Story of Fatal Bob-Sled Crash At Poland Told By Campus Reporter Account of Casualty That Cost Two Wheaton Women Their Lives and Cast Shadow On N.E.C.A. Conference Told By Witness

The story of the bobsled crash which occurred at the Eastern New England College Christian Conference held during the last week end, taking two Wheaton College girls to their death, and shaking up about 13 other college people including several Maine students is told by a Campus reporter that was present at the scene of the tragedy.

Two Wheaton College girls were killed in a bobsled crash during the recreational period of the Eastern New England College Christian Association Conference. Miss Alice Merrick of Virginia and Miss Eileen Walker of Massachusetts were the victims.

After luncheon Saturday noon at the Mansion House a grand raid was made on the supplies of snowshoes, skis, toboggans, and of course bobsleds—they were the most treasured rewards of the raid.

Off started the various parties for an afternoon of fun on the sweeping hills of the famous resort. One group, who were tugging the heavy double bobsled, grew larger and larger until there were fifteen or eighteen joyous young girls and boys.

Barbara Johnson Ranks Highest In English

The names of the eight highest ranking students in the senior major examinations conducted by the Department of English at the University of Maine for 1929 have just been announced. The rating is based upon the showing made by fifteen major students in the department in three separate tests: an oral examination covering the content of the advanced courses taken in English, a written examination over the general history of English literature, and a second written examination upon composition. The total number of English majors completing their course for 1929 is seventeen, of whom two have deferred their examination until the Summer Session. Of the fifteen who have taken the test, the highest eight are listed below, in the order of their rank:

Barbara Johnson, Woodfords; Philip Merrill Marsh, South Portland; Mary Louise Mahoney, Biddeford; Mary Catherine Buck, Bangor; Maurice Robert Wheeler, Portland; Gerald Francis Burrill, Bangor; Evelyn Doris Kennard, Bangor; Caroline Ella Collins, Bangor.

Of these Mr. Marsh and Miss Mahoney were graduated at mid-years, having completed their curriculum in three and one-half years. Miss Johnson's showing on the oral examination was unusually creditable.

The major examinations in English were instituted in 1923 as a means of obtaining a different kind of estimate of the

Masque Players Score Hit In Play Thurs. Night

"What Every Woman Knows," presented last night by the Maine Masque, places another feather in Professor Mark Bailey's hat for bringing to us something so virile and worthwhile as this clever little drama of Barrie's. A record breaking crowd attended the performance in spite of the stormy night and the applause from the same was tremendous. "Polly" Hall dashed to fame overnight. Her rendition of "Maggi" Shand, the wife of the aspiring Scotch statesman, John Shand, was superb. Polly moved the crowd to tears and laughter at will. The audience was at the tip of her fingers. Never before has such acting been witnessed on the campus. Polly's quaint little grimaces and clever interpretation of a Scotch miss kept her alive in the hearts of the audience all the evening and her powerful personality made her the crowning feature of the play.

Our old friend, "Bob" Parks put across her part of John Shand as he does everything with plenty of appeal and vigor and the two brothers of his wife, Munroe

Giant Winter Carnival and Regatta Suggested By Maine Students At Augusta Conference Today

A giant winter carnival in which the whole state shall participate, on a scale large enough to attract American and Canadian champions as does the annual carnival at Lake Placid, N. Y. and organization of Maine's sea sports, through the yacht clubs, for a great annual regatta which will bring water enthusiasts from all parts of the country are among the suggestions students of the University of Maine will submit at the College Economic Conference at Augusta on Friday and Saturday.

On the subject of the state's recreational possibilities, the University of Maine delegates will come into the conference with one of the most constructive programs to be presented. Their suggestions cover motion pictures, training of summer camp councilors, resident sporting licenses for non-resident property owners, municipal golf courses, airplane landing fields at leading summer resorts and better hotel accommodations for Maine's tourist trade.

Fifty-two Rounds Open Interfrat Fight Card Mon.

Fifty-two rounds of boxing are offered to sport followers Monday evening, March 11, at the Indoor Field when the preliminary bouts of the Intra-Mural boxing tournament will be held. This is the largest boxing exhibition ever staged on this campus. The students not only fight but they get cups for doing so. Bill Kenyon is to be the third man in the ring and will call the first bout at 7:00 P.M. The other four judges are Professors Corbett, Dorsey, Hall and Brice.

Six men have been picked to compete in the 126 lb. class and under. These men

N. E. Evening Post On Cow Calling Contest

Yale and Princeton and Harvard must have felt like 30 cents when they read of the trick that the University of Maine Agricultural College slipped over on them yesterday.

At Orono, Me., on March 25, good, old U. of M. A. C. is staging a cow-calling contest, and to hear the big shots tell it, the smart money the Maine Stem is on the line today that this doughty little institute of education will cop the national cow-calling gonfalon for 1929.

It just goes to show that you've got to keep your eye on the so-called little fel-

Maine Is Favorite In Bates Meet Saturday; Close Contest Expected

MacNaughton, Gowell, Black, O'Connor, and White Are Maine Stars; Chapman of Bates Expected To Break Record In 600

The varsity track team meets the strong Bates Club this Saturday at the indoor gymnasium in what is expected to be the closest dual meet held here in years.

Maine is a slight favorite due to the record breaking performances which were turned in last week in the interfraternity competition. Bates is led by Chapman of intercollegiate fame, who is expected to lower the 600 yard record of 1:14 which is now held by Wakeley of Bates.

Last week end saw the surpassing of six former gym records and the tying of another. Richardson led the record breakers when he ran the two mile race in 9:34 which is better than the present state record.

Lindsay romped through for an easy win in the mile race in the fast time of 4:24 which wiped out Hillman's former record time of 4:25.

MacNaughton, captain of last season's championship cross country team, beat out Austin in a close race to hang up a new record of two minutes flat in the half mile run.

Captain Black showed that he still possessed his Olympic form when he threw the 35 pound weight a distance of 49 feet, three and one fourth inches.

Gowell broke the discus record when he tossed the platter one hundred and thirty-six feet to break the old record by more than eleven feet.

O'Connor was the final record breaker when he broke Caldwell's broad jump record going twenty-two feet.

Stymiest pulled one of the biggest surprises of the day when he nosed out Benson to win the one hundred yard dash in 18.1 which equalled the former mark.

Added to these record breakers are many men who maybe expected to add points to Maine's total. Some of the men who are expected to figure in the point scoring are: White, Niles, Tolman, Austin, Mank, Cuzzo, Ashworth, Cleaves, and Beckler.

Bates has one of their strongest teams in years and some of the Garnet men expected to score points for Bates are: Viles, Chapman, Adams, Knox, Whitten, Nielson, Johnson, Houle, Knowlton, Dill and Bartlett.

All Intra-mural Hoop Team To Be Selected

Who can pick the best all-intramural outfit? Whose selection will come nearest to that of the judges who are to make a team for the campus? Coaches Wallace and Kenyon and H. R. Lopus of the athletic department of the campus will announce their selection in the March 21 issue of the Campus. Meanwhile, the columns of the paper are open. Students are urged to make up teams from the players in the intramural league and to send their selections to the athletics editor of the Campus.

Anyone is eligible to send in a team. Any number of teams may be sent in by the same man. Men eligible for intramural competition, are eligible for the team. All selections must be in the hands of the athletics editor of the Campus not later than 5:00 P.M. Tuesday, March -9. The name of the winner of the contest will be printed.

"Mill Tax" Bill Will Provide Constant Source Of Income For Maine

Means $165,441 Per Year More Than University Ever Received From State President Boardman Says; Little Wires Congratulations

Maine Varsity Hoopmen Meet N. H. Saturday

The Maine varsity will leave today for Durham to connect with the University of New Hampshire varsity. This game will be played in conjunction with the interscholastic games that are being run off at New Hampshire this week-end. New Hampshire has an especially fast club. They have just won six straight games defeating two of the teams that defeated Maine—Harvard and M.I.T.

Maine can hope to do little but play a defensive game against such invulnerable odds. The Bricemen have had the old "Jonah" follow them all the season. At the opening of the basketball season the two fastest players on the campus, Hickson and Lamb were kept out of the lineup due to ineligibility and Capt. Abbott followed suit at Mid Years. With Brice's two star forwards, Cassidy, leaving on account of sickness and Fitzhugh finishing college, the destruction to the varsity squad was rendered complete. Since that time, putting together what he had left, Coach Brice has tried to drill a team into shape that would make a creditable showing.

LOUIS UNTERMAYER ILL

Louis Untermeyer, nationally known author who was to have spoken here on "The New Era in American Poetry," Friday night will not be able to appear because of illness.

S. A. E. Stages Chemical Warfare With Tear Gas

"Weeping and gnashing of teeth" was quite the thing at the S.A.E. house Monday night when the ringing in of the house fire alarm brought out the whole house in pursuit of the offenders. The offense was armed with tear gas bombs, and missiles. They drove the fire alarm bellmen to the basement of the house. Here the three men responsible for the disturbance locked themselves in a room, blocking the door with desks.

When an attempt to break into the room and capture the men failed the S.A.E. mob procured tear gas bombs, and threw these tear teasers into the room, the stronghold of the defense. The part soon became a sorrowful one, and one of those desirous of fire earlier in the game shed such a flood of salt tears that his brothers were obliged to carry him from the room and console him with a little water.

After the battle the boys went to bed with tears in their eyes. Some woke up Tuesday morning after having their "cry out," while others not so fortunate kept the melancholy feeling of the night before throughout the day.

That the passing of the "Mill Tax" bill in the Maine State Legislature will be of great value in providing a constant source of income for the University of Maine is indicated in the statement of President Boardman which follows:

Having been asked by the Editor of the Campus to write a short statement relative to the recent act of the Legislature whereby the Institution receives continuous support from the State in the nature of a millage tax, I take pleasure in presenting the following facts which I am sure will be of interest to all of those who are connected with our Institution.

The University of Maine receives the largest part of its financial support from the State. There are, however, several contributing agencies. The National Government supports a part of the work of the Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station. Student tuition, endowment funds and several smaller items of income bring up the total income of the University to over one million dollars annually. Of this amount the State, during the past two years, has been contributing $578,224.

Phi Eta Kappa Wins Rice And Intra-mural Cups

Phi Eta Kappa Fraternity nosed out all other bidders for the Intra-Mural Track Championship by seizing both the Intra-Mural and Charlie Rice cups in last Saturday's meet. The total score of the meet averaged 50 points for the Charlie Rice Cup as opposed to 21 points for S.A.E. and 14 for A.T.O., the other high scoring fraternities. The Intra-Mural Track Cup was taken with a total of 60 points to 21 for A.T.O. and 15 for Kappa Sigma.

Many Indoor records fell and Richardson's two-mile time broke the state record but will not be established due to the fact that he was paced by his co-partner, Lindsay. "Bill" Gowell of S.A.E. smashed the Indoor record for the discus throw of 124 ft. with a new throw of 135 ft. Captain "Rip" Black of Phi Eta Kappa broke his own record established in the 35 lb. hammer last year, of 46 ft. 5 in. with a new distance of 49 ft. 10 1/2 in. Francis Lindsay of Theta Chi broke his own record in the mile. Lindsay broke the record last year and the record established by Hillman of 4:25, turning off a mile at 4:24 and three-fifths seconds. Richardson established a new record in the two mile run setting a new time for the mile of 9:34 flat. This breaks the record established by Lindsay last year of 9:44 1/2. Victor MacNaughton broke the standing record in the half by turning off the 880 yd. run in 2 min. flat. Charlie O'Connor of S.A.E. broke the record established by Caldwell of Phi Eta in 1926 in the running jump of 21 ft. 6 in. with a running jump of 22 ft. Stymiest of Lambda Chi Alpha

WELCOME CONFERENCE DELEGATES

Maine takes great pleasure in welcoming the delegates to the Kappa Gamma Phi Journalistic Conference to the campus. The meeting of high school and preparatory school journalists which is an annual affair on the campus always brings to the university many men and women from the preparatory schools of the state. The people that attend this conference are often influenced so that they think favorably of Maine when considering where they will go to college. The conference is therefore a benefit to the university, and it is hoped by the members of Kappa Gamma Phi that the lectures and discussions will be an aid to the student editors and business managers in operating their papers or yearbooks as the case may be.

The campus is open to you visitors during your stay here, and it is hoped that your stay will be both profitable and enjoyable.

A STEP FORWARD

The passage of the Mill Tax bill by the Maine State Legislature is a long step forward for the University of Maine. It is perhaps one of the best things that the state has done in the direction of progress here. The passage of this bill gives the university a real foundation on which to build. It may not give the college all that it asks for at the present time, but it does make possible a constant source of income for Maine, something that has long been wanting.

Under the new bill the university will not receive quite all that was asked this year, but they will receive what will be a workable sum. But the outstanding part of the Mill Tax bill is that it is not only for this year, but for the years to come. This constant source of income will make possible the carrying out of a definite improvement policy for the university by doing away with the constant fight over appropriations every year. And with the growth of the State of Maine the fund for the college will gradually grow larger, and will eventually make possible the following out of the building program here.

That the new measure passing the legislature was good news to the administration, the students and the alumni there can be no question, and the telegram of congratulations from former President Little shows that the former Maine Prexy is still interested in the improvement policy at Maine that he made such a fight to start during his administration.

The Mill Tax bill has brought the University of Maine "out of the dark", and has paved the way for constant and continual improvement at Maine.

BASEBALL

With the starting of battery practice of the Maine varsity baseball team the outlook for the season seems to be a bright one. Several new men have reported for tryouts, and Coach Brice should be able to turn out a strong aggregation in the coming season.

Baseball has always held a strong place in the sports program of the University of Maine, in spite of the fact that the teams have not always come thru the seasons as winners. After a basketball season that has been a rather up hill fight for both coach and players baseball will come as a welcome change in sports activities here. If the season goes as well as the "advance dope" points out there should be more interest in the National sport during the coming season than ever before.

A TRAGEDY

The bob-sled crash at the Christian Conference at Poland last week that cost two Wheaton College women their lives was just another example of an unavoidable accident. It cannot be charged to incompetent management on the part of chaperones or leaders as some narrow persons are bound to do.

There have been rumors and stories on the campus all week that there were Maine people involved in the crash and that one of them was quite seriously injured. The Campus has been informed that there were several Maine people riding on the sled that took the two women to their death, but has been requested by the Maine Christian Association to withhold the names.

The crash was a gruesome tragedy, and was the only thing to mar an otherwise successful and enjoyable meeting.

ON CALLING COWS

A fictitious story on the cow calling contest to be held at the University of Maine during Farmers' Week this year that appeared in the New York Evening Post drew the attention of a loyal alumnus of Maine. The story spoke of the University of Maine as Maine Agricultural College. This statement brought immediate reaction from the Maine man, who promptly wrote a letter to the editor of the Campus requesting that the writer be rebuked.

That the story is perfectly good fiction is true, but we would suggest that the writer check up on his titles. We do not recall when the University of Maine went under the name of Maine Agricultural College. Maine may have received much national advertising out of the idea, but the question that would arise in the minds of most people upon reading

COLBY INTERFRAT SQUAD DEFEATS MAINE VARSITY FIVE

The Colby Independents trimmed the varsity last Saturday in a close battle at the Armory Gym. The final tally of the mixup was 32-30, Colby only succeeding in gaining a victory with a well timed shot in the last few seconds of play.

In the first ten minutes of play neither team scored and at the middle of the first half the tally was only 3-3. Both teams fought, nip and tuck and the half terminated 11-11. The varsity opened up in the second half and pulled away from the Indies but the Colby quintet soon redeemed themselves thru their star, Thornton, who popped in goals from all over the court.

Captain Sylvester was lost for the better part of the game with a sprained ankle and Wells was shot in as pivot man. The Colby team were particularly good at long shots from midfield and the varsity was unable to cover up. The Maine forwards could not seem to find the basket or get in to receive the tipoff from Sylvester.

The last half was a scramble for goals with neither team leading by more than a basket at any time during the last ten minutes of play. With half a minute to play and Maine's ball, a fumble ensued and Thornton of Colby seizing the ball ducked his guard and tore underneath the basket, dropping in the deciding goal of the game just as the whistle blew.

Thornton of Colby was high man of the game with 14 points and O'Loughlin second with 10. Thornton played a particularly fine game, demonstrating clever footwork, and passing and ability as the Independent's scoring ace. O'Loughlin demonstrated better ability than any forward of the varsity has shown this year, in being able to get the tipoff from Sylvester. This inability to receive the tipoff has been responsible in part for Maine's losing so much this season.

the article is that a new agricultural college had been formed in the state of Maine, or that the famous cowh had got out of the smoker and into the cattle car.

A NEW SPORT

When the interfraternity boxing tournament gets under way March 11 Maine will see the beginning of activity in a sport that bids fair to become a permanent part of the Maine athletic program. The great interest taken in fighting this year would indicate that the idea of making boxing a regular university sport would be a popular one with the student body.

Lambda Chi Alpha Wins Intra-mural Relay Cup

Lambda Chi Alpha nosed out Phi Eta Kappa and Kappa Sigma Monday afternoon in a battle for the Intra-Mural Relay cup in a thrilling race. The time of the Lambda Chi team broke the Indoor Relay record that was established last year by Phi Eta Kappa of 1.44 and four fifths with a new time of 1.44 flat. The relay was exciting thruout. Phi Eta drew the pole and Kappa Sigma third place. Up until the final heat Kappa Sigma and Lambda Chi were leading nearly neck and neck but in the last heat Win Niles took over Chase at the first turn. Tolman of Phi Eta tried hard to get by Niles but was unable to cut down the slight edge that Niles had obtained early in the heat. The race between Tolman of Phi Eta and Niles was a great battle in the final lap. Beechler of Lambda Chi, a "dark horse," taking the place of Twombly who was sick, dashed to fame by showing a spurt of speed that few knew he possessed. Due to his ineligibility the Frosh have lost a speedy dash and relay man. Lambda Chi had a winning combination that had every thing their own way. Kappa Sigma also had a fast quartet and were just edged out in the last heat by a slight margin.

The lineups were:
Lambda Chi Alpha. Time 1.44. Niles (Capt.), Stymiest, Winch, Beechler.
Phi Eta Kappa (2nd; time 1.45 flat). Mank (Capt.), Kneeland, Dekin, Tolman.
Kappa Sigma (3rd; time 1.45 and two-fifths). Hardy (Capt.), Sylvester, White, Chase.

POSSE-NISSEN SWAMPS MAINE GIRLS 51-17

Last Saturday evening in Alumni Gym the visiting Posse-Nissen team netted a 51-17 victory over the Maine Girls Varsity Basketball team.

An otherwise uninteresting onesided game was made extremely interesting by merely watching the Posse-Nissen girls play. Their passing was the last word in efficiency, and their teamwork was remarkable. The shooting of the forwards was wonderful.

The game was a fast one. Posse gave Maine some good shooting. The co-eds had hard luck in shooting; but the game was a good one, and fairly played.

"Mill Tax" Bill Will Provide Constant Source of Income

Four hundred twenty thousand of this amount was designated by the last Legislature for maintenance and equipment, $70,000 for buildings, $88,224 to offset Federal money designated for the Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station and a small fund was included for the purpose of reimbursing the Trustees for expenses incurred in traveling. The money received from the mill tax includes all of the above items and there is a gentlemen's agreement that the University shall not request additional funds from the State except in the case of an emergency.

The budget which was submitted to the Legislature at the present session amounted to $840,224.50 or the equivalent of 1 1/4 mills based upon the present valuation of the State. At the same time that the bill covering this budget was submitted to the Legislature, another asking for a one mill tax was introduced. The latter which was finally passed gives us $743,665, which means that we have $165,441 more than we have ever had before. It was the feeling of the Trustees, the Administration and friends of the University that although the one mill gives us a smaller amount of money than we desired, the opportunity is given to make definite plans for the future and thus place the Institution upon a sound financial basis. It must be recognized that the University of Maine is not a large Institution and that we never can aspire to be compared with many of the big Institutions of the country. It is, however, felt that with our present resources we can create an Institution which shall be second to none from the standpoint of high standards, efficiency and service.

H. S. Boardman,
President

President Boardman received the following telegram from Dr. C. C. Little, former president of Maine:

Ann Arbor, Michigan
Feb. 28, 1929

Heartiest congratulations to you and University on Mill Tax.

William Stiles of Phi Eta Kappa was the high man of the meet with 18 1/2 points and Webber of A.T.O. was second with 18 points. The other high scorers of the competition were: Dekin (17 points), Phi Eta Kappa; Black (14 points), Phi Eta Kappa and Tolman (13 points), Phi Eta Kappa. William Stiles snatched three first places in the low and high hurdles and tied for a second and took one third. This is another case of a "dark horse" coming to the front. Dekin of Phi Eta surprised the track mentors by taking over Mank in the quarter mile and Harry Murray of S.A.E. gave Mank a hard battle for second place. Gowell experienced difficulty throwing the discus, connecting with the side wall of the Gym and would otherwise have knocked the state record in the discus in the head.

James Ashworth of Beta House took over Black in the Javelin Throw, with a throw of 159 ft. 43 in.

Beeckler did not endeavor to break the height in the pole vault due to the fact that he had just been thru a "blood transfusion" and was still in a weakened condition.

The Intra-Mural finals for the Frosh Intra-Mural Relay Cup was a dual meet between the Phi Eta Kappa and Dormitory Council Freshmen in which the Dormitory Council won by a few inches. The race was a great battle with Dekin, a Phi Eta Freshman, and Timberlake of the Dorm fighting a hard battle in the last lap. Dekin, who had just finished running a race for the Phi Eta varsity relay team cut down a lead on Timberlake of 20 yds. and threatened to take him over but Timberlake beat him to the tape by a matter of inches. The Dorm Frosh had a smooth running team of sprinters all around a winning combination, but the Phi Etas were close rivals and the Dorm just won by a small margin.

Dormitory Frosh. Time 1:49. Hartison, Timberlake, Parkin, Wendell.
Phi Eta Kappa Frosh: Lowell, Dekin, Yerxa, Robbins.

Freshman Gets Hair Cut

The Sophomore Owls had the pleasure of cutting the first freshman head at a meeting this week. It is rumored that there will be no fight week this spring, but with a bald head in the class of '32 there is no telling what may arise.

The Owls are figuring on shaving more heads at a later date.

The river may be frozen over rising night, but if rivalry continues to rise between the two classes they may "break the ice," and "crash thru" with a regular wet rising night celebration.

PHI ETA KAPPA DEFEATS PHI MU DELTA

Phi Eta Kappa defeated Phi Mu Delta Tuesday night 25-23 in the fastest game of basketball that has taken place on the Maine court this season. Both teams were evenly matched and the game was in the air until the last minute of play. At the end of the first quarter and the termination of the first half, Phi Eta led by only one basket, and only increased this lead once during the game.

In the second period each team played such a defensive game that they each scored but one basket each in eight minutes of play. The score at the quarter was 8-6 and at the half 10-8. The Phi Etas opened up in the third quarter and gained a slight edge on Phi Mu which they held until the end of the third quarter when the tally was 19-13. Phi Mu rallied in the last eight minutes of play and cut down the lead to one basket. The teams alternated in taking the lead, both quintets fighting like mad.

Lancaster of Phi Eta pulled off some long sensational shots from midfield that kept them in the lead by a slight margin and Plummer of Phi Mu fought lustily under the basket dropping in goals enough to keep the wearers of the Orange and Black within striking distance.

This is the first time that Phi Mu Delta has ever received the honor of entering the Intra-Mural Basketball finals at Maine. This victory gives Phi Eta Kappa the right to play off with Beta House next Tuesday night for the championship of the campus.

Summary:
Phi Mu Delta (23)—Knight, lf, 1; Plummer, rf, 4; Nutting, c, 2; Holmes, rg, 2 (1); Hackett, lg, 2.
Phi Eta Kappa (25)—Hartley, lf, 4; Whitten, rf, 2; Sweetser, c, 1; Westcott, rg (1); Lancaster, lg, 5.

Arthur M. Gillespie has been awarded the gold basketball that Coach Brice gives each year to the man on the varsity squad who shoots the most number of fouls during the season. Each night, after practice, every man on the squad has five shots from the foul line. The man having the highest total of baskets at the end of the season is awarded the gold basketball. Coach Brice donates the basketball himself. Last year, Charlie Stone was the winner.

"FEMALE MOSES" TO SPEAK AT MAINE FARMERS' WEEK

Mrs. John D. Sherman, Estes Park, Colorado, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and often referred to in organization affairs as the "Female Moses" will address Maine women here, March 26 at the University of Maine during Farm and Home Week, March 25-28.

Professor Pearl S. Greene, head of the home economics department, in making the announcement, said that a special program of interest to members of the Federated Women's Clubs has been arranged. Mrs. Frances Meserve Cotton of Gorham, Me., chairman of the American Home Department of Maine Federation of Women's Clubs, will preside.

Mrs. Sherman is a national figure in club organization activities among women. At present she is chairman of the American Home Committee and the theme of her address here will probably be on some phase of home life.

For sixteen years Mrs. Sherman has served as an officer in the General Federation of Women's Clubs. She began her organization efforts with the Chicago Women's Club and recently this club has elected her an honorary member in recognition of her nation wide activities.

During the World War, in addition to her General Federation work, Mrs. Sherman served the federal government as special assistant director of the United States School Garden Army. She was also the only woman director of the National War Garden Commission and was active in Americanization work in various parts of the country.

Mrs. Sherman is a ninth generation American, being a direct descendant of John Whitney who came over with the first of the Puritans and settled in Watertown, Massachusetts in 1635. Altho having lived in Chicago for many years her residence is now at Estes Park, Colorado where she has lived for the last twelve years. She is a Daughter of the American Revolution and an Episcopalian.

FRESHMAN GIRLS DEFEAT BANGOR FIVE

Last Saturday evening at 6:30 in the Alumni gym the Freshman girls' basketball team unexpectedly won from Bangor High 33-15. This success was unexpected, as it is the first time for four years that Bangor has gone down to defeat at the hands of the Frosh outfit.

It was an interesting game in spite of the many fouls which the Bangor team made, and which deprived them of one of their best players. The Freshmen had everything their own way most of the time, although the first half was close. In the second half the Maine teamwork was superior. The front and back triangles went off in good order.

"Ike" Montgomery in her berth as forward rolled in some pretty baskets. "Spud" Churchill did some clever guarding, and Esther Moore, a new star in the horizon blazed forth in true basketball splendor.

Referee: Wallace.

Generating Brain Power

BRAIN power, not horsepower, is the chief operating requirement of the electrical industry.

This requirement must be continuously anticipated to provide leaders for the future. Accordingly, each year, more than 400 picked college graduates come to the General Electric Company for a post-graduate course in electrical science.

With a faculty including inventors and engineers of international distinction, something more than electrical knowledge is imparted to these young men. Here they also find inspiration which prepares them for leadership in this electrical age.

You will see this monogram on the powerful motors of an electric locomotive and on the convenience outlet where you plug in a floor lamp—always and everywhere it is a safe guide to electrical quality and dependability.

N. Y. Evening Post on Cow Calling Contest

lows if you're looking for progress. While Harvard and Yale and Princeton were sitting back with their Old Golstein cigarettes—nicotine will get this country yet—little U. of M. A. C. was on the job, justifying its reputation as the school that's always in the vanguard of sporting events.

Reports from Cambridge, New Haven and Princeton are that, taken as a whole, the worst material in years is out for the cow-calling teams. The big cigarette decathlon season runs well into the cow-calling season at these schools, and it may be that as soon as the cigarette eaters break training they will come out in force to call cows.

YOUR COW MUST ANSWER

The real test in cow-calling is not, as many people think, just to throw the head back and call, "Cow!" That is, in point of fact, the very easiest part of the sport. The crux of the matter is to get the cow either to answer or at least to give some form of acknowledgement.

The difficulty of qualifying at the sport was well demonstrated in the try-out Columbia University gave it a few years ago, the complete failure of which was largely instrumental in the faculty's decision to drop it from the curriculum, or curriculum, as it had previously been called.

In the first place, it was next to impossible to find a cow, despite the fact that Mayor Hylan had installed several specimens in Central Park for the benefit of lower East Side children who had never seen a cow, and up until then had expressed no desire to see one.

After some delay a cow was found in New York City, but it was in a butcher shop and in four quarters, and neither responded nor apologized when called. This compelled the faculty to go out in their mortar boards and black gowns and round up an old cow found in Dutchess County. There were so many of the professors that the cow suffered greatly from suffocation, and was in no mood to enter the sport until revived with eau de cologne.

These preliminaries completed, the cow was stationed in front of the Administration Building and the members of the faculty took turns calling it. At first they called it "Cow!" Later they called it other things. Nor could the failure be set down to lack of effort on the professors' part, for not only did they call "Cow" enticingly, dulcetly, coaxingly, charmingly, voluptuously, meaningfully and provocatively, but also they resorted to sternness, to harshness, to downright command, to menace, to threat, to impudence, to entreaty, to regal and majestic edict.

THIS COW WAS SNOOTY

The cow was cold to it all. Occasionally she lifted her splendid head and gazed reflectively at Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, as though trying to place him in her thoughts, and then, giving up the effort, resumed her casual contemplation of the ground.

This went on for some time, and the

FOSTER TO INTERVIEW SENIORS

John E. Foster of the personnel division of the W. T. Grant Company of New York City is to be on the campus, Monday, March 11, to meet seniors who are interested in becoming connected with the Grant Company. There are many Maine men with this company, including Raymond H. Fogler '15, president of the General Alumni Association. He is personnel director of that corporation.

Those who desire to confer with Mr. Foster should either get in touch with Dr. J. H. Ashworth, head of the department of economics, or with the Alumni office in Fernald Hall, and make an appointment. In order to make the conference a more profitable one, Mr. Foster has sent to the alumni office a few copies of an interesting booklet entitled—"Training for Retail Merchants" which each interested student is expected to read before the appointment hour.

crowd was beginning to boo, or moo, as it was known then. The Columbia faculty was not only annoyed, but embarrassed, because they'd begun to think it over and they saw that the spectacle of them standing around calling a cow which never responded was not far short of being absurd. So finally, concluding that the cow was not coming at the sound of the human voice, they went and led her to Dr. Butler, who stroked her once, said "Whoa, bossy!" and returned to his office.

That was the end of cow-calling at Columbia. Dr. Butler himself never spoke of it again, and the faculty, gathering that the whole thing constituted a painful subject, permitted it to pass out of the memory.

The Maine agricultural school has shown more spunk. Neither has a cow ever answered one of its cow callers, but the bulldog feeling there is that you can never tell what may happen tomorrow. "If you keep calling a cow long enough," said old Pop Squires, the grizzled cow-calling coach, "you probably will learn to call one very well, if you don't get taken to an insane asylum first."

A.A.U.W. CABARET AT ORONO MAR. 13

The members of the A.A.U.W. of Orono will present a cabaret at the Town Hall Wednesday evening, March 13 at eight o'clock. Besides cards and dancing (music by the Harmaniacs) there will be an extensive list of Cabaret acts. Pat Loane will play, Ellingwood will entertain, and Tillie Sawyer will dance. Under the direction of Mrs. Turner, who has charge of the program, the members of the organization will produce one of Lady Gregory's one act plays.

Tickets may be bought at Nichols' Drug Store. General admission 35 cents, seats at tables 15 cents.

The A.A.U.W. by its enterprises has established a worthwhile fund of money from which really generous loans are made, on comparatively easy terms to women of the University who have need of such money to continue their college work.

Masque Players Score Hit in Play Thurs. Night

Getchell and Milledge Beckwith and Kenneth Laughlin playing the father were all parts that caught the audience.

We met Barbara Damm again in the role of the Comtesse de la Briere in the interpretation of the spinster adventures, with a real interest in Maggie Shand's affairs, and Barbara far outdid her rendition of Mrs. Preston in Enter Madam. We can easily recommend that Barbara use the stage as a vocation for she has all the makings of an actress.

Laby Sibyl as rendered by Helen Bowerman was a particularly dramatic role and some of the tableau scenes between her and Maggie Shand were very appealing. Helen distinguished herself for her emotional capacity and underneath her usual calm reserve we feel that is spontaneity for the romantic.

Last but not least our loquacious friend Mr. Maurice Wheeler, a native born Englishman, appeared to interpret for us the fastidious English statesman with a dry comical manner that helped furnish the laughs of the evening. Maurice handled the role to perfection with his usual ease and nonchalance.

"What Every Woman Knows" is one of the best things that the Maine campus has ever witnessed and loud are the exclamations in favor of it. "Polly" Hall told us last evening that every woman knows that a man likes to achieve greatness and thinks he realizes prestige thru his own efforts solely.

WOMEN DEBATERS MEET NEW HAMPSHIRE

The first trip for the Women's Debating team was Wednesday when they met the women's debating team of the University of New Hampshire at Durham in a no decision debate. The question for debate was "Resolved: That the Jury System should be Abolished." The affirmative side was upheld by the University of Maine. The squad was composed of Fanny Fineberg, Florence Ward, and Clarine Coffin. All of these girls made good records in forensic circles in high school. The three are members of the sophomore class and this is the first time that they have represented the University in a varsity debate.

The chaperone for the girls on the trip was Mrs. McCollum, the matron of the S.A.E. house.

Story of Fatal Bob-Sled Crash at Poland

Up the long hill they climbed—this group made up of students from several of the different colleges including Maine. At the top of the hill everyone piled onto the big sled, the Wheaton girls in front, and down they whizzed! But the speed was so great that the pilot lost control and after turning the s curve, the bobsled side-swiped a tree and overturned, throwing the riders into the air.

One of the girls struck her head against a tree and her skull was fractured. The other also hit a tree and her chest was crushed.

A passing car dashed to the Mansion House for aid, and the girls were taken there too. Miss Johnson, the nurse at the University of Maine, was brought and also three doctors, but the girls had been killed instantly.

The other students on the bobsled were not seriously injured. They had been tossed into the snow as the sled came to a stop and one man received a dislocated shoulder, while the rest were slightly bruised.

Both of the girls were about nineteen years old; one was a sophomore and the other a freshman. Alice Merrick's home is in Richmond, Virginia, and Eileen Walker is the daughter of Raymond Walker of Edgartown, Massachusetts. They were both popular and well-liked girls at Wheaton College.

The twenty-four delegates from Maine to the religious conference at Poland Spring returned Sunday night. Although the fatal accident which occurred during the conference changed the motive and action of the program, the inspirational value could hardly have been greater.

Dr. Gilkey, the leader, told the news of the sad accident to the other members as they stood with bowed heads before him. Plans for the evening were changed. A half hour service was held in the lovely chapel on the hill—a service that showed the strength and faith which are the support in such a time of sudden trial.

Sunday morning, the Conference continued with its original purpose, and at two-thirty, it came to a close with a twenty-minute service led by Dr. Gilkey.

Mr. Fielder and Mr. Simpson from the M.C.A. accompanied the Maine students on this trip.

Beta Defeats Phi Mu Delta In First Final

Beta House defeated Phi Mu Delta by a slight margin in the first game of the finals Monday night. The tally of the scrimmage was 28-21 but was a far closer game than the score signifies. Several times during the game it seemed that Phi Mu might edge out the Beta team and the score was tied several times in the last half. Phi Mu put up a great battle but the consistent passing and fine shooting of the Beta boys gave them the victory. Noddy Lamb of Beta was a streak on the court that no one could seem to cover. The first half terminated 16-8 for Beta. The final twenty minutes of play staged as fast and as hard fought a battle as sport audiences at Maine have witnessed this year. The passing and floor work was almost too speedy to follow. Nutting and Plummer seizing the ball under the basket thru long passes and speedy floor work on the part of Hackett dropped in basket after basket for Phi Mu, but Fickett and Lamb of Beta House got together and dropped in the winning goals for Beta House. This is the first time that Phi Mu has ever been in the Intramural Basketball finals and they sure are fighting hard for a basketball trophy. Beta, winner of last year's tournament has a particularly strong team that has not lost once this year and has taken over the varsity. Fickett was high man of the game with 12 points and Plummer of Phi Mu with 7 points.

Summary:

Beta House: Lamb, rf, 4; Higgins, lf, 1; Fickett, c, 6; Ashworth, rg, 2; Kinney, lg, 1.

Phi Mu Delta: Knight, lf, 2; Plummer, rf, 2 (3); Nutting, c, 2 (1); Holmes, rg; Hackett, lg, 2 (1).

are Hilborn, Gleason, Vernon, H. Whitten, Sherman and Mann. This is the smallest class, but what they lack in brawn is more than offset by their speed and skill.

The most interesting bouts of all are expected in the 126 lb. to 140 lb. class. The men competing in this class are the cream of the lot. Stoughton, Weirs, Toothaker, Pitts, Kasciolek, Evans, Murphy, Nichols and Asali are the entrants.

Another fast group is in the 140 lb. to 158 lb. class. Here we find Allen, Buchanan, Daley, Leathers, Sylvester, Parker, Noyes and Buzzell, E. W.

The fourth division is the 158 lb. to 170 lb. one. Howes, LaPlant, Smith, Plummer, Wadsworth and Parsons are the headliners in this class.

The semi-final and final bouts will be held Saturday, March 16 at 1:30 P.M. just preceding the final game of the basketball tournament. Everyone is urged to attend as these men have worked hard to master the rudiments of the game, and deserve your support in appreciation of their efforts.
