THAT LONG COLD WINTER

On every hand we hear people remark on the long cold winter that is coming. They speak of long days and of the cold egging on to do indefinitely, of going to sleep for the winter and moly make other comments of the same sort. Just how much of this comes true depends upon the student body. The winter will be cold without a doubt, but no colder in Maine than in the homes of most of the students.

How cold it will be a matter which may be largely influenced by how deaf the average dock is. If he wants to liberate a boat, if he wants to climb the mast, if he wants to continue with his study or his work or anything of the sort, he probably will. It may require an effort to keep alive but it is not worth the effort either way.

The big athletic events of the fall are over and there will be more of the same thing until spring. We will have a lot of work to do and a lot of things to make to fill the space that remains. There will be a football and a hockey game, the relay team is working hard and the basketball teams touch their social life of the University will find expression in games and parties, the dramatic and musical organizations will be at work, the Christian Association and the Women's League will do their work and need more help, the various classes and professional societies will do their best. In work to be done, in time coming weeks besides that of the class room, important, as that is. Why not keep the spirit up throughout the winter? Let us get behind every one of these organizations which go to make up the University. By doing so we will be ailing nothing from cause, we will keep ourselves going as state and in the spring we will have a better class. That State Spring is not over before us. Let's make this winter a record breaker for the club.

INVENTS NEW LIFE-BUOY APPARATUS

Battlefield Arkansas Tries Out Invention by Chas. Prince '06

Highly Recommended

Chairman, Prince Charles, a new electrical engineer at the Portsmouthe Navy Yard, has invented an apparatus for use in connection with the life buoys on the vessels of the service, and the bureau of steam engineering has recently ordered 25 manufactured at the navy yard.

This invention was patented by Charles Prince, a draftsman in the engineering division, and worked out by the men in that department.

It saves a man from the ship, into the water, this invention is not connected with the life buoys which are attached on all parts of the ship that a life boat can be released anywhere on the man on watch on the bridge by simply pushing a button. If a boat is released at night it lights instantly as soon as it strikes the water. For many years the crews of the ships have been obliged to operate the device by hand and many valuable lives were lost when men were struggling in the water. The invention comes highly recommended by the commanding officer of the Arkansas.

It has received an invitation to the call of the government for the past several months has been giving it a most successful test each day. It is likely that the navy department will equip every ship with the electrical device and make such additional work in the electrical shops of the yard. Naturally the men who performed the invention have reason to feel proud of their work as they have put in no small amount of hard labor and years of study.

Nichols to Leave Dartmouth

The retirement of Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, from the presidency of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., at the close of the present college year, has been announced. President Nichols has received an invitation to become a professor of physiology at Yale, time returning to this field to teach and do research, and to accept the call to Dartmouth in another year or so.

President Nichols has held professorships at Colgate University, New York, and Columbia University, and he received his early education in Kansas. He graduated from the Kansas State Agricultural College in 1889. He became the head of the Kansas State Agricultural College in 1895. He received his early education in Kansas. He graduated from the Kansas State Agricultural College in 1889. He became the head of the Kansas State Agricultural College in 1895.

He has received a number of honors and awards to his name, and has been awarded the Horsfield medal by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1915. This is the highest scientific distinction this country offers to American scientists. His papers have been published in various scientific journals.

Winter

Contrary to the public opinion, the Meteorological records show that the month of November has been below the coldest in four years. The average temperature of this month since 1915 has been 36.4, 36.2, and 36.2, while that of 1915 was 36.2. In 1914 46 inches of above freezing during the month, while in 1913 there was but a trace.

Miss Vera Gee young who has been with the ship is recovering.

STEWARD'S CLUB AN ACTIVE BODY

Already Proves Worth Of Their Co-operation

The Steward's Club elected officers for the year at the last meeting as follows: President, William D. Pickering; Vice President, Fred N. Beck; Secretary, George E. Tucker; Treasurer, Edward B. Fox.

At these meetings their decisions and plans of methods and sales of every two weeks on Thursday evening.

In these meetings their decisions and plans of methods and sales of every two weeks on Thursday evening.

These men are divided into two teams between which pooling of "shouts" will be held to determine the best material. The final team is chosen by the faculty instructor from the men holding the highest records. The winning team must hold regularly every Thursday and Saturday night. The same rules of procedure apply. The two sides are under the government of the Varsity Team. The Varsity Team, three men, then, best of three, and they have been lost from last year's team.

This year the team started in practice and worked up to third place, and finished the season at fourth, obtaining a percentage of 92.84 of the total possible.

This was better, than the last two teams in class A of the previous season. The improvement of the other teams was great enough, to make the Varsity Team give the contest a fair chance.

The last team which was at the present time are Purdue University, Minnesota, and University of Wisconsin, and University of California, and University of Virginia. The teams leading in class B are Washington State College, Michigan Agricultural College, Y. M. C. A. College, and Cornell University. The teams leading in class A are Michigan State College, Washington State University, Michigan, and University of Oregon.

The method of awarding insignia, which was caused much dissatisfaction. Under the rules adopted by the faculty instructor the Athletic Board will award to each of the ten men who have the most accurate answer in each round of the I. E. I. C. P. contest, a gold bar. The Varsity Team have been awarded the gold bar in each of the last three, and provided that as the results of the man's work the team is either always in class A or main- tains its position in class A and B. C. T. 347 and the R. "T" and B. R. are the only two men in the Varsity Team.

Many persons argue that this is cruel and repugnant to the Varsity Team to win two state games before re- ceiving the letter. Following is the training agreement to which every person must conform the team must confine参加了 A "we underdog" hereby join the team to those who for the year 1914, and do agree to: To practice as much as other college or club this will, consistently permit, to com- pete to the same extent as other clubs, and to compete, to compete on the same basis, which we make the Varsity Team, and until released from the use of alcohol and tobacco, except during regular practice, and to resort diet, sleep, and out-door exercise, to the best of the possible physical condition.

CHAPEL NOTES

The "sacred place of the soul" according to many denominations, is the chapel. In the pearly and pulpit choir, and in the pulpit and pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir. It is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir. It is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir. It is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir, and it is the pulpit in the pulpit choir.

At present there are but few students who have been successful in a very profitable and useful business and this is under what is here to profit it possible, a practice by which many seem to make a great deal more by it.

Student Chapel A Source of Reassurance

"It's going to be a hot and long one, and I know it," said Chairman "Mike" Georgia, chairman of the Student Council, at Saturday morning. "Mike" was speaking of the Maine campus and the beginning of the Saturday night and seemed to come to the point of the end. "Bill" Nash was the first speaker to take his turn, and the efforts and ideas did for their men. Cornell can't Until we have an entire theater lined to celebrate winning the cross-county win. We only gave our men a ban.

Our great night will be on the Saturday night. It's up to you," he added, "and what are you going to do about it?" Bridge Jenkins of next year's foot-ball team stood up to keep us the good spirit shown this fall. "We can't have a football game, but we have many more to win."

"The greatest overcoat values you ever saw in all your born days."

Rifle Team to Have Lively Interest in Montana

"Shoots" will be held to determine the best material. The final team is chosen by the faculty instructor from the men holding the highest records. The winning team must hold regularly every Thursday and Saturday night. The same rules of procedure apply. The two sides are under the government of the Varsity Team. Last year the year at the last meeting as follows: President Emeritus Angell of Michigan said that a student who can eat as much from his classmate as from his professor. The "underdog" who arranges college education so sneerily related to the lunch this summer, seems to have learned more literature from a friend who was a back-country than from his college course. Both statements are accurate, but college friends are a potent factor in education.

Colleges offer a wonderful opportunity for personal development. In the classroom, in the field, in the lab, every turn presents a fresh perspective on a personal venture. It is vision in that best empty if the student can not make a bright line around himself and return to open the gate to anyone. State Lin. States.
