DUAL MEET

Maine Won the First Dual Meet in the State From Colby, Saturday Night

Breaking three indoor records in her first Dual Indoor Meet with Colby, Saturday, Maine won with fifty points against Colby's nineteen. Phillips for Maine, as in the Interclass Meet, was the highest individual point winner taking two first places and one second. Nardini and Herrick did good work for Colby, getting five points apiece. The hammer and discus throws were not included in the list of events.

The first record broken was the pole vault, which was formerly 10 ft. 10.5 inches, when Rogers placed it at 10.975 feet. As there were no Colby men in this event, all nine points went to Maine. After the other entries had dropped out, the bar was steadily put up until it reached the present record.

The second record to go was the shot put which Shepherd took with a distance of 38 feet 11.5 inches. This was more than three feet farther than the old record which was 35 feet 6 inches. The third and last record broken was in the twenty-five yard dash which Waite ran in three seconds flat, lowering the old record one-fifth of a second.

The relay races were all won by Maine and were worth watching. The two lap race was the first to be run and, from the start, the Maine team gained steadily until it was nearly half a lap ahead at the finish. The fourteen lap relay was started well by Whitney, the first man for Maine, who handed a lead of over half a lap along to the next man. The other men also gained considerable, and at the end, the Maine team was a lap and a quarter ahead. Some excitement was also seen in the four lap race when Walker who was the last man, increased the lead he had received from the others until he was within ten feet of his man. He could not pass him, however, as the pace was too fast. The poor showing of the Colby teams may be attributed to the fact that they have had no training on an indoor track and so lost heavily on the corners but showed good speed on the sides.

The greatest weakness of the Maine team was shown by the fact that with the exception of the shot put, perhaps, only one man was entered in each event who would be a point winner in the State Meet. This will be one of the most important factors to be provided for if we expect to win the meet at Waterville this year.

Summary:

Pole Vault—Won by Rogers, Maine; second, Thomas, Maine; third, Gould, Maine. Height, 10.975 feet.

UNIVERSITY COUNCIL

Subjects of Vital Interest Discussed at the Meeting Tuesday Afternoon

At a meeting of the University Council, held Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 21, several subjects of general interest were discussed, but only one decision was reached. The members of the Council talked over the matter of singing in chapel, and decided to have sings, such as was held last Thursday morning, from time to time. The idea of making the annual appearances of the Musical clubs and of the Maine Masque in Bangor regular University functions was favorably commented upon. The Council authorized the committee which is now engaged in revising the rules of the so-called point system to complete the plan. It is proposed according to this plan that an official record shall be kept, by means of a double card catalogue, of all the honors received by each man. On one card will be the name of each man, with the honors filled in as received, and on the other will be the name of the honor with the names of those who receive it placed beneath. This record will be in the hands of the secretary of the Council or else in charge of a committee appointed for this purpose. The right of a man to carry more than eleven points, under this system, will be wholly subject to the ruling of the Council.

Dean Stevens, Dean Boardman and W. E. Parker were absent.

THE COLLEGE STORE

Committee Appointed to Organize and Capitalize College Store Company

A special meeting of the Athletic Board was held Friday evening, March 24, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, City Hall, Bangor, in conjunction with some of the Alumni who reside in or near Bangor. The idea of the meeting was to secure the aid and cooperation of the Alumni in the project of taking over the management of the University Store. Through the efforts of Hosea B. Buck, '93, and C. Parker Crowell, '98, several of Maine's sons, who are prominent in Bangor affairs, such as Hon. C. W. Mullen, '83, Mayor of Bangor, Mr. Charles E. Oak, '76, and Mr. Freeland Jones, '00, were present at the meeting and displayed a keen interest, and volunteered to do everything in their power to promote the project to the ultimate benefit of the Athletic Association. The amount of capitalization necessary for a beginning and also the best methods of raising the same were discussed at some length. Finally a committee composed of Freeland Jones, chairman, Charles W. Mullen, and Mr. Wingard, was appointed with the power to proceed with the plans of incorporation and raising of funds. They are also to receive applications from candidates for manager of the new store, although it is probable that no manager will be engaged until the corporation is formed and the board of directors elected.

There seems to be no doubt that the necessary funds for the beginning of the enterprise will be forthcoming. The Alumni present at this meeting seemed confident of the success of the plan. The subscription papers that were passed among the undergraduates for the purpose of seeing how many would purchase bonds were signed in good numbers considering the short notice given the students. M. R. Sumner, '11, President of the Athletic Association, reported that as a result of the canvas of the student body pledges for bonds to the amount of $775 had been obtained, and that it also seemed probable that many of the undergraduates would when they return from the spring recess, take even more of these bonds if they were offered.

The spirit of the whole meeting was highly favorable toward the new store, and the achievement of that project which the students have so long looked forward to seems to be at hand at last.

CUP FOR ATHLETES

Mr. Wingard Offers Cup to Athlete Making Best Scholarship Improvement

Through the kindness of Mr. Wingard the M Club will be enabled to give a cup at Commencement to the student who has won his letter this year and has at the same time made the greatest improvement in his scholastic standing. The awarding of the cup will continue for an indefinite number of years, the condition being attached to it that the improvement in scholarship must be made in the year that the letter is won. The judges are to be the Secretary of the Faculty and the Delinquent Committee.

COLLEGE SING

Gathering of 150 Students in Chapel Sunday Evening

In answer to a call made by President Aley for a college sing Sunday evening, 150 students appeared at the Chapel at 6.30 o'clock. Although this number was only a fourth of the student body, a very enjoyable sing was held under the direction of Prof. G. W. Thompson. An effort was made to learn several of the songs which are rather unfamiliar to the student body, and the movement for a more general knowledge of the songs in the Song-book received a good impetus.

"FRAT PINS"

Comedy to be Given This Evening in Town Hall

The young ladies of the Y. W. C. A. will give a comedy in the Orono town hall this evening. For the occasion they have entitled it "Frat Pins," which from the nature of the play is a very appropriate name. The spectators will not have the opportunity to see how well any of the cast can play male parts, since all the characters are ladies, but they are promised much amusement in the impersonation of the varied belles, old ladies, and young widows who come into the play.

The cast of characters includes the following:

Mrs. Eva Wildwood, a young widow who will never marry again.....Miss Antoinette Webb.....
Miss Milly Kingsley, who hates men and gets bored without them.....Miss June Kelley
Madeline, her cousin, who likes candy and weeps easily.....Miss Helen Worster
Marigold, another cousin, who often takes naps.....Miss Alice Harvey
Aunt Flossie, an athletic old lady, their chaperon, who plays golf.....Miss Margaret Flint
Miss Cornelia Brownell Darwin, a spinster of uncertain age, who has never been kissed.....Miss Mae Crossman Dodo Ginty, the Kingsley's unmanageable and irrepressible maid, who went to school with Mrs. Wildwood.....Miss Ruth Merrill

BEST SONGS

Some of the Songs which Every Maine Man Should Know

In connection with the movement on foot to improve the singing of Maine songs by the student body, Prof. Thompson has selected a few of the best songs which it is desired that every student should know word for word before the Spring games and meets and mass-meetings. Of course some of the songs in the collection of a hundred or more in the Song book are bound to be more popular than others. These few, which are written to the best melodies and have the most appropriate words, every Maine man should know.

With a student body numbering 550 voices there are possibilities for a powerful chorus if each undergraduate will take it upon himself to memorize the few songs that Prof. Thompson has recommended. He has not included in the list those which the student body can already

MASQUE TRIP

Four Performances Planned for Recess—To Play at Portland and Augusta

Definite arrangements are rapidly nearing completion for the trip of the Masque, playing Twelfth Night, during the Spring recess. This will probably include three performances in the western part of the State and perhaps one other for the Saturday before the University reopens.

The play will be presented in Portland Wednesday, April 5, under the auspices of the junior class of the Deering high school. No hall was available in the city proper, but Deering is near enough to be easily accessible to the Alumni and others in Portland who desire to witness the performance. Thursday the company will play in Augusta under the auspices of a woman's club there. Friday they will go to Skowhegan, and for the last night a performance will be arranged if possible at some town on the main line of railroad between Bangor and Portland.

LETTER FROM COLBY

Acknowledgment of Small Gift to Colby Students by President Roberts

Mr. Gannett, the Commercial Secretary of the University, is in receipt of a letter from President Roberts of Colby College, acknowledging the small sum which was contributed by the students as an expression of their sympathy for the loss by fire sustained by the Delta Upsilon chapter in that institution. The letter is as follows:

My Dear Sir:

I thank you very much for the generous gift of your students to the Chapter of Delta Upsilon which recently met such severe loss. I will hand this check to the proper official of the fraternity, who will shortly write you to express their appreciation of the generosity and friendliness of the student body of the University.

With all best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

A. N. ROBERTS.

BANGOR CO-OPERATIVE PRINTING COMPANY

EDITORIAL.

In undertaking to operate the College Store the Athletic Association is taking upon itself a proposition that has long been discussed about the Campus. Various organizations have considered the matter, but while the propriety of making the Store cooperative has been unanimously agreed upon, there has always been the evidently insurmountable obstacle of raising the funds necessary to carry it on on such a basis.

Therefore, in taking the matter in hand the Athletic Board, although it proposes to make the Store a source of revenue to the Association, is moved primarily by a desire to operate it on a plan most beneficial to the University public. For however satisfactory and accomodating has been the service rendered by the present proprietors, it is true that, in the words of President Aley, "if the parent of any student should question the right of the University to allow the Store to be operated by private parties, the University would have no reply to make." So, in taking over the management of the Store the Athletic Association, which is the only organization representative of the student body, is placing itself in the position of a municipality which takes over the control of a public utility.

Representative of the undergraduates as it is and the only channel through which a strong appeal can be made to the Alumni, the Association is undertaking a task highly appropriate to its position as a student organization. The plan, moreover, which the Board and Mr. Wingard have adopted for accomplishing the change seems to have been taken very advisedly and the steps that have already been followed out indicate that it will meet with success. No better scheme for the direct control of the Store could be suggested than the formation of a board of trustees, made up of a few Alumni who have the interests of the University close at heart, to be incorporated and to operate the Store on a purely business basis. By placing the management in the hands of this board the Association will vest its supervision in a body outside the influence of the sometimes fickle and injudicious student sentiment and outside the direction of the Athletic Board, whose membership is subject to annual change.

The methods which the Board has adopted for raising the funds requisite to the opening of the Store have also been determined upon after careful deliberation and with apparently wise judgment. The aim of the Board is to eventually have the Association, not the individual alumni or the individual students, own all the stock in the Store. To accomplish this purpose bonds, instead of shares of stock, will be issued. These will be redeemable at the expiration of a stated period, whereas the redemption of stock would be subject to the will of the holders, so that there would be for a long time, and perhaps always, an unwieldy body of stockholders. Thus the board of trustees will be unhampered in their work; and at the same time there is no danger that these few men, alumni of the University, most of them residing in this vicinity, and some of them actively interested in her athletics, will use their powers for any other purposes than for the best interests of the institution and of the Athletic Association.

Believing that the point system for college honors would be generally advantageous if it should be properly enforced, the University Council is in the process of revising the list of restricted honors and of formulating a definite plan for carrying out its provisions. The system as adopted two years ago has failed through the absence of any specific authority or plan for enforcement given to the Council and through the neglect of the Council to take advantage of the broad powers which it was granted.

With the list of honors which count for points, however, thoroughly revised, a committee of the Council is now framing a plan for keeping a record of each student's honors and for making him answerable to the Council if he violates the limit of points. Since the committee will be actuated to some extent probably by the discussions that have been carried on in the Council meetings, it is likely that they will provide for the maintenance of a card catalog, so that if any student overruns the limit the fact will immediately become known to the Council. The plan will also probably give that body the right to grant dispensations from this restriction under certain conditions.

While it must be admitted that the honor system has been, ever since its institution, somewhat of a fizzle, there is little doubt that the principles involved in the restriction of the number of student offices that may be held by one man at the same time are commendable. One important honor, which carries several points, is all that one man can bear at one time, and if one has too large a number of small offices he is more than likely to neglect some of them. Therefore, the students who proposed the point system as formerly adopted accomplished a good work, and now if a method for ensuring the strict enforcement of the system has been found the student body will run no chances in approving the plan when it is submitted for their consideration.

The efforts that are being made to improve the singing of the Maine songs deserve the heartiest support of the student body. The chapel sing last week was fairly successful and a large number of men was present in Alumni Hall Sunday evening. The singing, however, is not general enough. There is no excuse for a man who does not know at least the half-dozen best songs in the Song-book, and knowing those he should not hesitate to add his voice to the great chorus composed of this student body. Even though he does not regard himself as of grand opera calibre, he is taking undue liberties if he flatters himself that his discords will be heard in that volume of five hundred voices.

A large number of people about the Campus profess the opinion that the publication of THE CAMPUS costs nothing. Of course the management dislikes to think—although it knows—that some of the subscribers have no higher sense of honor than to allow the paper to come to them week after week, and yet have little intention of paying the small sum of two dollars. So it would take this opportunity to inform the innocent college men and alumni who entertain the idea that the printer demands no pay and that Uncle Sam circulates the paper for the sake of keeping its postal clerks busy, that such is really not the case.

It is a fact that throughout the first semester, barring a few people who signified their desire that THE CAMPUS be no longer sent to them, the paper was mailed to every alumnus and undergraduate of the University. It was sent to every alumnus in an effort to bring more of the graduates into close touch with their Alma Mater, and at an expense of more than fifty dollars per issue. During the past two months the issues have been decreased, but the paper is still sent to every student who has not given notice that it be discontinued. Now we would put the question flatly up to these men: will you, after having accepted each number of your college paper, still disregard the call for your subscription money?

PRACTICAL HUSBANDRY OF MAINE

Board of Editors for Next Year

The original editorial board of Practical Husbandry of Maine, the new paper published by the students of the College of Agriculture, has completed its duties and the board for the next year has been elected. During the year, this board has attended to all of the numerous details connected with such an undertaking and has brought out an attractive and valuable paper. The publication is now on a firm footing, with a growing circulation throughout the State, and its success seems assured. Great credit is due the retiring board for the manner in which it has handled the paper and for the results which it has accomplished in so short a time.

The editorial board for the next year is as follows: Editor, M. D. Jones, '12; Business Manager, J. W. Hart, '13; Associate Editors, Poultry Husbandry, C. Dunlap, '12; Horticulture, E. W. McKeen, '12; Animal Industry, A. W. Jones, '12; Agronomy, C. W. Rowe, '12; Veterinary Science, L. S. Russell, '12; Farm Management, A. L. Deering, '12; Domestic Science, Marion C. Estabrook, '12.

ECONOMICS CLUB

Colonel Varnum Spoke at the Smoker Wednesday Evening

The Economics Club held an enjoyable smoke talk in the Library last Wednesday evening. Colonel Varnum was the speaker of the evening, and gave a most interesting talk. He said in part, that as the white man had pushed westward, so he was likely to push into Asia. The gamblers, the advance guard of the civilization of the West, have already gone into the Phillipine Islands and Asia. As long as the white man continues to push into Asia there is no fear of "yellow peril." There is also no danger of Japan making war with the United States, for as soon as Japan should meddle with the United States, Russia would step into Manchuria and finally, Japan is so poverty stricken that she cannot afford war.

ATHLETIC SUBSCRIPTION

Everyone is Urged to Pay His Subscription Before April 15th

It is to be regretted that, in view of the liberal discount of 15% offered for payment before April 15th, more students have not paid up their athletic subscriptions. Both the baseball and track teams require a large amount of supplies during the Spring, all of which must be paid for; in fact much has already been purchased and the Association should be in a position to take advantage of the cash discount. In addition to supplies, the Association will also be under the expense of sending the baseball team on the Massachusetts trip, and the track team to the University of Vermont. All of these things require ready cash which the Association must have on hand in order to transact its business satisfactorily.

There is an inclination on the part of many of the students to let the athletic subscription go on their term bill, either because they do not care to take the amount out of their current expenses or through carelessness. Therefore the Association wishes especially to urge that every student who has not already done so, pay his dues before April 15th. The plea is made particularly at this time in order that those who are accustomed to having the subscription paid with the term bill, may bring the $4.25 back with them when they return from the Spring recess and give them who pay their term bill an equal opportunity to profit by the 15% discount.

Not only did he obtain his Bachelor's degree from the University of Maine, but he secured his Master's degree here in 1888. He then attended Johns Hopkins, which granted him a Ph. D. in 1890. The same year he was married to Minna R. Simon of Baltimore, Maryland.

Dr. Fernald was Professor of Zoology in the Pennsylvania State College from 1891 to 1899, and during his last year there was State Zoologist of Pennsylvania. NOMINATIONS

Men Nominated for Assistant Manager Track and Baseball

At a meeting held last Thursday noon, the following men were nominated for the position of Assistant Manager of Track to fill the vacancy of H. B. Richardson, resigned: W. E. Stone, '13, and L. E. Seekins, '13. Both these men have been working for track for the past season and are competent to do the work.

At the same meeting, the following men were nominated for assistant manager of baseball, two of which are to be chosen: J. L. Ober, S. P. Danforth, C. W. Wescott, and J. C. Wallace, all 1913. Danforth and Wallace have been working for football managerships and in view of there only being two men out for baseball and two to be elected these two men were nominated.

ELECTRICAL LECTURE

Lecture on the Steam Turbine by Mr. Douglass

On last Wednesday afternoon in Wingate Hall, Mr. Douglass of the General Electric Company gave a most interesting lecture on the steam turbine. Mr. Douglass discussed the different styles of the turbine to some length, but he spoke particularly on the Curtis impulse type and its manufacture by the General Electric Company. Detailed views of this machine were shown by the stereopticon, and its construction minutely described. In his talk Mr. Douglass treated briefly the Reidler-Stumpf type, the De Laval type, and the Parsons reaction type of turbine. In his conclusion he showed charts illustrating the efficiencies of turbines with reciprocating engines, and he explained the advantage for overload due to the very slight variation in efficiency of an overloaded turbine.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The meeting of the Agricultural Club, last Wednesday evening, was taken up by a discussion of the question: "Which is the most important, location with regard to market, or location with regard to soil?" The first view was taken in a paper by M. D. Jones, '12, and the second by L. S. Russell, '12. Following this discussion, the club was addressed by Prof. L. S. Merrill.

BASEBALL

Outlook for Season

The outlook for a championship team is not as good this year as it was last owing to the fact that five of last year's team are not in college at present. There is every prospect of a late spring this year which will seriously interfere with the earlier games, particularly the exhibition game with Colby on April 19th.

There is an exceptionally good opportunity for new men at second base and at short stop, both of which positions were left vacant by last year's men, all the present candidates being of about the same ability.

Spring arrearages will be given to ineligible and it is hoped that a number of promising candidates will then be available.

All men who can stay will be kept during the spring recess, especially the battery candidates. A new plan has been adopted this year; the squad will all be out during the season and practice games will be played nightly between teams picked from the squad as soon as it is possible to get out of doors. Considerable interest was shown by the students in these games last year and it is to be hoped that they will turn out in large numbers this year.

In addition to the exhibition game with Colby on April 19th it is expected that there will be another exhibition game during Junior Week, making four games in all with Colby during the season.
