JUNIOR WEEK FESTIVITIES

Even Nature seemed to respond in making Junior Week a decided success, for better weather could not have been desired. Such an early Junior Week is an innovation here at Maine but the idea seems to have worked out satisfactorily. Besides the class exercises two baseball games and track meet served to entertain the visitors.

Too much credit cannot be given the committee in charge of the affair consisting of G. G. Tilley, G. H. Hamlin, C. E. Chandler, J. W. Hart,

CLASS PRESIDENT, G. G. TILLEY
Chairman Junior Week Committee

and W. E. Sansouci for the success of the venture. They worked long and faithfully and the result of the exercises well repaid them. Another feature of the week was the "Prom" in charge of E. H. Bigelow, W. G. Brewer, O. H. Davis, G. V. Dyer, and R. A. Power as a committee. This event was one of the best of the kind ever held here.

The program during the week was as follows:

THURSDAY, MAY 2

Junior Exhibition Speaking, 8 p. m., Chapel.
Informal dance.

FRIDAY, MAY 3

Special Chapel Exercises, 9.45 a. m.
Junior Lunch, Library, 12 m.
Baseball—Maine vs. N. H. State.
Junior Promenade.

SATURDAY, MAY 4

Military Inspection, Athletic Field, 10.45 a. m.
Dual Track Meet with Colby.

Presentation of Magistrate by Maine Masque.

Despite the fact that the boat ride and open house were omitted this year, thus cutting the exercises short one day, the plan succeeded remarkably well.

EXHIBITION SPEAKING

Honors go to Forrest B. Ames

The Junior Exhibition Speaking contest annually held during Junior Week was given last Thursday night in the Chapel, President Aley presiding, when the highest honors were taken by Forrest Bertram Ames, of Bangor, who spoke on "The Passing of War." The careful preparation and excellent delivery of the speeches raised the program to the highest standard of quality. George

FORREST B. AMES
Winner Junior Exhibition

* C. Clark first took the platform on the subject "The Conservation of Our Forests." His excellent oration took up the question from many sides referring often to the work of Gifford Pinchot and many other prominent foresters. He was followed by Alice J. Harvey, speaking on "The Indians of Maine." She traced the development of our copper colored friends from a few scattered tribes to the great nations which later reigned throughout our state. Many character sketches and glimpses of Indian private life made it a very interesting speech. John W. Hart championed the side of vivisection in a forceful speech on "The Truer Humanity." He showed above all the great benefits already realized from the results of the labor of the great physicians and surgeons. His picture of the heroic side of the doctor's life who is willing to risk his own life in the cause of the sick was a vivid touch of color on a sombre background. After a slight intermission during which music was furnished by the University Orchestra, Mae E. Crossman was introduced to speak on "Charles Dickens." The essay was filled out with many quaint quotations and other entertaining material, making it on the whole one of the most interesting of the speeches. Antoinette Webb took for her topic "The Origin and Development of Ballads," telling of the very birth of the ballad perhaps among a feasting group of country peasants and traced its history to the old songs of Robin Hood and on to the decline of the ballad when it passed from the tongue of the troubadour to the pen of literature. "The Passing of War," by Forrest Ames, showed perhaps the greatest command of language and the greatest range of ideas of any of the speeches. His was a logical development of several main topics such as the evolution of war from a constantly and incessantly warring world to a condition of armed peace in which our enormous armies and gigantic navies, useless, lie a dead weight on the hands of the government. Under such conditions the great expense is being felt by many nations and with this feeling fast becoming universal it will not be long before we will pass on to another stage in the degeneration of war—arbitration.

The awarding committee consisted of Rev. Ashley A. Smith, Rev. Joseph B. Lyman, and Supt. D. Lyman Wormwood. After their decision was announced, an informal dance was given in the Chapel, the music being given by the University Orchestra.

JUNIOR LUNCH

Prof. J. H. Huddilston as Toastmaster

The Junior Lunch held in the Library Friday noon was a most successful affair and was well attended there being about a hundred present. Fitzgerald the caterer of Brewer furnished an excellent menu. Prof. J. H. Huddilston in his usual witty manner acted as toastmaster and G. G. Tilley, Prof. G. W. Stephens, and Dr. Alely responded to toasts.

MAINE BEATEN BY NEW HAMPSHIRE

The varsity baseball team suffered its first defeat on its own ground, Friday afternoon by the New Hampshire State college team. The New Hampshire boys took the lead in the first inning and kept it during the whole game, allowing Maine to score but one run in the third inning.

Maine had several chances to score during the game but each time failed, and the game ended with a score of 3 to 1 in favor of New Hampshire.

Promenade took place. The Prom was held in the gymnasium in Alumni Hall which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being green and white. From the center truss in the roof alternate strips of the class colors, green and white bunting were carried to the base of the running track. On the balcony they were fastened in arch form giving a very beautiful effect overhead. The lights were alternate green and white and were strung from the peak at the center to the points of the arches on the running track. The fraternity corners were decorated as usual with the dark red background and lightened by the banners of various colleges. Palms were placed in profusion blending well with the rest of the decorations forming a sight long to be remembered by those who witnessed the Prom.

This year the reception line was placed opposite the entrance to the gym. The scheme proved a wonderful improvement on the old plan of having the line on the left of the entrance about half way down the hall. It avoided all the confusion and congestion at the doors and afforded every one full view of the hall as they entered. President and Mrs. Robert J. Aley, Professor and Mrs. Garrett W. Thompson, and Glenwood Goding Tilley, President of the Junior Class were in the receiving line.

The reception started at eight o'clock and at nine the musicians under the direction of Mr. H. M. Pullen of Bangor were heard tuning up for the first waltz. The floor was in superb condition. There were twenty eight dances, and during these punch and crackers were served.

Frank W. Haines, '13, was floor director and his assistants, Harold F. Ayer, Maurice C. Bird, Arthur H. Cannon, John H. Carleton, Charles A. Chase, Edward E. Chase, John W. Hart, Thomas

C. Higgins, Howard B. Richardson, Thomas D. Shephard, Hubert M. Wardwell, Clifford W. Wescott and Ralph W. Weatherbee deserve great praise for their good work in conducting the dances.

MAINE MASQUE

The closing event of Junior Week was the presentation of Pinero's comedy, The Magistrate, by the Maine Masque. The performance, given at the Orono Town Hall, was one of the most

EDITORIAL.

Let us review a page or two of our college history. On May 13, 1911, there was much excitement in Waterville, Maine. The University of Maine track team, backed by most of the student body of the college, had come to Waterville and won the State Meet and the Championship. In the joy of winning perhaps few stopped to think why we won; but surely there was a reason and this was well stated by one of our own men, Power, as he spoke to the enthusiastic students, "Hard work on the part of all the men on the team won for us."

No sooner had Rogers of Maine, broken the pole vault record, thus winning his event and the meet for Maine, then the coaches and the track men began to look forward to another year, and to plan for the meet this spring. This planning has never ceased and day after day, week after week, and month after month have the track men been training, carefully and faithfully.

While the work of the men has never ceased the large majority of the students have been able to sit back and discuss the prospects and wonder as to the probable score. But now the time is almost here when all can show their interest and give their support.

Next Saturday a special train will be run to Brunswick to carry the Maine students to the track meet. Do we appreciate the work of Coach Smith and the members of the track team? We have given little cause to justify any accusation to the contrary up to the present, and we want to give none. Therefore let every Maine man need no urging to spend the little money necessary and we shall back up our team win or lose as only Maine men can.

The special attention of all students is asked to the announcement concerning the 1913 Prism that appears in this issue. The time is fast approaching when this book will be ready for distribution.

In view of the difficulty experienced by last year's book it seems of prime importance that success in every respect should come to the 1913 Prism. In a book of this kind success can come only in so far as the cooperation of the student body is obtained. Any book, unless it runs a very large advertising section must depend for its financial success upon its sale. The Prism is no exception to this rule, and the whole edition must be sold to pay for the publication. In view of these facts it is hoped that when the subscriptions for the Prism are asked for during this week they will be given in large numbers.

After three or four years of "zigzagging, etc," as Professor Huddilston put it in his Junior Lunch speech, the Junior Week Exercises were planned for the first of May and they were held last week. The Exercises, from the Junior Exhibition last Thursday evening to the production of "The Magistrate" on Saturday night, showed in every respect the wisdom of the class in desiring this time and the foresight of the faculty in granting their request.

Last year the lateness of Junior Week, which was held after finals, detracted from its success. This year that difficulty was abolished; the weather was perfect; the attendance at all the different exercises was good; and the arrangements showed that much care and thought had been given by the members of the committee to their work. The Junior class may well feel congratulated for its most successful Junior Week.

We sometimes fail to realize the tiny margin that separates us from some disaster until some one near us crosses the line. The fire at the Theta Epsilon house the other afternoon, while in itself soon controlled and of comparatively little importance brings to mind how exposed to danger are the buildings on the campus. It is useless to theorize on the eternal "if" but provided such a fire as that of last week should start in the night from where would help come? Most of the fraternity houses are provided with hand fire extinguishers that are very efficient in checking fires that are just getting started. But a small extinguisher has its limitations; while a fire is limited only by the amount of inflammable material that it can reach before it is checked. For years the campus at Maine has been free from any serious fire; as if preparation is half a battle it would seem that some definite organization should be prepared, trained to respond to any emergency call. Such an organization could be made up of students and made of sufficient interest to warrant support.

Our campus has been recently raked clean of old brush, leaves, etc. Would it not be well to keep that wrapper of Hersey's Chocolate or Wrigley's Spearmint, or that empty cigarette box in your pocket until you reach a more proper place to throw it away? We have every reason to feel proud of the beauty of our campus and this might help its appearance somewhat.

INTERESTING LECTURES.

Stream Gauging and Water Power Estimate

The University of Maine branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers was very fortunate last week in being addressed by Professor H. K. Barrows, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Thursday evening. Prof. Barrows lectured on the Stream Gauging Methods used by the U. S. Geological Survey and the practical applications of the results of the work. Friday afternoon the lecture was on Estimates of Water Power for Preliminary Reports. Both lectures were well attended and very instructive. The colored slides used to illustrate the lecture on stream gauging were the best shown at the University in some time.

THE 1913 PRISM

Last Call for Subscriptions

Work on the 1913 "Prism" is nearly finished and the book will soon be bound and ready for publication. As has been stated before there will be cloth and leather bindings and as the leather ones will be furnished only to those who subscribe for them, it is necessary that subscriptions be taken at once. The business manager and his assistants will canvass the dormitory, the fraternity houses and the faculty. The price of the leather binding will be $3.00 while the price of the cloth will be $2.50. The difference in the selling price represents somewhat less than the difference in cost between the two books. All who wish the leather bound book should be sure to give their subscription this week for the number of copies they desire, as no later orders can be filled.

SPECIAL CHAPEL SERVICE

A special chapel service under the direction of the Junior class was held Friday morning. Class President, G. G. Tilley, explained to the Junior Week visitors the custom of holding student chapel. William Sansouci, '13, rendered a pleasing solo and later appeared in a comic sketch in which he excelled. R. F. Thurrell, '15, gave a very pleasing humorous reading. Mrs. Gray of Bangor favored the gathering with two appreciated vocal selections. Dr. Drummond rendered an original violin solo very effectively. The Juniors certainly made this chapel service a very entertaining occasion.

MAINE MASQUE

Mulberry Street Police Court, was handled by John Ashe, '12, who was easily the star of the production. Theodore Haskell, '14, gave an excellent characterization of Colonel Lukin, Posket's friend, and was especially noticeable for the ease of his acting and the polished manner in which he presented the role. Dana Washburn, '12, in the dual role of Bullamy and Monsieur Blond, was excellent in each part. Although this was his first appearance in college dramatics, his acting was of a high degree of excellence throughout the entire play. Joseph Brown, '14, as Cis Farrington, purposely kept in ignorance of his real age by a designing mother, furnished much of the comedy of the play. His acting was noticeable for its spontaneity and naturalness. Paul Slocum, '15, in the part of the broken-hearted Captain Vale, handled a difficult role in a very able manner. Wyke, Mr. Posket's servant, and Isidore, the waiter, were both well acted by John Hart, '13. George Clark, '13, also played two roles, those of Lugg and Messiter, the first an officer of the court, the second a policeman. Robert Hussey, '12, as Harris, another policeman, and later as Wormington, clerk of the court, was well received in each of his roles. The feminine characters were all well portrayed. Mark Pendleton, '14, as Agatha Posket, handled a difficult role in a very pleasing manner. Joseph Brewster, '15, as Charlotte Verrinder, Mrs. Posket's sister, was pleasing in appearance and showed considerable ability in the handling of the role. Irwin K. Searle, '15, as Beattie, the pretty little music mistress, was convincingly feminine and exceedingly attractive.

Too much credit cannot be given Max Aley for the success of the performance. Since Mr. Aley accepted the responsibility of coaching The Masque he has put all his energy into the development of the play, and the smoothness and excellence of the Junior Week presentation are largely due to his efforts.

VICTORY FOR MAINE

First Game of the Inter-Collegiate Series

After fighting hard through nine innings Maine secured the winning run in the tenth in last Wednesday's game with Colby. It was a close and interesting game from start to finish. Colby scored two runs in the first inning and for a while it looked as though she would score more; but Maine rallied and held them fast until the sixth inning. Neither side scored after the first until the fourth inning when Maine got a tally. In the next inning Maine secured another run, which made a tie score. In the sixth inning the visiting team pulled off another run which was duplicated in the next inning by the home team. For the next two innings no scores were made and the tenth was played to break the tie. Maine luck was surely with the team when a short drive landed just over the second baseman's head sending Abbott, who was on third, home.

MAINE TRIUMPHANTWinner in a Sensational Baseball Game

In a sensational game of baseball, Saturday afternoon, the varsity defeated the Maine Central baseball team 10-6 in a ten inning game.

The score was 6-4 in favor of the Maine Central team at the beginning of the ninth, but here Maine took a brace, and tied the score, while in the tenth inning, the varsity scored four more runs making a total of 10 runs.

The feature of the game was a clean home run by Witham, thus scoring two runs. Richard Jones and Abbott comprised the battery.

The score by innings:

DUAL MEET WITH COLBYMaine an Easy Winner

At the dual meet with Colby last Saturday, Maine won easily with a score of 76 points to Colby's 50. Trials for the 100 yards dash, 220 yards hurdles, 220 yards dash, the broad jump, and the finals in the discus throw and shot put were run off in the morning. The events in the afternoon were well competed and much interest was shown by those in attendance. The cold east wind which blew all the afternoon was probably the cause of the slowness in some of the events, but nevertheless the meet was interesting from start to finish.

The results of the meet in detail are as follows:

100 Yards Dash—1st Nardini, Colby, 2nd Deering, Maine, 3rd Goldthwaite, Colby. Time 10 sec.

One Mile Run—1st Towner, Maine, 2nd Houghton, Maine, 3rd Powers, Maine. Time, 4 min. 41 3-5 sec.

220 Yards Hurdles—1st Royal, Colby, 2nd Farnsworth, Colby, 3rd St. Onge, Maine. Time, 26.2 sec.

440 Yards Run—1st Skolfield, Maine, 2nd, Bowen, Colby, 3rd, Littlefield, Maine. Time, 34 sec.

Feed Your Crops Available Potash

Insoluble plant foods are cheap in the beginning but may be dear in the end. We feel good when we hear that the soil contains enough Potash to raise 5000 crops, but we feel tired when we discover that it will take 1000 years or so to make it available. We will be converted into plant food ourselves long before that.

POTASH

The acids derived from green manure may make insoluble phosphate of lime more available. But the feldspathic Potash in the soil is less soluble in these acids than in the slightly alkaline waters of the best soils. A little soil Potash becomes available yearly, but not enough to provide for profitable crops. Crops have two periods of Potash hunger. One just after germination and the other when starch formation is most rapid—when the grain is filling. Rational fertilization requires ample available Potash at these periods and if you provide it you will find that Potash Pays. Send for our pamphlet on making fertilizers.

"CLOTHING THAT'S FIT"

must be made to fit—and that means made for YOUR individual measurement from the very beginning. Discerning men have found that decent ready-made clothing costs about the same as decent custom-made—a fact which puts the made-to-measure clothing decidedly at the head. I have a particularly fine showing of the choicest Spring goods, and am prepared to produce faultless clothing at moderate cost. Every particular dresser—yes, YOU—should be interested. Step in!
