GOING INTO BUSINESS?

Then investigate EASTMAN before you decide on your college. Consider what it will mean to you to begin business "full panoplied" as Minerva sprang from the head of Jove—equipped BEFOREHAND with what most college men and women have to learn after graduating through a long, painful, poorly paid or costly apprenticeship.

EASTMAN teaches all that is essential to training for business—during college life, a wholesome, energizing experience, affording, time and money considered, just as much of all the cultural activities—physical, intellectual, and social—while you are in college, and very much more after you are through.

For EASTMAN graduates are ready for work and are not obliged to hunt aimlessly for "something to do." Positions are offered them promptly, and they earn higher salaries at the start and advance faster and farther up because they KNOW BUSINESS before they begin. The prospectus of the school will tell you what is taught—and how.

FOURTH VICTORY

Maine Takes Second Game From Colby

Maine defeated Colby last Saturday, 7 to 2, in the fifth game of the State Series. Maine's superiority in the batting line won the game. James, freshman pitcher for Colby, who shut out Bowdoin with no runs and no hits last Wednesday was hit for nine singles, while Burroughs who replaced him in the ninth, passed a man and was hit for a single, when a swift double play closed Maine's opportunity for scoring. In Colby's half of the ninth, Stobie weakened and allowed three singles; then with the bases full he struck out the next three men. Abbott led in hitting with three singles and a three-bagger, while Sturtevant was Colby's best hitter. The summary:

LAW SCHOOL VS. VARSITY

The Former Has Best Team for Years

The University of Maine College of Law baseball team played the regular varsity at Orono, Wednesday and lost, 8 to 1. The law school men seemed to lack concentration of effort and had rather hard luck. They had little trouble in hitting Welch and Stobie but drove the ball always at some fielder. The few errors the lawyers made were also very disastrous. Bartlett pitched good ball, holding the 'varsity to six hits and striking out eight.

Anyway the present law school team is far and away the fastest that ever represented that department.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Bates Takes Singles and Doubles

The tenth annual Maine Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament was held at the Meadow Brook Club courts, Bangor, last Friday and Saturday. The tournament would have been held on the courts here at the University if the rain had not put them in such bad condition. Friday afternoon the courts at Bangor were in fine condition and the tournament was opened there. The drawings for the contest had been made in the morning. The preliminary and semi-final sets in doubles were completed that afternoon. The results of the matches were as follows: Preliminaries, Woodman and Tomblen of Bates beat Gowen and King of Maine, 6-0, 6-4; Foster and Cushman of Colby beat Chapman and Shepard of Bowdoin, 6-3, 6-4; Nickerson and Alley of Bates beat MacCormick and Savage of Bowdoin, 2-6, 6-0, 9-7; Morse and Gillingham of Colby beat Bird and Shepard of Maine, 6-4, 6-3; Semi-finals, Woodman and Tomblen of Bates beat Foster and Cushman of Colby, 6-3, 6-1; Morse and Gillingham of Colby beat Nickerson and Alley of Bates, 6-4, 6-3. As it rained again Friday evening it was necessary to resort to the Bangor courts again Saturday. The preliminaries and semi-finals in the single matches were played off in the morning with the following results: Preliminaries, Tomblen of Bates beat MacCormick of Bowdoin, 6-1, 6-3; Gowen of Maine beat Cushman of Colby, 6-2, 1-6, 11-9; Bird of Maine beat Woodman of Bates, 6-4, 6-3; Shepard of Bowdoin beat Foster of Colby, 7-9, 6-4, 6-1; Semi-finals, Tomblen of Bates beat Gowen of Maine, 6-4, 6-3; Bird of Maine beat Shepard of Bowdoin, 6-3, 6-0. In the afternoon the final matches in both the singles and doubles were played with the following results:

Final match in doubles, Woodman and Tomblen of Bates beat Morse and Gillingham of Colby, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2, thus winning the Maine Intercollegiate Championship in doubles for 1912. Final match in singles, Tomblen of Bates beat Bird of Maine, 6-4, 3-6, 5-7, 6-0, 6-4, winning, thereby, the Maine Intercollegiate Championship in singles.

The tournament ran along very smoothly considering the bad weather conditions that prevailed the first and second days. Maine did not show up as strong in the doubles as she did in the singles. Both Bird and Gowen of Maine put up a fine game in the Singles. Gowen won his match in the preliminaries and so did Bird. Gowen was beaten in the semi-finals but Bird won out his match very easily. In the finals both Tomblen of Bates and Bird of Maine were tired out from their previous work. Tomblen won the first set but lost the next two through Bird's steady playing. Tomblen came back strong in the next two sets and won the match.

MUSICAL CLUB ELECTION

Last Meeting of the Year

At a meeting of the Musical Clubs, Friday night, the following officers were elected: President, W. G. Brewer, '13, Secretary, E. E. Fowler, '14; Manager of the Clubs, G. C. Clark, '13; Asst. Managers, N. R. French, '14 and F. S. Youngs, '14; Leader of Glee Club, W. G. Brewer, '13; Leader of Mandolin Club, P. W. Thomas, '14; Leader of Banjo Club, H. C. White, '15. This year something was accomplished by the Clubs that has not happened for a long time. Not only did the Clubs take an expensive Mass. trip, but they paid a large deficit left from last year, they paid back the assessment made upon the members at the first of the year and then left a balance to start on next year. An equally successful management is hoped for next year.

POSITIONS FOR SENIORS

A Few Placed with Westinghouse Electric Co.

Mr. L. Watts, connected with the Boston office of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., visited the University of Maine, May 16th and 17th, and addressed the senior electrical engineering students in connection with the graduate course at the Company's works in East Pittsburgh, Pa. Assignments were also made for some of the seniors for employment with this company.

GENERAL LECTURE

Dr. Pearl Lectures on Eugenics

Dr. Raymond Pearl of the Experiment Station treated the subject of Eugenics in the concluding lecture of the series on "Modern Aspects of the Doctrine of Evolution," in the chapel last Thursday afternoon. It was shown that natural selection in the human specie does not have free play and with mental development it has ceased to act. Stupid people still survive in spite of their mental defects. We now try to preserve the lives of those who are physically weak and thus do away with the process of natural selection. The altruism of society is directly opposed to allowing natural selection to weed out the unfit of the race. It costs society a great deal to take care of its worthless and worse than worthless people, and it seems that something is needed to take the place of natural selection in producing a better and stronger race. With this end in view, the Eugenics Movement has been started.

The chief attention in the research work of the Eugenics Movement has been paid to the inheritance of human characteristics. There is now definite evidence of mental and moral as well as physical characteristics being transmitted to posterity. Brightness, dullness and ability in families were cited as examples of inherited characteristics. Feeble-mindedness and tuberculosis are also transmitted to the offspring. Profuse bleeding from a slight wound from the failure of the blood to clot is a disease limited to the male sex but transmitted through the female.

The producing of twins is also an inherited characteristic. Where there are geographic barriers and the people of these small isolated communities marry and intermarry, the inbreeding brings out hereditary traits with great prominence. Stock breeders make use of this method of inbreeding in producing any desired characteristic. Black eyes or blue eyes, the first resulting from the presence of, and the latter from lack of pigment, is another characteristic which works out according to the Mendelian laws.

Dr. Pearl showed that as criminality is an inherited characteristic, society is deeply concerned in the subject of eugenics. There seems to be need of marriage laws based on eugenic principles.

It seems to be the case that there is a differential decline in fecundity or that those who are unfit multiply more rapidly than the more fit individuals of the race.

These facts seemed to demand attention and therefrom has sprung up this great Eugenics Movement, or, the attempt of man to control his own evolution.

SOPHOMORE CLASS MEETING

Manager and Editor of Prism Elected

At a meeting of the sophomore class held last Wednesday, W. D. Towner was elected editor-in-chief of the 1914 Prism and N. P. Makanna, business manager. It was also voted that the Frog Pond Scrap should be held before Memorial Day. The Prism Board will be organized immediately and work commenced at once. Owing to the new Faculty ruling the cost of producing the Prisms will be limited to the sale price $2.50 apiece. This will make much harder the work of the Board in choosing material but it is hoped that the quality of the book will not suffer through this restriction.

PRIZES OFFERED

For Paper on College Social Conditions

The student body will doubtless feel interested in the prize competition started among the colleges through the columns of the New York Times by Mr. Owen Johnson, the author of the "Stover at Yale" stories which have become so popular.

In order to bring out what the students themselves think about the social conditions in their own colleges, Mr. Johnson has offered two prizes, one of $150, the other of $100, for the best papers dealing with the most effective constructive plan for the social organization of a University. The first prize is open to all undergraduates, while the latter is limited to graduates. Detailed information regarding the manuscripts will be found posted on the bulletin board.

The competition is already the subject of much discussion and many of the leading New England colleges and universities have already signified their intentions to participate in the event.

RESEARCH CLUB

Meeting and Election of Officers

The annual election of officers of the Research Club was held Wednesday evening, May 22, in Coburn Hall. The officers for the ensuing year are: chairman, Dr. R. H. McKee; secretary, and treasurer, Miss A. M. Boring; new member of membership committee, Dr. M. A. Chrysler; program committee, Dr. Morse, Miss E. M. Patch.

After the election of officers Dr. Raymond Pearl gave an interesting paper on the Mendelian Inheritance of Fecundity in the Domestic Chicken.

Tomorrow will take place the annual examination and inspection of the military battalion of the University. The inspection

Our Military will be made by a United States
Instructor army officer and on his report of the work of the men will depend the good or poor standing of our military department. In past years we have always been reported favorably and it is hoped and expected that this year will prove no exception.

It seems fitting that in connection with this inspection a few words should be said concerning Col. Varnum and the military department as it has prospered under his instruction. If the battalion passes through this inspection in a creditable manner much of the credit must be given to our instructor who has worked faithfully throughout the year.

In 1909, with the coming of Col. Varnum, the schedule of drill was changed so that drills should come three hours a week for two years instead of five hours a week throughout one year. Colonel Varnum has proven the good of the change by the battalions and officers that he has produced.
He has labored under difficulties of lack of proper army equipment but with the material at hand has trained men, who, if lacking much soldierly knowledge, have yet learned enough of the rudiments of drill to enable them to be of material service if they should be required. He has enabled the men to acquire many things that go to make up the training of a soldier and are also useful to the ordinary citizen.

We deeply appreciate the work that has been done by Colonel Varnum and realize with regret that this is the last inspection that he will attend here as our instructor. As he goes out West to take up his new duties he carries with him the well-wishes of all who have worked under his leadership.

“What are you going to do this summer?”
This question has doubtless been asked innumerable times during the past few
As we weeks among the students. Probably Separate there will be few who will answer that they are not going to work. Many by necessity, others because they do not wish to be idle, will, fortunately, do some work during the weeks of the summer vacation. The work that will be undertaken will differ as much as human effort can differ, yet work it will be and as such benefit will be derived by the person who performs it.

In following the work that they have planned for the summer those students who have lived together here on the campus for the past winter will scatter to widely separated sections of our state and country. Probably by the time the next “CAMPUS” is published during Commencement Week a large majority of the two lower classes will already have gone to their homes or to work.

As the different students go out after this year of college life here at Maine there are two things that each should remember. First, that he is supposed to have learned things here at college that shall enable him to mingle better with people and exert a better and more uplifting influence upon the people with whom he comes in contact; for if he fails in this he just so much lowers the standing not only of himself but of the college from which he comes. In the second place each student should feel that he in himself represents Maine and anything that he can do to help Maine on to influence others to come to Maine has benefited not only himself but the college which he represents.

With these ideals in mind there is no student, who has passed a pleasant summer of work, who will come back to college in the fall without a feeling that he has developed during his vacation and accomplished something worth while. As you work Maine men remember yourself and your College.

From time to time individuals grow lax in the performance of their duty. They realize that a thing should be done, but put off the execution of it until it is perhaps too late. THE CAMPUS board faces such a situation; only it is a non-performance of duty on the part of the students which has caused the difficulty.

The report of the business manager of the 1911-1912 CAMPUS board showed that at the end of this year there was a deficit of about two hundred dollars. There was also due in student subscriptions somewhat more than enough to pay this debt; but in spite of the efforts of the new business manager this debt still exists. A request for payment of subscriptions is perhaps not needed in the editorial columns, nor will it be the policy of the CAMPUS to do this next year, but it does seem that men of college age who, of their own free will, allow a bill to accumulate against them should possess qualities which will cause them to pay that bill before they leave college for their vacations.

THE CAMPUS is glad to correct an error in the May 21 issue of the paper. The name of the author of "Notes on The Maine Sardine Industry" was omitted. This article was written by Mr. Arthur M. Buswell, Instructor in Industrial Chemistry and was a most interesting paper.

While we have been busy with other things our baseball team, under Coach Magoon, has been quietly working to make secure its place at the top of the list. If as a result of its work and the games between the other colleges we do get first place let us celebrate in a true Maine way and not in the half-hearted manner that was shown after the Bowdoin game two weeks ago.

There will be no issue of THE CAMPUS on June 4 during final week. The next and last issue of the year will be a special Commencement Number which will be published on June 11, 1912.

EXCHANGES

The Tech paper is to open a column each issue to fraternity news.

Hockey will be substituted for basketball at Andover next year.

The Chancellor of the University of Colorado has announced that he will marry all undergraduates free of charge and in addition will procure their marriage licenses for them.

A Bowdoin Bureau has recently been established in Boston whose purpose is "To do work for Bowdoin and for Bowdoin men."

Purdue has decided to give gold medals to all students who represent the college for two or more years in athletics.

The Deering "High School Beccia" is doing a very commendable thing in the column of the paper headed "D. H. S. in College Life." Four pages of the paper are taken up with letters from eight or nine colleges. This University was represented by an article a column in length. This is an excellent idea as it keeps the alumni and students of the "prep" school in touch with each other and perhaps it may turn some student's thoughts toward a college education. Another thing noticeable in this paper is the cuts of exchanges over the exchange column. The college papers are in the foreground.

Over three quarters of a million have already raised by the endowment fund for Brown. The committee is making strenuous efforts to reach the million dollars mark before commencement.

Wesleyan won all of thirteen basketball games, many of them by decisive scores.

Esperanto, the new world language, is being offered in the curriculum of Leland Stanford.

Cornell major sports lacked $6,000 of paying expenses last year.

Tech has plans underway for the formation of a debating society.

Yale statistics show that the average expense of every senior for each of his four year's was $1,145, that the number of smokers is increasing and that the number of men who use intoxicants is decreasing.

The University of California has an annual "Labor Day" when every able bodied man in college is expected to perform a part of some task. This year the student body built a forty foot piece of roadway.

At Dartmouth there is an instructor for every fourteen undergraduates.

A course in Current Topics has been added to the curriculum of St. Lawrence University.

At the University of Illinois the undergraduates are going to produce a play called the "Dad of the Undergrad."

It is said that Harvard has what is probably the finest collection of charts in the world showing the absolute injurious effects of alcoholic beverages.

Because of inability to secure games with New England Colleges, Brown has decided to abandon basketball as a varsity sport.

Cornell won the intercollegiate wrestling championship in the Columbia gym with a score of 27 points. Princeton was second.

Yale's major sports will be controlled in the future by an Athletic Association.

Bowdoin has been admitted to the Intercollegiate Fencing League.

In a speech at the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Parker, a descendant of the Irquois Indians, said that in the Five Nations the squaws had the power to recall as well as ballot in the councils of the tribe. This seems to be ample proof that the suffragette is not a product of the nineteenth century.

The Bowdoin and Bates Musical Clubs held a joint concert this season. It was a decided success.
