"JERRY" TO HEAD BASEBALL TEAM

At a meeting of the "M" baseball men, Jeremiah T. "Jerry" Reardon '19 was elected captain of the 1919 baseball team. The election of "Jerry" to this position is a popular one.

"JERRY" REARDON

Capt. Reardon, before entering Maine, attended Concord High School where he played foot ball, base ball and basketball. Entering Maine, he immediately made the varsity foot ball team at end. He played the position for three years and during this time was All-Maine end for two years. "Jerry" was elected captain of the foot ball team his junior year but went into the Service that spring and was not in college to lead his team in the fall.

For three years, "Jerry" has caught on the base ball team and has proved himself to be a mighty good back stop. He was captain of this year's basket ball team and was considered the strongest player on the team. He has also played class baseball and basket ball, being captain of these teams.

Capt. Reardon is a fighter and under his leadership, Maine men and women may look for a mighty scrappy aggregation of ball tossers.

TO DESCRIBE NEW PROCESS TO ELECTRICALS

The regular meeting of the Maine branch of the American Institution of Electrical Engineers was held in Lord Hall, Wed. evening, April 16. There were thirty members present.

Philip T. Farnham '19 and Elmer J. Wade '19 gave very interesting talks on the inspection trip thru Massachusetts, which was taken by the seniors the week before vacation. Lester C. Swicker '19 spoke on his experience during the summer with the Western Union Telegraph Co., at Washington, D. C. The meeting was followed by the usual refreshments and cigars.

The next meeting of the society will be held in Lord Hall, April 23. Everit Hurd '17 who is the assistant manager of the Electric Arc Cutting and Welding Co., of Newark, N. J., will speak. He has a new process which was used in the building of the emergency fleet. It is a system which welds the plates instead of riveting them. This process machine is used by all the large steel ship yards. One of these machines has been presented to the Electrical Department of the University by A. D. G. Libby '98 who is manager of the company.

"Hungary?"

"Yes, Siam."

"Allright, I'll Fiji."

TRACK SQUAD HARD AT WORK

Under the direction of Coach French the track team is fast rounding into shape for the series of meets this spring. Practice is being held every afternoon at Alumni Field and prospects look mighty good.

Work on the track and jumping pits is progressing rapidly and the field should be in fine shape for the Maine Inter-collegiate, May 17th.

The first meet will be an inter-class meet May 10th. The object of this meet is to give the squad a chance for some competition as well as to afford the coach a chance to size up his men. Now is the time to come out and show a little Maine spirit and get in shape for this meet. This meet affords a man an excellent chance to win his numerals. Get a pair of shoes and come out and show what you can do.

MAINE PLAYERS IN MAJOR LEAGUE

It is reported that "Marty" McHale, a well known University of Maine varsity pitcher and for many years a well known major league player, was booked for the managerial berth of the New York Giants this season if Christy Mathewson had not returned in time. That is quite a compliment to "Marty's" baseball ability. McHale is probably the best ball player for pitcher the university has ever turned out. He was able to stay in the major leagues for several seasons and did good work there.

Others have started but did not go far. "Stubby" Ray '86 was a well known member of the Boston Nationals for several seasons after graduating and made good. His position was shortstop.

MAINE EDUCATORS COMPILE CHAPEL SERVICE

The Methodist Book Concern has just started on the publication of a new Chapel Service Book which will be ready for distribution in June. The book has been compiled by Doctor A. W. Harris, Secretary of the Methodist Board of Education, formerly President of the University of Maine, Dean James S. Stevens, of the University of Maine, and Professor Karl P. Harrington, of Wesleyan University. The book will contain about one hundred and seventy-five exercises each of which will comprise a hymn, a scripture passage, and a prayer, which will relate to the same theme. The use of this book will give a coordination to chapel services which is quite apt to be lacking. It should be of considerable service to high school principals who have to conduct daily religious exercises. The music will be printed by The Gilson Company which does the finest work of this kind in the United States.

Among the recent visitors to the Maine campus are: T. Emmons Totman '16, Ted Morrell '15, Seth Libby '15 and Everett Coffin '15—all of whom have seen service in France; Dorothy Folsom '18, Eirena DeBeck '18 and Helen Greeley '15 who are teaching in the state.

MAINE SCORES IN EXHIBITION GAME

Colby defeated the University of Maine in an exhibition game, Saturday at Waterville by a score of 6-3.

The game was fast for an early season contest and barring several poor plays, the disastrous fifth for the Maine team, was closely played. Maine outhit Colby, but after getting men on the bases was unable to advance them home.

The features of the game were Nourse's long hit to left field scoring two men. Wier played an excellent game for Maine while Johnson pitched air tight baseball the last three innings.

SCHEDULE COMPLETE FOR SUNSET LEAGUE

The "Sunset Baseball League" schedule for this spring has been arranged. The series will be as usual under the direction of the Interfraternity Council and a valuable cup will be awarded to the winning team. The present "daylight saving" plan will give an extra hour of daylight in which to play the games and will help to avoid some of the dark last innings of last year.

The committee of the Interfraternity Council in charge of these games is composed of Sweatt '20, Winslow '19 and Packard '20. The schedule is as follows:

Kappa Sigma vs. Theta Chi, Tues. Apr. 22; Beta Theta Pi vs. Delta Tau Delta, Thurs. Apr. 24; S. A. E. vs. Phi Eta Kappa, Fri. Apr. 25; Sigma Nu vs. Alpha Tau Omega, Tues. Apr. 29; Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Sigma Chi, Wed. Apr. 30; Phi Gamma Delta vs. Lambda Chi, Thurs. May 1; H. H. Hall vs. the winner of 2, Sat. May 3.

The following set of rules governing these games have been drawn up:

1. Each house wishing to enter the League shall pay a fee of $3.00 to be used for the purchase of a cup to the Secretary of the Inter-fraternity Council before April 21.

2. Each house will furnish one ball for every game it plays.

3. Letter men or men playing on the varsity squad are not eligible to play in their own positions but may play in others.

4. Umpires shall be arranged for by the house managers of the competing teams.

5. Rearrangement of the schedule will be made by the committee as it becomes necessary.

6. In case of postponement for rain or any other cause, the house affected should notify one of the Committee.

FIVE ORIGINALS RETURN WITH MAINE BAND

The remnants of what was formerly the University of Maine Band has returned to this country with the 26th Division. The Band was originally a unit of the Second Maine Infantry which the Maine Band joined in a unit during the Mexican trouble and went to the Border.

In France the organization had a varied career. It acted as a stretcher bearing unit longer than any other similar unit in the A. E. F. Seven of the original members of the Band were made officers one of them, Herbert G. Cobb '18 being killed in action. Three men in all were killed, one at Xivray and two in the Argonne Forest. Arthur Stowell who was killed at Xivray was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

Only five of the old University of Maine Band are left. They include Band Leader H. N. Currier of Brewer who has been recommended for a commission, Sergeant James Barnes of Intervale, N. H., Sergeant Herbert Blakney of Fairfield, Musician (first class), Charles Woodman of New Hampshire, and Corporal Vinton Harkness of Lincoln.

If you can't laugh at the jokes of the age, then laugh at the age of the jokes.

EDITORIAL

A thing which a visitor to the University of Maine never fails to comment upon is the banners which hang on the walls of the assembly room. Most of them are class banners. Two of them are banners won by the cross country team of a few years ago at New England meets. But the banner which is by far the most conspicuous and the most important is the service flag which hangs at the rear of the stage. It was and still is a constant reminder to those who are here of those who were doing their best in the service. The number on that banner which represents the number of Maine men in service is 1010. When the banner was first hung in its place we were proud of that number 1010 which represented 1010 Maine men in service. Of course as time went on and men were joining the service all the time the number in the banner really increased. But it was obviously impossible to keep changing these figures as time went on so they remained at the original figure. But now hostilities have ceased and a pretty accurate record of the total number of Maine men in service must be known. This amount to over 2000 not including the S. A. T. C. It is only fair to the men in service and the only way to give an accurate idea of Maine's work in the war to change these figures to their proper value. Also stars of gold have not been put on for those who died in the service. Both of these matters should be fixed up immediately in the interests of accuracy.

LETTERS OF A FRESHMAN

Hannabil Hamlin Hall

Orono, Maine

April 22, 1919

Dear Folks at Home:

Here is the theme I was telling you about and on which I won first prize. It is called: "Try This Over on Your Piano."

"In any institution such as our own there exists within its walls a group of men and women whose ambition is toward one ultimate goal but whose paths leading toward the attainment of their ambition are widely diversified. They seek and strive to maintain our

Alma Mater and endeavor to place it in the category of leading institutions of learning. Some are content to choose the path which has been pathed for them and which makes their progress seemingly less burdensome but which at the end of the path leaves them without any perceptible knowledge of forging their way thru the entangled mass with which they have got to contend after they have left the troled bounds.

The other variants of humanity are those people who are trying to gain their objective thru new fields. Instead of fields of cultered art it is the athletic field. These are the men who should command respect of their fellow classmen.

It is the same old story told in a different way. The men who are addicted to athletic sports in Maine, are to use a common and vulgar phrase, "Out of Luck" unless they wear the much coveted "M". To get down to brass tacks the man who is striving to attain a position on a varsity squad and does not wear an "M" sweater is looked upon as having a swell head. As he goes from Alumni Hall to the field he is hailed by some of the members of the first mentioned class with sarcastic remarks, which, unless he has plenty of moral courage, prohibits him from incurring their ill remarks and thus does not venture out in a suit. The men who choose the first path think more of beauty of form than of a successful team. They would rather go to the library and look across at some good looking co-ed than take a crack at a baseball. These are the men who are a detriment to the college. Not only do they prohibit other men from trying out for a college team but they do absolutely nothing themselves.

In order for Maine to have a good baseball team this spring it is essential that the varsity men have a second team with which to play practice games. It is the second team that fights the uphill battle. These men go out out there from day to day knowing that they have not got a chance in a big suit yet they plug consistently. They know that by doing this they are giving old Maine just a trifle better chance of turning out a winning ball team. "Monty" can pick a man's individual fault but he has got to have competition in order to pick out the collective faults. The second team furnishes this competition.

Instead of giving these men a curt remark as they play just give them a lift. It does not cost much and it helps a lot.

Now Ma that theme hits a few of them right on the head. There are quite a few lounge lizzards and morris-chair athletes who are trying the above trick. They have no respect for Maine Ma when they try to impair the chances of a championship team by hurling invidious remarks. They are worse than German Propo Ganda.

Your Loving Son,
Ateclus.

"BILL" NASH AT STUDIES IN FRANCE

In a letter recently received from "Bill" Nash, he speaks of his work at a French university at Poitiers. Extracts of the letter follow:

"At this university there are now almost 300 American college men who have come from many different divisions of our army during the days of war. Now these men have turned their attention to study at one of the oldest and most historic universities of France, and they are trying, as best they can, to give to the people of this part of France, some idea of the life which the university man in the states was accustomed to live.

"In order that the spirit of American college life may be inculcated in the university life here, the students are beginning many new ventures. Among these we have the organization of a baseball team, formed among the students and equipped by the Government. There is a university soccer team, formed by the union of the players of the American detachment and the stars which the French have developed. There is a university club where the men may meet and plan out the entertainments, and the work of their student life here. Minstrel shows, dances, excursions, all these things are being planned by as energetic a student body as could be found at any university in the states.

"It was discovered very soon that one of the things that we would have to have would be a university publication patterned after the magazines and dailies that were published by the American colleges. This paper has now become a reality. Though the cost of the printing is rather high, the excellent cooperation and support which it is receiving from the student body is making the thing possible. The first issue of this paper, published by, and in the interests of the students will appear on the 29th of March. To all extents, it will be a snappy and interesting journal, which will be sent to the United States, and to the other universities in France as a glowing example of the sort of work which the American students are doing here, and as a permanent history of this unique plan of educational cooperation between these two sister nations."

Very sincerely yours,

Wm. E. Nash,

1st Lt. Engrs.

Business Manager.

"DAVE" BEACH ON WORLD DEMOCRACY

"Christianity and World Democracy" was the subject of David Beach's lecture Thursday night at Coburn Hall.

Stereoptican views were shown of the various peoples of the world and their modes of living.

In his introduction, Mr. Beach stated the situation very clearly when he showed that the essential thing in this war was the conflict between Christianity and German paganism. In the words of Wilson, "The world must be made safe for democracy." We believe firmly in the square deal for everyone. So far the battle is only half won—we have destroyed and now we have to construct; we have uprooted the weeds, now we have to plant the seeds.

It is up to us to develop better economic conditions all over the world and to spread the Christian doctrine.

We have the square deal, while practically all other countries do not. Nothing is quite so cheap as the human being in China, India, and Turkey. Economically China affords wonderful opportunity. She has practically the only untouched raw material of the world. She has just begun on her resources. Chinese as laborers are not to be beaten along mechanical lines. But the life of Chinese workers in mills is very short and China is 30 years behind in her labor problems.

When you mention the Yellow Peril it is not so much a peril in a military sense but rather in the economic sense.

In spreading Christianity, the missionaries are the constructive statesmen.

The modern missionary does not wear a Prince Albert or carry a hymn book around everywhere. Instead he goes into different parts of a country and shows the natives how to better their ways of living; helps them in the fields.

Relief Work, the kind of work that some of our boys are doing in Turkey, is more than distributing food—it is making people realize that they should put in the seeds themselves. It is the development of economic life. The power of missions can't be overemphasized.

They are the fighting front of our new campaign. Missions try to make living conditions, labor conditions, and educational opportunity better for all and to give everyone the square deal.

SPRING FRESHMAN CAPS ARE HERE

Easter week was ushered in when on Tuesday the Freshman class appeared in their new finery giving without doubt an adequate distinction to the head dresses of the college in proper. These caps are of a somewhat new origin since no cap of its nature has been used in Maine for some time.

A triangulation of light and dark blue extended and emphasized by a three inch visor also of light blue distinguishes very clearly as to what class the occupant of this form of millinery belongs; but beside this it gives a stranger a lurking conundrum as to whether the wearer is a baseball player or a horse jockey.

The cap committee of the Sophomore class who are directly responsible for the makeup of these caps should be congratulated as to their originality and design.

WAKE UP, MAINE!

BY M. W. BURLINGAME

Lives there a man in Maine so dead
He never to himself hath said,
"This is my own, my native State—
I'll do my best to make her great.
I'll rise up early in the morn
And shout the merits of her corn,
Her berries blue, her 'Roostook 'tatoes,
Her apples, and her red tomatoes,
Her lobsters, yea, and toothsome clams,
Her doughnuts, pies, and tender hams.
Oh yes—I'll grant this must be true—
And yet, I'm feeling all-fired blue:
The market must be far away—
I haven't sold a thing to-day.
And yet—in spite of feeling blue,
I'm hungry, so I'll hie me to
My grocers, for a Western apple,
An Iceland pie, some Greenland scrap-
ple,
Wisconsin milk, New York State
honey,
And pay for it with good MAINE
money,
And as I eat it I'll exclaim:
I think it is a gol darn shame
That Maine whose products are divine,
Finds farming on a swift decline!"

Moral: "Feed Maine Folks with Maine-Grown Food."

SPECIAL MOVIES AT ORONO THEATER

With the cooperation of Manager Owen of the Orono Theater, the Horticultural department last Wednesday evening presented a three-reel picture illustrating the orange industry. The complete process of raising, shipping and selling the fruit was shown, from the grafting of the young shoots to methods of preparing the oranges for the table.

Professor Sweetser of the Horticultural department is worthy of high commendation for being able to secure the picture for the college students; as does also Mr. Owen for his agreeing to show the film at no extra charge. It is hoped that from time to time other instructive features of interest to the university may be presented in the Theater.

S. A. E. MASQUERADE

A masquerade house party was given by the S. A. E., April 11. The party was a great success, all of the costumes being exceptionally good.

Both Mt. Vernon and Balentine were represented in number, and several young ladies were also present from out of town. The dancing lasted from eight o'clock until two o'clock.

During the first part of the evening there were several visitors to see the costumes. Among those were Mrs. Aley, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Estabrook, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Dunn, Miss Hopkins, Miss Dorsey, Mrs. Morton and Miss Hitchings.

The familiar faces of "Jit" Faulkner, and Ralph Whitehouse were also seen.

The party was ably chaperoned by Mrs. Parcher, Mrs. and Miss Merrill.

"TWO GOOD LIFE-SAVERS"

Armond Jay and Miles Ham would make expert life-savers. Ask the above gentlemen what to do when a lady falls overboard.

Now that spring is here and nights are warm and pleasant, the cats of the university have begun to hold nightly gatherings at the regular meeting place back of Mt. Vernon. All of the cats are musical, but one or two, the Phi Eta and Kappa Sigma cats are especially strenuous in their vocal efforts. No sooner does the "lights out" bell ring at Mt. Vernon than the weird chorus begins. All varieties of responses in the shape of ink-bottles, cold cream jars, rocks and so forth have been offered but the visitors still are with us. Anyone with a good shot gun who cares to lend it in a good cause, is cordially invited to call at the house.

EXCHANGE FROM FRENCH UNIVERSITY

The "Campus" has received a copy of "Les Beaux Jours" sent by 1st Lieut. William E. Nash, ex-Maine man, class of '17. This paper is published weekly by the French and American students of the University of Poitiers, at which place Lieut. Nash is a student. The paper contains current news in both French and English. Students at Maine will be interested to hear that "Bill" Nash is the Business Manager of this paper, and that he is doing "his bit" in helping cement the friendship between French and American students.

STUDENTS ELECT FOR PRIZE

The popular election for the Senior who has done the most to advance the interests of the University of Maine was held at the chapel exercises Monday morning. Those nominated by the Senior class were "Jerry" Reardon, "Taxi" Cross, "Sam" Collins, "Tom" Davis, "Bill" Allen and "Verne" Wallingford. The name of the man elected will not be announced until Commencement when a gold watch will be presented to him by the Washington Alumni Association.

On Tuesday Miss Topping gave a talk in chapel. Miss Topping is a World Fellowship Secretary for the Y. W. C. A. She illustrated the great need for enlarging our scope of interest to the backward peoples of the orient. She told one story of a missionary's experience in Turkey which showed the utter depravity of the women in that country, due to the tremendous lack of enlightenment and education.
