We have this day examined the accounts of G. E. Hawkes, treasurer, and find the same correct as above set forth :

	WM. N. THOMAS,
	CYRUS S. HAYES,	of
	HENRY W. COY,	Oxford.
Oxford, Feb, 15, 1883.

In accordance with the wishes of the town, the Treasurer, and Selectmen have labored to call in all outstanding orders. We think there is but a small amount now out against the town.

This, gentlemen, concludes our report, all of which is respectfully submitted.

SUPERVISOR'S REPORT.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Ella E Webster. Miss Webster has taught in this school before. The interest of the scholars was well kept up and good work was done.

Winter Term was taught by Clarence E. Haskell. Mr. Haskell taught this school last winter and at the beginning seemed to have the confidence of the scholars. Was not able to visit this school at the close, on account of bad traveling; but have no doubt it was a successful term. The Agent died soon after the close of the summer term, and the district failed to elect a successor and are now without this officer.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Lena E. Tenney, and a fair degree of advancement was made.

Winter Term is now in session, under charge of Bennie M. Pratt. The scholars seem to be making good progress, though a few did not have quite enough work laid out to employ all their time. All things considered, I think the winter term promises well.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Summer Term of Primary School was taught by Miss Nellie M. Pendexter, who fully sustained her former reputation as a first class teacher. Her withdrawal from the school is a great loss. Fall Term was taught by Miss Hannah S. Manson. This was Miss Manson's first attempt at teaching. She labored hard to make the term successful, but did not have the support of the parents, without which no school can be a success.

Winter Term was taught by Miss Clara A. Gould, who, at first, met with serious opposition; as this died away, the school improved, and at my last visit was in good condition and seemed to have made good progress.

All three terms of this school were under charge of Miss Ella R. Doten. Miss Doten is entirely at home in the school-room, and is loved and respected by her scholars. A few more such teachers in our schools would be of great advantage.

Winter Term of Grammar School (Summer and Fall Terms were merged in the High School) was taught by Miss D. A. S. Young, who has few equals and no superior in the school-room. The success of this term was determined the moment Miss Young consented to take charge of it.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Both Terms of this school were taught by Miss Annie S. Parker. Miss Parker is an excellent teacher, and has had several terms' experience in this school which, tended much to make her work successful.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Edith Wilson and was her first essay. We regret that this term was not more successful.

Winter Term was taught by W. B. Haskell. An attempt on his part to have good recitations was frustrated by the removal of several scholars from the school. A little more interest on the part of the parents in this district would add much to the value of the school.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

All terms of this school were taught by Miss S. E. Ripley. Miss Ripley's connection with our schools is extended, and her work in the year just closed is quite up to that of former years. The parents of this district have the good of the school fully in view at all times.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Evvie G. Pratt. I was not able to visit her school at its close, but have no doubt it was successful. She passed a fine examination, and seemed quite at home in the school-room, though this was her first school.

Winter Term was taught by Miss Bertie Phillips, an experienced and successful teacher, and this term proved the advantage of having first-class teachers.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Fall Term was taught by Miss Ada M. Morton.

Winter Term is now in session under charge of Miss Isabel Boynton.

The Misses Morton and Boynton are teachers of experience and the year in this school will be marked by the rapid strides and thorough work done.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Summer Term was under charge of Miss Mabel Yetton. Miss Yetton is a teacher of great abilities but the district could not retain her.

Fall Term was taught by Miss Ida Griggs who did very effective work. Miss Griggs is a teacher of much experience and untiring energy, and whoever engages her services has the battle well fought.

Winter Term is now in session, under charge of R. S. Rounds. At my first visit was much impressed by Mr. Rounds's methods of teaching.

I regret that in this district, as well as in some others, the teacher has been hindered from doing good by the removal of several scholars from the school, and that without reasonable excuse.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

This was taught through the year by Miss Rose Burns.

I was not able to visit the school at the close of the Winter Term, but am satisfied from what I saw of it that the money could not have been expended better.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

Through the year this school was taught by Miss Alice King. Miss King gave her entire interest to the school, and her efforts met with good returns. I trust that she may be found filling the same position another year.

THE FREE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Spring Term was taught by Wendell H. Adams, M. D., with Miss Ella Haskell as Assistant.

Fall Term was conducted by S. R. Childs of Bowdoin College, with Miss Alice Welch as Assistant.

These teachers were all untiring in their efforts to do all that they could in the interest of the school, and all who attended faithfully to their studies made rapid progress under their instruction.

We regret that there was an undercurrent of opposition to this school, and especially in the Spring Term, that was not a benefit to it.

That the highest number attending this school at any one time was 38, and the highest average 31, shows, I think, the lack of interest the parents have in the cause of education.

In closing, would say the schools of the town have generally been doing good work. District No. 3 has purchased a full set of outline maps. If other districts would follow their example, a long stride would be taken for the better.

In apportioning the money for the year, so far as it could be done, the weaker districts were helped by reserving the 20 per cent. allowed by law, and our outlying and thinly inhabited districts have, where the money was all expended, had good length of school.

I should be very glad to see a prosperous High School supported in town, and would gladly recommend that money be raised for this purpose; but looking back over the year and noting the opposition with which it was received, and how few attended, I do not feel warranted in so doing.

I would, however, recommend raising more than the usual amount for our common schools, and so disposing of the amount raised, more than is required by law, that it may go to strengthen our weaker districts.

Respectfully submitted,

W. E. HOLMES, Supervisor.
