JUNIOR WEEK FESTIVITIES

EXHIBITION SPEAKING

Won by Philip Garland

The festivities of Junior Week opened with the annual Junior Exhibition Speaking last Wednesday evening in the Chapel. There were four orations and Philip Garland of Oldtown, was the winner with an oration on "The Conquest of the Air." All of the speeches were interesting and instructive and they showed careful preparation.

PHILIP GARLAND, '12
Winner Junior Exhibition

The program was as follows:

The Lack of Patriotic Sentiment.....	WARREN McDONALD
Music, a Necessary Element in American Education..	HELEN CHARLOTTE WORSTER
The Conquest of the Air .....	PHILIP GARLAND
What the Red Cross Stamps Have Done.....	HELEN MILLARD AVERILL

The awarding committee consisted of Mr. Elmer T. Boyd, Miss Florence I. Jaynes, and Rev. Charles A. Moores.

The subject of "The Conquest of the Air," was treated in a comprehensive and concise manner. The speaker stated that aerial navigation is at last becoming one of our greatest problems. He outlined the work in this undertaking, beginning with the balloon floated in the eighteenth century and ending with mechanism of the present, perfected by Wright and others. He said, that the air machine has made war so dangerous that nations will fear war, and in this way one of the greatest agents of war will tend toward peace, and then we can indeed say that the "Conquest of the Air" is complete. This oration was scholarly, and well delivered and was characteristic of all the speakers.

After the speaking the audience adjourned to the gymnasium where they enjoyed an informal dance for several hours. Music for both events was furnished by the University Orchestra.

JUNIOR LUNCH

Eighty-five Attended the Lunch Last Thursday

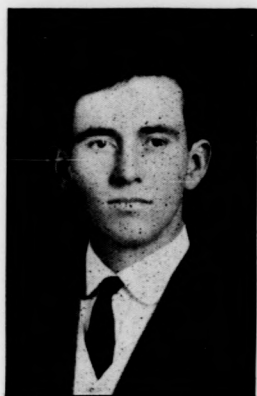

The Junior Lunch which was held in the club room of the Library, Thursday at one o'clock, was a great success and was enjoyed by an attendance of eighty-five.

The menu was as follows:

Hot Rolls	Lobster Salad	Olives
	Cold Ham
Assorted Cake	Harlequin Ice Cream	Coffee
	Spring Water

The Lunch was followed by post prandial exercises at which Prof. G. W. Thompson acted as toastmaster. Prof. Segall, Prof. Ganong, Prof. Daggett, and Benjamin Kent, President of the Junior Class responded to toasts.

IVY DAY EXERCISES

A Successful Affair

Favored by almost perfect weather, the Class of 1912 held very successful Ivy Day Exercises on last Thursday afternoon. At 3.15 the class, lead by W. E. Parker of Harrington, Marshal, marched slowly into the prettily decorated Chapel and took their seats for the last time as juniors.

The exercises were of the most interesting nature, M. D. Jones of Unity, Class Chaplain, opened with a prayer for the class, its present and its future and the University as a whole. B. C. Kent of Oldtown, Class President gave the address accorded to his office, speaking of the splendid record and hopeful future of the class and welcoming the visitors to the Campus.

The Presentation by F. C. Cobb of Livermore Falls, was typical of the man who gave them and every pithy remark called forth a round of applause.

The Class Oration by C. S. Cleaves of Bar Harbor was one of the best efforts of the afternoon.

He began in a light strain referring to the class as the future governing body of the University, and finished with an eloquent exposition of the unusually advantages and opportunities that the Class of 1912 has before them as seniors.

The Class History by K. D. Woodward of Kingston, Mass., was given in a very interesting manner bringing in all of the amusing points of the life of the class.

J. E. Ash of Bar Harbor made one of the hits of the day with the Class Prophecy. Every weak point in the armor of his classmates was tapped in a manner highly amusing to all.

The Class Poem by Philip Garland of Oldtown was a remarkably well written work based on "Hiawatha's Childhood."

The roll was called by Miss Marion C. Estabrooke of Orono and was followed by the singing of the "Ode to the Maine Campus" by M. W. Gray, '12.

The Charge to the Curator, W. R. Ballou of Bath, was made by President Kent. Falling in behind the curator, who bore the 1912

ODE TO MAINE CAMPUS

Tune—The Little Old Red Shawl

'Tis twilight on the campus and the birds have gone to rest,
While the fading sun is sifting through the trees;
Kind Nature in its beauty wears the color of your breast:
Th' approaching night draws near, the earth seems blest.

Then muse we long in reverie, and search the darkening sky
For some faint trace of the awakening stars,
When Venus from her lofty height our hearts enraptured
spies
And calls the kind assistance of old Mars.

But not alone do "Stella" cast on us their shining glows,
For soon the moon arises from the deep,
And radiantly on every side its hallowed splendor throws
To add enchantment to this mighty sleep.

But lo! the night has closed around, the world lies calm beneath,
And tells us in a whisper to be still:
For peace on earth by Nature sent, a blessing to bequeath,
Will add a dear content to those who will.

M. W. Gray, '12.

Pianist—C. W. Newell, '12

JUNIOR PROM

Was One of the Most Delightful Ever Held

Never was a more delightful Junior Promenade held than the one which occurred last Friday evening. The decorations were the most beautiful ever displayed. The gymnasium was so well decorated that it appeared as a most beautiful ball room rather than an athletic hall. The roof of the gym, was entirely concealed by two superb cones of white streamers. Among these white ribbons and along the balcony were many colored lights which produced a most artistic effect. There were many electrical displays during the evening which added greatly to this brilliant affair. The reception, which was held previous to the dance, took place in the chapel where again the decorations were very pretty. Ferns, potted palms, easy chairs, and rugs added much to the attractiveness. As the guests entered the chapel, they were ushered to the receiving line which consisted of President and Mrs. Robert Judson Aley, Dean and Mrs. James Norris Hart, and Benjamin Calvin Kent.

The dancing began at 9 o'clock to the strains of Pullen's Orchestra, and it was not until the "peep o' day" that it ended. During the dancing a beautiful large moon shown on the graceful dancers and surely made a "hit."

A. E. CRABTREE, '12

The committee to whom most of the work can be credited are Ralph Stimson Hopkinson, George Edward King, Jr., Carl Schurz Cleaves, Harold Clark Faulkner, and Walter Bradbury Emerson.

TWELFTH NIGHT

Presented in the Gymnasium, Last Thursday Evening

The Maine Masque closed a very successful season with their presentation of "Twelfth Night" last Thursday evening. This play, which deals with the romantic story of Sebastian and Viola, trip to Ellsworth and Bar Harbor. One of the best productions was that given in the Bangor Opera House before an audience of 400 people, composed of the best of Bangor society, faculty and students from the college. The Masque has been greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences in every instance.

Probably the one man in the cast who has done the most to gain and keep the good humor of was staged on a simple Elizabethan stage draped with deep red curtains which only added to the charm of the whole, and made the costumes seem richer.

The play has made a decided hit in the nine times it has been presented this season. The engagements opened one month earlier than usual at Milo and Brownville. During the Easter recess the club played in Deering, Augusta, and Skowhegan, and since then has made a week-end his audience at all times is J. E. Ash, '12, who took the part of Sir Andrew Aguecheek. Mr. Ash is a born comedian, and his interpretation of these difficult lines has been a real treat to the listeners.

J. L. Brown, '14, made an excellent jester in the role of Feste, and the quality of his voice in the songs added much to the play.

T. W. Haskell, '14, as Malvolio, has lead his audience at all times and his interpretation of this character has been excellent.

George Clark, '13, has carried the boisterous part of Sir Tobey well, and B. O. Warren has the regal air of a true count. H. S. Thomas, '11, has had weight and authority in his lines, and P. W. Monohon, '14, has made a good twin for Viola. F. W. Haines, '13, F. T. Norcross, '14, J. R. Hudson, '14, and J. W. Hart, '13, were effective in their parts.

The female characters must not be overlooked, for their ability has done much for this year's production of "Twelfth Night." E. H. Maxcey, '11, in his clever portrayal of Maria has been spirited and effective, and J. L. Dinsmore, '11, carried the extremely difficult part of Olivia in such a charming and graceful manner that he won much applause. These two, together with Mark Pendleton, '14, who has taken the part of

J. L. DINSMORE, '11
Appeared as Olivia

Viola, form a trio of men who took female parts in an almost faultless manner.

The following is the cast which has been presented:

Duke.....	Benjamin O. Warren, '11
Sebastian.....	Paul W. Monohon, '14
Antonio }
Sea Captain }	Hayward S. Thomas, '11
Valentine.....	Fernando T. Norcross, '14
Curio.....	James R. Hudson, '14
Sir Tobey.....	George E. Clark, '13
Sir Andrew.....	John E. Ash, '12
Malvolio.....	Theodore W. Hasell, '14
Fabian.....	John W. Hart, '13
Feste (clown).....	Joseph L. Brown, '14
Olivia.....	James L. Dinsmore, '11
Viola.....	Mark Pendleton, '14
Maria.....	Everett H. Maxcey, '11

Too much credit cannot be given to the management of this play and much of the success is due to Professor Daggett who has been a wonderful coach and a great worker. The Masque lost many of their best actors at the beginning of the year, but Professor Daggett built up a star cast out of new material.

The manager, Clifford George, '12, should not be forgotten, for the Maine Masque has had a capable business head this year and much credit is due him for the way in which he managed his company throughout the season.

BOAT RIDE

Sail to and Dinner at Penobscot Park

The Junior Boat Ride was a success in everyone's estimation. Starting Saturday noon from the Bar Harbor Wharf in Bangor, the two steamers Anne Belle and Castine wended their way down the beautiful Penobscot with nearly 250 students and their friends on board. After a sail of about two hours and a half the excursion arrived at its destination, Penobscot Park. Immediately on arriving, preparations were made for dinner and before long the very hungry crowd was showing its appreciation of a most delightful dinner. After two hours of fun spent at this park the party again boarded the steamers and sailed back up the river. The lights of Bangor came into view about 9 o'clock, and when they did a murmur of regret ran through the happy excursionists because the trip was at an end.

The program for the Junior Week exercises was an extremely attractive one this year. It was bound in brown leather with a Maine seal and "Maine Junior Week, 1911," raised on the cover. The program contained besides the order of exercises and the Junior Week Committees, a number of views of the Campus and the class roll.

EDITORIAL.

As the Class of 1911 is closing its career at the University as undergraduates, it seems fitting to say something to their credit and for The Class their benefit in this last issue. The Of 1911 Class of 1911 is probably one of the strongest, most enterprising, most loyal classes that ever left our University. They have supported all college activities staunchly from the first time they arrived on the Campus up to this last week of their course. Now as a fitting close to a course well run, they have established a 1911 Scholarship which is a praiseworthy example for future senior classes to follow. It will indeed be a remarkable freshman class next fall if it brings the University as much as is being lost by graduation.

When Commencement Week is finally over and the Class of 1911 as alumni scatter to their several stations in life, we ask that they may still retain a loyal interest in Maine, and think of the men back on the old Campus working to put Maine at the top. We trust that they realize, that it is to them that the older alumni will look for enthusiasm and progressive work for Maine. May they not fail to respond. May they remember that the University must be judged by its productions and that their careers must effect the standing of the institution for better or worse.

We trust that the class will support athletics and all college activities with their money and their influence. We hope that every member of the class of 1911 will subscribe for THE CAMPUS for years to come. May they send their addresses to the business manager of the paper voluntarily. It is the best and only way to keep in touch with the other members of the class and the happenings on the Campus.

And now, Seniors, we wish you the best of luck. May the same loyal, influencing spirit that has characterized your class go with each one of you as you face the world.

Remember Maine. Rejoice in her successes, sympathize with her failures. Above all remember that you are Maine men and in the years to come "Through weal or woe, through dark or bright" love her then as you do now.

At last the recognition button for University of Maine men is a reality. The first order has arrived on the Campus and sold out Recognition in short order. A second lot has Button arrived and is being fast disposed of.

The only function of the button is, in accordance with its name, one of identification. The only great good that can be derived from possessing such a button is that of making known Maine men to each other, wherever they may meet. It must be admitted from the start that the idea is excellent, and the fulfilling of the idea may easily be one of the greatest progressive movements ever made to draw together our student and alumni bodies.

But the fulfilling of the idea means that every Maine man must do his duty toward the recognition button, or it is bound to fail in its original purpose. The button is of plain silver, unnoticeable to those whom it does not concern, and the minimum cost of twenty-five cents places it within the reach of all. It is not enough that fifty per cent of the student body and alumni should possess buttons. EVERY Maine man must have one. Having purchased a button, it is a plain duty to wear it, not only at alumni banquets and University functions but ALL of the time. Each man might have a dozen buttons, but if he does not wear one, he will go on, passing Maine men in all parts of the country unawares, and will, thereby, lose one of the greatest assets of a college course.

The importance of these details must be realized. The plans for definite up-building of the University along all lines has for one of its most important details the forming of a closer bond between Faculty, alumni, and students. It is, therefore, up to every Maine man to shoulder his little portion of the load in making the way clear for a larger and more effective University.

BACCALAUERATE

Splendid Address by Dr. Aley

Last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Robert J. Aley, President of the University of Maine delivered the Baccalaureate Address. The text for the address was, "And they that were ready went in," Matt. XXV.-10. His address in brief was as follows:

"The great Teacher, at the beginning of his career, divided men into two classes—the wise and the foolish. He never changed the division, for in his last dissertation upon this subject he tells of the ten virgins who went forth to meet the bridegroom, of whom five were wise and entered in, but five were foolish and were refused admittance."

"Through all ages men have presented two theories of life, one resting upon a foundation of law and order and the other upon chance and luck. The first theory fills its adherents with hope and inspires them to activity. The second removes all incentives to action and prevents "growth."

Only those go in who are prepared. If it occasionally seems that one gets in without preparation, it is soon discovered that he lacks the staying qualities that keep him in. Readiness is as essential in staying in as it is in getting in. If a burglar were to break into heaven he would soon be working over time to get out."

"It is easy to make mistakes in judging of the things that give success. Too often the success itself blinds us to the means that brought it. It must never be forgotten that it takes time to gain the wisdom and make the preparation that allows one to enter in."

"In order to live by law and not by chance, we must become disciples of the three g's—grace, grit and gumption. It was grace that made Noah able to withstand the taunts and jeers of the dry-weather prophets of his day and successfully complete the Ark. It was grit that differentiated Grant from the other generals of his day and made him the Union hero. It is gumption that makes us see things in their right proportion and do things at the right time."

"Life in this world is a fight. We all love a fighter. We love him better if he is a winner. He will be a winner if he never loses his courage through temporary defeat and comes up from every battle better prepared for the next, and more ready to enter in."

"Civilization has not found anything better than the school to prepare men to enter in. Most of you have given at least sixteen years to make some acquaintance with that common consensus of knowledge that the race has found useful. The discipline, power and knowledge gained by these years of effort ought to make you ready to enter the great market place of the gods where all must come to buy the things of value. If to this market place you are ready to bring your best selves and are willing to pay the full price in complete service, you may buy freely what you see."

LAST CHAPEL EXERCISES

The last chapel service which was held on Wednesday, May 31, was as usual a very impressive ceremony. The exercise was started when the Senior Class President, Harold G. Wood, unveiled the class banner. Harold R. Sargent, chaplain of the class, conducted the exercises in a fitting manner. After the day's notices given by Harold G. Wood, the Senior Class in cap and gown filed out for the last time as undergraduates.

SOUTHARD TOURNAMENT

Warren and Peckham, '11, Win Doubles

The tennis tournament for the Southard Medals which has been in progress on the Campus for the last two weeks was not entirely finished in time for the results to be printed in this issue. The doubles were won by Warren, '11, and Peckham, '11, when they defeated Smiley, '12, and Towner, '14, last Wednesday. The singles were nearly finished Thursday afternoon when Warren '11, and Jackson, '12, stopped playing the finals with one set apiece. They have probably completed the match by the time that this issue is out.

RECOGNITION

First Order Rapidly Disposed of

Sometime ago the scheme of having some emblem by which Maine men could recognize one another was introduced. After much consideration the student body adopted the recognition button. The button is of silver and very plain, bearing only the representation of a pine tree, which is the emblem of the University. The buttons have met with great favor on the Campus.

The button is made of oxidized silver. The face of it is 5-16 of an inch in diameter, made in the form of a seal, with irregular edges bearing in the center a representation of a pine tree. It is inconspicuous, but may be readily seen by anyone looking for it. The first gross, ordered from Langrock Brothers of New York, as a trial order, were speedily taken up, and another order has been placed with the manufacturers which is now due to have arrived.

WESTERN ALUMNI

Change in Presenting Scholarship

A few days ago President Aley received a letter from the Western Alumni Association of the University of Maine recommending a change in the presenting of the Western Alumni Scholarship. At present this scholarship is as follows: "To the freshman who has a satisfactory deportment and who makes the best progress in his studies during the year, tuition for the sophomore year shall be given."

According to the proposed change the scholarship reads:

"Resolved, that the scholarship annually awarded by the Western Alumni Association of the University of Maine be given to the most worthy student among those on the several athletic teams of the University of Maine, made by the executive committee of the University of Maine Athletic Association."

It is the intention of the Western Alumni Association that the standing of the student as a scholar shall be given consideration when choice is made of the "most worthy"

Fragments of papyri, some of which are said to be more than 2,000 years old, have been presented to the museum of the University of Pennsylvania by John F. Lewis, Superintendent of the Philadelphia Academy of the Fine Arts.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES

In past years the names and records of all civil engineering graduates of the University have been kept in a file for the purpose of comparing salaries received by U. of M. graduates with those of other college graduates. This system has also proven useful in filling positions in all parts of the country.

Recently the Maine Alumni chiefly the civil engineers in New York and Chicago have interested themselves in obtaining positions for new graduates. When Dean Boardman returned from his Western trip this spring, he was entertained at a banquet by the members of the New York Alumni Association and the situation was thoroughly discussed. The result is that an employment bureau for U. of M. graduates is being established in both New York and Chicago. So far, only the civil and chemical departments have entered into this plan, but it is expected that the electrical and mechanical departments will join these before another year.

Under the new system a triple file of graduates' names and up-to-date records will be kept—one file in Orono, one in New York, and the third in Chicago. In each of the two bureaus a secretary will have charge of the active work. If one secretary is unable to provide a man for a situation, he will immediately notify the other secretary and also the Orono office so that these two can have a chance to fill the position. In the same way, if a graduate is looking for work, the two secretaries are notified and use their influence to obtain him a situation. The system will undoubtedly prove a big success when the present plans have had time to mature.

FRESHMEN IN DORMITORY

One of the topics that has created a lot of interest on the Campus this year was, if the freshmen would be compelled to live in the dormitories. The question was first brought up last fall when the Board of Trustees passed a rule that no freshmen should live in the fraternity houses. They changed this rule however and left the settling of the matter to Dr. Aley. His decision, has been that next year only seven freshmen shall be allowed to live in each fraternity house, although as many may be initiated as desired. The year after a smaller number will be allowed to each house, until finally no freshmen at all will be allowed in the houses, but all will be compelled to live in the dormitory.

SHOT BY CHINESE STUDENT

Naught Nine Graduate Seriously Wounded

Miss Christine Shaw, '09, of Orono, was shot and seriously wounded on last Thursday evening on the Orono covered bridge on her way home from a dance at Orono Town Hall, by T. S. Linn, '12, of Hong Kong, a government student. Miss Shaw was in the company of her sister and brother at the time of the shooting.

The shooting was evidently the result of some infatuation which Linn imagined that he had for Miss Shaw. Linn is held at present in the jail at Bangor pending trial.

Miss Shaw is the daughter of Supt. Shaw of the University Campus and was very popular in Orono and at the University. Physicians state that she has an even chance for recovery.

FROG POND SCRAP

Held on Monday, May 29

The Annual Frog Pond Scrap between the sophomores and freshmen took place on Monday, May 29, about 11 P. M. It was not held in the regular place on account of the lowness of the water. The best place which could be found on the bank of the river was not very good because of the abundance of ledges and rocks. The freshmen gathered at the Library and marched to the scene of conflict, singing the Stein Song, while the sophomores awaited their coming on the bank. At the firing of the pistol the freshmen, who greatly outnumbered their opponents, rushed down and endeavored to sweep the whole line into the water, but in this they were only partially successful, as the rush became a mass of individual struggles as soon as the classes met. This continued for about ten minutes when the pistol sounded again and hostilities ceased. Each class gathered in a body and cheered themselves and their opponents, after which the cry "Maine men this way!" was raised and all joined together in Maine songs and cheers.

AGRICULTURAL BULLETINS

The Maine Agricultural Experiment Station is now sending to its mailing list a bulletin on the spraying of orchards for the control of insect and fungous pests. It contains a discussion of spraying experiments in the past, the problem of "spray injury" or "Bordeaux injury" and the substitution of lime-sulphur preparations for Bordeaux as fungicides. The bulletin gives a review of the results of spraying with lime-sulphur in the past, and a detailed account and discussion of the work of 1910 at Highmoor Farm in comparing commercial and home made lime-sulphur preparations with Bordeaux mixture in their control of apple fungi; also the action of the several sprays when combined with arsenate of lead. Directions are given for the preparation of stock solutions of lime-sulphur and for their dilution for use. A discussion of proper time and methods of application is included.

The bulletin (No. 189) will be sent to any resident of Maine on request. The charge to people outside of Maine is ten cents in coin, (Postage stamps cannot be accepted). Requests should be sent to The Maine Agricultural Experiment Station, Orono, Maine.

Circular (398) has also recently been issued by this department. This work is an extensive and detailed article on "Poultry Diseases and Their Treatment." It will be sent free to residents of Maine but to non-residents the price will be twenty-five cents in coin.

ALUMNI NOTES

Walter L. Sturtevant, '08, of Rutherford, N. J., was recently married to Miss Marion E. Andrews of Lynn, Mass. Mr. Sturtevant prepared for college at the Bangor High School, where he lived before moving to Rutherford.

He is now assistant manager of the Rutherford Rubber Company and is also at the head of the chemical department of that company. Previous to this position, he was employed as chemist by the General Electric Co. at their Lynn plant.

Franklin R. Patten, '80, expects to return to the West very soon to take charge of an engineering contract. Mr. Patten has completed many important contracts since graduation and is considered to be a most successful engineer.

Ralph H. Fifield, '05, who has been employed in Montana in the United States Reclamation Service, has recently been transferred to Williston, North Dakota. He is now engaged on the Missouri Pumping Projects.

G. A. Carle, '07, who has lately been employed in Toledo, Ohio, has accepted a position with the Montreal Steel and Structural Company of Montreal.

Frederick S. Cram, '09, is employed in the United States Reclamation Service and is now located at Oswego, Montana.

"CLOTHING THAT'S FIT"

must be made to fit—and that means made for YOUR individual measurement from the very beginning. Discerning men have found that decent ready-made clothing costs about the same as decent custom-made—a fact which puts the made-to-measure clothing decidedly at the head. I have a particularly fine showing of the choicest Spring goods, and am prepared to produce faultless clothing at moderate cost. Every particular dresser—yes, YOU—should be interested. Step in!

For many years our line of Aluminum household utensils have been sold by college students during the vacation period with wonderful success. It is a line of goods that appeals very strongly to all classes of people. The Rev. A. B. Flouton of Columbia College last vacation sold many hundreds of dollars worth of our goods in a short space of time. You can do as well. We furnish free samples and give credit to responsible parties. Address Girard Mfg. Company, Melrose Station, Boston, Msas.

300--WANTED--300

THREE HUNDRED TEACHERS

We need three hundred teachers to fill the vacancies now on our books. Grade and high school teachers, principals, superintendents and college instructors wanted. Salaries from $700 to $2,500 per year.

If you have been well trained the great Southwest needs you and will pay you twenty-five per cent more for your services than you can get in the older states. If you are not one of the best do not trouble to write us. We want the best.

We have positions for 100 inexperienced teachers. Assistant principalships and high schools, salaries $80 to $95 per month.

We need 75 executives, to take charge of high schools and ward schools, at salaries of from $900 to $2,000. Average $1,200 to $1,400.

We could use a dozen well qualified men, whose training entitles them to college positions. Salaries $1,200 to $1,600 first year. Small but growing schools.

If you can't find the right positions register with us. We have twice as many calls for teachers as we have candidates to recommend. Don't be satisfied with a smaller salary than your merits entitles you to receive. Come down into the Southwest where you are needed and boards are willing to pay for good service.

The Teacher's Personal Service Bureau gives each candidate individual attention, and we recommend but one candidate for each position. We recommend the candidate for more than one position.

WE FIND THE RIGHT MAN FOR THE PLACE
AND PLACE THE MAN IN THAT POSITION. LET US TELL YOU ABOUT OUR METHODS, AND LET US KNOW YOUR WANTS. WE CAN SATISFY YOU.
WRITE TODAY. NOW IS THE TIME TO GET THE BEST POSITIONS.
