Class Primaries Are Postponed Until Tuesday

Primary nominations and elections of class officers have been postponed one week according to an announcement of Milton Kent, president of the Student Senate.

The elections were postponed because the ranks of the candidates will not be available until next week and if the elections were held before grades were issued ineligible persons might be elected to office, and thus make other elections necessary.

College politicians have a new lease of life with the postponed elections, and northern and southern league forces are expected to be unusually active during the coming week in an attempt to keep their candidates from being cut at the primary nominations Tuesday evening.

The following week efforts will undoubtedly be centered on getting votes and pushing things for the election to be held Tuesday, December 3.

Maine Takes Second In N.E. Cross Country Meet Held at Boston

Though Harry Richardson and Francis Lindsay of Maine, led the pack for the third consecutive year, the Bates Cross Country team scored an overwhelming victory in the New England Intercollegiate Cross-Country championship Nov. 18 at Franklin Field. Bates had a total of 30 points to Maine's 52.

The freshman event went to the New Hampshire team, which scored 57, ten points better than Bates, which finished second. This race, a three and a half miles event, was won by Corydon Jordan of Bates, in 17 minutes 6 1-5 seconds. E. T. Cummings of Tufts was second in 17 minutes, 22 seconds, and David Demoulied of New Hampshire third in 17 minutes 22 1-5 seconds.

In the varsity event, Richardson and Lindsay crossed the finish line together in 27 minutes, 35 3-5 seconds. The judges, however, awarded first place to the former: H. A. Hazen of New Hampshire was third in 28 minutes, 12 2-5 seconds and the next five to finish were Bates runners.

The varsity team scores follow:

Bates, 30; Maine, 52; Mass. Institute of Tech, 107; New Hampshire, 121; Northeastern, 164; Rhode Island State, 168; Tufts, 187; Conn. Aggies, 191; Amherst, 232; Massachusetts Aggies, 235; Boston University, 244.

The freshman team scores: New Hampshire, 57; Bates, 67; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 73; Tufts, 85; Maine, 86; Northeastern, 148; Rhode Island State, 151.

Mary McLoon and Frank Rufo To Give Dancing Features In Spanish Play

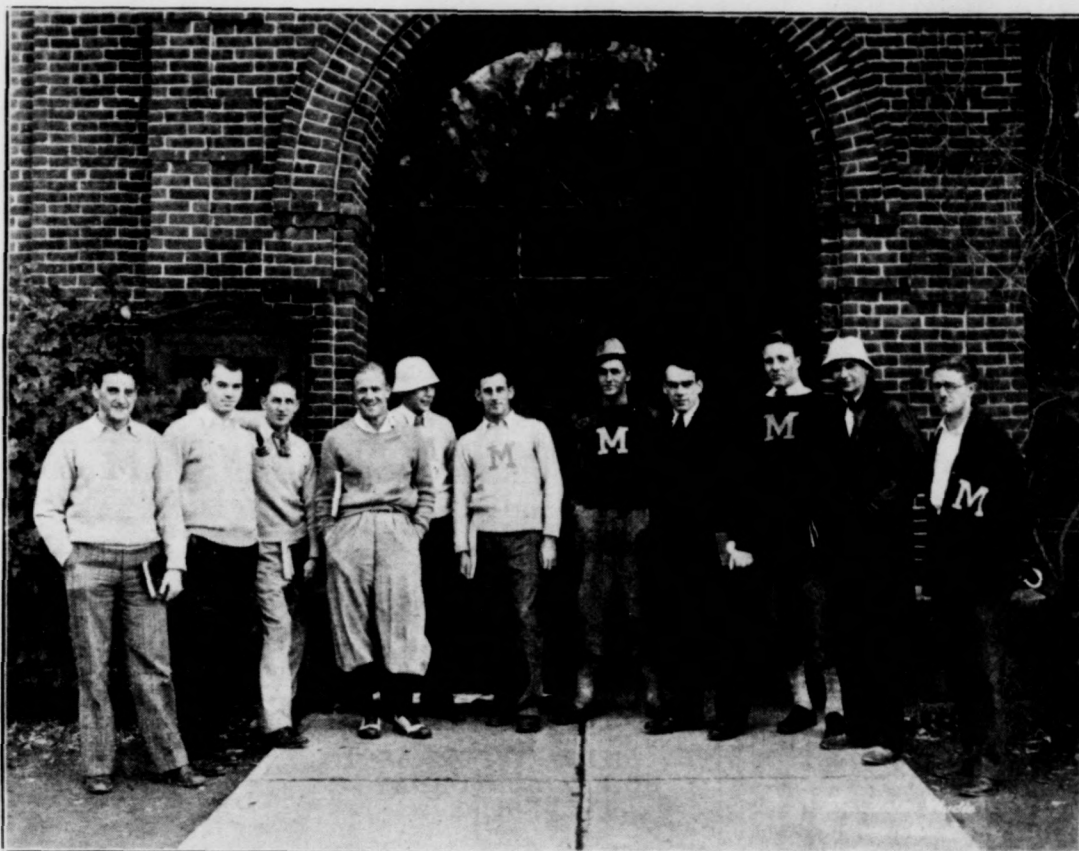

Many added attractions are now being placed upon the Spanish Club program to make this affair one to be long remembered.

Miss Mary McLoon is to appear in several varied dancing exhibitions assisted by Frank Rufo. "La Jota", a famous Spanish dance, is to be presented by these two as well as the usual tango and waltz dances so familiar to dance followers. Perhaps the most distinctive feature of the whole evening will be a gymnastic dance by Miss McLoon assisted by twenty young men. The name of this dance is "Hoy Sevilla esta de fiesta" and in it Miss McLoon dances with each of the twenty men and also gives a gymnastic exhibition which has never before been presented on the campus.

A new star has been added to the program in the person of Samuel Calderwood. This young man is already well known on the campus for his athletic prowess and holding the position of President of the Freshman Class but now he will be seen in a new role. Calderwood is to be the leader in a pleasing flashlight song and dance number known as "Media Luy". He will have a chorus of fourteen men and women to help him in this number.

Miss Katherine Veazie is to render a solo on the famous Spanish song "Estrellita". Miss Veazie has a pleasing voice which the audience will be sure to appreciate.

Senior Skull Society Active In College Work

Eleven Seniors Lead In Athletics and Campus Projects

One of the most outstanding organizations on the Maine campus is the Senior Skull Society, composed of the members of the Senior class who are outstanding in college activities. It is one of the greatest honors at Maine to be a member of this organization.

These eleven men who now comprise this body are prominent men in college.

Lee Wescott, president of the Senior Skulls, is an all round athlete, having made his letter in varsity baseball and being both a relay man and a trackster of marked ability in the quarter mile. He was the outstanding man on last year's baseball nine. He is a member of Phi Sigma, the honorary forestry fraternity and Phi Eta Kappa.

Milton Kent was awarded his letter in varsity basketball his sophomore year. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, and President of the Student Senate at Maine.

Jack Moran was one of the outstanding football players in the state in 1928. He was president of the junior class and a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Frosh Debating Teams Working on Disarmament Topic

Mr. Bricker, who is in charge of the debating teams of the University, announces that the Freshman Debating team, the first ever to be formed at Maine is beginning to take definite shape, and that questions for discussion and teams to be debated are already being arranged for.

The candidates for the Freshman Debating Team have been divided into three groups, each of which will be placed under the guidance of a member of the Varsity Debating Team. Mr. Ankeles, Mr. Mayers, and a third, as yet unannounced, leader will have charge of the groups, and each group will individually develop the question of Disarmament. The three teams will then meet each other in competition to determine which team will represent the University in the debates with other schools. Keene Normal School's Debating Team has already agreed to debate the Freshman Debating Team, and other debates are to be secured if possible.

Mr. Bricker admitted that he was well pleased with the showing made by the Freshman candidates, and stated that he expected more aspirants to put in their appearance before the teams begin the elimination debates. The Freshman Debating Team will meet on Monday, November 18.

Frosh Prepare For Active Hoop Season

Now that varsity basketball has been banished interest will necessarily center around the Freshman basketball squad and their performances on the court. Promises bid fair for a fast crew of hoopmen this year. There is plenty of the best of prep school and high school material at hand for Coach Kenyon to work with.

About sixty-five freshmen have reported to Manager Cheney for practice and work will begin in earnest this week. As time goes on the regular method of reducing the squad will be resorted to and many men will be dropped from the practice list.

There are some outstanding stars in togs at present and many more will probably report before the week is very far advanced. Some old basketkeeters that presented themselves on the court Tuesday night were: Peter Talbot of St. John's Prep, Alfred and Albert McMichael of Pittsfield, former M. C. I. stars, Hall of Hebron, Kaukikis of E.M.C.S. and a former Edward Little flash, and Cane of Sheadd Memorial High.

The Maine Campus will not be published Thanksgiving Day.

Dr. Fitch Quoted In Science Journal

In a recent issue of the German scientific magazine, "Zeitschrift für physikalische Chemie", quotations were made from the work of Dr. A. L. Fitch, head of the Department of Physics, and W. E. Meserve, who obtained his Master's degree in physics at Maine in 1927.

In a thesis for the degree of Ph.D. Dr. Fitch advanced and proved that the amount of film formed which causes rectification on the plates of the aluminum rectifier so commonly used in the so-called "trickle charger" is proportional to the quantity of electricity which passes through the cell. Meserve then verified this theory by resistance measurements, while E. M. Dunham, former student and instructor in the Physics Department, reached the same conclusion by capacity measurements.

Recently W. J. Muller and K. Konopicky of the Institut für chemische Technologie anorganischer Stoffe der Technischen Hochschule in Vienna, by entirely different methods, arrived at the same result, and in their article, "Zur Kenntnis des Anodischen Verhaltens des Aluminiums", state that the work of Fitch and Meserve is a substantial check on their investigations.

Masque Comedy "Dulcy" Plays To Large Audience

The Masque comedy, "Dulcy" played last Thursday to one of the largest audiences that has ever attended a Masque play and an audience which showed by its hearty applause and thorough appreciation that it enjoyed the play thruout. Caroline Cousins as Dulcinea Smith, the leading lady, dashed to fame overnight by her clever acting. The role of Dulcy called for some very proficient acting and Miss Cousins demonstrated that she was capable of handling so difficult a role in the finest manner and stamped herself undeniably as one of the best actresses on the campus.

Too much cannot be said for the two other stars of the play, Milledge Beckwith as Mr. C. Roger Forbes and C. Munro Getchell as Vincent Leech. Mr. Beckwith carried the role of an austere business man thruout the performance, never once lapsing into any attitude or making the slightest grimace that would allow him to appear out of his character. Thru the stormy fits of anger which he indulged in and the intricacies of the business problems he found himself confronted with, he carried himself like a veteran.

Munro Getchell added another link to his chain of successes when he demonstrated his technique in interpreting the role of the eccentric, effeminate Mr. Leech the none too well liked scenario writer. This role was probably the most difficult in the comedy and could have been well presented by only a clever actor. Mr. Getchell may be complimented for lending a real melodramatic and artistic touch to the "two hours traffic" of "Dulcy."

Christmas Handicap Will Be Held Dec. 14

There has been a good deal of false rumor about the campus that there would be no Christmas Handicap Meet held this year, contrary to custom. Many track men have expressed their desire that such a meet would be held. It may readily be seen that the interest in track is still keen at Maine.

Coach Jenkins announces that there will be a Christmas Handicap Meet held on December 14, just before Christmas holidays. All track men are encouraged to obtain track suits and running shoes and report for practice at the Indoor Gym. The Annual Christmas Handicap Meet will be run off by Arthur C. Holbrook, Manager of Relay.

Others who received commissions are: Captains: David R. Kingman, Arthur L. Chilton, James P. Ashworth, Russell V. Lathrop; 1st Lieutenants: Milledge M. Beckwith, Robert M. Scott, Frank R. Hinkley, Howard O. DeCoster, George A. Ramsdell, Horace L. Caler, Galen I. Veayo (Band); 2nd Lieutenants: George M. Hargreaves, Kenneth E. Lapworth, William C. Wells, Donald H. Fogg, Horace F. Flynn, Joseph Schultz, Timothy J. Ryan, Norton H. Lamb, Thomas E. Crocker, Ward B. Cleaves, Ogden Flint, Linwood G. Cheney, Willard J. Perry, George G. Berry.

Posse Nissen Defeats Varsity Hockey Team In Close Contest

Maine's varsity hockey team displayed good clean hockey in their game, lost to Posse Nissen 1-0 in Lexington, Mass. Saturday. Those who made the trip were: Jeanette Roney, manager, "Spud" Churchill, "Stubby" Burrell, Clara Richardson, Sylvia Gould, "Chip" Lewis, Hazel Parkhurst, "Red" Findlen, Polly McCreeley, Ellen Mullaney, Esther Moore, Rachel Mathews, Rebecca Mathews, Grace Lemoine, Muriel Friedman, "K" Trickey, Barbara Hunt, Anna Buck, "Ikey" Montgomery, Eleanor Mahoney.

That all time spent on the train was not taken up by hockey-rule tests is evidenced by the remarkable knowledge gathered as regards negro waiters. It has been rumored that Spud Churchill spent several hours in Balentine's dining room trying to imitate the waiters' careless handling of trays.

Although there was not a great deal of time to spend in seeing Boston, the high lights within reasonable distance of the team's stopping-off place were pointed out.

After a morning spent either in shopping or visiting the Maine team went to the Posse Nissen Gym School, and from there to Lexington High School's field where the game was played. Many alumni who are working or studying in Boston, (Continued on Page Four)

BOXING STARTS DEC. 2

Boxing practice will begin December 2 when Coaches Bill Kenyon and Bill Daley will call out candidates to prepare for competition in the Interfraternity boxing tournament. Last year the boxing was outstanding among sports events at Maine.

Cups will be awarded for various classes to be determined after the squad comes out.

The coaches expect a large number of men to turn out for the sport. If sufficient interest is shown in intramural boxing this year it may lead to a varsity boxing team for Maine in the near future.

BATES AND DAVE MOREY

Under the leadership of Coach Dave Morey Bates College has taken a sudden spurt into the athletic spotlight this year. With the Maine state football title and the New England cross country crown to their credit the Lewiston school seems right in condition to go ahead by leaps and bounds for a real "Bates year."

The long stride forward in athletics made by Bates this season is an altogether healthy thing for college athletics in the State of Maine. It is not good for any one team to hold the crown indefinitely. Such a condition breaks down the interest, and when the public interest in college sport goes the sport goes with it, as varsity basketball went at the University of Maine this year.

Coach Morey has received praise for his good work from all parts of the country, and the Bates student body should also be backed up for the great spirit with which they backed the teams this season.

If Morey stays at Bates, and all seem to hope that he will but have a secret feeling that he will not, there is little question but that the Garnet will continue to shine in sports. However, if Mr. Morey does decide to go to some other school he will leave behind him at Bates a spirit that cannot fail to have a lasting effect.

The newspapers of New England have been praising Morey "to the sky" and he deserves it for by coming to Bates this year he has pulled Maine state athletics out of a hole into which they were gradually settling.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day, the day of feasting and making merry and giving thanks will be celebrated by a thanksgiving dinner at a dormitory or fraternity house by most students at Maine this year. Last year the week-end including Thanksgiving Day was given as a vacation. Most students considered this very satisfactory but when the Christmas vacation was cut short the usual trouble started. If the students want the Thanksgiving week-end they should make it known to the Student Senate and let the proper action be taken. If they do not wish to have the question of a Thanksgiving vacation considered by a representative student body they should accept things as they are and blame themselves if they are not satisfied.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Sixty-five men have reported for freshman basketball and it looks like a good year for Coach Kenyon and his charges. The dissatisfaction over the dropping of varsity basketball should add to the support of the freshman team.

Correspondence

Editor of the Campus:

Dear Sir:

That the University of Maine has worked as a cooperative unit has always been presumed, no doubt, by the majority of students who possibly have had no opportunity to discover otherwise. However, when the test was made recently (and not intentionally) to prove the co-worker spirit, the disappointment and surprise forthcoming was no little revelation.

In seeking to find suitable properties and stage equipment for the presentation of Dulcy, the seekers thereof were forced to accept a veritable slam-door refusal to every request. Probably those who turned deaf ears to pleas for even meagre assistance, supposed that the Alumni stage was a lavishly installed one; that the beautiful baby grand which shakes a tottering instep, warbles every other two keys, and is minus a saving back or front, was a sufficiently graceful adornment without even a redeeming touch of linseed oil to improve each shining smudge. Possibly too, they were under the innocent-eyed impression that the Masque was an incomparably wealthy organization, exhibiting only bold cheek by presuming to ask favors.

No one was disappointed in the stage setting of the recent play; but let it be known that what stage decorations were not bought with just so much actual silver and bills, were borrowed from Bangor stores, because of refusal of them from college authorities.

There's a black mark smutting up the boy scout act in Maine! What about a general get-together in cooperation the next time?

M. H. '32

To the Editor of the Campus:

Dear Sir:

We would like very much to have opinions on the following question.
It has been said that athletic women get their men. Whether or not this is true is open to discussion, but a little episode which occurred last week in Arts and Sciences, makes us believe there is something to it. Several idle youths, while loitering outside Miss Buchanan's lecture-room, very foolishly decided to disturb the class enclosed therein, by a series of loud knocks on the door, followed immediately by the louder sound of retreating feet. The offense was committed twice before Miss Buchanan, in rightful indignation, pursued the truant who was fortunate in escaping. He, or one of his accomplices was not so fortunate, however, when after Miss Buchanan had again resumed her class, a third knock was heard. This time Miss Lengyel, an active member of the class was promptly in pursuit. She had been seated at the farther end of a long table, but pushing everything before her she was out in the corridor before the criminal had a chance to disappear. She dashed down the stairs after him, gaining speed as he likewise did, seeing the need of it. Before he could reach the outer door Miss Lengyel had her man by the scruff of the neck.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, we would like to know if we are not justified in finding some truth in the aforementioned statement? What does the student body think?

Most sincerely,

F. R. E. '32

Miss Phyllis Gould has been elected manager of archery. She is filling the office left vacant by Olive Perkins '31, who did not return to college this year.

Read 'Em And Weep

They were discussing literature. "Yes," she remarked. "It is said that Carlyle often spent hours over a single paragraph."

"Why that's nothing," he replied, "I know a fellow that spent six years on a single sentence."

Offspring: "Yes, Dad, I'm a big gun up here at Maine."
Wise Father: "Well, then why don't I hear better reports?"

PROBABLY THE TRUTH

"To what do we owe our astonishing increase in sales?" asked the president of the Lucky Strike Company.

"To the number of cigarettes sold to the Old Gold Company for Blindfold tests," was the reply of the sales manager. —Colgate Banter.

This is the period when cultured civilization reverts back to the reign of terror—look at the red lights on the campus, and the effervescent onions about you in classes, as well as the wild tales of counting the bricks in the new smokestack, puzzling out inscriptions on gravestones and acting like a nincompoop in a Hula Hula evening gown astride a soapbox. Such are the ways of fraternity oafs.

College daughter: "Father, why DO you pour your coffee into the saucer?"
Father: "My stars! You at college and not know that. Why, to cool it, of course."

Teacher: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"
Willie (after three minute's pause)—"At the bottom."

PERFECT?

She was extremely beautiful.
"Do you smoke?" I asked confidentially.

"No," shyly.
"And don't you drink or swear?"
"No," with a blush.
"Do you occasionally—ah—pet?"
"Oh, never."
"Would you date, then?"
"Perhaps on Sunday afternoon, to go to a lecture you know."

"Do you know any—mm—that is, off-color stories?"
"I have never listened to or read anything that would be unfit to print in the Christian Science Monitor."

I remembered I had an important engagement.
"Wait," she protested, as I started to walk away. "I have one fault—"
"So!" I remarked dubiously.
"Yes," she answered, "I am a terrible liar."

"What's the trouble, son?" asked the lineman of his three year old son.
"Daddy," answered the child, "I picked up a little bug and one end wasn't insulated."

WHAT ANATOMY IS

A little negro school girl down in Florida, in answer to this question, wrote the following:

"Anatomy is a human body. It is divided into three parts, the head, the chest and the stummock. The head holds the skull and the brains if they is any, the chest holds the liver and the lites, and the stummock holds the entrails and the vowels which are a, e, i, o and u and sometimes w and y."

Unfortunate co-ed (who has just been operated on for appendicitis): "Oh, doctor, do you think the scar will show?"

Doctor: "It ought not to."

"Are you a letter man?"
"No, sir. She might want to, but I don't letter."

"Where did you take that memory course?"
"I don't remember."

Party leaders the country over do not have to worry about future national politicians, judging by the way the local campaigns are progressing. "As Maine goes, so does the nation."

Soph: "I spent a lot of money at Kelly pool this summer."

Frosh: "Did you like it as well as Hot Springs?"

Last spring the Maine Christian Association Cabinet formulated a plan intended to be of benefit to freshman girls living off campus. This plan provided for a series of interest groups to be held weekly under the direction of the women's M.C.A. chairman of freshman girls. Up to the present time little interest or enthusiasm has been shown on the part of the freshman women. It was thought that the proposed spring retreat and the election of a cabinet representative would be an incentive, but little interest is being taken in this activity.

The Maine Outing Club members went on a hike Saturday afternoon. They had supper on Standpipe Hill. About twenty men and women made up the party. Supper was cooked over an open fire. A stag dance will be held in the gymnasium Friday evening under the auspices of Phi Sigma fraternity. The music will be by Harold Lloyd's Harmonica.

This final emblem is one of the highest honors that a woman can earn in athletic work at Maine.

Professor Roy M. Peterson addressed the Language Conference at its regular meeting at the University Inn on Monday evening.

He took as his subject, Echoes of the Italian Resurgiments in Contemporary American literature.

Tuesday evening Professor and Mrs. Peterson entertained sixteen of the Spanish minors at dinner and bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Kent entertained about a dozen members of the Faculty Club at dinner on Wednesday evening.

PROF. JONES ADDRESSES DAIRYMEN'S ASS'N.

Prof. Maurice D. Jones of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management at the University of Maine addressed the annual meeting of the Maine Dairymen's Association at Lewiston November 20 on the subject "Essential Requirements in Market Milk Production."

Professor Wood, Clarine Coffin, Wilfred Davis, John Cutler, and Linwood Elliott were initiated at the fall initiation of the Contributors' Club Friday, November 15.

Prof. George Simmons of the Agronomy Department will attend and act as one of the judges at the meetings of the Maine Seed Improvement Association. These meetings are to be held in Lewiston November 19, 20, and 21.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT VESPER SERVICES

The vesper service Sunday was attended by a large number of people. The program was as follows: prelude, Professor Smith; scripture reading, William Flynt; psalm 103; v. 1-24, John 8; v. 3-11; vocal solo, "Lead Thou Me Home," Sarah Pike; and a dramatization, "The Bishop's Candlesticks."

The bishop was well portrayed by Atwood Levensaler, while the part of his sister was equally well done by Edna Grange. John Barry showed skill in the role of an escaped convict, who was converted by the bishop at the close of the act. Dorothy Mayo was a maid to the Bishop's sister. Prescott Ward acted as one of the citizens in the bishop's diocese.

Professor Smith concluded the program with an organ selection.

GIRLS CLOSE SUCCESSFUL HOCKEY SEASON

After a successful autumn, the girls hockey season is over for another year. For the first time interclass games have been played. The laurels were won by the sophomore class. The varsity defeated Bangor High, 3-1; Jackson College 8-0; Conn. Aggies 4-1. They were defeated at Stamford, Conn. by the Fairchester Hockey Club 4-1. The freshman team developed rapidly and contained many promising players among whom the captain, Dorothy Ross, Ellen Mullaney, Thelma Shea, Rachel and Rebecca Matthews deserve mention.

BIOGRAPHIES

Biographies of all kinds, auto- and otherwise, are making up the noticeable bulk of recent new books in the university library.

Voltaire by John Viscount Morley might appeal to those interested in French history or language, and even for the journalists, there's an undeniably fine biography of Horace Greeley.

The COCK-EYED WORLD, a talking picture, which broke all records at the Roxy Theatre in New York City is coming to the Strand Theatre in Orono Friday and Saturday. Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, the stars of "What Price Glory," have the leading part in this smashing sequel to that epic of love, laughter and battle by the same authors. Lily Damita has the leading feminine role.

Mr. Goldsmith, manager of the Strand Theatre wishes to announce that he has secured a special holiday attraction that great musical comedy, "Broadway Melody," which will be presented Thanksgiving Day. It is an all talking and singing picture with Charles King, Anita Page and Bessie Love in the leading roles. It is well worth seeing again.

Monday and Tuesday a Warner Bros. all-talking picture, "THE GAMBLERS" will be shown. The cast includes some of the best stars, headed by H. B. Warner, Lois Wilson and Jason Robards. It is based on the stage play by the same name, and exposes some of the dealing that takes place in so-called big business or gambling.

If Frances Fuger '31, and Charles Roberts '31, will present this page at the box office they will receive a free pass to any performance.

SIGMA MU SIGMA HOLDS INITIATION

After much conjecturing, and discussion, the queer actions of several people in the library Monday night, were voted to be due to Sigma Mu Sigma initiation. Those initiated were Helena Johnson '30, Paul Giddings '29, Grace Lemoine '31, John Sturgis '31, Charles Schlosberg '30, and Gloria Wadleigh '31. At a meeting of the Sigma Mu Sigma Society members November fourth, the new members were decided upon. The meeting was held at Professor Brush's apartment at the Inn. Besides the members Dr. Dickinson and Mr. Wedell of the Psychology Department were present. After the meeting refreshments were served by the hosts.

The November meeting of the Arts Club was held at the home of Professor and Mrs. J. H. Ashworth. Professor Drummond spoke on "Impressions of Germany."

PRIVATE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE TO BE INSTALLED ON CAMPUS

The installation of a private branch telephone system on the campus will probably be completed by the time this issue appears. The new system will enable all of the institution's telephone communication to be handled by an exchange located on the campus, thus making for quicker and better service. The fraternities and dormitories will not be included in the new system. Five trunk lines will be run to Orono and two to Bangor. This system will do away with calling central by the crank system and central may be called by lifting the receiver.

LIBRARY HOLDS EXHIBIT OF EARLY AMERICAN TEXTS

Early American texts furnished a fascinating study last week for those interested in education. Several classes were conducted to the library where Mr. Ibbotson and his assistants arranged tables for the display. Old copies of the famous hornbook and well known New England Primer were gathered from various towns in Maine and lent to the library through the courtesy of the owners. The really excellent collection in the University library has been added to from year to year by such means. If any old texts of this nature are available, they will be gladly accepted for the enlargement of this interesting department.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR PENNY CARNIVAL

An innovation has been introduced in the plans for penny carnival this year. Each class will have charge of one phase of the affair. The freshmen will be in charge of decorations; sophomores, refreshments; juniors, entertainment; seniors, publicity. It is expected that inter-class competition will be strong. This Carnival, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association will be held January 10, 1930.

The women's department of the athletic association also voted to send six delegates to the Bates Play Day. The "Play Day" is a new institution. Representatives come from schools all over the state to compete in various sports. Its fundamental aim is play for its own sake, rather than play for the sake of winning.

TECHNOLOGY SMOKER

There was an All-Technology Smoker held in 30 Coburn Hall, Wednesday, Nov. 17. Each division put on an act of some kind. The biggest act put on by the mechanicals seemed to be the distribution of apples, Eskimo Pies, peanuts, and cigars. The chemicals gave a skit entitled "There Ain't no Santa Claus." Professor Weston in his droll and rambling manner spoke through a haze of smoke on the meaning of success. Success, he said, is doing work that you enjoy and receiving with it a fair amount of cash.

All in a day's work for telephone men

A specimen of construction work in the Bell System is the new catenary span carrying telephone wires across the Gila River, Arizona. The "natural" obstacle is no longer an obstacle while there are telephone men to find a way through it or over it.

This is but one example in a general expansion program. Others are such widely varied projects as linking New York to Atlanta by cable, erecting 200 telephone buildings in 1929, developing a $15,000,000 factory at Baltimore.

The telephone habit is growing apace, and the Bell System will continue to keep a step ahead of the needs of the nation.

MAINE VARSITY ARCHERY TEAM DEFEATED

The Maine varsity archery team was defeated in the first telegraph meet of the season. The total scores were: University of Maine 519, Connecticut Agricultural College 888, Syracuse University 888, and Smith College 1169.

Shooting under the Columbia round, Maine made her score on Nov. 10 in the armory under the supervision of Miss Marion Rogers. The team was under a decided disadvantage, due to the fact that there had been no varsity practice this season. Those who shot for Maine were: Phyllis Gould, Lydia Douglas, Jean Kierstead, and Sylvia Gould.

Masque Comedy "Dulcy" Plays to Large Audience

the footlights in a new role, casting aside the vestments of the maid servant in which Masque audiences have seen her before and proved that she was cut out to follow a romantic cue in capable style. Margaret Hammel as the wife of the grouchy Mr. Forbes handled herself tactfully and successfully for one felt that she was living her part. Her pleadings and remonstrances and the web of intrigue which she found herself immersed in called for skilful acting which Miss Hammel dramatically demonstrated.

The part of Henry as played by Reginald Wilson devolved itself into almost a deaf and dumb pantomime. Mr. Wilson had a difficult role to interpret which he did in his usual adroit manner. Raymond Bradstreet as Mr. Schuyler Van Dycl entertained the audience at the piano and with the subtleness of his remarks to Mrs. Forbes. The role of Van Dycl was a part that only few men could play successfully for it called for interpretive acting which Mr. Bradstreet demonstrated very successfully.

Several new players made their debut in "Dulcy". The "happy go lucky" character of William Keith as Tom Sterrett, the red hot advertising promoter was convincing and enjoyable. The audience felt the terrible ordeal Mr. Smith had to contend with from the woebegone expressions and convincing interpretation of Dulcy's husband, John Barry. The blasé manner and worldly wise attitude of William Parker, the demure son-in-law, brought forth many laughs and an another satellite in the cast was found, Roy Holmes, who so skilfully ran away and married the romance seeking Angela. Altho carrying only a small part, Philip Anderson as Blair Patterson convinced the audience that he was an accomplished actor and possessed a voice and bearing that might easily find itself at home on any stage.

A great deal of credit is due Professor Mark Bailey for making possible such a fine performance on the campus. Especial mention should be made of the work of William Flint, business manager of the Masque, Mary Soule and Peter Kuntz, Blakeley Gallagher and Walter Anliker for work in stage settings and lighting effects.

The foresters frolic held Friday evening at Alumni Hall was a great success in spite of the fact that many senior foresters were home saying farewell to their parents, prior to their trip to the northern woods. Harold Lloyd and his Harmanians furnished music for the affair.

Social Scientists Form Permanent Maine Organization

Meeting in Orono at the invitation of Professor John H. Ashworth, head of the department of economics and sociology at the University of Maine, members of these departments in the four Maine colleges formed a permanent organization, the Conference of Maine Social Scientists, for the purposes of promoting friendly relations and closer co-operation between the social scientists of the Maine colleges and of permitting collective action and a unified expression of opinion on matters of economic and social importance to the state. At the organization meeting, which was held in the Arts and Sciences building at the University November 16, Dr. Ashworth was elected president and C. G. Garland, assistant professor of economics at the University, secretary.

The party met at the Penobscot Valley Country Club for dinner Friday evening as guests of the University. Professor Ashworth acted as toastmaster for a discussion following the dinner, the main topic being "How can the departments of economics and sociology better serve the state?"

Inspection of the University of Maine campus occurred Saturday morning, followed by a discussion of "The sociological aspects of the tourist business in Maine." The selection of text books and the problem of chain and branch banking in Maine were subsequently considered.

The business meeting at which formal organization was completed followed these discussions, and a farewell luncheon at noon closed the session.

This meeting of the conference was the result of the recognition of the benefits to be derived from such sessions. The idea was first suggested by Professor Ashworth to economists who were present at the College Students Economic conference held in Augusta last March. The scheme was well received and enthusiastic.
