TAKES SECOND STATE GAME

Maine Outplays Colby in Every Period

The loyal supporters of Maine were greatly surprised last Saturday when she defeated Colby, 20-0. It was the popular opinion that the score of this game would be the closest in the State series for both teams had about an even marked success in their previous games. It was only when the final score came that the Maine supporters realized that their teams had outplayed their rivals in every part of the game and had put up one of the finest exhibitions of football that they had ever witnessed. When the Maine team came trotting on the field they received a fine ovation from the Maine bleachers, which assured them that they were not to fight the game alone. It was with this spirit of aggressiveness that the team went on to the field and completely overwhelmed the Colby team. Colby came within scoring distance only once and lost on a poorly executed forward pass. Fraser, Colby's left half-back, made a 70 yard run, carrying the ball over Maine's goal line, but Colby was penalized 15 yards for holding as the play started and so the points were not counted. Maine made first down seventeen times while Colby was only able to make the required distance four times.

First quarter: Stanwood of Colby kicked off to Bernheisel on Maine's 20 yard line. Bryant made 5 yards on the first play and then Shepherd punted. Lowney received the ball and was downed by Murray on Colby's 40 yard line. Lowney made 10 yards around right end. Fraser was thrown for a loss by 7 yards by Shepherd. Lowney made 8 yards through center. On the next play Lowney fumbled the ball and Sawyer recovered the ball for Maine on the 50 yard line. Carleton, on two plays, made 20 yards. Martin made 5 yards and Carleton 5 more. The ball was on Colby's 20 yard line. In two plays, Carleton made 13 yards. Shepherd made 2 yards and then Carleton went over the line for a touchdown. Shepherd kicked out from Colby's goal line for position but Carleton fumbled and so no attempt at goal could be made. Stanwood kicked off to Bernheisel on Maine's 40 yard line. On the next two plays neither Carleton nor Bryant made any gain. Carleton made 6 yards. Shepherd punted from Maine's 46 yard line and Lowney received the ball on Colby's 8 yard line and was downed in his tracks. Taylor made 2 yards and Fraser made no gain. Lowney made 20 yards. Fraser made no gain. Taylor made 3 yards and Lowney was thrown for a three yard loss by Carleton. Fraser punted to Bryant who ran the ball back 5 yards to Maine's 40 yard line. Martin made 5 yards through center and Shepherd 3 more. Carleton made 4 yards and Shepherd made 4 more. First quarter ended.

Second Quarter: Shepherd made no gain. Carleton made 5 yards, Maine was held for downs. Taylor made 1 yard. On the next play Taylor fumbled but Crossman recovered the ball. Fraser made 5 yards on a delayed pass. Fraser then punted to Bryant on Maine's 23 yard line. Bryant fumbled the ball on the first play, but Shepherd recovered it. Shepherd then punted the ball from Maine's 20 yard line. Lowney received the ball and was downed by Baker on Colby's 30 yard line. On the first play Fraser ran 70 yards, carrying the ball over Maine's goal line but the play was not allowed for Colby had held in the line and was then penalized 15 yards. Lowney punted to Bryant on Maine's 27 yard line. Maine was unable to make the required distance and Shepherd punted to Lowney who was downed by Bernheisel on Colby's 35 yard line. Lowney made 3 yards on the first play. Taylor made 2 yards and then Fraser punted to Carleton who ran the ball back 15 yards to Maine's 38 yard line. In three plays Carleton placed the ball in the middle of the field. Shepherd made 5 yards. Maine was here penalized 5 yards for being offside. Carleton made 5 yards and then Shepherd punted to Lowney who was downed by Baker on Colby's 3 yard line. Colby was penalized one-half the distance to her goal line for slugging but Maine refused the penalty. Fraser punted out to Carleton who made a free catch on Colby's 30 yard line. Shepherd chose a free try for a goal but the ball failed, by a narrow margin, to go between the posts. Colby placed the ball in play on her own 20 yard line. Fraser was thrown for a loss of 4 yards by Donahue. Lowney made no gain on the next play. Fraser made half a yard. Fraser punted to Carleton who fumbled the ball and Crossman recovered the ball for Colby. On the first play a forward pass was executed, Lowney to Fraser, and it netted 10 yards for Colby. The first half ended here with the ball in Colby's possession on Maine's 40 yard line.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY

Coming the Night of the Bowdoin-Maine Game

The Junior Assembly coming on Saturday, the ninth of November following the Bowdoin game in the afternoon is sure to be a fitting climax to the football season. The dance starts at 8 P. M. and will continue until midnight. However, there will be a celebration in front of Alumni Hall previous to the dance if Maine wins. Tickets at seventy-five cents a couple may be obtained from any member of the committee in charge. Financially the success of the affair is assured as a large number of tickets have been sold in advance. Pullen's five piece orchestra will play the order of twenty-two dances in their usual unsurpassable style. Refreshments will be served and the dance will be entirely informal. It is going to be the big college event this fall and if successful promises to become an annual function. The following is the list of aids and the dance order:

MAINE NIGHT

Plans All Made

President Aley and the student committee have formulated plans for the biggest and best Maine Night ever held. Twenty-five hundred tickets have been mailed alumni and citizens of the state and a record crowd is expected.

The band, the orchestra, and the Glee Club will be in attendance. Forrest B. Ames, '12, has been selected as the undergraduate speaker from the Campus and the Law School will elect their representative at once. Several of the alumni will speak.

BATES TRIMS BOWDOIN

Hard Fought Game at Brunswick

The failure of La Casce of Bowdoin to kick a goal after a touchdown proved to be the deciding factor in the Bates-Bowdoin game which Bates won 7-6 last Saturday. The Brunswick team outplayed Bates during the greater part of the game and but for a rally led by Dyer of Bates when he was shifted from the line to the backfield Bowdoin undoubtedly would have won. Only one forward pass was successful during the whole game although several were tried.

The first touchdown was made by Foster of Bowdoin during the first period after a 20 yard run by Weatherill and a series of line plunges by Weatherill and Foster. Bates made her touchdown in the third period after a 30 yard run by Dennis and gains through the line by Dyer.

The teams were evenly matched and nearly scored on each other several times. Bates held Bowdoin twice within her 15 yard line and Shepherd of Bates crossed the Bowdoin goal line with an intercepted forward pass but it did not count.

EDITORIAL.

Last Saturday was surely a day of triumphs for Maine. It was also a day when real Maine spirit was revived and displayed

Maine Spirit Triumphs with such vigor as has not been shown for the past few years.

Taken altogether the events of that day are such as will remain in the memory of all Maine men for a long time to come.

An enthusiastic awakening of Maine spirit came at the football rally last week; and it came as Coach Riley told us, at a very opportune time. We were at a critical point in our Championship series and our team needed the best support of the student body. The enthusiasm of that rally, which grew as the evening went on, made up what many students have since called the best football rally which we have held for several years.

Nor did the spirit of that evening die out in a day as the seven hundred who took the special to Waterville proved. The victories of the day served to increase, if possible, that spirit, and the showing made by the Maine supporters is to be commended. The team, too, seemed to catch the enthusiasm of the cheers and gave itself unreservedly to the game, which was won on merit.

Thus we can feel that we took a step in advance last Saturday, in that the team and the student body became more closely linked together; and that both entered more fully into the spirit of Maine, which we all desire.

As we needed the enthusiasm and support of the students last Saturday, no less are they necessary during the coming week. We make Maine Night the biggest yet, and work hard for the game with Bowdoin.

The Coming Week have reached the closing days of our football season and two things are left for us to do as students—

Once every year there comes a night when all students and alumni of the University come together to review the history of the past twelve months, and look ahead to bigger things for Maine. Next Friday is the 1912 Maine Night, and we look forward to, and expect, the best in our history. If the student body will display the enthusiasm which was manifested last week the alumni cannot fail to catch the spirit of the evening and be renewed in their interest in Maine.

And then for the Bowdoin game! Last week, some of the newspapers of the state were pleased to call the Maine-Colby game the deciding one in the championship series. Right or wrong as they may have been, it is not for us to cease, for a single instant, to work, and cheer, and support our team. When that game with Bowdoin is over then we shall know; but until then we can take no chances. Do not let last Saturday's "Maine spirit" die out in any degree!

It is of interest to note the careful plans which the Athletic Association has made for the game next Saturday. Those who have been on Alumni Field during the past month have observed the large number of new bleachers which have been built. We have now, according to announcement, 2,532 bleacher seats, and furthermore—"No admission tickets without seats will be sold unless the seating capacity of the field is exceeded." This will do away with the presence of spectators on the side lines and give all an equal opportunity of seeing the game.

Another part of the announcement of arrangements which is worthy of general consideration is this: "Bleacher seats are sold by section to the limit of each section only." All who witness the game may be sure of getting a seat for which they have paid and will not be compelled to stand up.

The other statements made by the Athletic Association are of equal worth, and show very careful thought on the part of the management in caring for all who may be present at the game.

We noted with pleasure the large number of our University ladies who went to Waterville Saturday. Their Maine spirit was in keeping with the day.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE BOWDOIN-MAINE GAME

Careful plans for Big Crowd

For the convenience of Bangor people, admission tickets for the Bowdoin-Maine game at Orono, Nov. 9th, at 2.00 P. M., with grand-stand or bleacher seats, will be on sale at E. F. Dillingham's, Bangor, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Admission is fifty cents, with an additional charge of fifty cents for grand-stand or twenty-five cents for bleacher seats. All seats in the grand-stand are reserved. Bleacher seats are sold by section to the limit of each section only but the seats are not assigned.

University of Maine alumni may secure admission tickets and grand-stand or bleacher tickets upon application in writing to J. A. Gannett, Orono, with remittance. If time permits, seats will be mailed, otherwise held at the ticket office at the gate.

There are 2,532 bleacher seats, and 300 grand-stand seats. No admission tickets without seats will be sold unless the seating capacity of the field is exceeded.

Only students holding blanket tax tickets, and alumni, will be admitted to the cheering section. Women students and faculty will be seated in an adjoining bleacher. Only three grand-stand seats will be sold to one person. Seats in the Bowdoin bleachers must be obtained through the Bowdoin management. Sale of admission, grand-stand and bleacher tickets at the field, from seven windows, after 12.30 Saturday. One bleacher seat will be furnished every individual holding a blanket tax ticket. General sale to faculty and undergraduates at the University Store and the College of Law on Thursday and Friday.

A parking place for automobiles close to the entrance to the field, under the supervision of members of the Bangor police, is provided, for which there is no charge.

The Athletic Association further announces that the Maine Central and Bangor and Aroostook Railroads offer reduced rates for the Bowdoin-Maine game on Saturday.

The Maine Central is to run trains leaving Bangor Union station at 1.00 P. M., and 1.20 P. M. for Orono and Webster, connecting with electric cars for the Campus.

The Bangor Railway and Electric Company are to run special cars at 12.00, 12.30 and 1.00 o'clock, returning after the game.

FORESTRY CLUB

Reorganization and Election

The Forestry Club met last Wednesday noon, October 30, and elected officers as follows:—Arthur F. Amadon, '13, president; Wayland D. Towner, '14, vice president; Charles R. Atwood, '14, secretary-treasurer; Ernest R. Savage, '13, Harry R. Leavitt, '14, William H. Martin, executive committee.

The club will hold bi-monthly meetings and it is planned to have prominent speakers address the Club once a month.

The student chapel on Tuesday morning, October 29, was in the nature of a mass meeting and was conducted by G. G. Tilley, '13, President of the Athletic Association. The band played several selections. The sentiment of the meeting seemed to be for a larger delegation of students and better cheering for last Saturday's game.

ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETING

Best Held for Years

One of the most enthusiastic mass meetings that the University has seen for several years was held in the gymnasium on Wednesday evening, October 30. The student body opened the meeting by singing the Stein Song, accompanied by the band.

G. C. Tilley, '13, President of the Athletic Association, announced that he had invited the coaches and several members of the Faculty to address the students, but the most of them were unable to attend. Hence the meeting was left almost entirely to the student body.

One of the features of the evening was the new mascot, a black bear cub, which was on the platform under the watchful care of J. E. Doyle, '15.

An innovation in cheering was introduced by T. C. Higgins, '13, Cheer leader, and several yells were practiced. He planned to stand opposite the middle of the Maine bleachers with an assistant at each end of the section. Two men behind him were to watch the plays for him, while he announced the players' names to his assistants who will lead the cheering.

Capt. T. D. Shepard, '13, outlined the work of the football team. He said that at the beginning of the season the team was composed entirely of former Varsity men but at present only about twenty-two men are out for football. Hence the team is heavily handicapped by lack of men to play against.

J. W. Hart, '13, spoke of the slowness with which the athletic subscriptions are coming in. As only about one-third of the 719 season tickets have been paid for, it is evident that the Association is in danger of being without funds. He also stated that another way to help the Association is to patronize the special trains, and he urged everybody to go to Colby Saturday and do his best in cheering.

In a speech overflowing with enthusiasm and often interrupted by applause, Prof. G. W. Thompson made a plea for fellowship and more enthusiasm among the students. He said that athletics and love for the University tend to promote fellowship, because they bring the students together. In referring to the special train to Waterville, Saturday, he said that all ought to go for the enthusiasm connected with the trip, and the experience to be gained in associating with their fellow students.

The next speaker was E. H. Bigelow, '13. He declared that love for the University or the team depends upon the amount of work that one does for it. This is shown by the fact that the men who are most interested in Maine today are those who did something for the University when they were students. He also spoke of the lack of new material in the football squad and reminded the students that even now it is not too late to get out and help the team.

J. C. Wallace, '13, Manager of football, suggested that the student body learn some songs for the football games and try to show improvement in cheering.

Dean Merrill emphasized the fact that an institution is made up of its men. He urged the students to do all they can for the University, and in closing said "make it worth something to be a Maine man."

Other speakers were P. W. Monohon, '14; L. A. Hamel, '15; J. H. Carleton, '13; F. C. Cobb, '13; C. W. Wescott, '13; J. E. Doyle, '15; B. M. Bagdoyan, '15; N. S. Donahue, '15; Alden Chase, '11; A. W. Abbott, '14; F. B. Ames, '13; H. P. Crowell, '14; C. E. Chandler, '13; A. F. McAlary, '13; L. B. Rogers, '13; W. D. Towner, '14.

At the close of the meeting all marched several times around the gymnasium and then, led by the band, the procession went to Orono village. There they were addressed by Coach Wingard, Rev. J. M. Harrington and Coach Reilley.

On their return to the Campus Dean Hart was called out. This speech ended a program which showed what enthusiasm it is possible for Maine students to display. As Coach Reilley remarked, Maine spirit was only dormant and needed to be aroused.

SOPHOMORE CALENDAR

To Be Issued After Thanksgiving

Arrangements have been nearly completed for the publication of the Sophomore Calendar which will appear before Christmas, about the second of December. A radical change will be made in this annual in that the cover will be of a special linen fabric instead of leather as in the past. A special cover design is being made and the whole appearance of the calendar will be especially dainty and attractive. The calendar is to be dedicated to Coach Smith who has done so much to bring up the standards of athletics in Maine and the seven inside covers will contain half tones of the latest athletic teams and views of the Campus. The price of the calendar will be the same as in former years, fifty cents. The committee on the calendar are Robert Thurrell, Ralph Easson and Paul Warren.

MAINE HAS RIFLE TEAM

Organization for Intercollegiate Shooting

Maine is to be represented in intercollegiate rifle shooting. At a meeting held in Alumni Hall, Tuesday, the University of Maine Rifle Club was formed with John L. Ober, '13, president; Fred J. Lewis, '14, secretary; Philip S. Bolton, '13, treasurer, and John W. Hart, '13, temporary team captain. After the team has been under way for a short time, a permanent captain will be elected from among those who make the team.

Rifle shooting is comparatively new as a branch of intercollegiate athletics, but wherever tried it has proved a great success. Five years ago the National Rifle Association of America, which is one of the bureaus of the War Department, attempted to introduce rifle shooting in the preparatory schools of the country, as a branch of athletics. The sport met with such success that a similar attempt was made the following year to introduce it in the colleges, where it met with an even more cordial reception. Last year, after a hard-fought campaign, the Massachusetts Agricultural College won the championship of the Eastern Intercollegiate League, while the Iowa State University won the same honor in the Western League. In the final match between the two league champions, the Massachusetts Aggies won the National title by a very narrow margin.

While the chances are that Maine will not be able to win the National championship the first year she is represented by a rifle team, the chances are in favor of a team that will make a very creditable showing. There is undoubtedly a large number of students in the military department who have used rifles before, and who will go out for the team. Among them are men who have shot on teams in the New York National Guard, the Maine National Guard, and on the Deering High School team which has for two years held the New England Interscholastic championship.

The University Rifle Team will, for the time being, consist of twenty men, but there will be opportunity for more than twenty men to make good, as there will probably be a team to represent each cadet company. The exact details cannot be announced as we go to press, but it is settled that the team will go right to work as soon as an indoor range can be fitted up.

Lewis Murray, '16, who was operated on for appendicitis two weeks ago in the Eastern Maine General Hospital is improving rapidly.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Holds a Very Important Meeting

The Maine section of the American Chemical Society held a most interesting and profitable session at the Bangor House, Friday evening, Nov. 1. Preceding the meeting proper, a banquet, at which covers were laid for sixty, was served in the private dining-hall. Among the guests present were many out of town chemists and others prominent in the manufacturing interests of Maine.

Following the banquet a sort business meeting was held which was presided over by the President of the Maine section, Mr. E. B. Larcher, chemist of the Great Works Paper Company.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. E. D. Little, President of the American Chemical Society, received a loyal welcome upon his introduction by Mr. Larcher. Dr. Little spoke upon "Chemistry as applied to the industries of Maine" and for an hour and a half held the closest attention and unabated interest of his audience.

The speaker began his discussion by bringing out the relation of chemistry to agriculture and gave the facts which showed that by the application of chemical principles the yield of hay and potatoes in Maine had been tripled. The paper industry and the sulphite process was the next topic treated and Dr. Little showed that in this field the chemist had great opportunities to use his technical knowledge to bring about a greater yield of paper at a largely reduced price and in lumbering as it is pursued in Maine, he brought out the extravagant wastefulness practiced showing that from the waste wood and sawdust a large amount of high-grade ethyl alcohol could be economically extracted. The textile industry was the next subject discussed, the speaker showing how the industrial chemical engineer increased the efficiency of the plant by putting everything on a specification basis.

The closing part of Dr. Little's address was devoted to showing what unlimited opportunities Maine's undeveloped resources offer to chemistry. He stated that Maine possessed three of the largest and best peat beds in the country and that the opening up of these would enable her industries to secure a high grade of fuel at a low price and that the great unharnessed water-power of our state presented an inviting field for the establishment of a great electro-chemical industry.

The meeting concluded with a description by Dr. Little of Sir William Ramsay's new balance with which it is possible to weigh correctly a 1-100,000 of a milligram and a few brief remarks by Prof. R. H. McKee.

STANDING OF STATE TEAMS

Maine's Chances of Winning Saturday

Maine's decisive victory over Colby Saturday, gave her the highest score in the standing of the four Maine colleges for the state championship and practically settled the championship of the season. This game of Saturday was looked upon by all as the big game of the season. Colby had defeated Bowdoin and Maine had defeated Bates. So it was with great interest that all looked upon the meeting of the two winners. Colby was reported to have a very fast team and to be especially strong in her backs, and there was more or less misgiving as to how Maine would make out against her rival.

The victory gives Maine a tie for championship at the least and probably a clear title to it.

If Bowdoin defeats Maine next Saturday and Colby defeats Bates, then Colby will tie for championship with Maine. If Bowdoin defeats Maine and Bates defeats Colby, then Colby will tie for championship with Maine. This supposition, however, is altogether contrary to what is likely to happen. Bates and Colby have both defeated Bowdoin and have both suffered defeat at the hands of Maine, so it looks as if Maine's chance of defeating Bowdoin and winning the championship is exceedingly good and highly probable.

The relative standing of the teams at present is as follows:

Maine.....	1000
Colby.....	500
Bates.....	500
Bowdoin.....	000

A NEW VENTURE

In the Form of a Rowing Club

A club to promote interest in rowing at the University of Maine was organized Monday noon by the students.

W. W. Redman, '15, opened the meeting and called upon B. A. Ahrens, '13, to explain the purpose of the proposed club. The idea as explained is to start a club on a small basis and perhaps for the first few years have only class contests and regatta days. Then in four or five years intercollegiate contests could be arranged. As the club will get no support from the Athletic Association it was planned to raise money for the rowing machines and shell by giving entertainments, minstrel shows, etc., during the winter.

The following officers were elected: B. A. Ahrens, '13, of New York City, president; Wilson W. Redman, '15, of Dedham, vice president; Oswald B. Higgins, '14, of Sewaren, N. J., secretary; and George C. Clarke, '13, of Portland, treasurer.

The executive committee as elected is made up of Arthur W. Abbot, '14, of Portland; Frederic S. Jones, '14, of Augusta; Joseph E. Brewster, '15, of Utica, N. Y.; Philip B. Sheridan, '15, of Salem, Mass.; and Morrill S. Pope, '13, of East Machias.

DR COLVIN TALKS

On the Presidential Election

At the Chapel exercises last Friday, Dr. Caroline Colvin, head of the history department, gave a most interesting talk upon the subject, "How our Presidents are Elected." The speaker outlined the various problems of government which faced the progenitors of the present system and dwelt upon the great early necessity for some strongly centralized power. Dr. Colvin in detail described the many steps which were involved in the election of the chief executive, being especially clear in her elucidation of the methods and time of choosing the electors in the several states. The speaker showed the methods of organization and the workings of the electoral college and giving illustrations of the ways in which other countries elected their executives.
