SENIORS AND SOPHOMORES AGAIN WINNERS

Last Friday evening the Seniors easily won their third consecutive game, and are still leading in the race for the interclass championship. The Sophomores also had an easy time with the Freshmen in the first half, piling up twenty-five points to the Freshmen's nine, but in the second half the Freshmen secured one point more than the Sophomores, thus holding them down to the final score of 28 to 13.

In the game between the Seniors and Juniors, the Seniors had everything their own way from the start and completely swamped their opponents. Every man on the Senior team worked hard and played good basketball, winning the game by the large score of 40 to 7. The Juniors weakened by the loss of both Savage and Haines did not play as good games as they produced in the first two games of the series. Carleton, Smith, and Parker showed up the best for the Seniors and Bird played a good game for the Juniors.

The Sophomores secured a good lead over the Freshmen in the first half, playing hard and fast. Although the game was rather one-sided at first, the interest was kept up by the spirit manifested by the two classes, who backed up their teams by cheering. In the last half the Freshmen played harder and made the game more interesting. Abbott and Stevens played a good game for the Sophomores while Richardson played a hard game for the Freshmen.

MAGOON TO COACH BASEBALL

Experienced Player and Manager Will Take Charge of Squad

As the baseball season draws near, interest centres on the all important question, "Who is to coach the team." After a great deal of labor on the part of the athletic management they have succeeded in obtaining the services of Mr. George Magoon. Mr. Magoon is an old and experienced player and has also been a successful manager. He has played in many leagues including eight years service in the National League. For five years he captained the Indianapolis team of the American Association. The Savannah team of the Southern League claimed his services for two years in the capacity of manager.

Mr. Magoon will arrive on the Campus March twenty-fifth. Under his direction it is hoped that the greatest efficiency will be obtained from the material which is now in college.

HOPE FOR EXTENSIVE SCHEDULE

Masque Will Open in Bangor

The trials for the remaining parts of the play which the Maine Masque will present this season, will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. Manager Haines is hard at work arranging this season's schedule, which will start with the performance at the Insane Hospital in Bangor and will include trips to Milo, Brownville, Dover and Foxcroft, Guilford and Pittsfield. At Easter a schedule of about five performances is hoped to be obtained for a Massachusetts trip and about the last of April a ten days trip in the vicinity of Bar Harbor will be taken. At the end of the season the usual performance will be given in the Bangor Opera House and also on the Campus during Junior Week.

THE RUSSIAN TREATY

Prof. Stevens Gives Comprehensive Talk on Abrogation

Last Friday morning in Chapel Prof. G. W. Stevens spoke on the Russian Treaty which President Taft has just abrogated. He explained why Russia had chosen to view the treaty in different light than it had when it was signed and why the United States could no longer conform to the articles of the treaty.

In 1822, during the administration of Andrew Jackson a treaty was made with Russia. Article I seemed to be the principal cause of the rupture between the two countries. This article states that each country shall have a reciprocal liberty of commerce and navigation and that the citizens of each country shall be fully protected as long as they conform to the laws and ordinances of the country in which they reside. No trouble came about for about 30 years after the acceptance of the treaty. About 1865 Russia began to change her policy and assumed a very harsh attitude toward the Jews residing in Russia. In 1867 the Jews began emmigrating, many coming to America and becoming United States citizens. Russia refused to allow these Jews to return to their mother country. This attitude of Russia was not directed against the United States alone, but was also adopted in regard to Germany, France, England and other European powers.

One stand become consensual offense liable without the Ru This of Russ a subje places Law an tions."

Work Gymnas

One of the State papers of 1907 shows Russia's stand in this matter. "A Russian subject who becomes a citizen of another country without the consent of the Russian Government commits an offense against Russian Law, for which he is liable to arrest and punishment, if he returns without previously obtaining the permission of the Russian Government.

This Government dissents from this provision of Russian Law, but an American citizen formerly a subject of Russia who returns to that country places himself within the jurisdiction of Russian Law and cannot expect immunity from its operations."

Jews, whether they were formerly Russian citizens or not, are not admitted to Russia unless they obtain special permission in advance from the Russian Government. No one is admitted to Russia without a passport which must be indorsed by a Russian diplomatic or consular representative, hence the State Department will not issue a passport to a former Russian subject or to Jews who intend going to Russian territory, unless it has the assurance that the Russian government will consent to their admission. The reason the Russian Government has in assuming this stand is that they say that the Jews foment conspiracy against Russia. The Russian government maintains a secret service whose duty it is to try and discover American Jews conspiring against Russia.

United States claims the right to expatriation, and insists that no discrimination should be made between native and foreign born citizens. Any denial, restriction, impairment or questioning of the right of expatriation is declared inconsistent with the fundamental principles of the Republic. The United States fully protects any naturalized citizen while in foreign countries in the same manner as it would protect a native-born citizen.

Russia denied this right of expatriation and President Taft abrogated the treaty. The treaty passed out of existence January 1, 1912. A new treaty must now be made in order to protect American interests in Russian territory.

Work has commenced on the new Bowdoin Gymnasium.

EDITORIAL.

One of the most aggravating classes of people in the world to have dealings with is that class whose members will not pay their way in the world. They are invariably dissatisfied with conditions and still are the last persons in the world to be willing to lend a hand in bettering the situation. They are unfair not only to any organization to which they may belong, but also to the honorable members of the organization whose burdens they tend to increase.

Failure to pay one's share in the college world is just as pernicious as in the business or social world. Unfortunately student organizations are of rather indefinite scope and authority and the unpaying class take advantage of this fact. Many raise the cry that they have not had a voice in the control of affairs, although they have had equal opportunity with all other students. It is the same condition of a man in the outside world who refuses to vote and then refuses to pay his taxes because he did not have a hand in the elections. Such a man is a detriment to the community in which he lives, and is dealt with according to law. A student with the same inclinations is a burden to a college or University, and his case should be handled as surely or as summarily as in the case of the citizen.

In looking into this question, the situation of the present Senior Class is well worth considering. Unfortunately this class, composed of men who expect to leave the University to begin a career in the outside world next June, is heavily involved financially. The condition is not due entirely to the faults of any one man. It is due to a steady growth of irresponsibility in regard to college activities which has been developing for years on the Campus. The bills of the class have been contracted with business men who have fulfilled their contracts in a satisfactory manner. With this condition of affairs a considerable proportion of the members of the class refuse to pay their share of the indebtedness in the way of dues.

What is to be done under such circumstances? The class treasurer cannot collect those dues. The delinquents are not ashamed to have their names appear in public as in arrears. In fact the class is up against a blank wall. The men will not pay and the class cannot make them. We believe under such conditions it is the duty of the authoritative bodies, the Faculty or Trustees of the University to act and that as soon as possible. We believe that a fair investigation will show that these delinquent students are violating the Rule of Conduct as maintained by the University authorities. This rule requires of each student "such sense of personal honor as is demanded of good citizens and gentlemen." The faithful students of the class have tried in vain to remedy the situation principally because they have no means of using force. We believe that the matter must be handled by the men who have authority and are in position to use it.

It seems advisable to try and eliminate danger of accident as much as possible wherever it crops out. Considerable reports are about concerning minor accidents in some of the laboratories in the University buildings. The average student approaches his work without thought of danger and consequently takes no precautions. It seems very essential that every instructor should warn his students fully as to the danger in all work that he is undertaking. It may appear to be a minor detail, but cases may be easily cited where only a few words of caution might avoid serious accident.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

At the University, Feb. 16, 18, '12

The Fourth Annual Students Y. M. C. A. Conference will be held at the University of Maine on Feb. 16-18, 1912. This conference was organized four years ago, and has met at each of the other colleges in the state, meeting here for the first time this winter. Coming, as it does, to each college but once in four years, the students of that college have but one opportunity to receive the delegates at their own institution. For this reason much should be made of the opportunity soon to be given to the students of our college.

Last year the meetings were held at Bates, and there were 209 regular delegates, besides about fifty visiting delegates. An even larger number is expected to attend the session next month. Of these about 175 or 200 will be preparatory school men.

The conference will open with an informal reception Friday afternoon. This will give an opportunity for the delegates to get acquainted; and at this time also they will be assigned to their places of entertainment during the conference. In the evening a banquet will be tendered them. This will be followed by an address of welcome by President Aley. The remainder of the evening will be taken up by informal speeches, toasts, and music.

The session Saturday morning will be given over to addresses and discussions. At three o'clock there will be played a game of basketball between two preparatory school teams. The meetings held on Saturday evening, and Sunday afternoon and evening, will be open to the public and all who are interested are invited to attend.

In a short time the entertainment committee will begin a campaign among the fraternities and faculty in order to find those who can entertain one or more delegates during their stay at the college.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN MEETS

Officers Elected and Preliminary Work Arranged

At a recent meeting of the Deutscher Verein, officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, C. E. Chandler, '13; vice president, June Kelley, '12; secretary-treasurer, Antoinette Webb, '13; student member of the executive committee, K. D. Woodward, '12. The club this year will be under the direction of some faculty member of the German department, probably Dr. Robert R. Drummond, '05. A meeting of the executive committee to be held the first of this week will formulate provisions for taking in new members, arrange dues and other preliminary matters. The recommendations of the committee will be passed upon at a meeting of the club Wednesday, January 24. At this meeting a committee on entertainments will also be appointed and an effort will be made to arouse sufficient enthusiasm to make the club mean something to its members and to make the coming year the most successful in every way.

COMPARATIVE REGISTRATION

Interesting Statistics on Maine Colleges

The following brief statistics of the number of students attending each of the Maine colleges may be of some interest to students and alumni. Bowdoin College registration list shows that there are 86 seniors, 77 juniors, 70 sophomores, 97 freshmen, 3 special students, and 76 students in the Medical School making a total of 409 students.

Bates has 88 seniors, 108 juniors, 139 sophomores, 139 Freshmen, and 9 special students making a total of 483 students.

Colby has 39 seniors, 73 juniors, 84 sophomores, 146 freshmen, and 16 special students making a total of 358 students.

Maine shows the largest number, having a total of 949 students. This large body of students is due mainly to the extensive curriculum that is offered. The divisions are as follows: 12 graduate students, 101 seniors, 88 juniors, 118 sophomores, 183 freshmen, 35 special students, 108 students in the College of Law, 17 in the Short Pharmacy Course, 55 in the Short Agriculture Course, 126 in the Summer school, 16 in the winter course in Agriculture, 20 in the winter course in Horticulture, 55 in the winter course in Poultry Husbandry and 15 in the Pastor's course making a total of 949 students. As to the number of students in the separate colleges there are 294 in the College of Agriculture, 196 in the College of Arts and Sciences, 108 in the College of Law and 298 in the College of Technology.

FIRST OF WEEKLY MEETS

Closely Contested Races on Board Track

The first of the series of weekly track meets was run off Saturday afternoon on the outdoor board track. On the whole, the trials were satisfactory giving Coach Smith a first opportunity to judge his men under the stress of competition.

In the preliminaries for the 40 yard dash, the first heat was won by St. Onge, '14, Ferguson '14, finishing second; Second heat, O'Brien '15, first, Bryant '15, second. Final heat, won by O'Brien '15, Bryant '15 second. The handicap mile run was hotly contested at the finish between Capt. Houghton '12, and Brooks '15, the latter winning by inches. The order of starting was as follows: Houghton '12, scratch; Brooks (40 yards); Philbrook '14, (60 yards); Patterson '14, (75 yards); Pride '14, (90 yards); Parker '12, Stiles '15, Cannon '13 (90 yards). Patterson finished third, with Philbrook fourth.

The relay races were fully of interest and excitement, the freshman 390 relay team finishing first defeating first the Senior team and finally the Junior team. The race between the Juniors and Sophomores was very closely contested, Scholfield for the Juniors just barely defeating Morris for Sophomores. The teams and their order of running was as follows: 1912 (Cavanaugh, Lancaster, Washburn, Deering); 1915 (Graves, Bryant, O'Brien, Donahue); won by 1915. 1913 (Rogers, Littlefield, MacAlary, Scholfield); 1914 (Ferguson, Martin, St. Onge, Morris), won by 1913. Final race between winners won by 1915. The freshman half mile run was won by Luther easily, with Wilson and Clark taking second and third places respectively.

GLEE CLUB

More Men Needed

On Thursday evening, Jan. 18, the second rehearsal of the Glee Club was held in the Chapel and work taken up in earnest. Much of the new music was run over and a line gotten on the material for the clubs.

While there is a good percentage of old men out, there is still opportunity for many new candidates, especially in the first tenor section, and anyone with any musical ability at all is urged to try for the clubs and enable them to have a successful year. After finals, work will be pushed forward energetically and indications point to a most successful season.

After September 1, 1912, all students at Yale will be required to room in dormitories.

TAU BETA PI MEETING

President Aley Addresses Honorary Society

At a Meeting of the honorary technical society Tau Beta Pi, held last Thursday evening in the Library. President Aley delivered a short address on the work of the college man. He spoke of the good that a society, such as Tau Beta Pi could do and the influence such a society had, not only on its members, but also on the world at large. After this introduction, Dr. Aley spoke of the ignorance abounding in the world and the curious unwillingness displayed by people in placing affairs in the hands of those men educated especially for that purpose. He also mentioned the popular fallacy that all that is necessary to make a successful official is to give him a majority of votes, whether he knows anything about his duties or not. In concluding, Dr. Aley said, that he hoped the day would come when everyone who went out from university halls would make it their particular aim to help reduce this state of ignorance, and show the world that after a man has studied and thought over certain conditions for years, that he is better able to successfully manage these conditions than a person who is only elected by popularity and through personal influence.

After Dr. Aley's address, a short business meeting was held, in which plans for the future were discussed and the regular business taken up.

LARGEST ATTENDANCE

Aggie Club Entertains Maine Creamerymen

At the regular meeting of the Agricultural Club last Wednesday evening there was one of the largest attendances of the year. The Maine Creamerymen's Association met in convention with the club which added materially to the interest of the meeting. After a short business meeting, "Market Requirements for Dairy Products" was discussed by C. E. Henry, Pittsfield, and "How Shall These Requirements be Met," by J. D. LOYAL ALUMNI

Expression of "Maine Spirit" by Western Association

At the business meeting which followed the annual banquet of the Western Alumni Association at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, on December 29th, it was felt that the Association should in some way express the deep interest which the members hold toward undergraduates and the work of the University.

This expression was made in the form of the following resolution, which was passed unanimously:

"RESOLVED:—That, because of the deep interest in the welfare of the University felt by the members of the Western Alumni Association, an expression of their loyalty and good wishes be extended to the students at the University. It is hoped that the undergraduate body will realize that the intervening distance in no way decreases the "Maine Spirit" of the Alumni in the Western Association, and that the University may always count upon the members of this association for their interest and support."

ALUMNI NOTES

On Saturday evening, March 2d, the annual business meeting and banquet of the Boston Alumni Association will be held at the American House. This will without doubt be the most largely attended and enthusiastic banquet ever held by any Alumni Association of the University. There are not only some important matters to be discussed at the business meeting, but special preparation is being made to make the banquet a success. Dr. Aley will be there, and also Hon. William T. Haines, Attorney General Pattangall, Congressman Samuel Gould, and several of the trustees are expected to be present as well as several very prominent Alumni of New England.

Maine men will regret to learn of the death of Rev. Charles P. Kittredge, which occurred at his home in Richmond on Dec. 26 from tuberculosis. The interment was at Evergreen cemetery in Milo, his native town, on Saturday.

Mr. Kittredge was born in Milo, was graduated from University of Maine in the class of 1893, and took special courses of study at Colby college and Newton Theological Seminary, Massachusetts.

His first parish was at Lincoln Center. Later he accepted a call to the Advent Christian church at Manchester, N. H., where under the leadership of God many were added to the church.

While in Manchester he received a very urgent call from the Advent Christian Missionary society of Boston, Mass., to take up missionary work in the far west. He accepted the call and preached in the Advent Christian Mission church at Vancouver, B. C., and in other mission churches in the western part of the United States.

On account of failing health he was sent to Colorado, but as he continued to fail, returned to his home in Richmond, Me., where he resided until his death at the age of 44 years.

A. C. Lyon '02, is assistant engineer with the Maine Central Railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis of Guilford celebrated their 25th marriage anniversary at their home, on New Year's day and evening, with a large number of friends. Mr. Davis graduated from the University in '85 and is now one of Guilford's most prominent business men, being president of the Guilford Trust Co.

Congressman Samuel Gould '77 is now in Panama with a congressional committee examining the work going on there.

The engagement of Benjamin B. Fogler '08 of Skowhegan to Miss Berdena Trafton of Hartland has just been announced.

The many friends of Geo. E. LaMarche '10, will be interested to hear that he has been promoted to the position of southern manager for the Austin Organ Co., Atlanta, Georgia, where he and Mrs. La Marche, who was before her marriage, Miss Sarah White of Orono, will shortly establish their residence.

J. F. Gould '82 was the attorney for Mrs. Helen Mullen in her recent case against the Eastern Trust and Banking Co., and was successful in getting a verdict for his client. Mrs. Mullen is the wife of Mayor Mullen '83, of Bangor.

RESTRICTION ON SOLICITATION OF ADVERTISING

For Protection of Student Publications

The Faculty have taken action in restricting promiscuous solicitation of advertising in a way that will receive the commendation of all who are interested in University publications. The matter is fully explained by a statement which comes from the University office as follows:

"In order to protect the student publications at the University, which consist of the Maine Campus, Maine Law Review, Practical Husbandry of Maine, Prism, and Y. M. C. A. Handbook, and which must, in order to exist, solicit advertisements from local and foreign firms, the following rule is adopted: On and after February 1st, 1912, no individual or individuals will be allowed to publish or issue any calendar, souvenir, or directory, or any printed matter, using the name of the University, or any of its student organizations, and to solicit advertisements for the same, without first obtaining the written consent of the President of the University."

SCHOLARSHIP AND COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

By Thomas Arkle Clark, Dean of Men University of Illinois

"If, as mathematicians say, figures do not lie, and a man's success in college may fairly be estimated by the grades he receives, then the University of Illinois athletes have more than held their own with the average student. A still more interesting fact is shown by examining the figures given below, and that is that members of athletic teams have often, if not usually, done their best intellectual work during the semester in which their athletic exercise was the most strenuous. One would naturally I believe, look for the contrary. Remembering that the general average for the men of the University for the year 1909-10 was 81.21, and for 1910-11 was 81.78 the figures below will be more intelligible:

A superficial glance at the figures given would tend to show that the advocates of war are more intellectually fit than the heralds of peace, but though martial and religious enthusiasm occasionally puts a man's studies to the bad, and places

Of the men whose records were estimated in the table above fifty-five per cent. were fraternity men, and forty-five per cent. were not members of such organizations. It will be seen from these figures that whatever scholastic weakness may be attributed to the fraternities, they can not be laid at the door of the athletes who are members.

In the above estimate sixty-three per cent. were fraternity men, and thirty-seven per cent. were not members of a fraternity.

the unsavory scholastic reputation which the devotees of Terpischore usually acquire, and stimulated by their exercise the first semester, they bring their averages up the second.

It is generally supposed that the man who engages in activities outside of his college work is for that reason a poor student. The "other things" which take a student's time are argued by those who have not made a careful study of the situation to be bad. The figures which I have gathered, however, do not bear out this belief; on the contrary, they reveal the fact that the men who go into the various lines of legitimate college activity are better than are those who stay out."

ONLY ONE BIBLE CLASS

Prof. Stevens Will Take Charge

Instead of the Bible study classes which were last year held in the fraternity houses, there will be this year only one class for the whole University. Sunday afternoons at three o'clock, Prof. G. W. Stevens of the Department of Economics will lead a half-hour meeting in the Library for the purpose of studying the social significance of the life of Christ, as applied to our daily life. Prof. Stevens is taking up this question wholly from the standpoint of the students, which is a departure from the usual methods of Bible study.

The book which will be used as a basis for the course is the same one used last year, The Social Significance of the Life of Christ, by James. As this question comes directly in Prof. Stevens' line, he is able to make it extremely interesting for those attending. From indications at present it seems as if there will be a large attendance at these meetings.

and you can locate it every time, no matter how its position be changed.

Just as the proper tools produce the best work, so does a responsive key action increase the efficiency of a stenographer. It saves her strength. Therefore, she has a better grip on her work, is more accurate, more rapid, gets a greater quantity of work done. There is no "three-o'clock fatigue" where the Monarch is used, and a few days' trial will convince you of this fact.
