Maine Access to Inclusive
Education Resources

Happy Holidays From MAIER

We thank you for your dedication and support in helping education across the state of Maine be more inclusive. We wish you a healthy and happy holiday season and hope 2023 is filled with increased inclusive learning experiences for us all.

Plan your 2023 professional development.

Go to the MAIER website to check out the online offerings. You can plan to peruse our clearinghouse of resources (links added often), take a free online asynchronous training across a variety of topics available, join in a community of practice, or book an event into your 2023 calendar. We have options for students, professionals, family, and community members. Check out what's going on in 2023 at MAIER. Let us know how we can help you achieve your inclusive educational goals.

Join in My Day to Play at the Discovery Museum in Bangor.

The Discovery Museum in Bangor is open on select Sunday afternoons from 1-4 pm so that families with children with special needs can use the museum space for free. In efforts to create a more inclusive educational space, there will be fewer people, the staff are trained to support diverse learners, there will be special crafts, sensory activities, and events on these special My Day to Play event days. Check out our event page at MAIER in order to see what days you and your family should visit the museum's My Day to Play!
