GOING INTO BUSINESS?

Then investigate EASTMAN before you decide on your college. Consider what it will mean to you to begin business "full panoplied" as Minerva sprang from the head of Jove—equipped BEFOREHAND with what most college men and women have to learn after graduating through a long, painful, poorly paid or costly apprenticeship.

EASTMAN teaches all that is essential to training for business—during college life, a wholesome, energizing experience, affording, time and money considered, just as much of all the cultural activities—physical, intellectual, and social—while you are in college, and very much more after you are through.

For EASTMAN graduates are ready for work and are not obliged to hunt aimlessly for "something to do." Positions are offered them promptly, and they earn higher salaries at the start and advance faster and farther up because they KNOW BUSINESS before they begin. The prospectus of the school will tell you what is taught—and how.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

The 41st annual Commencement of the University of Maine, which began last Saturday evening with the Phi Kappa Phi initiation and banquet and culminates in the commencement ball tomorrow evening bids fair to be the best in the history of the institution. An unusually large number of alumni are expected to be back to the exercises.

This commencement not only marks several anniversaries of note—the 50th of the Land Grant Bill and the 25th of the Hatch Act, the 40th of the graduation of the first class, and the 15th of the change of name from the Maine State College to the University of Maine—all of which are being observed by the University, but the interest of the classes in class reunions and the class cup, the enthusiasm of the fraternities over the cups brought a great many alumni back to the Campus.

BASEBALL CAPTAIN

Stobie to Lead the Team

At a meeting of all baseball men who have made their M this spring George J. Stobie, '14, of Waterville was elected captain for next year. During the past season Stobie has made an enviable reputation as pitcher and a hitter. He has outbatted every man on the college teams in this State and moreover has made his hits come at the most opportune times. He has won two State games with home run hits. In every state game Stobie has been on the ground and has lost but once. He certainly deserves the honor of being captain of the 1913 baseball team.

CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

Trophy Comes to the University

The defeat of Bates by Bowdoin on Tuesday, June 4, gave the University a clear title to the Maine Intercollegiate Championship for 1912. The series of games in the state for this year have been especially nerve racking. The first three games went ten innings and then were won by the timely home runs of either Witham or Stobie. At the time we had finished the games of our series, the Maine team had lost one and the Bates team one. This left the issue in doubt until Bowdoin trimmed Bates on June 4.

Coach George Magoon cannot be praised too highly for the work which he has done for the University base ball team. He came here a perfect stranger finding a very late season, two varsity men and a lot of green material as the nucleus for the seasons work, but out of this he built up a team which lost only one of the six games in the series and won the state championship. The outlook for the team at the beginning of the season was dubious but Coach Magoon's teaching of inside baseball and the manner in which he instilled the "old pep" are deserving of the greatest appreciation.

Only nine men made their letters in baseball the past season but the whole squad should not be forgotten for they worked hard throughout.

George J. Stobie, '14, who has been the mainstay in the box, has been a big factor in landing the championship. This is the first year he has been eligible to play but under the efficient coaching of Coach Magoon he developed into a heady pitcher and a hard hitter. His ability to pull out at critical moments won many games during the season. Stobie has been elected captain for next year and, certainly no more efficient man to lead the team could be found anywhere in the squad.

Captain Arthur W. Abbott, '14, has been an excellent leader. Last year he got his "M" at second base and this season he has played a very strong game behind the bat and his throws to second base were a feature of every game. He excelled as a base runner and leads the batting list of the team. He has proved an excellent captain and leader.

Walter R. Witham, '12, the big first baseman was another man who developed wonderfully under Coach Magoon. He took many difficult chances and always made good. His strongest point was his ability to hit a low thrown ball and five of these he straightened out into home runs during the season. Witham has worked four years for the position and this season has shown great ability to hold it down.

Wilfred B. Pickard, '14, was a new man this year and covered everything that came his way. He handled Abbott's throws to second in fine shape and the latter part of the season developed into a consistent hitter.

Harold V. Cobb, '14, was a very speedy short-stop and covered ground well and also showed ability as a batter and base runner, improving greatly the latter part of the season. He made his "M" in the same position last year but was even better this season.

Madison L. Gilman, '15, the big Freshman third baseman, worked out as pitcher the first of the season but also showed that he could cover third base. He featured in a number of double plays during the year and was a good hitter.

George L. Hosmer, '12, who was kept out of the game for about two weeks with a wrenched knee came back and played a very steady game in left field. He did some great batting the latter part of the series. This is Hosmer's Senior year and he will be a distinct loss to the team.

William J. McCarthy, '13, staved off several defeats by his great fielding in center field. Though not a heavy hitter he made some long drives at critical times. He played the most consistent game in the outfield.

David S. Baker, '15, center on the football team last fall, did excellent work in the outfield. Although he was out of the game for several weeks with a wrenched knee, he later held down the position of right field with a fielding average of 1000.

Some of the other men who are deserving of praise are the second string pitchers, Gerald Welch, '15, and Harry A. Richards, '13, who did efficient work when called upon. Ellis W. McKeen, '12, was injured on the Massachusetts trip but was kept out of the game for the rest of the season.

Too much credit cannot be given the team and Coach Magoon for the success of the season, starting as it did with so many reverses.

EDITORIAL.

We gladly welcome to our Campus all alumni who have come back to witness another Commencement at their Alma Mater. We Progress are glad that, from their various activities, they have come together once more to show their interest in that institution where they spent four happy years. As they gather at this time and review the past year at the college, what progress has been made which can be noted by them?

During the past year two new buildings have been used for the first time by the college, Hannibal Hamlin Hall and Estabrooke Hall. The first of these, which is a modern, thoroughly equipped dormitory, has been well filled by a large number of students who have found there convenient and comfortable rooms. This hall is fast solving the much discussed proposition of having all freshmen live in the dormitories rather than in the fraternity houses, and doubtless in a few years this plan will be fully worked out. Estabrooke Hall, named in memory of Prof. Horace M. Estabrooke, for many years head of the English department, has been used this year by the English department and has proven of great value to this growing branch of the College of Arts and Sciences. The use of both of these buildings is ample proof that the University of Maine has been growing, and will continue to grow in the future.

To some people, unfortunately, the standing of a college is measured only by its ability to produce winning athletic teams. For the benefit of such we can point with just pride to two championship teams out of three lines of athletic endeavor, for we have been successful in football and baseball. These victories show that our college has progressed during the past year in this line of activity.

In the way of scholarship, which is the primary foundation and purpose of our college, special marks of advance can be pointed out only as we name professor after professor, to the end of the list, and tell of the work of each and the work of each department, which has been of the highest degree of excellence. Such has been our scholastic advance during the past year.

We have, as a college, passed safely through one great crisis, perhaps one of the greatest since the troublous early days of the institution. We learned that our popular president, Dr. Aley, had been called to head another university, and for a time feared lest he should leave us. The crisis was passed when he decided to remain, and his leadership has contributed much to the success of our year here at Maine.

Thus, as we welcome back the alumni, we are proud to tell what we have done as a college during the past year. And, as we tell of these things, we do not forget to mention the part that these alumni have played in all this advance; we recognize the quiet, persistent work that they have done, and acknowledge our indebtedness to them. But all has been for Maine, and the results have in themselves been of sufficient reward to all.

There has recently appeared on the Campus the nineteenth volume of the series of pictorial histories of the University of Maine.

1913 Prism History is always interesting to read, and if it be of happy events it possesses double interest. The 1913 Prism which is now on sale, certainly does justice to the prosperous year through which we have just passed. The interesting points about the book are enumerated in another part of this paper, but it is hoped that each student and each alumnus will feel a desire to see these for himself and will buy a copy to take away with him. Much discussion has been going on about the financial standing of the Prism as a publication, and the success or failure of the 1913 Prism means much to the classes that are to follow. Loyal support is solicited which, if given, will we hope insure to us the successful continuance of our Junior year book.

There are many honors that come to a college man as he hoes thru his course, but probably the greatest are those that come during his junior and senior years. "Honor to whom Honor" These honors are of greater value because they are the result of, not one, nor two, but three and perhaps four years of work. After such a period of time a recognition of labor is surely an honor.

Such a recognition came, after the last chapel, to eleven members of the junior class. When they were tapped for the Senior Skulls these eleven men could feel that they were looked to as representative of their whole class; that they had worked faithfully for their class and college, and that this loyalty had been rewarded. Such an honor is worth while, not perhaps so much for the honor's sake as for the realization that something has been done for the college which may be of value to it and to the workers.

We all unite in a rousing cheer for Coach Magoon and his Champions.

The CAMPUS wishes a happy summer to all, and expresses the hope that all who come back in the fall may bring with them renewed vigor to make next year the best one yet in our history.

NEW ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Maine Withdraws from N. E. Board

The University has decided to withdraw from the New England College Entrance Board and to accept the school record of any graduate of a Class A High School or Academy in Maine who has taken a course approved by the State Superintendent and who has been recommended by the principal. This action is taken at the advice and with the hearty cooperation of State Superintendent, Payson Smith.

The New England Entrance Board has done a great service to the schools and colleges of New England in raising standards of scholarship and strengthening the general work of the secondary schools. It is now recognized, however, that the best interests and the peculiar needs of the schools of Maine demand a change. There seems to be no need of such outside standards as the needs of the schools of other states, but under the new plan there will be entire cooperation between the State Educational Department and the University of Maine.

The University agrees to accept the graduates of any class A high school who have taken courses approved by the state superintendent, and the state superintendent agrees to hold these schools up to a standard which will assure adequate preparation for college. The effective administration of our state superintendent is a sufficient guarantee that this standard will be maintained.

The University of Maine is under peculiar obligations to take this step for the reason that an institution supported, as this is, so largely by public money has its obligation to the people and to the schools of the state to consider. It must be possible for any boy or girl to receive the best the State has to offer in a professional or collegiate education and there must be as few obstacles in the way of his receiving it as possible.

In adopting this new plan the University is placing itself in a position to render great service to the people and the secondary schools of Maine.

George N. Worden, '13, of Vanceboro, John W. Hart, '13, of Holden, Carlos E. Norton, '13, of Cumberland Center, and Richard A. Power, '13, of Portland have been elected officers of Alpha Zeta, the honorary Agricultural fraternity, for next year.

NEW GRANDSTAND

Work to be Started May 1

It is the intention of the committee in charge of the erection of the new grandstand to begin building on May 1st next. A crescent shaped, reenforced concrete grand stand will be erected. This stand will be a miniature stadium twelve tiers high, and will be erected after plans drawn up by a Maine Alumnus. The general plan will be similar to the stand of the Somerville (Mass) High School. The seating capacity will be about 3000 people. The playing field is also being greatly improved. Already $3500 have been spent to this end and this has made our football prospects for next fall very bright. A ground keeper will tend to the field throughout the entire summer. All of these operations cost money and it is very important that every alumnus should send his subscription at once to the treasurer of his alumni association or to E. R. Wingard, Orono, Maine.

LAST CHAPEL

Exercises in Charge of Seniors

The last chapel service which was held Friday, May 31, was as usual under the direction of the Seniors, Alden Chase presiding and A. L. Deering acting as chaplain. The service was opened as usual and the old parting hymn, "God be with you till we meet again," was given expression by hundreds of earnest voices. The prayer was followed by special music, a duet being rendered by two of the Seniors. The students filed out of the chapel to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne."

GRADUATES WERE GUESTS

Dean W. E. Walz and Mrs. Walz acted as host and hostess to the members of the graduating class of the University of Maine College of Law on Wednesday night, when a fine dinner was enjoyed at the Colonial. The occasion was most enjoyable and exemplified the excellent relations existing between the faculty and students.

NEW PRISM

Very Attractive Volume

The 1913 Prism is now completed and is on sale at the college store. The annual is published this year in two bindings, one a blue cloth and the other a blue leather binding, both with white lettering. The cover design, a silhouette of the Chapel on a white triangular background, is very attractive.

The volume is dedicated to Dean W. E. Walz of The College of Law.

The cuts of this issue are exceptionally good and there are more in the Faculty section than is usual. The pictures of the Juniors are oval in shape and are tastefully arranged. There are several cuts from both "The Magistrate" and "Twelfth Night" and the usual cuts of the teams and Musical Clubs. There are two pages given up to individual pictures of the Football team and two more pages are taken up with views of the Bangor fire. The sketches in the "grind" section as well as the accompanying grinds are especially good. One can hardly help laughing at the ludicrous sketches of the Bowdoin-Maine game.

The Fraternity section is greatly improved by the seal of each society. Both the Law School and summer school are distinguished by a write-up and several cuts, an exterior and several interior views of the new Law School headquarters being shown.

Throughout the volume there is shown hard work and painstaking care on the part of the staff. The editor-in-chief, F. B. Ames, and the Business Manager, G. C. Clarke, can well be praised for the splendid result of their work.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Mr. Louis C. Southard, '75, of Boston, has again presented the University with three silver medals which are to be played for in tennis. Two of the medals are to go to the champions in Doubles, the other going to the champion in Singles. Drawings were made for the tournament last Saturday with the following results: Singles: byes, Rand, Shepard, Youngs; Nickels, vs. Smiley, Gowen vs. A. B. Ferguson; byes, George; Jackson vs. R. S. Ferguson.

Doubles: bye, Ayer and Burgess; Youngs and Gowen vs. R. S. and A. B. Ferguson, Sullivan and Jackson vs. Smiley and Cleaves; bye, Rand and Ferguson.

The preliminaries and semi-finals were played last week and the finals were played off yesterday and today. The results of last weeks matches are as follows:

Singles: Rand won from Shepard by default; Smiley won from Nickels, 6-4, 7-5; Gowen won from A. B. Ferguson, 6-1, 6-1; Smiley won from Youngs, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3; Gowen won from George by default; Jackson won from R. S. Ferguson, 6-0, 6-2; Semi-finals, Smiley won from Rand, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Doubles: Youngs and Gowen won from A. B. and R. S. Ferguson, 6-0, 6-2; Smiley and Cleaves won from Sullivan and Jackson, 6-4, 6-3; Semi-finals: Smiley and Cleaves won from Rand and Ferguson, 6-0, 6-0.

Employment Opportunity

The Boston Elevated Railway Company has a continually expanding business and therefore is always able to place desirable young men in its employment, especially in its car service or train service. June is a most favorable time for entering the service and affords a good opening for the self-supporting student. The opportunity for learning railway business is excellent, because the Company operates underground, elevated and surface lines. The Company pays the best of wages and has a system of annual reward and support in old age, which is unequalled. A man may earn more than $20 per week, but $12 per week is guaranteed.

Detailed information can be obtained as to this employment by addressing J. E. RUGG, Superintendent of Employment, 153 Milk Street, Boston.
