GREAT CROWD HERE
FOR MAINE NIGHT

Gym Filled with Students, Alumni, and Friends of Maine

HEAR FINE SPEAKERS

Every seat on the floor and all available space in the gallery of the gymnasium of Alumni hall was occupied Friday evening on the 15th annual Maine Night celebration. Many stood in the entrance to the hall while others were not able to get near the door.

The University band was on hand with its full number and played several selections during the evening. Another added feature was the presence of several members of the Glee club. At intermissions during the speaking these members of Maine's musical talent rendered vocal selections. There was any amount of cheering and enthusiasm shown throughout the meeting.

Dean James N. Hart of the University presided and seated on the stage with him were Otis C. Lawry, '16, who introduced the presiding officer in behalf of the athletic association; Charles S. Bickford of Belfast, a member of the board of trustees and a graduate in the class of '82; Prof. George Ware Stevens of the department of Economics; Michael Columbus Driscoll, '16, president of the athletic association; and Joseph McCusker, cheer leader.

Dean Hart in the opening speech took his audience back to the beginning of Maine Night celebration in October, 1891, and traced the great progress made at the University.

Dean Hart spoke at length on Maine spirit and what this spirit meant. He appealed to the student body to continue to demand that athletics be put on a still higher plane than it is on the present time. "Every university," said the speaker, "exists for one purpose, that of advancement for its students."

SPOKE FOR STUDENT BODY.

The next speaker was Michael Driscoll. In introducing this speaker Dean Hart said, "It is my very great pleasure to introduce to you as the next speaker a man who has the respect of every man in the university, a man who is at the present time, president of the Senior Skulls, president of the athletic association, the varsity pitcher, Michael Columbus Driscoll, better known as 'Mike'."

ASK FOR RECESS

Students Petition Against One Day At Thanksgiving

A petition is being circulated among the students asking for the regular Thanksgiving recess as has been granted in former years. The petitioners object to the one day idea on the ground that it will be impossible for most students to get home for the day and that the day is too sacred to be spent away from home when it would be so easy to go home were the vacation allowed as in former years. The petition is being signed by practically every student in the University. The petition follows:

To the Administrative Board of the University of Maine:

Considering the fact that the last Thursday of the eleventh month of every year was set aside many years ago as a day to be devoted to giving thanks to the Almighty for the safe deliverance of the Pilgrim fathers to the shores of this country, and that this day has ever since been recognized and celebrated by feasting and joy and the home-gathering of every family throughout the New England States, and that this day is held sacred as a day to be spent at home among ones own folks, and that all over these New England States everybody plans and looks forward to the home-gathering on Thanksgiving day, that parents look forward to and expect the home-gathering of their children; and considering the fact that the greater part of the students of the University are in opposition to go home on this day, we the undersigned, students of the University of Maine, hereby duly and respectfully petition that we be given a recess of five days, as has been the custom in former years, beginning at noon Wednesday, November 24, 1915, and ending at noon Monday, November 29, 1915.

Signed:

Lieut. Clark at Plattsburg

During the past summer Lieutenant Clark was on duty at Plattsburg, where he was at the college students' camp for five weeks, and at the business men's camp for four. Among the officers on duty at these camps were many of the ablest in the infantry service. Through association with these men, who are leaders in the world of military science, the Lieutenant is able to give his department instruction which is more up to the minute than any which is yet in book form.

WIN FROM BATES
SCORE PERFECT

Capt. "Bell" Leads Cross-country Team to Victory

MEN FINISH STRONG

The cross-country team made a fine showing against Bates in their dual race on Saturday. To have the whole Maine team finish before the Bates star, Lane came to the tape is hardly more than had been expected. The score was Maine 15 and Bates 44, this giving Maine a perfect score.

All Maine men finished strong and in good condition. Captain Bell was the first man to appear on the field, Wunderlich was second to him. In a short time Preti entered the field, followed by Dempsey, Libby, and Lane of Bates. Preti and Dempsey found their way to the tape easily. In front of the grandstand Lane passed Libby and looked as if he would finish fifth, but in the last 100 yards Libby burst forth with a volume of speed that placed him fifth and made the Maine team have a perfect score.

EXPECT HARD FIGHT

Bowdoin Will Be no Easy Opponent Saturday

One of the sport writers on the "Campus" staff has the following to say in regard to next Saturday game at Brunswick:

"To the one who thinks that the Maine-Bowdoin game next Saturday afternoon on Waitt Field, Brunswick, will be no hard fight, let it be known that Maine is Bowdoin's worst rival, and that the Brunswick players will be after the game like blood on life. Maine will not be up against any easy proposition, and the score most assuredly will not be as great as that against Colby last Saturday."

Maine thought she would win on Colby Saturday; Bowdoin thought she would triumph over the Bates eleven. Nobody else outside either of the two mentioned institutions thought that the Blue and White and the Black and

STATE MEET HERE
FRIDAY AT 3.30

Cross-country Championship Over Orono Course For First Time

Maine's Chances Are Good

The State Cross-country Run will be held on Alumni Field Friday afternoon. All classes are to be excused at three o'clock in order to give the students a chance to see the start and finish of the race. The band will be out and every student ought to be there to see the first cross-country race ever held on the Orono course.

The race starts at 3.30 sharp on the field and the finish will be also on the athletic field; thus giving everyone a good chance to see the best part of the race. On paper Maine looks to have a very strong team but it is hard to tell how the race will come out. Maine has but five good men, and should any one of these have cramps or be out of condition, some other college is apt to claim the championship.

Blanket tax tickets will admit to the field, so every student should be out to do his part to help the yet undefeated University of Maine cross-country team win another championship.

At a meeting of the Student Council in Alumni Hall last Wednesday noon, the following officers were elected for the year: President, Roger Bell; vice-president, Raymond Pendleton; secretary, Louis Kriger.

A meeting was called last Wednesday night for the purpose of organizing the Freshman Debating Team. Mr. Cranston presided. Parliamentary proceeding were adopted and temporary officers were elected. Considerable life and interest was shown. The next meeting is to be held Wednesday, November 3rd.

Women students as well as men are being attracted from out of the state to the University of Maine. This year the registration list, which numbers nearly one hundred and fifty, includes women from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Indiana and Missouri.

MAINE TEAM MUCH UNDERATED BY RIVALS

Nailing the inevitable Cawley for heavy losses, presenting a strong offense which tore through the Colby line and made large gains, with its line playing the strongest game of the season, U. of M. triumphed over Colby, Saturday afternoon on Alumni Field, and won easily, 31-6, practically clinching the state championship title. Colby did not even have a look-in and after the whistle blew to open the game, and a minute had found the Maine team down by the Colby line, those who know what it is to get the jump on a team, realized that victory was coming Maine's way and that Colby had already been defeated.

In putting a stop to any gains whatever by Eddie Cawley, Colby's phenomenal backfield man, Maine seemed to kill the spirit and dampen the possibilities of the whole Colby eleven. Colby came to Orono a three to one favorite, and her supporters as well as those outside of U. of M. thought nothing would result other than a victory for their team. What transpired during the course of four periods of hard-fought football was different.

Upwards of 4500 people witnessed the best state championship battle that was ever waged on Alumni Field. The large grandstand was filled not only with Colby supporters, neutrals, but with a mixture of fans who supported one team or the other, neither or both. Colby occupied one section with her band, and easily had more than 350 supporters with her, including her "red" aggregation. Maine marched into the field 1000 strong at 2 o'clock, behind the band, Cheer Leader Joe McCusker and "Bananas," and seated themselves on the row of bleachers opposite the grandstand. Preliminary cheers were given, and when the Colby contingent appeared on the field, a big hand was extended the rooters from away by the Maine bunch. Probably the biggest ovation ever given a Maine team was sent forth when the home eleven, led by Captain Charlie Ruffner, appeared on the field. The hollering and applauding which commenced when the team left the gymnasium lasted for fully 15 minutes while the team practiced signals before the game.

THE GAME ITSELF.

Neither team scored in the first period, although Maine had two big opportunities. Maine had received a kickoff and after an exchange of punts, had the ball down on Colby's 30 yard line, where Jones threw a perfect pass to Purington who was over the line, but Purington missed the ball and lost a chance for a score. Later in the last minute of play, Maine had the ball on the Colby two yard line, when time was called which halted hostilities for a few moments. She resumed her play and after three attempts to push the spheroid over, gave the ball to Jones who scored the first touchdown, Ruffner getting the goal. A few minutes later Colby scored when Stanwood threw a pass to E. Perry. The Colby leader missed the attempt for a goal. Colby fumbled the kickoff and Maine recovered the ball on the 37 yard line. Jones to Gorham made twenty and Daley on a forward from Jones took the ball over for the second touchdown, Ruffner kicking a goal. A few moments later Purington made up for his muff of the period before and tucked

651 HAVE PAID

Blanket Tax Committee Gives Interesting Report

Out of a student body of approximately 1057, 651 have paid the Blanket Tax. About 900 of these students are men; 556 of these men have paid. There are in the neighborhood of 157 women students, 95 of whom have paid the tax. This means that 60.5 per cent of the women have paid cash and that 61.6 per cent of the men have done the same thing. The number of men who have signed notes raises the men's percentage to 70.6 per cent. No women have as yet signed notes.

Fifty-four men and twenty-seven girls have returned their tickets. This means that there are yet 344 men and sixty-two women who have not paid the tax. In the words of the chairman of the Blanket Tax Committee who furnished these statistics, "66.4 per cent of the student body have either paid or signed notes and are alive, 8.1 per cent have returned the tickets and are for the most part dead, the remaining 24.5 per cent are asleep."

It is proposed that the class and fraternity percentages be published next as a further incentive to urge the more prompt payment of the tax.

DR. EXNER TALKS

The regular M. C. A. meeting was held Sunday afternoon, with Cecil Swett as chairman. Prayers were offered by the Rev. Thomas Whiteside and Pres. Alek. Dr. M. J. Exner, instructor in sex education of the International Y. M. C. A. Committee spoke on "The Young Man's Sex Problem." In the evening he gave another talk, which was an enlargement of the first A book which he particularly recommended for character building was Fosdick's "The Manhood of the Master." He offered to make appointments for individual talks with the students for Sunday evening and Monday morning.

The future plans of the Association have not been fully determined as yet, but it is planned to have Jeff Smith, the State Y. M. C. A. secretary, speak soon.

Miss Geneva Haley, '16, and Miss Ethel Fogg of Cornish were the guests of Misses Leola Chaplin and Fannie

STRAND, FRIDAY

Junior Masks Arrange For Big Celebration

PRIZE FOR BEST ACT

The second Maine Night of the year is to be held at the Strand Theatre, Old Town, November 5th. This festivity is to take the place of the usual mass meeting held in the gymnasium the night before a state game. The Junior Masks are responsible for this novel idea, originated to arouse "Maine spirit."

All Maine men are to be present. In all probability this meeting will have a double purpose. First, to fill everybody with that enthusiasm which will win from Bowdoin the next day; and secondly, to celebrate the winning of the state championship in cross country, if the Maine team continues in its habits of former years.

The program is to be furnished wholly by the student body. To begin with the best student band in the state will be there. Speeches will be made by the various men about college. Besides this there is going to be a regular vaudeville show, for a five dollar prize has been offered for the best act. The University Quartet is to sing and Johnnie Lucas is to give the second of his course of lectures on Prohibition. The tickets went on sale Monday, November first, and may be obtained from members of the Junior Masks.

CLUB PLANS DANCE

The regular meeting of the Massachusetts Club was held last Thursday evening in the library. H. D. Ashton, '16, acted as chairman of the meeting in the absence of President Nash. Turney, '19, was elected treasurer of the club. Plans for the annual dance were discussed and a committee was appointed to arrange for the same. The next regular meeting of the club will be held Nov. 11.

Farming as a Vocation for the Young Man is the subject on which P. W. Monahan will address the Boys Club and the Board of Trade at Belfast next Friday.

Teachers of secondary agriculture in the schools of Maine visited the Campus Saturday.

TO GIVE PLAY

Cercle Francais to Present "La Poudre Aux Yeux"

The "Cercle Francais" held an enthusiastic meeting in the club room of the library on Thursday evening. Mr. Kueney gave a synopsis of a play, "La Poudre aux Yeux," to be presented by the club later in the year. "La Poudre aux Yeux" is a comedy in two acts by Labiche and Martin. As the title suggests, the play deals with bluffing and the attempts of two families along this line in an effort to marry their respective son and daughter develop some highly amusing situations. The production promises to be highly amusing.

The cast for the play has been chosen and the following members of the club have been assigned parts: Miss Robinson '16, Curtis '16, Page '17, Miss Little '17, Miss Higgins '17, Libby '17, McIlroy '18, Ferguson '18, Miss Huskins '18, White '18, Gaudreau '19, Corning '19, Miss Denis '19, and Miss Stubbs '19.

The club now hopes to give the play in Old Town and Bangor after its presentation on the campus.

Ferguson '18, will be business manager of the company.

Prof. G. W. Stephens will lecture before the grange at Turner Center next Saturday on Rural Social Life, its Significance and Possibilities.

EDITORIALS

EDITORIALS.

We can not begin to say enough good things about the work of our team last Saturday. Perhaps the best way to express our feelings is to say that every man on the team gave the best that he had and that best was more than good enough. The Colby supporters were confident of victory. Maine men were not sure of victory but they were sure that every man would play his best game and their confidence was rewarded with a well earned and decisive victory.

True, most of the credit for winning the game should go to the team, but there were other factors which helped to win that game. Even as every man on the team was fighting, so was every man on the bleachers fighting in his way. Maine spirit was working at it's best. The team had plenty of the old fight and it's supporters were full of the same spirit. It was a clean victory won under ideal conditions.

We have won the first two games of the state series. It remains for us to win next Saturday's game in order to be the undisputed champions of the state. It is not going to be easy to win that game. It is never easy to win from Bowdoin. We must have the same fine support which so helped to win last Saturday's game. Every man in the University should be on that Special Saturday morning. We have a man's job ahead of us yet and we need all the support possible. A man who misses a special train is missing one of the big events of his college life. Plan to go.

The Maine Night Celebration was a success in most respects. The speakers were all good as was the music. The meeting did lack "pep" and enthusiasm for some reason. It was not like some Maine Nights of the past when Maine Spirit was at it's highest pitch. There must be a reason for all this because there was plenty of spirit and "Pep" at the game Saturday. Perhaps the program was too formal, perhaps there were not enough of the characteristics of an over-grown football rally or perhaps it was just the lull before the battle. Someone should find out the cause and remedy it before another Maine Night.

In another place in this paper we are printing a copy of the petition for a Thanksgiving recess such as we have enjoyed in former years. Those who framed the petition have expressed our sentiments far better than we could. Surely the value of two day's University work is not of enough importance to counterbalance the amount of unhappiness which will be caused by the breaking up of several hundred family groups on this old New England Holiday.

We were talking with a Colby man a few minutes before the game Saturday. Looking across at the Maine bleachers and listening to that Maine band he said, "With that outfit you should be able to win in a walk." We did.

VOTE TO WITHDRAW

Aggie Club not Satisfied With New England Organization

At the second meeting of the Aggie Club for this year, held in Winslow Hall, Wednesday evening, it was voted to withdraw from the New England Federation of Agricultural Clubs. The reason is that the New England Organization has outlived its usefulness to the local club. A large number listened to the speakers of the evening who were Prof. Redman, Prof. Corbett and "Prexy" Monohan, '14. Dean Merrill was also to have spoken but was unable to attend on account of a severe sore throat.

WITH THE MUSICAL CLUBS

Tryouts for the Mandolin Club were held Tuesday, Oct. 26. Some good material was found in the new men who were present. The old men are nearly all here this year, and with the new material should produce as good a club as any that have been turned out for some years. The Mandolin Club is in charge of C. M. DeWitt on account of the resignation of R. M. Moore.

It is planned to have a Banjo Club in connection with the Mandolin Club if enough good material can be found. It is hoped that a Banjo quartette, at least, can be found.

The Glee Club will be coached by Raymond Floyd this season, as Prof. Thompson is directing the Girls' Glee Club. For the first time in three years a male quartette will be included in the Musical Clubs, and this will be coached by Prof. Thompson. Arrangements have not yet been made for a soloist and a reader.

If possible, a joint concert will be held with the Girls' Glee Club in Bangor during the winter, but no plans have been made to date.

Prohibitionists Organize

The Prohibition Club held its first meeting Thursday evening in Alumni Hall. Coombs, '16, presided at the meeting. Fairchild, '16, called to the attention of those present that the latter part of last spring a club similar to this was formed. This club received a charter from the Intercollegiate Prohibition League admitting it as a chapter. It was voted to accept the constitution and by-laws of last year's club and consider themselves as members of the Intercollegiate Prohibition League. The club will hold another meeting this evening, and will elect officers.

STUDENT CHAPEL.

The second Student Chapel of this year was held last Tuesday morning in the chapel for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm before the Colby game. President Driscoll of the Athletic Association presided.

The principal speakers were Capt. Ruffner '16, Louis Kriger '16, and Driscoll '16. Driscoll gave a short introductory speech praising the work of the cheering section at the Bates game and to the cheering he attributed much of the team's success.

Capt. Ruffner said he had to take back his previous statement as to the lack of Maine spirit and emphasized the need of support, not so much for the veterans as for the new men who are "under fire" for the first time.

Kriger praised the work of the "scrubs", giving them credit for the effective game Maine played last Saturday.

The chapel closed with cheering led by McCusker '17, and the singing of the Stein Song.

PRIZES ANNOUNCED.

Announcement has been made of three prizes which have been offered for the best essays on prisons and prison labor. The prizes are: For a master's thesis, one prize of fifty dollars; for undergraduate essays, two prizes of twenty-five dollars each. These prizes are offered by Adolph Lewison, president of the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor.

INFORMAL DANCES.

The first of a series of informal dances was held in the Gym. Friday evening, Oct. 15th. The music was furnished by University talent and the evening was enjoyed by a large number of students. It is planned to hold similar dances every Friday evening, in an endeavor to create a more social atmosphere about the Campus. The first dance was very successful, and it is believed that many of the students will support the dances in the future.

CHEMISTS ORGANIZE

Major Students in Pulp and Paper Form Society

The object of the Pulp and Paper Society of the University of Maine is to unite those students pursuing the Pulp and Paper course into an organization, through which their knowledge of the subject will be increased by discussions of technical problems, lectures, and inspection trips.

The officers of the society are: President, R. W. Fannon, '16; vice-president, G. E. Fox, '17; secretary, K. M. Currier, '16; treasurer, R. Harding, '17; sergeant at arms, C. E. Libby, '16. The members of the society are: Dr. R. H. McKee, W. J. Connelly, A. G. Durgin, V. L. Boomer, J. N. Stephenson, L. E. Preble, L. M. Burghart, C. E. Fox, E. I. Clapp, R. H. Harding, E. J. Turner, C. K. Lane, T. E. Kloss, A. D. St. Marie, M. Newton, C. E. Mullen, J. S. Ridley, G. E. Muncher, S. T. Webster, W. B. Beckler, G. S. Longley, Jr., K. M. Currier, C. E. Libby, R. W. Fannon, A. D. Conley, R. B. Hill.

Membership is optional with major students in pulp and paper chemistry.

MAINE NIGHTS PAST.

There has been some discussion of late in regard to the evenings on which Maine Night has been observed, so the following facts may be of interest:

Maine Night was first observed Friday, Oct. 18, 1901, the evening before the Bates game, the last home game of the season. The idea of such a celebration was made to the executive committee of the Athletic Association by Professor O. F. Lewis, one of the faculty members of the committee, and the arrangements were made for the association by a committee appointed for that purpose. The next year it was observed the evening before the Bowdoin game, the last home game of the season, and it has been celebrated on the corresponding evening each year since, with the exception of 1903 and 1907, when it was observed the evening before the first of the home championship games, and in 1911 when it was held the evening before the Bowdoin game, which that year was played in Brunswick.

Last year the Boston Alumni Association celebrated the same evening, and at the meeting of the Alumni Association held last Commencement the association voted to endorse the idea of a universal Maine Night, and recommended that gatherings of Maine men be held on the same evening wherever possible.

This year the Boston and New York Associations celebrated. Gatherings were arranged also in Schenectady, N. Y., Providence, R. I., Camden, Maine, and possibly in other places.

W. E. Farnum, instructor in Mechanical Drawing, has just returned from a trip to Portland, Lewiston, Augusta, Brunswick and Waterville, in the interest of engineering extension work.

Changes Incentive to Better Work in Military

The progress of the work and instruction in the department of military science and tactics has been much greater this year than it was last. This fact is very evidently the result of the action taken last spring by the present Sophomore class, which voted that it would give this department its best support. At present there are 180 Sophomores in the battalion, 90 of whom are non-commissioned officers. There are also 17 Juniors and 12 Seniors taking the course, this being the first time in years that there have been more than enough Seniors to fill all of the positions of captains.

Another factor which is a great benefit to the department is that a number of the cadets, commissioned and non-commissioned officers attended the officers' school at Augusta this summer.

Instead of having two sections in indoor drill, and three companies in each section, there will be three sections, and only two companies in each. In this way it has been possible to make arrangements so that every individual will get the full time of instruction. This has been made possible by our obtaining from the War Department, 36 sets of fencing equipment, including plastrons, masks, gauntlets, and fencing muskets. The plan is to have one company of each section have its indoor drill at the regular time, while the Sophomores of the other will be given the opportunity to practice fencing, in the baseball cage, the remainder of the company having target practice in the gallery.

The theoretical work of the Freshmen and Sophomores in the course Mt. 3 is in part the infantry drill regulations, and therefore the examination at the end of the semester will in part, cover the actual drill orders and commands now being used.

MAINE NIGHT

The ovation which Driscoll was given was so great that it was several minutes before he could begin his address. Driscoll represented the student in a very capable manner and spoke chiefly on the real significance of the statement made by the speaker that Maine was no place for a loafer, he referred his listeners to the employment office. He spoke of the great benefits of the chapel services which have been the topic of discussion for the past few weeks and of how it is the only opportunity of students getting together every day, thus bringing out the need of a great Union building.

Charles S. Bickford was the next speaker. Mr. Bickford was a graduate of the class of '82 and is at present a member of the Board of Trustees at the university. He spoke on the relation of the University to the State and to the people of the State. Professor George Ware Stephens of the Department of Economics was the last speaker of the evening. Professor Stephens gave a very interesting address on the nature and reasons of a Maine Night celebration. Telegrams were then read from various alumni organizations.

At the close of the meeting the student body marched on to the Athletic field for a celebration around the bonfire. The Maine cheers were all given and the Colby game was the topic of each speaker. Among those who spoke were Paul Murray, Paul Monahan, '14, Norman Donahue, '15, Charles Kavanaugh, '12, B. H. Bigelow, '14, Bill Wark, '15, of last year's team. The celebration came to a close with the singing of the Stein Song.

White charges had a ghost of a show against the Blue and Gray and the Garnet respectively. From an outstander's viewpoint, both Maine and Bowdoin came through with surprises.

Bowdoin's showing over Bates gave forth the fact that the team has improved since the Colby game, and that she will be out to try and keep the Maine team from appropriating that championship which she justly owns. Two years ago Maine and Bowdoin were to meet at Brunswick, after Maine had won from Colby and Bates and needed but the Bowdoin game to get the championship. Maine won after four periods of hard fight in which the undeniable Bowdoin spirit predominated all the time, and it was only on a fumble near the goal line of a punt, and a dropkick that gave Maine the victory, 10-0.

Maine should win but will have no easy opponents in the charges coached by Tommie Campbell.

COLBY-MAINE Game

the pigskin under his arm, romped over for six points, Ruffner swelling the growing total to 21. A drop kick goal by Ruffner in the third period from the thirty yard line, and a touchdown in the fourth by Purington, and another goal by Ruffner gave Maine a total of 31 against six for her opponents.

Captain Ruffner characterized his last game against Colby by putting up his best game of the season, as did Daley, Gorham, Jones and the ends.
The line fought hard all the time, and made the holes through which the Maine backs were able to gain so heavily.

The game by play:

FIRST QUARTER.

Maine started in receiving a kick.
Failing to gain, Ruffner punted and after an exchange of plays, Cawley gaining but few yards, Stanwood punted outside on Maine's 45 yard line.

Jones gained 15, and then threw to Purington, who missed the ball on the goal line. Colby rushed to Maine's 45 yard line where latter held, and got the ball on downs. Gaining eight yards in three rushes, Ruffner punted over line.
After attempting three forward passes, Colby gave ball to Maine on 30. Jones made 18 through center. Colby was penalized five for offside playing. Jones made five, taking the ball to the two yard line. Time ended here.

SECOND QUARTER.

Time was called, and a Maine substitute rushed on field, giving Maine 12 men. After debating, officials decided to give Maine extra down. Both sides were offside and Maine got first down.
Jones took the ball over for first touchdown and Ruffner kicked the goal.
Ruffner took the kickoff and was downed on the 20. Ruffner made 30 yards around right end, Gorham and McLinton lost two yards each and Ruffner punted to Hendricks on Colby's 30.
Maine was penalized for holding. Stan-wood threw a forward to E. Perry who ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Stan-wood failed to kick a goal. Exchange of kicks saw Hendricks fumbling and Hussey recovering on Colby's 36 yard line. Jones and Gorham made 20, and Jones to Daley gave Maine a touchdown, Ruffner kicking goal. Maine, 14;
Colby, 6.

Purington kicked off to Deasey on Colby's 30 yard line. Stanwood threw a forward, Daley intercepting and taking ball to Colby's 26 yard line. Ruffner made 8, Jones 15. Maine was penalized 15 yards for holding. Jones to Beverly, provided an incomplete forward pass, followed by Purington receiving forward pass for touchdown. Ruffner kicked the goal. Maine, 21;
Colby, 6.

THIRD QUARTER.

Colby was late on the field, and the ball was given Maine on Colby's 40 yard line. Maine rushed to the one-yard line where she was penalized for holding. An incomplete forward pass and a fake placement play by Jones which failed, gave Colby the ball on her five yard line. Cawley punted to Daley on Colby's 37 yard line. Jones made five and Gorham two. Ruffner kicked a drop goal from the 30 yard line. Colby at beginning of play was penalized 30 yards, half distance to the goal line for dirty work, and O'Brien went out of the game. Kirke made 12, then three and a pass, Daley to Jones, lost two yards. Gorham kicked outside on Colby's 15 yard line. Cawley lost four and punted to Higgins on Maine's 45, where time was called. It was so dark that the players could hardly be recognized and some discussion among the officials and captains was held in regard to calling the game.

FOURTH QUARTER.

However, play was resumed on Maine's 45 yard line, Gorham making seven, Kirk 5, Ruffner none and Higgins none. Gorham punted to Cawley on the three yard line. Cawley made his only long run of the game going 20 yards before being downed by Higgins.
Cawley punted to Maine's 45 yard line to Higgins. Kriger made two, Kirk five and Gorham punted to Cawley on Colby's 35 yard line. Cawley attempted a forward which was incomplete.
Cawley made five and then lost. Selby rushed to midfield where Maine held, receiving ball on downs. Maine marched to the 40 yard line in darkness. Kriger made five, Kirk six.
With the ball just a speck in the air, Kriger threw a forward pass of 25 to Purington who scored Maine's final touchdown, Ruffner kicking the goal.
The game was called off by agreement owing to the darkness which made playing impossible.
