MAINE ANNEXES CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP

Strong, Well Balanced Team Responsible For Four Places

BELL INDIVIDUAL WINNER

Once more the undefeated Maine cross country team carried away the honors in the State championship run last Friday. Capt. Bell of Maine finished an easy first. Bates showed up much better than in the dual race of the week before, and secured second place. Bowdoin and Colby were unable to do any better than tie for third place.

At the crack of the gun, Dempsey of Maine, closely followed by the whole Maine team, took the lead across the field. "Hi" Lane did the same for Bates. For the first three miles the Maine team in a bunch led the race. However at the last end of the race Lane, Gregory, and Doe of Bates and Thompson of Colby forged ahead, and split up the Maine delegation.

During the first four miles of the course Bell and Preti were running shoulder to shoulder. Shortly after the runners passed Spaulding's corner, Preti was taken with a cramp, and had to drop back a little. Capt. Bell of Maine was the first runner to reenter Alumni Field. He was followed at a short distance by Preti in company with Dempsey and Wanderlich. The visitor to come through the gate was Lane of Bates. He was followed by Gregory and Doe of Bates for sixth and seventh places, respectively. Capt. Mark Thompson ran his usual strong race and was the eighth man to finish. Hysom was the last man to score for Maine, coming in ninth, after a sharp contest with the Bates men for the lead.

Turner for Bowdoin, who was looked to finish among the leaders, had to drop back after the first two miles. He finally collapsed at the three and a half mile mark. He was carried to a nearby house until he recovered sufficiently to be brought back to college. The race was run over a wet and muddy course, and proved to be a hard test on the endurance of most of the contestants. Due to this poor condition of the course the time, thirty-two minutes flat, made by Capt. Bell, was very good.

The officials were: Starter, R. J. Aley; clerk of course, I. C. McDonald; assistants, Charles Jortberg, J. H. Gray, S. Dunham, J. H. Magee and Roy Somers; scorers, W. E. Nash, M. I. Hill, W. B. Littlefield; timers, E. R. Wingard, H. B. Buck, Prof. William Barrows; inspectors, O. C. Lawry, W. W. Webber, L. O. Barrows, G. C. Palmer, C. A. Rice, J. A. Donegan, P. A. Chadburn, T. E. Philbrook, J. A. Gannett, R. Richardson, B. Barritt, J. L. Whittier; judges of finish, Dean Merrill, Maine; M. L. Gould, Bowdoin; Prof. G. Parmenter, Colby; L. E. Pomeroy, Bates.

The summary, including only the first five men on each team to finish:

1 Bell, Maine	32.00

MAINE TAKES FINAL GAME FROM BOWDOIN

Coach Hughitt's Men Excel in Open Game; Punt Well and Bring Championship to Maine

The superiority in the passing and open game won the decisive battle of the Maine intercollegiate football series at Brunswick Saturday and the University team, after having lost the championship one year came out victors again, crumpling the Bowdoin Bear by a 23-13 defeat.

Jones and Daley, together with the two ends, worked the lateral and forward passes to fine advantage, and by this method Maine made approximately 112 yards on six passes. Five Maine forwards went incomplete, while another was intercepted by a Bowdoin man. Bowdoin worked nary a pass, three of which attempts were intercepted by Maine players, and one of which went incomplete. In punting Maine kicked the ball about 296 yards to Bowdoin's 298, the former carrying the ball about 318 yards, and Bowdoin past 299 thirty-six inch marks. Maine received penalties amounting to 35 yards receiving setbacks, three times from the officials, while Bowdoin lost but 10 yards on this method of retreat.

While Jones was not at his best Saturday he played a wonderful game as did Daley, and the two ends who figured together with Ruffner prominently in the victory. The backs fought hard to gain ground and when the line was weakening in the end of the first half, took the brunt of the defense work on its hands. Purington and Beverly made nice work with the long spirals of Jones and Daley's end sweeps were of the best order.

While Bowdoin lost, she put up probably the gamest exhibition of fight and comeback spirit witnessed in a Maine game for some time, when she started a tremendous drive in the second quarter which took Maine right off her feet. One man, "Peg" Stuart, Bowdoin's backfield man, who went in at the beginning of the third period stood out prominently in the scoring of the Black and White, as it was he who in the fourth quarter intercepted Jones' forward and tore down the side of the field to within two yards of the goal line shaking off two tacklers and finally being nailed by Higgins. Again in the same period he tackled Higgins who was attempting to circle Bowdoin's left end, the Maine quarterback dropping the ball, and Stuart again was on the job carrying the ball over 50 yards to Bowdoin's second score. He played a heady game and deserves much praise for his ability to follow the ball.

The whole Bowdoin team fought hard and died game. The battle was characterized by clean playing on both sides, and the injuries, which were numerous for Bowdoin, came only as accidents and not as unfair methods. The field was crowded with spectators and automobiles, the Maine crowd filling the bleachers on the eastern side of the field, while Bowdoin occupied the western section. The remaining space was filled in with bystanders and the machines of mixed fans. The cheering was of high order and the bands were out for rivalry. It was an ideal day for football and brought home to Orono a fine championship which must speak well of the fine work of Coach Tommy Hughitt, to whom every Maine man salutes, hail!

The detail play of the game was:

FIRST PERIOD.
The game opened with Bowdoin defending the west goal. Purington of Maine kicked off, the ball being recovered by Wood on the 30 yard line. Foster made five yards and then three through the line, but Peacock failed to gain and Leadbetter was forced to punt, the ball going to Maine's 25 yard line.

Jones made six yards through right wing and Daley two around left end. At this point Wood of Bowdoin was laid out, and was carried from the field unconscious, Beal going in in his place. Jones attempted an end run but was crowded off side and Ruffner was forced to punt.

Phillips got the ball on Bowdoin's 36 yard line, recovering his own fumble. Peacock failed to gain through the line, and Leadbetter on a tackle round play lost four yards. Leadbetter punted 40 yards to Daley, who was tackled on Maine's 28 yard line without making any gain.

Ruffner was held for no gain on a line play. Jones went through left wing for four yards. Ruffner punted 30 yards to Bowdoin's 38 yard line.

Phillips taking the punt.

Peacock made six and then two yards through the line, and Phillips followed up with another yard, but on the fourth down Phillips failed to make, by a fraction of a yard, first down and the ball went to Maine on Bowdoin's 48 yard line.

MAINE'S FIRST SCORE.

Daley made five and Jones five for first down. Then Maine for the first time uncovered the wing shift play, Daley passing to Jones, who went 11 yards for another first down. The ball was on Bowdoin's 27 yard line, Bartlett was laid out and was assisted from the field on the arms of his teammates, Pettigill taking his place. On another shift play to the left, Jones was tackled by Leadbetter for no gain. Gorham made three, but Ruffner failed to gain. With the ball on the eight yard line, a forward pass, Jones to Beverly, brought the first touchdown. The kickoff was broken up by Bowdoin, and Maine didn't get a chance to kick the goal.

Phillips kicked off to the 25 yard line, Hussey carrying it back eight yards. Gorham made five around left end, tackled by Leadbetter. Jones made three through the line. Jones fumbled, but Allen recovered on Maine's 35 yard line. Ruffner punted 25 yards, and Phillips ran it back four to Bowdoin's 44 yard line.

Peacock made nine and then two for first down. A Bowdoin fumble was recovered by Phillips, but with a loss of six yards. Then a forward pass from Phillips was intercepted by Gorham and Maine had the ball on her 34 yard line.

Ruffner made two, Reardon five and Jones one. Ruffner punted and Phillips made a fair catch on Bowdoin's 33 yard line. Peacock made four, Foster failed to gain, and the period ended with the ball in Bowdoin's possession on her own 37 yard line.

SECOND PERIOD.

At the opening of the period a poor pass was recovered by Leadbetter, with a loss of six yards. Leadbetter punted 31 yards to Jones on Maine's 38 yard line, and Jones broke through the Bow-

Football Honors to be Contested This Saturday

About twenty Sophomores and as many Freshmen are now practising every night, getting in trim for the Sophomore-Freshman football game, which takes place next Saturday while the Varsity is playing the Army. The men who look good to start the game for the Sophomores are: Hall, Small, Stott, Brugge, Pomeroy, Niles and Libby in the line, and the backs will probably be Hutchins, Holden, Louis and O'Brien. For the Freshmen Sturgis, Marsh, King, Wiggin, Jones, Faulkingham and Holston are probably candidates for the line. There are a variety of backfield men including Cowen, Baldwin, Dow, Ranger and Lawrence, and it is not yet known who will be picked to start the game.

Freshmen Elect Debating Officers

The Freshman Debating Club held its second meeting last Wednesday evening in 1 Estabrooke. A constitution and by-laws were adopted. The following officers were elected: President, J. E. Goodwin; vice president, A. J. Farnham; secretary and treasurer, P. B. Crocker; executive committee, Frank Altman and M. T. Drisko.

Secretary Cranston of the M. C. A. has been helping the men. The first preliminary debate will take place in about three weeks. The subject is, "Resolved, that the University of Maine should not be a co-educational institution."

The meetings are held each Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in 1 Estabrooke. All freshmen who wish to join are invited to hand their names to one of the officers.

Celebrate Championship In Portland

Parade with Camels and Coffins of Defeated Colleges

RESERVE KEITHS' THEATRE

Headed by the University Band, and Joe McCusker leading Bananas, about 800 enthusiastic students, waving red fire and renting the air with their victorious cheers, began their grand march through the city of Portland at 6 o'clock Saturday night, to celebrate the winning of the State football championship. It was a sight never to be forgotten by the participants or by those who watched the procession. The streets were lined with people all the way from the Union Station to Monument Square; and at that place, several thousand people had gathered to welcome the victorious army.

The parade in the order of march included, a platoon of police, Joe McCusker and Bananas, the University Band, about a dozen camels and horses from the "Garden of Allah Company," twelve pall bearers carrying three coffins representing the remains of the three defeated colleges, Bates, Colby and Bowdoin, old "Bolivar," the old-time white elephant resurrected for the occasion, bearing the words "University of Maine" on his side, and last, but by no means least, the huge delegation of excited but weary students.

At Monument Square the people of Portland got a good sample of Maine spirit. The Soldiers' Monument was decorated with the blue and white banners of Maine and the monument was entirely surrounded by the students and the vast throngs that had gathered there to welcome the students. Joe McCusker in his light blue shirt and hat and white flannel pants, climbed high on the monument and led the

Wingard Saves "Bananas's" Life

But for the timely appearance of Prof. E. R. Wingard one day last week, "Bananas," our mascot, might have been lost to us. The bear had climbed into a tree and over a limb, then down until he was hanging by his chain in such a way that he could not get hold of the tree again. Fortunately Prof. Wingard was just coming from the football field and saw "Bananas" hanging. When the bear was finally upon the ground again he was very weak and unable to stand.

Near Riot In Waterville On Saturday

Maine Men Recover Banners Pulled off Cars by Colby Students

YARDMASTER VIGUE HURT

Practically without precedent in the history of college affairs in this State was the near-riot which occurred between students of the University of Maine and Colby College at Waterville on Saturday morning as the Maine special was on its way to Brunswick.

The train consisting of eleven coaches and a baggage car, stopped in Waterville for a few minutes and the greater part of the students left the train to hear the band give a selection. After this, Cheer Leader McCusker called for a cheer for Colby which was enthusiastically given and then for one for Maine. The train then started on its way and had only gone a few rods when some of the Maine boys discovered that some Colby students were pulling several of the long banners from the sides of the cars. The emergency brake was immediately set by one of the quick-minded boys and the train had not come to a full stop before a mob of the up-State collegians were in close pursuit of the intruders from Colby. They succeeded in recovering the stolen banners, having to enter a fraternity house after one, and boarded the train again.

Not having proceeded any distance, the train was again brought to a stop and on inquiry, it was found that one of Maine's Cross-Country men was being held in the Colby chapel. Many of his fellow-students hurried to his assistance and with the intervention of some police, he was soon released. Meanwhile one of the Colby offenders had been captured and put on board the Maine special and when it was found that the Maine man had been released by Colby, their man was given over in exchange. The presence of police prevented further trouble on either side and the Maine men started in pursuit of the special which they left below the crossing. Only those who were in the crowd can express their consternation at finding that the train was well on its way to Brunswick. About twenty of them had managed to catch the regular which was following the special, at Winslow, but the remainder, about one hundred and fifty, were obliged to wait for the next train, which did not leave until 12.15.

The stranded men did not arrive at Whittier Field at Brunswick until the first half of the game was nearly over and Maine had scored a touchdown. Cheer Leader McCusker headed the late arrivals onto the field and they were received with a befitting ovation. Maine spirit revived wonderfully after this, and nobody doubted that the Portland celebration would honor a championship.

The only real calamity that occurred during the squabble at Waterville was the injury received by Yardmaster Vigue when he was hit on the head by a brick and received a broken ankle as the result of trying to prevent Colby men from boarding the Maine special as it lay on the College Avenue crossing. Action was taken by President Roberts of Colby to prevent the matter from going farther on Colby's side and wise heads among Maine men kept the student body from leaving the train when it returned through Waterville at night.

Track Club to Give Dance, Dec. 3

The University of Maine Track Club is making plans for its first fall dancing party, which it plans to hold on Friday evening, Dec. 3. A committee, consisting of W. B. Haskell, J. C. A. Rice are already making plans for the affair. Last year's dance, which was put off by the club, proved an attractive one. It is planned to have similar winter.

EDITORIALS

The past week has been one of great victories. Two State championships in as many days is a record not often made. We feel justly proud of the work of our teams. They have worked hard and won clean victories. We believe that they could have lost with the same good sportsmanship.

The football team started the season with very poor prospects indeed. There were but few veterans as a nucleus upon which to build a team. Captain Ruffner and the coaches were faced with the problem of developing a practically new team. The first few games were not encouraging, but as the State series drew near, the team began to get into form and the improvement has been steady. To the coaches and to the players who have worked hard and consistently, is due by far the greater part of the credit for coming through the season as they have. However the work of these men has been greatly helped by the loyal support given by the general student body.

The cross country team started its season well by capturing the State title. The showing of the new men in this branch is also encouraging and we look for this team to bring home greater honors in the near future.

Of course there are men in the Waterville institution just as there are in every other, but they have been remarkably quiet the past few days. Another element, who are anything but men, seem to have been running things for the school of late. While we are willing to admit that the insults to the University of Maine came, perhaps, from a few individuals for whom we have nothing but contempt, we wonder what the responsible element is going to do about it.

In the first place a lot of dirty contemptible lies were published in one of the Portland papers and were written by a correspondent of that paper at the Waterville school. Maine was accused of knowing her opponents signals. It was an open and public insult. The man who wrote it was lying and he knows that he was lying. Most of the papers of the State have said as much. So much for insult number one.

Then everyone is familiar with the treatment which we received at Waterville on our way to Bowdoin. A bunch of unthinking individuals started something and it is a wonder that they got as far as they did. The Maine men acted clearly within their rights and we are proud of the men who stayed behind to defend those rights. The gentlemanly spirit of our men was shown when not a man left the train on the return trip. This is insult number two.

We are willing to believe that both these insults came from irresponsible parties, but every one will not be as charitable. It seems that an apology is due and a public apology at that. If the thinking portion of the Waterville student-body have any desire to square the wrong done and to regain the respect of the people of the State and University of Maine they will cause to be published a disavowal of the above mentioned acts and an apology which is the least which can be expected of any man or group of men when they know that they are in the wrong. Then we can recognize them as men and "forgive and forget."

"The Army next" is the slogan about the campus these days and it should be so. Spirit should not die out after a State series. We should look for bigger honors. The "Campus" would like to see such games as those with Yale and Dartmouth come later in the season. A game with such a team as Dartmouth, to be played in Portland after the State series, should prove a big drawing card and be a lot more satisfactory to both institutions than the present scheme of an early season game.

That Portland celebration was a grand success in every way. The people of that city did all that they could to make us welcome and we were more than glad to be there. From every point of view it was the best thing in celebrations which we ever staged. Those who said it could not be done were away off. The success of the whole trip is due in large measure to the hard work of those in charge as well as to the hearty co-operation of the student body. President Driscoll of the Athletic Association, Cheer Leader McCusker and I. C. Macdonald, '16, are the men who did most to make the celebration possible.

Co-operation Valuable

Prof. Redman Tells Aggies of Other Benefits

The regular meeting of the Agricultural Club last Wednesday evening was well attended and proved of much interest. The general disappointment occasioned by the necessary absence of Dean Merrill was more than offset by the well-directed and convincing words of the other speakers.

Prof. R. W. Redman took as his subject, "The Relation of the Agricultural Club to the Student," dealing particularly with the three great advantages which the club has to offer, the social, the educational and the commercial. "The opportunity," said Prof. Redman, "which this club offers to get next to the other fellow to exchange ideas, and to express your own ideas is of inestimable value; for not only does it give the social and the educational advantages, but also the commercial advantage or power to earn money, which almost invariably grows out of the other two." Especially did Prof. Redman emphasize the value of a training in public speaking which the student can obtain right here in these club meetings. He said in part:

"Ability to speak in public has much to do with the success of the man trained in agriculture and with the time required for him to rise to a position of responsibility. Leadership requires the power to express agricultural knowledge as much as it demands that knowledge itself. "The student in class who says, 'I know what it is, but I cannot tell,' receives a low mark, but that rank will not compare with the low mark given to a similar reply in the work after graduation.

"College training in public speaking develops poise, ability to think quickly, and helps one to present matters logically, clearly, and convincingly.

"July first, half a million dollars became available to pay the salaries of new men in agricultural extension work in the United States. Next July, at least another million dollars will be ready to pay additional men, and this amount is likely to be increased gradually for several years. In considering candidates for this work, the first inquiry is, 'Can you express what you know?' There are many other requirements, but successful applicants must have the ability to speak in public.

"No matter which way the agricultural graduate turns, his success will be greater, his work more profitable, and his life more enjoyable if he has the ability to speak in public. Then we can ably take the responsibility of leadership which the community asks of the trained man."

Following Prof. Redman's talk, "Prexy" Monohon was introduced, and spoke briefly on "The Relation of the Agricultural Club to the Faculty." "The Agricultural club," said Mr. Monohon, "is representative of the student body, and, as the closest relationship should exist between student and instructor, so the Agricultural club should be closely associated with the faculty."

At the business meeting which followed the speaking, it was unanimously voted to withdraw from the New England Federation of Agricultural Colleges.

BOWDOIN SPECIAL UNIQUE IN HISTORY

Largest Crowd Have Exciting Time at Waterville and Portland

The Bowdoin special left Orono at 6:20 Saturday morning with the largest number of students from Maine that has ever made a trip with a Maine athletic team. The trip was a memorable one and was full of excitement from the time the train left Orono until it had passed Waterville on the return home. The attitude of the Colby students toward the Maine special made the excitement of the trip unsurpassed in the history of Maine colleges.

The special left Bangor, where several selections of the band were played on the station platform, at 6:45. Everything was running smoothly and the train of 12 cars and the big baggage car reached Waterville. The band played on the platform at Waterville and cheers were given for Colby and then for Maine. The students and band returned to the train and were just pulling out of the station when several students were seen running across the campus with the large banners that decorated the Maine special, bearing the inscriptions, On to Brunswick, Portland, and The Army Next. Indignant at this unsportsmanlike treatment at the hands of Colby students, after they had cheered them and showed them all possible courtesy, the Maine men stopped the train and ran in pursuit of the men who had stolen the banners. A general riot was fortunately prevented, but it was several minutes before the train was able to continue and even then about 200 Maine men were left behind only to arrive at Brunswick late for the game.

After the game the train went to Portland where the greatest celebration ever held by a college in this State took place. At Portland telegrams were received saying that the Colby students would be waiting for the Maine special at Waterville and would try to steal "Bananas," the bear mascot who has stayed with the team during a victorious season. This kept things moving on the way back and very few people on the special were too tired to talk about the things that were going to happen at Waterville. The Maine students did not leave the train at Waterville, nor did the Colby students put in an appearance at the station. It was reported that they were gathered in the gymnasium. The train finished its trip to Orono without further excitement.

The track club furnished the "eats" on the trip and the big baggage car that was loaded with eatables was well patronized during the trip.

MAINE NIGHT IN AKRON, OHIO.

A jolly party of University of Maine alumni met Friday evening in Akron, Ohio, to celebrate Maine night. Though far from the scene of the students' Maine night celebration, the Akron party made up in spirit and loyalty what it lacked in numbers. The evening was begun with a clinic at the University Club House, followed by a theatre party. Those in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Emerson P. Lamb '07, Mr. and Mrs. H. Perry Bailey '15, Mr. James G. Seales '11, Albert F. Hutchins '15, and Ross Varney '15.

Other active alumni associations "from Maine to California," turned their thoughts toward their alma mater at this time, and met to fitly observe Maine night; to see to it that "Maine spirit" should manifest itself fully wherever Maine men meet.

In addition to the Akron celebration, the following cities were scenes of similar festivities: Camden, Me.; Boston; New York City; Schenectady, N. Y.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Chicago; San Francisco, Calif., and Bath, Maine.

The Triangular Debates between Tufts, Bates and Clark will be continued this year.

All graduates of approved New Hampshire high schools and academies are now admitted without examination to New Hampshire State College. This was the result of a recent faculty meeting and should materially increase the membership of the college.

CELEBRATION AT STRAND.

Led by Cheer Leader "Joe Mac," Maine men made Old Town the scene of another celebration last Friday night. Forming a procession at the top of the hill just outside the business district, about seven hundred students marched through the city, burning red fire, cheering and singing the Maine songs. About eighty-three the procession broke up and all went to the "Strand" where a special amateur performance had been arranged.

The University Quartet: Linwood Pitman, Dick Whittier, Joseph Aloysius McCusker and "Newt" Thompson answered to repeated encores, while the White-Haines assembly of banjo and piano artists were repeatedly called back.

Joseph McCusker completed the amateur programme with a selection from the opera "Seven Buckets of Blood," and with cheers for the two championship teams, and for everybody and everything within reach of Joe's imagination. The crowd dispersed early that no one might be late for the next morning's trip.

"COMMITTEE OF 21"

A "Committee of 21" was appointed from the students of the College of Arts and Sciences at a recent meeting held at the home of Dean Stevens. The object of the committee is to look after and improve student life in that college. Sub committees were appointed to frame a constitution and prepare a college yell.

A. F. Sherman, '16, was elected president; —, vice president; Dorothy Thompson, secretary; A. F. Kaulfuss '18, treasurer; Ruth Brown, assistant treasurer.

The "Committee of 21" is composed of nine seniors, six juniors, four sophomores and two freshmen as follows: A. F. Sherman '16, T. D. Bonney '16, B. E. Barret '16, M. C. Driscoll '16, Zella Colvin '16, Marie Foster '16, Earl Merrill '16, Fred Curtis '16, Dorothy Thompson '16, Ruth Brown '17, Edith Ingraham '17, Fred D. Crowell '17, J. A. McCusker '17, N. D. Godfrey '17, F. O. Stephens '17, Helen Stinchfield '18, Mona McWilliams '18, A. F. Kaulfuss '18, C. D. McIlroy '18, N. E. Torrey '19, and Joyce Cheney '19.

PROF. THOMPSON'S ORGAN RECITAL

Gives Recital in All Soul's Church Bangor, Sunday Afternoon

Professor Garrett W. Thompson, of the German Department, will give a complimentary organ recital at All Souls Church, Bangor, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Prof. Thompson's ability as an organist is well known to the Faculty and the older students, none of whom will be expected to miss this opportunity of hearing him. For the benefit of the new students and others who are not familiar with the quality of Professor Thompson's playing, it should be said that they are missing something very much worth while if they fail to attend this recital. Special cars will leave the campus at 3:10 and Bangor at 5:00.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its weekly meeting at Mt. Vernon House Thursday evening. The delegates to the Silver Bay convention finished the report, which was begun last time, of the meeting there.

Muriel De Beck told of the religious side of the convention—the courses in Bible study and mission study. Dr. Jefferson of New York gave a series of talks which heard by the entire delegation of six hundred girls.

Ruth March told of the social side of the convention. Every afternoon was free for the girls to devote to tennis, basketball, baseball, walking, rowing, or swimming. One afternoon was set aside for water sports, and a tennis tournament was held. Launch parties were made up to visit Ft. Ticonderoga and other places of interest, and many of the girls climbed Sunrise Mountain before breakfast. Recreation and work were thus combined during the entire convention.

This finished the report of the Silver Bay Conference.

SOUTHARD-PEMBERTON.

Frank E. Southard, '19, was married on Oct. 19 to Miss Edith Mae Pemberton of Lewiston at Trinity church, Lewiston. Mr. Southard was graduated from the University in 1916 when he received his A. B. He then went to the Maine College of Law where he was graduated with honors. He was prominent in student activities and is a member of Kappa Sigma and Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity. He now has a law office in Augusta.

Mrs. Southard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pemberton of Lewiston and is a graduate of Bates College, in the class of 1911. Mr. and Mrs. Southard will be at home at 282 State street, Augusta, after January 1.

The Bowdoin-Tufts game at Portland Saturday should prove exceedingly interesting. Both colleges will have large delegations from the student bodies, and the bands will be present.

The movement to abandon the custom of serving beer at university functions is hailed with approval by the student body at Princeton. President Hibbon realizes the effect of public sentiment in this matter and is working hard to forward the movement.

MAINE'S SECOND TOUCHDOWN.

Ruffner made four. Maine was penalized five yards for offside play. Peacock was laid out and replaced by Stuart. Bowdoin was penalized five yards. Daley went six yards around right end. On a shift play, Daley passed the ball to Jones, who went 17 yards around the left side to the one yard line. In another shift play, Jones was downed for a loss. Ruffner made a yard through center putting the ball on Bowdoin's two yard line. Chase was laid out. On the next down Jones carried the ball across the line around left end. Ruffner kicked the goal.

Phillips kicked off, Jones carrying the ball back 20 yards to Maine's 30 yard line. Ruffner kicked to Phillips on Bowdoin's 43 yard line. A forward pass from Foster was intercepted by Gorham on Maine's 43 yard line.

Reardon did not gain, Daley on a shift play went around left end for 17 yards. Gorham made three, and a 28 yard pass from Jones to Beverly put the ball on Bowdoin's 10 yard line. Gorham made three, and then Maine was set back with a 15 yard penalty. On a fake kick Daley tried to go around left end but made no gain. Ruffner also failed to gain, and the ball was on Bowdoin's 28 yard line, when an attempted pass failed and rolled over the line.

Stuart made a yard, and Nevens, who had replaced Foster, made five around left end. Nevens punted 29 yards to Maine's 40 yard line.

Krieger went in for Jones and made three yards. Daley went around left end to Bowdoin's 15 yard line, but the gain didn't count, as Maine was again penalized 15 yards. Ruffner punted 31 yards to Bowdoin's 41 yard line.

THE BOWDOIN DRIVE.

From the 41 yard line Bowdoin started a drive that was checked only at Maine's 15 yard line and at the end of the half. Nevens made three and six and Stuart two for first down. Stuart made six, Nevens one and Stuart five for another first down. Stuart made seven and Nevens three for another first down. Stuart and Nevens in four rushes had made only eight yards when the half ended.

THIRD PERIOD.

Phillips kicked off, and Ruffner ran back 10 yards to the 28 yard line. Gorham failed to gain, Daley lost two and Ruffner made a short punt, which was rolling outside when Bradford tried to get it, but fumbled and the ball went to Maine on her 35 yard line. Daley made eight around left end. A forward pass from Daley failed, as did another one from Jones. Ruffner punted and Phillips ran back seven yards to Bowdoin's 32 yard line.

Stuart made a yard, Nevens three, but Leadbetter did not gain and Nevens punted to Daley, who was tackled by Leadbetter on Maine's 48 yard line. Jones, tackled by Nevens, failed to gain. Ruffner broke through the line for a run of 35 yards, which put the ball on Bowdoin's 35 yard line. Daley made four, Gorham three and Jones two, when a fumble was recovered by Moulton of Bowdoin on Bowdoin's 27 yard line.

Stuart failed to gain, Phillips made four, and Stuart punted, the ball going offside at Maine's 35 yard line. Jones tackled by Moulton lost three by a plunge at center. A forward pass, Jones to Purington, which in the opinion of many spectators was caught on the bounce but which was allowed by the officials, netted 21 yards. Higgins, who had taken Daley's place, failed to gain and Ruffner made two. Ruffner punted, Phillips making a fair catch on Bowdoin's 15 yard line. Dyar made seven and Stuart five for first down. Dyar and Stuart made one each, when the period ended, the ball being on Bowdoin's 29 yard line in Bowdoin's possession.

STUART'S FIRST RUN.

Jones shot a forward pass to the left. Stuart intercepted it just behind the 20 yard line, and shot down the field 79 yards, shaking himself free from two Maine tacklers, and was pulled down by Higgins within two yards of the goal line. He was set back five yards for crawling. Peacock in three rushes through the left wing carried the ball over for a touchdown. Phillips barely missed the goal.

Ruffner kicked off to Bowdoin's 34 yard line, and Bowdoin failed to cover the ball. Ruffner made two and Gorham three, but on an attempted pass Jones was tackled by Leadbetter for a loss of seven.  Maine kicked off to Stuart, who ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. Phillips fumbled the ball, which rolled back and was recovered by Purington on Bowdoin's 17 yard line. After Ruffner and Higgins in three rushes had succeeded only in losing a yard, Ruffner kicked a field goal from the 18 yard line.
 Maine kicked off and Peacock carried the ball back 33 yards to the 45 yard line. A forward pass failed. Stanley was laid out and carried from the field. Portland Celebration cheering. Cheers were given for all the Maine teams and coaches, for the city of Portland, from the police officers to the Mayor, and it was remarked that the cheering could be heard from one end of the city to the other. Then the pall bearers deposited the three coffins at the foot of the monument. After the funeral service, which was not of the usual order, the crowd went to dinner.
 Nearly the entire theatre of B. F. Keith was reserved for the students, and it was beautifully decorated with Maine banners. The University of Maine Band was playing a popular march when the curtain went up and it was cheered again and again. Frequent compliments on the University of Maine were made throughout the show and each act was received with great applause from the appreciative audience.
 During the show, McCusker led some cheers from the footlights, to which the audience responded with a will. Shortly afterwards Bananas made his initial appearance in vaudeville with Miss Vance, one of the star performers of the evening. The three coffins were then carried across the stage by the student pall bearers to the music of a melancholy funeral dirge.
 After unanimously pronouncing the celebration in Portland a grand success, the footsore and weary throng journeyed to the Union Station where they boarded their special for Orono.

Relay Prospects Good
New Men Expected to Make Competition Keener
 Although nothing has yet been done about the relay team the prospects look very good this year. Capt'n French and his last year's teammates, Totman, King, and Leacock, are still in college. In the freshman class Zeigler Lawry, McBride and Donovan are likely looking men. Besides these there are many who will try out for the team, giving a good variety to choose from.
