American Legion Will Hold State Convention On Campus In August

University Trustees Grant Local Legion Posts Privileges of Campus for Annual Convention; Assemblies To Be Held in University Buildings

Douglas M. Beal, chairman of the Publicity committee of the O.H.M.H. post, American Legion, which with the Old Town post and other posts in Penobscot county have undertaken to entertain the next state convention of the legion in August, has sent the following communication to members of the organization:

By the courtesy of the trustees of the University of Maine, through the military department, permission has been granted O.H.M.H. post of the American Legion of Orono to hold the state convention on the campus at Orono. This comes in August.

There is not a place in the country that is more practical for a convention than at the University, with its beautiful campus and fine buildings, which are large and well equipped.

"When it becomes a crime," complains THE DICKINSONIAN, student newspaper of Dickinson College, "for a clean cut, intelligent, honest college boy to ask a passing motorist for the means to get to his home and parents during a brief vacation period, then it is time to question the discretion of legislative bodies."

The University will run the dining hall and dormitories for both the men and ladies to accommodate all comers at a very reasonable rate.

The assembly hall, with a seating capacity of 700, will be used for the convention. The auxiliary will have a building of their own.

The banquet and dance will be held in the gymnasium, which has a capacity of 800.

Aeronautical Awards Offered Univ. Students

Colorado Springs, Colo.—As a result of an unusual amount of collegiate interest in the Alexander Eaglerock Awards for 1929, both an Eaglerock airplane and an aeronautical scholarship will be awarded this year to college students, according to an announcement by J. Don Alexander, head of the Alexander Aircraft company here.

Contestants are now asked to specify whether they are competing for the Eaglerock or the four-year university scholarship. The scholarship has been established in the Daniel Guggenheim School of Aeronautics at New York University.

Four short papers on aeronautics, written by students of the University of Maine, will be presented at the convention.

New Student Forum To Commence Sunday

So much interest has been shown in various discussion groups, that this year of talking things over is going to be extended to an all-men forum on current problems of modern civilization. The object of this forum is to stimulate an inter-play of ideas on the various topics selected in the hope of securing a more impartial view of the question in hand.

The subjects selected for discussion are Capitalism vs. Socialism led by Mr. Mitchell; International Relations, Mr. Whitmore; Eugenics, Mr. Rice; and Capital Punishment, Mr. Dickinson. The place of meeting will be the M.C.A. Building as being the most convenient place and the time Sundays at 2.30 P.M.

The following schedule has been arranged:

Capitalism vs. Socialism	April 7
International Relations	April 14
Eugenics	April 28
Capital Punishment	May 5

57 A & S STUDENTS DOWN IN SCHOLASTIC STANDING

The marks in Arts and Sciences for the half semester just ended show little difference from those of last year at this period.

For upperclassmen, last year, 57 were down in their work as against 66 for the recent half-semester.

For Freshmen, last year, 54 were down in their work as against 31 for the half-semester just ended. A student who fails in one-fourth or more of his work is said to be 'shown' as the term is used above.

Cow Callers Make Hit Farmers' Week

Movietone Pictures Taken While Husky Cow Callers Contend For Honors

The twenty-third annual Farm and Home Week was held during the Easter vacation; 889 people attended and made the week the most successful of Farm and Home Weeks held by the University. The features of the week that attracted the most attention were the milking and cow-calling contests.

The milking contest, held Monday afternoon, was won by a woman entrant, Mrs. Leon O. Marshall of Bangor. Mrs. Marshall had a good lead over the other entries at the close of the event.

The far-famed cow-calling contest was held in Alumni Hall on Wednesday night. The chapel was well filled with spectators. A dozen men and women contested the event and afforded the spectators as much fun as the contestants themselves derived from it. The judges of the contest were Prof. Mark Bailey, Rev. H. C. Metzner, D.D., Mr. D. E. MacIntyre of East Waterford, and Mr. J. A. Nurse of Auburn. The judges were hard put to it to pick the winners, so evenly matched were they. Finally, however, a decision was reached.

Mr. Ross Elliot of East Corinth was awarded first prize, a silver cow bell. The presentation was made by Pres. Boardman. Ben Chase of Unity was awarded 2nd place, and Mrs. Corliss of Sherman Mills was awarded third prize.

When Mrs. Corliss had finished her call, the audience was startled to see a bear walk across the stage. At the conclusion of Mr. Chase's effort, a representation of a scrub bull waddled down the aisle and mounted the platform. The biggest surprise came at the end of Mr. Elliot's call, when a pure-bred heifer

License Fee and Lights Proposed for Hikers

New York, N. Y. (By New Student Service)—Some joker in the New Hampshire Legislature has proposed a license fee for hitch-hikers amounting to $5.50 per person. According to newspaper reports, another measure was also proposed that would require them to display two headlights and a tail light when traveling at night.

No cause for laughter is contained in the pending Pennsylvania bill, however. It follows the example of New Jersey in forbidding this most pleasant and diverting form of travel.

"Enter Madame" Will Be Presented April 10

"Enter Madame" will be presented again in the University Chapel, Wednesday, April 10, under the auspices of the Maine Masque. "Enter Madame" enjoyed great success and had a record breaking audience when it was given earlier in the season, and is being repeated to raise funds for the Masque.

The cast will remain intact with leading parts and minor roles played by the former characters with the exception of Warren MacLaren, who left school in February. His post will be filled by "Kid" Laughlin, as the dumb Japanese servant and cook.

Sylvia Gould will play the role of Madame which she took in the first performance, and George Berry will play leading man as Madame Della Robbia's husband, John Fitzgerald.

Batrice Brynton will play the part of John Fitzgerald's fiancée, Miss Aline Chalmers; and Hector Lopus, Gerald Fitzgerald's son will take the part of John Fitzgerald.

Barbara Damm will play the middle aged adventuress with a stormy disposition depicted in the role of Mrs. Preston, the widow flapper. Ruth Daggett will play the part of Madame Della Robbia's servant in the staid old motherly assistant, Bice.

Jessie Ashworth is the business like tone in the setting and the jarring note in the Italian "La Boheme" frivolity in her interpretation of Madame's secretary, Miss Smith.

Philip Gagne creates the comical role of the production in his interpretation of Madame's cook, Archimedes, and is the outstanding star of the performance. Madame's Doctor is acted by Gilbert Luce, and Gerald's Japanese servant falls into the hands of "Kid" Laughlin.

Those who saw "Enter Madame" earlier in the year or heard from its many admirers the type of drama that it is, can vouch for its furnishing two hours of excitement with many interludes of side-splitting laughter. "Enter Madame" is something really captivating and the cast is full of campus stars. They need your support and the Masque needs the money.

Emma May's Flora Mother Of Valuable Bossy

Emma May's Flora, Jersey heifer owned by the University of Maine which recently broke the state record for both milk and fat with a production of 786.3 pounds of butterfat and 15,673 pounds of milk as a senior three year old, dropped a male calf on March 4, thus qualifying for both a Silver and Gold Medal. Flora is the only cow in the state to win such an honor in her age class.

Her calf is the most valuable animal ever dropped in the University of Maine dairy herd and he will be retained for a future herd sire. His sire, Sophie's Golden Borello, has for a dam, the Medal of Merit cow, Helma of Ashwood with a record of 903.5 pounds of butterfat and 18,525 pounds of milk as a five year old, she being the highest record daughter of the first Medal of Merit bull, Holger.

This calf not only has a high record dam and grand dam, but his pedigree contains many of the greatest producers of the Jersey herd, such as Sophie 19th of Hood Farm, world's champion long distance dairy cow; Abigail of Hillside, 1197 pounds of fat and 23,677 pounds of milk; world's record for both fat and milk; Sophie's Princess Eulalia, 913 pounds of fat, 18,867 pounds of milk, present world's milk record for a junior three year old; Madeline of Hillside, 1044 pounds of fat and 20,624 pounds of milk, former world's milk champion; Sophie's Agnes, 1000.7 pounds of fat and 16,212 pounds of milk, former world's champion fat producer.

Among the noted bulls in his pedigree are the three Medal of Merit sires, Holger, Rinda of S. B. and Pogis 99th of Hood Farm and his most noted son, Hillside Toronto.

Maine Debaters Meet New York U. and Colby

It will be amusing to learn that the New York University debating team will meet the University of Maine in debate in the Chapel on April 16th. Maine's negative team journeyed to New York earlier in the season to debate N. Y. U. At the last minute the debate was cancelled due to the absence of one half of the Maine team. Later on it was discovered that the respective halves of the Maine team had been waiting for each other in opposite sides of a high school in the Harlem district. Not to be outdone the New York gentlemen are to visit Maine on the 16th of this month. It is planned to handcuff the Maine outfit a week before the debate to assure the visitors of reception, forensic as well

Trackmen Start Outdoor Practice

Track Schedule Includes Penn. Relays, New England and I. C. 4 A Meets

Training for the outdoor season of track is on in earnest. Coach Jenkins, starting his first spring track season at Maine, is unusually optimistic. He has good reason for it. The results of the recent dual meet with Bates have shown that Captain Black's men mean to repeat their remarkable record of last spring. Let us analyze the situation. Out of the 67 points scored by Maine in the State Meet last spring at Lewiston, 52 of those points are still at Maine. Bates in second place at Lewiston scored 33 points. Eleven men scored the above 52 points for Maine; all eleven are eligible and are working out daily in the indoor field.

Vic McNaughton, who scored a sensational victory over Russell Chapman, the State and New England 880 yd. champion, in the Bates meet promises to be at his best this May. Harry Richardson, State and New England champion at two miles is better by many seconds than at this time last year. Steve Mank will fight hard for the prizes in either the half or the mile.

Win Niles begins his last season for the pale blue. His second in the 440 and third in the 220 in the State Meet are good for duplication if not for betterment. Bucky Berenson and Emerson Stymiest have proved during the indoor season that Bates, Bowdoin and Colby must produce some sizzling sprinters to outdo them at their pet 100 yards.

Win Jones must carry Maine a long way in the hurdles this spring. His second in the lows looks mighty like a first this year. Win did some fine hurdling at the K. of C. meet in Boston last Jan.

Varsity Baseball Men Start Regular Work

With all the baseball aspirants now out in togs Coach Brice will try to stage a practice session Saturday on Alumni Field if the ground conditions will permit. With the exception of pitcher's berth there is plenty of material now out for the team. The men look pretty green but with a few outdoor practices Coach Brice will be able to produce a formidable club.

Hank Gouly is the only veteran left on the pitching staff. The rest of the material is green and an unknown quantity but Al Perkins and Lippy Gray stand out now as the best twirlers although when they get out it may be a different story. Perkins did creditable work on the mound last year for the Frosh with his port side offerings. Gray was ineligible for his Freshman team but he has played summer baseball and has some promise of having the goods.

The outfield will be particularly strong with three letter-men for the positions: Louie Airolti, left field; Russ Lathrop, center field; and Jim Buzzell, right field. These men are all strong on the stick work and fast in the field. Pushing these men are Charlie Dunn, Phil Brockway, and Squid Ellis. Dunn and Brockway played the field for the 1931 team and were fast and good hitters. Ellis has had quite a bit of experience as a varsity sub in the last two years.

The infield will be built around Captain Jake True and Rufus Hammond. Captain True is a flashy fielder and should show some startling stops around the hot corner this year. Hammond is a veteran first baseman of the 1927 championship team. He led the club in hitting that year.

Second and short stop presents a problem but two good men in Lee Westcott and Hen Plummer can ably handle these two jobs. Plummer has played both short and first while at Maine and his stickwork will keep him in the lineup if his eye is as good as last year. Westcott and Corbett jointly held down second last year and will continue their fight this year. With fast subs in Stewart, first, Corbett, second, Wadleigh, short, Bryant, third, the first string will be kept lumping to hold their jobs.

Bill Wells seems to have the edge on the catcher's berth at the present but Bill Seavey and John Palmer will be ready to step into his shoes if Bill slows up or loses his eye.

Many Maine Alumni With General Electric Co.

The University of Maine men with the General Electric Company (excluding the Incandescent Lamp Department) include the following:

Schenectady: W. D. Bearce, Railway; B. Bradbury, Radio; H. R. Butler, Radio; R. H. Carlton, Central Station; H. W. Chadbourne, Industrial Engineering; H. J. Chase, Test; B. R. Connell, Industrial Engineering; K. L. Cypher, Test; C. H. Flint, Test; E. E. Folsom, Test; E. G. Glidden, Drafting; P. W. Ham, Research Laboratory; R. H. Hawthorne, Drafting; E. J. Judkins, Industrial Engineering; H. P. Mayo, Switchboard Sales; W. L. Merrill, Manufacturing Methods; B. A. Perkins; W. C. Plumer, Industrial Engineering; C. A. Priest, Radio; O. H. Rosenwald, I.G.E. Company; H. E. Sennett, Radio Test; L. J. St. Clair, Manufacturing General; R. S. Strickland, Schenectady Local Office; A. F. Winslow, Research Laboratory.

Prof. French Writes In Language Journal

Application of their training in scientific German by means of reading German texts of scientific subjects in which they are interested is the system followed by classes at the University of Maine, according to an article in "The Modern Language Journal" for December, 1928, by Walter French, assistant professor of German at the University. The instructor in a science course prepares a reference list of German texts in his particular subject, from which the German instructor gives assignments which his students in scientific German. As a result, the student is led to see the connection between his study of scientific German and his study of the particular science in which he is especially interested. Professor B. F. Bram and Dr. W. L. Gilliland of the chemistry department at the University have cooperated with Professor French in working out the plan.

Student Senate To Nominate Officers Wednesday Night

Student Organizations Expected To Take Action On Improvement Of Senate; Women's Student Government Elections Next Week

The Student Senate will nominate officers for next year at a meeting Wednesday night. This will be an opportunity for fraternities and groups opposed to the Senate as it now stands to send representatives instructed to nominate officers that will accomplish what the students think should be the ends of the Senate. There has been much discussion this year on the value of the Senate. It has been claimed that it was not a representative body, and that it did not act for the good of all.

It is expected that the present officers and those alleged to be connected with the ring that have been accused of running the Senate will meet with opposition. Predictions are made that organizations interested in student government will make an attempt to rescue, what should be the most important governing body on the campus, but what has been accused of being a practically self appointed clique.

Either a change in the Senate or a radical shaping of the present officers and leaders is looked for at the Wednesday night meeting.

During the next week the women of the college will vote on the officers for their student government. Sadie Thompson, who has served as president the past year, will be succeeded by one of the following: Aline Campbell, Pauline Hall, and Martha Wasgatt.

Martha Wasgatt, this year's vice-president, will be succeeded by the choice from this group: Erma Barton, Helen Beasley, and Evelyn Winslow.

Polly Hall, the secretary for the past year, has Erma Barton, Eunice Copeland or Helen Pike as her successor.

"Lib" Livingston will have one of the following to guard the treasury for the coming year: Margaret Churchill, Muriel Freeman, Evelyn Randall.

Haverford News Backs College Editorials

Haverford, Pa. (By New Student Service)—"You can't print that. Seeing that article in a student paper the public will take it as the official opinion of the college and we can't allow that." This is the argument that keeps many college papers from printing much of anything besides colorless lecture notices and club activities. Such reasoning has also brought the axe down on the head of more than one offending editor.

For this reason the bold-face statement printed in large type above the editorial column of the HAVERFORD NEWS is worthy of notice:

"Editorials in the NEWS do not necessarily represent the opinion of a majority of the undergraduates, faculty or alumni. Intelligent discussion of such Haverford They are designed instead to arouse in problems as the NEWS believes merit the consideration of those interested in the College. Constructive communications concerning Haverford problems or the conduct of this newspaper, whether favoring or opposing the stand taken by this paper, are welcomed by the editor and will be published on this page."

Open House at Phi Kappa Heads Weekend Socials

Upsilon Chapter of Phi Kappa Fraternity will hold open house at their new home Saturday evening as the feature of the social events this week-end at the University. This informal party, open to the campus, will be the first given by the fraternity since acquiring its new home. The Spring Formal of the fraternity will be held Friday night. Hood's Merry-makers, one of the leading orchestras in the State, will furnish music for both parties. Prof. and Mrs. Stanley

Y.W.C.A. Elects Officers For Coming School Year

At Y.W.C.A. elections held Wednesday in Alumni Hall the following officers were elected, with the exception of that of the treasurer.

Rachel Matthews will be the new president, Grace Lemoine the vice-president, "Iky" Montgomery the secretary. The office of treasurer is disputed between Jean Campbell and Hazel Parkhurst, for which a new election will have to be held on Thursday.

For the past year the officers for the Y.W. have been:

Alice Webster, president; Rachel Matthews, vice-pres.; Hazel Parkhurst, secretary; "Dot" Ross, treasurer.

Applications for Trustee scholarships (see catalog, Page 57) by students in the College of Arts and Sciences should be made by April 15 to Dr. R. R. Drummond, chairman of the committee of award.

A DECISION—WHAT?

The announcement that nominations for officers for the Student Senate will be held Wednesday should be welcomed by every student in the University of Maine. It is the logical time for members of the student body to come out and make the organization what it should be. The purpose of the Student Senate should be to help the student body. It should act for the good of the majority, and not work for the selfish interests of a few.

We understand that all organizations have their faults, and that these faults are severely criticized. However, the Senate has had more than its share of faults, and the criticism it has received has been too well justified to be considered ordinary. If the Senate cannot be improved and made to be a real power on the campus as it is at present organized abolish it, and install some other form of student government.

On the other hand if the Senate as it is organized could be improved by having stronger representatives from the campus groups, and receiving more support and respect from the student body, some improvement might be made.

Several fraternities submitted plans for the Student Senate to the Campus this year. It remains to be seen whether these organizations will allow the men's student government at Maine to remain in the hands of the ring that brought so much criticism to the Senate. Will the organization that has failed so hopelessly during the past year in almost every undertaking that it started be allowed to stand, or will progressive students at Maine take action on or before Wednesday night in an attempt to improve what has been an unpopular and practically worthless organization.

RISING NIGHT

Evidence that Maine was experiencing one of the most "safe and sane" rising nights in history together with the orderly plan of the Rising Night activities which took place on Balentine Field Rising night tend to show that the "dear old fighting spirit" at Maine is gradually dying out. There were a few numerals painted about the campus during the week, but the old vigorous class rivalry seems to have died a natural death. The fight has been dying out ever since the class of 1930 when a "battle royal" was staged. A fast moving party was put on last year by the class of 1931, but it was hardly the contest fought by the present juniors. With the change in the time duration of freshman rules the time for Rising Night has been brought about at a time when it is next to impossible to stage a real Rising Night Celebration. Would it not be better to change the time duration of freshman rules to the Thanksgiving recess. This would be an ideal time for a Rising Night celebration at the close of the football season. Or if this is not satisfactory why not let what was Rising Night this year pass with the simple dropping of freshman rules, and then have a regular sophomore and freshman week later in the spring when the weather is more suitable for such a celebration. This method is used in other colleges and is proving successful. Why not try it here?

Last year the annual scrap week came before Rising Night, and proved a great success from the standpoint of class rivalry. This year there has been no scrap week, and there is little evidence to show that there will be one after Rising Night. So why not either change Rising Night to the Thanksgiving holiday, and then have the annual class scrap week in the spring at the time of the freshman banquet and the sophomore hop. With the date set as it was this year a celebration as could be held in warmer weather is out of the question.

CAST YOUR VOTE

Realizing that if the students of the University of Maine want a dean of men they must take some action to signify their desire of having the new dean, the Campus is giving the student body an opportunity to signify their wishes by a straw vote.

Below a ballot is printed. This is to be used by fraternities, dormitories, and off-campus groups to register their wishes on the position of Dean of Men at the University.

The Student Senate started taking a vote at houses on the campus, but nothing has been heard from it.

The Campus straw vote is an attempt to bring out the wishes of the students at once. It is hoped that all houses and groups on the campus will take a vote on the matter at their meetings Monday night, and send their returns to the editor of the Campus not later than Tuesday night.

Each group on the campus is entitled to send in one ballot.

ARRANGAGE EXAMINATION SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Table with columns for subject, time, and location. Includes subjects like Geology, Chemistry, Physics, and various engineering topics.

Faculty News

Prof. Pearl S. Greene attended the annual regional conference of trainers and supervisors of home economics teachers at Washington, D. C., March 11-14. The University of Maine is one of the institutions approved by the Federal Board for Vocational Education in the training of teachers of Vocational Home Economics, and graduates of the home economics department of the University are eligible to teach Vocational Home Economics in schools subsidized by Federal funds under the Smith Hughes Act. The program this year was largely concerned with the selection for High School use of newer home economics subject matter, such as child care and the choice of suitable methods of presentation for such subject matter.

Dean Cloke will attend the Student Economic Conference at Boston April 25 and 26.

During the latter part of March Professor Peterson delivered lectures on Latin-American problems at Bangor, Lubec, Steuben, Skowhegan, and Brownville Junction. The subject of Latin-America has been generally studied this year by the women's clubs of the state.

Coach Bruce has returned from Harvard where he has been attending demonstrations of football officiating.

A faculty meeting was held Tuesday afternoon.

SUNDAY VESPER SERVICE POSTPONED TO APRIL 14

The vesper service scheduled for next Sunday has been postponed to the following week, April 14, when the Rev. Cymbrid Hughes, District Superintendent of the Methodist Church for the Portland District, will be the speaker. Mr. Hughes is well known to many Maine students as a man of fine personality and ability.

Three additional services, on April 21st and May 5th and 12th, will conclude the year's program. The speaker for the 21st will be Professor Kirtley F. Mather, Chairman of the Department of Geology at Harvard University, who is nationally known as a speaker on the relation of science and religion.

Arrangements for May 5th will soon be announced, while the last meeting will be in observance of Mothers' Day.

WALLACE AND WASGATT BASKETBALL ASS'N OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Eastern Maine District of the Central Board of Basketball Officials, Stanley M. Wallace of the Physical Education Department of the University was elected president. Archie Kamenkovitz, former Maine varsity basketball star, was elected vice-president. Asa V. Wasgatt, of debating fame, secured the office of secretary and treasurer. It looks almost like a family affair. A dozen officials attended the meeting, and Mr. R. F. Johnson of the Converse Rubber Co. and a member of the Central Board of Eastern Massachusetts was a guest. Mr. Johnson gave an interesting talk on basketball conditions in Massachusetts.

Cow Callers Make Hit Farmers' Week

walked sedately down the aisle and up onto the platform, as if attracted by the mellifluous voice of Mr. Elliot. So must the mariners of old have answered the living voices of the sirens told about in the Odyssey.

As stated above, the cow-calling contest attracted wide attention. The Boston Sunday Post of March 31 ran a half page item, with pictures of the leading contestants and the scrub bull. A large amount of space was devoted to the narrative of the contest. The New York papers also played the contest up. The fame of the contest spread even farther with the result that on Thursday the Fox Movietone Corporation sent up a truckload of sound-recording machines and movie-cameras, and two operators. Mr. Lawrence Davee, a Maine graduate, who is in a responsible position in this corporation, was instrumental in having the recording made.

The pictures of the contest could not be taken in Alumni Hall, so temporary bleachers were put up in back of Winslow Hall on snow-covered ground. The cameras and sound recorders were set up in the doorway of the stock-judging pavilion. Five hundred of those present during the week were persuaded to sit on the bleachers despite a biting cold wind, while the contest was restaged and the pictures and vocal records were taken. The movie-men took over 900 feet of film in picturing the contest. These pictures and sounds will be seen and heard by millions throughout the nation—magnificent publicity for the university.

Mr. Russell, manager of the Bangor Opera House, has stated that the pictures will be exhibited there at some future date to be announced later.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor, Campus, Dear Sir:

As a freshman, I wish to ask just what is the significance of Rising Night in our college life. I have been under the impression that Rising Night was that glorified moment when the frosh signed their declaration of independence. This year, we as a rebel class, looked forward to this night of self-reliance with great expectancy. We were happy to think that we were to be privileged as sophomores earlier than usual and we were eager to show our appreciation for Women's Student Government's trust in us. We have been disappointed. We are not privileged. We have risen, only to fall again. Hardly a victory, one would say! unless constituted by the absence of our helmets.

Why was Rising Night! A mere mockery, since we are frosh today as much as ever. Why were the conditions not realized when the plans were first outlined and just what are we expected to acquire in these few weeks until May 1st. Poise, self-reliance, and honesty can hardly be acquired with the same Mexican-like rapidity which has characterized the change of plans these last few weeks.

Sincerely yours,
A freshman Co-ed

Dear Sir:
We wish to thank you for your letter of the 20th inst., in which you express your willingness to co-operate with us in every way to prevent the promiscuous interference of the cards which are running in the street cars in Bangor.

Apparently, you have done all that could be done under the circumstances, and while we realize that the students' actions are purely in the spirit of fun, if it is called to their attention that it results in serious difficulty for others, they will no doubt be quite willing to comply with your requests to leave the cards intact.

We would be very glad to supply the students with copies of any particular cards which they might fancy, if they will make the request of us.

Assuring you of our appreciation of your co-operation, we are Very truly yours,
N. E. Ryerson

J. N. Hart, Dean of the University, and Paul Cloke, Dean of the College of Technology, will visit high and preparatory schools at Rumford, Auburn, Lewiston and vicinity April 8 to 10. On April 3 they will address the Rotary Club of Rumford.

Dean Cloke will also give an address at the Henry D. Moore Parish House in Steuben April 11.

Trackmen Start Outdoor Practice

Trackmen, being barely nosed out in the semifinals by McDonald, the former Holy Cross star.

In the jumps the blue should hold its own with Charlie O'Connor surpassing both his marks in the high and broad jumps at Lewiston a year ago. Cuozzo, a close to six foot jumper, will not be eligible this spring.

Capt. Rip Black has the delicate task of repeating his record of 16 points scored. Rip is the pick of the State in the hammer without question. In the javelin throw, the shot put, and the discus, Maine's Hercules may spring some satisfying surprises. Bill Gowell, the State and New England champion at the discus throw, looms head, shoulders, and hips above any other State of Maine. It is reported that Bill has thrown the discus close to 145 feet in practice.

Phil Becker is eligible from his mid-semester reports. It will be hard to keep Becker from winning the pole-vault this spring, as he is co-champion with Trin Harding of the State and New England in his speciality.

But there is one sad, sad story in the camp of Jenkins. Bud Lindsay, cross-country star and holder of the State record in the one mile run, will be lost to the Maine team, on account of those objects that they sell in the Book-store. This is a bitter blow to the dreams of a third New England championship.

Campus Notes

The Strand Theatre will entertain at a free show Tuesday evening all Maine students wearing an "M".

Twenty-two senior chemists and chemical engineering students from the University of Maine, in charge of Dr. C. A. Brauntlecht, inspected industrial manufacturing plants in or about Boston during the week of March 17th. An excellent opportunity was offered to supplement and correlate some of the work in classes during the year, by observing the manufacture of petroleum products, paper, wall board, refined sugar, roofing papers, floor coverings, coke, coal and water gas, chemicals, industrial alcohol, paints, varnishes, blast furnace iron, drugs, face and dental creams, rubber goods, enamelled ware, soap, brass, bronze and white alloys. A large number of industrial control and research laboratories, together with one commercial chemical laboratory were included. Those who went on this trip can now visualize a variety of commercial chemical processes, plant personnel, location and size of equipment and economic factors. They now also have a better appreciation of modern industry, and of the work of the chemist and chemical engineer.

The regular meeting of the Civil Club will be held in 14 Wingate Hall, Thursday, April 11, at 7.00. The speaker of the evening will be Mr. H. L. Doten, Asst. Bridge Engineer of Maine. His subject will be: Maine Highway Bridges. All Civils are urged to attend this meeting.

The senior girls will hold a tea in honor of all the faculty members Saturday afternoon from 3:30 until 5 in the Valentine sun parlors. Carlisa Mutty and Ruth Daggett will pour.

There will be a meeting of the Arts Club Saturday night at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Bailey in Orono. Mrs. Huddleston will speak about Hawaii.

Prof. Alexander Klemin, head of the Guggenheim school at New York University, is chairman of the committee which will select the successful candidate for the scholarship. A second committee, composed of prominent Colorado educators, aeronautical engineers and pilots of the Alexander Aircraft company, will award the Eaglerock. The awards will be made June 1.

The contest is intended to interest American college students in commercial aviation, now rated ninth in the ranks of American industries.

Conquering the Cascades
SNOW falls every month in the year where the Great Northern crosses the Cascades. Steep, tortuous grades increase the difficulty of the railroading problem. Nature has stubbornly resisted man's effort to conquer the range.
In January, 1929, the new Cascade tunnel was opened. Man, with electricity as an ally, had conquered the Cascades.
The eight-mile bore was driven in three years—a record impossible without electric power. And electrification has been extended to the entire 75-mile route through the mountains.
The conquests of electricity on the land and on the sea, in the air, and underground, are making practicable the impossibilities of yesterday. As our vision encompasses wider horizons, electricity appears as a vital contribution to future industrial progress and human welfare.

Both were emancipators

While Lincoln was freeing the slaves by war, McCormick by his invention of the reaper was freeing the farmers from needless toil.

The telephone today is adding to man's freedom by saving time and effort on a scale unknown in earlier civilizations.

Itself an expression of progress, the telephone offers increasing opportunities to men who look and plan ahead. Workers in the Bell System, whether in technical or business activities, are constantly developing the vision into the fact of better public service.

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

"Will the gentleman who just coughed, kindly step to the box office . . . for a package of Old Golds?"

"Of course, I have never said just those words from the stage—but in all kindness I have often wanted to offer this friendly help to some poor fellow whose cough was interrupting the show and spoiling the enjoyment of those around him.

"A year or so ago, the makers of OLD GOLD ran some ads on the disturbing effect of coughing in theatres. As an actor, I was grateful for those ads. I am more grateful now that OLD GOLD has invited stage folk to help them bring 'first aid' information to our unhappy friends the 'theatre-coughers.'

"My own advice is that prevention is the best aid. The kind of prevention that smoking OLD GOLDS gives. Harsh tobacco irritates the throat, and that causes coughing. Changing to OLD GOLDS soothes the throat and removes the cause of the 'cough tickle.'"

(SIGNED) Groucho Marx

WHAT SHOULD THE M.C.A. DO FOR FRESHMEN?

This question will be discussed on Tuesday evening in the M.C.A. Building April 9th at 7:00 o'clock. Any interested freshmen are invited to attend.

Thomas Baldwin, chairman of the Freshman Cabinet membership committee, is in charge of the meetings. He has written a personal note to several who are especially interested, but an invitation is extended to all.

On the basis of what this group considers the primary objects to which the M.C.A. should work, next year's plans will be formulated. What questions do freshmen want answered? What can the M.C.A. do for freshmen?

W.A.A. SUBSTITUTE PLAY DAY FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

The Women's Athletic Association has decided to substitute a "Play Day" on May 25 for the annual Picnic. To this "Play Day", fourteen neighboring high schools will be invited to send representatives, about sixty or seventy girls are expected.

The Athletic Association is to have charge of the whole event. Committees are now being formed to plan the entire entertainment.

This day is to take place on the same day as the Men's Interscholastic Meet. It is planned to have the girls observe the finals of the meet. This day is to be the first of its kind at Maine. Its purpose is to introduce our college to these outside girls and to afford an opportunity for meeting them, as well as to have a good time.

The features of the day have not yet been decided upon, but the idea is—there is to be no interscholastic competition. The spirit is to be on a friendly basis, purposes to be carried out?

Wallace will be the chaperones.

Spring has come, all the tiresome, homesick, dragged out feeling has been scattered by the promise of warm breezes and lawns that will soon be ready for baseball. As the victrolas one by one appear on the piazzas, and blazers with plus fours make their first united bow to the season, social committees everywhere are beginning to feel that it is time for another party—a different party—what shall it be? Not so different after all.

Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu are entertaining with a poverty party Saturday night. Phi Kappa Sigma is having an informal Friday night. Sigma Tau will hold an informal dance in honor of their pledges at Balentine on that night. Phi Sigma is giving a stag dance Friday, the first for some time, and will doubtless be well attended.

The Freshman girls wishing to repeat the success of their former party are entertaining at Monitor Hall on Saturday night. Going a step beyond that which they took before, each Frosh co-ed may invite another girl and her partner.

Several formals have been held but most are yet quite far away. On Thursday, however, the Chi Omega initiation banquet will be held in the Bangor House and they are holding their formal at the Penobscot Valley Country Club on Friday.
