Five Day Thanksgiving Recess This Year

According to a statement by President Boardman to the Campus this week there has been such a small amount of organized protest against the Thanksgiving Holidays plan that the five day recess announced last week will be in order. The vacation, then, will start on Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 5:00 P.M. and will close on the following Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. The plan for next year will be the same as was announced in last week's Campus.

Since President Boardman left this noon on a trip which will prevent his return until the day before Thanksgiving, and since two deans will be away and the other deans will not act on the matter, there will be no more consideration given to the subject.

The Student Senate reported to President Boardman that a majority had voted to accept the proposition. Since the Senate is a representative body of the Institution, he accepted its statement and directed that the extension of the Thanksgiving recess be given accordingly. In so doing he attempted to do what the students desire and to the best of his knowledge and belief from the data which he had, a majority desired the holiday.

Maine Cross Country Team Will Enter N.E. and National Meets Handicapped Captain MacNaughton and Richardson Are Recovering From Injuries; Death of Sister Will Keep Caler Out of New Englands and Maybe Nationals Light Blue Contenders Expect To Meet Strong Opposition

"Old Man Hard Luck" seems to be firmly entrenched on the trail of Maine's Cross Country Team. MacNaughton and Richardson are a bit under the weather, and the absence of Caler will be felt.

Captain MacNaughton's sore leg is not rounding into shape as fast as was hoped for. In addition to this, he was forced to see a doctor about a slight case of pleurisy he has developed. Even if MacNaughton competes in the New Englands this coming Monday, he will not be in the best of shape. Richardson is inconvenienced by a sore heel which was spiked in a workout the other day.

Caler, who has fast developed into one of the mainstays of the team, will not be able to compete in the New Englands anyway, and probably not in the Nationals the following week. He was called suddenly home by the death of his sister.

From data on hand, it appears that there are many strong teams entered in Monday's race. New Hampshire University probably offers the strongest competition. Although beaten by Maine in a dual meet earlier in the season, she has come along fast, and with the experience gained from the five meets she has participated in this year she should place well up. In a recent meet, New Hampshire was returned the victor over Harvard, thereby gaining her a world of confidence.

M.I.T. although not a well balanced team, has two or three exceptionally good men. Foremost of these is Thorsen who has placed first in every meet in which he has participated in this year, including the New Hampshire meet. Kirwin is another able contender. Last year he finished among the first ten in the Nationals.

Williams has another good team this year. Recently they beat Wesleyan, a strong exponent of cross country racing.

BUZZELL AND ZAKARIAN WIN PERRY'S PRIZES

At the beginning of the football season Mr. Perry of Perry's Confectionery Store offered to give two prizes of ten dollars in gold each to the backfield man and line-man on the Maine team who made the best showing during the season. Three judges, including Mr. Perry, after watching the games in all the State Series games, home games and practice sessions decided that Jim Buzzell was the outstanding backfield man and Zak Zakarian the best linesman. The two men will receive their prizes this week-end.

New Rules To Govern Elections This Year All Groups On Campus To Vote On Plan Before Final Acceptance

Following are the rules and regulations for class elections which will govern the contests this year.

The plan—
The present temporary plan is the result of suggestions made by the Administration Board and the Student Senate. Before being finally accepted it is to be presented to each group which is authorized a delegation for nominations. These groups have the privilege of making suggestions, of additions and subtractions, which will be taken up by the Student Senate for approval, after which the final draft will be submitted to the Administrative Board for acceptance.

Varsity Hockey Team Makes Three Day Trip

Eight senior girls will play their last hockey games on the Maine varsity team's three day trip to Massachusetts and Connecticut. They are Capt. Mary Robinson, Beulah Kneeland, Alice Webster, Caroline Collins, Mary Mahoney, Arline Robbins, Jessie Ashworth and "Kay" Marvin. The Maine team plays Jackson College at Medford on Friday and the Connecticut Aggies at Storrs Saturday. They will also have the opportunity to witness a game between the English hockey team and Wellesley College at Wellesley.

The team is in good condition, and there is every prospect that they will continue their winning streak of the past few years. Sylvia Gould, center half, and Arlene Robbins, left inner, who have been out for some time on account of illness will make the trip. They will be able to play perhaps one half in a game, but are not strong enough to last the whole game.

The game with Jackson is played at Medford Friday afternoon. Jackson has a strong team, and although Maine has defeated them for the last two years, they find it necessary to put forth their best efforts to do so.

Connecticut is Maine's oldest rival, and this game is always a hard fight. For three years Maine has been victorious over them. The field at Connecticut may be muddy, but the blue eleven has no fear of mud for they have been wallowing in inches of it on their own hockey field this fall.

Committee Probing Frosh Rules Reports Group Favors Shortening Time For Restricting Privileges Of Yearlings

The newly organized Committee for the Investigation of Freshman Rules met for the first time Tuesday evening of this week. This group sponsored by the Student Senate, as announced in the last issue of the Campus, has undertaken a complete investigation of the existing Freshman rules with the objective of offering, after deserving consideration, such reforms as may tend to better the present system.

The extent of the period of Freshman Rules received considerable discussion—the general expression of the group indicated a desire to shorten the period as administered at present. Publication of the Rules also came to the consideration of the group with the ultimate decision that a more accurate statement of them should be sought for as well as early insertion in the Campus—that considerable of the uncertainty and misunderstanding currently encountered among the freshmen might be removed. These two matters together with the incidental business of a first meeting comprised the discussion during this first session of the committee.

The Campus will publish in subsequent issues more complete statements of the workings of the Committee when thoroughly underway. Its next meeting is scheduled for November 20. The Student Senate, in sponsoring this Committee, has acted on general student sentiment that has indicated a desire for the investigation, improvement, and possible revision of the present system of Freshman Rules. It is not the desire of the Senate or the Committee to conflict or interfere with the Senior Skulls, Owls, and Eagles—but rather to foster student sentiment and to secure a proper investigation that will ultimately make for certain definite suggestions and possible reforms of the Freshman Rules and the interclass activities that will in turn be offered to the Senior Skulls for their deliberation and possible adoption.

FRANK KANALY'S SON PLACES IN BOSTON MEET

Paul Kanaly, son of former track coach Frank Kanaly, who spent several vacations here in the past few years, took second place in the N. E. championship cross country run at Boston last Saturday. Kanaly and Jimmy Hannigan, veteran distance star and Olympic marathoner, finished in a dead heat but the judges awarded first place to the latter. Newspapermen claimed that Kanaly could have defeated Hannigan with ease if he had desired to do so.

Alumni Praise Student Memorial Drive Fund

Alumni were so pleased with the recent success of the Student Memorial Fund Campaign that a resolution was passed by the Alumni Council at its regular fall meeting held last Sunday in Portland.

It was felt that this achievement and demonstration of spirit would be a challenge to alumni and urge them to raise sufficient funds to complete the Memorial at an early date.

Following is a copy of the resolution: "The Alumni Council considers that the student campaign for subscriptions to the Gymnasium Armory Memorial Fund, which was undertaken October 29—November 2, in order to help in securing the prompt completion of the Gymnasium section, was an outstanding achievement in organization and a convincing demonstration of spirit and generosity. The Council congratulates the student body on reaching the established goal of $25,000 and on behalf of the alumni expresses

Chautauqua Program Of Interest To Many

The Swarthmore Chautauqua comes on the campus today for a four-day visit. For several years this organization has provided high class, clean enjoyment for the students and faculty of the University. This fall, with an exceptional group of entertainers, it will amuse even the most critical. Student manager "Chuck" Rogers promises a program varied with fun, instruction, and inspiration.

The Lowell Patton Trio will supply the music for the program. This trio was a smashing success two years ago on the circuit. They will give two concerts today.

Judge George D. Alden's new lecture, "Attitudes and Visibility," is said to excel in interest, inspiration, wit, and humor. This man lectured on the same platform with President Harding for a season and was admired by Harding as a brilliant, effective speaker.

The Three Act Comedy-Drama—"Take My Advice," is a delightful play of youth.

Led by Captain Jim Buzzell, who played the best and last game of his brilliant career at Maine, Coach Brice's tricky, smooth-working grid outfit easily rolled up a 26 to 0 verdict over the old rivals, Bowdoin, at Brunswick last Saturday. Fronted by perfect interference the Maine backs ripped through the Bowdoin line for long gains which were stopped for the most part by Lancaster, the fighting Bowdoin back who was in every play.

Every man on the Maine team carried out his assignments to a T. Credit for the overwhelming victory cannot be centered on any one man as they all played at top form. Besides the spectacular runs of Buzzell, Jack Moran and his shifty, deceptive dashes piled up the Maine yardage and Abbott's passes and punts were perfect. Mike Coltart, Zak Zakarian and Black played as good football as they have ever played this year, which is saying plenty.

The two bands, lusty cheering, Bananas—the energetic cheer leaders, the tipsies and the perfect day made it a Bowdoin-Maine game to be remembered although the formations of the Maine band were missed between the halves.

The following clippings from accounts of the game are of interest:

Lewiston Daily Sun—"Never before such a demonstration of drive on a Maine grid."

"Big and capable, but not unwieldy; drilled to the minute; and with an assortment of plays that puzzled Bowdoin as they had puzzled Bates earlier in the season, Fred Brice's team appeared to be at its height, and the best he has rigged out in Blue togs since he has been at Orono."

WHY HAVE A TIE?

For the second consecutive year Maine and Colby are tied for first honors in the State Series. As a result of this strange occurrence there is much discussion on the Maine campus and throughout the state concerning the possibilities of having a game between the two teams to play off the tie.

There is no doubt that a game between Colby and Maine this year would draw the largest crowd to ever attend a football game in this state and would bring much financial assistance to the athletic associations of both institutions. But we are able to see that there are many factors which make such a game an impossibility this year and that many more conditions would be apt to arise in future years which would prevent the carrying out of any scheduled play-off of ties. Some of these are injuries, break in training, poor weather conditions, unwillingness of men to play in after season games.

If any of our readers are able and willing to offer opinions on the possibilities of play-off games, many interested "lovers" of football would be enlightened.

THE MAINE HARRIERS

With the football season completed as far as Maine is concerned the interest of the student body and athletically-inclined faculty members will be given over to the fortunes of our cross-country team in the next few weeks. While it is not as popular a sport as is football at Maine, cross-country has developed more than any other sport here in the past few years. Last year's team was one of the best in the country; many feel that this year's team is the best in the country.

We frankly declare to the members of the cross-country team that no one thing except possibly the abolishment of compulsory military training would be more welcome at Maine than a national championship in their sport. A victory in the New England next Saturday will be a stepping stone to the big victory.

A PECULIAR REQUEST

President Boardman received the following letter from an anonymous writer this week. In turning it over to the Campus he stated that he disliked to receive mail from people who do not sign their names and that in the present case he is undecided whether to accept the letter as a joke or as a serious protest. If the writer is willing to send more correspondence on the subject he will feel that the letter is not a mere prank but is the honest opinion of an interested woman.

President H. S. Boardman

Orono, Me.

Dear Sir:

Am enclosing ads cut from late copies of "Campus" which am surprised should be allowed a place in College Paper. It would lead one to believe the Administration put their stamp of approval on smoking and I don't believe they do.

Please investigate
And oblige

A Mother

Houlton, Me.

Sunday, Nov. 11th, '28

The Campus, like any newspaper, defrays the expenses of publication by collecting from advertisements of national and local merchants. The advertisements in question, copies of which were sent with the letter, show pictures of men and women passing judgment on a certain brand of cigarettes. In this day of the world we are inclined to believe that smoking is a problem for the individual and not for the administration.

We are waiting to hear that some member of the faculty has proposed a measure which will place ineligibility on a point basis. Must the present system of misunderstanding continue?

The Thanksgiving recess controversy, finally settled, has been another unsatisfactorily managed affair, from the viewpoint of many students. No problem of this nature can be handled in so short a time—serious discussion and careful investigation should be required before any voting is done by university groups.

With the football season practically over, the Memorial Gym drive finished, and Herbert Hoover elected (as many of our professors prognosticated), the Campus expects to find itself faced with a shortage of timely news. In order to publish a newspaper which will be of interest to those who read a few things besides the jokes, the editors desire to state that all suggestions for feature stories, series of articles, editorials, and improvements be turned in to the editor-in-chief as soon as possible. Correspondence on any subjects which are of interest to Campus readers is welcome at all times.

Correspondence

The Maine Campus

Dear Mr. Editor:

I have read with interest your editorial in the November 8 issue of the Campus "The Ticket Scramble."

The Athletic Board have always given considerable thought to the distribution of tickets for the State series football games and feel that at least some of the phases of the ticket situation have been improved under the arrangement in effect this year. However, we too are convinced that the allocation of seats, especially to the Student body, has not been entirely satisfactory. We are agreed that the Student body should have first consideration in athletics. We would appreciate the appointment of a committee from the student body to confer with the Athletic Board with the hope that a more satisfactory solution of this problem may be arrived at.

Very truly yours,

L. S. Corbett
Chairman Athletic Board

Editor, The Campus

Dear Sir:

The recent vote upon the matter of the extended Thanksgiving Holiday has caused many comments upon "Student Opinion."

It was to be expected that such a question of concern to both sides would cause much dissatisfaction whichever way the majority voted. Each group expressed its authorized statement of the vote, including one off-campus Senate member who consulted his group to the best of his ability and cast a vote to represent the sentiment of the limited members in Orono. Campus opinion was shown to be nearly equally divided, and because of that, coupled with alleged grievances of unfair and inadequate representation, the minority raised objection.

The problem of off-campus representation is one which ought to rest primarily in the hands of off-campus people alone. If they desire to express their sentiments through their members in Student Senate meetings, it is their duty to send such representatives. It is not only unwise but perhaps unjust in many cases for the Senate to appoint anyone arbitrarily to represent off-campus groups. Most of the Senate problems pertain to campus activities and the interest shown from off-campus sources has been pitifully meager in the past. This seems to justify the stand that those living outside the campus bounds must show interest enough to send representatives.

The vote as it stands, without a doubt, expresses the sentiment of more students than could otherwise be gathered by any other feasible method. Hence, there is no cause for a referendum vote that seems justifiable in the eyes of the Senate, unless the groups as they voted were not representative, the fault of which lies at the door of the group alone.

The decision, granted by President Boardman, is that the Thanksgiving recess is to be extended this year. Following Holidays will depend largely upon the attitude taken by the students on this occasion.

The Senate has attempted to do one thing this year, if nothing more, and that is to represent "Student Opinion." The officers and members pledge themselves to do what seems just and right in proclaiming the rights of the majority and the interests of all Maine students. This necessitates cooperation by sending representatives who are equipped with the sentiments of his group so that the factor of campus opinion and representation to the Administration shall never become an empty statement.

Sincerely yours,

Versal Robey,
Pres. Student Senate

Editor, The Campus

My dear Editor:

In a letter which was published in the Campus, I called attention to the fact that it is very necessary to determine our calendar a considerable time in advance. I am, therefore, desirous of determining very definitely the attitude of the Student Body towards the proposed extension of the Thanksgiving recess for next year.

That part of the new catalog containing next year's calendar is about to go to press. The calendar with the proposed change has already been adopted by the Committee on Administration. Changes, if any, must be made before January 7, 1929.

Sincerely yours,

H. S. Boardman
President

The Editor of the Campus

Orono, Maine

Dear Sir:

I heartily endorse the recent step of the Student Senate to investigate the Freshman Rules, and I trust that a modification of them will be adopted. Such a step would be not only just, but also expedient, for the University's ruling that Freshmen should not enter fraternities, a ruling which culminates in the year 1930-31, will increase the solidarity of the class through its more complete segregation in the dormitories, thus making its control increasingly more difficult. Wouldn't it be better to let some of the steam escape before there is an explosion?

There are two ways of modifying the rules: one is to shorten the time in which they are enforced, for example, to Thanksgiving as it is being done in quite a number of colleges to-day; and the other is to lessen the harshness of the restrictions. I would like to suggest a few ways in which the latter might be done.

First, with the exception of the cap, or toque, there should be no restriction in dress; this would enable the poorer student to wear out his older clothes without the expense of buying new ones.

Second, Freshmen merely should not escort the co-eds to dances, etc.; this would still maintain the upperclassmen's monopoly of a field which is already marked by keen competition and yet make possible a better observance of the amenities than a formal greeting can.

Third, the Freshman should not have to be the servant of the upperclassmen; he has rights just like any other human being, and they should be respected.

I believe that the adoption of changes such as these would dispel the resentment that is to be found in the Freshman class.

Yours truly,

Maurice R. Wheeler

The potent senior hockey team consisting of many of the varsity players, overran the Sophomores to defeat last Friday afternoon by a score of 3-0.

Early departures for the Maine-Bowdoin game sadly thinned the ranks on both teams. Yet the remaining Sophomores refused to be intimidated by the powerful Seniors and determined to face their opponent without a full team.

From the first moment of the game '31 was forced to take the defensive. Their territory and goal were hounded by the Seniors from the beginning until the end of the game. The Sophomores stoutly opposed attempt after attempt made by the Seniors for goal and fought hard to carry the ball down the field. They displayed splendid team work, but found it impossible to break through the Senior line. The Seniors proved themselves superior in experience and hockey technique.

Miss Roger and Thelma Shea refereed the game.

Baby Blue Spurs White Mule To Kick Bates 26-0

"Lewiston, Nov. 12—A line of baby blue, as colorful as a summer sky, acted as the heaven through which the two miraculous meteors of Colby, Captain Bobby Scott and Wally Donovan, shot to victory this afternoon, 26 to 0."

I think baby blue is so sweet, don't you, girls?

"Baby blue, the color of those Colby jerseys, may be the hue associated with straps in milady's undergarments, but you can inform the cock-eyed world that there was nothing effeminate about the work of the White Mule during the game. They were rough, tough and nasty, so rough and so tough that they lost innumerable yards on penalties. But always, when opportunity came or when defensive strength was needed, the line of baby blue was a chain of steel."

It must have been awfully thrilling, Mabel!

"And then the lightning struck. The ball shot back from center to Wally Donovan, he hesitated, faked a pass to Scott, wheeled, and an opening five yards wide appeared in the left side of the Bates line."

"The meteor, Donovan, charged, came out on the other side, and looked up. He was clear. Turning loose a burst of speed that electrified the rooters, he dodged two would-be tacklers and raced towards the sideline. Out of one eye he must have been watching that off-side stripe, because as he neared it, he veered in, called on everything he had in one final burst, and left the Bates team behind him for all time. Running three yards inside that line he roared over the goal for the first score, less than two minutes after the opening whistle. Dexter booted the seventh point perfectly."

How heavenly! You can't imagine how we boys and girls felt about it.

"Here Colby proved that it had the punch. Stopped three times by Bates, and with still three yards to go, the Colby backfield magicians juggled the oval behind the line, while its forward stripe held firmly, and Bobby Scott, the captain, on a short lateral pass, scooted over the goal line, just inside the sideline, for the second touchdown."

My, how versatile!

"The figures show that Bates made 19 first downs, five aided by penalties, but couldn't score. Colby, winning, made only seventeen, but they were long ones, like Donovan's runs. Only two were made on penalties. Bates was penalized three times, for 35 yards, and Colby, ten times for 90 yards."

Maybe they weren't so good after all.

Read 'Em And Weep

No off-color jokes will be published under the revised statutes.

One of our readers sends us the following anecdote which tends to prove that all the student noise-makers are not at the University of Maine and at the Strand Theater.

"Our scout watched for some time the proprietor of the pop-corn stand next the Crescent driving a nail through stacks of paper bags."

"Why do you drive that nail through those stacks of paper bags?" inquired our scout.

"To keep the educated fools from exploding the bags during the show," replied the paper-bag-piercer, grimly.—(M. G. B., in the Cornell Alumni News.)

Big Shot—"Do you know the three fastest ways to spread news?"

Robey—"Is the Campus one?"

Big Shot—"No, not of these. They are telegraph, telephone, tell a woman."

Stude—"You don't smoke?"

Old Town Miss—"Nope."

Stude—"You don't drink?"

O.T.M.—"Nope."

Stude—"I'm coming up some night next week—you must do something."

Wally says that he will pass all of his P.T. students who buy a Skull Calendar. It is dedicated to him.

About two weeks more—and then about a foot of slush and snow. And right after mid-semester ranks and everything. Who said Life is not worth living?

Another grave fallacy can be checked up against the professors and instructors of the University. Imagine it—they expect to get results in mid-semester exams given the day after Mal Hallett plays at the Chateau! Attendance at Friday classes should be limited.

Prexy and two deans are away on a long trip, but the Senate will take care of everything.

Sergts. Donchecz and Robertson—Science and Tactics.

Note—Edda Bailey threw a wild party in Wiscasset last Sunday—everybody went to church.

Only two weeks—and the Big Parade starts. It seems a shame to kick the boys out but they just won't study!

This is a good time to remind the freshmen who expect to leave us soon that there was a little freshman once who told the Board that he had been kicked out of better places than Maine. He left with a satisfied grin.

On next Wednesday and Thursday there will be a movie at the Strand which children under 15 cannot see. Some of our easily shocked professors should stay away, also.

"Dear Papa" wrote the co-ed from Orono, "I am enclosing my term bill."

"Dear Daughter," papa responded, "Am sending check, but you should get better terms next time. Why don't you take a course in business from one of those young economics professors?"

A freshman, reading about the new Prism board elections in last week's Campus, asked if the Prism was a Math Club publication. No, dear freshman, it is not a Math Club book, but it would take a Math major to figure out where the 1929 Prism money is invested.

Some of our dean's list friends are beginning to wish they were football heroes. They should remember that every dog has its day.

"It won't be long now" said the Board as they looked over the list of low-rank ink students and then at their educated toes.

One of the few good jokes in this column this week was sent to us by a Dean. Who said that the jokes aren't read by the profs?

The R.O.T.C. is just one-eighteenth as popular as it was Monday morning before eight o'clock.

House Discussion Groups Well Under Way

Last week the annual Discussion Groups began at the different fraternity houses and dormitories. The same plan that proved so successful last year under the supervision of the Maine Christian Association is being used this fall. Various professors and instructors are group leaders at the meetings. A set of six topics has been approved by the heads of the houses and dormitory leaders. These subjects are discussed pro and con, in an open forum every Tuesday night shortly after the supper hour. The list shows a wide range and affords an abundance of opportunity for serious thought and varied viewpoints. The topics in order of treatment are:

1. How can we know the true standards of right and wrong?
2. Cribbing—is it ever justified?
3. After death—what?
4. Is religion in conflict with life?
5. Has Prohibition failed?
6. Why live at all?

THE CAMPUS

The Campus! what a theme
To reach Time's backward lapse;
A near forgotten dream,—
And reveries, perhaps.

The rev're tenders all
That to a life is dear:
Each mem'ry crowded hall,—
Each joy, each sigh, each tear.

Perhaps a glimpse of brown
Amidst the foliage green,—
Mem'ries tender grown,
Where friendship's clasp has been.

The shady walks and lanes
Have their old tales to tell
That some heart yet retains
That may his life impel.

For here was cast and sown
Those seeds to life's best deeds
Where Fate sits on her throne
To mock what Fancy reads.

Here born was Friendship's Star
And friendship's tie so fond;
That tho we wander far,
Forever strong its bond.

HENRY A. MITCHELL DIES

Maine students were grieved to hear of the death yesterday morning of Henry A. Mitchell, Orono merchant, friend to all and ardent follower of Maine athletic teams. Mr. Mitchell was not only a successful business man but had served as selectman of the town of Orono for several years.

CHEMO CABIN TO HAVE MODERN FIREPLACE

The Maine Outing Club held its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening, November 6 at 7:30 in 17 Winslow. It was voted to pay the express charges to have a small Franklin fireplace heater sent here from the home of one of the Club's members. This will be a good addition to the Outing Club Cabin at Chemo. The need of some means of heating the recreation room has been noticed for a long while. The Club is grateful to the member who gave the stove to us.

A committee consisting of Dr. Young, the Club's faculty advisor, Phyllis Gould, Anna Buck, John Stevens and George Berry with Alice Bagley as chairman was appointed to consider the possibilities of having Outdoor Day with skating, skiing, snowshoe events, etc. sometime during the winter.

The Maine Outing Club is having a short hike followed by a box supper and social this Saturday afternoon, leaving Coburn at 4:30 and returning early in the evening. The cost is a quarter and the trip is open to everyone whether he is a member of the Club or not.

SWARTHMORE CHAUTAU- QUA TO CONDUCT SUNDAY VESPERS

Vesper Services this Sunday will be conducted by leaders from the Swarthmore Chautauqua group. The Lowell Patton Trio will supply a pleasant musical program. Judge George D. Alden will deliver a short address of deep interest to all University men and women. These Vesper Services, arranged through the efforts of the Maine Christian Association, are drawing more and more each Sunday as they afford a restful and inspirational period in an otherwise busy week. The time for this Sunday is 4:00 P.M. as usual.

The match between the English hockey team and Wellesley College will be a remarkable exhibition of hockey "as it should be played." This game comes Thursday, and Miss Lengyel expects her players to profit by everything they see at this contest. The English players are perhaps the most famous and at the same time the most skillful in the world.

The team is made up of women who have been playing hockey from ten to twenty years, because in England they begin to play when mere babies, and continue in later life playing on club teams.

The Maine team will return from Connecticut Saturday night, arriving in Bangor Sunday morning. Training is over after the trip.

The following girls are to make the trip:

Capt. Mary Robinson, Thelma Shea, Beulah Kneeland, "Dot" Ross, Arlene Robbins, Eunice Barrows, Ellen Mullaney, Mary Mahoney, Alice Webster, Phyllis Gould, Sylvia Gould, Caroline Collins, Rebecca Matthews, Rachel Matthews, Elizabeth Murphy, Jessie Ashworth, Clara Richardson, "Kay" Marvin, Grace Lemoine, Manager Clair Callaghan and Coach Lengyel.

UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON

President Boardman, Dean Cloke, Dean Merrill, Prof. Pearl Greene, Director W. J. Morse, and Arthur L. Deering have gone to Washington to attend the meetings of the Land Grant College Association. They will be the guests of the Washington Alumni Association Tuesday night.

338 FRESHMEN ARE STATE OF MAINE RESIDENTS

Out of the 413 members of the Class of 1932, 338 or 82% came from Maine schools. The Maine schools sending the largest number are: Bangor 36; Hebron 18; Deering 14; Portland 14; Waterville 8; Old Town 7. Those sending six each were: Cony High and Houlton High; 5 each: Bar Harbor, Belfast, Brewer, Ft. Fairfield, Kents Hill, Lisbon Falls, Stearns High in Millinocket, Rockland; 4 each: Gould Academy in Bethel, Boothbay Harbor, Bridgton High, Milo, Orono Catholic, Presque Isle, Stephens High in Rumford, Thornton Academy in Saco; Eastern Maine Institute, Springfield, Westbrook High.

There were 12 schools sending three each; 24 sending two each; 65 sending one each.

Schools outside of Maine sending more than one pupil were: Huntington School, Boston 3; Tilton School, Tilton, N. H., 3; Gardner High, Gardner, Mass., 4.

Other schools in Massachusetts sent 34; Connecticut sent 7; New Hampshire 1; Vermont 1; New York 10; while New Jersey, Maryland, Rhode Island, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and South Dakota sent 1 each.

REPORT THAT COLBY CHAL- LENGED MAINE IS FALSE

There is no truth in the report current on the campus that Colby has challenged Maine to a football game on a neutral field.

Next Monday evening the Boston Alumni Association of the U. of M. is having an Olympic night banquet at the University Club for Rip Black and Carl Ring. In addition, the varsity and freshman cross country teams will be guests, as will Coach Jenkins and Ben Kent.

COLLEGE HONOR COURSE IS DISCUSSED

The honors course which is being considered now by the faculty here as a treatment for exceptional students is clearly discussed by Mr. Leon B. Richardson of Dartmouth College as follows:

"The American college has never solved in a satisfactory way the problem presented by the student of exceptional capacity. It has been so much engaged with the education of the mass that the special demands of men of high mental power have been relatively neglected. For the exceptional man it seems not only desirable, but imperative, to relax rules so far as the process can be carried out; to do away with all regulations which prevent the gifted individual from improving the advantages offered him by the college to their utmost extent; and to see to it that he is given the fullest opportunity to utilize his superior abilities to the limit of his capacity. At Swarthmore College this system is worked out so that a sophomore student may apply for admission to the honors course but approval of his application is based on the live interest of the student in the subject and his general alertness and not on the question of high previous record. The attempt is thus made to avoid the man or woman who is merely a grind. When once selected the student is no longer subject to rules of attendance, he is not required to take course tests and examinations and in general he is put very largely on his own responsibility. Narrow specialization is avoided by placing the administration of the special work in the hands of the division rather than the department and by having the work embrace related fields instead of one. Weekly conferences are held by discussion groups each of which is usually composed of five students and as many members of the faculty. The subject is discussed in a general and lengthy manner. Guidance in reading and some material in preparation for the examination are given. At the end of the two years a long and very searching examination is imposed.

The students who have engaged in the honors courses are generally enthusiastic over the system; the satisfaction of getting to the bottom of a problem upon which they are set rather than merely

Pi Pi Kappa, the honorary economics society initiated on Wednesday evening its group of recent pledges from the two upper classes. The initiation was held in Arts and Sciences, following which the faculty and student members together with the initiates gathered at the banquet in the Beta Theta Pi house. The following group was initiated in the fraternity:

Lawrence Rosen, George Larrabee, Saul Lait, Eugene Vail, Richard Bradford, Horton Flynt, Arthur Hatch, Robert French, and George Ankeles.

John Crowell was unable to attend and will be initiated at a later date.

Beta Pi Theta, the French honorary fraternity, held its meeting Thursday afternoon, November 8 at 315 A.S. The purpose of the organization was discussed fully and the work of the coming year was planned.

sliding over its surface is both stimulating and interesting. Why therefore, should we not give this method fair trial. We commit ourselves to nothing that cannot be applied without serious modification of our present system, and that cannot be abandoned without shock to the institutions. The assertion that the American college treats men of high mental calibre by ineffective and wasteful methods is a true assertion. The honors course is a reasonable remedy for this situation."

2. The nominee's name shall be printed in full with insertion of 'nick name'.
3. The names shall be arranged on the ballots in alphabetical order.
4. Ballots shall be kept 4 weeks, at least, after elections.
5. Recounts shall be made by the Student Senate only on request of the Administrative Board. Any charge of illegality in an election shall be reported to the Administrative Board.
6. All ballots shall be valid, unless an excessive number of votes are cast for an office or committee membership.

PROFESSOR SAYRE SPEAKS

Prof. F. B. Sayre of Harvard spoke Sunday night at the Bangor City Hall. His subject was "America's Foreign Relations."

He opened his speech with a plea for arbitration between different countries on matters of international dispute. He discussed the foreign policy of America from the Revolution down to the Kellogg multilateral treaty. He closed with the argument that there are only two kinds of foreign policy—isolation and arbitration. Isolation leads to large armaments, which give rise to fear. Fear causes hate, and hate breeds war.

His speech drew prolonged applause from the audience which was packed into the hall.

Many Changes Will Be Made In Point System

The Point System in itself is no good, especially in checking up on student activities. With the New Committee on Eligibility no nominations are valid unless they are confirmed by the chairman of the committee, and no elections are valid until they are registered in his office. This, as a result, makes possible the working out of the point system. In case a man is overcrowded the chairman crosses out his name until he has resigned some other position that he holds.

Any number of fourth class positions may be held, also fourth class positions may be held simultaneously with positions in any other class.

Officers and Members

Not listed in any other class.

At first an attempt was made, recommended and voted upon to work this through the Senate and girls' self-government association, but the girls were ever changing and this did not prove successful.

Professor Pollard of the Extension Department is going to bring many students into Conference this year, because the above classification needs revision, for some positions need to be strengthened and others weakened. In order to do this everyone must work in cooperation. It is his personal belief that in some cases the organizations are just struggling along because officers are holding too many other positions and they are unable to give their undivided time and attention and, as a result, the organization suffers.
