
Joseph Schultz '31

Editor, The Maine Campus,
Dear Sir:

It seems to me that Maine needs a new song, or perhaps two or three new songs and while I'm no musician, I've got a hunch that the air of "Keep the Home Fires Burning" would provide the basis for a splendid Maine song. It has force and sweep, and is popular and easy to sing, being well within the range of the average voice.

I think it might be well to announce a contest of some kind, and let the would-be poets submit their stuff. No less authorities than Dr. Ellis and Prof. Turner have said that I do not write good poetry, and so it must be true, but I am submitting a sample of what might be done with this song.

KEEP THE CHEERS RINGING
(Tune "Keep the Home Fires Burning")
Keep the cheers a-ringing,
While loyal hearts are singing,
When our football boys plow through
To make that gain!
Let them hear our voices,
As every heart rejoices,
Shake the grand stand with one shout
For Maine, Maine, Maine!

Yours truly,

Philip M. Marsh

Galloping Ashcans Carry Mainiacs To N.H.

Cuts were in order Friday as campus Aspirins and Alfalfas caloped out of Orono for another collegiate adventure—this time to twist the Wild-cat's tail at New Hampshire.

Dad's Day it was and what a day it turned out to be for the old gents; especially those who sat on the Maine side.

Our much-discussed and overworked (?) co-eds decided to show their buggery-riding ability by joining the caravan, but not in the customary derelicts as the eds did, however. The eds experienced the usual 57 varieties of flats, leaky tops, engine trouble and all the other well-known 'joys of motoring.' Between being held up by State Troopers looking for stolen cars and running off the main road because of the thick fog and troublesome lights, the trip down was very uneventful.

Every ed got in free (so did some of the co-eds, as usual) some by highjacking the fence, others as 'competitors', and the majority through the extreme kindness of the management on N. H. blanket taxes. Such magnanimous hospitality—Wow! Worthy of emulation, ah'd say.

What a rip-tailed snorter of a time those Granite-States pulled off! In the forenoon every seat in the stands was packed to review the parade by the Army—pardon, the R.O.T.C. Imagine it! Every formation was perfect, not a slip-up anywhere, which was especially noteworthy when one considers that the freshman class had but five weeks of training. Evidently there are no awkward squads at Durham.

And now for the game. Godfrey, what color, what thrills! Six cannons went off, two with aerial day-bombs that rocketed dizzily upward to discharge parachutes that floated zephyr-like downward unfurling first a New Hampshire banner, then a Maine banner. An airplane, carrying two old N. H. football players, released an inflated football (an old one, too) with blue and white streamers. The spheroid was then presented with much ado to Governor Spaulding—tugged out in his swallow-tailed coat and two-and-a-half quart stovepipe hat. Thus the Guv'nor started the battle, only with a newer football, however.

Say, that New Hampshire cheering and spirit was a revelation! Maybe they didn't support their team, and h—wow! Honestly, you could even hear it echo back from the 'Old Man' up in Franconia Notch, it was that potent. Yes, we had other words, 7 to 0. You know, a happier bunch of boys than the Maine team after the game. Then, a miniature snake dance (ten of us) and the search for the bonfire—no luck, it was too well guarded and hidden from our devilish intentions.

The N. H. U's were all eyes as we paraded around in our fall clothing. Never before had they seen red ski-jackets and tams and other wardrobe paraphernalia so common to our everyday existence. Yes sir, Maine set the fashion last Saturday in more ways than one. Prouder'n a peacock we were.

Stop-overs, stay-overs, hang-overs—whoo! Hold it—left-overs, we mean and the victorious return of the natives began. Whifflesnorting, cahoeberating ashcans, trekked, ambled and meandered back to familiar haunts laden with those rare 'collich-gents' you read about but seldom see, who went, saw and conquered New Hampshire. All up for the next adventure—Bowdoin-r-r-r—you know what that means. Start your tinkering now.

See you at Brunswick!

Home Ecs Tutor Infant
In Bathtub Technique

Due to the diligent training of the Home Ecs at North Hall, George Joseph Legere familiarly known as Jerry is becoming an expert swimmer. He goes swimming regularly every day in the bathtub assisted by whoever happens to be putting him through his paces that week, and it is rumored that before long he'll be going with Lindbergh on a non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

Jerry, aged 6 months, has blue eyes and light hair and weighs 20 pounds. He is really one of the cutest babies the senior Home Ecs have had to practice on for quite a while even if one of the girls does say he has big feet. It takes quite a baby to be left to the tender mercies of twelve inexperienced would-be baby tenders and still thrive on it, but that is what Jerry seems to be doing. The senior Home Ecs must get training some way in the proper care of babies so every year they get one of the State babies to practice on. Jerry just arrived last Thursday from Pittsfield where he was being cared for by a State mother. He expects to stay six weeks at North Hall unless the girls can't bear it to have him leave at the end of that time.

Professor Mark Bailey wants a literary man for President. George Bernard Shaw admits he is the best dramatist of the age. Therefore we nominate for President of the United States our cynical English friend because we feel that it would take someone with a hardened sense of humor to live down a political campaign in America.

"Mink" "Grandpa" Kent shyly brings a child to North Hall not without amending his action, however, by "Yes ma'm, she's not my baby!" And now all the foster mothers cluster about the cradle crooning, "It's just like heaven, it sounds like heaven—to hear a baby cry!" Who says a co-ed cannot make use of the knowledge gained in four synopated years of co-education!

"The moon belongs to everyone, and the best things in life are free."—Motto adopted by the couples who park behind A T O. She: "Must you go over all that again?"

The R.O.T.C. will pass in military review before its new officers, Capt. Albert Whitmore and Col. Harry Mitchell, on Saturday morning between the halves during the girls' hockey game. More and more the girls' hockey game is becoming a regular feature of the college sports.

It will be interesting to watch the girls take the girls to the "Chum Night" movie.

CAMPUS NOTES

Endorsement of the campaign for funds for the Memorial Gymnasium-Armory has been received from the following organizations—the Sophomore Owls, the Sophomore Eagles, the Student Senate, Scabbard and Blade, the Pan-Hellenic Council, the Track Club, the Women's Student Government Association, and a few others. This is a further demonstration of the fact that the student body is ready and willing to do all within its means to put this drive over. It is a necessary thing and its need is realized.

Everett F. Conlogue and Edward G. Kelley, both of the class of 1929, have been chosen by the University of Maine Rhodes Scholarship Committee to represent Maine in the competition for the scholarship on December 8, 1928.

Mr. Conlogue, whose home is in Portland, is majoring in Biology, and is taking the pre-medical course. Mr. Kelley is the son of Edward H. Kelley, Comptroller of the University, and is majoring in Chemistry.

The regular meeting of the Civil Club will be held on Nov. 8th at 7:00 in 14 Wingate.

The speaker will be Mr. C. D. Pollock, Consulting Engineer from New York. He will give a very complete and interesting illustrated lecture on the 'Making of Paving Stone.' He will start with the ancient stone in the Maine quarries and go up thru the steps to the finished stone.

All Civils are requested to attend.

The College 4-H Club will hold a meeting in 355 Arts and Sciences Building Tuesday evening, October 30 at 7:30. A program is being planned. Refreshments will be served.

For the benefit of Freshmen, this club consists of college men and women who, at any time in their younger days, were enrolled in the 4-H Agricultural Clubs. Freshmen (and upperclassmen) who can meet these eligibility requirements are welcome.

Professor Leonard, of the Education Department at Columbia University and an expert advisor on educational surveys, was here for a conference last week. Certain plans were made for a study of the college situation in the State of Maine with the cooperation of the other Maine colleges.

The main purpose of this survey is to determine the extent to which the present facilities for education in Maine are adequate.

Among the questions for discussion is "Does Maine need a woman's college?"

Local and National Adds At Mt. Vernon Fete

Three more houseparties were added to the list of social events on the Maine campus last week. Lambda Chi Alpha entertained on Friday night and Phi Eta Kappa an dMount Vernon held parties Saturday night.

At the Mount Vernon Jamboree Mrs. Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Youngs chaperoned. Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs. "Mac" were invited also. Frankie and his Jazz-Bitter Cronies furnished the chunes for this fevered shin-dig.

The girls chose to call it an "advertising" Party, and it was, although when one came up the walk it sounded more like a dog-pound. It was discovered later that this effect was produced by one solitary pup which Jack Lambert had tied on the porch. Jack represented "Cracker Jack" but he couldn't keep the pup part of his paraphernalia under foot all evening.

Among the "Ads" were Wrigley gums, Moxie, Spaghetti, an attractive Sun Maid Raisin, "Before and After," the Maine Campus, and what have you. Tillie Sawyer made an intriguing Planter's Peanut, figuratively speaking—while Miss Rogers, as the Campbell Soup Kid, managed to look nearly six years old. Phil Churchill advertised Bennie Sklar's latest thing in Kollege Kut Klothes—being toggled out in a swell pair of dungarees and heart rending socks. The Hula girl who so scantily represented Hawaiian Pineapple pulled through the evening.

At the Lambda Chi Alpha party Dr. and Mrs. Rice looked out for the chaperoning while Harold Lloyd's orchestra saw that there was the proper amount of music. Up the "rud" a piece at Phi Eta the next night Bunny Russell's orchestra held forth and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jenkins and Mrs. Verrill did the honors as chaperones.

Several University officers of administration and members of the faculty are speaking at the State School Convention, which is being held in Bangor Thursday and Friday. They have been assigned to different sections as follows: President Boardman, the secondary school; Dean Chase, the classical; Doctor Ellis, the English; Professor Lutes, the primary and kindergarten; and Professor Peterson, the college faculty. Professor Lutes is also addressing the alumni association of teachers at their banquet Thursday evening.

Historical Carload Tips Over; Cough Found

Last Thursday night, a blindfold cigarette test was held at Phi Gamma Delta with that eminent connoisseur of tobacco, "Gig" Gallagher, officiating. Five leading brands of cigarettes were used. They were: Lucky Strikes, Fatimas, Camels, Chesterfields, and Old Golds. Mr. Gallagher took a sip of Listerine between each trial. His comments on the various brands were as follows:

Lucky Strikes—"I guess they were burnt instead of toasted."

Fatimas—"Save the few extra cents." Camels—"Raise a hump in my throat."

Chesterfields—"Darned if I'm satisfied." Old Gold—"Smith Bros. can prepare for a rushing business."

Judging by the tenor of Mr. Gallagher's remarks, it is to be inferred that certain cigarettes are not all that Babe Ruth et al claim them to be.

November 3 Chosen As Alumnae Day By W.A.A.

The Woman's Athletic Association announces that November 3 has been chosen as Alumnae day this year. Besides being the Saturday of the Bates game this date has the added advantage of being the day when the Varsity Hockey Team will play the Posse-Nissen team on this campus.

Invitations have been sent to recent Alumnae for a luncheon to be held at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. Women members of the student body may purchase their tickets from Elizabeth Livingstone who is chairman of the committee in charge of affairs.

Dean Bean Honored At Tea By Y.W.C.A. Girls

In pleasing contrast to the cold autumn day outside, Balentine parlors, warm and softly lighted, wore a festive air at the tea given in honor of Dean Bean last Saturday afternoon. In the receiving line were Dean Bean, Alice Webster, Martha Wasgatt, Claire Callahan, Hazel Parkhurst, and Isabella Lyon. Beatrice Brynerton and Athelie Swett poured, while prominent Y.W. girls served refreshments. Faculty members, new and old, as well as students were present. Such a pleasing opportunity to become better acquainted was welcomed by all.

Phi Gamma Delta is to hold a house party Nov. 3.

Frosh Eleven Ties With Coburn In Scoreless Tilt

The freshman football team outplayed Coburn Classical Institute last Saturday, but was unable to score on them. The muddy field may have had something to do with the outcome, as the freshmen were on the 2 yd. line at one time, losing the ball when a thrust at the line failed to net the required distance for the goal.

The backfield showed lots of strength and the backs made many first downs through wide gaps opened for them by the line. The line was working well, clearing out lanes for the backs to romp thru.

An empire hung on that strap

THE hitch must be right, the pack must be tight. On details such as that hung the attainment of the day's goal and the final success of the expedition.

Lewis and Clark, first Americans to cross the continent, knew the importance of "trifles" in the concerted plan. They saw to it that their equipment was right, they supervised every step from man-power to pack-horsepower, they applied sure knowledge and constant vigilance to their task.

Today's leaders in business have the same point of view.

Maine Frosh To Tackle N.H. At Durham Sat.

The Maine Frosh face the New Hampshire Frosh at Durham this Saturday and it will be the hardest game of the season. The freshmen have a hard fighting club this fall with a wealth of good material that will push the varsity for their positions next year.

The Yearlings have not been scored upon this year but they lack the scoring punch as was shown in the game against Coburn. If they play as steady, fighting football at Durham as the varsity did they will surely bring home the bacon.

Captain Jansonis received a bad injury that may keep him out of the Wildcat Junior game but there is a chance that he will be in condition to play. He is one of the outstanding backs on the team, both offensively and defensively and his loss would be keenly felt. Libby also was injured in the Coburn game. It is very doubtful if he can get in condition by Saturday as he has a very bad ankle. He is one of the strong linemen and will be sorely missed.

defense. Palmer has played the whole of the first three games this year while Hickson has had only the experience of the New Hampshire game.

The rest of the line is in perfect condition for the Series with Vail and Davis holding down the guard berths, Black at left end, Horne at left tackle and with Old Reliable Zakarian at center.

Secret practices will be the rule for the next three weeks with students even having to do the Human Fly act to see the team at work. Maine's bewildering plays must be kept secret if they are to be effective. Coach Brice has given the team new plays this week, including several long passes. It is expected that Bates will rely to a considerable extent on a passing game so Coach Brice is drilling the boys in the art of throwing and breaking up passes. Lindbergh will have nothing on the pigskin that is used Saturday if all indications pan out.

The Maine Outing Club will hold a business meeting this evening at 6:45 in 17 Winslow. Plans will be discussed for a baked bean supper and social to be held in Old Town within several weeks. Arrangements for a gym dance the first of the year will be considered also.

it is very unlikely that that type of student could be found in my classes in mathematics. General conditions in the academic world now show clearly that "Our American colleges have grown up." (What The Colleges Are Doing.) The seriousness with which academic work is being done today is shown by the rapidly increasing numbers in our graduate schools and by the greater stress upon academic work in undergraduate activities. In outlining our courses in mathematics we indicate the lower boundary of the maximum work. There is no upper boundary. This gives opportunity for the best students to work to their full capacity and secure a percentage of return benefits equivalent to that of the poor students who draw so heavily upon the time and attention of the instructor. Furthermore, admission requirements so regulate the type of students that it is unusual to find one who can do more than cross a little beyond the lower boundary of the region known as the maximum in a course in mathematics."

Professor N. R. Bryan

Mr. Fassett of the English Department writes:

"The course crabber is one who tries, maliciously, by quibbling over small points, by mean subterfuges, to make a course difficult and unpleasant for all concerned save himself; he has too much ego in his cosmos."

"To apply this name, with its connotations, to one who, because of genuine interest in a subject, because of the true intellectual curiosity which is the finest attribute of humankind, asks questions, offers suggestions, states opinions in an honest effort to get at the truth of things, seems to me to be the weak refuge of a lazy mind."

Chum Night At Strand Free For Some Coeds

At last the woman gets by without paying. Coeds take notice!

Mr. A. L. Goldsmith, manager of the Strand Theater, Orono, is offering a treat to the coeds of the University and other women in this vicinity. Tomorrow evening, Oct. 6, is to be "Chum Night". This new feature allows the girl to go free while her male escort pays the thirty-five cents. The gentleman who goes alone also pays the thirty-five. This is not a stag party.

To make this night a success an appropriate picture has been secured. "Two Lovers" with Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky, a great movie for all and one of the big specials of the season, will be presented. This picture has been showing at top prices at the Embassy Theatre in New York and is one which should interest not only students but faculty members.

Hoover and Smith Find More Willing Supporters

tional nature arise. His work in the cabinet has been of a uniformly high character. He is trusted by the American people. I think Hoover will give us a better enforcement of the laws against the use of liquor. We may not think that the laws are now well enforced but there is no comparison between conditions now with what they were before prohibition went into effect. Smith would make matters worse not better. We are on the right track now and to gain anything must keep on that track.

A. L. Fitch

Kueny Favors Smith

For the past fifteen years I have been trying to find a difference between the Democrats and the Republicans. I have been unable to find any difference worth while. Even the old time members of both parties do not seem to know the difference, since they are jumping from one to the other. Therefore it has come to a race between two men, and at times it reminds me of baseball—the American and National leagues. Which is going to win?

The Republican Party, altho not so numerically inferior in the legislative, has had of late the greater majority in elections for the executive, and the public eye has been focused on it more than on the other. The Republican Party has the happenings of President Harding's administration against it, for which it should be penalized. Therefore, I'm going to vote for Smith for president.

However, since everybody believes in government by parties I would like to vote for Senator Curtis for vice-president so that he could watch the other party.

F. J. Kueny.

Bates President Would Cut Down Examinations

by taking a course, cramming to pass the final exams and promptly forgetting it. "There is no education which is not self education," Dr. Gray emphatically stated. "The thing you get out of education is what you put into it just as the zest you get out of life is what you put into it. To have an ideal situation, credits, semester hours, quality points and such things should be given up and there should be exams given only at the end of the sophomore and senior years. These should be given by external professors so that the students would not have an idea what the professor would ask. In this way one could find out how much quantitative education the student had acquired."

Saturday, between the halves of the Bates-Maine football game, the trials of the interclass relay races will be run. There are ten men on each team and each man runs 220 yards. The Seniors race the Sophomores and the Juniors race the Freshmen. The two winners will compete in the finals next Saturday, Nov. 3, the members of the winning team being awarded class numerals. "Win" Niles is captain of the Seniors; "Bucky" Berenson of the Juniors; "Ray" White of the Sophs; Ashworth of the Frosh.

Black Grabs Blocklinger's Short Pass in Last Few Minutes of Play

In the second period Coltart intercepted a pass on his own 37 yard line and Maine proceeded to march the ball down among the deepening shadows of the Wildcat sanctuary. Airolldi made four, Noddin one and a pass from Noddin to Airolldi netted 30 yards. Airolldi plunged through ten yards for a first down and Noddin matched it with a duplicate play. Moran and Airolldi carried the ball in three plunges to the one yard line, where Coltart tried a quarterback sneak that almost went over but the officials said no. Shea quickly punted out of danger. Airolldi fumbled on the next play and New Hampshire recovered. They pushed the ball well into Maine territory but they punted over the goal line when the line stiffened. Maine tried long forward passes in an attempt to score but the half ended as Shea intercepted a pass.

Small made a poor kick off to Maine at the opening of the second half and Black ran the ball to the 33 yard line. Noddin and Coltart made it a first down and Airolldi and Moran made it another but a 15 yard penalty for holding forced Maine to punt. Small kicked to the Maine 14 yard line with the help of the wind. Noddin booted back to the 398 yard line. Nelson made five and it looked as though the Wildcats would carry the ball to the goal but a 15 yard penalty put a crimp in their effort. Here Small made the longest run of the day from scrimmage, a 22 yard run but the next play was a completed pass that just fell short of the distance. Maine booted out and took the ball away from New Hampshire on downs. Blocklinger relieved Noddin at this point and he made three yards on the first play and threw a pass to Moran for 15 yards and another to Airolldi for 34 but several incomplete passes gave the ball to New Hampshire. Both teams opened an air attack that was intercepted and incomplete with regularity but Maine finally got the ball on downs on the New Hampshire 40 yard line. Airolldi plunged through for 2 and Blocklinger 6. Moran passed to Black for 8 and then Jack crashed through the line for the second first down. Here came the prettiest play of all when Black took a pass back of the line of scrimmage from Blocklinger and ran around right end, shaking off four tacklers and with perfect interference ran 20 yards to the line and fell into the end zone as he was tackled from behind, giving Maine 6 points, and Mike added another with a dropkick. With but a minute to play Maine kicked to New Hampshire and Small carried the ball back 40 yards before he could be downed. Kelly tossed a 20 yard pass to Regali and Small made 8 yards off tackle but the next play was an incomplete pass and the whistle ended their valiant effort to tie the score.

"Not a cough in a Film-ful" says Norma Talmadge after the Blindfold Test

"When you see my new United Artists' picture, 'The Woman Disputed,' you will notice that I smoke cigarettes in several scenes.

"Not wanting to show partiality to any one of the four leading brands, I decided to make my choice via the blindfold test, which I had heard of many times. Happily, I picked Old Golds.

"I found them smooth, mild and delightfully cool. . . . Hereafter, when I am required to smoke I shall naturally insist on Old Golds. There's not a cough in a film-ful!"

the last game of the season.

Coach Brice sent the squad through a short scrimmage on Wednesday afternoon and the team looked especially good on passes. Black caught several 25 and 30 yard passes from Abbott and Moran that would have resulted in touchdowns if worked in a real game. Maine should have a big day in the air if the field is in good condition.

Captain Buzzell, Mike Coltart, Rip
Black, Sam Gray, John Lynch, George Noddin and Jack LaPlant will be playing their last game for Maine and will be going at top form. The eyes of the State will be turned on the Maine performers as this game just about decides several All-Maine berths.

Maine's lineup will probably be about the same as the last two games although Sam Gray and Bill Gowell may get the starting tackle assignments over Horne and Lynch. These four huskies can stand with the best of them and would strengthen any club.

Colby Game

Playing under conditions which were not made for football, the Colby football team held the Maine gridders to a scoreless deadlock in an ocean of squally quagmire, normally known as Alumni Field, Orono, last Saturday. The prayers of the Colby team were answered in full while the Maine hopes were blasted into a thousand parts as the Maine offense is built upon speed, deception and passing. Even with a decided advantage in punting Colby failed to score although they made several close attempts. Maine was completely tied up by the weather man and although they threatened Colby's goal line three times they could not score.

The game was long drawn out from the frequent drying of the ball and it was a dreary, colorless contest with few flashes of brilliant playing as neither team could play real football. The periods of the last half were shortened to 10 minutes so the game could be finished in time for supper.

Captain Buzzell could not get his usual dazzling end runs started because of the sloshy footing but he did get away for a couple of long gains and a 15 yard pass

been seen at Orono this fall.

Maine made 12 first downs and Colby made 8, although in the second half Colby could not make one. Colby rushed the Bear performers off their feet in the first period and Maine did the same, with many of them, in the third quarter. The

Frosh Eleven Defeats E.M.C.S.; Closes Season

The Maine Frosh proved themselves to be able seamen in the last game of their season by pulling through with a 6 to 0 victory over the husky team from E.M.
C.S. on the soaked Alumni Field in the middle of a pouring rain here last Saturday morning. Neither team could play good ball because of the soggy footing.
Both teams lost chances to score by costly fumbles of the slippery ball.

The Freshmen fumbled twice on the 5 yard line on what should have been touchdowns if the ground was dry. Sims, Riley and Rumazza tore off long gains while Fickett and Robins stood out in the line for the Frosh. Powell, and Connelly were consistent ground gainers for E.M.C.S. while the work of Bing Connelly at tackle was strong.

Bill Kenyon started most of the second string men who made a good showing but the first team was put in the game before the end of the period. Neither team could get the advantage in this period, both punting and fumbling frequently. In the second quarter Sims made a 30 yard run and Riley made another of 20 yards that paved the way for Sims to plunge the ball across the line. In the last half Riley got loose for a 40 yard run but was pulled down on the 10 yard line where the Yearlings fumbled the ball.
Edwards of E.M.C.S., the dusky flash, made a run of 30 yards which almost resulted in a score but Jasonis pulled him down from behind.

Both teams had much potential strength that was kept in leash by the poor field although the E.M.C.S. line was very rugged it did not make such a good showing as the 1932 line.

Committee Comes Through at Eleventh Hour To Put New Gym Drive Over Top

$25,000 Fund Raised After Solicitors Engage In Squeezing Battle With Students

When the clouds were hanging low and the outlook not very rosy, 48 team captains and their solicitors together with the student Memorial Fund committee members firmly resolved at one o'clock Friday to put the job across before seven o'clock that night—And they did—by securing over $4,000 additional subscriptions, making a total slightly in excess of $25,000. All who attended Maine Night already know the unusual manner in which the announcement was made.

Because of the accumulation of work in the Alumni Office immediately preceding and during the student Memorial Fund Campaign it has been impossible to check carefully the subscriptions and publish a revised statement of the total contributed as well as the corrected list of team and individual subscriptions. This will be done however and as early as possible a final announcement made in a regular or special edition of the Campus.

To the Student Senate goes much of the credit for making possible the attainment

Jenkins, and Hartley.

The Maine band furnished music. A clever announcement of the result of the Memorial Gym Campaign was carried out by Bob Parks and Edda Bailey. A monster bonfire was ignited—one of the best ever seen on Maine Night.

Parties at the various fraternity houses and dances in Orono and Bangor completed the evening's entertainment.

The Inter-class Cross Country Run, held yesterday over the three mile Freshman course, resulted in a win for the Juniors. As in the Pumpkin Meet, the Freshmen placed second. The Seniors were third and the Sophomores last.

of the goal. That organization pledged itself to raise any amount up to $1000.
It will not be necessary for the senate to raise the entire amount.

Several fraternities, both men's and women's, are within two or three of 100 per cent subscribers. It is hoped that every fraternity will fall into line for 100% before the final corrected list is published in the Campus and in the Alumnus.

Three organizations have subscribed to the campaign. Alpha Zeta, the honorary agricultural fraternity was the first by bringing in a check for $25. Next, the Maine Masque signed up for $50, and Kappa Gamma Phi, the honorary journalistic society, subscribed $25. Other organizations will be approached.

Also, it is expected that every student who failed to subscribe will be given an opportunity to come thru with some contribution even tho it is small and make it a 100% campaign.

Frosh Hockey Squad Wins Twice By 3-2 Tally

The freshman hockey team cut another notch, the deepest of all, in their hockey sticks when they took over Bangor High at Broadway Park in Bangor Tuesday afternoon with a score of 3-2. This is the first time in six years that a Maine freshman team has defeated Bangor High.

The game was fast and furious all the way, with the ball mostly in Maine's territory. Time and time again Captain "Spud" Churchill of the "pale blue" tore loose and broke through the opposing backs with the ball. Lewis and Findlen showed up well, each with a goal to her credit. Had it not been for Maine's cen-terhalf, "Stubby" Burrell, Bangor would have scored many times.

In the second half Bangor began a short spurt of good teamwork and passing, and secured her only two points of the game. As a whole, however, her spirit of cooperation was inferior to that of the Maine outfit.

A set of signals, the first to be used by the Freshman team, were tried out, and proved profitable to them. Maine had an advantage in having on her squad "Polly" McCready, "Stubby" Burrell, and
"Kay" Trickey, former Bangor high hockey stars, who were familiar with the Bangor style of hockey.

The Bangor team was a worthwhile opponent, and it was a hard fight to defeat them.

A statement granting a five day recess at Thanksgiving this year was issued by President Boardman through the president of the Student Senate Wednesday evening.
In order to make this change in the calendar it will be necessary to cut two days from the Christmas recess, and also make Washington's Birthday a regular class day.

This decision was reached after each house and dorm on campus had the opportunity to vote on the question. This vote resulted in a victory for the new vacation plan by an 11-8 majority. Many organizations opposed the plan on the grounds that they lived a great distance from the campus, and the shortening of the Christmas vacation would be an inconvenience to them.

The new plan states that classes will close Wednesday at 5:05 p.m. and resume Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. The change is the result of action taken by the Student Senate, which brought the matter before the Board of Administration stressing the fact that it was the popular wish of the majority of the student body that the recess be lengthened. The board turned the matter over to the president with power. Mr. Boardman suggested a referendum among the students, and after this was held and the change was favored by the majority the president issued the statement allowing the prolonged recess.

This plan will also hold for next year, except that but one day will be taken from the Christmas recess. Armistice day will be made a regular class day to fill out the other day. The annual R.O.
T.C. Parade will be abolished. The Thanksgiving recess will begin Wednesday noon next year instead of Wednesday night.

The correspondence between President
Boardman and the Student Senate follows:

President Harold S. Boardman
University of Maine
Dear Sir:

The University of Maine Student Body for several years has desired a real week-end holiday at Thanksgiving. Its representative body, the Men's Student Senate, has not in the past taken seasonable action on the matter, nor presented a sensible solution of the problem. The present Student Senate feels that the entire Student Body should not be made to suffer further for the past negligence of its former representatives. Therefore, after careful investigation and consideration of the whole problem, after consultations with members of both the Student Body and Faculty, the present Senate earnestly offers for your approval the following plan:

That there shall be declared for 1928-29 a Thanksgiving holiday from Thursday, November 29, to Monday, December 3, inclusive; that, in exchange for the enlargement of the present holiday, Wednesday, December 18, and Washington's Birthday, Friday, February 22, be made days of regular class attendance; and, if in your opinion this plan is not a suitable one, you will make some arrangement which to you appears more satisfactory.

Respectfully yours,
Versal Robey,
Pres. Student Senate

Mr. Versal Robey
President, Student Senate
University of Maine,
Orono, Maine
My dear Mr. Robey:

The petition of the Student Senate relative to an extension of the Thanksgiving recess has received serious consideration. In discussing your proposal with the Committee on Administration, attention was called to the fact that although the offset which you propose comes within one-half day of meeting the total time requested, it will not form an offset for the work of the present semester. You of course appreciate the fact that your petition should have been presented before the calendar was made up and before the various departments had planned their work.

There are also two other features which should receive serious consideration by you. The student pays his money and

Maine Frosh To Tackle N.H. At Durham Sat.

The Maine Frosh face the New Hampshire Frosh at Durham this Saturday and it will be the hardest game of the season. The freshmen have a hard fighting club this fall with a wealth of good material that will push the varsity for their positions next year.

The Yearlings have not been scored upon this year but they lack the scoring punch as was shown in the game against Coburn. If they play as steady, fighting football at Durham as the varsity did they will surely bring home the bacon.

Captain Jasonis received a bad injury that may keep him out of the Wildcat Junior game but there is a chance that he will be in condition to play. He is one of the outstanding backs on the team, both offensively and defensively and his loss would be keenly felt. Libby also was injured in the Coburn game. It is very doubtful if he can get in condition by Saturday as he has a very bad ankle. He is one of the strong linemen and will be sorely missed.

NOTICE

All first year students, including freshman and first year special students, who have not received official permission from the Senior Skulls to be exempt from freshman rules, are ordered to abide by the traditional rules until excused.

In the high school class there are representatives of seven schools: Brew High, Danforth High, Deering High, Freeport High, and Hartland Academy with full teams. Madison High has 10 men entered, and Washington Academy has one.

Friday noon, the teams will be given banquet in Alumni Hall.

Maine Opens State Series With Bates

Palmer has played the whole of the first three games this year while Hickson has had only the experience of the New Hampshire game.

The rest of the line is in perfect condition for the Series with Vail and Day holding down the guard berths, Black left end, Horne at left tackle and Old Reliable Zakarian at center.

Secret practices will be the rule for the next three weeks with students even having to do the Human Fly act to the team at work. Maine's bewildering plays must be kept secret if they are to be effective. Coach Brice has given the team new plays this week, including several long passes. It is expected that Bates will rely to a considerable extent on a passing game so Coach Brice, drilling the boys in the art of throwing and breaking up passes. Lindbergh will have nothing on the pigskin that is on Saturday if all indications pan out.

COACH BRICE ENDORSES CAMPAIGN FOR GYM

Editor, "The Maine Campus,"
Dear Sir:

I heartily endorse the present Student Drive for the Gymnasium-Armory. Surely there is no greater need at the present time from an athletic viewpoint than adequate dressing rooms with lockers and showers.

I believe it would stimulate greater student activity in all branches of Sport, resulting in larger squads and better competition.

My best wishes that the drive may go over the top with a real display of Maine Spirit.

Most sincerely,
Fred M. Brice,
Head Coach Football

CAPTAINS AND SOLICITORS WILL WORK FOR $8000

"It must be done" was the spirit in which the ninety team captains and solicitors left the banquet and meeting Thursday noon. They recognized that there was a tremendous job yet to be done $8,000 yet to be subscribed.

"Bob" Parks, presiding officer, first called upon Charlie O'Connor who suggested that salesmanship be applied to those who "had to be shown" pointing out some sales points in the campaign.

Prof. C. P. Weston mixed wit and humor with the serious emphasizing what solicitors must do to get results.

Alumni Secretary C. E. Crossland called upon some of the men who had been doing outstanding work as solicitors to describe their methods. They were, Bill Bixby, Phil Marsh, Herb Bates and "Mink" Kent.

Team captains meet again tomorrow noon at one o'clock in Coburn Hall.

51% OF STUDENT BODY SUBSCRIBED UP TO WED. EVE.

According to the tabulation Wednesday night only about 51% of the students had subscribed, the average being slightly above 20 dollars each. On this basis 500 more subscriptions of the suggested minimum must be secured.

Thanks to one generous subscription the Beta Theta Pi fraternity leads in average subscription with the Kappa Sigma next and Phi Mu Delta a very close third, all over $30 for each subscriber. On a percentage of members subscribed the Phi Kappa Sigma boys are well out in front followed by the Lambda Chi and Phi Eta Kappa.

THURSDAY ASSEMBLY

Another special assembly was held in the Chapel this morning. Bob Parks acted as chairman and opened the meeting by saying that $16,000 has been pledged, and that Phi Kappa Sigma was the first fraternity to subscribe 100%.

President Boardman delivered one of the best addresses he has ever given on the campus. He said that this drive is not a drive for the faculty, administration or trustees, but that this does not mean that these bodies are not behind it. In fact they are all interested in seeing it put across. President Boardman continued by saying that there would be no attempt to compel any person to give, but if the students wanted the drive to be a success they should give. "Each student should ask himself 'am I willing to sacrifice a part of my good time for this cause?'" the speaker said. He pointed out the fact that the news that the drive is a success will be a big help in starting the alumni again. If it fails, however, the alumni will feel that the situation is lukewarm.

President Boardman then told a story about a Maine alumnus who gave more than his share in the Alumni drive. He said that the students were not being asked to give until it hurts. The alumnus gave because he loved Maine. "How much do the students love Maine?" President Boardman asked in closing.

Stanley Wallace, the next speaker said "We need the gym. We must give until we get it—faculty-students-alumni and all."

Dean Achsa Bean praised the women's average and said she hoped that it would stay high.

Mike Coltart said that the fact cannot be stressed too strongly that what the students give will impress the alumni and will result in fast or slow action on their part.

FROM COLBY

In Wednesday's issue of the Colby Echo plans for a drive for a new gym at that college are announced. Maybe we have started some competition. What will Colby think if we fail to reach our goal? We must not fail! Ed.

We've got to work together as a team, EVERY LAST ONE OF US, and ONLY as a TEAM will we succeed.

in the girls fraternities, the former in average subscription and the latter by having 17 of its 19 members already signed on the dotted line.

It is hoped that in time for the regular issue of the Campus tomorrow that several fraternities will have made a perfect score.

well as the All-Maine women, Senior Skulls, and the present coaching staff. New photographs of Balentine and Hannibal Hamlin Hall complete the calendar. The work inside the cover is done in blue ink, which is also a new idea.

The calendars are on exhibition at the University Store and may be bought there or from the Skulls or All-Maine Women. The price is fifty cents. Five hundred copies were printed and they are selling fast. The calendars are not only useful to students and faculty but make splendid Christmas presents for friends and relatives.

Committee Comes Through at Eleventh Hour To Put New Gym Drive Over Top $25,000 Fund Raised After Solicitors Engage In Squeezing Battle With Students

When the clouds were hanging low and the outlook not very rosy, 48 team captains and their solicitors together with the student Memorial Fund committee members firmly resolved at one o'clock Friday to put the job across before seven o'clock that night—And they did—by securing over $4,000 additional subscriptions, making a total slightly in excess of $25,000. All who attended Maine Night already know the unusual manner in which the announcement was made.

Because of the accumulation of work in the Alumni Office immediately preceding and during the student Memorial Fund Campaign it has been impossible to check carefully the subscriptions and publish a revised statement of the total contributed as well as the corrected list of team and individual subscriptions. This will be done however and as early as possible a final announcement made in a regular or special edition of the Campus. To the Student Senate goes much of the credit for making possible the attainment

Jenkins, and Hartley.

The Maine band furnished music. A clever announcement of the result of the Memorial Gym Campaign was carried out by Bob Parks and Edda Bailey. A monster bonfire was ignited—one of the best ever seen on Maine Night.

Parties at the various fraternity houses and dances in Orono and Bangor completed the evening's entertainment.

The Inter-class Cross Country Run, held yesterday over the three mile Freshman course, resulted in a win for the Juniors. As in the Pumpkin Meet, the Freshmen placed second. The Seniors were third and the Sophomores last.

of the goal. That organization pledged itself to raise any amount up to $1000. It will not be necessary for the senate to raise the entire amount.

Several fraternities, both men's and women's, are within two or three of 100 per cent subscribers. It is hoped that every fraternity will fall into line for 100% before the final corrected list is published in the Campus and in the Alumni.

Three organizations have subscribed to the campaign. Alpha Zeta, the honorary agricultural fraternity was the first by bringing in a check for $25. Next, the Maine Masque signed up for $50, and Kappa Gamma Phi, the honorary journalistic society, subscribed $25. Other organizations will be approached.

Also, it is expected that every student who failed to subscribe will be given an opportunity to come thru with some contribution even tho it is small and make it a 100% campaign.

laine Runners Victors Over Bates Harriers

Maine's great cross country team scored a easy victory over the Bates team, 17-44, Friday, Nov. 2, on Alumni Field. Coach Jenkins withheld Capt. Macaughton from the race, not wishing to ke any unnecessary chances with Macaughton's sore leg.

HARRY RICHARDSON

Lindsay and Richardson, as in every meet this year, were again the individual leaders. They finished a quarter of a mile ahead of the next two men, Brooks and Caler of Maine.

Two Bates men were the next finishers, then came three more Maine men.

Summary:

1, Tie, Lindsay M, Richardson M; 3, Tie, Brooks M, Caler M; 5, Hobbs B; 6, Capt. Chesley B; 7, Mank M; 8, Stanley M; 9, Stinson M; 10, Jones B.

Frosh Hockey Squad Wins Twice By 3-2 Tally

The freshman hockey team cut another notch, the deepest of all, in their hockey sticks when they took over Bangor High at Broadway Park in Bangor Tuesday afternoon with a score of 3-2. This is the first time in six years that a Maine freshman team has defeated Bangor High.

The game was fast and furious all the way, with the ball mostly in Maine's territory. Time and time again Captain "Spud" Churchill of the "pale blue" tore loose and broke through the opposing backs with the ball. Lewis and Findlen showed up well, each with a goal to her credit. Had it not been for Maine's centerhalf, "Stubby" Burrell, Bangor would have scored many times.

In the second half Bangor began a short spurt of good teamwork and passing, and secured her only two points of the game. As a whole, however, her spirit of cooperation was inferior to that of the Maine outfit.

A set of signals, the first to be used by the Freshman team, were tried out, and proved profitable to them. Maine had an advantage in having on her squad "Polly" McCready, "Stubby" Burrell, and "Kay" Trickey, former Bangor high hockey stars, who were familiar with the Bangor style of hockey.

The Bangor team was a worthwhile opponent, and it was a hard fight to defeat them.

A statement granting a five day recess at Thanksgiving this year was issued by President Boardman through the president of the Student Senate Wednesday evening. In order to make this change in the calendar it will be necessary to cut two days from the Christmas recess, and also make Washington's Birthday a regular class day.

This decision was reached after each house and dorm on campus had the opportunity to vote on the question. This vote resulted in a victory for the new vacation plan by an 11-8 majority. Many organizations opposed the plan on the grounds that they lived a great distance from the campus, and the shortening of the Christmas vacation would be an inconvenience to them.

The new plan states that classes will close Wednesday at 5:05 p.m. and resume Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. The change is the result of action taken by the Student Senate, which brought the matter before the Board of Administration stressing the fact that it was the popular wish of the majority of the student body that the recess be lengthened. The board turned the matter over to the president with power. Mr. Boardman suggested a referendum among the students, and after this was held and the change was favored by the majority the president issued the statement allowing the prolonged recess.

This plan will also hold for next year, except that but one day will be taken from the Christmas recess. Armistice day will be made a regular class day to fill out the other day. The annual R.O. T.C. Parade will be abolished. The Thanksgiving recess will begin Wednesday noon next year instead of Wednesday night.

The correspondence between President Boardman and the Student Senate follows:

President Harold S. Boardman
University of Maine
Dear Sir:

The University of Maine Student Body for several years has desired a real week-end holiday at Thanksgiving. Its representative body, the Men's Student Senate, has not in the past taken seasonable action on the matter, nor presented a sensible solution of the problem. The present Student Senate feels that the entire Student Body should not be made to suffer further for the past negligence of its former representatives. Therefore, after careful investigation and consideration of the whole problem, after consultations with members of both the Student Body and Faculty, the present Senate earnestly offers for your approval the following plan:

That there shall be declared for 1928-29 a Thanksgiving holiday from Thursday, November 29, to Monday, December 3, inclusive; that, in exchange for the enlargement of the present holiday, Wednesday, December 18, and Washington's Birthday, Friday, February 22, be made days of regular class attendance; and, if in your opinion this plan is not a suitable one, you will make some arrangement which to you appears more satisfactory.

Respectfully yours,
Versal Robey,

Pres. Student Senate

Mr. Versal Robey
President, Student Senate
University of Maine,
Orono, Maine
My dear Mr. Robey:

The petition of the Student Senate relative to an extension of the Thanksgiving recess has received serious consideration. In discussing your proposal with the Committee on Administration, attention was called to the fact that although the offset which you propose comes within one-half day of meeting the total time requested, it will not form an offset for the work of the present semester. You of course appreciate the fact that your petition should have been presented before the calendar was made up and before the various departments had planned their work.

There are also two other features which should receive serious consideration by you. The student pays his money and (Continued on Page Four)

the last game of the season.

Coach Brice sent the squad through a short scrimmage on Wednesday afternoon and the team looked especially good on passes. Black caught several 25 and 30 yard passes from Abbott and Moran that would have resulted in touchdowns if worked in a real game. Maine should have a big day in the air if the field is in good condition.

Captain Buzzell, Mike Coltart, Rip Black, Sam Gray, John Lynch, George Noddin and Jack LaPlant will be playing their last game for Maine and will be going at top form. The eyes of the State will be turned on the Maine performers as this game just about decides several All-Maine berths.

Maine's lineup will probably be about the same as the last two games although Sam Gray and Bill Gowell may get the starting tackle assignments over Horne and Lynch. These four huskies can stand with the best of them and would strengthen any club.

Colby Game

Playing under conditions which were not made for football, the Colby football team held the Maine gridders to a scoreless deadlock in an ocean of squishy quagmire, normally known as Alumni Field, Orono, last Saturday. The prayers of the Colby team were answered in full while the Maine hopes were blasted into a thousand parts as the Maine offense is built upon speed, deception and passing. Even with a decided advantage in punting Colby failed to score although they made several close attempts. Maine was completely tied up by the weather man and although they threatened Colby's goal line three times they could not score.

The game was long drawn out from the frequent drying of the ball and it was a dreary, colorless contest with few flashes of brilliant playing as neither team could play real football. The periods of the last half were shortened to 10 minutes so the game could be finished in time for supper.

Captain Buzzell could not get his usual dazzling end runs started because of the sloshy footing but he did get away for a couple of long gains and a 15 yard pass

been seen at Orono this fall.

Maine made 12 first downs and Colby made 8, although in the second half Colby could not make one. Colby rushed the Bear performers off their feet in the first period and Maine did the same, with many of them, in the third quarter. The (Continued on Page Four)

Frosh Eleven Defeats E.M.C.S.; Closes Season

The Maine Frosh proved themselves to be able seamen in the last game of their season by pulling through with a 6 to 0 victory over the husky team from E.M.C.S. on the soaked Alumni Field in the middle of a pouring rain here last Saturday morning. Neither team could play good ball because of the soggy footing. Both teams lost chances to score by costly fumbles of the slippery ball.

The Freshmen fumbled twice on the 5 yard line on what should have been touchdowns if the ground was dry. Sims, Riley and Rumazza tore off long gains while Fickett and Robins stood out in the line for the Frosh. Powell, and Connelly were consistent ground gainers for E.M.C.S. while the work of Bing Connolly at tackle was strong.

Bill Kenyon started most of the second string men who made a good showing but the first team was put in the game before the end of the period. Neither team could get the advantage in this period, both punting and fumbling frequently. In the second quarter Sims made a 30 yard run and Riley made another of 20 yards that paved the way for Sims to plunge the ball across the line. In the last half Riley got loose for a 40 yard run but was pulled down on the 10 yard line where the Yearlings fumbled the ball. Edwards of E.M.C.S., the dusky flash, made a run of 30 yards which almost resulted in a score but Jasonis pulled him down from behind.

Both teams had much potential strength that was kept in leash by the poor field although the E.M.C.S. line was very rugged it did not make such a good showing as the 1932 line.

Maine Frosh To Tackle N.H. At Durham Sat.

The Maine Frosh face the New Hampshire Frosh at Durham this Saturday and it will be the hardest game of the season. The freshmen have a hard fighting club this fall with a wealth of good material that will push the varsity for their positions next year.

The Yearlings have not been scored upon this year but they lack the scoring punch as was shown in the game against Coburn. If they play as steady, fighting football at Durham as the varsity did they will surely bring home the bacon.

Captain Jasonis received a bad injury that may keep him out of the Wildcat Junior game but there is a chance that he will be in condition to play. He is one of the outstanding backs on the team, both offensively and defensively and his loss would be keenly felt. Libby also was injured in the Coburn game. It is very doubtful if he can get in condition by Saturday as he has a very bad ankle. He is one of the strong linemen and will be sorely missed.

All first year students, including freshman and first year special students, who have not received official permission from the Senior Skulls to be exempt from freshman rules, are ordered to abide by the traditional rules until excused.

Maine Opens State Series With Bates

Palmer has played the whole of the first three games this year while Hickson has had only the experience of the New Hampshire game.

The rest of the line is in perfect condition for the Series with Vail and Da holding down the guard berths, Black left end, Horne at left tackle and Old Reliable Zakarian at center.

Secret practices will be the rule for the next three weeks with students even having to do the Human Fly act to the team at work. Maine's bewildering plays must be kept secret if they are to be effective. Coach Brice has given the team new plays this week, including several long passes. It is expected that Bates will rely to a considerable extent on a passing game so Coach Brice, drilling the boys in the art of throwing and breaking up passes. Lindbergh will have nothing on the pigskin that is us Saturday if all indications pan out.
