A TYPEWRITER TEST THAT MEANS SOMETHING

Blindfold yourself. Have ten typewriters, of different make, placed in a row—a Monarch somewhere among them. Try each keyboard in turn. The machine with the lightest touch will be the

and you can locate it every time, no matter who its position be changed.

Just as the proper tools produce the best work, so does a responsive key action increase the efficiency of a stenographer. It saves her strength. Therefore, she has a better grip on her work, is more accurate, more rapid, gets a greater quantity of work done. There is no "three-o'clock fatigue" where the Monarch is used, and a few days' trial will convince you of this fact.

Learn the reasons for Monarch superiority. Then try the Monarch, to the end that you may know that Monarch merit rests in the machine itself, not merely in what we tell you about it.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Plan of Last Year to be Resumed

Last year a very successful schedule of inter-class basketball games was run off. This year as soon as the respective class managers are elected a similar schedule will be planned. Practice will probably begin directly after the Thanksgiving recess and the games will begin about the first of January. Last year the games were refereed by some of the upper-classmen. Their work was of first class order but, as is always the case among a few, they were often accused of being partial to their own team. In order to eliminate this unwarranted feeling, an endeavor will be made to secure an impartial referee from Bangor or elsewhere. It is hoped that when a call is made for candidates a large number will respond.

THE NEW SOPHOMORE SOCIETY

A Change of Name

The new Sophomore society will be known as The Masks instead of Alpha Nu as was announced in the last issue of the CAMPUS. The general idea of the society is the improvement of Maine spirit by making it mean something more than merely cheering athletic teams and other easy ways of expression. The chief object of its charter members will be to place the society on a working basis and give it the strong organization necessary for its permanent success.

In spite of the late start of the society, its members hope to do considerable toward realizing its aims. Its field of activity will naturally lie in the two under classes rather than among the seniors and juniors. The Masks will try to influence the recognition of college customs that already exist and attempt to inaugurate others.

The members of the society will be chose for their popularity and ability to carry out its precepts. They must also be eligible for college activities. An endeavor will be made to secure a broad membership by electing a member from each fraternity on the Campus.

Virginia has successfully used the honor system in examinations since 1842.

MAINE MASQUE ACTIVE

Council Chooses Play and Coach

The council of the Maine Masque transacted important business at a meeting in the Library on Thursday. Arthur W. Pinero's play, The Magistrate was definitely decided upon as the play to be presented by the Masque in the engagement for the coming winter. Mr. Huff of the English Department was engaged as coach of the Masque for the season. Mr. Huff is a graduate of Harvard where he had considerable experience along dramatic lines. He comes highly recommended and is well fitted to take up the work of the Masque. F. W. Haines '13, was instructed to arrange for a smoker to be given shortly after Thanksgiving to all present or prospective members of the Masque. Rehearsals will commence in the near future.

The officers of the Masque for the year are: president, Alden Chase '12; vice-president, C. H. George '12; secretary, P. W. Monohon '14; treasurer, L. J. Reed '07, business manager, F. W. Haines '13; assistant business manager, F. T. Norcross '14; stage manager, T. W. Haskell '14.

SOPHOMORE DEBATING

Two Interclass Debates Planned

At the regular meeting of the Sophomore Debating Club last Thursday evening the following questions were submitted to the Freshman Society for them to choose the question and side which they wished to uphold:—

1. Resolved, that the U. S. should levy a progressive income tax.

2. Resolved, that all cities in the United States having a population of 5,000 inhabitants should adopt the commission form of city government.

It was voted to hold the next regular meeting of the club on December 14 and the trials for the Freshman-Sophomore and Sophomore -Junior debates Friday, January 5.

In a brief talk Mr. Ketchum outlined the object in holding two interclass debates. He stated that these interclass teams would be the nucleus of the 'varsity teams which will represent the University in intercollegiate debates. The experience gained through participation in an actual debate before the public is necessary in order to have a team worthy of upholding the name of this University. It is planned another year to have four class teams and in this way bring out and drill any promising material for the 'varsity teams.

FRESHMAN DEBATE POSTPONED

Debate and Election of Officers Tonight

The regular meeting of the Freshman Debating Club was postponed from Thursday evening to Tuesday of this week. At this meeting there will be the regular debate, the subject of which was announced in last week's CAMPUS. The election of officers will also take place at this meeting.

THE PORTLAND CORN AND FRUIT EXHIBITION

Prof. Simmons Givs Talk

A very interesting account of the Corn and Fruit Exhibition, recently held in Portland, was given by Prof. Simmons of the Agriculture Department, in Chapel, Friday morning. He told how last year, the first exhibition of this kind was held in Maine and such good results were obtained that another was held this year. Almost every variety of corn and fruit was displayed on the many tables and in the booths which filled the auditorium. Prof. Simmons said, that he would not attempt to give a description of the sizes of the pumpkins for fear of being doubted, but that the quality of all the produce displayed showed what Maine was able to raise. The quality of the corn, especially, was excellent, and figures showed that the yield of corn this year has been thirty bushels to the acre. Maine stands third in rank among the corn producing states of the United States, preceded only by New York and Illinois. The apples made one of the most prominent showings. One of the judges from a section of the West, noted for its apples, spoke highly of the flavor of Maine apples.

In order to judge the productions, the state was divided into three sections or zones—the northern, the central and the southern, which in turn were divided into seventeen classes. The products of these different zones were first judged, and then the different zones competed for the prizes which amounted to $2500. During the exhibition a series of lectures were given by men from the departments of agriculture at Washington, Maine and many other states. At the end of the week, all the members of the exhibition were given a banquet by the Portland Board of Trade. Prof. Simmons said that the affair was such a success, that another similar one would probably be held during the ensuing year.

TAU BETA PI INITIATION

Six Seniors and one Sophomore Become Members

The Maine Alpha chapter of Tau Beta Pi, the honorary engineering fraternity, held its initiation and banquet Tuesday evening. The following seven candidates were taken into membership: Irving Emory Center, '12; Henry Harlan Eastman, '12; Philip Garland, '12; Maynard Sumner Gould, '12; James Foster Jackson, '12; Lester Warner Jacobs, '12; Mark Dennis Cronan, '13.

ELECTION NOMINATIONS FOR MANAGERS

The following men were nominated by the nomination committee of the Athletic Association:

For football manager: J. C. Wallace, '13, J. W. Hart, '13.

For assistant football managers: E. L. Getchell, '14, J. N. Junkins, '14, M. Pendleton, '14, R. S. Ferguson, '14.

For assistant managers of track: H. P. Adams, '14, F. W. Haskell, '14, A. B. Ferguson, '14.

For assistant managers of baseball: W. E. Kimball, '14, G. A. Rounds, '14, J. R. Hudson, '14, H. W. Hall, '14, B. B. Anthony '14.

Both of the men up for manager of football are workers in every sense of the word. John Walter Hart of Holden, Maine, has been working for the athletic association ever since he has been in college and has, also been prominent in other activities. Hart was assistant manager of track and has served this year as assistant manager of football. He is a member of the honorary agricultural fraternity, Alpha Zeta, and is business manager of "Practical Husbandry". He is a member of the Maine Masque and is captain of company D of the cadets.

J. C. Wallace of Portland, the other candidate for football manager, has been equally as active in college affairs. He worked for two years and this last year he has served as assistant manager of football. Wallace is secretary of the Junior Civil Society. He was an associate editor of the

ALPHA CHI SIGMA INITIATION

THE EVOLUTION OF THE NEGRO

A very interesting and instructive lecture on the negro problem was given in the lecture room of the library, Wednesday evening. The subject, The Evolution of the Negro, was presented by Mr. John O. Daniel, principal of the Industrial Naval Academy at Brunswick, Ga. In opening his remarks, the speaker touched briefly on his nativity and his experiences during his career as an educator. He then went on to state the disadvantages under which the negro must labor in the strife for a livelihood. The speaker maintained that an industrial education would relieve some of these handicaps, but he made it plainly understood that he did not favor higher education of either white or black, unless the student had ambition. Ambition to improve one's condition, ambition to do something for one's fellow-men and for one's country was, he said, the only thing that would keep us from being eventually crowded to the wall by the foreigners who are continually coming to our shores.

In concluding Mr. Daniel said, the object of his school was not only to teach seamanship, a branch of industry in which there is a great demand for trained men, but also to teach habits of thrift and perseverance.

FRESHMAN NOMINATION

At a meeting of the Freshman nominating committee last Wednesday evening, the following names were submitted for class officers: for president, W. H. Martin, R. H. Bryant, Perry White, M. L. Gilman, J. E. Brewster, L. H. Haskell, J. H. Burnett, Weaver Parks, R. P. Clark, L. H. Morrell; for basketball manager, L. H. Morrell, G. R. Cheney, N. S. Donahue.

READING OF OLD ENGLISH AND SCOTCH BALLADS

Miss Vida Sutton Will Give Unusual Opportunity to Maine Students

On Thursday evening, December seventh, at eight o'clock, Miss Vida Sutton will give a reading of old English and Scotch ballads in the Chapel. Miss Sutton is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has since devoted her time to dramatic readings. After a short exposition of the origin and nature of the ballad as a form of literature she recites the ballads giving them an interpretation which reproduces their dialect, spirit and popular tone. In this work Miss Sutton has had unique success and the reading will be not only entertaining but instructive as well. She has already given her readings in Columbia University, Brooklyn Polytechnic, and other institutions, and an engagement in Portland makes it possible for her to come to Bangor. It is an opportunity which no student ought to miss. Admission will be 25 cents.

MAINE SEED IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

University Faculty take Prominent Parts

Dean Merrill, Dr. Pearl and Prof. Simmons and Slate were at the annual meeting of the Maine Seed Improvement association held in Augusta, November 21, 22 and 23. Corn, small grains, beans and potatoes were exhibited. Premiums were given by the Association and in addition special premiums were offered by the Maine Farmer, Lewiston Journal, and Turf, Farm and Home. Dean Merrill is secretary of the association and Profs. Slate and Simmons were judges for many of the exhibits.

Syracuse has an "Hello" Club which gives every student an "Hello" button and instructs him to say "Hello" to every student he meets.

BANGOR CO-OPERATIVE PRINTING COMPANY

EDITORIAL.

The fall elections of the athletic association is close at hand. Shortly after the Thanksgiving recess the members of the athletic association will be given the opportunity to vote on candidates for managers of football, and assistant managers of football, baseball and track. Every major department of athletics is to be represented. It is well recognized that a capable manager is one of the most valuable assets for an athletic team. Following up this reasoning it is easily conceivable that victories and even championships may rest upon the result of this coming election, and still, if we are to judge by all precedents, less than two-thirds of the members of the association will have spirit enough to register their opinions at this election.

Every Maine man should feel duty bound to vote. He owes it to the association, the candidates and himself. A partial vote must usually give but one result—the election of the man who has the most friends. He may be capable, he may be incapable. If he is incapable the association suffers, and the men who did not vote must shoulder the blame. Every man should vote if for no other reason, than on account of the obligation that he owes to the candidates. They have all been out working hard for Maine. They have felt our defeats keenly, they have contributed largely to our victories. For one, two or three years they have given their services faithfully with nothing but hard work for a prospect. Is any Maine man narrow enough to begrudge the few minutes that it will take to vote for one or the other of these men. Every Maine man owes it to himself to vote because he is supporting athletics with his money, and he should accept this opportunity to see that the money is put into capable hands.

After a man comes to the point where he will vote, the next problem is to get him to vote intelligently. Too many men run down the list of candidates, check the names of the men that they know, and consider that they have done their duty. The result is easy to be seen,—the election of the popular man, the man who is well known. Unfortunately, a popular man is not necessarily capable, and neither is a capable man necessarily popular. If Maine is to keep on the up-grade, she must have capable men, men of tried and true Maine spirit in head and in heart to fill positions of trust. The ideal officer must be first capable, then popular if possible. It behooves every Maine man to vote intelligently—to look up the record and become acquainted with every candidate and pick the men who will boost Maine.

As the homeward rush starts for Thanksgiving, there are two very important things for Maine men to remember. First, Maine men must wear their identification button. Secondly, Maine men must talk for Maine.

There seems to be a division of opinion as to whether clapping is or is not appropriated during chapel exercises. The sacred part Applauding of the exercises certainly should not in Chapel be cheapened and disturbed by clapping. It is however, perfectly fitting and proper to applaud announcements such as are made during the reading of the notices or the Friday morning talks. It might be well to draw the division line immediately after the response which follows the prayers. Such a division would place the special music on Wednesday mornings in the sacred part of the service. 'It is hoped that the sophomores and Freshmen will take it upon themselves to hold their applause within some such limits.

An epidemic of scarlet fever has developed in Oldtown and the health authorities are busy, locating the source of the disease. It behooves all students of the University to give Oldtown a wide berth until all danger of contagion is over. A run of the disease on the Campus would be a serious problem and might place in jeopardy the chances for 1912 diplomas.

On account of the Thanksgiving recess no issue of the CAMPUS will appear on Tuesday, December 5.

PRACTICAL HUSBANDRY OF MAINE

First Issue Most Creditable One

The first issue of Practical Husbandry of Maine, the paper issued by the Agricultural Club appeared last week and is a worthy continuation of the good work begun last year. The issue is neatly put together. The front cover contains a cut of students at practical work in the agricultural course, which is entitled, All College Work is not Book Work.

The contents are well written and the articles are excellently selected to fit the character of the publication. The first article is on, What About Our Maine Pastures, by a practical farmer of the state. He goes over the ground thoroughly enlarging up the evils which tend to deteriorate pastures and the methods and details of reclaim ing deteriorated lands. W. E. Schrupf, '12 submits an interesting paper on the subject, the Alfalfa Crop in Maine. Fattening Poultry is the subject of an instructive article by C. J. Dunlap, '12 who shows a thorough knowledge of his subject. The Brockton Fair trip which was made by a large number of agricultural students is reported in this issue by R. L. Smith, S. C., '12. One of the best articles of all is that by Miss Alice J. Harvey '13, of the Domestic Science Department. She presents a most useful exposition on the Removal of Stains. The Question Box is the completing feature of the paper, taking up many of the questions that come to the college for answers.

The publishers of the paper are to be congratulated upon the progress of the paper which promises to be one of the great strengths of the agricultural course. The publishing board for this year is as follows: Editor-in-Chief, M. D. Jones, '12; Assistant Editor, E. L. True, '14; Business Manager, J. W. Hart, '13; Asst. Bus. Mgrs., J. H. Bodwell, '14, J. R. Hudson, '14; Agronomy, C. W. Rowe, '12; Animal Industry, A. W. Jones, '12; Domestic Science and Art, Miss Marion Estabrook, '12; Farm Management, A. L. Deering, '12; Horticulture, E. W. McKeen, '12; Poultry, C. J. Dunlap, '12; Veterinary Science, L. S. Russell '12.

OUTLOOK FOR GOOD BASEBALL SCHEDULE PROMISING

Manager Wescott Hard at Work

The outlook for a good baseball schedule for the spring is promising if the plans, that Manager Wescott has in mind, mature. All games of course must be approved by both Faculty and Athletic Board and nothing definite can be given out until these two bodies signify their consent. However, Manager Wescott is very desirous of taking a southern trip during the Easter Recess. If such a trip can be arranged it is very probable that games can be scheduled with Trinity College, North Carolina, Davidson College, University of North Carolina, North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Pennsylvania State College and Princeton. If these plans are carried out, it will be the most extended trip ever taken by a University of Maine athletic team.

Manager Wescott is also planning a Massachusetts trip to take place the last of April. The dates for the games in the state series are not settled as yet.

SOPHOMORES ISSUE CHALLENGE

Freshmen Given Choice of Two Subjects for Annual Debate

The Sophomore Debating Club has issued a challenge to the Freshman Society, for a debate to be held between March 1st and March 15th, in the Chapel. The following questions have been submitted for the choice of the Freshmen.

I. Resolved; That the Federal government should levy a progressive income tax.

LAW NOTES

Judge Emery has presented the Law School with a collection of photographs of eminent jurists—which will be of great value to the school. He has also given a picture of himself which will probably be hung in the reception room. The school has also received a fine portrait of Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court. Justice White has inscribed on the picture his compliments to the school. The collection is greatly prized by faculty and student body alike.

Word has been received from George Sweetsir of the class of 1911—from Alburquerque, New Mexico.—Mr. Sweetsir has been travelling through the western states with the idea of settling in the near future for the practice of his profession.

A portrait of Dr. Louis Southard '75, of Boston, Mass. has been received for the reception room.

It is hoped that by spring some arrangements can be made to have two or possibly three tennis courts on the Law School property. There is plenty of room, and such courts would be greatly appreciated.

The Thanksgiving recess at the Law School begins Wednesday, and continues until the following Tuesday.

ALUMNI NOTES

The next monthly dinner of the Boston Alumni will be held at the Crawford House, Scolley Square, Thursday evening, December 7th, at six o'clock.

The CAMPUS wishes strongly to urge all Maine Alumni who are not at present members of any Alumni Association to send their names and addresses to the secretary of the nearest association. Especially do our Alumni Associations lack the membership of the younger men, those who have graduated in the last few years and who could do much for Maine if they chose.

Also the Alumni who have changed their addresses recently are requested to send the correct one to the secretary of the association, nearest his locality. In this way, all can work together, under a better organization, and to better advantage for the advancement and glory of our Alma Mater.

In order that everyone may know exactly where alumni associations are located, the CAMPUS gives a list of the various ones together with the addresses of their corresponding secretaries. Further information can readily be obtained from the University catalogue.

New Times, New Things

The old fertilizer formulas are giving way to the new. At every farmers' meeting one subject should be the fertilizer formula that will furnish a balanced ration to the crop and keep up the fertility of the soil. To do this the fertilizer should contain at least as much as Phosphoric Acid. Our note book has condensed facts essential in farmers' meetings and plenty of space to record the new things that you hear. Let us send one to you before your Institute meets.

A supply of these is furnished by request to every institute held in several states. We will be glad to send a supply delivered free of charge to every Institute, Grange or Farmers' Club Officer on request. It contains no advertising matter.
