OLD TIME SEND-OFF TO B. A. A. RELAY TEAM

The record college rally began last Thursday in the right way with a lot of "pep," which continued unabated through the evening and even lasted through the showing of a few fire-works at the Freshman-Sophomore basketball game which followed the rally.

"Sam" Collins, president of the Athletic Association, presided and introduced the several speakers of the evening. "Squirt" Lingley, manager of track, was the first speaker and showed his usual "pep." He said that Maine would show Bowdoin up as we have done in the past and then send the Relay team to the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival which is to be held in Philadelphia on April 5th.

"Jerry" Reardon was the next speaker and told the fellows that it was their job to see that the track and relay keep up in their studies. "Jack" Green, all Maine center in 1915 and 1916, told of the advantages of this rally to the departing Relay Team and as "their minds are liable to wander" when they are on the boards they will think of this sendoff and exert themselves the uttermost.

"Pat" French announced that the team that would run Bowdoin was as follows: Wansker '22, Castle '21, Hegarty '21, and Pratt '21. Pinkham '21 was chosen as the fifth man to go along in case of emergency. He said that the spirit shown by the relay squad was the best he has ever seen while he has been at Maine.

The five relay men were called on for a few words and they showed their enthusiasm which was to fight for victory on Saturday night. The Junior Masks "passed the hat" for a contribution to send the fifth man to the B. A. A. Games and the response was generous. The crowd then adjourned to the gymnasium to see the Freshman-Sophomore Basketball game.

PHI MU INITIATION

The annual Phi Mu dance was given Friday evening in the gym, which was decorated with banners and had booths for the orchestra and guests. Dean and Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Estabrooke, Mrs. Huddilston, and Miss Rachel Huddilston were guests.

MATERIAL WANTED FOR GRIND SECTION OF PRISM

A good deal of material is still needed for the grind section of the Prism. Get your Literary talents to working and contribute some of the following:

Classroom jokes and all bits of humor.

Poems.

Comic narratives.

Get out your scrap books and find some snapshots or cartoons. Original creations of some budding genius will be gladly accepted. Deposit them in the box in the Registrar's office and make the Grind section of the 1920 Prism what it ought to be.

NOTED INTERNATIONAL LAWYER AT MAINE

The University of Maine is fortunate in having Dr. Justine Klotz for a guest for a few days. Dr. Klotz is a graduate doctor of the Law University of Paris, 1913, for which degree she wrote a book on "The Polish Constitution of 1791," a 600 page book published in Paris in 1913. Leaving the University, she did a year's practical work in the office of an international lawyer in Paris and being an international lawyer and linguist she has become interested in promoting international relations between the women of Europe and America.

She became acquainted with the Young Women's Christian Association in Paris, being a member of this Association for five years, took an active interest in the American organization thru the American students and American women she met at the Association in Paris.

VARIED ENTERPRISES AT UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

In spite of the fact that the term is shortened and that the work is harder, several of the boys have started extra work on the side. Kappa Sigma house is in a whirl continuously since "Jit" Faulkner started his matrimonial bureau. It was a splendid thing for him to do and judging from the number of applications Jit's good work is much appreciated.

Doc Ferren has a flourishing peanut stand at Lambda Chi Alpha.

Lieutenant Fred S. Willard is conducting a jewelry business—specialty, gold wrist watches.

Paul Webber has just returned from a business trip to Farmington and has a very good assortment of styles in spring coats.

Clyde Vining is conducting parties thru the library. His terms are very reasonable and we would advise patronizing Clyde because he has a thorough knowledge of the Library, particularly the Stacks.

Boost the University by patronizing home trade.

FRESHMEN TRIM SOPHS

Thursday evening, immediately after the student rally the Freshman-Sophomore basketball game was staged in the gym. The Freshmen came out of the fray with a 30 to 13 victory. The game was played at a break-neck pace with plenty of rough and tumble. The Freshmen showed exceptionally good team work, and were able to keep up a fast pace thruout the game, while their opponents failed to stand the grind as well. In the midst of the game, the Freshmen, seeing victory coming their way, tried to blow the power-house whistle but were unsuccessful.

CALL FOR ENTRIES IN FRATERNITY MEETS

The second and third Inter-Fraternity Meets will be held March 8 and 15. Entries for the meet of March 8 should be in to the Track Manager by five o'clock, Thursday night, March 6. The following is the list of events: 40 yard dash, 40 yard low hurdles, 390 yard run, 880 yard run, 1 mile run, sack race, snow shoe race, high jump, broad jump, shot put and pole vault.

In addition to the above events the winning freshman teams of the last meet will race. The winning teams which will race Saturday are Hannibal Hamlin, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Eta Kappa, and Sigma Chi.

INTER-FRATERNITY SCHOLARSHIP CUPS

There are at Maine two fraternity scholarship cups, one of which will be awarded permanently very soon.

The first cup, presented by the 1910 Senior Skull Society, will become the permanent property of that fraternity having the highest scholarship and thus holding the cup temporarily, the greatest number of times during the ten years of award, from 1910-1920. Awards are made each Commencement for the two semesters preceding the spring semester of the awards.

Those fraternities having won this cup, in order are: Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Phi Eta Kappa, Phi Eta Kappa.

The second cup, known as the Junior Mask Scholarship Cup, is competitive to the freshman delegations of the fraternities represented in this Inter-Fraternity Council. The delegation having the highest rank shall hold this cup until awarded to another delegation having a higher rank. All members of the competing delegations must have been initiated during the fall semester.

The fraternity whose delegation shall gain possession of the cup the greatest number of years, between the 1915 and 1925 Commencements, shall become the permanent possessor of the cup. Those fraternities having won this cup are, in order of award: Phi Kappa Sigma, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi.

HECKS ATTENTION

The eighth annual "Heck" Banquet is to be held Saturday evening, March 8 as a grand final of Farmer's Week. Every student in the College of Agriculture is invited so keep Saturday evening open for the Banquet. It is the big get-together of the year for all Hecks. Tickets will be on sale early this week.

A chapter of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity was established at Dartmouth, on February 1.

Saturday evening, March 1st, the thirtieth annual B. A. A. Games were conducted at the Mechanic's Building, Boston. The attendance was about the largest ever had at these games.

One of the best races of the evening was the Bowdoin-Maine Relay. Maine came thru in grand style, defeating Bowdoin in 3 m. 17 sec.

Bowdoin had the pole with Averill starting for Bowdoin and Charlie Wansker for Maine. Charlie got away in fine style and after rounding the first corner he led Averill by a yard. Wansker handed Haggerty his lead of a yard. Foulk ran second for Bowdoin. This pair ran about even, Haggerty maintaining the lead of a yard. Then came the surprise of the race. It was expected that Capt. Cleaves of Bowdoin would run anchor. Instead of this, he followed Foulk. This brought Castle against Cleaves who was considered the star of the Bowdoin team. Castle literally flew over the track, opening up a lead of three yards which he maintained and handed to Capt. Pratt, running anchor. Pratt easily maintained the lead and finished with a lead of three yards.

It was a great race and Maine should be proud of her relay team. Every man on that team is a fighter. The performance of the team speaks well for the coaching of "Pat" French. It was Pat's first team and it certainly came thru.

AGGIE CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The Agricultural Club held its regular meeting last Wednesday evening at Winslow Hall. Pres. Clifford Denison '19 introduced Ralph Mitchell, County Agent. Mr. Mitchell gave a very interesting talk on the Boys' and Girls' Club work. He has had considerable experience in this work, devoting much time to it in the past few years. The system used in keeping accounts was taken up in detail and demonstrated. An open discussion followed. After the speeches different reports were made and then the meeting was adjourned.

A big "Heck Smoker" is being planned. The plans are extensive and elaborate. It promises to be a real event.

MOVIES FOR R. O. T. C.

A "Movie" section of the committee is being organized for the purpose of securing films which will be of special educational and general interest to R. O. T. C. It is proposed to establish a circuit which will be announced later and which will assure each institution receiving the reels in proper turn and sequence. Institutions which maintain R. O. T. C. units and have moving picture facilities should, if they have not already done so, advise the committee as to whether or not they desired to be in the circuit. Reels will be furnished free of expense.

Again the question of chapel, or assembly is before the student body. Shall the University of Maine support a daily assembly? For the reasons stated in our last issue,—namely, that assembly is the one function binding together the colleges of this university and secondly, that is a means of reaching, quickly and easily, the whole student body, upon subjects pertaining continually to college activities,—we believe that the daily assembly at Maine should not be allowed to pass from existence.

Yet it is apparent that radical changes are necessary in order that the daily meeting shall have the support and interest of the student body. The Campus offers as suggestions the following. If the religious side of the exercises are not paramount cannot a part at least of these be done away with and a pianist and violinist be secured who can play familiar airs which the students can sing without the aid of a director from the platform.

Due to the acoustic properties of the assembly hall, it is impossible for all speakers to hold the attention of the students. In the absence of Dr. Aley and at other times, speakers can be obtained who can be heard thruout the hall.

It is not impossible and quite probable that on two mornings each week either a "peppy" speaker can be obtained or a violin, flute or other soloist from the student body, or the appearance of the band, mandolin club, orchestra or other musical organizations on the campus.

There are unlimited possibilities in this line, and we feel that nothing can do more to promote the "old Maine spirit" than a little Maine pep and music each morning.

We believe in assembly attendance with a lenient cut system and would hold this exercise at the end of the second hour in the morning, at which time nearly all students are upon the campus.

Probably a good many have heard that there is to be a big Relay Carnival at Philadelphia on April 24 and 25. The fine showing of the Maine Team at the B. A. A. Games last Saturday, the fact that "Pete" Allen '22 and "Charlie" Ziegler '19 will be in the running at that time and that the Maine team as a whole is better at the quarter mile than at the shorter distances are convincing arguments why Maine should send her relay team to these games. It was Maine's wonderful cross country team which for three years won the New England championship and one year the National championship that made Maine known all over the country. Similarly participation of Maine Relay team in this meet will put Maine on the athletic map even if we don't happen to clean up. The cost will only be about $600. Coach "Pat" French who made the winning team of last Saturday says that Maine should be a winner in her class. There will be a tag day soon to help defray the expenses of sending the team to Philadelphia. The student body should contribute at least $200. And it is up to every one of us when the tag day comes.

The University of Maine appropriation bill has not yet been put before the Legislature to vote upon due to delay in the bills preceding it on the list. In order to bring the attitude of Maine before the Legislature, 200 copies of last week's "Campus" were sent to Augusta and each member of the Legislature received a copy on Wednesday. It was thought then that the bill would be voted on during the session on Thursday. The postponement of action on the measure gives more time for work in favor of the bill. It is up to everyone to help put this measure across in the form in which it was presented—providing for the real needs of Maine.

The Maine Masque in an institution which has in the past reflected a great deal of credit upon the University of Maine. It has made Maine favorably known wherever it has made trips, has given valuable training to its participants and has been an activity of unquestionable value. It is too bad to let such an institution to die out or even lie dormant for a short period, for time lost in this manner undermines the organization and can never be recovered. We are unfortunate this year in not having Professor Windsor P. Daggett in the faculty whose service and leadership have been invaluable to the Masque. This matter was brought up some time before and nothing started. It may be too late to run on the basis of former years but the Masque can be put in shape for a big season next year. What are you going to do about it, Masque men?

JUST SMOKES

—M—

By Melville Chater

The telephone bell rang.

The Red Cross Canteen worker jumped to her feet and answered it.

"Another troop train—1200 men—due in two hours," she threw back the phrases over her shoulder between the breaks in a bad connection.

The canteen had already fed 9,000 troops at the trainside that day and as it was well along toward midnight the workers had turned in for a few hours rest. But in twenty minutes the entire force was again at work making sandwiches and coffee.

The train came in covered with American soldiers as an ant hill is with ants. They had been in France only a few weeks but on the morrow they would be thrown into the great allied offensive; they would taste real warfare for the first time. In rollicking spirits they were singing the "Doughboy's Song."

"Good-bye, paw, bood-bye, maw, Good-bye, mule, with your old hee-haw.

I don't know what this war's about But you bet, by gum, I'll soon find out.

(With long drawn tenderness)

Good-bye, my sweetheart, don't you fret;

I'll come back all right, you bet.

I'll bring you a Turk and the Kaiser, too

(with modest restraint)

And that's about all one feller can do."

Quickly they filed past the Red Cross women distributing "the eats."

"Whoop-la, cigarettes" came from one observant youth and the rest took up the cheer. They had run out of tobacco and the majority of the men had not had a smoke that day.

"Only one each, boys," warned the suddenly popular canteen worker; "they are very scarce just now." As each man had his mouth full, the precious cigarette was tucked securely back of his ear.

Suddenly a hush fell upon the troops. Through the darkness a second train with a big Red Cross breaking its drab sides rolled slowly in on an opposite track. It was a hospital train from the front.

The fresh troops pressed close to the sides of the car carrying their wounded brothers.

"How is it going up there?"

"We're giving them hell. Where you fellows headed for?"

"Where you just came from—the front."

"Give 'em more hell and good luck to you."

And so the fragments of conversation were thrown back and forth. Meanwhile there had cropped up a certain bit of information which was echoed all through the fresh troops.

"What, those fellows got no smokes? We got the last?"

And in three minutes the Red Cross workers had their big cigarette bowls filled again and were making a second distribution in the hospital car.

A few minutes more and the troop train was under way. As the boys aboard hung out of the windows to give a final cheer to the heroes they were leaving behind the last sight they beheld was that flickering patch of light points in the darkness.

And they turned to their song—

"I'll bring you a Turk and the Kaiser, too

And that's about all one feller can do."

LETTERS OF A FRESHMAN

—M—

Hannibal Hamlin Hall

March 3, 1919

Dear Folks at Home:

Did you miss my letter last week? Well, I meant to write last Sunday night but I went down to Veazie and saw that girl I was telling you about. She sent me a nice letter that smelt and everything and asked me to come down again. I went in and just as I got through the door a man in a velvet suit came to take my coat but I was wise to his game Ma, (that's the way you brought me up Ma) and took all the money out of the overcoat except ten cents which I handed to him. I guess he must have felt kinder bad Ma for trying to steal my coat and then me giving him ten cents. I kinder wanted to make a deposit in the college store on some candy I am going to get next semester but I don't mine ten cents.

Well, we got set down to dinner and after the old man said Grace we sat still. I don't see anything in this

Ma because he said it the last time I was down but I guess the prayer wasn't answered because when the maid, the maid Ma is always the best looking one of the family, brought in the dinner all there was was four chops. The Missus says "Do you see your dinner?"

I said "Yes, but where's the dinner for you people?" I guess that must have been a mistake because she only dished me out one. When I got thru she said: "How did you find your chop?"

"By moving the pea," I said. I guess they must have felt hurt because all they did was blush but it serves them right for being so stingy. You have heard that story about Mary and Her Little Lamb, haven't you, Ma? Well that same Mary is about seventy years old and hale and hearty but I guess the lamb is dead cause it must have been a lamb chop from him.

While we were waiting for the next course the Missus said something about all she used was Hammered Silverware. Just then the maid dropped the dishes in the kitchen and I spoke right up quick and said "I guess the maid is making some now." "Bright" that's the way you brought me up, Ma. Well Ma, we had some of that same coffee in the drawing room.

The Old Man told me a story about how he attended a dying man, (I thot the only thing a minister did was to attend to church). He was a financier and said "Do you feel perfectly safe and happy?"

"I do," replied the dying man, faintly, "I do," then the minister said "you are on the river's bank and—"

"Yes, I know it," interrupted the dying man, "I know it, and that's Brewer on the other side, isn't it?"

They all laughed Ma but as I did not know where Brewer was I couldn't laugh.

I came home and studied some Chemistry Ma. The next day I went down to Bangor and there was a feller that took the fares. His name was Wood but I don't see how he could be a conductor because Wood is a non-conductor. I guess that is the reason why pure air is such a scarcity in railway cars because air is a bad conductor, and it wouldn't do to have two of them on a train. They use boxes to collect the nickels with on the trains here Ma. That makes me think about the Russian government placing a tax of one kopeck each on every egg sold in the kingdom, and the hens kopecking around with every mark of dissatisfaction. Taint no use for us to kopecking around Ma because that railroad company is just as obliging as the Russian government.

Gee Ma we had a mass meeting here last Thursday night. The only thing that you have seen like it is a Grange meeting. I guess it is just the same procedure because at the Grange meeting they open it with a prayer and I also heard language like that the other night. It was great pep though Ma. They were sending a Relay race to Boston Ma. A relay race is just like a potato race Ma and from what I heard I guess Bowdoin was just about as fast. The public thinks that college yells are useless but I guess in later years when some of the boys get into the fish business they find it comes in powerful handy. I guess Maine has got a lot of fish dealers because there was some holloring there that night.

After that came the basketball game between the sophomores and U.S. I guess that class is a decided failure in everything Ma. They are good for two things and both of them are nothing. It is coming spring and we are going to throw some of them in the river pretty soon. One fellow is tall and has got a lot of gold teeth.

There was a dance given the Mass. club Ma Saturday night. I wanted to go but you know how it is when you are a freshman, you do not know the co-eds. I guess they had a good time because they took some of the "Air" dances. I was up in the balcony in chapel, I explained what that was to you Ma, and a couple came in, couple here Ma means a boy and girl. Pretty soon I heard her say forgivingly "Come dear, kiss my cheek and make it up."

"I'll kiss it" he answered, "but I guess it don't need anymore making up." That's the kind they are up here Ma.

All these ko-eds are light on their feet Ma but when they step on mine—Woh—Another good thing Ma is that they have waxed the floor.

Spring is coming Ma. In the spring a ko-eds fancy lightly turns to Piney-knoll. Poetic, that's the way I feel now Ma. We have had anuf snow up here and I guess they was right when they said there was good sleighing up here ten months out of the year.

Yours till the snow goes,

Your loving son, Afeelus.

P. S. Don't worry about my drinking, up here a man died the other day from a snake bite. Up in Old Town however, a man's well froze up and he never noticed it for two months.

Afeelus.

The thirteenth annual Farmers' Week will be given by the College of Agriculture of the University of Maine during March 3d to 8th, 1919.

The program will consist of lectures, conferences, discussions, demonstrations and exhibits. Special programs will be offered under the auspices of the Maine Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Markets, Maine Seed Improvement Association, Maine Pomological Society, Maine Association of Agricultural Students and the Maine Federation of Agricultural Associations.

The list of speakers will include teachers in the various departments of the College of Agriculture, members of the Experiment Station staff, representatives of the State Department of Agriculture, the State Grange, a large number of agricultural associations of Maine and many successful farmers from all parts of the State.

ROUND TABLE TO MEET

The Round Table will meet at Balentine Hall, Tuesday afternoon March 4, from four until five o'clock. The Freshmen will entertain.

NOTED INTERNATIONAL LAWYER AT MAINE

She went back to Poland, her native land, in June 1914, and saw the German invasion and bombardment of her own native town, Kalish. During 1914-1915 she was active as an interpreter in government service, speaking and writing the following languages: Polish, Russian, French, German and English. She was a member of the Legal Advisory Board investigating the damage done by the Germans in the invaded countries. Besides this work, she has done relief work in Poland and Russia in 1914 and 1915. She came to America in November 1916 with a view of promoting friendship and cooperation between American and European women.

Dr. Klotz is now the specialist for Polish and Russian interests of the Division of Work for Foreign Born Women, that department of the War Work Council of the Young Women's Christian Association which is promoting a country-wide program of international friendship between women of different nationalities living in this country.

PHI MU INITIATION

Saturday afternoon Helen Bragdon, Leona DeBeck, Ruth Coombs, Lucy Chamberlain, Gertrude Farnum, Ina Gillespie, Hope Perkins, Cora Russell, Adessa Spaulding and Bernice Young, all of '22 and Elizabeth Chase '20 were initiated into Phi Mu.

Saturday evening, March 1, the banquet was held at the Bangor House. Hilda Hodgdon was toastmistress. The girls were glad to welcome back several alumnae, among whom were Gladys Merrill, Isabel Frawley, Gladys Kavanah, Mary Leonard, Mildred Morrison, Murial DeBeck, Marion Buzzell, Dorrice Higgins, Marie Frawley, Madeline Moore, Mary Coughlin, Bernice Whitney, and Charlotte Cross. Mrs. Merrill and Miss Rachel Huddilston and the patronesses Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Huddilston were present at the banquet.

PICKING A HUSBAND

"My ideal husband," said coed No. 1, "must be a strong, silent man, full of grit, and able to bear the heat and burden of the day without flinching—one who will not hear a word said about me, and who will not utter an unkind word himself."

Said coed No. 2: "What you want is a deaf-and-dumb coal-heaver."

Up to the time of going to press, the Maine Legislature has not considered the University of Maine Appropriation Bill due to a delay in passage of bills ahead of the Maine bill on the list. It is hoped that the Legislature will grant this bill as presented which is an absolute necessity to place Maine on a pre-war basis.

Lieutenant Julius H. Kritter, who has just returned from six months' service in France, was a recent visitor on the campus. Lieut. Kritter is an old Maine man, of the class of 1916. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Harvard has decided to resume all major sports on a pre-war basis, and all-year-around athletic coaches are favored. Percy D. Houghton, Crimison football coach of the past few years, advocates a policy of compulsory athletics for freshmen.
