Annual Christmas Handicap Saturday Promises Large Turnout of Competitors

Medals Offered Winners of Various Events; Many Men Working Out Daily for The Saturday Meet

The Christmas Handicap will be run off Saturday in the Indoor Gym. All track men that have not already done so are urged to sign up for the Meet before this date. The obvious winners and first place men will receive set backs in distance.

Captain Gowell will not throw the platter and "Norm" Webber will not put the shot, due to a shoulder injury. With Beckler not competing there should be plenty of chance for fine competition in the pole vault.

Interest cannot start too early this year. Although there is a goodly remnant of last year's New England Championship squad in togs there are also many vacancies to be filled in. Maine needs a hammer thrower or two, the injury of Jones has left a hurdler berth open, last season we had no half-milers, with Hardy and Beckler gone a consistent pole vaulter is in demand. The only way in which it can be determined what Maine has for reserve material this spring is thru winter indoor competition. We've had a tough break in football and cross-country. Let's get together and develop a fighting track machine that will make a strong bid for the New England.

The javelin and discus events will be started at 1:30 P.M. Saturday and the other events will begin at 2:30.

Editor of Portland Evening News Raps U.S. Action in Haiti

Speaking at Vesper services on Sunday at the University of Maine, Dr. Ernest H. Gruening, editor of the Portland Evening News, discreetly rapped the action of the United States in its relations with the small nations of Central America. Invited to speak on "Our International Relations," Dr. Gruening seized the opportunity to comment upon the recent trouble in Haiti. Opening his speech with a strong appeal for world peace, the well-known journalist then branched into the Haiti question and guardedly gave his opinion that the United States, having blundered into Haiti, is now at a loss as to how to disentangle herself from the Haiti difficulties. While forced to retain her imperialistic control over Haiti for lack of a means of escaping from the scrape into which she has fallen, she is, he added, plunging deeper and deeper into trouble. Dr. Gruening attributed the present revolt in Haiti as due to the overbearing and oppressive means by which the U. S. holds Haiti in its iron grip.

"Haitians are now fighting for freedom of speech, for right of assemblage, for freedom of thought; in other words, they are fighting for the rights and privileges for which the citizens of United States have viewed as holy and undeniable to man and for which we fought one hundred and fifty years ago. Haiti," the Doctor said, "had had self government for one hundred and eleven years, should have it now, and will have it in the near future."

Dr. Gruening related how, during the world war while in a mobilization camp, he read in the newspapers of airplanes dropping bombs on Haiti. It seemed strange to him at this time that the United States who had entered the war to make the world safe for democracy, or for the small nations, should be attacking this small nation; and he resolved to look into the matter after the war. This, he explained, gave him his first impetus to analyze the Haitian affair.

The first American interests to become established in Haiti, Dr. Gruening explained, was the National City Bank of New York which later financed and directed the erection of a railroad for the Haitian government. The Haitians, however, claiming that the road was not being built along the route specified, refused to pay for the work accomplished thus far; whereupon the New York bank

Frosh Basketball Squad Training For First Game

Bill Kenyon's freshman hoopsters are training assiduously for the first game of the season to be played Jan. 4th at Orono with Fay High of Dexter. The Dexter quintet has retained four of the five men who last year defeated eleven teams, bowing only to two by close scores. Their captain, Palmer, who was graduated is now at Maine working out for the Frosh squad.

This year a peculiar predicament confronts Coach Kenyon. Of the fifty or more men who are out for the basketball club there are two full teams of equal ability and also many more who are making a bid for the five coveted places. The situation has been narrowed down to about ten or twelve players who have been stars at High School. Attenuation of the very large group will be necessary so that the coach may devote most of his time to the regulars and immediate substitutes. However, at the present time there is no first or second team.

The most outstanding of the Freshmen include: Pike, Hall, Alley, and McMichaels, backs; Kane and Desmond, centers; Romansky, Perlmutter, Hallgren, and McMichaels, forwards. These players are fighting it out among themselves for the regular berths and when Fay comes here she will probably meet most of them.

More Than Fifty Men Report For Boxing Workouts

Over 50 men have reported for intramural boxing at the University of Maine and the fight season bids fair to be a huge success. The dropping of basketball as a varsity will naturally turn the heads of sports fans to boxing. Coaches Bill Daley and Bill Kenyon are putting the men through preliminary workouts and it is expected that some real sparring matches will be staged in the near future.

Bill Daley of Bangor, holder of the heavy weight title at Maine and assistant coach of boxing, and Louis Asali of Portland, light heavyweight champ, are the outstanding men on the squad. Frank Rufo of Hyde Park, Boston, Mass., who was defeated last season by Asali in a final bout is a strong contender for the light heavyweight crown this year.

DR. GRUENING SPEAKS ON PRESENT TENDENCIES IN JOURNALISM

Dr. Ernest H. Gruening, editor of the Portland Evening News spoke in Alumni Hall Monday on "Present Tendencies in Journalism." He stressed the value of public opinion saying that it is essential to the maintenance, growth and progress of democracy. "It must, however, be a well-informed and enlightened public opinion or it is worthless, and the press is the most valuable factor in informing the people," the speaker said.

"In the last ten years the number of daily newspapers has shrunk over 50%," Dr. Gruening told his audience. "In New York since the war, five great newspapers have disappeared. In Chicago today there are only two morning newspapers and two evening, and in Philadelphia, three morning and two evening papers," he pointed out. "In smaller cities, there is only one morning paper and in some none at all. This decrease in the number of newspapers," the speaker said, "results in a loss of power by the people in that the formation of public opinion may be

Masque Presents Henrik Ibsen Play In Chapel To-night

No one, even the indifferent theatre goer, should fail to witness the Masque's most ambitious and very worthwhile production "An Enemy of the People." It is a satiric comedy by Henrik Ibsen, one of the world's outstanding dramatists in recent years.

The cast includes a veteran and well seasoned group of actors and actresses whose past work guarantees a successful performance. C. Munro Getchell is playing the title role, which is, incidentally, an exceedingly difficult one, testing the actor's reputed versatility.

Asa Waggatt, Sylvia Gould, Atwood Levensaler, and Roy Holmes will, no doubt, draw many spectators who have been well pleased with their former work. Charlene Ellis, playing opposite Mr. Getchell, may be expected to make a commendable stage bow, if rehearsal reports be justified.

"An Enemy of the People" certainly should make up part of every college student's education. It rivets attention about its tense situations; it awakens and unconsciously compels sympathy; it exacts a surrender from every human heart to its underlying theme. In its construction and evolution as a dramatic production, it is almost faultless.

An appreciative and generous audience therefore, is expected to be present at Alumni Hall on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Military Hop Will Be Held In Chapel To-morrow Night

The annual Military Hop is to be held Friday, Dec. 13. Those who have not already purchased their tickets and programs had better do so before the shortage sets in. Doucette's orchestra of Augusta will furnish the music.

Two momentous events will take place at the Hop; Scabbard and Blade have pledged six new junior military officers to their ranks and these pledges will be announced at the Hop. Also, do not forget the bevy of young coquettes whose pictures appeared in last week's Campus. Don't forget to cast a vote for Myrilla Guilfoyle, Jean Campbell, Mary McLoon, Pauline Stearns or Louise Durgin when purchasing your ticket. The one in this list receiving the highest number of votes is to be named Honorary Cadet Colonel of the Corps.

Maine Professor Publishes Volume On Shakespeare

Professor H. S. Robinson of the Department of English has just published a volume in a series of Shakespearean studies issued by Lyons and Carnahan. This series will include the various plays of Shakespeare, and Professor Robinson has been asked to prepare the Merchant of Venice and Hamlet. The first of these has just come from the press. It is a volume of 157 pages and it contains a life of Shakespeare, a discussion of the sources of his material, and a very complete set of explanatory notes. At the conclusion of the book there is an article devoted to the best methods of presenting this work to the student, and an outline of the play which should be of great assistance. For each act there is a series of suggested questions and a rather unique collection of 75 miscellaneous passages for identification. Several excellent illustrations add to the attractiveness of the book.

Professor Robinson is the author of an edition of Drinkwater's play Abraham Lincoln, published by Houghton Mifflin Company.

DECEMBER ISSUE OF MAINE- SPRING TO APPEAR TOMORROW

The first issue of the Maine-Spring of this year will appear either tomorrow or Saturday. As has been the policy of the editorial board in the past, a proper balance of material is presented in the December issue that will prove satisfactory to its readers.

NOTICE

The Masque play this evening will begin promptly at 7:30.

Yale Students Earn Considerable During School Year

A total of $687,647 was earned last year by Yale students from positions recorded through the University Bureau of Appointments, according to the annual report issued today by Albert B. Crawford, Director of the Department of Personnel Study and the Bureau of Appointments. Students working their way at present make up more than one-third of the University's total enrollment. Financial aid extended to this group by the University during the college year through scholarships and loans amounted to $485,620, bringing the total of all financial aid and reported earnings to $1,173,267. Three-quarters of this amount, $878,452 represents assistance rendered to students directly by the University in the form either of financial aid or of employment secured through the Bureau of Appointments.

Of the $687,647 earned by the students, which marks an increase of nearly $100,000 over last year's figures, $418,929.97 was earned while the University was in session; the balance, $268,716.26, was earned during the summer vacation. A total of 1,246 individuals, or over 80% of all term-time applicants, secured employment through the Bureau during the academic year, and 456 were placed in summer vacation work.

During the school year, and exclusive of vacation work, one student earned

Prizes Are Offered For The Best Penny Carnival Posters

The penny carnival will take the form of a Country Fair this year. Those who attend will assume the role of swain or blushing maiden and make merry to the strains of Harold Lloyd's Harmanians on the evening of January 10 in Alumni Hall. Miss Roger's class in advanced dancing will duplicate its act of last year, during the course of the evening, and other novelties are being planned. The party is a stag affair!

The publicity committee composed of three senior girls, has thought up a novel method of advertisement. They are offering prizes for the best posters for penny carnival. These must be submitted to either Margaret Warren, Jeanette Roney or Dorothy Culley at Balentine, on or before January 3.

Remember, artists: Penny Carnival—Country Fair—Alumni Hall—January 10—8 o'clock—Harold Lloyd's Harmanians.

Urges More Equal Relations Between Men and Women

Relationships between men and women should be on a more equal basis was the contention of Miss Evelyn Buchan in a recent talk to the women at Balentine Hall. She stressed the fact that women should be strong enough to refrain from "playing up" to men. Women have their own chance to vote; why not have their own chance to live," the speaker asked. "Dependence upon men is a left-over from the period of primitive man and his subjection of women by use of the club," Miss Buchan said. She discussed interestingly the problems suggested by various women. This talk was one in a series arranged by the Y.W.C.A.

FROSH GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM ELECTS OFFICERS

Elizabeth Barrows of Brunswick, Maine, was elected Captain and Eloise Lull of Fort Williams, Maine, Manager of the freshman women's rifle squad at a recent meeting.

The team is in charge of Captain Wear. The members of the team are devoting a large amount of time to hard practice. There are some accurate shots and Captain Wear hopes to develop a record team. A match in which the men and women of the varsity teams and the men and women of the freshman teams will participate, is scheduled for early spring. The winning team will receive a worthwhile prize.

Until the Christmas holidays the freshman women will practice every afternoon from one-thirty to four-thirty. After that, they will practice on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at the same hours.

Forty Men With Maine Band On Aroostook Tour

The University of Maine band composed of forty of the eligible and most proficient musicians started Monday on a concert tour which is taking them northward to five towns where, each night they will give a band concert followed by dancing, to the tunes of a dance orchestra made up of several talented members of the band.

On Monday night, December 9th, they played in Millinocket, December 10th they played at Presque Isle, from where they went to Caribou December 11th. Tonight they give a concert at Fort Fairfield and tomorrow at Houlton. This will mark the end of their trip and members of the band will return Saturday.

Incidentally this is the first concert tour which the band has made in three years. Formerly lack of interest impeded its progress, but it is hoped that in the future there will be regular tours every year. The band makes a neat appearance in their new uniforms, with white leggings and straps and there can be no doubt but what the trip will be a success.

The following men made the trip: Galen Veayo, leader; H. C. Bates, C. F. Berry, P. E. Bennett, M. N. Flanders, W. E. Harwood, R. L. Johnson, H. A. Lovell, R. H. Miller, R. B. Masterman, F. W. Webb, P. C. Williamson, G. W. Scott, I. C. Sherman, S. W. Ames, F. B. Clark, J. F. Whitten, L. W. Barrett, E. P. Bailey, G. W. Gammage, C. H. Hardison, P. I. Snow, L. J. Bowen, R. P. Coyne, A. H. Griffin, R. Spencer, L. C. Chase, T. A. Chandler, J. A. Booker, L. R. Sweetser, L. W. Prescott, M. N. Calderwood, E. B. Holt, E. W. Strecker, G. H. Loane, W. W. Brown, T. H. NORTH CAROLINA STATE KEEPS FROSH CAPS

Recently at N. C. State college a freshman was found guilty of not wearing his regulation red freshman cap for 13 days and condemned by the student council to wear a dress for 13 days and to pay a fine. Later the sentence was modified so that the boy was forced to wear a conspicuous head gear instead of a dress; the fine remained the same. Such action was taken as the result of the regulation of the student government constitution.

This incident brought to the forefront the whole question of freshman caps. After an extensive discussion the students of the college voted to continue the practice of forcing freshmen to wear caps.

To us the whole business seems utterly ridiculous and far too much like a prep school to be becoming to any college. When we entered the University Mr. Hibbard greeted our class with the admonition, "Remember you are college men and not college boys. Of course you will have your jokes and pranks, but you are no longer boys." Making men wear conspicuous and unbecoming caps is neither dignified nor justifiable. It is wholly out of harmony with the whole spirit of college training and college student government; it is a remnant of the old practices of hazing, initiations, and similar horse play.

In forcing the State boy to pay some penalty, the student council was only carrying out the duties of its office. But we submit it is a pretty sorry state of affairs when a college group, supposedly

If Georgetown University decides to follow the policy of many outstanding colleges in the country by hiring an alumnus as coach, William C. "Bill" Kenyon, line coach of the University of Maine varsity football team and coach of freshman sports seems like the outstanding candidate for the position.

BILL KENYON

Kenyon has made a creditable showing coaching freshman football, baseball, and basketball during his stay at Maine, and he fought an uphill battle this year getting the Maine varsity line into shape.

"Bill" has always had many duties to perform at Maine. Besides all of his regular work he finds time to coach intramural boxing and his efficient work has brought the ring sport to the front and boxing may become a varsity sport at Maine next year.

Football is Kenyon's specialty and Georgetown could have no more valuable addition to its coaching staff than Maine's present frosh mentor. A paper in Kenyon's home town, Manchester, N. H. started the ball rolling by suggesting that if Georgetown wanted an alumnus on its coaching staff that Kenyon was its best bet.

Many Turned Away As Chapel Is Filled For Spanish Play

Over 850 people attended the presentation "Gay Sunny Spain" presented by the members of the Spanish Club last Thursday evening in the chapel. Seated in the corridors, in the balcony, standing at the sides of the hall,—it was the largest crowd to attend a university function at Alumni Hall. The size of the audience can be visualized when one considers that over 75 people were turned away because of lack of room.

The students who took part showed proficiency in the Spanish language by their ability to sing Spanish songs and carry on intelligent conversations in that tongue. The dancing of the chorus was well organized and well executed. This reflects upon the capable assistance of Sylvia Gould, Dorothy Blair, and Miss

STUBBY BURRELL ELECTED CAPTAIN VARSITY HOCKEY

Stubby Burrell '32 was elected captain of next year's varsity hockey team at a meeting of this year's letter girls in Balentine sun parlor Dec. 5. Miss Burrell will make a dependable captain, for she has played in every game of the past hockey season, and showed marked ability in the sport. "Stubby" is a member of the Chi Omega sorority.

The election of one captain for all the season instead of one for every game was a decision made at the same meeting. Most of the seniors on the hockey team were in favor of the method used this year, that is a captain for each game but the tendency of underclassmen was toward one captain to serve for the entire year.

CO-EDS HOLD ATHLETIC RALLY AT BALENTINE

The athletic rally, held in Balentine gym last Tuesday night, was for the purpose of awarding numerals and letters to women who won them in hockey, volleyball, baseball, archery and tennis.

Jenny Hutchinson announced the speakers, and gave out the numerals and letters.

The first speaker was Dean Corbett. He related to the women how the first woman to receive a letter was accepted by the male population of Maine during his school days.

Miss Rachel Conner, a former student of Maine, and now dean of women at Bangor High School, spoke about the first athletics for women at Maine. B. C. Kent, faculty manager of athletics at Maine, advised co-eds to adopt some sport that can be used for exercise after graduating.

The last speaker was Charlie O'Connor, who boosted sports for women. Mary Soule '32 was cheer leader.

Those to receive letters for varsity hockey were: R. Matthews, R. Matthews, E. Mullany, H. Parkhurst, G. LeMoine, C. Richardson, E. Burrill, M. Churchill, H. Findlen, M. Freeman, S. Gould, P. McCreedy, E. Moore.

Those to receive numerals in Freshman Hockey were: P. Brown, M. Smith, E. Thompson, E. Collins, R. Callaghan, M. Carter, H. Osgood, M. Dunn, M. Whitman, M. Dickson, E. West, E. Gleason.

The class of 1930 won the interclass baseball series. Those to receive their numerals were:

Dot Ross, Captain, D. Beasley, M. Crowley, R. Matthews, R. Matthews, E. Mullany, S. Gould, C. Williams, L. Lovett, R. Lovett.

The Class of 1932 won the interclass Volley Ball series, and also had their numerals placed on the interclass shield, a great honor, which every class strives to win. The class of 1932 was very well represented last year in this, and shows excellent class spirit. Six of this class made the varsity hockey team this fall, which is quite unusual. Three long cheers for the class of '32!!!

The girls to receive their numerals in Volley Ball were: H. Montgomery, M. Churchill, E. Burrill, M. Lewis, F. Anderson, H. Adams, P. Noddin, R. Gilbert, J. Carbone, E. Frame.

Varsity archery: P. Gould, L. Douglas, J. Kierstead, H. Pike, C. Williams.

The class of 1930 won the archery series, the girls receiving their numerals were: M. Anderson, L. Douglas, S. Gould, C. Williams.

The Class of 1932 won the Tennis Series.

Singles—Spud Churchill
Doubles—Spud Churchill and Ray Gilbert.

After the awards had been made, Jeanette Roney announced that there was one girl who had given her all, but who hadn't made enough points to make either the class team or varsity, but because of her faithfulness and courage she was to be awarded the Maine Seal, which is the highest honor any girl may attain in athletics at the University of Maine. Amid much applause and cheering, Miss Marion Rogers, freshman coach in all athletics, was awarded the seal. The rally ended with the singing of the Stein Song.

SCREEN

The supreme achievement of talking, singing and dancing pictures is the HOLLYWOOD REVUE, and all-star picture, which is coming to the Strand Theatre Friday and Saturday. It is a marvelous spectacle, blending the beauty, talent and genius of stage and screen into a mammoth entertainment. Most of the famous stars of Hollywood take part in this production, with Marion Davies and John Gilbert in the leading roles. There are two hundred in the chorus, and the famous Albertine Rasch girls strut the latest steps.

"Christmas comes but once a year"—and so does Harold Lloyd, with almost as much attendant excitement and interest on the part of young and old as the Yule season brings. This time Harold appears in his first all-talking picture "WELCOME DANGER" coming to the Strand Theatre Monday and Tuesday. The picture is plentifully supplied with thrilling thrills, and Lloyd, of course, is all that his name implies namely uproarious comedy. He never fails to produce the unique in his plot and in his situations, and here he does it again, and how. He is supported by Barbara Kent.

Mr. Goldsmith, manager of the Strand Theatre wishes to announce that some of the big pictures, which are playing during the Christmas Holidays, have been re-booked and will show for the second time at a late date. Among some of the pictures which are coming soon are "The Goldiggers of Broadway," "Rio Rita," "Sally," "Married in Hollywood," and "Disraeli".

If Helen Findlay '33, and Roland Tibbets '32 will present this page at the box office, they will receive a free pass to any performance.

57 IN ARTS AND SCIENCES FAIL TO DO SATISFACTORY WORK

When grades are given out in the College of Arts and Sciences the students are divided into two classes, the first comprising those who have satisfactorily completed three-fourths of their work, and the second those who fall below this standard. This year 57 upperclassmen fall in the latter class as against 97 in 1928 and 115 in 1927.

A GOOD CHRISTMAS GIFT FOR 50c TALKS TO STUDENTS

Some Comments: A Columbia professor: Admirable in its frankness and in its content. President of a Women's College: Much of it is good but much dangerous. University president: A very vital message to students. A Catholic professor and a Presbyterian minister: Interesting and stimulating. An Illinois professor: I think it took some courage to say these splendid things before a college chapel. A Massachusetts professor: I would that all our students might read it. An author (man): I like especially your last talk—on business: it is calm and masterful. An author (woman): The great message to me has been its searching and lovely social vision. A student: I do not know where to begin to tell you how very much your little book has meant to me.

North Carolina State Keeps Frosh Caps

the most intelligent, the most enlightened, the most cultured group of young people to be found anywhere, finds it necessary to make its new members go through humiliating practices, wear unbecoming and conspicuous clothes, and stand branded as queer birds. When a college group becomes like a high school fraternity, a prep school organization, a thoroughly puerile and childish thing, then indeed the aims and ideals of the student group have been submerged for petty regulations. How can a freshman ever come to feel that he is a real member of the group when always he is reminded by his cap that he is doing penal duty and is yet a sort of bastard son of the group?

Carolina is the only institution in the state not requiring the freshman cap; Carolina men have never felt it was in harmony with the system of student government and the general aspect of student life. Perhaps the other institutions of the state have not reached the point of development we have, or perhaps a tyrannical group is "lording it over" the members of the group. With the growth of all the educational institutions in size, we hope there will be a corresponding growth in the conduct of student affairs.

—J. D. M.

The above clipping was sent to the Campus by Professor Albert A. Whitmore formerly of the history department at Maine. He is now teaching history at North Carolina State College.

Raps U. S. Action in Haiti

appealed to the United States to force the Haitian government to pay the debt. The matter was submitted to arbitration by both sides, but no agreement could be reached; and Haiti indignantly refused the offer of the United States to take over the financial control of the island. Several like offers were made by our country, the republic refusing them all without hesitation. A revolution, such as is common in Central American republics, occurred in Haiti; and the United States government, despite the fact that neither American life nor property had been harmed, stepped into the fray. By continued use and show of her marine and naval forces, she compelled the Haitian legislature to elect a President favorable to the U. S. interests; and to accept the treaty which by now had been enlarged to include complete control of the island by the United States for ten years. A curious clause was added providing that if at the end of ten years either wished to continue the treaty it was to be binding to both. During these numerous tyrannical measures of the United States, complete secrecy was kept, and the facts did not become known until 1920 when a senate investigation committee of which Dr. Gruening was a special member, went to the island to seek the truth of the affair. At the present time there is a rigid censorship, no freedom of speech, no right of assemblage in the island, and the present revolt is merely to obtain these rights which the United States prohibits them. The United States is in complete control of the island with a Brigadier-General of the Marines in command, and the Haitian legislature has been dissolved by his order. Dr. Gruening ended his talk with an appeal for the United States to get out of this mess, which he declared could be done by substituting for the military commander a civilian who would gradually bring about a restoration of the island to the natives.

Frederick R. Fassett, Professor in Journalism at the University of Maine, was chairman of the program. Open question period was held at the termination of the speech.

The women at Ohio State U., at least those living at Oxley Hall, a dormitory, voted to allow smoking there, but by the vote of 32-28. To quote the ads, "An ancient prejudice has been removed," but not by much.

MAINE TO BE REPRESENTED AT FACULTY-STUDENT CONFERENCE

Dean Paul Cloke, Professor Frederick G. Fassett, Jr., and Cecil Fielder will attend the Faculty-Student Conference on religion in the colleges at Kendall Green, Mass., December 13-15. The counsellors of the Conference include: A. Herbert Gray, prominent member of the British Cabinet, London, England; Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard University, who spoke here last Spring; Roy W. Sellars, University of Michigan; Clarence P. Shedd, Yale University. All the colleges in New England are to be represented.

controlled by the views of one or two persons." Dr. Gruening cited the disappearance of the Democratic party in Maine as an example where the disappearance of the Democratic press resulted in the weakening of the party. "All sides of an important question must be presented for it to be understood and newspapers rarely do this," he continued.

"Is journalism a profession or a business?" This question was asked by the speaker in pointing out that a newspaper must be self-supporting. "But it must be more than a business proposition or it will essentially fail in its function," he said. The speaker urged that all of the news should be printed and none colored or suppressed in fear of its meeting the disapproval of certain persons. Advertising in the present day, is the chief source of income of the newspapers and Dr. Gruening urged that newspapers not be influenced in their news policy by advertisers.

He said that St. Louis and Kansas City both had good newspapers and that Boston is not ranked too highly in the newspaper world. "It has been said that a newspaper is no better than the people deserve, and to a certain extent a newspaper must consider the type of people it circulates among, such as their education, interests, and business," he said.

Mr. Gruening concluded his talk by again emphasizing the important part played by "public opinion" in our democracy.

MAINE PROFESSORS HONORED BY MODERN LANGUAGE ASSN.

Dr. G. W. Small and Dr. H. Milton Ellis, both of the English department, have been recognized and honored by the Modern Language Association of America. At the meeting of this Association in Cleveland, Ohio, December 30, 31, 1929 and January 1, 1930, Dr. Small will be chairman of the old English division, and Dr. Ellis will speak on "The Authorship of The Power of Sympathy, the First American Novel."

Lengyel. Tony Gatti as the hero and Eulalie Mann as the heroine provided much amusement to the spectators. Artie Connors and Polly Hall rendered unusually fine characterizations of an elderly couple. Sylvia Gould, aided by six chorines, did an exceptionally fine piece of work in "Clavelitos," the song of a flower girl. She established this number as the real hit of the show. Another feature was the dancing of Dot Blair, Louis Cabrera, the writer and coach of the show, sang "La Paloma" and was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Mr. Cabrera is writing a book containing all the music, sketches, and plots of the show last year and this year. Sometime in the near future this will be published and be placed on sale.

The Spanish Club has decided to run the show for two nights next year so that the audience will be allowed to watch the show in comfort.

There will be no Campus next week.

WHAT YOUNGER COLLEGE MEN ARE DOING WITH WESTINGHOUSE

LIGHTNING HAS LONG BEEN A COSTLY RAIDER OF POWER LINES

Wild lightning meets his master . . .

REMEMBER how you used to sit on the porch during a thunderstorm and shudder just a little at the forces that seemed to tear open the sky and shake the hills? Electrical men have often shuddered in grave seriousness over those same forces. For lightning has been a costly raider of power lines.

Now, however, many means of defense are available, and many more are being developed. Science has been studying lightning, and experimenting with it. Down in the mountains of Tennessee a group of Westinghouse men have been making photographic records of the voltages developed by lightning, with the cathode-ray oscillograph and the klydonograph. Guided by their findings, another group in New Jersey is enabled to reproduce lightning arti-cially, and study its effects on a high-tension line. And in East Pittsburgh, with a generator that will produce lightning strokes equivalent to 35,000,000 horse-power and with a laboratory that duplicates power line conditions, others are learning new facts about the behavior of protective devices.

Much of this work is carried on by young men recently out of college. Their achievements will save millions for power companies, and eliminate many hazards to life in sub-station operation.

Lightning jumps the gap between these Westinghouse arcing horns, and spurs the insulators.
