MUSICAL CLUBS SUCCEED IN WINNING AUDIENCES

Draw Favorable Comment in Eight Cities

SOLOS ALL APPRECIATED

The Musical Clubs returned Monday from a successful trip. This year eight concerts were given. Concerts were given at two places, Reading and Old Orchard, where the clubs had never before appeared. Concerts were given at four towns, Ipswich, Haverhill, Biddeford, and South Berwick, where the Clubs gave concerts two years ago, and at Boston and Portland where they played last year.

The concert at Biddeford was held in the high school hall. Some time before the concert began standing room only was to be procured.

The audience at Boston was composed mostly of alumni. Naturally the clubs had a good reception. When the Stein Song was sung, nearly every man was on his feet.

At Reading the concert was given at the Golf Club. The clubs received a warm response from the audience and look forward to a future engagement there.

The audience at Ipswich was more than twice the size of the audience two years ago. This speaks well for the clubs of 1913.

At Haverhill the largest audience of all was present. It composed more than 800 people and called on the clubs for encore after encore. The clubs, so the Haverhill people said, were better than any other clubs that have been there this year.

The concert at South Berwick was a great success. The audience was favorably impressed and pronounced the program even better than that of two years ago.

The clubs appeared in Portland under the auspices of the Woodfords Club. They had supper at the club, and then were taken by special car to Pythian Hall, where the concert was given. Earle Merrill was greeted as an exceptional violinist, and White and Haines were called on for six encores.

The town of Old Orchard was out en masse to greet the clubs. This was the first concert ever given there, but the inhabitants say that it will not be the last.

The program was shorter than usual this year, but the audiences were impressed by the classical type of the program, while the lighter encores drew much applause. Mr. Thurrell's readings were also enjoyed.

The final program was as follows:

DEBATING TEAM CHOSEN

Six Men Qualified to Compete Against Colby

The varsity debating team has been chosen to debate with Colby College on, Resolved, "In cities of 25,000 and over in the United States the present real property tax should be abolished and a tax on land alone be substituted, the same to be graded and computed within ten years." The following is the correct list of names on the team. Harry E. Rollins '16, of Bangor; Walter C. Jones '17 of Portland; Carl Magnus '15, of Biddeford; Albert W. Wunderlick '18, of Arlington, Mass.; Frank C. Ferguson '18, of New York City; John H. Magee '18 of Bangor.

The work is well under way and under Mr. E. E. Keyes of the English department. Prof. Geo. W. Stephens of Economics and Sociology is making a special study of the question with the men.

THAT BASKETBALL SERIES

Some Lively Sport Offered in Games Tonight

Basketball enthusiasts are promised two hours of rare sport tonight if they will but make it a point to attend the third round of the interclass series in the gymnasium. Last week several surprises were released, and it is more than likely that several more will appear when Senior meets Junior, and Sophomore meets Freshman. That fast basketball will be in order, no one will deny, but the question that does come is "Who will be the faster?"

The Juniors are to present a different line-up on account of the injury to Barrows, '16. Donahue will be seen again on the Senior squad, and these two changes may have some bearing on the outcome of this game. The 1916 squad has set its pace towards finishing the series with a clean slate, and are prepared to fight hard for the game tonight. The Seniors intend to miss no chance to redeem themselves from the defeat of last Friday night. Surely a good game is promised when these two teams meet.

As to the other game, several reasons can be cited, any of which ought to be a sufficient incentive for hard playing on the part of both teams. The Sophomores have suffered a series of defeats at the hands of the class of 1918; the bag scrap, pumpkin meet, baseball and football games. Tonight's game seems to be the only obstacle looming ahead in the victorious march of Freshmen, and the 1917 basketball team will be active toward making this obstacle a real one. The absence of the frog pond scrap from the list of possible chances for evening things, makes it only natural that attention should be focused on this prominent engagement. Flushed with the victory of last week, the Freshmen present themselves as worthy opponents. Captain Needleman will be supported by Green, O'Brien, McCarthy and Reardon. The Sophomore five will consist probably of McKown, Brasseur, Hilton, Higgins and Kilborn. These men have been putting in some hard work this week and are reported to be in better trim than they were on their previous appearances. At all events this game will not be soon without a struggle.

The M Club will offer another of its dances after the games, this week. The previous dances have made the project a successful one, and the dance is looked forward to by a great many as keenly as are the games. The idea is becoming more popular each week, and it is sincerely hoped that a large number will join in the good time each week.

CABARET SHOW COMING

Track Club to offer Entertainment in March

The Maine Track Club has decided to give a cabaret show similar to the one given recently by the Round Table. The exact date has not yet been decided but March 13 seems to be now the most likely. The program as yet is not entirely arranged but it will be similar in character to the Round Table Cabaret. The committee in charge of the affair consists of Coach Smith, J. L. Gulliver '15, H. P. Bailey, '15, C. E. Lyons '15, and L. E. Philbrook. They hope to make this as brilliant and as successful an affair as the last.

A. T. O. Entertains

On Saturday evening, February the twentieth, the members of Beta Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega held an informal house party at the chapter house. Ringwall and Dole of Bangor furnished music for dancing. Several alumni were back for the occasion. Among them were C. Parker Crowell '98, and Henry Pierce of Bangor; Wilson Dunning of Winterport and Alton Libby ex-'18 of Oakland.

The guests of the evening were: Mrs. C. Parker Crowell, Beatrice L. Matheson, Ruth B. Chalmers, Betty Chapman, Cordelia and Ethel Carlisle, and Liela McAvoy of Bangor; Mollie C. Hutchins of Fryeburg; Florence R. Donnelly of Waterville; Helen Pike of Monmouth; Mildred Boynton of Oakland; Ruth E. Brown of Brewer; Natalie Vaughan of Berlin, N. H.; Josephine M. Jackson of Hermon; Reba Shaw and Helen Ring of Orono; Marion Plummer of Old Town; and Estelle W. Barker of Gardiner.

MASQUE, IN THE AMAZONS ENJOYS SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Entertainment of the Cast one Feature

BIG HOUSE AT GORHAM

The Maine Masque has returned from the first trip of the season. 'The Amazons' had been presented once before at the Bangor State Hospital, February 12, but that performance was more of a dress rehearsal than a real one.

Leaving Orono at 6.30 a. m., February 18, the Masque arrived in Sanford that afternoon and played in the Town Hall in the evening under the auspices of the Searchlight Club. The audience was large and appreciative. After the performance, the Masque was entertained by Mrs. Harry H. Burnham at her home. There were about 60 guests, including the senior class of the high school and the hostesses of the different members of the Masque, besides the members of the Masque themselves.

Friday morning, the Masque had the opportunity of visiting the plush and Goodall mills at Sanford. One of the superintendents and the electrical engineer, Mr. Davis, conducted them thru the different rooms. The Masque left on the noon train for Gorham.

The performance that evening was under the auspices of the Board of Trade and was given in Narragansett Hall. Here was the most enthusiastic audience and possibly the largest one. The hall was packed and not another seat could be had long before the curtain rose. Owing to this, undoubtedly, the cast gave perhaps the best performance on the trip.

Since the manager had been unsuccessful in his efforts to secure another performance before February 23, all the members of the cast went home over Washington's birthday all meeting again in Biddeford on Tuesday afternoon.

This last performance which was given in the Opera House in Biddeford, under the auspices of the Business Men's Association, was as good as the former ones, but it was marred slightly owing to the fact that the audience was small and, therefore, not quite as responsive as those in Sanford and Gorham.

Since cuts were allowed only until 1.30 on Wednesday, all the members of the cast who had recitations that afternoon were forced to return to the University on the morning train. In order to do this, they had to take the electric car from Saco at 5.45 a. m. This gave them time to catch the seven o'clock train from Portland, which arrives in Bangor at 11.45 a. m. The others who were not obliged to take this early train returned Wednesday afternoon or evening.

Delta Nu House Party

Delta Nu Chapter of the Sigma Nu Fraternity held its annual Washington's birthday party and dance Saturday afternoon and evening, Feb. 20. A victrola concert, and games of various sorts held sway in the afternoon. A banquet was served early in the evening followed by dancing until a late hour, music being furnished by Larson and O'Hara of Bangor.

The guests included Prof. and Mrs. Simmons of Orono, Vera Gellerson, Houlton, Madeline Moore, Marguerite Littlefield, Marion White of Orono, Susie Mooers, New Sharon, Alma Anderson, Bar Harbor, Francis Lougee, Winterport, Mildred Dow, Ethel Sawyer, Edith Clark, Portland, Edith DeBeek Franklin, Cornelia Phelps, Foxboro, Mass., Margaret Wood, Mildred Morrison, Bar Harbor, Fannie Flint, West Baldwin, Ellen Garman, Entoinette Webb, Marjorie King, Fay Harvey, May Secor all of Bangor, Helen Taylor, Peabody, Mass., Blanche Pooler, Stillwater, Mildred Flower, East Kingston, N. H., Hazel Delano, Bangor, Henry Springer, Portland, Roger Hill, Melville Hallowe, Peabody, Mass.

College Men to Fight J. Barleycorn

The National Prohibition Committee with headquarters in Chicago, plans to enlist during the next two years three thousand college men in the war against John Barleycorn. The plan is to pay them $25.00 per month and expenses. Their term of service to last until each one has gained 1,666 votes for prohibition. When each one of the 3,000 has secured his quota of votes, they will have a total of 5,000,000 voters enrolled, which will be sufficient to insure national prohibition.

THE COMING TRACK SEASON

Contests in which Maine will Take Part

Negotiations have been closed by Professor Wingard with the Massachusetts Agricultural College for a dual cross country meet with the "Harriers" next fall. The "Aggies" had an unusually strong team last fall and keen competition will be looked for in the meet.

Professor Wingard has attempted to arrange a dual meet with Colgate University. But, as the date advanced by the University of Maine conflicts with the New York State Meet, in which Colgate is to be a participant, this plan had to be abandoned. It is hoped, however, that 1916 will see Colgate and the University on Alumni Field. Here also strong competition may be expected. Negotiations have been opened with Brown, and it seems pretty certain that next fall will see either Brown or Massachusetts at Orono.

In addition to this the annual meet with Bates, the state meet, and the New England Meet will all be held. If the University is successful in its application for admission to the American Intercollegiate Association, it will be represented in this meet also. It is with the end in view of molding a team of championship caliber that Coach A. N. Smith has devoted so much attention to various track and inter-fraternity meets this winter. It is expected if the application is successful, that Maine will be right up among the leaders in the American Intercollegiate. With such athletes as Perry Bailey and Charlie Rice, there is no doubt that the University has the opportunity this spring to make itself a high place in the American Intercollegiate Association.

He was a mechanical engineer and had made a specialty of sugar-making machinery and the management of sugar haciendas and was the first to introduce the centrifugal refining of sugar into Mexico. He was a son of Gen. Charles D. Jameson, of Bangor and was 55 years old at the time of his death.

BLUE BOOK EDITORS PRESENT THEIR WORK

First Issue Enthusiastically Received by Students

AN ATTRACTIVE MAGAZINE

The first issue of the Blue Book, the literary magazine arranged for and by students of the University, appeared Tuesday. Its reappearance, after several years in obscurity, was something of a triumph. Already the issue has been sold out and indications are that another one, equally large will be needed.

In appearance, the Blue Book is very neat and attractive in its simple cover design and orderly arrangement.

In content it shows a variety of style; the short stories, the poems, the humorous sketch, and the editorials all make an appeal thru their merit.

As this article is not from the pen of a literary critic, more than the mere mention of the fact that above articles appear, would be out of place. What can be done with a little effort, with a little time and thought spent on something that is worth while is clearly shown in this revival of the Blue Book.

ENJOY NOVEL PARTY

Students and Faculty Celebrate at Sebec

The first car south Saturday morning had the appearance of one of the incurable wards at the State Insane hospital. Ten students, two instructors, twenty suit cases, scores of blankets and snow shoes, with a liberal supply of parcels comprised this jolly assembly. Talk about noise, Well, there were just seven co-eds in that crowd. "Nough said."

They were all the guests of Miss H. Stanton, '18 and were off for Sebec Lake. Arrived there they seized two cottages and the fun started. Instructor Andrews, who could not forget his beloved chemistry conducted a quantitative experiment entitled, To find the maximum number of peanuts and marshmallows, equally mixed that an ordinary man can eat in three days provided he eats at least three square meals a day as usual. P. Hall, '15, also furnished much amusement, especially when he fell in the spring. Some of our demure co-eds were also seen on the roof of a saw mill. We now have some good material for the Prism and some snapshots for evidence.

The party included: Prof. and Mrs. Mellett; the Misses R. H. Winship '15, H. Danforth '17, H. Stanton '18, F. Lawrence '18, M. McWilliams and M. Beckett '18; P. Hall, '15, R. B. Brasseur, '17, R. C. Chapman '18, N. Robinson, Colby, J. Morrison, Hebron and Mr. Andrews.

Interesting Lecture Heard

The members of the Chemistry 28 course were given an informal lecture on "Mechanical Stones for Pulp and Paper Machinery" by Mr. P. L. Pottle, expert, for the Lombard Stone Co., Importers, at Manchester, Eng., Boston, Mass., Montreal, Canada, Vera Cruz, Mexico. Mr. Pottle presented a most interesting talk from the practical point of manufacturing paper and pulp specializing on the stone grinders. His work demands his presence all over the United States, Canada, and Mexico, and his experience as a mill superintendent at Sherbrooke, Canada, made the talk more impressive.

The lecture was made possible thru the efforts of Mr. A. G. Durgin of the Dept. of Chemistry, and these frequent lectures by prominent authorities show the progressiveness of the Pulp and Paper department in Chemistry.

Leslie A. Bowdady, ex-1891, is a banker and broker at Pasadena, California. He is vice-president of the National Bank of Pasadena and his address is 191 No. El Molino Avenue, Pasadena.

Dr. Ralph K. Smith, ex-1893, graduated in 1902 from the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy. He is director of Public Health of the American Osteopathic Association, an ex-President of the Boston Osteopathic Society, a member of the American Association for Clinical Research, and President of the Boston Browning Society.

The hockey games which have been played recently have apparently justified the claims of those who said that hockey could be successfully introduced at Maine.

Much spirit and interest was shown in the inter-class contests last Monday morning. The crowd which

The Success of Hockey gathered on the Still-water witnessed some good sport for the games were characterized by skilful and hard playing.

Weather permitting, the games will be continued and now that hockey has proven its practicable adaptability to Maine conditions we may hope that the dream of varsity hockey will be realized in the future.

It might be well for us to give hockey the benefit of the doubt for a while and perhaps this now small sport may be developed into one of major calibre.

The new Blue Book made its first appearance this week. It is a very creditable issue for a first attempt.

The New Blue Book Now that a few Maine students have had the courage and the perseverance to successfully carry through such a venture it will well behoove the rest of us to co-operate with them and insure the Blue Book of a continuous and glorious existence.

Remember the basketball games and dance tonight.

TO SERVE AS COMMITTEE

Prominent Newspaper Men Will Receive Visitors at Institute

Three prominent newspaper men of the state are expected to act with the Maine Press Club as a reception committee when Maine editors and publishers meet on the campus, April 23 and 24. W. B. Reed, business manager of the Bangor News, and M. R. Harrigan, of the Bangor Commercial, have agreed to serve, as representing publishers of daily newspapers.

Albert H. Brown, of the class of 1880, who has been president of the alumni association, is expected to serve as the third member of the committee. He is editor and publisher of the Old Town Enterprise, and has a wide acquaintance among publishers of weekly papers.

PROF. GRAY ENTERTAINS

Guests in Shakesperian Costume

Professor and Mrs. Roland P. Gray entertained the members of the English faculty and students majoring in English at a Shakespeare party, Monday evening, February 22. The guests were requested to appear in costume and the prize for the best went to Miss Leola Chaplin. Miss Mildred Dow guessed the greatest number of Shakespeare quotations. A feature of the refreshments was a George Washington birthday cake which contained a penny, a ring, a hatchet and a thimble each having significance for its possessor. The evening ended with a spirited Virginia reel.

SEEN ON THE CAMPUS

James McClure Matthews

"Yes gentlemen, I rank on the scale of D and C." Out came this comforting bit of news soon to be followed by one of those periodical jokes.

"Come down and see me gentlemen! Come down and see my fumed oak furniture. I'll guarantee that you can't fuss me * * * * * A hushed whisper from a back seat is heard. "He had that same line last year, when I got a little less than D—"

The foregoing may give a mental picture of the way in which Orono's popular fence viewer and chicken inspector conducts his classes. But words cannot describe the turbulent state of the minds of those whom he has stuck. It is safe to say that if there was a society here for the prevention of profanity that they would ask his resignation because of the way in which these unfortunates pollute their speech.

It is thought that Mister Matthews is a futurist. His clothes are so extremely bold in color and style. He comes from the west and has, it is said, been chased by bandits and Indians. This fact must be, in a way, responsible for his heavy gauntleted gloves and the terrible speed with which he drives his bicycle.

POULTRY EXTENSION

W. C. Monahan, '14, has Charge of Work

The Extension Service of the College of Agriculture announces the organization of an aggressive campaign for the development of the poultry business of the state.

Last July Mr. William C. Monahan, a graduate of the College, was appointed Instructor in Poultry Extension Work. He has made an investigation not only of the poultry conditions in the state but also of the markets for poultry products in New England and the methods of handling such products in the markets and has now laid out his plan of campaign which is approximately as follows:

First: To work in cooperation with existing poultry associations such as the Maine Poultry Association, the Bangor Poultry Association and others and to assist in organizing other associations whenever it shall appear advisable.

Second: To establish a large number of demonstrations in poultry management in every county in Maine for the purpose of demonstrating profitable and practicable methods. Demonstrations have already been started in six counties. Work in other counties will be started at once.

Third: Extension Schools in Poultry Management, each several days in length are now being held in various sections of the state with very gratifying results.

Fourth: A farm egg-laying contest is being organized in several counties and will be extended to all counties desiring same as soon as possible.

Fifth: Lectures on the various phases of the poultry business will be given wherever desired.

Sixth: Boys' and Girls' Poultry Clubs are being organized. A few were organized last year with successful outcome. It is believed that this form of Poultry Extension Work will prove especially valuable and will be developed.

Seventh: Exhibits illustrating various types of housing, feed mixtures, model poultry farms, etc., will be prepared for use at poultry exhibits held by Associations, Fairs, etc.

Eighth: Correspondence Courses in Poultry Management are offered without expense to those taking them.

Ninth: An "Advice by Mail" service has been established whereby the experience and training of the Extension Instructor in Poultry and the poultry experts at the College and Station are placed at the disposal of all persons interested in poultry and who desire information or advice upon the subject.

Tenth: Personal visits will be made on request to farms and poultry plants by the County Agents.

This work will be closely correlated to the County Agent Farm Demonstration Work and the Boys' Club so that instead of one man located at Orono being available for assisting the people of Maine, all Extension representatives of the College will be prepared to help.

Plan Elaborate Hop

The committee for the Military Hop was chosen at the election last Thursday. Artemas H. Harmon of Portland, chairman; Herbert G. Cobb of Woodfords, Ernest L. Coolbroth of Deering, John M. McGrath of Ridgelyville, Thomas W. Brittain of Island Falls. Elaborate plans are under way, but at present nothing definite has been decided as to the date. It is certain that several new and novel features will be presented that are different from former drills by the military companies.

DROLL AND DROOL

Much obliged to meet you again!

Since last week's Campus, we have literally been swamped with mash-notes from the co-eds in this institution. That ought to make us feel glad. BUT if you had to read 148 mash-notes, and if your roommate's room was littered up with so much scented stationery that you had to get the Artist (say girls, the Artist is good-looking) to draw you out, you wouldn't think it so much of a pipe. Furthermore, we got only 148 letters. Now there are 149 girls in school. What we want to know is the name of the girl who forgot to write us. She's going to get some roasts—wait and see.

Girls are, generally speaking—"What" you ask, well generally speaking. Out in the University of Southern California, when the fellows go calling on the co-eds, they call it "Queening." Here it's called just ordinary "Fussing." What's the matter? It isn't as if we fellows are to blame. However, speaking of our girls, we're here to say we have the real Queens all right, all right.

Sort of fooled you that time, didn't we girls?

See how strong you can make yourselves by sending us some Balentine Seafoam or some Mt. Vernon Fudge? No more mash-notes tho, understand?

SCOOP'S WEEKLY INTERVIEW (printed as he hands it in).

Dear Ed: (now isn't it awful for a mere cub-reporter to address his editor in that familiar manner: I leave it to you, isn't it?) You asked me to go and interview Pat French. Well, I don't feel inclined to do it. Pat never had much use for me anyway; I know too much about him. But I wouldn't tell for the world. For instance, I might tell you about the time that Pat went out to the field before a big football game. He saw one of the hurdles on the track. He turned to me and said, "Scoop (now you know Ed, that Scoop's only my nom-de-guerre) if you'll lend me a quarter, I'll let you sit on one of MY hurdles and watch the game." But I'm too much of a gentleman to tell anything like that. I won't give him an interview, so there. Am hungry, so must close. Hoping you are the same, I remain

Scoop.

Ed's note—I'd fire that fresh Scoop, only he lent me the two bits Pat asked for, so that I could get my supper.

The Etiquette editor says she wants to edit this column. Well, we're going to let her do it some time when we want to go to the "Sliding-pictures."

Some of you single fellows (that leaves you out, Bobo Goodwin, you're too much married as it is) better wise up and send her some good candy.

Note: Sometimes she gives us some of the candy she gets, so get busy.

Those Yearlings are some Basket bawlers what say?

We present a pleasing little "Ditty" entitled "Absence makes the heart grow fonder" or "One good yearn deserves another."

It must have been the Freshmen who put the "OOOO—OOH" in Razoo. How about it, Fresh?

That reminds us—Dean Merrill's the guy who put the Heck in Winslow.

We feel sort of daffadilly today, but we'll spare you any further pain.

Oh, by the way, we went down to Bangor a couple weeks ago (no, we didn't go to the Bijou, how dare you? We went to the Park) and on the way down we saw the S. A. E. MacIntyre with three girls. No we won't mention the girls' names.

Anyway as we were about to say, although it's nothing unusual to see Donald with three girls at once, it was the pastime in which they were engaged that attracted our undivided attention. The four of them were sitting there with a newspaper spread between them, and actually, they were playing cards. We don't know what they were playing but they seemed to be having a good time, so we gathered that they were playing four-handed solitaire. We thot that was good enough for a theme on Indoor Sports but our English teacher couldn't see it at all, at all. So we put it in this column. We don't care what we print.

That's a pretty open statement. You'd better send your contributions along before the Contribution box in Estabrooke hall says "S. R. O." Standing Room Only.

The're beginning to call the S. A. E. the dead house on the campus. Why? Because they have Graves over there all the time. Is that so? Yes, you can Bank on that.

You've guessed it, Graves and Banks are the names of two of the members.

No offense, S. A. E. We're just enjoying ourselves.

Gues we'll go down to the Bijou and hear some real funny stuff.

HOCKEY SQUADS MAKE INITIAL APPEARANCE

Individual Stars make Lively Game Monday

VARSITY PROSPECT

Monday, February 22nd, saw the revival of hockey as a sport at the University of Maine. Two games were played in the morning on the ice in front of the Sigma Nu house, the Seniors vs. the Sophomores and the Juniors vs. the Freshmen.

The line-up for the first game was as follows:

Seniors		Sophomores
Crispin	left wing	Dempsey
Gowen	centre	Phillips
		Harmon
Redman	right wing	Stevenson
Hamel	rover	McCabe
Gulliver	cover point	McCusker
		Beckler
Douglass	point	Hanson
Coffin	goal	Robinson

The score for this game was as follows: Seniors 2, Sophomores 0. This was the best game of the morning. Gowen's individual work was the sensation of the game and the result of the game was chiefly due to this work. In the second half McCusker showed up well for the Sophomores. The work of Coffin and Gulliver for the Seniors was also very creditable.

The line-up of the second game was as follows:

Juniors		Freshmen
Boothbay	left wing	May
Legal	right wing	Hutchins
Pierson	centre	Wunderlick
Bonney	rover	McGrath
Richardson	cover point	Hahn
Gulliver
Silva	point	Speirs
Webber	goal	Libby

The Freshmen won this game by a score of 5 to 1. From the starting whistle there was no question as to the outcome of this game. Headed by "Spin" Wunderlick and May the Freshmen won an easy victory. The only redeeming feature in the work of the Juniors was the inner defense work of Sick Silva.

Only one game was played in the afternoon. In this game the Juniors succumbed to the Sophomores by a score of 8 to 0. The Sophomores had a different aggregation than met defeat at the hands of the Seniors in the morning's battle. McCabe and Harmon were the Sophomore stars of the afternoon. The lineup was as follows:

Sophomores		Juniors
McCusker	left wing	Colbath
Harmon	centre	Bonney
Stevenson	right wing	Richardson
Hanson	rover	Legal
		Pierson
Sawyer	cover-point	Douglass
Hancock	point	Silva
Hopkins	goal	Webber

The games of Monday emphasized the fact that the hockey should be made an institution among the colleges of the state, at least as far as the University of Maine is concerned. There is no doubt but that such a move would be welcomed by all concerned. It is high time for the Maine Intercollegiate Association to take this step. Bowdoin has class hockey; Bates and Colby have excellent rinks; the University of Maine has the whole Stillwater river at its disposal. A seven could be chosen from Monday's candidates that would make a very creditable showing for any college. Here is a very good chance for the Maine Association to prove its worth in initiative in introducing new sports. The student body at the University want hockey and the Physical Director has given his unqualified approval to the project. He also states that he feels quite certain that faculty action on this question would not be adverse.

SECOND INTER-FRAT. MEET

Some Close Contests Looked Forward to for Saturday

The second of the inter-fraternity handicapped meets will be held Saturday. The meet of last week was a success, and offered many interesting events. With several added events in the schedule for Saturday, there will be more opportunity for new material to present itself. The outcome of this meet will, in all probability be slightly different than the previous one on account of certain changes. The snow-shoe race of last Saturday proved of enough interest to warrant its repetition and several teams are expected to enter. Beta Theta Pi and Phi Eta Kappa have strong teams, and will work for the points offered.

The addition of the hammer-throw means several points for Beta, as Bailey, Gulliver and Stanley are active in this branch. The forty-five yard dash for Freshmen, without handicap is a new event, the outcome of which remains to be seen.

It is possible that the lead in the race for the beautiful trophy offered by the Track Club will change hands after the meet Saturday, but certain it is that the three leading teams will offer some spirited contest. Certain ones of the events are sure to go according to "dope" it is the added events that are to change the final accounting. Each house must maintain its last week's record, or better it if the results are to take a new direction.

The loving cup which Coach Smith is to present to the fraternity winning the greatest number of points in the four meets, is being shown at the college store. It is certainly a beauty, and is a perfectly good excuse for the best efforts of every one concerned in its possession.

Following is the list of events for Saturday:

45 yard dash, handicap.
45 yard high hurdles, handicap.
15 lap race, handicap.
Half mile run, handicap.
390 yard run, handicap.
Snowshoe relay race, four men, 440 yards each.
Sack race, 1 lap
45 yard dash for fat men.
45 yard dash—scratch—for Freshmen.
Field Events
Pole vault, handicap, Gym.
16 pound shot put, handicap, Cage.
High jump, handicap, cage.
Broad jump, handicap, Cage.
Hammer throw, handicap, Cage.

Wenz has been reelected captain of Colby's Cross Country Team.

Interesting Meet Last Saturday

The second annual series of Inter-fraternity Track Meets which began last Saturday, Feb. 21, was in every way one of the most interesting events that has broken the monotony of Maine life this winter. All of the Fraternities entered the contest with the do-or-die-for-our-beloved-order idea dominating their selfish hearts and no extra courtesies were shown altho all the events were contested in the most sportsmanlike manner. Among the "real" events several feature acts were scheduled including a snowshoe relay race over a course having a 25 yard stretch of most tantalizing ice in it. Some of the competitors were so impressed with the ease and grace with which one is ble to "Trip the fantastic toe" over smooth, glaring surfaces with snowshoes on that they have petitioned the Committee on Social affairs to be allowed to wear them at the college dances. The more conventional ones however seem to believe that "if snowshoes were pumps they would never be able to dance "two-steps," so the idea has been abandoned. The 45 yard sack race came next in the line of comedies. McCusker of Theta Chi lead off with a fine idea in his head but he couldn't seem to keep the idea in his feet, for after a few hops of the Gaby Deslys type he caught the tumbling disease which he exposed to all the others.

The winners were:

Pole vault—1st Hutton, Theta Chi; 10 ft., 8 in.; 2nd Williams, S. A. E.; 3rd Richardson, Sigma Nu.

High Jump—1st Palmer, Kappa Sigma, 5 ft. 6 in.; 2nd York, A. T. O.; 3rd Head, Beta Theta Pi.

Shot Put—1st Allen, Beta Theta Pi, 40. 95 ft.; 2nd Green, D. T. D.; 3rd, Bailey, Beta Theta Pi.

45 yd. dash—1st French, Theta Chi; 2nd Rice, Kappa Sigma; 3rd Doyle, Theta Chi.

600 yards, (freshmen)—1st Wunderlick, Sigma Chi; 2nd May, Phi Eta Kappa; 3rd Moul, Phi Eta Kappa.

Sack Race—1st Hayden, Lambda Chi Alpha; 2nd Cushing, Sigma Chi; 3rd Crowell, Beta Theta Pi.

45 yd. high hurdles—1st French, Theta Chi; 2d Small, Phi Kappa Sigma; 3d Head, Beta Theta Pi.

440 yd. run—1st Totman, Phi Eta Kappa; 2d Jones, Kappa Sigma; 3d King, Theta Chi.

Fat Man's race—1st Gulliver, Beta Theta Pi; 2d Mayo; 3d Nickerson, Theta Chi.
