ANOTHER WIN
Rhode Island is Beaten

Although the Athletic field was slippery and treacherous from the heavy rainstorm of the night before, Maine was able to run up the score of 18-0 against her worthy opponents from the Rhode Island State College. Trick plays were entirely out of question because of the slippery footing and so both teams relied almost wholly on straight line bucking. In the first few minutes of play Rhode Island made her best showing during the whole game. She seemed to carry the ball with ease, Sullivan making most of the gains, the longest being a thirty yard run. Maine stopped this onrush of the Rhode Island team and began to play hard football and from this time on the visitors were completely outplayed, her whole line was unable to withstand the constant hammering of the Maine backs.

Rhode Island kicked off to Martin who brought the ball to the middle of the field but fumbled and lost the ball. On the next three plays Rhode Island was unable to gain and Sullivan punted to Bryant who ran it back to Maine's 35 yard line. On the next play Bryant made 15 yards and then Shepherd punted to Rhode Island's 15 yard line. Rhode Island here began to play her best and carried the ball in four plays to Maine's 45 yard line. On the next play she punted but it was blocked and Maine recovered the ball on her own 40 yard line. Bryant made 5 yards around left end, Shepherd made 10 yards through center, Martin and Carleton both made 5 yards through the same position. The first quarter ended.

The second quarter opened with Maine in possession of the ball on Rhode Island's 40 yard line. Maine was held for downs on the 35 yard line. Rhode Island carried the ball to the 50 yard line, fumbled and Martin recovered the ball for Maine on her 45 yard line. From here the home team carried the ball, by straight line bucking, over Rhode Island's goal line, Shepherd making the touchdown. Bryant failed to kick a goal. Rhode Island kicked to Maine's 15 yard line. Carleton ran it back 5 yards. Carleton made 18 yards through the center. Martin made 6 yards and Shepherd carried the ball to the 50 yard line but fumbled and Rhode Island recovered the ball. After the first play, the half ended.

Third quarter. Rhode Island kicked to Ruffner who carried the ball to Maine's 30 yard line. From this position repeated gains through the Rhode Island line carried the ball to the visitors 10 yard line. Martin from this position carried the ball over for a touchdown. Shepherd missed the goal. Gulliver kicked to Rhode Island's 30 yard line. Rhode Island failed to make any gain and punted to Maine's 30 yard line. Maine worked the ball down the field to Rhode Island's 17 yard line and third quarter ended.

Maine made 2 yards and then Gulliver tried a field goal but failed. Rhode Island put ball in play on her 20 yard line. On the next play she was penalized 5 yards for offside play and then she punted. Carleton got the ball on the opponents 45 yard line and ran it back 15 yards. Maine was here penalized for holding but from here pushed the ball over the line in five plays, Carleton making the touchdown. Rhode Island kicked to Purrington who carried the ball back to the 45 yard line from his own 10 yard line. The half ended. Final score 18-0.

BLANKET TAX

Collectors Now Busy

At the meeting of the Athletic Board last Wednesday evening the following student collectors were appointed for the Blanket Tax: Guy V. Dyer, '13, Clifton Chandler, '13, John E. Hart, '13, Russell Ferguson, '14, and Paul W. Monohon, '14, at a subsequent meeting of this committee Guy Dyer, '13, was elected chairman and Clifton Chandler, '13, secretary.

Some member of the committee will be present to receive subscriptions in Director Wingard's office every day at the period before and after chapel. The collectors desire the hearty cooperation of the entire student body in collecting and enforcing the rules of this blanket tax. The assessment must be paid or some definite arrangements made for its payment before the Athletic Association Elections which come the week of Dec. 2. It will materially assist the committee if the students endeavor to pay at some period before or after chapel.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Will Present New Resolutions

At the November meeting of the College of Arts and Sciences, the following resolutions will be presented for discussion and adoption: First, for graduation from the College of Arts and Sciences at least ninety-five of the one hundred and twenty-five hours required must be completed with a grade of "C" or better.

Second, that the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences recommend to the Faculty of the University that general honors be awarded on a somewhat broader basis than has been the custom and that larger discretion be given to the Committee on Honors; that the committee on Honors shall take into consideration, in addition to scholarship, such things as improvement in work, initiative, breadth of view, participation in student activities (such as debates, literary contests, dramatics, etc.), general influence in college and general "all around" ability of the student.

If these resolutions are adopted it will go far toward raising the quality of work in the College of Arts and Sciences.

At the October meeting of the College of Arts and Sciences it was voted to allow students who wished to transfer from the college of Agriculture or the College of Technology to the College of Arts and Sciences at the end of the freshman year to count all the subjects they have taken in their freshman year which come in the College of Arts and Sciences.

CROSS COUNTRY

Race to be Run Here

The cross country race with Tufts will take place on Saturday, the 19th of October. The race will start and end on the athletic field and the finish will probably be witnessed some time during the football game with St. Anselms College. The team has not yet been picked and the prospects are very poor for a winning team. The men out are few in numbers and are not up to the standard of last year. However we hope and expect to win. No State Cross Country Meet has yet been arranged and it is very doubtful whether there will be such a race this fall. The reason being that all the State colleges will not come in on such a project.

TELEPHONE TOURNAMENT

Gowen Again the Winner

James A. Gowen, '15, repeated his performance of last fall by defeating Albert L. King, '14, in the finals of the annual fall tennis tournament. The score was 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. The match was played Monday and Tuesday afternoons on the Phi Kappa Sigma and Theta Epsilon courts. Both players were in good condition and every game was hotly contested and very interesting to watch. Both men played on the varsity team last spring. The tournament has well fulfilled its purpose, that of bringing out some good new material.

OWL INITIATION

Held Last Wednesday Evening

Entertaining Football Talk

After the abbreviated form of Chapel Service, Friday morning, Prof. Wingard gave an interesting talk on football, telling something of the history of the game and tracing its development down to the present day.

Prof. Wingard says, the game was not unknown to the Greeks and Roman although with them it was not a school game. The English schools in the nineteenth century were the first schools to play the game and in 1873 a Rugby man introduced it at Yale. From this nucleus has grown the present popularity of the game in this country.

There have been many radical changes in the rules of the game during recent years, the object of these changes being to eliminate the more dangerous plays and to increase the scoring. It is Professor Wingard's opinion that the desired results will be accomplished.

An old player who is now making good in life when asked what his football playing had taught him answered "It has taught me first to keep my temper, and second, that if I want a thing badly enough and go after it hard enough, I'll get it."

Prospects are Very Good

The University band is holding regular rehearsals and indications point to an exceptionally good organization. About twenty-five pieces are reporting for practice and the Freshman class seems to be well supplied with musicians who are showing considerable ability.

MAINE MASQUE

Officers Elected

At the meeting of the Maine Masque last Tuesday evening, John Hart, '13, was elected President for the ensuing year, Paul W. Monohon, '14, vice president, Irvin K. Searle, '13; secretary, The Council held a meeting Friday noon and a play for this year was discussed. Manager Norcross has returned to college and is rapidly rounding a schedule of trips into form.

Charles J. Holway, ex-'14, spent the week end at the Phi Kappa Sigma House.

NEW BLEACHERS

More Equipment for the Field

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Board it was voted to add ten new bleachers to those already on the athletic field and these are now being constructed. The value of these will be realized when we play home state games or at the track meet next spring. In accordance with the action of this board the seats in the grandstand are on reserve, being lettered and numbered. Another new step is that of "parking" automobiles outside the field and providing a caretaker.

Bowdoin met defeat at the hands of Wesleyan's eleven, Saturday, Oct. 5, the score being 7 to 6. Hereafter all undergraduates at Michigan have to fill out cards giving a list of their campus activities. This plan is the result of the desire of the faculty to have complete record of the personnel of student organizations.
Interest in debating, at the University of Maine, is increasing. The cup offered by the 1914 Sophomore Owl society, plans for a University Debating Club, and the possibility of an intercollegiate debate, all prove that this most beneficial form of activity is once more coming to the front in our college life. This renewed interest is the culmination of a somewhat erratic course which debating has followed during the past few years.

Only a few years ago Maine had a varsity debating team. Occasionally we may meet a graduate who wears, in lieu, perhaps, of a Phi Kappa Pi or a Tau Beta Pi emblem, a little gold piece which bears testimony to the fact that the wearer was once on a University debating team. Such an emblem is treasured by the wearer who looks back with pleasure to the days when he stood before an audience and met opponents who were ready to dispute his arguments.

Gradually, as the members of those teams graduated and new ones failed to take up the work, interest in debating lagged, and the University of Maine was no longer represented by a varsity team. Then debating, as an activity, degenerated into an annual clash of wits between the two lower classes; but even in those contests, since, perhaps, no flags nor peanuts were at stake, there was lacking that incentive which was necessary to put each contestant on his mettle.

Last year, for various reasons, interest in debating was considerably increased. Not only did the freshmen and sophomores meet in a contest, but the sophomores and juniors also debated. The college authorities, too, realized the value of a renewed interest in such an activity and granted a thirty dollar scholarship to the best individual debator in the freshman-sophomore contest. With three teams on the field of action prospects were bright for a varsity team in 1912-1913.

The new college year is upon us, and plans, young last year, are now about ready to be realized. Debating has reached a new stage in development at Maine and the 1914 Sophomore Owls have recognized it by offering a cup to be held by the winning class in a series of interclass debates. Interest in such a series of contests should be keen and the friendly class rivalry of great benefit to the development of the activity.

One step beyond the class teams is the organization of a University Debating Club. Such a club has already been planned and will meet for organization Tuesday night. Membership will be restricted to the three upper classes, since the freshmen have their own separate club. The final aim of the University Club will be to prepare a varsity team and engage, if possible, in at least one intercollegiate contest, the opposing college being as yet unknown.

No one will question the value of debating. As President Aley said in chapel, there is truly no branch of labor in after life wherein knowledge and practice gained by debating will not be essential. The problem before us now, as a University with a desire for a recognized standing as a possessor of a good debating team, is to get the new men who will come forward next year to take the place of those who will graduate in the spring. The University Debating Club is open for members. It wants and needs material for debators. Without such material debating will soon pass thru another period of quiet and thus lose valuable ground; with good, live workers debating will advance each year until we will have that which we now desire for our college—a winning debating team.

Three times this fall the student body has gone onto Alumni field, sat comfortably on the bleachers and watched our football team For the win. Upon leaving, after the game, Team how many students are there who have been on the field again until the next Saturday? We go out for the game, applaud and cheer our team and then forget, for a while, that there is such a thing as practice. While the students stay away, the members of the team must go out each night and work, to make possible those victories which are so much enjoyed by the college.

Much has been said of the moral support which the cheering of the students can give to the team on the field. But in the games alone is not the only time when such moral support is needed. Some nights when the play seems to be going hard and a player feels discouraged, surely then the presence of loyal supporters on the side-lines to cheer would help the team. For this reason, the students should remember that there is daily practice on Alumni Field and that the presence of an enthusiastic group to help along the team may often serve to strengthen our chances on that for which we are all working this fall for our team.

Once more we mention the two games that call for special trains. No student gets all that college life holds for him if he fails to take the trips with the team. We all should go to Lewiston and Waterville to back up our football team. One week from Saturday is the first. Do not miss it!

It would appear from various signs, that the Bull Moose has invaded our Campus. Time alone can tell whether he will survive the open season.

THIRD LECTURE

Some More Maine History

Prof. Colvin of the department of history was the speaker last Wednesday at the third of the series of lectures which is being held at the University on the subject of the history of Maine. Prof. Colvin's lecture was a continuation of her previous one on the colonial period of Maine.

Maine's early history, which even now has a bearing on the character of the state, may be easily divided into two parts, the peaceful period before 1665 and the period of wars after that date. No other state in the union can equal Maine's record of six long bloody wars.

In the year 1570 the New England Company was formed and proceeded to give out the territory by means of grants. The part between the Merrimac and the Kennebec was held by Georges and Mason, until in 1652 it became a territory or county of Massachusetts. Until now Maine's history had been all of peace, owing to her honest dealing with the Indians. The whole state was in a condition of prosperity and a considerable part had become settled. But now King Phillip's war broke out and for three years practically stopped all advance in civilization in the district.

After a few years of peace the war known as Castine's war or the war of King William was started and continued for a period of ten years. During this period there were several events of local interest, among them being the coming into prominence of Sir William Phipps, and the expedition led by Col. Church in an effort to find and destroy the Indian settlement at Old Town. Also during this war was issued the first paper currency ever used in the colonies.

On the evening of Friday, September 27, Mrs. Sarah J. Parcher, the matron of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity entertained the young ladies from 8 to 10 o'clock. Music was furnished by the house orchestra.

Considerable money has been expended at Colby in the improvement of the Campus. College walks have been graded and walled and the dormitories have undergone extensive changes and repairs.
EXTENSION WORK

New Field for Work Opened

Mr. Wallace Buttrick, Secretary of the General Education Board, has made three visits to the University of Maine. On his last visit, which occurred Monday, October 7, arrangements were completed by which the General Education Board furnishes money to carry on farming demonstrations. The money furnished is ample to pay for four directors. Four men nominated by the University of Maine, and approved by the Secretary of the General Education Board, will be in charge of the farm demonstration work in a single county. It is hoped to start the next farming season with at least one hundred and fifty farmers engaged in demonstrations under expert direction.

At present the work will start upon four lines—truck garden farming, fruit growing, farming for dairying purposes and growing potatoes and grain crops.

The work has been carried on in many of the states of the south for a number of years under the cooperative direction of the General Education Board and the United States Department of Agriculture. The results obtained there have been of very great value. It is, indeed, fortunate for Maine that the Board has turned its attention toward our state. It will enable the University to reach out and help the farming interests of the state in a more complete way than it has been able to do heretofore.

A little later a complete and detailed program will be announced.

CLASS TEAMS

Both Squads Working Hard

The Sophomore and Freshman football candidates have been out for a week practicing for the interclass football game which comes Oct. 19.

The Freshmen have a squad of 32 men. Those out for the Sophomore team are: Capt. Mace, Walk, Redman, Hutchinson, Doyle, Erswell, Howland, Peters, Allen, Moore, Williams, Fletcher, Crandall, Boyer, Douglas, Gallagher, Slocum, Noyes, McLaughlin, Richardson, Glover, Newman, Dorsey, Stewart and Matthews.

Because the majority of the Freshmen have not had a tryout in class football it is difficult to pick the best men but the squad looks good. The men are light but fast and should give the sophomores a hard fight for honors.

ENGINEERING NOTES

Mr. B. C. Kent, B. S. (University of Maine, 1912) has been appointed to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Mr. N. H. Blaisdell, B. S., of the Department of Mechanical Engineering. Mr. Blaisdell is now with the Westinghouse Machine Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

S., University of Maine, 1902) has been appointed Professor of Electrical Engineering to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Ganong.

Due to the increased interest in illumination throughout the country, Prof. Barrows is giving a new course in illuminating engineering which deals with the different types of lamps used for lighting purposes, the choice and location of lamps, the principles of photometry, illumination calculations, and the principles of interior and street lighting.

Mr. E. C. Cheswell has resigned his position in the department of Electrical Engineering to accept a similar position at the Graduate School of Applied Sciences, at Harvard University.
