MAINE OVERWHELMS TUFTS

In a Spectacular Game Tufts is Defeated 14 to 6

Saturday was Maine day, and the eleven celebrated it by actually running the Tufts team off their feet out on Alumni Field and piling up 14 points to Tufts' 6. With Shepherd's 40 and 45 yard punts Maine kept Tufts way back in their own territory most of the time, and try as they could, they could not rush or kick the ball any nearer Maine's goal than the 25 yard line, and only reached that line once.

Although Maine saved the backs by kicking when it was of no use to rush the ball, the team by no means had to depend upon this style of play, for rarely was the Tufts eleven able to prevent Parker, Cobb, and Shepherd from making their distance. The Maine eleven showed unexpected speed, and with the 190-pound backs starting off like sprinters, their weight enabled them to throw off the Tufts tacklers time and again. With a greatly improved interference Maine worked her end plays for good gains, and when it was necessary Parker and Cobb ploughed through the line for four or five yards.

Although the wonderful offensive and defensive work of the backfield had much to do with the winning of the game, the line was quite as fast, and Buck, Cook, Bigelow, and McNeil broke through many times to tackle the Tufts backs for a loss. The entire Maine eleven worked together perfectly and showed a fighting spirit that fairly overpowered the Massachusetts team, which two weeks ago held Yale to a 17 to 0 score.

The best part of the victory was the fact that it was won on superior playing from the time the first whistle blew until the close of the last period. What little luck there was in the game was all with the Tufts team, and their single touchdown was scored on a fluke, when Eales made a poor pass to Shepherd for a kick and Dunn, securing the ball, ran through a clear field 65 yards to Maine's goal line.

Maine's scoring was done on a pretty kick from placement by Shepherd, two touchdowns by Cobb, and one goal kicked by Cobb. The goal from placement was made on Shepherd's third try, when, kicked from the 35 yard line, the ball sailed squarely between the uprights. The first touchdown was the result of a 30 yard run by Cobb. The play which brought it was to have been a forward pass, but Cobb, finding it impossible to throw the ball, ducked beneath two Tufts men who pounced upon him and sprinted to the goal-line before he was tackled. The other touchdown was also the result of a long run, which placed the ball on Tufts' 10 yard line. Smith was the star of this 45 yard dash, running from the 55 yard line after Cobb had shot a forward pass to him. From the 10 yard line Parker and Cobb rushed the ball over the line in two plays.

During the entire game Tufts was able to make first down only once, while Maine made it eight times. Maine rushed the ball 191 yards in 23 downs to Tufts' 39 yards in twelve downs. In punting Shepherd kicked the Tufts eleven upon their own goal-line time and again, sending the ball 366 yards in nine kicks to Dohlin's and Dietrick's 429 yards in fifteen attempts. Maine worked the forward pass much more successfully than did Tufts, Cobb shooting the ball perfectly three out of four times, while Tufts worked it only once in three times and then only gained two yards.

The Maine offense did not begin to work during the first period and neither eleven worked their plays for good gains. It was here that Shepherd's superiority in the kicking line was of assistance in keeping the ball in Tufts' territory, and enabled Maine's big fullback to make his tries for goal from placement. During the first part of the second period the teams again exchanged punts several times, until Shepherd again tried a goal from placement from the 35 yard line and this time was successful.

The first touchdown was made in the third period, after Maine had carried the ball to Tufts' one yard line and lost it on downs. Dietrick immediately kicked to the 30 yard line and on the next play Smith gave signals for a forward pass. Cobb, however, seeing that the pass would be blocked, tucked the ball under his arm and started out to gain what he could before he was tackled. Circling left end, he threw off the Tufts' tacklers and was only downed after he had crossed the goal-line.

Tufts secured their touchdown soon after the next kick-off, when Dunn obtained the ball and made his 65 yard run. For a few moments after they had scored the Tufts eleven took a brace, but following several exchanges of punts Maine again resumed their ground-gaining, and then Cobb shot a pretty forward pass to Smith. The latter's run netted 45 yards and it was no difficult task for the Maine team to rush the ball over the line.

Every man on the Maine eleven played the game which was expected of him, each of the backs contributing to the victory and forming a strong secondary defense, while the line held almost every time against Tufts' attacks. Smith ran the team very satisfactorily, and caught and ran back punts in good style. Shepherd made several good gains around the ends, one going for 25 yards, and got off his usual long punts. Parker and Cobb did much of the ground-gaining and were strong in interference for each other. In the line Eales held down his position against the captain of the Tufts eleven, Bigelow and McNeil played a hard game at tackles, and Buck starred at right end, cutting off many of Tufts' plays and running down fast on punts.

The line-up and summary follows:

ELEVEN IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

Work Saturday Encouraging for the State Contests

Every Maine man is now beginning to think of the State championship games which begin a week from next Saturday. The work which the team did Saturday against the heavy Tufts eleven has occasioned not a little supposition as to Maine's chances in these contests, and although the Tufts team was weak in some respects, there are good grounds for believing that the speed and power which the team developed Saturday will make it a strong factor in deciding the championship this year.

So far this season the backfield has been faster every week and Saturday, Cobb, Parker, and Shepherd carried the visitors quite off their feet. The weight of these three backs is also a great help to them in running with the ball and also in interference. Smith showed great improvement Saturday and the little quarterback has a way of dodging which it was difficult for the Tufts men to fathom.

Maine will by no means have to depend solely upon these backs, however, as in Carlton she has a halfback who is quite as good as either Parker or Cobb. In the practice last week Cobb was worked at fullback considerably with Carlton at left half, and this combination was very satisfactory. Waite is also making good at quarter and Cook could be used in this position if it should be necessary.

Maine's ends were much faster Saturday than at any other time this season, and Cook gave a good account of himself after he took King's place. The rest of the line held better than it has before.

The game next Saturday with the Massachusetts Agricultural College team will probably be harder than was the contest with Tufts. M. A. C. has been playing good football against the large colleges this fall and two weeks ago held Dartmouth to a 6 to 0 score. It will give the Maine supporters and the coaches an even better opportunity to size up the eleven than did the Tufts game. If the Maine team holds its present form it will be in line for one of the strongest bids for the championship that it has made in years.

PUMPKIN MEET SATURDAY

Close Events Expected. Several New Men Who Look Good

The track activities for this fall will reach their climax in the annual pumpkin meet between the Freshmen and the Sophomores Saturday. There is a large number of men out every afternoon for track work. The men are working hard and have improved enough to warrant very bright prospects for next spring. Many of the men have been practicing for the marathon and will therefore be in excellent condition for the long distance runs in the pumpkin meet. There is also a number of men doing well in the dashes. St. Onge, a freshman, is going five and one half feet in the high jump. Among the freshmen out are T. A. Morris, G. Ward, Ainsworth, E. C. Goodwin, F. M. Willet, C. F. Allen, J. O. Oldson, R. S. Ferguson, P. H. Martin, P. B. Anthony, F. Jones, and R. E. Andrews. Among the Sophomores out are G. H. Littlefield, A. H. Cannon, G. S. Simpson, W. R. Chase, Richard Power, and Rogers.

Treasurer's Report and Fall Subscriptions Show Insufficient Fund to Cover Expenses

At the meeting of the Athletic Association last Tuesday, Mr. J. A. Gannett, the treasurer of the Association, submitted his report for the year beginning June 1, 1909, and ending Sept. 15, 1910. As usual, no branch of athletics paid for itself, the track department having the largest deficit of $2607. Baseball brought into the treasury the greatest percentage of receipts compared with expenditures, $1463 being taken in to $1980 paid out. Basketball just half paid for itself, and football fell short by the sum of $1247.

The report shows the following receipts and expenditures, and assets and liabilities:

The CAMPUS of Oct. 26, 1909, printed the percentage of athletic tickets which had been retained by the members of the four classes, and although the way in which the students came to the support of Maine's teams during that semester was considered poor, the number of undergraduates who have returned their tickets this year exceeds the figures of last fall by 2.5 per cent.

There is every reason to believe that Maine will have a more successful football team this fall than she did last year, yet with this prospect in view, only 83.3 per cent of the students are willing to go to the support of the team. The figures for the Seniors' subscriptions are better than those of last year, as are also those of the Sophomores. The Juniors, however, have fallen nearly five points below last year, and the Freshmen are down to 71 per cent, as compared with 81 per cent for the Freshmen last fall.

Last year the subscriptions were much fewer than in previous years, yet they are considerably fewer now than those of a year ago. Such results are rather surprising, in consideration of the spirit shown in the mass-meetings this season. They are as follows: Seniors, 92 p. c., Juniors, 87 p. c. Sophomores, 83 p. c., Freshmen, 71 p. c.

IMPORTANT MEETING ATHLETIC BOARD

Athletic Field to be Repaired. Freshman Nine to Play Bowdoin Freshmen

The first regular meeting of the Athletic Board for the year was held Tuesday evening, October 11, in the Library, and a great deal of important business was transacted. The Board was organized for the year, and Prof. R. K. Jones, '86, was elected chairman. Then followed the ratification of the election of George H. Howe, '11, M. F. McCarthy, '11, and Karl D. Woodward, '12, as student representatives to the board.

Considerable business of interest was done in regard to football. The manager was instructed to make arrangements for lighting one portion of the athletic field with arc lights, and it was decided to purchase blankets for the use of the football and other athletic teams. A special committee was appointed to consider the feasibility and probability of arranging a game between the freshman team and the freshman team of some other college.

Manager J. R. Hudson of the freshman baseball team was permitted to present a petition for allowing the freshman team to arrange a game with the Bowdoin freshmen.

A committee was also appointed to consider a revision of the rules regarding the requirements for making the "M."

J. A. Gannett '07, who has served the association so well as treasurer for the past year, was re-elected to that position and C. P. Crowell, '98, was elected to the position of auditor. Hon. L. C. Southard, '75, R. K. Jones, '86, and M. R. Sumner, '11, were elected as representatives to the Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Board for the year.

Every college has its troubles with student politics. In some institutions the students wage political war upon each other with a campaign fund and all the artifices of Class Tammany Hall. In others traces of Politics politics are only found in the coalition of certain fraternities to uniformly support each other's candidates. Maine is far more free from such petty politics than many colleges and universities, yet scarcely a year passes by in the history of any class without evidences of untoward influences in class elections, and the results are found in the election of not always the best men to important class offices.

Any fraternity which seeks to place its men in office by combinations with other fraternities deserves to be ostracized in every election. The manner in which the duties of every position, for which an undergraduate may be chosen, are carried out has an effect upon the general interest taken in class and student activities. Every election should be decided, not by what influences a fraternity may attempt to wield in favor of their candidate, but by what each individual candidate has done for Maine. The man who ever allows himself to be induced to cast his ballot for anyone but the "best man for the position" is a poor Maine man.

Imagine, if you can, two stately, handsome, granite pillars on either side of the drive at the main entrance to the campus, with A Memorial a huge iron gate swinging from Gate each. If such a gate stood there, could a Maine man pass through it upon the campus without feeling that he was passing from the world at large into a little place where only Maine men belonged?

It is true that no material benefits would be derived from a massive gateway which would cost several hundred dollars. Nothing but sentiment, pure and simple, could be the motive for its erection; yet is not loyalty toward one's college but another word for sentiment? And is not there enough sentiment in the four classes now present in the University to make them come to the support of a proposition to place a gate at the entrance, memorial to the Classes of 1911, 1912, 1913, and 1914?

Too much praise cannot be given to the efforts which Director Woods, as chairman of the committee, is making for the success of the Vespers vesper services this year. Through these vespers the student body is being given an opportunity to hear speakers whom it probably would not hear otherwise, and this is an opportunity which it can ill afford to miss.

It is not through any spirit of self-sacrifice that the students should attend the vesper services. Indeed, that is the smallest reason for their doing so. Men of the ability and standing of Dr. Hamilton and Dr. Fitch,—and many others will be here during the year—have something to tell every man which can be for his practical good. Influences are so great and numerous toward minimizing a student's appreciation of his oppor-

If there is no objection on the part of the Acting President, it would not seem out of place if the student body resumed the practice of rising when the head of the University enters the Chapel. It is a mark of distinction which the President should receive from the students on this one occasion when they are gathered together. If the Seniors will take up the custom again the other classes will fall into line.

There is a general expression of opinion among the undergraduates that certain notices which involve a large number of the students should be announced in chapel. The bulletin boards fail to serve the purpose of making announcements to the general body of students. When the boards are surrounded by even a small number of men the notices are quite cut off from any other students, and consequently many do not know when class meetings and other meetings, which should have a full attendance, are called.

There was only one drawback to the success of the mass-meeting Thursday evening, and that was the manner in which the songs were sung. Efforts are made to have the list of songs used posted before the rallies, and there is no excuse for the poor singing at the last two meetings. Maine men ought to know every song in the book.

MAINE SPIRIT AT ITS HEIGHT

Second Football Rally Scene of Great Enthusiasm

From the singing of the Stein Song to the hilarious march that ended the second smoker-rally last Thursday evening, the gymnasium was the scene of wild enthusiasm. President Sumner of the Athletic Association called the meeting to order, and after a strong speech explaining the object of the meeting and urging every Maine man to support the football team, he introduced Dean Stevens, who received an ovation that was good to hear. Dean Stevens spoke in a way which could only show the harmony which exists between Faculty and students, and his fund of bright stories kept the fellows in a continuous uproar. He closed with a motto which should be burned into the heart of every Maine man. It was, "Do it for Maine." R. K. Jones '86, continued the good work in great style, impressing upon the fellows the principal of "One for all, and all for one." B. O. Warren '11, was next called, as the first student speaker.

At this point the band played one of those new selections which is making a "hit" with everyone on the Campus. Roy Sweetser, '11, resumed the speech making. He assured the boys of the Law School's interest, and the applause that he received well showed that this spirit was reciprocated. P. S. Strout '11, manager of the football team, spoke strongly with a speech straight from the shoulder, urging everybody to give their most loyal support to all athletics.

A. H. Brown, '90, of Oldtown was called next by acclamation, and his appearance was the sign for another burst of enthusiasm. He assured the boys that the Alumni were behind them to the end. It was left for Frank Eales, '13, who is playing varsity center for the second year, however, to make a fitting close to the evening's speeches. With a sincerity and loyalty for the University that touched a tender spot in every Maine man's heart, he told of his experiences with the squad, and the boys applauded until the windows fairly rattled. All of the speeches in fact were of a high order, touching upon Maine interests for Maine men.

DELTA TAU DELTA INITIATION AND BANQUET

First Initiation Held Thursday Evening

Gamma Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta fraternity held its annual initiation Thursday evening, October 14. The following men were admitted to the chapter: William E. Schrumpf '12, Farmington; Warren L. Wilson '13, Houlton; Percy E. Jackman '13, Vanceboro; from the class of 1914: Albert L. Coyne, Worcester, Mass.; Israel Snow, Jr., Rockland; Frank A. Morris, Oldtown; Roy W. Peaslee, Randolph; Chesley C. Jones, Dorchester, Mass.; H. Ralph Leavitt and Clifford A. Hollywood, Portland; Charles W. Fenderson, Calais; Arthur A. St. Onge, Dover.

A fraternity banquet was served the following evening at the Bangor House. The toastmaster of the evening was Stacy C. Lampher, '08.

W. E. Schrumpf, '12, returned to the University last week to resume his studies.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Twelfth Night Chosen to be Given this Year

The Dramatic Club opened the year with a very successful smoker in the Library, Tuesday evening, October eleventh. About forty members and candidates were present and all spent a very enjoyable evening consuming tobacco and listening to entertaining anecdotes and experiences of various members on their trips through the State.

Among those who spoke were Professor Daggett who gave an urgent call for new men to come out for the Club, and outlined the program for the year; O. A. Wakefield, '11, President of the Club who also asked for new material; B. O. Warren '11, and several others.

The keynote of all the speeches was a call for new men and a statement of the exceptional opportunities this year, owing to the graduation of several of the leading men last year.

At a business meeting of the Club, held just before the smoker, it was voted to present Twelfth Night this year, in Shakespearian style. Rehearsals will commence promptly, the first being Tuesday, October 18th at seven o'clock. At the first few the time will be spent in reading and studying the play in order to become familiar with the plot and the characters. As soon as possible after the play has been studied sufficiently Professor Daggett will begin to choose the cast, and work on the parts will commence in earnest.

The Dramatic Club wishes to extend a special invitation to Freshmen to try for parts. As the speakers emphasized at the Smoker, the chance for new men to make good this year is exceptional, whether they have ever before acted or not.

THE GLEE CLUB

Call For Candidates and First Rehearsal Last Week

That Maine will have a Glee Club that will uphold the reputation gained in previous years was assured at the first meeting, held Oct. 11th., when more than twenty-five men showed up to try out for the Club. Music was distributed and, under the direction of Prof. G. W. Thompson, the candidates were assigned places and practice began at once. Although the Club will feel keenly the loss of W. E. Sansouci '13, who did the greater part of the solo work last year, the new material bids fair to take the places left vacant, as the Freshman class, through its fourteen men present, showed some exceedingly good voices.

H. G. WOOD, '11,

Those present were; 1st. Tenors, Chase, Garland, Morrison, Jones, Fulton, Dinsmore, 2nd Tenors, Peckham, '11, Hanson, Willett, Ketchem, O'Neil, Damon, Madison, '14; 1st Bass, Woodward, '12, Stone '13, Cole, Grace, Johnson, Cobb '14; 2nd Bass, Lilly, Haskell, '12, Brewer, Ferguson, Lucas '13, Andrews, Jones, Brown, Hudson, '14.

SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN TIE AGAIN

1913 Tied 1914 at 5 to 5 through Costly Errors

Although the Maine-Tufts game was the principal attraction on Alumni Field Saturday, a large crowd gathered early to witness the third baseball game between the Sophomores and Freshmen. They were well repaid for their trouble, for they saw a snappy game which resulted in a 5 to 5 score at the end of the ninth inning when the game had to be called for foot-ball.

Although the Freshman nine batted harder and fielded better, the sophomores were able to put five men across the plate through costly errors by Welch, Cobb, and Daniels. Until the seventh inning the sophomores did not even seem to have a chance of giving the fast 1914 aggregation a run for their money, as the score stood 4 to 1. In that inning, however, Welch allowed a throw to slip through his fingers and then the ball rolled by the centerfielder, letting in two runs. The freshmen scored again in the eighth, but in the ninth the sophomores tied, Rogers and McCarthy crossing the plate when Butts hit a grounder to Cobb which was too fast for him to handle.

WEDNESDAY LECTURE

Sophocles and Euripides as Writers

The comparison of the Greek poets Sophocles and Euripides was the subject of the lecture given by Prof. Huddilston at the Library Wednesday afternoon.

We find these two, as youthful warriors, fighting side by side in the Persian Wars and in particular at the battle of Salamis, which proved to be a great event in the history of humanity. Notwithstanding the similar training received by each, when we read their works we find ourselves in different atmospheres. Sophocles writes of events on earth and of men as they were, while Euripides treated on subjects dealing with the emotional side of man. Sophocles deals of that which is tragic and gruesome. On the other hand, Euripides shows us what love is, that it is great family love and the love of life.

Sophocles was the first Greek poet who was a writer pure and simple. He was a man of wealth and leisure while Euripides had an occupation and writing was more of an avocation with him. Sophocles, being able to spend his time in literary work, became the first man of letters of his time and a public idol and pet. His works are very fine indeed and rank with those of modern times. Even Aristophanes, the censor, was unable to say anything that was not praiseworthy of him. His characters are on the whole noble and inclined toward the tragic. The keynote of his writings is ethics, while that of Euripides is pathos. The latter introduces the lover in literature and becomes the forerunner of the modern world.

Sophocles' greatest work is Autizone, one which has stood through many centuries. He presented the play at the annual festival of Dronipus and won in the competition for the honor of being the foremost poet of his time. He introduced three actors into his plays and subordinated choral parts to the dialogues. Coming again to Euripides we find Elektra standing forth and that the chorus is used only as an orchestra, retained chiefly as a tradition. He broke relations with the past and became cosmopolitan where Sophocles had been Grecian. The works of Sophocles and Euripides stand forth as standard works of the civilized world and they set the standards which were later followed by Shakespeare and others.

Several teams are at work grading around the new dormitory and the lawns will be leveled off in a few days.

ALUMNI NOTES

Lawson-Scribner, '73, Expert Botanist at Washington

One of the expert botanists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is Frank Lamson-Scribner of the class of '73. Professor Lamson-Scribner began his investigations in his native state and contributed largely to the principal scientific reviews of North America and Europe. In 1884 he entered the botanical division of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, and subsequently came still more before the public by reason of his discoveries in the field of diseases of the vine, for which he was awarded the French "Merite Agricoli" medal. Later he was appointed professor of botany and horticulture at the University of Tennessee and was placed in charge of the agricultural experiment station of that state. Among other works which came from his pen during that period, was one entitled the "Flora of the State of Tennessee." In 1894 the Department of Agriculture decided to initiate a systematic and experimental study of pasture and forage conditions throughout the country and Professor Lamson-Scribner was placed in charge of the work. The magnitude of the undertaking and the practical results obtained may be judged from the voluminous publications that were eventually printed. Later, he was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture for the Philippine Islands and during his term of office, established several experiment stations and published studies on the flora of the islands. In 1903 he was recalled to occupy the position of Director of Exhibitions and since that time has superintended the agricultural sections at the great Fairs held in Chicago, Buffalo, Charleston, St. Louis, Portland, Sarnestown and Seattle.

During the past summer he has been in charge of the exhibit of the United States at the International Agricultural Exhibition at Palermo, near Buenos Ayres, Argentina.

Professor Lamson-Scribner has been a voluminous writer in his favorite branch of science. He is one of those advanced scientists who have helped to carry out the far-reaching and far-seeing plans of the Department of Agriculture.

George E. Thompson of Bangor, was re-elected County Attorney of Penobscot County at the last election. Mr. Thompson formerly resided in Orono, and on the Wednesday evening following the election, three hundred of his old friends and neighbors, headed by the Orono band went to Bangor and congratulated him in a most enthusiastic manner.

'06.

R. F. Olds and wife sailed recently for Manila, P. I., where Mr. Olds is an engineer in the service of the U. S. Government. Mrs. Olds was Miss Jennie Reed of Orono.

'05-Law.

Judge Lewis S. Record of Ashland, N. H., a graduate of the Law School, in the class of 1905, has been appointed by the National Democratic League of College Clubs, the vice-president of the league for New Hampshire. This is a new organization and is made up of college graduates.

'09-Law.

Forrest B. Snow, who was appointed during the summer, as judge of the Western Hancock Municipal Court, by Governor Fernald, is one of the youngest Maine lawyers with the prefix of Judge before his name.

The Western Hancock Municipal Court, which was established in 1893, is a novel affair in some respects, for it sits almost anywhere within an area extending from Bucksport to Isle au Haut a distance of nearly fifty miles and including fifteen towns in its circuit. Judge Snow's home town of Bluehill is very near the center of the district.

FACULTY RECEPTION

Dr. and Mrs. Hart Receive on Two Evenings

The residence of Dr. and Mrs. Hart was the scene of two very delightful receptions to the members of the Faculty on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week. It was the occasion of the annual reception of the President to the Faculty. The decorations of evergreen, carnations, and asparagus were especially attractive.

Dr. and Mrs. Hart were assisted in receiving the first evening by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Oak, and the refreshments were served by Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Stevens and Prof. Comstock, assisted by Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Drew, Mrs. Cheswell, Miss Boring, and Mrs. Brown. Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Wood assisted in receiving and Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Morse, and Mrs. Jewett served, aided by Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Pearl, Miss Patch, and Miss Merrill.

VESPER SERVICE

Pres. Hamilton of Tufts Gave Fine Talk

Sunday's Vesper Service this week was in charge of President William Hamilton, D. D., LL. D., Tufts College, who gave the student body as practical and as farisighted an address as has been heard at Chapel for some time.

Choosing as a motto, rather than as a text, the first verse of the fourth chapter of Revelations, "I shall show thee things that must be seen hereafter," Dr. Hamilton proceeded to lead the listeners into the future, which will be the present in fifty years. An overturning of the present day customs and institutions, especially in the way of political life is at present raging and the old representative government of 1910 is slowly but certainly, changing to a pure democracy. The success of the new system depends entirely upon the people that make up the country at that time. If the citizenship of the country is wise, religious, and patriotic the outcome of the system, whatever it may be, will be satisfactory to the people.

The music for the service was a very beautiful contralto solo, Dudley Buck's "Oh, Fear Ye Not O Israel," which was very effectively rendered by Mrs. E. R. Wingard.

The College of Agriculture has been asked to name a man as manager of a 300 acre farm which is located six miles outside of Portland. This position is to be filled within the next week.

THE INTERCLASS MARATHON

Fine Time Made Over the Five Mile Course Ending in a Victory for 1913

The sophomores won the most closely contested interclass cross-country run ever seen on the course on Saturday by finishing Power, McAlary, and Stevens in second, fifth and sixth places respectively. L. E. Houghton, '12, finished first in the remarkably fast time of twenty-eight minutes, twenty seconds for the five miles. R. A. Power '13, came second with the time of twenty-eight minutes, twenty-six and one-fifth seconds and I. Snow '14, scored third, fourteen and one-fifth seconds later. The men who started the race were: L. E. Houghton '12, R. A. Power '13, I. Snow '14, L. A. McKenney '12, A. F. McAlary, '13, A. H. Stevens '13, J. H. Bodwell '14, F. M. Willett '14, P. S. Garland, '12, J. P. Poole '12, C. F. Allen '14, R. W. Andrews, '14. They finished in the order which is given above with the exception of R. W. Andrews who was forced to drop out of the race on account of a defective pair of shoes.

The men all did remarkably well considering the short time that they had to get into condition. The work of Snow, the freshman, who comes from Rockland, was a general surprise, and speaks well for his chances in the spring.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS ON FIELD

Football Practice to be Lengthened

The enterprise of the football management is shown in the electric arc lights which are in process of erection on Alumni Field. The poles are already set and the lights will be ready for use in a few days.

With the aid of these four brilliant lights at the west end of the field the football squad will be able to continue their practice well into the evening and will have two hours more work a day. Such a scheme has never before been tried in this State.

At the meeting of the New Hampshire Horticultural Society, at Manchester, N. H., on Thursday, Oct. 19, the University will be represented by a fruit judging and fruit packing team. This team will compete with teams from all the New England Agricultural Colleges. It has not yet been decided who will be picked to represent the University.

ASSOCIATE EDITORS 1912 PRISM

Editor Chase Appoints His Assistants

Editor Alden Chase has appointed the following as Associate Editors for the 1912 Prism: Margaret Kelley, Bangor; Benjamin Kent, Stillwater; Lester W. Jacobs, Rockland, Mass.; Charles E. Sullivan, Gorham, N. H.; Harold E. Winn, Dover, N. H.; Alfred E. Crabtree, Hancock; and Joseph L. Burns, Taunton, Mass.

The artist this year will be R. C. H. Reid of Bangor. Mr. Reid did several drawings for the 1911 Prism and no doubt will make a good artist.

PLEDGES

Kappa Sigma and Phi Eta Kappa Freshmen

The list of Kappa Sigma pledges, which were left out of last week's CAMPUS by mistake are as follows:—P. E. Murray, Skowhegan; Albert Ferguson, New York City; A. N. Butterfield, Rochester, N. H.; Arthur Eaton, Bangor; Maurice Goodwin, Saco; George Newman, Fryeburg; and O. B. Higgins, Sewaren, N. J.

Those at the Phi Eta Kappa house follow:—J. L. Brown, Bar Harbor; O. C. Brown, Bar Harbor; Everett Harvey, Bar Harbor; G. Rounds, Peaks Island; E. True, Camden; and E. M. Kelley of Ipswich, Mass.

MECHANICAL AND ELECTRICAL SOCIETY

Club Disbands at Final Meeting Monday

At a meeting of the Mechanical and Electrical Society, last Monday, it was voted that the Society be discontinued. This action was taken because there are now at the University, student branches of both the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Mechanical Engineers. Hereafter, the two branches will hold separate meetings, with speakers dealing more particularly with their courses, and it is hoped to arouse even greater interest in this way. The assets of the Society are to be divided between the two Societies.

LOCALS

T. C. Higgins, '13, spent Sunday at his home in Bar Harbor.

Clifford Patch, '11, who has been working the past summer in a dairy laboratory in Washington, D. C., returned to the University last week.

First year students in the Short Course of the College of Agriculture spent several afternoons of last week in sorting and packing apples at the farm of Director Woods in Orono. The work was in charge of Prof. Gardner and Mr. Palmer.

D. M. Harrington, '12, returned to the University last week.

For special music at chapel, Wednesday, Oct. 12, Miss Louise Moon of Bangor sang a solo, "That Beautiful Land on High" by Holden.

A party consisting of H. R. Sargent, '11, W. Hilton, '11, and R. R. Day, '11, tent to Enfield Thursday of last week for hydraulic field work. Professors Boardman and Bean and Mr. Jordan accompanied them.

A. A. Winters, '10, was on the campus a few days last week.

N. N. Scales, '11, spent a few days last week at his home in Guilford.

F. B. Kelley, ex-'12, was on the campus last week.

To encourage writing among the students of Yale, Mr. Frederick Thompson has offered a prize of $5,000 for the best play written by a student.

Ninety-five percent of the seniors at Purdue University answered the question, "What does this University need the most?" with the reply: "A football team."

Twenty Sanford students have submitted themselves to the government for experimental purposes, in order to determine the effect of the consumption of sulphur-cured fruits on health.

Capt. Nardini of the Colby track team has offered a silver cup to the highest point winner in the Sophomore Freshman Track Meet which takes place October 22. The members of the winning teams will also be presented with steins. The numerals of the winning class will be engraved on a silver cup, which is the gift of Ira Mikelsky and is kept in the library. The cross-country race which has not been carried out for many years will also take place shortly after the track meet.

Michigan University has just awarded $100 for a new football song.
