MAINE MASQUE AND BLUE BELLES

Bijou, April 8th—Grand Double Bill

At the Bijou, Monday, April 8, the Maine Masque and the Blue Belles will give a joint production with a cast of thirty people. The men will present the English comedy, "A Pair of Spectacles," while eighteen young women under the auspices of the Maine Y. W. C. A. will interpret a fanciful pantomime set to music entitled "Into the Nowhere." The cast of characters for the women's play is as follows:

April 8th will be, at the Bijou Theatre in Bangor, a Maine Night of unusual interest. The program will open with the one-act pantomime given by the women of the university. Not only will the costuming of this play create a beautiful picture; the plot and characterization will prove an artistic and mirth provoking novelty. The characters are either extremely dainty,—animated dolls—or they are absurdly grotesque and funny. Leave it to Mary Robie and Florence Chandler to be funny; and there are others. Besides these, doll-like creatures will dance. By the time the villain is carried off on a bier, the audience will forget all their troubles.

TO MARCH IN BANGOR

The University of Maine Regiment, R. O. T. C. will take part in the Liberty Loan parade in Bangor, Saturday, April 6, it was announced from the military office, Monday night. The regiment will form in the gymnasium at one o'clock taking special cars for Bangor. No men will be excused from this drill, which replaces the morning work, except on account of sickness.

The Military Drill and Hop which was to have come April 6, has been postponed until April 12.

PLANS FOR M. C. A. HANDBOOK

Every Maine man knows the convenience and usefulness of the handbook which the M. C. A. issues annually at a considerable expense. One of the valuable services the book does is to give the freshmen an idea of Maine and her customs.

Francis Friend '20 who is chairman of the handbook committee for next year has already begun work on the 1918-19 book and has made considerable progress in the work. It is planned to make the book about the same as this year's as far as size is concerned and to incorporate several new features. An issue of 800 copies is planned.

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR LEKBERG RESIGNS

C. H. Lekberg, Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering, has resigned from his position on the faculty and is going to take up work on the Research Staff of the National Industrial Conference Board at Boston. He graduated from Maine in 1907 and has been on the U. of M. faculty since 1911.

PRESIDENT ALEY IS ALLY TO FRANCE

Dr. Aley has recently received a very interesting magazine, containing messages from the Presidents of the various colleges and universities in the United States to the universities and schools of France. All the American letters are translated into French and are extremely interesting. There are letters from William Taft, Elihu Root and other nationally prominent men. It seemed rather fitting that the name of Dr. Aley, as the president of the National Education Association, should be pronounced by the French as ally.

Gladys Hussey of Bangor was the guest of Pauline Mansur, Thursday.

Carlotta Hersey spent Wednesday with her sister, Lilla Hersey.

CABARET FOR JUNIOR WEEK

The big feature of Junior Week (April 24, 25, 26, and 27th) this year will be the Cabaret Show and the dance to be given in the gym on Saturday, April 27th by the Junior Masks. Some exceptionally good student talent has been secured for the show itself and every effort is being made to insure its complete success. According to the present plans, tables for four can be reserved ahead of time, with possibly one or two larger tables for fraternity groups. During the show of about an hour ice cream, sandwiches, coffee and ginger ale will be served, and immediately afterward dancing will commence which will last until midnight. The college orchestra under Prof. Sprague will furnish the music for both the show and for the dance.

On Tuesday night, April 2nd, the Canadian Flying Squadron, in connection with a United States recruiting party, will have a joint rally at the Orono Town Hall. The Canadian party is under the command of Major J. F. Belford of Richmond, Quebec. The University of Maine Band will play and the talks will be both in French and English.

EDITORIAL

—M—

The one thing we should ever bear in mind is to keep ourselves informed on the war. The phases of the present war shift so rapidly that we cannot present the claim of being educated men and women unless we keep ourselves up to date on the lightening changes that are going on. We say we are busy but we all can and should put a few hours each week in getting the facts as they occur.

In keeping in touch with events there are three things to hold in mind. The first is the fundamental one concerning the world problems being solved and the change in ideals as to those problems. To get a clear understanding on this subject every student of Maine should attend one of the Christian Association discussion groups which take up the principles of Christ as they apply to these world problems. The ideals of the Allies on International affairs are steadily tending toward those of Christ. So every college man to get a foundation in these principles should attend one of these study groups.

Another thing is to study the actual military situation as it changes from day to day. This can be obtained in the daily papers or more authentically in some good weekly. The Library offers many fine periodicals giving the weekly war news in a condensed form.

And lastly the world's political situation must be followed. The political changes, the rumors of revolution in all countries, the internal situation in all the belligerent countries is as important as the battle fronts. Political affairs are harder to follow than the military but we need to know as much of the attitude of British Labor as of the progress of the war in Italy.

Just a few moments a day or a couple of hours a week will keep us abreast of the times in all these branches of the war. Reading the daily or weekly papers will keep us in touch with the political and military news as it comes from all parts of the world, and attending a discussion group will help to show us how the ethical principles of Christ apply to the situation. As college men and women we can do no less.

THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

The campaign for the Third Liberty Loan will be opened on the 6th of April, the anniversary of the declaration of a state of war between the United States and Germany.

The amount, terms, and conditions of the loan are dependent upon further legislation and will be announced as soon as Congress has granted the necessary powers.

Secretary McAdoo chose the 6th of April as the day to open the campaign as the most fitting date to call for a patriotic response to the summons to duty to every American, to ask from the people at home the same fervent patriotism that actuates our gallant sons on the battlefields of France and on the waters of the Atlantic.

The "Liberty Loan anthem," dedicated to the success of the third appeal to the nation for the funds to carry on the war was formally approved by the loan committee of the New York Federal Reserve District. It is designed for use throughout the country. The music was written by Mrs. George Barton French. The words, by Charles W. Gordon, follow:

Heaven sent Liberty, our nation's pride,
Our fathers fought for thee, fought,
bled and died.
Then was our flag unfurled, emblem
sublime,
A light unto the world through endless time.

Our watchword still shall be, "In God
We Trust,"

Striving that all may see, our cause is just;
We fight for Liberty and shall not cease,
Till Freedom's victory brings lasting peace.

Now in our Allies land, breasting war's tide,

Our sons march hand in hand, God is their guide;

Once more we hear the call, "Keep the World Free,"

Rise, rise, rise, and give your all, for Liberty.

SMASH THOSE RUMORS

—M—

If your best friend confidentially tries to tell you that the U. of M. campus is to become an aviation camp the first of May or that college is to be taken over by the government and close early rather than the time now agreed upon, May 17th, laugh at him! Of course such things sound well and we'd have to hunt hard to find the person on the campus who would not be glad of a 15 day shorter term, but the rumors now circulating about the campus to this effect are absolutely unauthentic and are merely rumors. If by chance some student has happened to have heard from government officials in Washington concerning the taking over of the college for a training camp it would be very thoughtful of them to report the communication to the college authorities since they are without official communication concerning the change. Meanwhile let us not know more than the government about its plans and remember that good old slogan of last spring and "Don't spread idle rumor."

The Office.

AN OPEN LETTER

The Campus Editor:

During the last few weeks I have heard a great deal of talk in regard to baseball prospects, closing school on May 1st, and blanket taxes; all of which are closely connected.

Now don't think for a moment that the college is going to die this spring. As soon as the Athletic Field is in proper condition for practice, you will see as good a team out there as will be seen on any college diamond in this state. With the help of Coach Cross we expect to come thru with a championship team.

If you hear anyone talking about school closing the first of May or saying something about not buying a blanket tax for fear of "getting stuck" for a few shekels, get hold of him and wise him up. The baseball coach has been hired for the full season, everything is arranged for the regular schedule, so there has got to be a baseball team at Maine this year.

Now it is up to everyone, whether you are on the first team, second team, or cheer from the bleachers, to get behind this year's club, not only with the

A few men started this war in the blindness of autocratic power; all men will settle this war in the open vision of democracy.

Josephus Daniels, Secretary of Navy

We entered this war as the evangelists of peace; we are mobilizing the industries and resources of the United States in order that they might secure peace for the world.

Newton T. Baker, Secretary of War

"It is more precious that this America shall live than that we Americans should live"—Franklin Lane.

old Maine spirit but also with two dollars.

Some of the upper classmen should show the Freshmen what real Maine spirit is, we used to have it but it has gradually been dying. What is it going to be—a funeral or a lot of pep? It's up to you!

(Signed) Capt. R. C. Wentworth.

At the meeting of the U. of M. Athletic Board to be held this week the board will consider the advisability of selling to the student body next year a single Blanket Tax which it is proposed would cover the entire college year and not a single semester as under the present plan. The advocates of this radical change maintain that it is much easier to sell these "taxes" at the opening weeks of college in the fall than at any other time thruout the whole college year, due chiefly to the fact that at this time the average student has more money than during the remainder of college year. The plan is also proposed in order that the athletic authorities may within a few weeks after college opens know the exact amount which can be expended on college athletics for the coming year and thus avoid any uncertainty that might spring up as to their ability to finance any sport as was the case this spring in connection with the baseball schedule. Several members of the Athletic Board favor a compromise whereby the present system of selling separate blanket taxes for the spring and fall semesters will be continued but if a student purchases both taxes early in the fall he will be given a liberal discount on both taxes.

The University Office announces that it has been very fortunate to secure as baccalaureate speaker at this year's Commencement, the services of Thomas E. Finnegan, the noted educator of Albany, N. Y. Mr. Finnegan has been for twenty-five years the Deputy Commissioner of Education of New York and is one of the biggest men in public education in the United States. His last notable address was at the February meeting of the National Education Association where he spoke as President of the Department of Superintendents of that national organization. Mr. Finnegan is held in the highest esteem as a speaker and the Senior class of the university should feel fortunate to have insured the delivery of a masterly baccalaureate address.

J. E. Doyle '15, better remembered on the campus as "Diddy Doyle" is making a great reputation as a baseball player in Manville, Philippine Islands. Those students who recollect "Diddy's" ability while at this university are in no ways surprised.

On April 12 the Freshman Class will give their annual military ball in the gymnasium and it will be featured by the drill of the competing military companies which will take place before the dancing.

POEM IN OUTLOOK
BY MAINE CO-ED

Elizabeth Hanly '15 has a poem entitled "First to Fall" in the March 27 Outlook. Miss Hanly wrote much in college and has since had several poems in high grade magazines. The poem quoted below is particularly appealing to those who love Maine.

(W. C. S. Class of '15)

"I cannot think of you among the immortals,

One of a grave-eyed, reverential host;
I picture you come back a gallant ghost
To seek again these stately, shadowy portals

And hide your khaki 'neath a scholar's gown.

I can imagine how your face will lighten

When you behold against the western sky,

Brilliant and bold, the service banners fly,

And one by one the frat house windows brighten

Above the river as the sun goes down.

Then sauntering down the chapel aisle you go,

In souciant, indifferent, and slow,

A sidelong glance of mingled pride and shame

For the bright tablet that will bear your name."

M. C. A. HOLDS ELECTION

The election of executive officers of the Maine Christian Association was held Tuesday afternoon, March 27. Subscribers to the Student's Friendship War Fund were eligible to vote.

The following were chosen as officers for the next year: President, Vernon H. Wallingford '19, Vice President, Lindsay J. March '20, Treasurer, Oscar L. Whalen '19, Secretary, Clifford H. Denison '19 and Assistant Treasurers, Fred L. Webster '20, Willard C. Avery '20, Horace C. Crandall '21.

A. B. BOOKS ANNOUNCED

At a meeting of the Arts and Science students of the Junior class Thursday March 28th the following list of books was given out. Six of these books are to be read before April 1, 1919. In case a student has read these books any time before they need not be re-read. The method for reporting upon the reading has not yet been decided upon. The following is the list of books which from this time on will be required by all Arts and Science students before graduation.

THE DEANS STATE THEIR WAR VIEWS

In view of the critical struggle on the Western front of the European battlefield the below opinions of three deans of this university on the present aspect of the war should be of special interest to all readers.

DEAN J. N. HART

"Neither the Allies nor their enemies seem to hold any single material advantage that promises to prove the decisive factor. It seems to me that the only hope for a real decision lies in superior will power on the part of the Allies, their confidence and determination that whatever sacrifice may be necessary, the world shall be made safe for Democracy."

DEAN J. S. STEVENS

"I think the greatest factor in the present war situation is what Matthew Arnold has called 'that Power not ourselves which makes for righteousness.' Nearly two thousand years ago a frenzied mob crucified him who had the highest ideals and the broadest vision of all the sons of men. Today certain devil-inspired men are trying to strangle civilization. The rabble in Palestine made the most awful failure in the world's history; the mob in Postdam will succeed no better."

DEAN H. S. BOARDMAN

"Former wars have been based primarily upon a foundation of military tactics and generalship. It would appear that this struggle might be called a 'machine' war, and while military strategy and good tactics must not be lost sight of, the engineering element predominates. The works of the Chemical, Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical engineer are everywhere in evidence. Wireless telegraphy, high explosives, powerful guns, deadly gases, accurate range finders, so called 'tanks' and supply railroads, are examples of only a few of the important features controlled by the engineer. It should be remembered however that all this is of little value unless used in a carefully prepared organization, and it is difficult to say which factor in the organization is of the most importance."

The annual reunion of the Boston Alumni of the University of Maine was held in City Club of that city on Wednesday last. Louis C. Southard acted as toastmaster and Dr. Aley was the principal speaker who told what Maine men were doing in the war. The following officers were elected: E. R. Berry, President; L. E. Ryther, Secretary; J. H. McCready, Treasurer; and G. E. Seabury, J. D. Mackay, and Ed. Wilson, Executive Committee.

HALF MILLION TREES TO BE TRANSPLANTED IN NURSERY

As soon as the ground permits, there are to be a half million young trees set out in the State Nursery back of the Kappa Sigma, Phi Eta Kappa and the Delta Tau Delta fraternity houses. These trees were started from seed two years ago and consist of White Pine, Norway Spruce, and a few Red Pine. The students of the Forestry department have usually done this work as a kind of laboratory course and also for practical experience but this year the war has weakened the department so much that outside help will be necessary. The State controls this nursery and sells all the trees at cost. In the past the only hired help has been one man to keep the grounds weeded during the summer. This spring the State will have to hire help and it is willing to hire the students of the university who can put in a forenoon or an afternoon at a stretch. It will be necessary to put in at least three hours at a time for which a wage of twenty cents an hour will be paid.

Many of the students are unaware of this Nursery and only a few knew that it was run on a large scale. This spring there are to be a hundred thousand young trees shipped away.

The transplanting work will begin about the middle of April and last thru the middle of May.

CHORUS AND ORCHESTRA APPEAR AT ASSEMBLY

At Daily Assembly on Wednesday, March 27th, an interesting program was carried out under the direction of Prof. Sprague of the Music Department. The occasion was the first public appearance of the new university orchestra and of the orchestra and chorus together. The combined forces presented the Carnival Chorus from the opera La Tarentella and Spindler's Cavalry Song, after which the orchestra lead off in some airs from "Oh Boy" together with several popular songs of the day in which the student body joined.

Both the orchestra and the chorus are new comers into the musical field at Maine and their organization is certain to become an informal factor in the university of the future. Both are already in excellent training and on Friday night will give a concert in the gymnasium.

The orchestra numbers eighteen players and the chorus, which is an amalgamation of the two college glee clubs, has a membership of about seventy. The coming concert will include soloists, instrumental numbers, and chorus singing. A dance will follow with music by the entire orchestra.

A meeting of the Psi Sigma Pi, the honorary fraternity of the Foresters' college, was held Friday night in the Aggie building.

U. SEDITION COLUMN

You can tell whether a man is a gentleman or not by listening to him wait 20 seconds on central.

Nobody ever really gives a bride away at a wedding; the best man always goes free—which is right.

The loss of more fraternity pins than usual is reported this spring.

If hell is paved with good intentions the Kaiser will have to learn to walk again when he gets there.

Freshie—"It would be a mighty dull world for you girls if all the men should suddenly leave it."

Orono Queen—"Oh, we should still have you college fellows left."

Prof. Craig says that there are certain text books that are no longer to be had on account of the war. War has its advantages after all!

First co-ed—"I wonder if it would be a fruitless journey if I go down to Orono after my mail?"

Second co-ed—"Not if you have a date down there."

Marriage is like a cold bath—the more you look at it the less you like it.

1st Co-ed: "I read an account of how a girl fell over forty feet without hurting herself."

2nd Co-ed: "Good Gracious! How did she do it?"

1st Co-ed: "Tried to get out of an Old Town car with exactly twenty men in it."

Some folks would rather blow their own horn than listen to Sousa's Band.

Keep green—green things grow.

Every man defines cowardice in his own case as discretion.

I had an accident today
My own fault, I suspect
I tried to be original
And sprained my intellect.
R. U. A. Nut.

WHEN THE WAR WILL END

Absolute knowledge have I none,
But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son

Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street
That he had a letter last week,
Written in the finest Greek,
From a Chinese coolie in Tumbuctoo
Who said that the negroes in Cuba knew

Of a colored man in a Texas town,
Who got it straight from a circus clown
That a man in Klondike heard the news
From a firm of South American Jews
About somebody in Borneo
Who heard a man who claims to know
Of a sublimated social rake
Whose mother-in-law will undertake
To prove that her husband's sister's niece

Had sated in a printed piece
That she had a son who has a friend
Who knows when the war is going to end.

The men's play teaches a fine lesson of optimism. It is cheerful and wholesome in every line. It kept the Portland audience in good humor each evening of the recent trip. The three women's parts are played by boys of the Masque. Sumner Cobb, prima donna of the Masque, graduated last year; but look who's here: Leary, Astle, and Cohen. If you never noticed they were gentle on the campus, see them act. In the interests of a packed house, this grand double bill is offered at popular prices: 25c, 35c, 50c; no higher. All seats will be reserved. Performance will begin at eight o'clock.

Did you know this? That every war in which the United States has ever been engaged in has been declared in the month of April. Here is the list and not a very long one either.

April 1775—The Revolutionary war began.

April 1812—Embargo enacted to prepare for war with England.

April 1846—First hostilities in war with Mexico.

April 1898—Declaration of war with Spain.

April 1917—Congress convened to declare war with Germany.

Ruth Ingersol returned Friday from Danforth where she has been substituting in the High School.

Ava Weymouth returned Tuesday after spending the week-end at her home in Howland, Me.

THREE CHEERS FOR YOU.

A cheer for the stripes of red and white—
A cheer for the field of blue—
A cheer for every separate star—
And three big cheers for YOU.
A Happy Christmas.
